Beirut airport closed after more shellfire

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Shellfire closed Beirut airport Wednesday, and druse gunners threatened fierce attacks on Lebanese army positions at the terminal, harbor, power stations, schools and peacekeeping bases.

No casualties were reported at the airport, where the U.S. Marine came under shelling for a third day. Ruse attacks on army positions in Christian east Beirut Tuesday killed six civilians and wounded 30.

In a written statement, the Progressive Socialist Party of Druse leader Walid Junblatt accused the Lebanese army and Christian militias in Beirut of shelling Druse mountain villages.

It demanded they dismantle their batteries and clear out positions protecting the airport, the harbor, power stations, schools and from multinational peacekeeping force garrisons.

The Druse statement urged civilians to avoid army and Christian militia garrisons and vehicles "because they are going to be the target of fire."

Later at least two warplanes that observers identified as U.S. A-7s roared over Beirut and the surrounding hills. But the private Central News Agency said they were Lebanese Hawker Hunter jets on flights.

Elsewhere, Beirut radio said Druse gunners pounded the Lebanese army garrison at Souk el-Gharb in the mountains above the Marine positions.

Beirut radio also reported fresh clashes in Tripoli between Palestinian supporters and Syrian-backed opponents of Yassar Arafat's leadership of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Arafat said in an interview with the Associated Press and other reporters that Syria was massing in the Tripoli area for a resumption of the offensive against him that started Nov. 3.

Meanwhile, Lebanese President Amin Gemayel was flying to Washington, where he is expected to seek President Reagan's support for changing or renegotiating the May 17 Israeli-Lebanese troop withdrawal agreement.

Syria and its Lebanese allies—the Shiite-Druse—have called for tearing up the accord because of concessions it grants Israel in return for the pullout of all Israeli troops.

Senate OKs two ISA members

Nancy Yamin

The Student Senate approved Wednesday the appointments of two senators as Eastern representatives to the Illinois Student Association.

Senators Audrey Dumentat and John Boyd were named to the ISA posts.

On Nov. 9, Senators Dan Sprehe and Jay Zanton signed their positions as ISA representatives.

The ISA is an organization formed to represent other education students' interests to the Illinois General Assembly.

In related business, Senate Speaker Glenn Good said the location of the ISA meeting scheduled for Dec. 2 has been moved to the University of Illinois. Originally, the meeting was to take place at Eastern.

In other business, senate committee chairmen gave final committee reports.

Each committee chairman reviewed semester goals, accomplishments and made suggestions for committee work for spring semester.

Good said he was "very proud" of the committee chairmen noting that they are the "backbone of student government."

In other business, the senate approved a bylaw revision clarifying the time when new senators are to be seated and when the senate speaker is to be elected.

The revised bylaw specifies both actions should take place at the last regular meeting of the semester.

Good said the revision was made a few years ago, although it was never formally written into the student government constitution.

Money hinders crime prevention

Kevin McDermott

A lack of funds for security is "the biggest factor" in the problem of preventing on-campus crime at Eastern, Student Body President John Cole said Tuesday.

Cole and five guest speakers addressed the issue of on-campus crime at the Conference Regarding Campus Security sponsored by Frank Bell's Speech-Communication 1310 Introduction to Speech-Communication class.

Cole said security at Eastern is lacking because of the university's $3 million "underfunding."

"The biggest factor right now is money," Cole said. "We need your (parents) help, your suggestions."

Cole added that a possible solution would be to charge each student $1 per semester, which would raise $20,000 a year to be spent on campus security.

In addition, the money could be used to install more lighting on campus and fund an "Eastern Student Patrol"

Student Government Executive Vice

President Meg Hart said the patrol would consist of two "teams" of student pairs who would patrol the campus at night and communicate with each other by walkie-talkie.

She added that six fraternities have already volunteered for the proposed patrol.

"If girls walking alone (on campus) needed help, all they would have to do is blow a whistle or call," Hart said. "Someone would be there."

