Chicago printer nabs $40 million Lotto prize

CHICAGO (AP)—Michael Wittowski, a 28-year-old printer from Chicago, said Monday he “jumped up and screamed,” when he realized he had won the $40 million Illinois State Lottery Lotto grand prize.

The winner of the largest lottery prize ever awarded in North America was announced at a news conference by lottery superintendent Michael Jones.

Wittowski, who works for a check-printing company, was the only player who matched the six winning numbers drawn Saturday.

He said he had no immediate plans for the money, except, “paying off a few bills.”

He said he plans to return to his printing job Wednesday, where he earns between $20,000 and $25,000 a year.

“It’s beyond me” to visualize the $40 million jackpot, he said. “It hasn’t sunk in yet.”

Wittowski said he plays the lottery every week with his father, sister and brother, and will split the winnings equally with them.

The four bought $35 worth of tickets for the lottery, he said.

He watched the drawing on television at his home Saturday evening, and just before wrote his numbers on a piece of paper, along with the words “these are my $40 million numbers,” he said.

Donald Pollak, owner of the Chicago drug store where Wittowski bought his winning ticket, will get 1 percent of the prize, or $400,000, as a bonus, from the state lottery.

Wittowski beat giant odds to win the prize, which guarantees $2 million a year for the next two decades, officials said Monday.

Wittowski, who’s “about to be engaged” said he doesn’t feel guilty about his huge winnings. “The other players had just as much chance to win as I did,” he said. “I’m just happy for me and my family.”

He said he spends about $10 to $15 each week buying lottery tickets, and always picks the same numbers, picked at random. This week was his lucky week.

Gov. Thompson, one of more than 31 million people with losing tickets, joined Wittowski at the news conference to congratulate him.

Salary agreement reached for university instructors

by Kerri Niemann

Salary talks concluded Thursday at Governors State University, with salary negotiating teams from the Board of Governors and the University Professionals of Illinois reaching an agreement.

The agreement, if ratified, will give faculty members from BOG affiliated universities across the state and average overall salary increase of 6.8 percent.

Eastern President Stanley Rives said the proposed raise is an increase from a salary of $60 per month plus 2.3 percent of the faculty members’ salary to $65 per month plus 4.5 percent of their salary.

He said funds for the pay raise will come from the larger appropriation from the state for this purpose.

Don Dolton, president of the UPI and member of the negotiating team, said he was “relatively satisfied” with the settlement although “the money is never enough.”

Dolton added that in talks he has had with various other faculty members, the general consensus is one of satisfaction with the proposed settlement.

Ken Sutton, Faculty Senate Chairman, said although he has not discussed the proposed settlement with other faculty senate members, he, personally, was pleased with the agreement.

He said that the settlement would give Eastern’s salaries the chance to catch up with other state schools in Illinois, as well as other state schools across the country.

He said that presently, a full professor at Eastern makes half as much as other state schools in the country.

“Our system has declined and our state should fund higher education to catch up with the rest of the country and maybe go ahead.”

Sutton added, however, that in his opinion, the salary raise would not make faculty member recruitment any easier for Eastern because of the distance in salary compared to other universities.

Dolton said the ratification process will begin when ballots are mailed out to all union members at the BOG state schools.

He said a private firm, Project Leap, which is based in Chicago, will be counting the ballots.

For Eastern’s faculty, Dolton said, there is a ratification meeting scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Wednesday to discuss the settlement and any problems the faculty sees in it.

Probation rate drops from last summer

by Dawn Stultz

The number of students placed on academic probation during the summer term decreased under the new probation policy which went into affect during the summer of 1983.

In addition, the number of academic dismissals decreased from the previous summer term.

Registrar James E. Martin said at the end of the 1984 summer term, 64 students were dismissed after being placed on academic probation during the spring semester, compared to 85 dismissals at the same time last year.

Martin said an additional 118 students were placed on academic probation for this fall semester, as opposed to 167 students placed on probation for the fall semester 1983. He added that the students placed on probation this past summer will have until December to raise their GPA.

Martin said the new system also sets GPA standards for students who have been placed on academic probation for the previous semester.

If the student’s cumulative GPA falls between 1.60 and 1.99, the student must receive a minimum of 2.10 the following semester.

If a student’s GPA is between 1.00 and 1.59 he must receive a 2.18 and if the GPA falls between 0.00 and 0.99 the student must achieve a 2.25 to be taken off probation, Martin said.

