Tuition may climb 6 percent

by Sheila Billerbeck

A $60 to $85 tuition increase for public universities was recommended recently by the Illinois Board of Higher Education for Fiscal Year 1985.

The proposed 6.5 percent tuition hike is part of a $1.44 billion higher education operating budget which will be reviewed by the IBHE at its Tuesday meeting.

Although the IBHE has recommended the 6.5 percent tuition increase, the final decision regarding Eastern's tuition level will be made by the Board of Governors, Eastern's controlling board, at its February meeting.

Eastern President Stanley Rives said he projects a tuition increase of "about 6 or 7 percent" for the 1984-85 school year.

Rives said his prediction was based on the decreased inflation rate, which indirectly coincides with the tuition level.

Last year, Eastern students faced a 10 percent tuition increase, Rives added.

IBHE Executive Director Richard Wagner said the FY 1985 operating budget recommendation is a $100 million—or 8.1 percent—increase from the current fiscal year appropriation.

In addition to a tuition hike, a 7 percent salary increase is included in the operating budget recommendation for university faculty and staff.

Wagner said Illinois university faculty salaries average 5.3 percent less than comparable institutions in other states.

"The thrust of these budget recommendations is part of broader efforts by colleges and universities and the Board of Education to improve the quality of higher education," he noted.

Rives said Eastern received the highest FY 1985 operating budget recommendation of the state universities.

Eastern's proposed $35.1 million budget is an 8.7 percent increase from the current FY 1984 budget.

"The board's recommended FY'85 budget enables us to make considerable progress," Rives said.

The budgeting cycle got underway when the BOG reviewed Eastern's financial situation and made budget suggestions to the IBHE.

The IBHE will revise and approve its recommendations which will then be reviewed and approved by the General Assembly and Gov. Jim Thompson at the end of the fiscal year in late June.

The IBHE will meet at 9 a.m. Tuesday at the Westin Hotel in Chicago.

Central registration, add-drops begin

by Kerri Niemann

Students who did not pre-register for the spring semester still have a chance to enroll by participating in central registration beginning Monday.

David Sardella, Eastern's assistant director of registration, said central registration will be conducted from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. Monday and Tuesday in McAfee Gym.

If students cannot register during these hours, they should report to the Registration Operations Room, located in the south basement of McAfee Gym, between 8:30 a.m. and 3 p.m. Wednesday or 1-3 p.m. Thursday or Friday, he said.

To register for courses, students must bring their ID cards and tuition and fee payments, he said.

Students should report to the gym at times designated according to the first initials of their last names, he added. Advisers at the stations will help schedule students' classes.

In addition, Sardella said students who have not selected majors will be able to report to a special assistance table for advisement.

After students schedule classes with the advisers, they should obtain authorization from advisers and report to the Union Ballroom to pay fees and have their ID cards validated, he said.

In addition, Sardella said add-drops will begin at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday. Students should report to the Union Ballroom at the times designated according to the last digits of their social security numbers. Any student wishing to change his schedule may do so at this time, he said.

Add-drops will continue until 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Jackson lauded for pilot release

WASHINGTON—A top State Department official said Sunday the Reagan administration welcomed the Rev. Jesse Jackson's successful effort to free Lt. Robert Goodman Jr. from Syria, but that the dramatic release probably won't affect diplomatic relations with that country.

Deputy Secretary of State Kenneth W. Dam, appearing on the NBC-TV program "Meet the Press," called the unofficial mission seeking release of the captured Navy flier a humanitarian act on the part of Jackson, who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination.

Italy troubled by Mafia violence

ROME—A new round of grisly, gangland-style slayings is again showing that despite harsh blows to some underworld rings and curbs on political terrorism, Italy seems powerless to wipe out the Sicilian Mafia.

"The state has no control over Sicilian territory," Professor Pino Arlacchi, a respected specialist in analyzing the Mafia, said in a telephone interview with the Associated Press.

"Some progress has been made in the battle against the Mafia, but the situation really calls for stronger judicial action to control the financial moves of gangsters," Arlacchi said.

