Indiana Normal Wins Dual Meet There April 12, 79-52

The E. I. Teachers track team lost to Indiana Normal Thursday April 12 at Terre Haute when they accounted for only 52 points to the Hoosiers' 79. The Indiana men excelled in running events which gave the score more of a one sided effect; however the score doesn't do justice to the showing made by some of the E. I. squad.

The race where the locals showed their colors was the half mile relay run by Ballard, N. Sims, T. Sims, and Tripp. They carried the baton over the distance in 1:41. Nolan Sims topped the high hurdles in nice form in 16.8 sec. and Ballard made a great rally to tie for first in the 220 yard dash at 23.7 sec. The other firsts for the Teachers were made by Shoemaker, discuss, Storey, Javelin, Phipps and Whitaker, high jump, and Warren, shot put.

Summary

100 yd. dash—Horsley, I. N. first, Edwards, I. N. second, Ballard, E. I. third. Time 10.5 seconds.
 220 yd. dash—Ballard, E. I. and Horsley, I. N. tied for first, Davis, I. N. third. Time 23.9 seconds.
 440 yd. dash—Parks, I. N. first, Tripp, E. I. second, Albright, I. N. third. Time 55.9 seconds.
 Half Mile—Davis, I. N. first, Woodruff, I. N. second, Graer, E. I. third. Time 2:22.
 Mile—Fusell, I. N. first, Horn, I. N. second, Hughes, E. I. third. Time 5:19.
 Two Mile—Hoggert, I. N. first, Buehl, I. N. second, K. Sims, E. I. third. Time 12:54.

Teachers College Faculties Met at Normal April 12, 13

The second annual session of the State Teachers College faculties was held at Normal, Illinois, April 13th and 14th. "To promote mutual understanding and cooperation among the five State Teachers Colleges of Illinois, in order to define and solve our common problems both administrative and instructional; and to meet by departments to stimulate and learn from each other," were the two stated purposes of the meeting.

The executive committee for this meeting consisted of S. F. Parson of DeKalb, general chairman, E. G. Lentz of Carbondale, F. H. Currens of Macomb, H. DeF. Widger of Charleston, and R. G. Buzzard of Normal.

A general meeting was held Friday afternoon, with Mr. A. M. Shelton, Director, State Department of Education and Registration, presiding. Friday night there was a dinner meeting at 6:30 at the Illinois Hotel, Bloomington. The address was given by Dr. Ned H. Dearborn, Director of Teacher Training, State Department of Education, New York.

The Department Meetings were held Saturday morning beginning at 8:30. Chairmanships of sections held by members of Charleston faculty were: Mr. Lewis A. Moore, Agriculture, L. F. Ashley, Manual Arts, Charles P. Lantz, Physical Education for men, Fisk Allen, Training School.
 The place of meeting next year is yet undecided.

NET TEAM DIVIDES HONORS AT NORMAL

The E. I. net men broke even with State Normal in a four-match tennis tourney at Normal April 20 by winning two singles and losing a single and the doubles.

Keith Dorris of Taylorville defeated Kamby 8-6 and 6-2 while Murray of Herrick out-chopped Sam Sullivan in an easy 6-4, 6-2 win. Betebenner of West Salem forced Churchill to a three set match in a grand rally from 2-5 to win a deuce set at 8-6.

Dorris and Betebenner forced Kamby and Churchill to a three set match in the doubles. The locals took the first set 6-4, but lost the second 3-6. The last set was decided only after a hard fought 8-10 score gave Normal the match.

Considering the fact that E. I. tennis team has been unable to practice on our clay courts because of wet weather and has been forced to use the concrete court, it seems as if the team should do much better with clay court practise.

Betebenner played continuously from 2:15-6:15 and during the time played 71 games. Dorris played 59 games and Murray 18 games.

125 NEW STUDENTS ENROLLED

There were 125 new students registered Monday as compared to 162 at this time last year. Of course many more will enter during the week.

Opera Postponed Until Next Fall

The students and faculty are very sorry to hear of the serious illness of Mr. H. H. Giles, Dramatic Coach at the Teachers College. Mr. Giles had gone to Chicago to visit the costume house to obtain costumes for the opera, "King Harald the Cold," which was to have been given May 16. While in Chicago he became seriously ill and returned home Wednesday. On Sunday the Doctors pronounced his illness Vincent's Angina and diphtheria. He is now confined to his home on Lincoln Street.

