NO. 20

I. DEFEATS WESLEYAN U.

E. I. 19, WESLEYAN 18

Atonement was made for the blundering defeat Saturday night when we beat Wesleyan four floor, 19 to 18. As can be judged from the score, the game was very close. McKenzie, playing the best game of his career, led Gottschalk, the star Wesleyan center, scoreless.

Our win was largely due to lack of excellent guarding. In the first 15 minutes of play, 3 personal fouls were made by McKenzie, but by his careful playing he was not disqualified and all the while watched his man closely as ever. That our team can scrap was shown in the closing moments of the game, when, with the score 18 to 11 against them, the Teachers held the Preschers scoreless and scored 8 more points in the meantime.

Poor foul goal shooting prevented E. I. from winning more decisively. 3 out of 17 foul goals were made.

Mace and Livingston scored most points for Wesleyan. Anderson and Wilson were Charleston's chief basket cagers.

The lineup:

E. I.	Wesleyan
Wilson rf	Oliver
Anderson lf	Mace
	Vanderbilt
McKenzie c	Gottschalk
Cook rg	Livingston
Adams lg	Strange

Baskets: Mace 8, Livingston 3, Oliver 2, Wilson 3, Anderson 3, Cook 2.

Foul goals: Anderson 2; Cook 1, Mace 2.

Fouls: Wesleyan 17, E. I. 6.

Score at half time: Wesleyan 12, E. I. 8.

Referee, M. Hampton, Mattoon. Scorer, Carey.

MILLIKIN, 45: E. I. 19

We lost the first big game of the season last Monday night at Decatur, when Millikin triumphed by the decisive score of 45 to 19. The Presbyterians led all the way and apparently could have run the score up higher. With Gill and Young, Millikin's bright lights, in good form, and because of the rather loose guarding by the Teachers; we stood no show to win at any part of the game. Our smaller players were greatly handicapped by their lack of height, the rangy Millikinites being able to pass the ball over the heads of their opponents.

E. I. played, on the whole, in poor form. At times short spurts were staged, but they were of short duration.

Gill and Young starred for Millikin. Anderson was the Charleston high scorer. Paul Bailey, former Charleston High School player, is on the Millikin team. The team should hold Millikin to a much lower score on the local floor. At present, the Decatur five appears to be the class of the Little Nineteen.

The lineup:

E. I.	Millikin
Wilson rf	Young
Anderson lf	Robinson, Heinle
McKenzie c	Gill
Cook rg	Genre
Adams lg	Bailey

Baskets: Gill 10, Young 6, Robinson 4, Bailey 1, Anderson 4, Wilson 3.

Foul goals: Cook 5, Young 3. Fouls: Millikin, 11, E. I. 7.

Score at half time: Millikin 19, E. I. 9.

Referee: Russell. Normal.

WESLEYAN 38, E. I. 23

From Decatur the team went to Bloomington, where Wesleyan won Tuesday night, 38 to 23.

Although playing somewhat better than they did at Millikin, our boys seemed unable to get going, and again were led all the game. As at Decatur, the guarding was not up to a high standard and the passing was inaccurate.

Wesleyan's points were evenly distributed, Gottschalk leading with six baskets. Livingston made several fancy long range goals. Anderson scored most points for E. I.

Cook was injured in the latter stages of the game and was forced to quit playing.

The lineup:

E. I.	Wesleyan
Wilson rf	Leitch
Anderson lf	Oliver
McKenzie c	Gottschalk
Cook, May rg	Livingston
Adams lg	Strange

Leathers

Baskets—Gottschalk 6, Oliver 5, Leitch 4, Livingston 4, Anderson 4, Wilson 3, McKenzie 1.

Foul goals, Cook 7. Fouls, E. I. 2; Wesleyan 14.

Score at half time, Wesleyan 22; E. I. 11.

The second team journeyed to the high school last Tuesday afternoon and were defeated by a 32 to 12 count. R. Cook scored 10 of our points.

The team went to Shadyville Monday afternoon and played Sparks last night.

Rose Poly, our old Terre Haute rival, plays here Wednesday, and Bradley Poly, of Peoria, one of the strongest conference teams, comes here to play on Saturday night.

A game with the Camp Sherman, Ohio, team has been scheduled for February 17, to be played on the N. S. floor.

LECTURES BY DR. BLAKE

During the past week, Dr. Eva M. Blake of Philadelphia, gave a series of four lectures on "Health of Women" to the girl students of the school and the women of the faculty.

Dr. Blake treated her subject from three standpoints: the physical nature of health or "Self Knowledge;" the psychological aspect of health or "Self Reverence;" the social and moral aspect of health or "Self Control," and gave a demonstration of "setting up" exercises as the fourth talk of the series. These lectures were very interesting and unusually well done.