Soviets publish airspace rules

MOSCOW—A senior Soviet fighter pilot has published a rare summary of rules for military pilots dealing with planes intruding in Soviet airspace, stressing that individual pilots may be forced to act on their own.

The article by Col. Gen. Sergei Golybev, a Hero of the Soviet Union, made only one mention of a Soviet pilot's downing of a civilian Korean Air Lines jumbo jet on Sept. 1, which killed 269 people.

He neither praised nor criticized the action taken against the jet, while noting that if the intruding craft refuses to obey, Soviet pilots can take "decisive measures." The article did not mention what the specific measures might be.

Hartigan backs Rock for Senate

CHICAGO—Illinois Attorney General Neil Hartigan on Sunday endorsed State Senate President Philip J. Rock in Rock's bid for the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination.

Rock "knows the questions, the problems and what the remedies have to be from Washington," Hartigan said at a news conference given by the two men.

"His (Hartigan's) endorsement signifies that I am electable," the Oak Park Democrat said. "I can win in March and I can win in November."

Marine killed in grenade attack

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Gunmen fired two rocket-propelled grenades at a 12-man detail of U.S. Marines early Sunday, killing one of the Americans. Lebanese soldiers exchanged mortar fire in the mountains near Beirut, and Druse and Christians fought through the day in southern Lebanon.

A CH-46 Sea Knight helicopter unloaded the Marine work detail and lifted off just before two rocket-propelled grenades exploded on the landing pad in an area known as Military Beach, close to the British Embassy. Volleys of small-arms fire followed.

Marines and Lebanese army soldiers at a nearby post shot back and the chopper opened up with machine-gun fire and veered off sharply, speeding away low over the Mediterranean, witnesses and Marine spokesman said.

The Marine was the 258th American member of the multinational force to be killed in Lebanon since the Marines arrived in September 1982 to help enforce a cease-fire during the Israeli invasion.

U.S. diplomats have had offices at the British Embassy since the U.S. mission was demolished by a car bomb last April.

Chief Marine spokesman Maj. Dennis Brooks said the body of the Marine, whose name was withheld pending notification of his family, would be flown back to the United States as soon as possible.

No group immediately claimed responsibility for the attack.

Reagan to pick woman for spot

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Reagan, hoping to spruce up his image with women, is about to appoint one to the economically influential Federal Reserve Board, according to Fed watchers inside and outside government.

No one is saying exactly who will replace Nancy Hays Teeters, the first female Fed governor, whose term expires on Jan. 31. But there is wide agreement that her successor—appointee number 63 in the Federal Reserve's 70 year history—will be female number 2.

"I don't see how, given the political difficulties the president has found himself in with women, he could replace the only female governor with anyone other than a female governor," Thomas Thomson, a former Fed economist who is now chief economist for Crocker National Bank in San Francisco, said.

Officials, though acknowledging Reagan may have some image problems with women, are less willing to talk about any role politics might play in choosing someone to work on critical monetary policies.

The seven-member Federal Reserve Board, appointed by the president but operationally independent of him, wields tremendous economic power through its control of the money and credit available to the U.S. economy.

Many analysts say it was stringent monetary control by the Federal Reserve, not the ballyhooed policies of the administration, that should be credited or blamed for the drop in inflation and the deep recession that marked Reagan's first two years in office. Similarly, a 1982 relaxation of that control is seen as a major reason for the 1983 recovery.

Mrs. Teeters, considered the most liberal of the current Fed governors, had pressed for such easing—earlier and more persistently than most of her colleagues.

Syria kept quiet about bombing

NEW YORK (AP)—The Syrian government had planned to condemn the Beirut bombing that killed 241 U.S. servicemen, but abandoned the plan when Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger charged Syria with being involved in the attack, according to a televised report.

Syrian Minister of State for Foreign Affairs Farouk Al-Shara said in an interview broadcast Sunday on CBS' "60 Minutes" program that Syrian officials quashed the condemnation because they didn't want to bow to U.S. pressure.

