KANSAS CHAMPIONS
BOW TO T. C. HIGH

In a hard-fought and deliciously fun-filled basketball quintet tourney with a long-standing tradition of excellence, KANSAS school won the title for the second year in a row with a 121-110 victory over the T. C. High team.

The Kansas team included only two seniors, the usual suspects, Captain Philip and Mrs. Kinnick. Of the four other players, the freshmen were among the most vocal, while the sophomores were more reserved and thoughtful. The team's spirit and enthusiasm were evident throughout the tournament.

The T. C. High team, on the other hand, was a mix of experienced players and new faces. The team's captain, Mr. Johnson, led the group with his energetic play and strategic leadership. The team worked together seamlessly, relying on each other's strengths to overcome the challenges of the game.

In the heap of the tournament, a major highlight was the Kansas victory, which secured their place as the tournament champions. The team's hard work and dedication paid off, and they emerged as the deserving winners of the quintet tourney.

VACATION

At this time of the year some students will be engaged in the happy occupation of planning their vacations. To many of these the word "vacation" means a change from the regular weekly schedule at school. To others it means a welcome respite from the strain of studies that has become a part of daily life. To still others it may mean an opportunity to travel, to enjoy the delights of the sunshine, or to relax and enjoy the companionship of friends.

For the student who has been working hard throughout the year, vacation is a time of relaxation and recreation. It is a time when he can take a break from the pressures of school and enjoy the simple pleasures of life. It is a time when he can recharge his batteries and come back to school ready to tackle the challenges that lie ahead.

For the student who has been struggling to keep up, vacation is a time to take a break and regroup. It is a time when he can take a step back and see the bigger picture. It is a time when he can plan his next move and determine how to best approach the challenges that lie ahead.

For the student who has been feeling lost and uncertain, vacation is a time to take a step back and reassess. It is a time when he can take a break from the pressures of school and reflect on his goals and aspirations. It is a time when he can plan his next move and determine how to best approach the challenges that lie ahead.

For the student who has been feeling overwhelmed, vacation is a time to take a break and relax. It is a time when he can take a step back and see the bigger picture. It is a time when he can plan his next move and determine how to best approach the challenges that lie ahead.

Vacation is a time for reflection, rest, and renewal. It is a time to take a break and reevaluate. It is a time to take a step back and see the big picture. It is a time to plan ahead and determine how to best approach the challenges that lie ahead.

BRIDGES THE RAGS
Bridge parties are now reignig supreme as several have been held during the preceding week at which New Yorkers and students were present. Monday afternoon, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Saunders held a part­y at their home at 13 Fourth Ave. They fried no guests at one of these parties at which Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Lang, Miss  Johnson, Miss Goldsmith, Miss Weller, and Harriet Tapp were among the guests. Miss and Mrs. Monroe were the guests at a party at the Barnard home Monday night, Tuesday evening Mrs. Kate Bridges was hostess for a party of students. Miss Molyneux, Miss Johnson, Miss Weller, Miss McKinlay, Miss Ewell and Miss Neal were among the guests at the party. Saturday night Louise Noeling entertained at her home with a bridge party, and was hostess for a party given by Mrs. John Reynolds, and Elizabeth Kerr were guests.

HIGH SCHOOL PARTY
Saturday night the gymnasium, beautifully decorated in green and with string of bulbs peering out from various corners, was the app­ropriate setting for the high school's Christmas party. All of the high school classes combined and made one of the most successful par­ties of the season. About 175 were attended. Games were played and Miss Walter told in her usual am­using way some very clever poems written by Jerome Phillips and Charles Kelly. The music was furnished by the high school orchestra. Mrs. Hole, of Deering High School, was the guest of honor of the high school football team.

WILLIAM BIRDFIELD
William Birdfield entertained a number of his little friends Monday afternoon, celebrating his ninth birth­day. Games were played after which ice cream and cake were served. The guests had such a pleasant afternoon that they almost forgot to go home or supper.

Among the guests were Jack Flan­kard, George and John Wych, Ruby Jose, Billy Bayless, Lester Blaire, Jack Bloom, Mack Hitchfield, Florence Escott, Mabel and Florence King, Alice Marshall, John King, James Dreyer, Walt Wallis, James Stoneman, John Reynolds, and William Birdfield.

THEATRE PARTY
Wednesday afternoon and night the high school English History classes entertained Mr. Flax and Miss Flax with a show at the "Prisoner of Zenda." The boys feel very grateful to Mrs. Flax for the opportunity extended a second time to see that profitable pic­ture.

TAYLORS ENTERTAIN
Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Taylor entertain­ed a number of their friends Monday evening with a delicious four­course dinner at the Lawes hotel, followed by a bridge party at their home. Among the guests were Miss Johnson, Miss Weller, Miss Ellington, Miss Walker and Mrs. Lang and Miss Davis.

DINNER PARTY
Monday night Lake Carm had a dinner party given for Miss Carl T. GATBLL P.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin were 1 school dinner guests at the Hall Sunday.

FORMER R. I. TEACHER
IN THE LIMELIGHT
The following news item concerning Mr. Caldwell, former botany instruc­tor at the R.I. College and now in England for a year, appeared in the English Journal of Education for November 24, 1922.

"Olga W. Caldwell, principal of Lincoln School, Teachers College, created one of the best, if not literally the best, schools in the world, and recently moved into the elegant new building at 123rd street, New York City. No other schools, however, have so thoroughly outstripped the advantages of a high school as the foundation laid on the ground, as teachers. He also conducted a descriptive booklet, which is as distinctive as the school itself."

Former Fort Point, Sunnyvale man is now in the U.S. Navy.

The general library has subscriptions for the Harvard Business Review, National and General; two are on pop­ular, three on agriculture.