Under the current plan, the volunteers would have to work without pay because of the lack of funds, she added.

However, "we're looking at every possibility we can to get funding for the fraternities that have volunteered," she said.

Patrick Mahoney, a Chicago personal injury lawyer, said he believes the proposed patrol program should be centered more on communication than on the physical presence of the volunteers.

Mahoney said a radio-communication system should be set up to allow the student patrolmen to quickly get in touch with Eastern and Charleston police.

"The fastest football player on campus can't compete with a knife or gun," he said. At one point he labeled the patrol as "student vigilantes."

Mahoney said that the legality of such a patrol is questionable, adding that this could have been the reason why no university official was present at the conference.

"The school may not be real anxious to get involved in this (patrol) unless you do it right," he added.

However, Hart said there would be no problems with the legality of the patrol as long as it is implemented on a volunteer basis.

"There are legal complications if you get into to paying the patrol," she added. "That's something we'll have to iron-out later. We'll have to watch the procedure very closely."

In addition, the problem of on-campus rape was also discussed by the Blood drive held at church

The Red Cross will conduct a blood drive Thursday at the First Christian Church in Charleston.

Bob Whittenbarger, a sociology instructor and member of the Board of Red Cross, said all healthy persons 17 or older may donate blood.

He added that students and faculty who donated at Eastern's blood drive in September will also be eligible to donate Thursday because more than 8 weeks separated the two drives.

The Red Cross does not allow people to donate more than once every 8 weeks or more than 5 times a year, he said.

He added that anyone older than 66 must bring a recent health statement from their doctor.

The drive will be conducted from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the First Christian Church, 411 Jackson St., which is located at the northeast corner of the intersection of Jackson and Fourth streets.

War agreement causes problems

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Six months after the troop withdrawal agreement between Israel and Lebanon was signed, the Reagan administration's single foreign policy "success" in the Middle East this year has become an obstacle in attempts to end the bloodshed in Lebanon.

"We are at an impasse," said one senior Lebanese official last week. "We negotiated the agreement in good faith and with good intentions, but it cannot be implemented in its present form."

The May 17 agreement provides for an Israeli troop withdrawal from Lebanon if Syrian forces also leave. So far, they have not.

"It's a race between politics and total collapse," the Lebanese official said.

Lebanese President Amin Gemayel meets Thursday with President Reagan in Washington, and it is expected that Gemayel will plead for modifications in the agreement.

Gemayel is hoping that the new U.S. chief Middle East negotiator, Donald Rumsfeld, has come up with some new ideas on his just completed swing around the region, and that Reagan can be persuaded that some accommodation with Syria is essential.

Prison to be built in Galesburg

SPRINGFIELD, Ill (AP)—Galesburg, which lost a state mental health center this week, will gain a 750-bed prison, Governor Thompson announced Wednesday.

The Republican governor, as expected, said the state will build a medium-security prison in the western Illinois city.

Thompson said the prison would cost $38 million to build and would employ about 425 people, excluding construction workers, at an annual payroll of about $10 million. It could be built within two years, he said.

Thompson said several other communities under consideration offered similar settings, but the loss of the mental health center was a factor in his decision.

"We wanted to ease the particular economic pain of the health center closing," Thompson said during an impromptu news conference at the governor's mansion.

Police rescue Heineken brewer

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—Police rescued kidnapped millionaire brewer Alfred Heineken and his chauffeur in a pre-dawn raid on an isolated warehouse Wednesday, and arrested 24 suspects in three cities.

A ransom reported to be as high as $11.6 million was paid Monday, but police said at least part of it was recovered from the homes of suspects.

The 60-year-old chairman of the Heineken Brewery and his chauffeur Ab Doderer, 57, were found alone, manacled to a wall and clad only in pajamas in an unheated building in an industrial park near the harbor. They were cold, but unharmed, officers said.