"And so we stopped doing, issuing any statement because we don't want to give the impression that we're being intimidated by the U.S. administration," Al-Shara said.

He denied any Syrian involvement or prior knowledge of the suicide truck bombing at the Beirut airport Oct. 23. He said the Syrian government feels dismay, regret and sympathy for those killed and injured in the attack.

But he said more deaths are certain as long as American troops stay in Lebanon.

"More Marines will be killed, unfortunately, and they'll get maybe more involved," Al-Shara said. "It will not lead to peace."

Wesel outlines senate committee goals

by Carl Pugliese

Student Senate Speaker Ron Wesel said he plans to implement ideas this semester which will motivate student senators and "get them working hard."

Wesel said he has compiled a list of projects to present to each of the seven senate committees.

The committees include auditing, student awareness, academic affairs, university relations, housing, student legislative and elections.

Wesel said he will suggest that the student awareness committee institute a monthly student senate newsletter.

The newsletter, which would update senate activities, would be sent to all university-recognized groups, he said.

Wesel said he will suggest that the elections committee implement an "exit interview" for outgoing senators.

"The interview would be used as a means to hear the concerns, criticisms and compliments that exiting senators have concerning the senate during their term," he added.

Wesel said he will suggest that the legislative committee assist Eastern's Illinois Student Association representative by generating ideas for the representative to present to the ISA.

In other committee work, Wesel said he will suggest that the academic affairs committee continue working with Student Body President John Cole concerning the possible purchase of a student government computer.

The university relations committee should work with the Residence Hall Association and other groups to establish a permanent tailgating policy, Wesel noted.

Working more closely with the Off-Campus Student Housing Association and sending out a newsletter are two ideas Wesel will present to the housing committee.

Disease claims life of student

by Keith Clark

Eastern junior Brenda Heard died shortly before winter break because she had contracted a strain of meningitis.

Coles County Coroner Dick Lynch said Heard, 20, was found unconscious by friends at approximately 11:40 p.m. Dec. 9 in her apartment at 623 Polk St. She was rushed to Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center where she was pronounced dead at 12:11 a.m. Dec. 10.

Heard, of Chicago, died of "acute bacterial leptomeningitis," Lynch said. Heard first became ill early Dec. 9 and a friend reported last talking to her at approximately 11:15 p.m., he added.

"The friend said she was drowsy, in bed and acted sleepy but did talk," he said. Heard was found unconscious about a half an hour later by friends who had come to visit for the weekend.

Leptomeningitis, unlike other forms of meningitis, is not highly contagious, Lynch said.

However, as a precautionary measure, following Heard's death Lynch and Health Service Director Dr. Jerry Heath contacted Heard's friends and the ambulance workers and police officers who had been involved with the case, Lynch said.

Heard probably did not contract the meningitis from another person but came in contact with something that activated the illness in her body, he noted.

"All of us carry this causative type of organism all the time but we do not know what makes it become active," Lynch said. This type of illness moves swiftly, he added.

Common symptoms of the disease include a high temperature, nausea and intermittent, severe headaches, he noted.

No other cases of meningitis have been reported since Heard's death, Lynch added.

Fears of Big Brother disrupts concrete action

Contrary to popular belief in the Western World, Big Brother did not take over for Father Time at the stroke of midnight Jan. 1.

Even if he had, irrational fears and unreasoned expectations would paint a different likeness than reality would provide.

Editorial

George Orwell's novel of foreboding mind control and infringements of civil liberties was not intended as a prediction. However, this new year is met with nearly the same degree of public attention and media blitz as the year 1976—our nation's bicentennial.

While public awareness to the degree of our freedoms is wise, its current interest does not seem to be supported with concrete investigation and ignores the nature of our fears.

In the Nov. 28 issue of Time, a cover story on Orwell took note of "verbal knee jerks"—nearly everyone's obsession to pinpoint any unreasoned fear to an omnipotent "Big Brother."