The opera which was to have been given May 16, has been postponed until next fall. All orders for costumes have been cancelled. Mr. Eugene Dressler, tenor singer of Chicago, had been engaged for the leading role. He was very much disappointed to hear of Mr. Giles' illness and the postponement of the opera. However he has been engaged for the production in tre fall.

WARBLER PLEDGES UNPAID

There are about fifty people who have not paid their Warbler pledges. Pay them Wednesday, from 1:00 to 1:30 and from 3:30 until 4:30 at the cashiers desk. This will be your last opportunity to get a Warbler for the small sum of $3.25.

MR. HENRY A. NEAL DIES SATURDAY

Mr. Henry A. Neal, father of Miss Ora Neal, died Saturday night, April 14, after an illness of more than a year.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the family residence on Jefferson street.

Mr. Neal was one of the committee who presented the reasons why the city of Charleston should have the Teachers College. From its very beginning he gave much of his talent and energy towards making it a success. Officially he was a member of its board from April 14, 1897 to July 1, 1917. Unofficially he was always concerned for its success and interested in its every activity.

Memorial services under the auspices of the Coles County Bar Association were held Tuesday evening in an open session of court, convened by Judge Murray Clark of Danville. Mr. Neal had been a resident of Charleston since 1873.

TO H. A. N.

He never walks with downward glances bent.
 On finding dollars in the gutter slime;
 Nor ever advertises views for rent.
 O'er sells a dear conviction for a dime.
 Remembering the mountains in his heart,
 Above New Hampshire roads of yesterday,
 Bright summits shinning sovereign and apart,—
 Like visions over fields where children play,—
 Ever in spirit he must hate the mre,
 Homesick for mountains when the way is low,
 A ware of winwswept places that aspire
 Nearer to heaven than the cart-wheels go.
 Even strange children pressing to his knee
 Are glimpsing mountains where it's good to be,
 Learning of him their own high-hearted legacy.

DELTA LAMBDA SIGMA MEN INITIATED

On Saturday evening fourteen men of the Beta Chapter of Delta Lambda Sigma motored to Terre Haute where the Daedalians there revealed to them the mysteries of the Alpha Chapter.

The new full-fledged Daedalians are: Wayne Isley, Roy Ratts, Earl Schuyler, Delmar Mock, Leland Rutledge, Irvin Hill, Wayne Cooper, Ruel Hall, Maurice Sullivan, William

COURSES ANNOUNCED FOR SUMMER TERMS

The announcement for the mid-spring and summer terms has been received from the printer.

The mid-spring term opens April 23. The first summer term, on June 9, and the second summer term on July 23.

The courses offered in the mid-spring term are mostly for freshmen. In the two year curriculum for preparation of teachers for the grades. For those in the sophomore year Education 20 and 21, English 26, and Manual Arts 24 are offered.

In the summer term, offerings are about as usual. Juniors can get English 43 and 45, Education 48a and 44a. These two education courses with Education 48b and 44b in the following summer term give credit for two of the three required Education credits.

Junior and Seniors who wish to earn credit in laboratory science in summer terms may take Botany or Zoology.

In mathematics Algebra 31, Geometry 30, and Trigonometry 32 are offered.

The advanced course in social science is Sociology 43.

If any of the mid-spring students are interested in joining the school band, they should consult Mr. Railback, the director.

Pay your Warbler pledge.

Friday night E. I. had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Bruno Steindel, the noted cellist. The music was delightful. It was good to see the largest audience that E. I. has had for any number on the entertainment course this year. Mr. Steindel was the most noteworthy on the programme, but Mr. Moissaye Boguslawski, pianist, and Mr. Isador Berger, violinist, were very good. Mr. Boguslawski's fingering on the piano was remarkable. The soft sweet tones of Mr. Berger's violin were indeed pleasing.

Mr. Berger played one of his own compositions called, "An Indian Trail in Summer". This selection was interesting for the various sounds produced such as the twittering of birds, the wind, and the sound of water.

