Police sell stickers

By JAMES BETZOLD
Campus editor

Parking permits for campus lots will go on sale Tuesday in the Grand Ballroom of the University Union.

The charge for stickers will be $12.50 for the spring semester and $25 for the spring and summer semesters, said University Police Chief Tom Larson.

During the fall semester, between 2,000 and 2,100 permits were sold, Larson said.

The number of stickers offered for sale this semester will be based on the number of stickers sold for the fall only during last semester, Larson said.

The 2000-plus figure of stickers sold last semester was more than the expected 1800 because the new parking system on campus was more efficient, Larson said.

The new parking system, instituted last fall, allows students to park in any student lot. Previously, student parking permits were issued only for specific lots.

Campus parking regulations in student lots will be enforced beginning Thursday, University Police said.

IBHE approves 10 percent salary raise for staff

By SEAN O. HOGAN
Staff writer

The Illinois Board of Higher Education approved a 10 percent salary increase for college and university staff for fiscal year 1989, which begins next July.

"It's really 5 percent for '87-'88 and 5 percent for '88-'89," said Eastern President Stanley Rives. College level faculty were the only state employees to go without a pay hike during fiscal year 1988, he said.

In addition the IBHE is also recommending another $323,000 in "catch-up" pay increases for female and minority faculty at Eastern, said Rives.

The "catch-up" is part of an Eastern New and Expanded Program Request aimed at bringing faculty salaries closer to par with salaries of other state employees.

"It's really contingent on getting a tax increase approved," Rives added. Without a corporate and/or personal income tax hike public university faculty and staff would probably see a smaller pay increase, he said.

The IBHE's recommendation next goes to the state General Assembly before the salary increases become ratified.

News of the increase did, however, meet cool reception from the acting head of Eastern's teachers' union.

"Considering we didn't get an increase last year, it isn't enough," said John Reardan, acting president of Eastern's chapter of University Professionals of Illinois. He said a 14 percent pay hike would seem more fair.

"It's common knowledge we compare poorly with private industry," Reardan said. He also added that current Eastern faculty salaries fall behind other faculty at colleges around the United States.

According to an IBHE report, Eastern's average faculty take-home pay is 13 percent below the national average for similar institutions. This comparison didn't include fringe benefits, insurance or retirement programs.

The report attributed part of Illinois' sagging teacher salary increases to larger proportion of faculties at or above the rank of assistant professor.

Ross Hodel, of the IBHE, also attributes this to a lack of state money.

Students to register for classes

By JAMES BETZOLD
Campus editor

Central registration for students not already pre-enrolled for spring classes begins Monday at McAfee Gym.

Registration Director Michael Taylor said that students will spend a half-hour going through the entire process. However, he added, students trying to enroll in classes already closed will find much longer waits.

"It's really hard to say," Taylor said, referring to the amount of time a student can expect to stand in line.

Students may enter McAfee through the southeast door and enroll according to the following schedule by last digit of social security number.
Monday, Jan. 11

•0-9 a.m.

- 1-10 a.m.
- 2-11 a.m.
- 3-noon
- 4-1 p.m.

Tuesday, Jan. 12

- 5-9 a.m.
- 6-10 a.m.
- 7-11 a.m.
- 8-noon
- 9-1 p.m.

Doors to McAfee close at 2 p.m. each day, Taylor said.

Enrollment materials and instructions will be provided as students enter the advisement area, Taylor said.

Taylor added that students should be prepared to pay fees at the time of registration.

Textbook distribution begins

By JAMES BETZOLD
Campus editor

Book distribution for undergraduate students begins Monday at the Textbook Library located in the south wing of Pemberton Hall.

Textbook Services Director Richard Sandefer said books will be distributed on a "first come, first served" basis.

Hours at the textbook library are as follows:

- Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday—8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
- Thursday—8 a.m. to 7 p.m.
- Friday—8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
- The library will be open through the lunch hour each day, Sandefer said.

Graduate student book distribution began Saturday and continues this week during the same hours.

Students should expect lines at the library to get longer as the week goes on, Sandefer said.

"Normally business is slow Monday and Tuesday," Sandefer said. "They (students) would not have to wait in line as long earlier in the week."

Pre-registered students need only to bring a student ID card to obtain their books. However, students going through central registration must also bring their schedules to the library, Sandefer said.

Jackson denies knowing accuser

CHAMPAIGN—Jesse Jackson said Sunday he does not know a woman who reportedly said she typed a paper for the presidential hopeful when he was a college student, copying most of it from Time magazine.

The Champaign-Urbana News-Gazette reported Sunday that it was told by Glenna Cilento that Jackson gave her the article with only minor word changes, and that two football coaches later questioned her about it. Jackson played football in college.

"It had been torn out of a magazine—Time magazine—and he asked me to type it and put his name on it," the Urbana woman was quoted as saying. Cilento said she was a part-time student at the University of Illinois at the time and worked as a secretary in the physical education department.

She said she earned extra money typing papers for athletes.