An irony of the crusade, however, is sloppiness of thought and a blind obsession to shout mindless slogans like "Big Brother is watching you" at an undefinable enemy—exactly opposite of Orwell's intent.

As reported in Time, Orwell "deplored what he called a 'Meaningless Word,' a ramshackle of abstraction inviting everyone to come in and stop thinking for a while."

Toting the slogans of 1984 is detrimental to our personal security because it reduces an increasingly complex and abstract problem to a "boogey man" that can be erased with a magic word or the coming of 1985.

The problem did not materialize in 1984. It will not disappear in 1985. The answers to questions about personal freedoms and rights to thought and privacy, our government's control on our lives and the myriad of society's problems will not be solved by a single solution.

Those interested in a concrete solution should quit thumping their copy of the book and pointing to Orwell's premonitions. Everyone's fears and arguments should be founded in the reality of our situation. The answers won't be found in a fictional, negative utopia novel.

We must keep in mind that an exploration to solutions will need extensive analysis and concessions to be made so more structured freedoms will be universal.

Irrational fears and panic will not be productive. Without rational examination of the issues now, we will write our own horror story.

Needs break from dubious question

As we come back from break, bursting with excitement at the prospects of beginning another semester, the question "How was your break?" will undoubtedly be the first words we hear from friends and roommates.

For those who have been at Eastern more than a year, answering this question might seem about as tedious as matching socks. And if you really want to know how much I like answering the question, right now I'm wearing one green sock and one blue one.

My break was fine. Good. Fun. Boring. This probably sounds a lot like your break, unless you were one of those jetsetters who went unreasonably south to escape the coldest snap we've had in the last century.

But even if you're one of those lucky people who went to the tropics (anywhere south of Carbondale)—or even skiing—I don't want to hear about it. It's just too depressing.

For those who insist on asking what I and any other homebodies did over break, I'm going to try and give what I feel might be a representative answer.

I slept too much. Not only that, but I kept insane hours. We have a television with a remote control and I learned that I could mesmerize myself until the early hours of the morning sinking into the couch and flipping the channel change button at a rapid rate of speed, never bothering to watch any single program for more than a minute.

Contrary to what some people think, watching television can be an excellent learning experience. I learned to create my own programs. My favorite ran at 12:30 a.m. It was called, "The Hawaii Five-O Death Valley Days Championship Wrestling Leave It To Beaver Rose Bowl Re-run Diet and Fitness

Personal file

Keith Clark

Show."

Speaking of diet and fitness, who did speak of it over break? Instead of increasing my lung capacity, I increased my stomach capacity. My mom kept giving me hints that I might be eating a little too much and suggested that she would be glad to go to the attic and dig out my 38 waist-size jeans left over from the days when I was a walrus masquerading as a high school student.

Christmas was just great, too. Being your average college student, I didn't have a lot to spend on gifts. My limited money supply was spent on much more important things (beer, pizza, beer, munchies, beer) at school.

So I ended up giving really "meaningful" gifts with a lot of thought behind them to make them really special. Mom and Dad really loved the "his and her K-Mart pink towel set" and I'm sure 15-year-old sis will always treasure the copy of "The Best of Bachman Turner Overdrive" that I picked up at Musicland for $1.99.

What did I get? Oh, just a lot of clothes that do not fit too well now because of the aforementioned eating binge.

But putting food, gifts and television aside, the one thing I have learned about breaks is that the best part is coming back to my friends—even if they do ask dumb questions.

—Keith Clark is city editor for The Daily Eastern News.

Your turn

ISSC proposal discriminates

Editor:

When I read an article in The Daily Eastern News about the proposal that 50 percent of the Illinois State Scholarship Commission money would be allocated to students who finish in the top 10 percent of their high school class, I couldn't help but be concerned for students who were similar to me.

Because I lacked foresight into my future, I did poorly my first two years in high school. But, as I matured and realized that I wanted to go to college, I straightened out and did very well my last two years.

Although I did well, there was no way I could reverse my class rank enough to be in the top 10 percent.