The trio presented the following programme:

Domestic Science Department Leads Last Domajian Meeting

Mr. Lord Attends Alumni Banquet

On leaving the meeting of Normal School Faculties held at Bloomington Illinois April 13 and 14, Mr. Lord went on to Chicago where he attended the E. I. Alumni banquet at the La Salle hotel April 14 at 6:30 P. M.

Mr. Ernest Baile, principal of a school in Cicero, acted as toast master. Among the many speakers were Dr. Roscoe Harry, Miss Walsh, Bruce Corzine, Vernon Baker, and Miss White. An unusual degree of interest was shown in an attempt to raise the attendance at the yearly banquets in the future as well as in increasing the number of banquets given.

Sixty-five, the largest number ever present, attended the banquet. There are 175 E. I. graduates who are situated in and about Chicago. Such an opportunity should be seized upon by more than a mere fraction of the real number who might avail themselves of such a pleasure. The speakers brought to light many old memories; some serious, some humorous, but all very pleasant.

Miss Anna Nichey attended the Passion Play in Bloomington during vacation.

Mr. Widger was judge for a debate in Arthur, Illinois, Friday night.

Last Thursday night the members of the Art Club met in the domestic science room. All of the members of the home economics department were invited to the meeting. Those members of the Art Club who were in the home economics course had charge of the meeting.

The meeting began with a scene in one of the girl's homes. All of the girl's wore dresses which they themselves had made. They were planning what kind of entertainment they should have at the Art Club meeting.

Lucille Marker gave a discussion of dresses suitable for the occasion. Dresses were shown which were suitable for the morning, afternoon, street, evening, and sport wear. Eula Taylor gave a demonstration of cutting dresses on wax forms. Edith McDowell gave a talk on table manners and how to set a table correctly.

After the programme the business meeting was held. Three new members were admitted to the club. During the remainder of the meeting the excursion to some art institute at either St. Louis or Indianapolis was discussed.

Sandwiches, cake and tea were served.

At the next meeting, a week from the coming Thursday, Mrs. E. L. Taylor will talk on her trip abroad. Mrs. Tavler will tel. about some of the

WELCOME! WELCOME!

Welcome, fellow student, step into our ranks and make yourself acquainted. We hope that you are glad to be with us as we are to have you with us. We hope to absorb some of your ideas and some of your enthusiasm. In the process of "give and take" you will acquire some new ideas and some culture from association with the teachers and students. To meet the new students is an opportunity of gaining a new friendship; to meet those who have been here before is to renew old friendships and revive old memories.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH OUR AUDIENCES?

The casual observer of one of E. L.'s entertainments might well ask the question: "What is the matter with your audience?" He would probably comment on the lifelessness, inattention, lack of applause, as well as other deficiencies. And the really bad part of it all is that he would be right. Does it make any difference to us what people think of our group attitude toward the various programmes given here?

Some may be tempted to excuse themselves by saying that many of the numbers of the entertainment course are too far above their heads for their appreciation. That may be true for a few students, but how are they going to excuse themselves for not attending the productions? It would seem that this is not the basic reason for our unresponsive audiences.

The psychologist might try to explain this condition by showing that more highly educated people are less emotional than those who have very slight education. But again it is necessary to find another cause, for the greater part of the students have been only recently removed from four most emotional years of our existence (high school), and more likely have not yet had time to assume that veneer of stoicism supposedly acquired with education. The real reason for our poor student audiences are two-fold. In the first place, we lack something of what not only is called but actually is "school spirit". To develop more of this, we should urge more students to join some organization on the campus. They should see and feel the value of working together to accomplish some common purpose. Then with every organization cooperating with every other organization the importance of such work would be easily recognized. We must learn to support each other.

Then in the second place, we are failing to gain one of the great ends of education,—we are failing to create a desire to learn. Many of us forget that we get from this life what we put into it. We fail to remember that with a twenty-five or fifty cent investment plus large amounts of attention, enthusiasm, and expression we may get fifty or a hundred dollars worth of self-improvement, entertainment, or knowledge from it.

In the past, our motto has been "Every man for himself." Now it is time to change it to, "Every student a loyal member of some organization; every student and every organization loyal supporters of each other and the school." And beneath it all, let's not forget that this is really an important part of our education.