It will take a fair amount of backbone and "stick-to-it-iveness" to follow the programme which Dr. Blake proposed, but the advantage to be derived is good health and... one effort.

Dr. Blake gave a talk on Thursday evening at the Charleston High School to the members of the Girls' Patriotic League, and another on Friday evening at Pemberton Hall to the girls of the Young Womens' Christian Association.

The girls of the Eighth and Ninth grades heard her on Wednesday afternoon.—Contributed.

NEWS OF SCHAHRRER'S DEATH

Lieut. P. J. Kwasigroch, an officer in the 6th infantry, has sent the following account of Martin Schahrer's death:

"Martin Schahrer took part in the big drive on the St. Michael sector, which took place the 14th and 15th of September. I am going to tell you all that I could find out from the very few men that were left. It seems that he came through the first day's fighting successfully. He is said to have led his squad very ably. In short, he is a man that you can well be proud of. The second day was not so lucky for him. One of his men says that a large German shell exploded near him, wounding him badly. He says that he then lost sight of him and saw him no more."

The lieutenant promises to find out any further details that he can of Martin's death, and to report anything else that he can find.

LETTER FROM THE RHINE

The letter below was written by Byron Mitchell, one of our old students. At present he is helping keep the watch on the Rhine.

This is a beautiful Sunday morning here on the Rhine. This is the first Sunday for a long time that I have been able to sit in a room at a table and not expect to be called out for drill. We are supposed to be at our destination now and I certainly hope we are, because I am tired of hiking.

I am very comfortable now and we are very well fed. For a while we were hungry, but now have plenty of beef, bacon, beans, potatoes, bread, syrup and such army food. I am expecting a better Christmas dinner than the Thanksgiving dinner we had this year.

Yesterday morning when we went for our breakfast, we could see snow that had fallen on the tops of the mountains around us. No snow has fallen here in the valley, but we are expecting it soon. The Germans tell us that snow falls here about four days after it snows on the mountains. I suppose you have had much cold weather at home.

The first time that I went up to the front, I did not realize how dangerous the shells were. When we were back a long way from the front, the large shells would whistle over our heads and probably explode far away, but when we got closer they began to explode so near that pieces of shrapnel fell among us. It was a very dark night and we had to stay close to each other to keep from getting lost. Of course, we were not allowed to smoke or talk. Sometimes a single cigaret would cause a whole company to get shelled.

We reached a point near the front line just as day was breaking and began to learn what war was, or is. Believe me, you soon learn to judge where the shells are likely to fall by the sound of them as they whistle through the air. Also it does not take you long to get flat on the ground.

Our chaplain was the first man killed. Then two of our company's officers were wounded and we were ordered to dig in. I found a shell hole and enlarged it so that I could crouch down in it and feel safe. I lay all day, it was Saturday, in this hole, all night, all day Sunday and all Sunday night. Shells were fall-

This week our big collecting campaign starts. If you have not already paid for your subscription, please do so at the earliest possible moment. In this way you will save us and yourself more or less inconvenience and embarrassment. It has been suggested that the names of all delinquents in this regard be published in a subsequent issue of this paper. Whether or not we act upon this suggestion depends upon the number of names that should appear. If you have to be solicited during the latter part of the week, it shows one of two things: either you don't read the editorial page of this paper, or you are not interested in it a dollar's worth. In the latter case, you may be believed of all further bother by handing one of the editors fifty cents, which will end your subscription with this number. "So don't wait for me to come to you. It will be much more pleasant for everyone if you come to me first." Here is a good chance apply a chapel-talk quotation to good advantage.

If anybody had any doubts as to the advantages of every student membership in the athletic association, they surely were dispelled Saturday evening at the basketball game. There was a big crowd at the game and more enthusiasm was displayed than we have had for a long time. Few people can resist the attraction of a fast athletic contest of any kind, and those who came for the first time to the Wesleyan game will undoubtedly come again. Only the students from the Tenth Year Classes are required to buy tickets, but any others that wish to may do so, whether they are students or townspeople. The best basketball schedule we have ever had has been made. It includes games with Rose Poly, Bradley Poly, Sparks Business College, Camp Sherman, Ohio, and Millikin. In addition to all these games, a season ticket admits the holder to all the base ball games on the home grounds. The price is only one dollar. The holder will be admitted to at least ten athletic contests, at a cost of only about ten cents each. This is an opportunity that no lover of athletics should miss. Tickets may be obtained from Mr. Lantz.

