FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CHARLESTON, IL--A multi-facet, all-day Women's Exposition and Health Fair is taking shape for Saturday, March 1, at Eastern Illinois University.

Women from throughout central and eastern Illinois are involved in the planning and execution of the Expo, under the directorship of Mrs. Sandy Rives, wife of EIU president, Stan Rives.

Included among the Expo committee are Maggie Hollowell, Joan Schmidt, Dr. Judy Anderson and Dr. Carol Holden.

The Expo is an outgrowth of a series of 22 luncheons held by Mrs. Rives in nine area communities in 1985. "The women in central and eastern Illinois have a number of shared concerns involving their communities, schools, and personal matters," Mrs. Rives said.

"Many of them said EIU could help and asked that we put together an extensive program to offer some assistance in helping their communities and families. We are using the Expo approach, which has gathered considerable enthusiasm," she said.

The Eastern Illinois University Foundation, Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center Foundation, Small Business Administration, and Pepsi of Marion, Illinois, are major sponsors. Many area businesses, professional organizations and social service groups are participating.

The March 1 Expo will open at 8 a.m., with registration, followed by the keynote address at 9 a.m. Workshops on a variety of topics will be held in the morning and afternoon. Sandwiched in between will be an Expo luncheon and style show. The day will conclude with a reception for area women artists.
