E. I. 13, S. I. N. U. 21

In a game much closer than the score indicates, E. I. was defeated by S. I. N. U. at Carbondale Friday night. At one time, in the second half, E. I. was leading. Wilson received a sprained wrist and was forced to leave the game about the middle of the last half. Wilson started, getting three baskets and one free throw. The team played a defensive rather than an offensive game. Black at guard was one of the main reasons Carbondale's score was held at 21. Carbondale has a big team which is a good team. They play a return game here the 26th of this month.

E. I. High 21, Ashmore High 12

In an interesting game Friday night, Ashmore was defeated by our high school team by the score of 21-12. Kerr played an excellent game at guard, and Lynch excelled on the baskets. The team showed better defensive strength than offensive. Many shots under the basket were missed by both teams. Sanderson starred for Ashmore making nearly all of Ashmore's points. The E. I. team showed a decided improvement over the last game. Haddock, a new prospect at guard, played a fast game Friday. Wilson and Hall at forward are good floor men. Wilson and Lynch each made four baskets.

Referee, Prather; timer and scorer, Coyle.

E. I. 23, Sparks 24

In a roughly played and poorly refereed game, Sparks defeated E. I. on the Sparks floor Dec. 21. Despite the poor refereeing, the teachers should have won. Inability to find the basket was the biggest factor in our defeat. Lynch was the E. I. star, getting four baskets and displaying some speedy floor work. Sparks plays a return game here Feb. 9.

St. Viator's tomorrow night. This team is on a four days' trip, playing us the third day. St. Viator always has a good team. Game called at 7:15. In order to not interfere with the play starting at 8:30.

Harold Kerr was elected captain of the high school basketball team Wednesday.

Gertrude Sharkey, '21, of Marshall, Ill., visited her sister and friends at school Saturday.

MOVING PICTURES

SOON AT E. I.

The fire-proof moving picture booth back of the assembly room will be completed and the machine installed in about a week. A type S, Simplex machine, the kind used in the finest theatres in the country, will be used. Another machine is expected later. Two machines give a program without any interruptions due to changing reels. If the assembly room can be darkened enough to use the machines, instructional films on any subject will be shown to different classes. Possibly one chapel period a week will be given to exhibiting a new reel or film magazine. Some high class films may be rented for evening performances. Students will be admitted free while outsiders will be charged a small admission.

Student Council

The Student Council held its first meeting since the election of the new members to the council Thursday. The term of office of six members expired on Dec. 5 according to the new constitution. The council now consists of Charles Prather, Senior College; John Whitesel and Mamie Dorsch, Sophomores; Harold Snyder and Sumner Anderson, Freshmen; Dale Coyle, 12th year; Ray Stillions, 11th year; Fred Adams, 10th year; Floyd Kaufman, 9th year.

Progress on the balcony was discussed and a committee was appointed to ask the alumni for help on the balcony. The council will co-operate with a faculty committee in a campaign for a bigger and larger student body next year.

It is contemplated getting a wireless outfit for the school. It will be used to listen to grand opera concerts hundreds of miles away. The radio telephone is a comparatively recent invention. As proof of the efficiency of a radio telephone, President Harding's speech at Arlington was heard word for word at San Francisco as he delivered it. The school will indeed be fortunate if the apparatus is obtained.

Some new equipment to be used on the stage arrived just before Christmas. It was used at the Christmas entertainment. This makes the stage settings easier to erect and helps the appearance of the stage.

The Dramatic Society

There is quite a little evident agitation around the school that points to the fact that the extinct dramatic society is really missed by a few. If there is enough sentiment in favor of re-organization there will be a dramatic club again. The faculty are very much in favor of one and are very willing to help. Last year's example readily proves that there has to be a radical change in the society to make it worth while. If there is one this year, let it be exclusive with members that mean business. Since the real object of the dramatic society is to present plays, that should be the object of such an organization here. Sincere people who want to go into such a club, and give plays and study dramatics is what we want. Of course, the society is not going to be a course in dramatic art or anything of that sort. If there are twenty students who feel that they should like to join such an organization and get a little enjoyment out of something good, then the society is possible. If there is sufficient sentiment, make it known and start something.

ALFRED IKANYAN, Former President of the Dramatic Society.

Will Need 25 Boys

As soon as the steel comes about twenty-five boys will be needed to put the balcony up. The bleachers will be put back before the St. Viator's game tomorrow night whether the balcony is up or not. The next game scheduled here after tomorrow's is Jan. 26 with Carbondale. Unless another game is scheduled this week or next, we will have two weeks in which to finish our construction. However, with no more delay, the whole job should be finished this week.