KEEP KAMPUS KLEAN

It is deplorable the way some students litter up the campus with trash. One would think that people would have enough pride in their front yard to keep from throwing candy bars and chewing gum wrappers, torn up notes, and paper bags about, but list you attribute pride where it does not exist, let it be known that some of our inmates think the campus a circus ground upon which they may throw their Kracker Jack boxes or a dumping ground for candy wrappers. If it were not for the diligent

And
Things had not gone right.
I was
Cross and mad
And all just out
Over
Nothing at all.
I went home
Picked up a book,
Read a line
Or two;
I couldn't quit,
I just kept on
Reading in that book—
The lines were funny,
The puns quite good.
I read and
Read and read,
When I finished
I found

PANDORA DISCUSSES TONGUES

Those versed in anatomy inform us that the tongue is fastened at one end. However, visitors at the sewing circles are inclined to believe that both ends are loose. Be that as it may, there are none of us who are willing to argue against the usefulness of this important organ. But, we are advised against over-exercise. We could sing praises everlasting of the tongue and its benefits—and then there is another side of the question. Let us hear some more about our valuable asset.

From the baby's early prattle to the day when the neighbors surround your bier and comment on the cost of the casket your tongue is your faithful attendant. In season and out of season your tongue is with you always. It is Woman's first weapon of defense; it whispers the sweetest sentiments of the soul; it scathes and burns with fervid heat when the passions are aroused; it builds the family altar, and relates the scandal of the divorce courts; it is sharper than a two-edged sword and is the most deadly of all the devices of evil; it has plunged the world into bloody wars and has carried humanity to the sublime heights of religious fervor and zeal. An idle tongue is an unknown quantity and is just cause for calling in the family physician. With the tongue the poet sings, the baby squalls, the bootlegger prospers, and vocalists depopulate the whole neighborhood. Therefore it behooveth us to use our tongues aright, for as long as the human race shall trod the streets and alleys of our villages and cities, just so long will the tongue, from its hidden throne, rule the world.

Pem. Hall

A very interesting house-meeting was held Tuesday evening after dinner, at which Miss Besteland told of the teacher's meeting held during vacation. We were told of many of the customs and regulations of other Halls, which only made us appreciate more our Pem. Hall.

Cleo and Gertrude have realized one of their aims, ambitions, and dreams. They have combined their two single rooms for one double room on the front, but it was difficult to get everything in the two rooms piled up in one. What belongings they couldn't get into their new room they placed in their neighbors', or in the corridor.

A "Special Table" was enjoyed Friday evening at dinner in honor of the birthday of Miss Marian Rambo. Those present were: Mrs. Ray Rambo, Mrs. Harry Rambo, of Paris, Misses Marian Rambo, Myrtle Townly, Cleo Jefferies, Eloise Tomlinson, Leota Graham, and Gertrude Moseley.

Miss Helen Swengel entertained Mrs. Paul Brewer at dinner Friday night.

Miss Maxine Cripe of Scarlet Heart Academy, Springfield, Illinois was a guest of Miss Frances Cronin Friday and Saturday.

The girls had a house meeting Saturday noon, but they are not going to tell what it was all about yet. Already they have started plans, but plans for what? Wait and see.

The Hall will have quite a few new girls this last six weeks. The old girls wish to welcome the new girls and make them have a pleasant time while they are here.

Miss Florence Condo Miller '27 who is teaching in Elm Place School, Highland Park, Illinois, spent last Wednesday at Teachers College.

The Mathematics Club met Wednesday evening at 6:30. After a short business meeting the following programme was given:

History of Algebra—Mr. Van Dyke
History of Geometry—Miss Shuban.
Mathematical Recreation—Mr. D. Reed.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, May 2.

There will be dancing in the gymnasium Saturday evening, April 28. The chaperons are Miss Stevens and Mr. Coleman.

The fame of E. I.'s music memory contest has reached Vienna, Austria if press reports are to be trusted. Cafes in that city, according to a United Press story, are offering prizes to those of their customers who name correctly the greatest number of tunes played during an evening.

TEACHERS

ATHLETICS

E. I. Baseball Nine Loses to Normal Team 4-1

Normal Wins Baseball Game

Being partially deserted by their baseball skill in the 8th inning, the E. I. Teachers loosened the rein which allotted the Normal team three runs and a 4 to 1 victory at Bloomington, Friday.