Robberies reported

Karen Sisulak
 The Charleston Police received seven reports that students' off-campus residences were burglarized during Thanksgiving break, Assistant Charleston Police Chief Herb Steidinger said.
 Four of the burglaries were reported to the Charleston Police on the weekend of Nov. 19; the other three burglaries were reported when the students returned from break, Steidinger said.
 "I don't think that's bad. Of course, I'm talking about a shorter time period than Christmas break," Steidinger said.
 He said he did not have any figures regarding the number of burglaries which occurred over Thanksgiving break in past years.

Gwinn to decide on candidacy

John Gwinn, the Urbana Democrat who unsuccessfully tried to oust Congressman Dan Crane, R-Danville, in 1980, will announce Thursday whether he will again be a candidate for the district nomination.
 Gwinn, who lost to Crane in a close race, will stop at the Coles County Airport at noon for a twenty minute announcement, his press secretary, Ray Elliott, said Wednesday.
 Elliott said Gwinn is scheduled to make six stops throughout the district Thursday.
 Gwinn will join a field of three other Democratic challengers in a bid to beat Crane next November.
 Danville attorney Tom Lindley, University of Illinois professor Eric Abbsen of Champaign and State Senator Terry Bruce of Olney have also entered campaigns for the March 20 nomination.
 Charleston State Senator Max Coffey has also entered the race, and will oppose Crane in the Republican primary.
 Crane is considered vulnerable after a near-upset in the last election and a censure this July after it was revealed that he had an affair with a 19-year-old female page in 1980.
 Coffey opposed Crane in 1978, when Crane was first elected to Congress.

The burglaries over this year's Thanksgiving break were centralized in the area of Regency and Youngstowne Apartments, he said.

Regency manager Doris Hamilton said, "As far as I know, there was one (burglary) reported before break and none over the break."

Youngstowne manager Glenn Fredrick said, "There was one burglary that I know about and I have heard about a couple of others over the break."

The number of burglaries is "normal given the variables," Steidinger said. He said the variables include the weather, the type of neighborhood and the available police force.

Steidinger said the police are aware of past burglaries in heavily-student populated areas and increase police patrols over break.

CAA to discuss tabled plans

The Council on Academic Affairs Thursday will discuss a series of previously-tabled course proposals from the speech-communication department.

One proposal recommends changing Speech-Communication 2830 "Language Habits in Human Affairs" to an upper-division course, removing it from the humanities list.

To replace the vacancy on the humanities list from the course elevation, a second proposal requests the CAA to approve a new course, Speech-Communication 2630 "Language and Human Communication."

In other action, the CAA is expected to discuss the criteria for course exemption from final examinations.

The CAA will meet at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Union addition Arcola-Tuscola room.

Counseling Center offered many benefits to students

Eastern's Counseling Center should be commended for the excellent seminars, mini-workshops and various programs it sponsored this semester.

The time and effort committed by the center went into bringing informative speakers to Eastern which helped students to learn how to deal with themselves and the daily interactions encountered.

Students who failed to take advantage of the center's offerings missed out on a beneficial learning experience, regardless of their outlook on personal well-being.

One particular workshop, entitled "Going Home," presented methods to students that may be used if they have a communication problem with their parents. This workshop gave valuable lessons students can use to make home life a bit easier.

The center also sponsored workshops that focused on personal relationships. A good example is the mini-workshop to help students strengthen personal relationships called, "Getting together, Staying together."

Another workshop, "50 Ways to Leave a Lover," offered students advice on how to best end a personal relationship while suggestions about coping with the depression and loneliness that often follow was also given.

The center also sponsored a mini-workshop entitled "Loneliness—Living Alone." This was attempted to help students realize that loneliness is a feeling students don't have to experience; it's something we can make disappear if we think well of ourselves and take the risks in making friendships.

Students would have benefited from attending the workshop entitled "Realities of Rape," which explained why rapes occur and how to avoid being vulnerable.

Next semester, students will be offered additional programs by the center. Hopefully, students will realize the benefits that can be derived from the assistance of the helpful and knowledgeable people who comprise Eastern's Counseling Center.

