E. I. 28, ROSE POLY 0

Outclassing Rose in every department of the game, E. I. was able to win their Homecoming game by the decisive score of 28-0.

Rose kicked off. On the first play, Crowe made 20 yds. on a 15-yd. pass. E. I. was unable to push the ball over however. After several firstdowns by both teams, Dunn grabbed a 15-yd. pass and ran 22 yds. with it. After the ball had changed hands again, Crowe made 13 yds. on a short pass. Linebacks took the ball over shortly after the beginning of the second quarter. Prather kicked goal. Score 7-0, E. I. favor.

E. I. kicked off. On the first play, Prather intercepted a pass and ran 35 yds. for a touchdown. He kicked goal. Score 14-0. The rest of the half was featured by sensational endruns by Greathouse, and Rose's march down the field, toward the close of the half, for 50 yds.

E. I. came back strong the last half. Successive gains by Greathouse, Funkhouser and Prather put the ball on the 17-yd. line. Gobert ran through the whole Rose Poly team for a touchdown. Prather kicked goal. Score 21-0. The rest of the quarter, the ball seawsed back and forth. The feature play was Johnson's recovery of a fumble.

The last quarter opened with the ball in our possession 25 yds. from the goal. Successive end and off-tackle plays put the ball over, Gobert making the touchdown. Prather kicked goal. Score 28-0.

Both teams put in substitutes. With the ball in Rose territory, E. I. could not play consistent football. One of Rose Poly's punts was blocked, but they recovered. The game ended with the ball in their possession 10 yd. from their goal. The E. I. backfield was powerful in both offense and defense. The whole outfit starred, but Greathouse stood out by reason of his end and off-tackle runs. Prather's interception of a Rose pass was the spectacular play of the game. The line fought an uphill but winning fight. Lee did well in his new position as center. Both Dunn and Crowe were good at catching passes. Both guards and tackles played good football against much heavier men. Rose Poly's backfield played good football. Their quarter, however, lost his head several times. E. I. had the better team.

The Arts and Crafts

The arts and crafts exhibition was a great success, both financially and educationally. This exhibition attracted much attention both from the students and townspeople. We hope that this exhibition may be repeated in a few years on a much larger scale.

American Legion Foot-ball

The Andrew Dunn American Legion Post has formed a football team which will play two games with the Mattoon Post, and probably will meet the Arthur and Arcola teams. This team which has been practicing on our gridiron, includes the following old E. I. stars: S. Wilson, Ryder, Wright, Cooper and Waible.

Mr. W. C. Bagley of the Teachers College of Columbia University, visited school on Wednesday and Thursday. Speaking in chapel, he said that the teaching profession was at last coming to the front. He also spoke of the relative importance of the rural school teacher and the city school teacher. Mr. Bagley is visiting teachers' colleges over the country as a student, in order to learn how to teach better himself. It was quite a privilege for us to hear a man of such great prominence in education.

Dr. Ira Landrith will speak in the auditorium at 7:30 P. M.

E. I. HIGH 54, EFFINGHAM 7

Coming back strong in the last three quarters of the game, E. I. High buried Effingham under a 54-7 score. Effingham started things in the first few minutes of play by sending a halfback around right end on a fake play, 45 yds. for a touchdown. They kicked goal. This woke E. I. up and Effingham was on the defensive for the rest of the game. Following are some of the most spectacular plays of the game:

About the middle of the second quarter, Lynch made 35 yds. on a short 15-yd. pass. This put the ball on the 4-yd. line. Stone went over for a touchdown on line bucks. Goal failed. A little later Bell intercepted a pass in the middle of the field. On the first play, Stone ripped off 40 yds. on a fake end run. Lynch made 20 yds. on a short pass for a touchdown. Wilson kicked goal. Score 13-7.

At the beginning of the second half, Lynch caught a 25-yd. pass and ran 25 yds. before he was tackled. The ball was on the 12-yd. line. Stone went over for a touchdown. Wilson kicked goal. Score 20-7.

For the next touchdown E. I. played more straight football. Lynch made 17 yds. on a short pass and Stone made 16 yds. on a lineback. Ball on the 6-yd. line. Iknayan, tackle, was called around, ran for a touchdown. No goal. Score 26-7.

E. I. blocked a punt a short time after, on the 28-yd. line. After working the ball to the 6-yd. line, Iknayan repeated and went over for a touchdown. Wilson kicked goal. Score 33-7.

After kickoff, E. I. recovered a fumble and Stone went 40 yds. on a 29 yd pass for a touchdown. Wilson kicked goal. Score 40-7.

After kickoff Kerr blocked a punt and ran 25 yds. for touchdown. Score 47-7.