These students, like me, need money and want to go to college. But everyone in this predicament could lose out because they lacked foresight or maturity when they were 14 years old.

I'm not against rewarding students who excel academically, but there are many private scholarships which handsomely reward academic excellence.

Furthermore, the financial aid system is based on need and I haven't heard many complaints about it.

Counseling Center workshops planned

by Douglas Backstrom

The staff at Eastern's Counseling Center is ready to start the new semester by helping students deal with problems such as overeating, depression or homosexuality.

Counseling Center Director Bud Sanders said one of the ways the Counseling Center staff will try to solve students' problems will be to offer various workshops this semester.

The various programs may help students "expand their awareness and learn some new strategies to enhance their personal lives and relationships," he said.

The Counseling Center will conduct several life skills seminars this semester at noon on Wednesdays in the Union addition Greenup room.

"What Do You Say

After?" is a Jan. 18 workshop designed to help students overcome shyness and enhance their contacts with others, Sanders said.

The Feb. 1 workshop "Surviving An Unhappy Family" will focus on some healing measures for adults who felt emotionally hurt, neglected or abused as children, he said.

A Feb. 15 mini-workshop titled "Leadership" has been designed to help students increase their effectiveness as leaders, managers or supervisors, he added.

The March 7 workshop titled "Hypnosis" will focus on common uses and misuses of clinical hypnosis.

In addition, the Counseling Center will have other workshops dealing with overeating, personal well-being, depression and personal relationships, he said.

Textbooks now available

by Kerri Niemann

Textbooks, inevitable belongings for the Eastern student, will be available beginning Monday.

Textbook Rental Service Director Richard Sandefer said book distribution will begin at 8 a.m. Monday at the Textbook Rental Service, located at the south end of Pemberton Hall.

Book distribution will end at 5 p.m. Monday and resume between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Tuesday, he said.

Extended hours of the rental service will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday. Regular hours of 8 a.m. through 4:30 p.m. will begin Friday, he added.

Students participating in central registration are required to bring their paid fee cards and class schedules to pick up books, Sandefer said.

However, students who have pre-registered for the spring semester are not required to bring their fee cards or schedules because they are on record for the books they need. "A student ID, however, would be helpful," he added.

Any student who has not returned last semester's books can do so by bringing them to the rental service and paying the fine, thus clearing his record. "Fines are one dollar per day per book, with a five dollar maximum on each book," Sandefer said.

Residents protest test burning

NAPERVILLE, Ill. (AP)- About 600 people chanting "Ban the Burn" gathered for the second demonstration in a week against the planned test-burning of a ton of cyanide-tainted film chips at a plant here.

The C.E. Raymond Combustion Engineering plant has received permits from the Environmental Protection Agency and the city council to burn the chips, which are part of 14.5 million pounds of a poisonous residue that remains after silver is extracted from photographic film.

The chips have created storage problems in Dixon and the Chicago area. In seeking an inexpensive way to dispose of them, the state helped arrange the Naperville test burn, but local residents have said they feared the burn would make the village "the Times Beach Mo. of Illinois."

Auditions for play slated

by Douglas Backstrom

Auditions for "Tracy's Tiger," the first of Eastern's theatre arts department productions this semester, will be conducted this month.

Theater arts instructor E.G. Gabbard said "Tracy's Tiger," by William Saroyan, is a comical story of love, psychology and a tiger. This play was very popular during the 1930s and 1940s, he noted.

Auditions for "Tracy's Tiger" will be at 7 p.m. Jan. 25 and 27 in the Doudna Fine Arts Center Theater, he added.

"Tracy's Tiger" will be presented March 2, 3, 4 and 5 in the Doudna Fine Arts Center Playroom.

"Dark of the Moon" will be presented April 27, 28, 29 and May 1 in the Doudna Fine Arts Center Theater, he said.

"Dark of the Moon," by Howard Richardson and William Berney, is the story of a witchboy who falls in love with a beautiful mortal woman, Gabbard said.