He added it is possible for the student to be dismissed without ever being placed on academic probation.

If a student completes a semester in good standing and the next semester receives straight F’s, that student will be dismissed without technically being on probation, he said.

Martin said the new system also sets policy on how many hours a student must take. He said the system allows a student on probation to take a maximum of 16 credit hours in a regular semester and 10 hours during the summer term.

He added that although there is an upper limit for the number of hours the student can take there is no lower limit. With these limits, Martin said, the student is prohibited from over-extending himself.

Embryos slated to be destroyed

SYDNEY, Australia—A scholarly committee has recommended that the death of a Los Angeles couple, two frozen embryos belonging to them should be destroyed, and government officials said Monday that the recommendation will be destroyed unless public opinion appears clearly against it.

Jim Kennan, Victoria state attorney general, said the state would consider public views for three months.

The committee recommended that the frozen embryos should be destroyed if couples die or divorce without leaving instructions.

Shuttle's ice problem persists

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.—Violent shaking didn't work and sunshine didn't help, so NASA experts looked for other ways Monday to get rid of the two lumps of ice stopping up the toilet drain on space shuttle Discovery.

There was no plan as of yet to send a man out to correct the problem.

The crew, meanwhile, was ahead of schedule on tests of a 102-foot solar panel, but manufacture of a hormone was running into setbacks.

Reagan blasts AFL-CIO official

FOUNTIAN VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—President Reagan opened the last act of his 20-year political career Monday with a traditional campaign promise of peace and prosperity and a blast at an AFL-CIO official.

Playing to a friendly home-state audience of about 30,000 people in conservative Orange County, Reagan kicked off his fall re-election campaign declaring, "We start our march to victory this November."

Despite the attack on AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer Thomas R. Donahue, Reagan's remarks were purposefully mild in tone. Vice President George Bush was left to deliver the tougher partisan rhetoric as he campaigned in the Midwest and South.

The president entered the campaign against Democrat Walter F. Mondale with a 16-point lead in his own polls and a 27-point lead in a national poll conducted Aug. 25-30 for The Los Angeles Times.

Campaign spokesman James Lake said Reagan has consciously switched from the harsh rhetoric he unleashed at the Republican National Convention to a "high tone," for now. Lake said Bush and other surrogate campaigners would be "a little more explicit in pointing out the failures of the Mondale ticket."

And at a news conference in Illinois, Bush said Mondale sounds "a little desperate," saying Reagan is trying to mix religion and politics in the campaign and that he thinks the Democrat is trying to throw up a "smokescreen."

In the first of two kick-off rallies in the state that propelled him into politics by electing him governor, Reagan denounced Donahue for charging the administration's tax policy favored the rich and for saying unemployment was getting worse.

Reagan accused Donahue of "distorting the facts" on unemployment and said Donahue accused him of "plotting to destroy the union."

"Doesn't he know, I'm the only one ever to hold this office who is a lifetime member of an AFL-CIO union?" asked Reagan, who was president of the Screen Actors Guild when he was a Hollywood actor.

The AFL-CIO, which claims about 13 million members, has endorsed Mondale for president.

At a second rally in Cupertino, Calif., Reagan toughed his rhetoric a bit, denouncing "that pack of pessimists roaming the land," and claiming that the Rublicans have a monopoly on new ideas.

Permits available for Lot N

by Amy Zurawski

About 500 parking permits were sold Thursday to Eastern students for the red and blue student lots, Campus Police Sergeant George Bosler said.

Bosler said a long line of students wishing to purchase parking permits began outside the south Union doors at 7:30 a.m. and continued until about 1 p.m., but he added that this is not unusual.

"Every year we have a large demand for parking permits on the first day," he noted. However, he added, "We have very few left to sell for this year."

Even though a large number of parking spaces were sold Thursday, Bosler said permits would be sold at the Campus Police Office, located at Grant and Seventh St., from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, until all available spaces are sold.

Bosler said the only parking permits still available are for lot N, located behind Ninth Street Hall because all other lots have been sold out.

However, he added that the parking situations in all university lots will be reassessed in two weeks and any available parking spaces located will be sold at the Campus Police Office.

Bosler said any extra parking spaces that are found after the number of cars in each lot are counted will be advertised in the Daily Eastern News.

In addition, Bosler said there has also been an increase in the fines for parking violations.