Although the Teachers were out batted six to four they had more men left on bases each time which seems to have been one of their losing factors in the two starts thus far.

Things were fairly quiet until the fifth inning when Reed walked Hiello who was sacrificed to second, who stole third and who came in on Reynolds' single to give Normal their first counter. D. Miller tied the score in the first of the eighth by getting first on a single, taking second on Weber's bunt and then speeding home on a passed ball and an infield out.

Normal's time at the stick in the second half of the eighth meant their unbounded success as far as this game was concerned. Young hit a two bagger to right and was sacrificed to third. When Galbreath deliberated over a hot grounder, Young came in and Silvers took first, Blackford was put in as pinch hitter and swatted a hot shot to center field for two passes as Silvers came in. Blackford crept to third on a passed ball. Then after Zehr walked and Meurlot fumbled Hiello's grounder giving him first, Blackford made the Normal total 3. Weber tagged Zehr at third and Myers was nabbed after he had received a free pass to first which closed this period.

The ninth was opened by Lynch's double. The following two men made outs, and in a short time Lynch was caught napping for the third and last out.

CHAPTER III THE FIGHT IS ON.

Reggie Smith, neatly clothed in his best suit, stood before the mirror adding the finishing touches. He put in place a stray hair, picked one from his coat lapel, and announced himself satisfied with the finished product. He counted the change in his pocket three (3) times and got three different answers, but was assured that it tallied over two (2) dollars. He opened his door just as Freddie's door opened, and Freddie, likewise arrayed in his Sunday best, burst forth. The two eyed each other suspiciously.

"Whither bound?" asked Reggie. "Oh, I'm going down to play some pool, and later I may mosey over and talk with Coach Roberts. Where do you get off?"

"I thought I'd take in a movie. Coming toward town?"

The two walked rapidly to town, each considering the best way to rid himself of the other. Freddie stopped in the pool parlor. Reggie went on, but turned at the next corner, and retraced his steps. Half running, half walking, he arrived at Mary Ellen's house before Freddie could escape a group of his schoolmates who demanded the low-down on the baseball situation.

Freddie entered the large living room two minutes later, and started at the sight of his brother ensconced in a huge easy chair. Mary Ellen's presence prevented any comment from either faction; but dark looks passed the width of the room and back again, and a brittle silence followed. Mary Ellen broke it with a suggestion.

"Let's play cards and tell fortunes. Run up stairs like a nice boy, Reggie, and ask the maid for the table and cards."

"What's he doing here?" asked Freddie, when the other was off on his errand."

"Why, Freddie, I couldn't ask you and not him, don't you see? We can all three have a lovely time."

Further conversation was prevented by Reggie's noisy return with the table.

"Freddie, be nice and run into the kitchen and ask Maud for some ice water."

"What's he doing here?" demanded Reggie as his brother disappeared.

"Why, Reggie, I couldn't ask you and not him, don't you see? We can all three have a lovely time."

Freddie returned with the ice water. Conversation lagged, and Mary Ellen began to doubt the wisdom of her policy. But soon the fireworks were let loose.

"Freddie, did you know that Mary Ellen was going to Carleton Pi next year?"

"You're all wet," was the dry response, as Freddie favored his brother with an icy stare. "She's going to Bee-Bee, aren't you, Mary Ellen?"

Both turned toward Mary Ellen. "Why-why- I don't know yet," she faltered.

"You'd better decide soon so you can root for Bee-Bee in the baseball game," urged Freddie.

"You mean Carleton Pi," corrected Reggie.

"Baseball game?" Mary Ellen clutched a last straw. "When?"

"May 29," answered the two in chorus.

"Then I'll tell you what. I'll go to the school that wins the baseball game. How's that?"

The boys gasped for breath. For the first time each entertained a doubt concerning the invincibility of

Kansas Wins Triangular

Winners Score 60 Points;
T. C. Next With Total of 49

T. C., Charleston High, and Kansas staged a thrilling triangular contest Thursday on Schahrer field which was not decided until the final event, the pole vault, in which Kansas placed first and second to capture the meet with 60 points. T. C. after leading most of the afternoon, fell down in the broad jump and pole vault, and finished with a total of 49. C. H. S. grabbed the loser's end of the purse with 41.