Although a date has not been set, auditions for "Dark of the Moon" will take place during the first week of March, Gabbard noted.

Ticket prices for both productions are $3.50 for adults, $2.50 for senior citizens and children and $2 for students with an ID card.

Officials rule out arms sales to China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senior Reagan administration officials rule out any major U.S. arms sales to China in the near future but say they intend to use talks with Premier Zhao Ziyang this week to explore ways of increasing contacts with China's military leaders.

"It is a tricky area for both of us," said a senior U.S. official who said he sees military exchanges as a more likely area for U.S.-Chinese cooperation than large-scale arms transfers.

But he added: "We've been more pushy than they. They had to be asked. It's in an exploratory phase."

Zhao, the highest ranking Chinese communist official ever to visit the United States, confers with President Reagan at the White House on Tuesday and also meets with Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger and other members of the Reagan cabinet.

Over the weekend, Zhao toured Hawaii, where he met with Gov. George Ariyoshi and visited the U.S. naval base at Pearl Harbor.

Student orientation set

by Kerri Niemann

Students attending Eastern for the first time this semester may be puzzled by many things including how to register for classes and when to pick up textbooks.

Those new students can learn all they need to know by attending informational orientation meetings on Monday and Tuesday.

New students whose last initials are L-Z should meet at 8 a.m. Monday at Phipps Lecture Hall in the Physical Science Building. Students whose last initials are A-K should meet at 8 a.m. Tuesday at Phipps Lecture Hall.

David Sardella, assistant director of registration, said, "They might as well start off on the right foot, and we urge them to attend."

Sardella said new students can gain survival skills and information about Eastern by attending the meetings.

Each meeting will be broken down into groups of either transfer or freshman students, he said.

Speakers for these meetings will be Janet Holley of student academic services and Calvin Cambell of academic advisement.

Holley said discussion topics for orientation will range from how to select this semester's schedule to how pre-registration will go for students next semester.

Students will also learn how to purchase parking permits and when they can pick up their books.

In addition, Holley said the transfer students will talk about how transferring credits works and what effect an associate degree will have on them at Eastern.

Sardella said the orientation meetings will last about 40 minutes and students can then go directly to central registration.

Let's get entertained UB plans spring activities

Students may find some relief from their studies this semester by attending some of the events to be sponsored by Eastern's University Board.

UB Adviser Booker Suggs said Jofery II, one of the United States' top ballet companies, will give a January performance at Eastern. The date of the performance has not been set, he added.

Walley Cleaver, a dance band from Wisconsin, will perform Feb. 7, Suggs said.

A professional theater group from New York will perform a play titled "Colored Girls," Feb. 19. Suggs said the play involves seven girls who will tell of their various hardships and pitfalls.

In addition, Suggs said a variety of movies to be presented this semester include "The Wall by Pink Floyd," "Risky Business," "Ghandi" and "The Rocky Horror Picture Show."

Second USFL draft*Three Panthers selected

by John Humenik

NEW YORK—Eastern's football program is rapidly gaining respect among United States Football League franchises as three Panthers were drafted Thursday and Friday.

Associated Press Division I-AA First Team All-Americans safety Robert Williams and defensive tackle Chris Nicholson joined cornerback Gary Bridges as draftees in the Second Annual USFL college draft.

Williams, a two-time Kodak All-American, was drafted by the Birmingham Stallions in the seventh round, while Bridges went to the Memphis Showboats.

Nicholson, the Mid-Continent Conference's 1983 Defensive 'Player of the Year,' went to the Showboats in the 18th round of the two-day draft.

The trio now brings Eastern's total to five draftees as Cincinnati Bengal reserve quarterback Jeff Christensen and USFL Tampa Bay lineman Bob Norris were selected last year.

Christensen, a 1982 AP Honorable

Mention choice, opted for the National Football League Bengals, while Norris, a 1982 AP First Team All-American, signed with the Bandits.

Meanwhile, former Eastern, NFL Kansas City Chiefs and Cleveland Browns punter Jeff Gossett signed with the USFL Chicago Blitz. Gossett will report to the Blitz later this month.