Workers lobby for incentives

EFFINGHAM—Fedders Corp. management and labor groups are banding together to lobby for state incentives to keep the air-conditioner plant and 1,350 jobs in Illinois.

Southern states, including North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, as well as Terre Haute, Ind., are trying to lure the plant away from this Southern Illinois city.

The move would cost the city 1,100 production jobs and 250 office jobs, authorities say.

Company officials are expected to announce the formation of a labor-management committee to fight a move this week.

Fedders' Controller Robert Nelson said the committee will encourage union members to write their elected officials, urging the state to give Fedders incentives to stay in Effingham.

Union leader John Romero said petitions signed by 540 union workers already have been sent to Gov. James R. Thompson, Rep. Chuck Hartke of Teutopolis and Sen. William O'Daniel of Fairfield.

Romero is president of the International Stove, Furnace and Allied Appliance Workers Local 105.

Nelson wouldn't discuss negotiations, but he said other states have offered more than Illinois so far. Still, the company wants to stay out.

1986 bomb investigation reveals
West Berlin suspect, not Libyans

BERLIN (AP)—Police suspect a West Berlin woman working for Palestinian terrorists planted the bomb that killed two U.S. soldiers and wounded 229 people in a West Berlin discotheque, authorities said Sunday.

President Reagan had blamed Libya for the April 5, 1986 La Belle discotheque attack, which also killed a Turkish woman, and ordered the retaliatory bombing of Tripoli and Benhazi 10 days later.

West Berlin justice department spokesman Volker Kaehne said police were seeking 27-year-old Christina Gabriele Enorikeit, who has been missing since the bombing. He issued a photo of the woman, who had long, dark hair.

Kaehne said an arrest warrant was issued for her on Dec. 30 and that authorities were offering a $93,000 reward for information leading to her capture. West Berlin security sources said Mrs. Enorikeit, a German born in West Berlin, was believed to be hiding with her 3-year-old son.

"On the basis of seized documents and according to eyewitness accounts of her behavior before the explosion, she is strongly suspected of bringing the explosives into the club and leaving the explosives there," Kaehne said.

He did not elaborate, and made no mention of Libya in his announcement to reporters on Sunday.

It was the first major lead the authorities have disclosed in their massive investigation into the bombing. The disco was popular with American servicemen, and was crowded on the night of the attack.

The ZDF national television network quoted unidentified police sources as saying the woman had been suspected for a long time but that police only now had enough evidence to issue an arrest warrant.

Palestinian youths stone, protest despite Israeli troops' retaliation

KJAN YUNIS, Occupied Gaza Strip (AP)—Palestinian youths stoned cars and blocked roads with burning tires Sunday. Israeli troops responded with gunfire and tear gas and deployed armored personnel carriers in a major show of force.

Palestinian sources said Israeli soldiers in the Gaza Strip shot and wounded nine people, including a 8-year-old boy, and injured dozens of others in at least half a dozen clashes. Scattered protests also were reported in the occupied West Bank and many merchants closed their shops in both areas.

Palestinian nationalist groups ordered another general strike in the occupied territories for three days starting Monday and said it would be enforced by patrols.

About 1.5 million Palestinians live in the Gaza Strip and the West Bank, which Israel captured from Egypt and Jordan in the 1967 Mideast war and which have been rocked by more than a month of rioting.

The official death toll in the rioting rose to 28 after the army confirmed Sunday that a 65-year-old man from the Gaza Strip city of Rafah died over the weekend of gunshot wounds sustained in protests last month.

In addition, the body of a 30-year-old Arab killed by gunfire was brought to Ahli Arab Hospital in Gaza City, hospital officials said Sunday. The man, identified as Toukan Misbeh, died near a Jewish settlement, but the circumstances of his death were not immediately clear.

The Arab-run Palestine Press Service said a 35-year-old pregnant woman, identified as Wibdan Yari, had a miscarriage and died at Khan Yunis Hospital Sunday after being overcome by tear gas fired into her house by Israeli soldiers. Hospital officials refused comment.

Horror show to be shown

By ROBERT SWINEY
Staff writer

Plans are being finalized by the National Residence Hall Honorary Association and the University Board Movie Committee to bring-back "The Rocky Horror Picture Show."

Chris Wolynske, movie coordinator of UB, said, "Rocky Horror would be a great source of entertainment for Eastern Illinois."

UB canceled the movie last year because of problems involved with presenting it.

The cost of showing the movie became too great for the UB because Civil Service Union employees had to be hired to clean the ballroom after each showing.

Students offered to help with cleanup, but, because the Grand Ballroom is university property, union employees had to be paid to clean.

Grahame Wilkin, president of NRHHA, said he is trying to work out a deal with union employees to have at least 20-30 student workers help clean the ballroom after the movie. He said, "If the union employees will allow us to help with cleaning, we will be able to save a lot of money."

The movie emphasizes audience participation, Wilkin said. People often bring props including squirt guns, toast and toilet paper which tend to create a mess.