In the past, parking violations were $1 for the first offense, $2 for the second and $5 for every one after that.

Now, Bosler said, "the first parking offense will cost the violator $2, the second $5 and every one after will cost $10."

The reason for the increase, he said, is "in the past, it seems that people haven't bothered a lot with parking permits," he noted, and the purpose of the increase is "to deter excess violations."

Bosler added, "if a person doesn't pay a parking ticket within ten days, they become eligible for the Denver Boot immobilizer."

Bush calls Mondale 'desperate'

LEMONT, Ill. (AP)—Vice President George Bush said Monday that Walter Mondale sounds "a little desperate" and is trying to erect a "smokescreen" by charging that President Reagan is mixing religion and politics in the presidential campaign.

"I'd say that isn't true and I'd say it sounds a little desperate," Bush said of Mondale's charges. "I didn't hear a word of that charge when Jesse Jackson was getting his message out from the pulpits and when Walter Mondale agreed with the National Council of Churches" on a nuclear freeze, Bush said.

Bush made his statement at a news conference as he arrived in this predominantly Democratic suburb of Chicago to march in a Labor Day parade with Gov. James Thompson and try to build support in a state where farmers and others are unhappy about interest rates.

Responding to questions, Bush also said Soviet leader Konstantin Chernenko "clearly has not been well" and that "there are continuing reports that his health is still bad."

Mondale has been criticizing Reagan on the religion-and-politics issue since the president said in Dallas "politics and morality are inseparable. And as morality's foundation is religion, religion and politics are necessarily related."

Still time to win seat

The deadline for Student Government petitions for the seven open Student Senate seats has been extended to noon Sept. 11, Senate Speaker Ron Wesel said Friday.

Wesel said the reason for the extension is because "not many petitions have been taken out."

"We want to see if we get more interest, so we are waiting until after the first senate meeting," he added.

The open senate seats include four in the at-large district and three in the residence hall district. Candidates must have a 2.0 or better grade point average and must carry a minimum of 12 semester hours to qualify.

Wesel said petitions are available in the Student Government office.

Elections can set an example of specialities

A special Student Senate election to fill an executive position is about to take place for the second time within a year.

John Cole's recent resignation from the financial vice presidency leaves a void in the senate's executive staff—a void which could have been prevented with a little foresight on Cole's part.

Recently Eastern students have been asked more than should be required of them when electing their officials. Students faced a similar special election last year when Gail Redeker resigned from the vice presidency.

This second resignation leaves Eastern students wondering who will fill the important position and throws regular senate business out of kilter as plans must be made to provide for the election.

Since Cole's resignation, Student Body President Joe Butler has had to appoint Tammy Walker as temporary financial vice president.

Walker's post will remain temporary until the special election date is decided by the senate. The sooner the date is set, the more time the replacement-elect will have to adjust to new duties.

The adjustment period is not the only question raised by the need for a special election. What kind of voter participation will result for an election asking for only one post to be filled?

It seems likely students would exhibit more apathy toward special elections than in any other instance. How many students will be willing to take the time and effort to vote for one official. Because of the importance of the position in question, the election should be taken seriously. It is hoped, this election's result will be justified by the number of voters who care enough to vote.

This resignation should serve as an example for other students considering running for senate positions; do not run for student government positions before being certain the duties can be fulfilled.

Your turn

Hunting for parking?

Editor:

Mayor Clancy Pfeiffer's letter welcoming the students (Aug. 29th issue) invites some further comment.

The mayor wants all the students to know how welcome they are. What he doesn't tell you is earlier this month the Charleston City Council banned almost all of the parking around the university. This was done for no good reason, and it was run through just before the students got back—so you had absolutely no input into the matter.

Some of us "townies" and the students living on Third Street got together to sign a petition which saved us from losing our parking.

So why don't all you students who are hunting for parking spaces take the mayor up on his invitation and provide some input? Let's let this city know that the public streets are for the use of the public.

Pfeiffer says you students are "welcome as citizens." I hope that city will now feel fit to give the streets back to its citizens.

Ron Tarvin

Success for Runners

Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to recognize an organization and an outstanding program in assisting new students here at Eastern.

The Residence Hall Association's Rookie Runner program was not only successful in alleviating the fears of new students, but also the biggest fear of any organization: apathy.