However, the total number of former Eastern players playing in the USFL is three. Gossett, Norris and 1983 Student Coach Bill Mines are roster players.

Mines signed with the Michigan Panthers following the completion of Eastern's 9-3 playoff qualifying 1983 campaign.

Former Eastern and University of Minnesota coach Chuck Dickerson, also joined the USFL as a defensive line coach with the Memphis Showboats.

Should Bridges and Nicholson sign contracts, three former Eastern football program members will be reunited later this month at Memphis.

Big Ten roundup

Wolverines, Illini notch big cage wins

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Iowa Coach George Raveling is learning that it is one thing to be highly regarded by your peers and another to beat them.

His Hawkeyes, picked as a co-favorite by Big Ten coaches in a pre-season poll, are still looking for their first conference basketball win.

"I was plenty concerned at the half," Michigan Coach Bill Frieder said after his Wolverines held off surging Iowa to post a 53-49 win Saturday night and grab a share of first place. "Iowa was down by 12 at Michigan State and completely dominated the second half."

The other shares belong to 14th-ranked Illinois, which escaped from Wisconsin with a 63-62 overtime win, and Purdue, which subdued Minnesota 72-69. All three schools hoisted their records to 2-0.

In the two remaining contests, Northwestern surprised the other pre-season favorite Michigan State 76-69, and Indiana put away Ohio State 72-63 in the league debut for both.

Panthers

he'll be at full strength against Valparaiso (Jan. 14)."

Wyss played briefly Saturday night and Samuels said a healthy Wyss would have helped, as Green-Bay, 3-7, collected all nine of its overtime-markers via free throws.

The Panthers showed some early signs of success when Vincent Smelter, 12 points, hit a 16-foot jumper with 4:03 remaining in the overtime to give Eastern a 53-51 edge.

Illinois, 11-1 overall, almost got its pocket picked at Madison, Wisc., where Rick Olson missed a nine-foot jumper with six seconds left in the extra period that would have given the Badgers (0-2, 4-7) the upset.

However, after dominating the Phoenix a half earlier, the Panthers soon trailed 55-53 and battled to stay in the game.

Eastern's Troy Richardson added a basket to deadlock the contest but after that it was Peterson and Green Bay compiling a 58-55 edge.

Jon Collins, 10 points, chipped in the Panthers' final basket of the night to pull within one point.

Women edge ISU in GCAC cage action

by John Humenik

NORMAL—Chris Aldridge sank the second of two free throw attempts Saturday with nine seconds left to lift Eastern's women's basketball team past Illinois State University 61-60.

Aldridge, who notched 15 points and seven rebounds, gave Eastern its second-straight Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference win and its first against the Redbirds in six years.

"She played tremendously better defensively and very controlled offensively," Eastern head coach Bobbie Hilke said. "She was totally in the ball game."

Aldridge was fouled in trying to rebound a shot by Lori Conine, 16 points, and connected on the back end of a two-shot foul to snap the contest's 19th tie.

Illinois State had a chance to win in the closing seconds when Peggy Sallade missed a jumper and Aldridge hauled down the rebound to preserve the Panthers' seventh win in 11 starts.

"I was pleased with the amount of enthusiasm the girls played with and their level of confidence was really great," Hilke said.

Down by six points early in the game, the Panthers rallied to knot the contest at 30-30 by the intermission. Both teams exchanged baskets throughout the second half until the hosts broke ahead 54-50 with 3:31 left to play.

Baskets by Conine and Melanie Hatfield tied the game as the seesaw affair continued. Hatfield scored again with 1:15 to play and deadlocked the game at 60-60.

Aldridge's free throw gave Eastern the game's final advantage and lifted the Panthers atop the GCAC standings at 2-0.

Eastern entered Saturday's conference action following a 70-63 win over GCAC-foe Indiana State University in Terre Haute, Ind.

The Panthers built up a big lead and then held off a late surge by the Sycamores to notch the win. The Sycamores came within four points with 4:28 to play.