"We are not going to abolish the use of props, but we are going to make sure people don't bring breakable props such as bottles," Wilkin said.

He added, "We are not going to allow anyone to get out of hand at the movie."

Cost of admission for the movie has been set at $2. Wilkin said proceeds will go towards a scholarship fund and charges incurred by the movie committee for the rental and showing of the movie.

Wilkin said the scholarship, sponsored by NRHHA, is awarded annually to an outstanding student who lives in a residence hall.

Wilkin and Wolynske said they are hoping for good attendance because the profits of the movie are going toward a good cause.

Wolynske added, "The movie is a lot of fun."

Extension for agreement of Arias peace plan expected

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Leaders of five Central American nations are expected this week to extend once again the deadline for compliance with a regional peace plan mired in controversy and continued bloodshed.

The leaders of Nicaragua, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Costa Rica meet here Friday in a summit originally meant to measure the 5-month-old initiative's progress.

Some participants and most observers now agree the peace plan is stalemated by the failure to achieve lasting cease-fires in Nicaragua, El Salvador and Guatemala.

But the five chief executives are not expected to turn their backs on the plan, which won last year's Nobel Peace Prize for its principal architect, President Oscar Arias of Costa Rica.

Luis Guillermo Solia, chief of staff of Costa Rica's foreign ministry, indicated last week that his country would have little choice but to seek an extension of this week's deadline.

The only other option, he said, would be to abandon the plan altogether.

Solia would not predict what Arias might recommend. But the Costa Rican president has stated repeatedly in recent weeks that his plan should not be held hostage to a calendar, that the quest for peace is a long-term process.

When he unveiled the plan 11 months ago, Arias told reporters one of its major strengths was a clear-cut calendar outlining not just what each country would have to do to, but when. An earlier peace initiative known as the Contadora Process lacked deadlines and dragged on fruitlessly for more than three years.

Chief among critics of the Arias plan is the White House. President Reagan has called it fatally flawed and vowed not to abandon the Contra rebels who have been battling Nicaragua's leftist Sandinista government for six years.

Reagan had planned to ask Congress for $270 million more in military aid for the Contras last fall but largely at the insistence of Democratic Congressional leaders, he delayed the request to give the Arias plan a chance.

Reagan made it clear he would renew the request if the peace accord hadn't achieved its major goals by Jan. 15.

"They may not be happy with the way things are going, but Arias and the other presidents have no choice but to pursue the plan," said one Western observer, speaking on condition he not be identified.

Appeal deadline nears

Students wishing to contest a fall semester grade must begin the appeal process with the instructor of the class, said registrar James Martin.

"It starts with the instructor," Martin said. "He is the only one who can change the grade."

The deadline for fall semester grade change appeals is Feb. 10, Martin said.

Grade appeals must be made by students on the grounds of unfair practices on the part of the instructor. However, if the grade was only incorrectly transcribed by the instructor, the student should still speak to the teacher first.

"Appeals have to be based on some form of discrimination by the instructor against the student," Martin said.

Reasons for missing grades vary

By JAMES BETZOLD
Campus editor

Students who did not receive their fall semester grades by mail over the Christmas break can consult with the Records Office at Old Main to settle the problem.

Registrar James Martin said the reasons for grades not being received vary.

An unclear record can be the reason for grades not being sent. However, grades can also be misdirected due to an incorrect address supplied by the student, Martin said.

"We try to get word out to students to get their records cleared," Martin said.

An unclear record can result from a student having an outstanding obligation to campus offices such as the athletic department, textbook library, Booth Library, financial aids, chemistry department, security, and housing, Martin said.

Obligations can range from an overdue book at a library to an unpaid parking ticket issued by campus police, Martin added.

The result of an unclear record includes the withholding of grades, the cancellation of registration for any subsequent term and the blockage of graduation application, Martin said.

Grades can also be returned to the University because an incorrect address was provided, Martin said.

Unlocked boxes leave too much room for deceit

Elections are considered an important event in all aspects and the student government elections are no different.

Each semester the student body is asked to vote for students who will represent them in Eastern's student government system.

Like most elections, student government elections have certain guidelines that must be followed. But in the Nov. 11 elections, accusations of election violations were found. Although most were found invalid, one thing was especially contrary to the guidelines set.

During these elections, the ballot boxes failed to have locks on them. Having locks on the ballot boxes is not only in the bylaws, but it also insures security of the votes placed.

Elections chair Lori Lockman said the reason for not having locked ballot boxes was because they could not be found. This, frankly, is a poor excuse.

Regardless of where the other boxes were in the ones used should have had locks on them.

Unlocked ballot boxes are a serious matter that shouldn't be taken lightly. Besides the obvious temptation to tamper with the votes, the breach of security can cause a sense of distrust in the election by voters.

Although it didn't, the student government is considering getting ballot boxes with locks on them for future elections. The student government should not simply consider the idea, but follow through with it.