A well-attended picnic and dance on Saturday, along with tours and seminars throughout the week, gave the students a chance to meet new people and enjoy the fun. This year's program helped create a sense of enthusiasm needed for participation in many of Eastern's activities.

It is hoped, the students' involvement derived from the Rookie Runner program will continue in the future and student apathy will become less of a concern on campus.

Again, congratulations to the coordinators and volunteers for a job well done.

Cub fans should unite

Editor:

In response to a column in The Summer Eastern News, this Cub fan wants to air her feelings. It is now Aug. 31—the Cubs are 27 games over .500, have won five straight games and are six games ahead of the Mets.

All loyal Cub fans have a right to cheer this year and the attendance at the home games have proved the fans are behind them 100 percent. No swoon this year or September fade—the magic number is 25 games.

I am a senior here at Eastern and a grandmother. I was born in Chicago and one of those die-hard fans for more than 30 years.

Cub fans unite; wear your Cub tee shirts, hats and pins. We'll show the Cardinal fans this year.

Fran Tolly

(Editor's note: The column referred to above was written by sports reporter Bill Tucker July 3 and criticized Chicago Cub fans for getting their hopes up too soon.)

Panel offers defense tips

by Genene Bergeron

Prevention was the primary advice given to students at Thursday's panel discussion on rape and survival techniques.

"Prevention is the primary way to avoid getting into a rape situation," Mike Hurst of the Physical Education Department said.

"Any woman that comes to a college campus should have self-defense instruction," he added. "It is almost mandatory."

However, Hurst noted, "The best weapons a woman has are her voice and her legs."

Speaking to an audience of 19 students and faculty, a six-member panel consisting of speakers from four Eastern departments and the Coles County Women Against Rape discussed various aspects of the rape issue.

Topics such as what is rape, prevention and self-defense, what to do if a person is raped and coping with rape were discussed.

Bonnie Buckley of the Coles County

Women Against Rape said, "Because college people have particularly vulnerable lifestyles and most of the people who rape are college age, the highest number of rapes happen to college aged people."

Campus Police Captain Jack Chambers said, "We have had three reported rapes or attempted rapes in the past year. . . I am sure that there are more that go unreported."

"As far as rapes on this campus, we are in good shape but that does not excuse the incidents we have had," Chambers added.

"There has never been a rape reported where more than one person was walking somewhere," Chambers noted. "Don't walk alone at night, get someone to walk with you. We always stress that."

Marilyn Morrow of the Health Department said, "In one year, 76,000 women are raped." She added that only one out of every ten rapes is reported. With these estimates in mind, one out of fifteen women have a chance to be raped, she added.

Auditions set for 'Anne Frank'

by Lisa Green

Auditions will be conducted Tuesday and Wednesday for "The Diary of Anne Frank," Eastern's theatre department's fall production.

J. Sain, promotions and management director for the theatre department said 15-20 actors are needed for the production.

The play, adapted by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett from the actual diary of a 13-year-old Jewish girl, depicts the life of the girl, Anne Frank, who hid for two years from the Gestapo in a narrow Amsterdam attic during World War II.

The play is the department's Homecoming production, Sain said, and will be presented Oct. 12-16. Homecoming is Oct. 13.

Any student may audition for the cast and scripts are available at the Doudna Fine Arts Center Room 105. Students who audition should be prepared to read for a specific character in the play to cut down on audition time, he added.

In addition, Sain said volunteers are needed to help with backstage production for the play.

Auditions begin at 7:30 p.m.

Center offers career advice

by Lisa Neff

For graduating seniors, finding a job can be a difficult chore but Eastern's Placement Center can help with the job-hunting blues.

Placement Director Jay Knott said, "The Placement Center gives students service in the area of career planning and placement."

Don Schaefer, assistant director for the placement center, said the center assists graduating students in compiling a file of credentials consisting of recommendations, experience and transcripts.

Once this is done, he said the center mails the file to possible employers to help students land jobs. To take advantage of this service, Schaefer said, students should register and begin their files a semester before graduation.

He said students expecting to graduate by the 1985 summer term should attend one of the center's registration meetings this semester, scheduled in the next two months.

Schaefer added that all of these meetings will be conducted in the Union.

Registration with the center for their services is $1 for students and $5 for graduates. Schaefer added that students can not benefit from the placement opportunities without registering.

"Students receive far more than their dollar's worth or $5 worth because the service is endless," he said.