Your turn

Review hits wrong note

Editor:

In reading Kevin Zimmerman's album review of The Style Council in the Verge, we were once again pleased to find an intelligent alternative to the faceless pop-rock scene.

It's encouraging to find a music writer at Eastern that doesn't dwell in the same wasteland of garbage music where most of the students can be found.

However, his recent review raises some questions. We gave him the benefit of the doubt for borrowing anti-rock clichés from Rolling Stone magazine and attaching them to his Public Image Ltd. review. But his criticism of Mick Talbot and Paul Weller's Style Council deserves more than a footnote of thought. For Mr. Zimmerman to say "the music is what's important" makes the whole review a farce.

As the '80s began, Weller obviously became infatuated with soul music. The Jam had progressed from a true mod band spiced with Weller's socio-political lyrics and energetic guitar playing, to a soulful emotional band. This is most evident in the Jam's latest release, "Beat Surrender", where Weller's guitar and lyrics progress to the soul sound and ideals.

This change was used by Weller to leave The Jam behind and continue in his new direction. The Style Council is not meant to be compared musically or lyrically with The Jam. Concerning the hep liner notes and dress style, these are part of the concept of The Style Council and never interfere with the music.

Obviously, Mr. Zimmerman can't relate to Weller's new direction. His stressing of the lyrics in "Money Go Round" only solidifies his refusal to leave The Jam memories behind.

The music is now what's important. Zimmerman's misunderstanding once again exemplifies the problems Weller has always encountered with the American press and public in general. No wonder he hates the U.S.

Punt the program!

Editor:

After the disappointing finale and the earlier antics of the football team, now is a good time to take up something that should have been deliberated last summer when head coach Darrell Mudra walked out.

Eastern's football status should be returned to what it was (Division II) before Mudra, or even eliminate football entirely from our athletic program.

Few people were enthusiastic for the buildup under Mudra; I had only one student out of 150 who attached any importance to the football team and she was the girlfriend of the quarterback. Why should we continue what most people here regard as an expensive PR mistake?

Some time ago, the athletic department admitted that football athletic grants cost us more than $200,000 a year. People who have tried to piece together the total cost of football here have come up with $500,000 as a minimal figure, taking into account coaching salaries, transportation, recruitment, phone bills, stadium upkeep, equipment, insurance and who knows how many other items.

Just think what we could do academically with $500,000; especially in the honors program, for example. Within a few years, employers and graduate schools alike would come to view Eastern's honor graduates on a par with graduates from prestigious universities like Harvard, Yale, the University of Illinois and others.

Is football worth this to us?

Ed Colbert

A Nu 'clear' solution?

Editor:

I would like to address a problem that should concern everyone. After seeing the movie "The Day After" we should all realize that a nuclear war would only lead to world destruction. But how should be go about averting such a disaster?

While looking over my geography notes, I learned that in the USSR only 6 percent of the total population is Communist, whereas our country is controlled by all voters. With this knowledge, and the fact that the percent of the Communists in the USSR is decreasing every year, one day they will eventually be overthrown by the people.

Therefore, we should not have a nuclear freeze. Instead, we should keep updating our weapons and keep the Soviets behind us—or at least prevent them from passing our nuclear capabilities. This will drain their economy more and inevitably end in a civil war against the starving masses of non-Communist citizens.

This can only lead to peaceful co-existence between our two countries—only if we can both remain at peace now. Since both sides know that nuclear war will accomplish nothing, neither side would launch an attack.

But, one country could threaten the other and force them to be taken over peacefully. So as long as we stay strong by having the strength to obliterate them, eventually, they will become weak and the threat of nuclear war will end.

Graduate publishes book of poetry

Kathy Leahy
When Charleston resident Dan Dailey began writing poems at the age of nine, he had no idea that he would one day have a book of poetry published.

But Dailey, now 31, recently saw "Tying Things Together," a collection of his poetry, published by Prairie Poet Books.