Locks on the ballot boxes should, in the long run, limit the amount of violation charges calling for recounts, because all the votes are locked and more secure.

Having locks on the ballot boxes is an important issue in that Eastern students who do vote will know their vote is secure. They will know their votes count.

St. Nick brought more than usual gifts

I have heard stories like this before, but I never thought it could happen to me.

You know the stories . . . A person asks for a special present and when the person wakes on Christmas morning, he gets that gift.

I had simple wants. All I wanted for Christmas was peace on Earth and goodwill to men, which is a fairly simple request when you consider the price of a Transformer or tickets to a Frank Sinatra concert.

Instead, I received 1988 predictions from Santa A. Claus himself.

This is no ordinary list. While some of the cheap dime-store tabloids were predicting the outcome of such trivial matters as the the Madonna/Penn relationship, my list (personally signed by Mr. Claus) contains much more.

For example, several major events are going to rock Eastern in 1988.

- The Student Senate, after losing its "drunk bus" quest, will offer a "drunk rickshaw" that will be pulled by government executives and senators.

- All the different academic departments will be eliminated in the summer in an effort to make room for business students.

- Eastern President Stanley Rives will make the cover of Rolling Stone magazine.

Indeed, it appeared Santa made some sort of deal with the devil to get this list. More importantly, there were still more pages, including a section about sports.

- The Chicago Bears, after winning a berth to Super Bowl XXIII, miss the game because each player, and several of the coaches, has to be present at his new restaurant the day of the game for ribbon cutting ceremonies.

- Women play-by-play announcers will become all the rage in the NFL and their presence will change the nature of the game. Tackling will no longer be allowed and foul language will result in a penalty.

- Ousted PTL minister Jim Bakker will join the World Wrestling Federation tour as Jimmy "Python" Bakker. Python will be managed by his wife Tammy Faye, who will eventually serve time in a Federal prison after she puts "Mean" Gene Okerlund in a "sleeper" hold and never wakes him up.

- The pro basketball season will be extended to last all year.

- The Summer Olympics will be postponed when the torch bearer accidentally extinguishes the flame and has to run back to Greece to relight the torch.

By now, I could hardly contain myself. My hands were trembling and a cold sweat was forming on my fingertips as I turned to the last page—world events.

- People will be shocked when Ronald Reagan and Mikhail Gorbachev abandon the bargaining table at the Moscow summit and, instead, determine arsenal cut by the number of women each of them "pick up" after a night of carousing.

- Reagan wins.

- Gary Hart, after losing the Democratic nomination becomes the new leader of the PTL.

- Fidel Castro quits smoking cigars, shaves his head and begins sucking lollypops after watching Kojak reruns, which are broadcast in Cuba in the fall of 1988.

- Peace settles in the Mideast after the Iranian realize how stupid they look on TV, beating their chest and all.

That night, as I lay down to sleep with the secrets of 1988 safely tucked under my pillow, I secretly thanked Santa for the greatest Christmas gift I had ever received, even if it wasn't what I had asked for in the first place.

Besides, what would I do with peace on Earth and goodwill to men? I wouldn't even be able to return them.

Serious athletes need their own gymnasium

Editor:

As a student athlete here at Eastern Illinois University I spend a great amount of my time using the facilities of Lantz and McAfee gyms. For the most part, I have great pride in this university and the athletic facilities here at Eastern.

However, I do wish to argue one point. I think that the athletes at a fairly large university such as Eastern should be granted the use of their own gymnasium and facilities. The athletes at a Division I school such as this one are basically very serious about their performance and I think they deserve to be separated from athletes who exercise in their leisure time and for fun.

The separation of non-serious athletes from the more serious, competitive athletes on organized teams would give the less serious athletes more freedom to work out without scheduling around the organized practices. As things are now, some people don't get the chance to use many of the facilities in the gyms until the organized teams are finished practicing in them. In my opinion, a good solution to this problem would be the construction of a new gymnasium with a weight room, since most of the emphasis is put on weight lifting, along with running, basketball and other activities that can be done in a gym alone.

Another benefit to a gymnasium would be the amount of money it would take to build a gym as opposed to what it would cost to build a student recreational center.

Many facilities of the student recreational center may not be used as much as the weight room and gym alone. I think the gym and weight room would serve the students much more than the recreational center would.

Parking regulations need to be changed

Editor:

I present you with this letter in hope of reformation dealing with the present parking policies of Eastern Illinois University.

As many of us are aware, the new parking rules for the 1987-88 school term have become quite a nuisance. Student parking has become quite expensive compared to last year. The charge for a parking sticker has increased from last year's cost of $5 to a present cost of $12.50. The excess money was supposedly charged to the student to build a new parking lot. However, the money was spent on the planting of shrubs and trees which Eastern was desperately in need of.

Therefore, students are paying more money for a lot which was never built and also are not being guaranteed a place to park. The problem with the new parking regulations include limited parking in areas such as Taylor and Thomas halls, those spaces are reserved mostly for the instructors.