Knott added that with these seminars, the center will also be conducting job interviews throughout the semester.

Registration meetings are scheduled for the following times.

Heavenly Deception

A TRUE STORY

At last, here is a motion picture that takes a serious look at the cults

Heavenly Deception — the story of Chris Elkins' journey from the college campus to the White House.

He was the typical "All-American" boy — A senior in college; on the dean's honor list; president of his fraternity.

He could have been the boy next door. He could have been your best friend. He could have been your son. He could have been . . . you.

Although raised in a Christian family and attending church regularly, Chris never grew in his faith. He still had questions.

Then one day in college, Chris met a man — Someone who seemed to have the answers; A man who directed him to a church of love, care, and concern; A church of Unification. Chris became a "Moonie."

But it wasn't long before he sensed something wrong — a sort of deception — a "Heavenly Deception" where the end justified the means. A standard that was promoted and encouraged within the Unification Church — from the kids selling flowers on the street corners all the way to the highest echelon.

And So He Ran. . .

Panthers.

"That's excellent for the first game of the season," Ralston pointed out.

Breaker also added to the defensive side of the game as she was credited with 13 defensive digs to lead the team in that department.

Ralston said she was also impressed with the blocking skills of the Panthers.

"I was real impressed with the blocking," Ralston said. "It was very good for the first match of the season."

The Panthers now turn their attention to Wednesday's 7 p.m. home opener against the University of Illinois at Lantz Gym.

"Both teams are about the same, we both have a lot of new people," Ralston said. "Illinois had an excellent recruiting year. It should be a real interesting match."

Eastern defeated the Fighting Illini once last year. That was the first time that a Panther squad had ever beaten an Illini team.

"We're working to beat them again this year," Ralston added.

Alums outrun varsity squad in cross country face-off

by Dan Verdun

Eastern's cross-country alumni, which assistant coach Tom Akers called the "toughest alum of any school in the state," outdistanced the Panther varsity Saturday to win the 14th Annual Varsity-Alumni Meet.

"I was very pleased with the varsity performances Saturday, especially when one considers we just began practice last Tuesday," Akers said.

Mike Larson, a former Eastern All-American, captured first place for the alumni with a time of 21.09.4. Alumni runner John Gassman, last season's top Panther runner, finished second with a 21.30.7 clocking.

Akers said varsity harrier Nick Whiteside ran "a super race," as he completed the four-mile event in third place. Whiteside turned in a 21.41.1 mark.

"I was also very, very happy to see good performances from Bruce DeRuntz, Mike McClure, Aaron Shepley, and Dale Righter," Akers said.

DeRuntz, a former Junior College All-American, crossed the finish line in fifth place at 21.50.5. McClure's time of 22.06.2 earned him seventh place while Shepley was ninth at 22.18.0.

Righter, a walk-on from Mattoon, was a big surprise to Akers, finishing just behind Shepley in tenth place.

Akers added he was "really pleased to see" junior Scott Tracy bounce back from his redshirt season of a year ago. Tracy raced home in eighth place.

"Dale has already far surpassed my expectations," Akers said. "He's really a worker."

Top finishers who won t-shirts in the open division were Mark Dombrowski at 22.42 and Ron French at 23.34.

Meanwhile, Eastern's women's cross country team ran only two miles of the event for a light workout, Akers said.

Akers also announced that a track team meeting will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. in the Varsity Club Room of Lantz Gym.

Big plays make day for Panthers in 35-9 rout

by Jeff Long

ALLENDALE, Mich.—Big plays and big days go hand-in-hand, and Eastern's football team had both Saturday at Grand Valley State.

First, there was the passing of Eastern quarterback Sean Payton and the catching by wide receiver Roy Banks. And just to make things interesting, Panther linebacker Will Smith added his version of a big play.

What it all added up to was a big opening-day victory for Eastern with a 35-9 trouncing of Grand Valley State at Lubbers Stadium.

"This had to help in terms of getting the season off on the right foot," Eastern head coach Al Molde said. "We certainly made the big plays when we needed to."

Banks, a sophomore who has played in the shadow of Eastern All-American Jerry Wright, made it clear right away that opposing defenses will have more than one big-play man to deal with when the Panthers are on offense.

In only his sixth collegiate game, the Detroit native hauled in seven Payton passes for 179 yards and three touchdowns.