It was an exciting meet from the start. Kansas jumped into the lead early in the afternoon, but T. C. went ahead soon, and for a long time the two were never more than three points apart, with C. H. S. always in scoring distance. With three events to be finished, Kansas led by one point. They increased the lead in the broad jump by capturing the first two places, while T. C. took third. The relay went to T. C., and Kansas still led, 52 to 49. T. C. could not place in the pole vault. It was almost 5:30 when the meet ended.

his team. But they would be as sporting as any mere girl.

"It's a go," they answered, and the three shook hands on the proposition. (To be continued)

Baird proved the star of the day, winning four firsts and one second in the five events he entered, for a total of 23 points. Dunn, the versatile Kansas athlete, gathered in 19 in six events. Baird was one of the winning relay team.

Several good marks were hung up in the course of the afternoon. R. Adams sprang a surprise in tossing the javelin 147 feet and 10 inches. Dunn tossed the discus 104 feet, and sent the shot 39 feet into space. The time of the 440 yard relay was 50.5 seconds.

Summary of events:
50 yard dash: Baird, T. C., first; Dunn, K., second; Tripp, C., third; Honnold, K., fourth. Time, 5.8

100 yard dash: Baird, T. C., first; Craig, T. C., second; Moore, K., third; Dunn, K., fourth. Time 10.5.

220 yard dash: Dunn, K., first; Craig, T. C., second; McHenry, K., third; Sweeney, C., fourth. Time, 24.8
220 yard low hurdles: Baird, T. C., first; Pigg, C., second; Honnold, K., third. Time, 31.

BASEBALL GAME POSTPONED
Bad weather necessitated the postponement of the T. C.—Brocton baseball game Saturday.

JR.-SR. BANQUET ENJOYED BY ALL

The class of '29 entertained the class of '28 in a banquet Saturday evening that well deserved the title of the greatest social event in the history of the high school. A delightful banquet, an unusually good speaking programme, a clever one-act play after the banquet, dancing and card playing in the beautifully decorated gymnasium, and a flash-light picture taken for the 1929 Warbler—these are some of the features which served to make the evening one which will long be remembered by Juniors and Seniors.

The banquet was held in Pemberton Hall, several ninth grade girls serving. Russell Kellam, toastmaster, performed as a veteran in the introducing the speakers. James Reynolds delivered the address of welcome.

E. I. vs. BOBE POLY

E. I. pitchers opened their baseball season in a misty atmosphere on Schahrer Field Wednesday afternoon, April 4th, where they engaged the Bobe Poly nine for almost four innings when the game was called off on account of rain.

Although each team had three counts to its credit things were looking very favorable to the Lantemen who were at bat in the last half of the fourth inning with all the bases full and a hard consistent hitter up. Had the elements held off until the close of the fifth inning the affair would have been considered a game.

The E. I. baseball prospects, which are already showing up well, are to be added to materially when Dee Brady a twirler of some note from Stewardson enters school here for the mid-spring term.

The senior class pins and rings have arrived and are very much in evidence. At a glance a center of white gold surrounded by a black enamel and then a border of white gold the seal of the school is observed on the white gold center sunken bias relief. A circle of black enamel on which is the lettering "Eastern Illinois State Teachers College 1899" appears and the white gold edge that forms the outer edge of the pin is chased.

In the rings the center of white gold is not set in a square of black enamel, the only black being that on which the lettering appears. The ring band is of yellow gold.

Miss Romiser and Mildred Dunbar, teachers at Hindsboro, visited E. I. Saturday.

come, and Harlan Baird responded for the Seniors. Mr. Colman and Mr. Hughes, faculty advisers of the Seniors and Juniors respectively, included class day predictions in their addresses. A one-act play was presented in the parlor by several Juniors, with Harry Dillard playing his role in a way that delighted everyone.

The scene of the festivities moved to the gymnasium, decorated for the occasion in a manner that has seldom been equalled. The east section of the gymnasium was reserved for card-playing, and was set off by a curtain of crepe paper. Sanders' orchestra furnished the music for the many couples dancing. Juniors and Seniors alike voted it a most successful evening.

The chaperones were: Mr. and Mrs. H. DeF. Widger, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Waffle, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hughes, Miss Lena B. Ellington, and Miss Alice Daniels.