More parking problems include when people who have stickers off campus drive on campus and park in spaces which are reserved for students living in the dorms. If you think about it, what is the use of having a car on campus or off campus because you still don't have a place to park. I, as an upperclassman who has paid for a parking sticker and has experienced the new parking policy, feel that a change is desperately needed, even if it is to go back to the parking regulations of last year! Anything is better than the system we have now.

Editor:

As a graduate student and until recently an undergraduate here at Eastern, I have encountered my share of stumbling blocks during research in the library. Of major concern to me is the discontinuance of journals and negligence in providing up to date reference materials.

Part of a college education is to learn by studying in depth material that is not readily available and that focuses on a particular study—however everytime I have begun researching half of my list of material must be checked off because the library no longer carries it or never had carried it. I am aware that there is a budget crunch in educational funding (thank you Gov. Thompson) however, limiting resources should never begin at the core of education itself—BOOKS and PERIODICALS.

This is an institution for learning. In a world that is continually changing globally it is important that we have relevant material made available to us. This is not high school or junior college where restraints like these are expected. I am ashamed of a school that proposes a recreational center that would increase tuition when services for learning are left inadequate. For fiscal year '88 the library budgeted an 11 percent increase in the periodical department which is just enough to maintain existing material. For the record, the book budget was decreased by 22.13 percent. A new rec center is just what the students at Eastern need.

Comedians draw biggest fall Subway crowds

By KRISTEN RASMUSSEN
Staff writer

Off-beat humor highlighted the 1987 fall events sponsored by the Subway.

"The comedians seem to draw the largest audience," said Subway Coordinator Gina Moon.

She said the first performance with comedian Eddy Strange packed the Subway full, with over 100 people in attendance.

Eastern was one of the many colleges Strange started out touring. At the time of his appearance at the Subway, he could be seen on USA cable network's "Night Flight" every Friday night.

Throughout the semester, Moon said there was a total of eight performances, including three comedians, one magician, a mentalist and three student comedy competitions.

One of the best performances of the semester was "Stupid Human Tricks," where performers tried to "outdo each other in craziness," Moon said.

The Subway's first "Stupid Human Tricks Contest," performed for an audience of more than 70, included stopping a fan with a student's tongue and "turning arms inside out."

Moon said a lot of students had participated in this event and it was really a lot of fun for everyone.

Another comedian drawing large crowds to the Subway was Tim Cavanagh.

The performer who taped segments on "George Schlatter's Comedy Club" and "Showtime's Comedy Club Network" entertained a Subway audience of about 75, Moon said.

The Subway ended its schedule of events for the fall semester, winding up with "The Yuletide Brou Ha-Ha" in early December.

"The Brou Ha-Ha didn't turn out quite as well as planned, but then we really didn't get the chance to advertise because of the Thanksgiving break," Moon said.

In regard to the budget for the fall semester Moon said, "We won't know exactly how much the Subway has made this semester until the budget review in January."

"The Eastern Illinois University Board really supported everything the Subway did this semester, and I really appreciated that," Moon said.

There are six events scheduled for the spring semester compared to the eight events that appeared last fall.

"We selected our talent for this semester at the National Association of Campus Activities, NACA, Regional Convention in Peoria, Ill.," Moon said.

Moon added that the Eastern Illinois Programming Board, a member of NACA, attends two conventions each year where it evaluates and reviews various comedians and performing artists for upcoming Subway events.

"The best thing about the upcoming performances is that we really worked well with the calander," Moon said. She added that the Subway wanted to make sure that the performances didn't conflict with other major events occurring on campus.

"We have booked all comedy acts for the fall semester; it seems to attract the largest audiences," Moon said.

Student Senate to host carnival

By MATT MANSFIELD
Staff writer

The Union Ballroom and Grand Ballroom will become a carnival ground on Jan. 29 and 30, complete with king and queen, dance marathon and even a hairy legs contest.

"Student Government is sponsoring this event for the school and the community," said Roger Thomson, student awareness committee chair.

Thomson said proceeds from the event will benefit two causes; Make Room for Art and Campus Lighting.

The program, which is presently in the planning stages, will begin on Friday Jan. 29 at 7 p.m. with a king and queen contest. The contest will have a $10 entry fee.

Immediately following the coronation of the king and queen, a dance marathon, scheduled from 8 p.m. Friday until 8 a.m. Saturday, will get underway.

A $5 entrance fee will be charged. Thomson said if a contestant can sign up 25 or more sponsors, the entrance fee will be waived.

"On Saturday (Jan. 30) the festivities will begin with a hairy legs contest and several organizations will have booths set up," Thomson said. The booths will feature games of skill and a various assortment of food, he added.

Some organizations involved in the carnival will be representing area high schools.

"The high school participation is another way of getting the community involved," Thomson said. "We are talking with several (high schools) now, so we hope they will come."

"We originally wanted the high schools involved in the dance marathon," Senate Speaker Denise Wasetis said. "But, there is a problem with curfew." The marathon will be an all-nighter, prohibiting most high school age students from attending, she added.