"I started writing poems when I was 10 years old, but I never would have thought then that I would be publishing a book of them," Dailey, an Eastern graduate, said. "I never took it seriously then. It was just for fun."

However, with the encouragement of his fifth grade teacher, Dailey began to consider writing as a full-time profession.

"My fifth grade teacher told me I had the talent to write, so I began to write more seriously," he said. "By the time I was 14, writing was very important to me. It became a big part of my life."

"Tying Things Together" is an appropriate title for Dailey's book because it represents more than 14 years of his work.

Most of Dailey's poems were written while he served in the army. He enlisted in the Army in 1971 and served as a chaplain's assistant for two years. He credits the Army with doing the most to enhance his writing career.

"My job in the Army left me a lot of free time," Dailey said. "I had access to a typewriter so I started concentrating on my writing."

"A lot of my work was done while I was in the Army, including a 57-page poem with every other line rhyming," he said. "It's called 'Keeper of the Rhyme' and I hope I can get that published next."

Although the majority of Dailey's poems deal with his childhood experiences, several of them also deal with war and other current issues, he added.

"Most of the poems are story poems that deal with my experiences while growing up and they have a message," Dailey said. "I would like to think that people learn something from reading my stuff."

"Some of them also deal with things like war," he added. "I like to start those nicely and then shock the reader with something at the end to really make them think."

In addition, Dailey said his book of poetry contains a wide variety of writing styles.

"Not all of the poems rhyme and not all of them are serious," he said. "There are several that are written in prose; some are humorous and some have religious undertones."

Dailey said he will be selling his book in the Union Bookstore from 2-5 p.m. this week. The book sells for $6.

The book is also available at Reggies, 405 Lincoln Ave. and What's Cooking, 250 Lincoln Ave.

UB begins recruitment program

by Kevin Esgar

Eastern's University Board announced at its Tuesday meeting the dates for a UB student recruitment program.

Vice Chairman Suzie Newkirk said Jan. 17-20, 1984 will be a recruitment period. "This is where we try to recruit students to help out on UB committees," she said.

In other business, the UB approved

John Allston as the new movie coordinator at the Nov. 15 meeting. He will begin his duties in the spring semester.

The UB also approved Merry Watson as the Human Potential Coordinator. Watson will replace LaJoyce Hunter, who will be graduating at the end of the fall semester.

UB Chairman Nancy Martin noted that next week's meeting would be the last one of the semester.

Good' to start; tickets on sale

Tickets for "Good," Eastern's water production, are currently on sale. J. Sain, promotion and management director, said.

Performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. Dec. 2, 3, 5 and 6 and a matinee will be presented at 2 p.m. Dec. 4.

Tickets, available in the Fine Arts ticket office 1-5 p.m. Monday through Friday, are $2 for Eastern students with a validated ID, $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children and senior citizens.

Fraternity organizes paper drive

By Debra Klauer
Alpha Phi Omega, Eastern's national service fraternity, along with a Mattoon boy scout troop, is currently in the process of gathering papers for recycling.

"Project Recycle" is a fund-raising project for both organizations, Tim McCoy, chairman of the project, said. Alpha Phi Omega and the troop are paid by the ton of papers they recycle, he said.

Jeff Mann, first vice president of the fraternity, said last semester the fraternity raised $140.

Mann estimated that this semester they would raise only $25 to $50 because they began the collection so late in the semester. However, the fraternity is planning another paper drive to begin sometime in April.

Currently, there are two paper bins where the public may place papers to be recycled. One is located behind Buzard Building and the other is behind the Student Services Building.

Mann said the bins are emptied twice a week, then the papers are stored in Mattoon until they can be taken to Shelbyville where they are recycled.

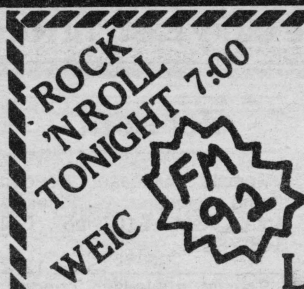

Alpha Phi Omega is planning to use the funds collected from the recycling to publicize future paper drives and maintain the paper bins. "We have been pleased so far with all the papers we've collected, but we still need many more papers," Mann said.