Tomorrow evening, Wednesday, at 8:30 o'clock, in the assembly room, the Coffey-Miller players will present Moliere's comedy, "The Imaginary Invalid." This company needs no introduction at this school. They presented "The Rivals" here last year in a very excellent manner. This is not a number of the entertainment course. Tickets to students 75 cents, all others $1.00.

Wednesday evening, Dec. 22, Miss Molyneux entertained the girls of Pemberton Hall with a Christmas dinner. The tables were beautifully decorated. Robert Pampse sent the girls of Pemberton Hall a large package of mistletoe.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

The boys' Christmas dance was held Dec. 22 in the "gym". The "gym" was attractively decorated in holiday attire. Music was furnished by Armstrong's orchestra. Punch was served as refreshment. About forty-five couples completely filled the floor. The feature of the evening was a torch dance, each couple carrying a colored sparkler. The credit for the successful execution of this last big school dance of '21 goes to the committee in charge of the affair. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor.

Mr. Koch Plays Zither

Mr. Koch, accompanied by Miss Major on the piano, played a beautiful selection, "Return, Sweet Dreams," by Maximulum Andorf, on the zither. This instrument is a new one, and this was Mr. Koch's first appearance with it; but all the students hope that it will not be the last. Probably if Mr. Koch would play the zither some morning before chapel, there would be less talking before the exercises began.

Elementary School

Entertainment

The grades of the elementary school presented a Christmas entertainment Wednesday evening, Dec. 21, in the assembly room. After all the classes marched in, the upper grades sang two songs. The other grades then presented a playlet depicting the Christmas celebration that the fairies gave to a little girl who expected no Christmas at all. The part of the little girl was very well done by Clea Middlesworth. Miss Major directed the performance, and should receive credit for its success.

Number of Entertainment Course Postponed

Henry & Co., musicians who were to have given a performance in the assembly room last Wednesday as a part of the entertainment course, canceled their engagement for Jan. 4. Three days later a telegram was received announcing that Mr. Henry was taken suddenly and dangerously ill. The engagement has been postponed indefinitely.

Wednesday evening, Dec. 22, the Senior College class and Mr. and Mrs. Nehrling spent a very enjoyable evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Kerr.

the Eastern Illinois State Teachers' College on each Tuesday during the school year at 511 Jackson St., Charleston, Ill.

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 8, 1915 at the Post Office at Charleston, Ill., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Much has been said about making New Year resolutions, too much, to make the subject one about which anything original could be said. We have only a few suggestions to make. Boost your standing in your classes, and boost old E. I. Make a resolution to get all the education you possibly can. Most of all, resolve to approach nearer the point of perfection in the field in which you are studying for, the teaching profession.

Resolved, To stop that losing streak. THE BASKETBALL TEAM.
Amen!

Senior Class Meeting

The first evidence that work has begun on the 1922 Warbler came in the form of pledge cards distributed at the Senior class meeting. Each member of the class was given two pledge cards and will be held responsible for that many books. The annual this year will be bigger and better than ever before. There will be separate sections for the college and high school departments.

Considerable interest has been aroused on the question of a class play. At future meetings Mr. Widger is going to read from several plays so that the class may decide what is desirable.

The class voted to send flowers to Irl Gobert who is a patient at Oakwood Hospital.

Mayme Dorsch was re-elected as one of the class representatives to the student council

In accordance with a request from Mr. Lord, members of the class were requested to participate in chapel exercises, if not for other reasons, at least for personal benefit.

In the Library

Seven volumes of The Mythology of All Races have been received in the library: Vol. I, Greek and Roman; vol. III, Celtic and Slavic; vol. VI, Indian and Iranian; vol. IX, Oceanic; Vol. X, North American; vol. XI, American (Latin); vol. XII, Egypt and the Far east. When completed the series will contain 13 volumes.

Pledge for the Warbler. There is no need to discuss the annual here, except to say that it is a record of your class as well as the Senior class. An annual is a year of history of your school, told and pictured in an interesting and sometimes amusing manner. It is at least a remembrance that you will never regret having. The Warbler editor wishes jokes and snapshots from the students. Help the class of '22 make their goal, the biggest and best annual ever published by a Senior class at E. I.

Some people very hard up for Christmas trees, ruined about six evergreens in the forestry to satisfy their craving. Their trees will each probably cost them several times as much as one purchased at a store. The authorities are investigating the matter. If such practice is not abruptly and forcefully terminated, it will be of little use to take care of and cultivate the remarkably fine growth of trees in our school forestry.