Wasetis said prizes are being donated by E.L. Crackers, 1405 S. Fourth St., and Illinois Consolidated Telephone Company, 638 W. Lincoln Ave., with other area merchants being solicited.

The idea for the carnival comes from a similar event held annually at Bradley University in Peoria. Wasetis said this will be Eastern's first year for holding such a carnival.

The carnival is expected to utilize both the Grand Ballroom and the University Ballroom in the University Union. A turnout large enough to justify use of both rooms is expected.

Thomson said a meeting for those interested in helping with the carnival will be held in the Union Walkway at 3 p.m. Thursday.

New dept. chair sought

By LYNNE RAFOOL
Staff writer

A replacement for Foreign Language Chair Brigitte Callay hasn't been found yet, but a search committee is seeking someone who is "a good teacher, scholar and administrator," said search committee chair David Ebdon.

Jon Laible, dean of arts and sciences, said committee members are chairs from the arts and sciences departments. He said the committee will eventually report its selections to him, and he will make the final choice.

Ebdon said the committee would like to end up with six applications, which will be taken to Laible for the final decision.

He said the committee also plans to ask the applicants what their professional goals are.

RHA makes preparations for a 'Culture Week'

By WENDELL HUTSON
Staff writer

The Residence Hall Association is beginning preparations for a Culture Week for Eastern students March 6-10. Lynette Woods, RHA national communications program chair, proposed the idea of having a culture week at Eastern. "I had discussed this at a meeting prior to students' requests for a culture week," Woods said. "We (RHA) want to integrate all students and explore the different cultures that exist at Eastern." Culture Week Director Thomas Faulker said, "Hopefully this will attract more minorities to Eastern and encourage the minorities here to stay." Both Faulker and Woods said they are still talking to several student organizations. However, Woods said she hopes to gain support from the Minority/International Relations Committee and the Black Student Union. Faulker said a culture week could be good publicity for gifted students. "There are many talented students at Eastern, such as art students, and I think they're not getting the exposure they should be getting. We have Tarble Arts Center that is literally going to waste because of this." Faulker also said religion is of great importance to many students at Eastern and having a culture week will allow them to show their pride in religion. The week will include food booths representing various ethnic backgrounds such as Polish, German and Mexican; a jazz ensemble and art show; displays in the University Ballroom of how different cultures celebrate holidays; and a display in the library quad of a 1955 Chevy.

UB wins Best Delegation Award

By KIM MIKUS
Activities editor

Bringing home the Best Delegation Award from a national convention was the highlight of the semester for the University Board and symbolizes the success of the entire semester, said UB chair Jeff Lyngaas. "The semester went well. We hope to continue doing what we're doing and keep solid coordinators," Lyngaas said. He added there was a lot of "good talent" here at Eastern this semester. "We had a sell-out parents weekend" when Chuck Berry, creator of such classics as "Johnny B. Goode," and "Roll over Beethoven," performed in Lantz gym on Nov. 7. "We (UB) were pleased with the overall quality of the acts."

allocates student fees to six student boards. Lyngaas said it is hard to tell if UB has made or lost money as the year runs from July 1 to July 1. "It's hard to say. Overall, though, we're breaking even. We are doing what we expected." As for the spring semester, Lyngaas said there are many events on the calendar, and plans are still being made for more acts. He said the National Association of Campus Activities Conference that the UB attended in Peoria at the end of November provided "a great deal of talent that came to our campus." He added the UB also made contacts at the convention. "We gained a lot of ideas" for future activities and entertainment. John Woodruff will be starting off the semester as mainstage coordinator, Lyngaas said. He added that mainstage is responsible for bringing live entertainment to campus.

Subdivision map formed

By JEFF MCCOMBS
City editor

To further advance planning and development in Coles County, a Coles County Subdivision map has been constructed by the Coles County Regional Planning and Development Commission. "This is the first map of its kind in Coles County," said Jackie Wiley, who assisted in the research for the map. The map shows all of the subdivisions and mobile home parks in the unincorporated areas of the county. It also specifies the status of 49 subdivisions in unincorporated areas. "The map took a number of months and a lot of research in Coles County," Wiley said. "It is a tool that we really need. It will help with planning and give us an idea of what we have to work with. The map will be helpful for realtors, developers and government officials in the county."