After kickoff, Wilson ran through the entire Effingham team for 40 yds. and a touchdown. He kicked goal.

Effingham outweighed E. I. about 12 pounds to the man. All the gains but two were made thru the center of the line. The line stiffened, however, and piled up Effingham's linebacks Lynch, Stone and Wilson starred. Osborne, quarterback, played a good game, using his head and showing his football sense. Shoots, end, and Iknayan, tackle, also jumped

HOME COMING GREAT SUCCESS

The rain Friday night did not prevent the E. I. home coming from being a great success. The program was even better than hoped by the most optimistic of the student body or faculty. Many favorable comments were heard by the many different guests. "It is the best program that E. I. has ever had" was a very common remark. The front of the building and the entrance hall were gaily decorated in blue and grey.

At nine o'clock the assembly room was packed with the faculty, student body and their guests. The training school started the program by singing, "O me, O my," and then marched through the two rear doors, up the two center isles, carrying wands decorated in blue and grey. As soon as the children were in their places they sang one verse of "Illinois"

Mr. Lord conducted chapel exercises, which began by singing hymn number one. The text was "Charity Chapter." Then hymn number hundred thirteen was sung. Mr. Lord was at his best in chapel, making one of those wonderful talks, which only Mr. Lord can make.

Mr. Koch then sang "On the Road to Mandalay," and an encore.

Home coming would not be home coming without an address from Mr. Neal, who might well be called "the father of the E. I. S. N. S." Mr. Neal's home coming talk was as good as it is every home coming.

The Glee Club then obliged us by singing "Swing Along." This selection was so good that every one was disappointed in not hearing an encore. "The School Song" and "Illinois" sung by the school finished chapel exercises.

Following chapel there were several class stunts given by the different classes. This part of the home coming was new to E. I. home coming programs and was well received.

The first stunt, "The Home Coming Pie", was given by the 10th year class. A huge pie made from cardboard and oiled cloth, was cut in sixths. Across the front was printed "10th year Pumpkin Pie." A student arose from each piece bearing the following six placards: "Welcome Back - To"

Published weekly by the students of the Eastern Illinois State Teachers' College on each Tuesday during the school year at 511 Jackson St., Charleston, Ill.

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 6, 1915
at the Post Office at Charleston, Ill., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

This is the slack period for contributions to the paper. Someone complained that a certain school event had not achieved mention. We will take a part of the blame. However, if that student had mentioned the matter before publication, it would have been looked up. Please notices, we don't ask you to write it up. We certainly try to give attention to everything, but to see all and hear all that goes on around E. I. is rather difficult.

Of course any team wishes to win its games. The football team wishes to win its Homecoming game more than any other one. Next to that desire is the wish of the opposing team to win that certain Homecoming game. When we go to Normal Saturday of this week, that idea will be present. We all wish Normal U. a successful Homecoming, but for our team a successful trip. If the well wishers can't reconcile those two ideas, we will suggest that they take the latter.

How much the school is indebted to the people who brought the arts and crafts exhibit here can't very well be estimated. Every student had the chance to bring himself nearer the goal of an education. There is a saying, what you don't know doesn't hurt you. This was an excellent opportunity to prove what a lie that is. If any student felt that his artistic sense was limited to newspaper cartoons, gingham dresses and s l t shakers, what a chance he had to come up! Another art exhibit next year! It is one of the excellent institutions that E. I. has obtained the last few years.

Home Coming a Success Old E. - I."

"Foot-ball in 1925" was the stunt to have been given by the 12th year class. On account of the "rain and hot weather" another stunt was given. A large music scale in which ten holes had been cut, each hole representing a note, was placed on the platform. This tetra-phon then played "E. I. Will Shine Tonight".

The Junior Quartet, Rooney, Goble, Moore and Anderson sang an opera selection, "Mary Had a Little Lamb." This quartet is the best in the school, if not the best in Charleston, and we hope to hear from them again, soon.

The Senior College class gave a selection representing the office of the Teachers College News. An incubator was used in which jokes were hatched out for the "Incubator."

"Something New" was given by the 11th year class. Each member of the class stepped forward on the stage speaking one or two words of the following sentence: "We, the 11th year class, welcome the Alumni and wish you to know that we are entirely original in that we could find nothing to do, we thank you".

The Senior stunt, "Old Songs and New Tunes" was given by a quintet composed of Misses Tate, Laughlin, Nehring, Lynch and Myers.

The last number was a class meeting given by the 9th year class. All sorts of foolish motions were made and carried. All the class stunts were well received, and they added much to the success of the Homecoming.

A hockey game, played between two of Miss Stuart's gymnasium teams, furnished much excitement and not a little amusement to the many spectators.