Earl Taubeneck, an alumnus in the graduating class of 1915, spent the week end in Charleston, visiting chapel Saturday morning and the game and dance Saturday evening. He had been in an army camp in Washington until his release a short time ago. He expects to return to Neodesha, Kansas, where before he entered the service he was employed in the high school. He now has a position in an oil-refining company in Neodesha.

Three basketball referees were called from E. I. last Friday. Mr. Carey refereed a game at Sullivan, Mr. Lantz the one between Sparks and Wesleyan at Shelbyville, in which Wesleyan won by one point, and Leslie Cook officiated at the game between Mattoon and Assumption, in which the score was 24-12 in favor of Assumption. Cookie reports that Assumption has a fast team and will give the teams of this district a hard fight for the championship.

SATURDAY DANCE

The dance held after the game Saturday night was better attended than any this year. About 100 people were present. Several members of the faculty attended and also a large number of alumni and out of town people. The Burris musicians, a Charleston aggregation which furnishes good rhythm and long dances made its debut and was highly praised by everyone. The same music has been engaged for next Saturday night.

GIRLS' DANCE

At a meeting held last Wednesday the girls of the school voted to hold the annual girls' dance on Saturday, February 22. All girls having friends outside of school whom they intend to invite are requested to hand the names and addresses to Edna Mitchell this week.

The Charleston Music Club is planning a number of community sings to be held in the churches of this city during the winter months and on the court house lawn after that. The songs to be used are found in a booklet of "Liberty Songs," which may be purchased for a small sum at the public library. This is a very worthy movement and should be heartily supported by every E. I. student.

Miss Roesser has been granted a leave of absence from school duties for the remainder of the year. It is not known definitely yet who will fill her place, but an effort is being made to secure a music teacher.

Lieut. Otto Schmaelzle, recently released from the service, visited school Saturday. He is now enrolled in the University of Illinois.

Russell Cone has gone to Washington, D. C., where he expects to enter the Manual Training High School of that city.

Trevor Servis, a former student here, has ~~been released~~ from the navy at Great Lakes, and is in Charleston.

Clifford Bails, who was honorably discharged from the marine service a short time ago, entered school last week.

Jacob Geffs has returned to school after a week's absence on account of the influenza.

Loretta Fields visited here Saturday and attended the game and dance in the evening.

Jesse Barnes, from Taylorville, visited Lucile Ainsworth Saturday and Sunday.

Mae Dona Deames and Eula Stansberry spent Sunday at their homes.

Selma Eversole '17, was a visitor at school Saturday.

Ernest Bails, '16, visited school Tuesday.

Lieut. James Shoemaker, '13, who had his spine severely injured by a fall from a horse, is able to walk again now.

ing thick, and some of the men were wounded. It was surely a hard proposition for the nerves.

Monday morning early we were ordered to get out of the holes and fall back to a certain point. I crawled out, put on my pack, opened a box of hard tack for my breakfast and started back, eating as I went. Shells were bursting around us, and occasionally one would find a victim. I had not gone more than a hundred yards until I saw a familiar face.
The man sat upon a log talking to some other men. Without thinking I stopped and stared, trying to make sure I was right in thinking I knew the fellow.
As I stood there, still eating my hardtack, he glanced up, then up he jumped and came running over to me. By George, it was Forrest Kelly. He was covered with dirt and mud the same as I from lying in holes and dugouts.
He was a second lieutenant. We talked about five minutes and then I had to go. I haven't seen him since but have learned he is alive and well.

Well, that morning we reorganized the company and started our advance. In other words, we started over the top in broad daylight. Soon we began to pay the penalty, too. The German artillery, ever on the alert, sighted us as we did

... This ...
I had really seen the effect of shells. Many were killed and wounded but still we advanced. I was expecting to be thrown into the air at any moment. However, my luck held good and I wasn't even scratched. I began to realize that war is hell, and it surely was proved so to me before it ended.

We were under shell fire for forty days from this time on, sometimes only a shell now and then. Sometimes when advancing, machine-gun bullets whistled around us so thickly that we were reminded of swarms of bees. They have almost the same tone when flying a little high.

This is a very unsatisfactory way of telling you, but it will have to suffice until I get home;
then I can tell you all the little incidents that really make the telling worth while. I have kept a record of everything that I have done since leaving home and I am proud of it.

MISS DIEMER SINGS

Miss Elsa Diemer, known better in Charleston, as Elsa Koch, sang in chapel Saturday morning.
The audience was delighted with the selections and several encores were given. The programme consisted of such numbers as
"My Shadow" and "Chinese Nursey Rhymes," and it was generally agreed that the chapel time was entirely too short for so delightful an entertainment.