"We had a sell-out parents weekend" when Chuck Berry, creator of such classics as "Johnny B. Goode," and "Roll over Beethoven," performed in Lantz gym on Nov. 7. "We (UB) were pleased with the overall quality of the acts." Another success was bringing back "1964," Lyngaas said. A crowd of nearly 800 gathered in McAfee Gym to hear "1964," a band dressed in Beatle attire and performed a variety of Beatle favorites. Lectures proved also to be popular this semester at Eastern. Dr. Ruth Love, former superintendent of Chicago public school system, discussed "Education in the 20th Century" on Nov. 21. And lecturer Dr. Joyce Brothers, a noted psychologist, columnist, author and business consultant, spoke to a crowd of about 400 on Nov. 18, Lyngaas said. The various events and activities that took place during the first semester were free or had a charge of $1 or $2, Lyngaas said. He said "UB doesn't make profits. We try to give the students the best entertainment for a low price, because students already pay a student activity fee" of $20.65 per semester. But, he said, "we try to break even. And, if we make money, some of it goes back to UB and the rest goes back to the Apportionment Board," which

Broncos oust Oilers, 34-10

DENVER (AP)—John Elway, deftly finding single coverage in the Houston defense, threw two touchdown passes to tight end Clarence Kay, and the Denver Broncos capitalized on Houston mistakes and penalties for a 34-10 divisional playoff victory Sunday.

With the victory, Denver set up a rematch of last year's AFC Championship game with the Cleveland Browns. The teams will play next Sunday at Mile High Stadium. The Browns defeated the Indianapolis Colts 38-21 on Saturday.

Two costly interceptions and a critical first-quarter fumble on a lateral by running back Mike Rozier doomed the Oilers, who were making their first playoff appearance since 1980.

Rozier's fumble occurred at the Houston 1 after Bronco punter Mike Horan had punted out of bounds at the 5. Denver got a quick score on Gene Lang's run, and Elway's TD passes of 27 and 1 yard to Kay helped lift Denver to a commanding 24-3 halftime lead.

In the first three quarters, Houston had three legitimate scoring opportunities but converted only once, on Tony Zendejas' 46-yard second-quarter field goal.

The others ended on linebacker Karl Mecklenburg's interception at the Denver 10 and on cornerback Mark Haynes' theft and 57-yard return from the end zone.

Eastern sophomore guard Barb Perkes brings the ball upcourt during Eastern's 60-57 victory over Drake at Lantz Gym on Saturday. Perkes led the Lady Panthers with 24 points in the Gateway Conference match, including 13 of Eastern's final 19 points of the game.

Perkes'

up 54-53.

The 5-9 sophomore traded baskets with Drake forward Julie Fitzpatrick, who scored 23 points in leading Drake, while three Fitzpatrick free throws and a Perkes three-point bucket put Eastern up 59-57.

The sophomore guard capped the Eastern comeback with a free throw with 11 seconds remaining.

Eastern also got 14 points from junior guard Sheryl Bonsett and 10 from junior forward Lisa Tyler.

"I never felt like we were out of it and neither did the kids," Hilke said.

"We were still going to the boards and we didn't get rattled. That's a level of maturity we haven't had before and I think that's because they have played for a couple of years."

Senior forward Ann Brown led the Lady Panthers with 10 rebounds, while freshman Stacy Frierdich pulled down five.

Hilke was also pleased with her team's second-half effort.

"We stopped their penetration pretty well and we tried to make them take a bad shot.

"I thought Bonsett did a good job of pressuring (Drake sophomore guard Jenni) Fitzgerald to one of six shooting," Hilke said, noting Fitzgerald was zero of three from three-point country.

In last year's home contest with Drake, Perkes also led Eastern with 24 points.

The Lady Panthers' next competition will come with a weekend trip to Southwest Missouri Friday and Wichita State Saturday for two key Gateway contests.

A103 Art and reason

When Mark and I decided to spend the weekend at his mother's house, I never imagined I would be walking into a mouse's nightmare. There were cats everywhere.

Cat plaques, cat statues, cat clocks, even a cat mat. I couldn't begin to duplicate her collection of kitty litter if I spent a year at a garage sale. Conspicuously absent, however, was a real cat. Strange, I thought, and began to fear that a weekend with cat woman could be a lot less than purr-fect.

But then she came home, and Mark introduced her. She was dressed surprisingly well—no leopard pants. In fact, you could say she was the cat's meow, but I'd rather not.

She offered me a cup of Dutch Chocolate Mint. Now that was something I could relate to. Then she brought it out in the most beautiful, distinctly unfeline china I'd ever seen. As we sipped, I found out that Mrs. Campbell has my same weakness for chocolate, loves the theater as much as I do, but, incredibly, never saw "Cats." So Mark and I are taking her next month.

Macciocchi lifts Eastern to 75-68 St. Louis defeat

By DAVID LINDQUIST

Eastern's mens basketball team closed its holiday schedule by defeating St. Louis University 75-68 Saturday night in Lantz Gym.

The Panthers placed all five starters in double figure scoring in the contest, with center Vince Macciocchi leading the squad with 17 points.

Macciocchi, a 6-7 junior, capitalized on his first starting opportunity of the season by collecting 15 second-half points. Macciocchi also recorded a season-high 10 rebounds for the Panthers.

"I was pretty pumped up for my first start," Macciocchi said. "Our guards did a great job of looking inside and getting me the ball. I just let the offense come to me."

Eastern's season record is 7-4, including a 2-3 mark in Christmas break games. St. Louis drops to 5-6 following the loss.