In response to several questions, Dale Coyle writes up the E. I. basketball dope and does it like a veteran news hunter. His knowledge of basketball, and of baseball especially, is remarkable. Perry Rawlands is the school reporter for the Courier.
His "College News Notes" appear two or three times a week.
Perry is noted for his "scoops," things that escape the ordinary reporter. No, not all the expert newspaper men are on the Teachers College News and the Chicago Tribune.

Irl Gobert, star E. I. football basketball and baseball player, was suddenly stricken ill early last Monday evening. Gobert is a Senior and one of the most popular and best liked students in school. The whole school wishes him a speedy return to health.

Class meetings were held last Wednesday but never a line of news came in. Everyone therefore probably thinks the other classes were like his, nothing to do. However, the Freshman and Sophomore classes of College always have something to do.
The Senior College concerned itself with the balcony. The High School classes are discussing and planning a High School party.

In Agreement

Treat the payment of your class dues as you would a debt of honor. This may seem an exaggeration, but nothing else will stir some delinquents.

About thirty couples attended the dance held Saturday night in the gym. Marjorie Lynch's orchestra furnished the music. Mr. and Mrs. Spooner and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin were chaperones.

Some young inmates of Pem Hall paid the gym a visit last Monday and were surprised to find no balcony. However, the boys who worked under Mr. Ashley's directions during the Christmas vacation feel that they did quite a lot. Drilling 74 holes in the hardest steel of any building in this vicinity is a job in itself, not to mention cutting the lumber and stacking it in the gym.
Removing the brick for the joists occupied about a day and a half. Due credit to all the boys who worked during their vacation and to Mr. Ashley, Mr.
Lantz and Mr. Hall is given. Mr.
Ashley besides directing the work does not hesitate to do hard manual labor along with the rest of the force. It was due a great deal to the efforts of the following boys that so much work was done during vacation: Roy Still-ions, Harold Kerr, Richard Fawley, Perry Rawland, Floyd Wilson, Hugh and Paul Osborne, Ruel and Sylvester Hall, Harold Whitemore, Harold Snyder, Alfred Iknayan, Eugene Stillions, William McInTosh, Charles Prather, Sumner Anderson, Glen Baker, former E. I. student and graduate. Harry White and Mr.
Freeland of the grounds force helped us a good deal, especially in loading and hauling lumber.
Mr. Nehrling and Mr. Clodfeller receive a vote of thanks for very welcome assistance.

The balcony is again delayed.
With tracers at both ends, the steel will certainly soon arrive.
Have a little patience, everyone.
The balcony will go up. Watch us when that steel comes.

Passing Discalies

The hall was deserted except for myself and the other person coming hurriedly toward me. I decided to pass to the right; my friend decided to pass to the left. It then became evident to both of us that a change of course was necessary or we would collide. I started to pass to the left. He started to pass to the right. We still blocked each other's way and had to stop to avoid running together. My mind acted quickly, I turned to the right; his acted quickly, and he turned to the left.

"We will never pass at this rate," I said, and stopped still.

"I agree with you," said he, and stopped also.

I laughed and started to the left; he grunted and started to the right.

"Pardon me!" I jumped to the right. "Sure!" He stepped to the left. I stood still and he stood still. We were getting desperate.

The solution occurred to us both at once. "Keep to the right," he said, and we passed safely.

Charles W. Scott.

Time Flies

Three o'clock, four o'clock, four-fifteen, four-thirty, quarter of five—still waiting for that poky dressmaker. Every fashion book looked thru, all advertisements carefully considered, continued stories criticized, and, in some cases, re-written in a more approved manner, jokes read and re-read.

Five o'clock, five-ten, five twenty, and still no signs of the lady. The pattern in the rug is an object for close scrutiny—there's too much red in it. That worn place must have been the result of some strenuous, but patient customer.

Five-thirty—great scott! Dinner at six and—no dressmaker yet!

Twenty-five of six—there goes the car. Ten more minutes before the next one. There she comes—no, there she goes.

Ten of six, prospect of a good dinner gone, a hopeless future, but—here she is. Neva Giah.

The question of a school band or orchestra is forcing itself upon the attention of not a few students. It is something to be discussed by the student council. With their approval the matter should be put before the faculty. One of the team that went to Carbondale commented on the help the S. I. N. U. band gave to the pep of both the spectators and the team.

Anyone will testify that a good school band helps school spirit immensely. The proposed band could save the dances some money.

Don't let the matter stay in the discussion stage. E. I., do something.

E. I. vs. St. Viator's tomorrow night. Game called at 7:15.