Keryl Keller, a health education instructor and a member of Coles County Women Against Rape, said one of the biggest problems concerning rape is the reluctance of the victims to report the crime because of emotional trauma, the low conviction rate and the fear of the rapist returning.

"It's amazing how people react to the situation of rape," Keller said.

LAWYER'S ASSISTANT: A GROWTH CAREER FOR THE 80's

Training as a Lawyer's Assistant can give today's college graduate a valuable edge in the job market. Entry-level positions in the Chicago area pay as much as $12,000 to $15,000—and some paralegals are now earning as much as $32,000. It takes just three months of daytime study (six months in the evening) to prepare for a career as a Lawyer's Assistant. The program at Roosevelt University is the largest A.B.A. approved program in Illinois, and its record of graduate employment assistance is the best there is.

that, so I can't be disappointed." However, senior Bonnie Fisk, in her final season at Eastern, said, "I was disappointed that we didn't win the conference. I thought we had a real good shot at it."

"We went into the conference tournament confident," she continued. "I don't know if we were overconfident or what, but things just didn't work out for us."

"Conference was really important to us," Fisk added. "It wasn't pressure. We just knew we had to win the conference if we were to advance to nationals. We needed to win and it was frustrating that we weren't able to."

Although Eastern was not able to capture its first conference crown, the Panthers placed two players on the all-conference team. Fisk was a GCAC first-team selection, while senior Stacy Cook captured second-team honors.

"It's an honor," Fisk said. "Although we didn't go too far in the conference this year, it's nice to receive recognition." Ralston noted, "Bonnie and Stacy are deserving of the honor. They were our two big hitters and they, along with Kathy (Briggs) were our most consistent players all season long."

"It's a shame though that all-round players like Kathy don't get the recognition they deserve," she added. "She deserved to make the all-conference team too."

Fisk and Cook were one and two respectively in hitting and blocking for the Panthers this season. Fisk registered 360 kills in 822 attempts (117 errors) for a 29.5 attack percentage. Fisk also notched 63 block solos and 66 block assists.

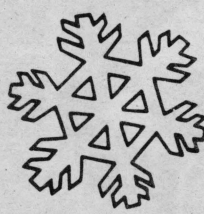

Meanwhile, Cook finished the season with 393 kills in 931 attempts (140 errors) and boasted a 27.1 kill percentage.

In addition, Cook was second to Fisk in blocking with 58 block solos and 59 block assists.

Spikers overcome injuries to post best NCAA season

by Kathy Leahy

Despite being hampered by injuries throughout most of the season, Eastern's volleyball team was able to put together its finest NCAA Division I season.

"I was very happy with the way the season went. I can't be disappointed with the way the girls played," first-year head coach Betty Ralston said. "We had nagging injuries all season, which hurt us.

"The injuries really lowered our morale and hurt our attitude sometimes," she continued. "But the girls didn't give up and we ended up having a great season."

Ralston said highlights of the Panthers' season included first place finishes at the Eastern Michigan Tournament, the Eastern Kentucky Classic and the Wisconsin-Milwaukee Invitational.

However, Ralston said a five-game thriller against the University of Illinois Oct. 18 at Lantz Gym was the biggest match for the Panthers this season.

"The Illinois game was the first five-game match we won," Ralston said. "We had played several five-game matches and came up short on all of them, so the Illinois match was a big lift for us."

Eastern went on to post a 26-11 overall record and a 6-4 Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference slate, but the Panthers ended the season on a sour note.

The Panthers finished out the season with a disappointing three-game loss to top-seeded Southwest Missouri State University in the first round of the conference post-season tournament.

"We were the underdogs going into the tournament," Ralston said. "It would have been nice to upset someone in the tournament, but it just didn't happen.