In holiday action, Eastern fell to nationally-ranked opponent Iowa State 76-66 in an overtime contest in Ames, Iowa, on Dec. 21.

The Panthers then travelled to Boise, Idaho, to participate in Boise State's tournament Dec. 29-30. Eastern won third place in the tournament, losing to St. Mary's (California) 73-57 and defeating Sam Houston State 72-67.

On Jan. 2, Chicago State slipped by the Panthers 79-76 in Chicago.

Against St. Louis, Eastern shot an impressive 60.8 percent from the field in the first half and then improved the mark in the second half to 66.7 percent.

Following Macciocchi in the Panther scoring column were fellow starters Jay Taylor and Mark Fowler with 14 points each, Tony Hemphill, who added 12, and Ron Tate with 10.

Eastern Coach Rick Samuels said he was pleased with the quintet's offensive efforts and noted Macciocchi will likely become a familiar face in the Panthers' starting lineup.

"Vince really played well," Samuels said. "This was his best effort of the year and he has won the center position."

The road to the starting five has not been an easy one for the Hinsdale native.

Macciocchi suffered a serious knee injury prior to his sophomore year and was red-shirted that season. Last year he missed the season's final seven games due to an emergency appendectomy.

"At this point I feel great and am happy to finally be contributing," Macciocchi said.

Taylor, the Panther's leading scorer at 18.6 points per game, said the victory over St. Louis was more satisfying than most.

"There was a revenge factor," Taylor said. "We really wanted to win since we were blown out of the gym last year."

The Billikens ran by Eastern 94-59 last season in St. Louis's Kiel Auditorium.

Saturday however, the Panthers led for all but the first six minutes of the contest.

Eastern led 36-28 at the half and maintained the lead in the second half with inside scoring from Macciocchi and junior forward Fowler.

"Fowler came to life," Samuels said. "We needed that" (See EASTERN, page 11)

Eastern guard Jay Taylor puts up a shot during Eastern's pre-Christmas win over Southern Illinois at Lantz Gym as junior center Vince Macciocchi waits for a possible rebound. Taylor scored 14 points and Macciocchi added 17 points and 10 rebounds as the Panthers scored a 75-68 win over St. Louis at Lantz on Saturday night.

Bears fall to Washington

CHICAGO (AP)—The Washington Redskins took Chicago's four-degree temperature and minus-21 wind chill factor and used what has always been the Bears' best weapon—defense—to knock them from the NFL playoffs for the second straight season.

Darrell Green's 52-yard punt return provided the decisive score and Doug Williams rallied Washington from a 14-point deficit as they beat the Bears 21-17 Sunday and reached the NFC championship game for the second year in a row. They did it by sacking Jim McMahon five times—three by Charles Mann—and making three interceptions.

And by winning, the Redskins ended the remarkable career of Chicago running back Walter Payton.

Unlike last season, when they lost 17-0 to the New York Giants in the gales of Giants Stadium, the Redskins will play for their trip to the Super Bowl at home against the wild-card Minnesota Vikings, who upset San Francisco 36-24 Saturday. The Redskins beat Minnesota 27-24 in overtime at Minneapolis three weeks ago.

The key was the defense: Williams was sacked only once while McMahon was under constant pressure.

"I think the key was the offensive line," said Williams, who converted seven of 14 third down plays. "They made up their mind to give me time."

"We had numerous opportunities," Chicago Coach Mike Ditka said. "It's tough. We had opportunities, but we couldn't do what we had to do. To have it" (See BEARS, page 10)

Perkes' 14 points lead Eastern by Dogs 60-57

For eight minutes Saturday night in Lantz Gym, Eastern sophomore guard Barb Perkes turned into a one-woman wrecking crew.

With 12:09 to play in Eastern's 60-57 Gateway Conference win over the Lady Bulldogs of Drake, Perkes tallied 13 of Eastern's final 19 points to help overtake a five-point Drake lead.

The Lady Panthers raised their overall record to 9-3 and, more importantly, upped their Gateway Conference mark to a sparkling 5-0, which included Christmas break wins over perennial league power Southern Illinois (62-50) and Gateway foes Western Illinois (73-55), Bradley (71-68) and Northern Iowa (78-66).

Drake dropped to 5-8 overall and 2-4 in the Gateway Conference.

Eastern now holds a share of the league title with Illinois State, who is also 5-0.

"She (Perkes) just got in a rhythm," said Eastern Coach Barbara Hilke, "and she was shooting very well."

"Our team recognized that and they got her the ball. Lately, when we have people who are shooting well," Hilke said. "We've been able to get them the ball and that really shows what kind of team effort we've been getting."

Perkes, who led all scorers with a season-high 24 points, began the night by missing her first shots and then hit on nine of her next 12 shots, including a three-pointer, that gave Eastern a 59-56 lead with just under three minutes to play.

With Drake up by six at 53-47 with 5:39 left, Perkes scored five points in a 7-0 Lady Panther run that put Eastern