The 179 yards was the fourth highest single-game mark for total receiving yardage in Eastern's history. Banks' touchdowns were for 73, 17 and 71 yards—big plays to say the least.

"Jerry (Wright) was not double-teamed Saturday like we thought he would," Molde said. "It was just that we were able to get the ball to both Jerry and Roy a lot."

Wright, meanwhile, began his assault on Eastern's all-time record for receiving yardage by hauling in nine passes for 103 yards and setting up the first Panther touchdown.

But lest anybody forget where the passes came from. Payton, a sophomore making his first start at quarterback, picked the Laker defense apart, completing 21 of 31 pass attempts for 325 yards.

Eastern struck first Saturday after Payton hit Wright for 24 yards on a third and 17 situation. That left the ball at the three yard line, where halfback Bernard Holland scored from one play later.

It was all Banks after that, as the Panthers built up their lead to 28-6 early in the fourth quarter.

Kills lift spikers in sweep of UWM

by Joseph Anglum

MADISON, Wisc.—This year's edition of Eastern's women's volleyball opened the 1984 campaign with an impressive three game sweep Friday over the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

The Panthers defeated the Badgers, a member of the Big 10 conference, by scores of 15-8, 15-13 and 15-10.

However, it was the way in which the Panthers won that made second-year head coach Betty Ralston happy.

"Our kill percentage as a team was 30 percent" Ralston said. "If we can keep that up all season we'll be doing just fine."

Eastern was led in the contest by sophomore Maura LeFevour, who had 11 kills in 20 attempts for a 45 percent kill rate

In addition, seniors Donna Uhler and Gretchen Breaker added 11 and seven kills respectively for the (See KILLS, page 11)

"We felt we were capable of beating them decisively," Molde said. "And then we had several big plays to help break it open."

The Panther defense also had its share of big plays, too. The biggest play was that Eastern defenders shut down Grand Valley's sharpshooting quarterback Jim Lynch and limited the Lakers to only three field goals on the day.

"They only had one play that worked consistently against us," Molde explained. "They kept running it and as a result we were able to shut it down and hold them without a touchdown."

Eastern linebacker Will Smith gave Eastern its fifth touchdown and flashbacks of the first game year when he plucked a Lynch fumble out of the air and lumbered 34 yards for the score.

In last year's opener, Eastern's Chris Nichols scored from 76 yards on a similar play at Illinois State to lift the Panthers to a big opening-day win.

But despite the heroics, Molde warned that the Panthers have a lot of work to do with Indiana State coming up on Saturday.

"We saw a lot of players at Grand Valley," Molde said, "but we still made quite a few mistakes which we need to work on."

Redbirds edge Booters in heartbreak opener

by Mike Nelson

Eastern's soccer team came up on the short end of a 1-0 score in the season opener Saturday when they were defeated by the Illinois State Redbirds at Lakeside Field.

Eastern, previously ranked 10th in the nation among NCAA Division-I schools, played well enough to win but failed to capitalize on numerous scoring opportunities.

"Overall we played very, very well," Eastern first-year head coach Cizo Mosnia said. "But it was just little things that cost us the game."

After the goal, Illinois State played a defensive game the rest of the way, laying back most of their players in front of the goal.

"We knew if they scored first they were going to pack everyone back making it difficult for us to score," Eastern's Guy Callipari said. "We had dreaded this happening all week in practice."

"I told the players to watch out for this," Mosnia said. "Other teams are going to do the same thing to us because they know Eastern, and they know how our offense works. We'll just have to find a way to exploit the situation."

The Panthers dominated Illinois State on offense in the second half but failed to score. Eastern had 26 chances to score compared to 4 by the Redbirds, but still came up empty.

"We have to work on our play in front of opposing team's goal," Mosnia said.

Eastern's main scoring threat came with seven minutes left in the second half when Paul Keller headed an Ozzie Molinari pass in front of Illinois State's goal. But a spectacular save by the Redbirds' goalie thwarted Eastern's scoring opportunity.

"We used our wings to try to get outside on them, but when they laid back like they did that just shut us down," Mosnia said.

Mosnia said he was pleased with the pressure Eastern put on as well as the Panther's defensive play in the second half, particularly that of Albert Adade and Andre McKenzie.

"Almost every scoring opportunity they had in the second half was turned away by either Albert or Andre," Mosnia said.

The Panthers will look to regroup this week before the travel to the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay for a tournament on Saturday.