"We had a goal set. We wanted to make it to the post-season tournament—to be one of the top five teams in the conference," she continued. "We did."

Wyss, Duckworth help cagers top Kent State

by Kirby Flowers

Tim Wyss and Kevin Duckworth teamed up to lift Eastern's basketball team past Kent State University 79-76 Wednesday night at Lantz Gym.

Wyss entered the game after Vincent Smelter was injured when Kent State's Terry Wearsch fouled him with nine seconds remaining in the contest and the score knotted at 76.

Consequently, Wyss went to the line for Smelter and sunk the first of two shots to put Eastern ahead 77-76. However, Wyss missed the second shot, but Duckworth got the rebound and hit from eight feet out, giving the Panthers a 79-76 edge with four seconds left in the game.

"I was having trouble getting my shots to go down in the first half," Wyss said after the game. "But in the second half I started getting the ball to go down."

"I really didn't realize I was going to shoot a free throw until I got out there," Wyss added. "I really didn't get a chance to think about it as soon as I got out there the ref handed me the ball and I shot."

The victory gets Eastern off on the right foot as the Panthers sport a 1-0 record, while the Golden Flashes drop to 3-1.

Jon Collins led the Panthers Wednesday with 17 points, while Duckworth chipped in 15 points and 8 rebounds. The Golden Flashes' Larry Robins led all scorers with 26 points.

Despite the victory Eastern head coach Rick Samuels said he did not like to win the way they did Wednesday.

"I hope we don't make a habit out of winning in the last couple of seconds," Samuels said. "We may not get the break next time."

"Kent State is a good basketball team," Samuels added. "They are a well coached team. We were lucky to get the key break (the foul on Smelter with nine seconds left)."

The Panthers, who led 40-39 at halftime, fell behind by 60-53 at 12:36 of the second half. Eastern then staged a comeback and nipped Kent State at the wire.

In addition, Samuels said the Panthers still have a lot of room for improvement, especially on defense. Eastern turned the ball over 19 times Wednesday.

"We had a lot of lapses out on the court, which caused turnovers," Samuels said. "Anxiety also caused some mistakes tonight. We have got to a better job of taking care of the ball."

"We have got to play better defense also," Samuels said. "We have to get better weak-side support. If we are going to win we are going to have to improve our defense."

Wyss added, "We need to improve on a lot of things. We have got to be more aggressive on defense, we're not quick enough. We were lucky to stay close to them in the first half."

Lawrenceville fails to extend prep streak

by Joseph Anglum

For two years, Lawrenceville High School has competed in basketball tournaments at Lantz Gym with unblemished records and the makings of Illinois' longest winning streak.

However, when the four-time Class A state champions return Dec. 27 for the Charleston Holiday Tournament, Lantz crowds will see at least one loss on the Indians' 1983-84 record.

Gone is the Indians' Illinois High School Association record 68-game winning streak which ended Friday at the Schlarman Topper Classic in Danville.

Danville Schlarman downed Lawrenceville 60-38 in the second game of the 17th annual Schlarman Topper Classic. Two years ago, the Indians began their streak by dumping the hosts 95-34.

"I was kind of expecting it," first-year Lawrenceville head coach George Grubbs said. "The kids didn't know what to expect. They really felt it was their job to keep the streak going.

Ironically, Lawrenceville, which captured two supersectional wins at Lantz Gym in as many years, watched its unprecedented streak end right where it began two years ago.

After its 1981 opening victory, Lawrenceville coasted to 33 more straight victories, and eventually claimed its third IHSA crown.

The following year, the Indians invaded Danville again and started their second consecutive 34-0 season which topped Quincy High School's 64-game winning streak.

In the past two years, Lawrenceville has posted some impressive wins at Lantz Gym. Its 67-61 supersectional win over Vandalia High School in 1982 drew more than 6,500 spectators.

The Indians' 62-48 Super-Sectional triumph over Madison High School last year again packed Lantz Gym. All together, Lawrence has played seven supersectional games at Eastern.