Hatfield and Toni Collins scored 17 points, respectively to pace the Panthers.

Panthers fall by three in wild AMCU setback

by John Humenik

GREEN BAY, Wis.—If anything, Eastern's 60-57 overtime loss to the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay Saturday night proved the Panthers are capable of playing tempo basketball.

Trailing by as many as 18 points, Eastern rattled off 10 unanswered second-half points and outscored the hosts 30-12 to force an extra period.

The Panthers outscored the hosts 24-6 at one point in the second half but couldn't string together enough quick trips down the floor in the overtime to outlast the Phoenix.

"We (the coaches) told the players Green Bay had a very good first half and we needed to get one back," Panther head coach Rick Samuels said.

"We just calmed down after the first half and established a better tempo. We didn't allow them to speed up their tempo against us," he added.

The Panthers knotted the contest at 51 after two halves but eventually lost their Association of Mid-Continent Universities-8 opener at the free-throw line.

Wisconsin's David Peterson, six points, sank four straight free throws in overtime to lift the Phoenix, 2-11 last season, to their first AMCU-8 opener triumph.

"We made some adjustments at the half and we had two or three chances to win but we couldn't get a big basket to get over the hump," Samuels said.

The setback, Eastern's third straight and third extra-period loss, put the Panthers, 4-6, in the AMCU-8 cellar after finishing 8-4 and tying for second last season.

"Green Bay is not a bad basketball team and we're not going to be the only team to have trouble at Green Bay," Samuels said. "They speeded up the tempo defensively in the first half and we couldn't handle their 1-3-1 zone."

The Panthers opened their AMCU-8 schedule Saturday after dumping Eastern Montana 73-66 and falling to the University of Illinois-Chicago 88-62 in the Dec. 29-30 KOA Classic in Montana.

Eastern also lost in overtime 65-64 to Montana State Jan. 2 in the Panther's third home date.

The Panthers probably won't get any relief from their AMCU-8 schedule as they return to action 7:00 p.m. Wednesday against Cleveland State University in Cleveland, Ohio.

"Cleveland and Green Bay are very similar and this game should get us ready to play," Samuels said. "It's very important that we don't get down now, especially playing on the road."

The Panthers, in the midst of a six-game road trip, are minus a healthy Tim Wyss. The sophomore guard, who is recovering from back spasms, will be used sparingly.

"He (Wyss) said after the game he was all right and he feels he's making progress," Samuels said. "Hopefully

Washington, Los Angeles headed to Super Bowl XVIII

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mark Moseley, who missed four earlier attempts, kicked a 25-yard field goal with 40 seconds left in the game, sending the defending National Football League champion Washington Redskins into Super Bowl XVIII with a 24-21 victory Sunday over San Francisco.

The 49ers had staged a gallant three-touchdown comeback in the final quarter, but it was not enough to keep the Redskins from advancing to a meeting against the American Conference champions Jan. 22 at Tampa Stadium.

Workhorse John Riggins, who rushed for 123 yards—for a record sixth straight playoff game over 100 yards—and barreled into the end zone for two short-distance touchdowns, and wide receiver

Charlie Brown, who burned the 49ers on a 70-yard touchdown from Joe Theismann, moved the Redskins into a 21-0 lead after three quarters of the National Conference title game.

But San Francisco, winners of Super Bowl XVI two years ago, would not quit. Quarterback Joe Montana led the 49ers on a frantic, fourth-quarter rally, throwing three touchdown passes inside of 7:52, tying the score 21-21.

Raiders steal win

The Los Angeles Raider defense intercepted five passes and Jim Plunkett's passing set up two scoring runs by Frank Hawkins as the Raiders routed the Seattle Seahawks 30-14 Sunday to face Washington in the Super Bowl.

Except for a third-period scoring drive, when L led 27-0, and another late in the game, the Seahawks' offense in the American Conference championship game was dormant.

Dave Krieg completed three of nine passes for 100 yards with three interceptions and three sacks.