A large parade, led by the school band, formed in front of the main building and marched out to the football game. Some talent was displayed by the band, and before the year is over steps will be taken by the student council to make the band a permanent part of all school activities.

The tea in Pemberton Hall furnished an opportunity which was taken advantage of by many students, to visit and renew old acquaintances.

The banquet in Pemberton Hall was enjoyed by everyone that attended. A chicken dinner received the attention of everyone during the first part of the evening. Songs and speeches followed: Mr. Taylor was at his best as toastmaster.

Mr. Forrester spoke on the history of the senior college. Mr. Koch gave an interesting talk on the "red tape" he had to go through this summer while visiting in Europe. Mr. Lord finished the program by making a speech on the E. I. of today.

The informal dance in the gym—which was beautifully decorated, was the end of one of the most pleasant and most enjoyable days in our school history. The student body has the right to feel proud of their Homecoming, and we hope for many more successful ones in years to come.

Arts and Crafts Lecture
Tuesday night Mr. Modessitt read an illustrated lecture, written by Charles Cornelius, on Arts and Crafts during the 17th and 18th centuries. This lecture was very good and the slides interesting. For some reason this lecture was not well attended, which does not speak very well for the student body.

At the sing Thursday morning several songs were practiced for Homecoming. The boys are good part of the time, but the first selection usually finds them paralyzed with stage fright. However, they are coming out of it. They can sing "O me, O my," and just wait for "Polly wolly Doodle."

Well, don't you feel as if you belonged to some school? The students, faculty and alumni want to thank all the people who helped to make the Homecoming such a success. The Homecoming committee and the student council come in for a large vote of thanks. Saturday was a big day in the school year of 1921-22. It gives us a good sendoff for every-day school again.

Dance Monday Night
The Junior College classes held an informal dance in the gym last Monday night. The first part of the dance was given over to teaching the beginners how to dance. Several students received their first lesson. These lessons will do much to help increase the popularity of the Saturday night dances. The Senior College classes were the guests of honor.

Hunger Easily Satisfied

We thought we were hungry; in fact, we were sure that we were hungry. After driving all day over the almost impassible roads of southern Kentucky, and being jolted about unmercifully, we just knew that we had never been more hungry. What a relief it was to leave the old one-lunged car, and hurry into the first restaurant we came to. Eagerly trying to decide what we wanted to order first, we were so worked up over the opportunity to relax and eat, that we had paid no attention to the appearance of the restaurant. We sat down around the table, and a shabbily clad and indifferent, listless sort of girl shuffled up and asked sleepily, "What'll it be?" Her apron was soiled and streaked with grease. Her hair was unkempt, and her manner quite unpatronising. We gave her our order anyway, and then proceeded to look about us. The tablecloth next attracted our attention; but our attention was not the first thing it had attracted. It had attracted apple-butter, soft-boiled eggs, cottage-cheese, chicken-gravy, butter-scootch pie and sorghum molasses. In fact, it had attracted about everything that had ever been served on it. There was a fly in the butter, which was sloppily splattered over the butter dish, the cream was soured and even the sugar was not sweet. The first thing we knew, we decided we were not hungry, each grabbed a toothpick and we went unhesitatingly on our way.

Overheard on the Telephone

"Tinkle, tinkle, burr-rr," jangled the telephone in a rather lifeless manner.

I took down the receiver, uncertain about answering, for this was a "party" line having many rings.

"Hello, central, give me one-tu-o-three-ft," said a strident voice. To central's patient, "The line's busy," came the reply, "Oh, yes, it's always busy when you have to ring a number. What are you paid for?"

Far off, probably on another line, I heard, "Say, Bill, the hog market's gone up. Now is a good time to sell. I thought I'd put you next."

And, "O Mable," came a shrill feminine voice, "It's the dearest thing! It's trimmed in beads and—"

"That you, Tom," broke in another voice very indistinctly, "Have you — date — night? Let's all go — Lizzie." — boy, we'll sure — some fun."

"Ouch! Boo-hoo! Wow! Now, stop—" came a clamor of high-pitched, childish voices close at hand. "Hush, children," remonstrated a voice. "This is Mrs. Brown's ring, and I want to find out if her sister has come yet."

"I think every receiver on this line is down," exclaimed a masculine voice impatiently. "No wonder we can't get no service."

I put up the receiver, feeling rather guilty. As I turned away, I wondered why some budding genius doesn't edit a column in the local paper entitled, "Why Some Telephone Operators Go Mad."

IN times like these, when the call for lower prices has tempted many to reduce their quality standards we have remained steadfast to our policy of selling nothing but the best—Society Brand Clothes. We have lowered our prices, yes but not our quality.
