New Committee Maps Recreation Program

Master Singers to Appear Here Tonite Dances, Picnic, Amateur Nite To Be Headliners of Calendar

Having adjusted yourself to seven o'clock classes and the routine of your schedule, we humbly suggest a tour of inspection—a study of Eastern. You would not be doing justice to the college or to yourself if you did not see—the improvements on our buildings, the campus in entirety, the libraries, publications at Eastern, and some special interests we want to introduce. Last week in a special article the News informed you of some improvements made in the various campus buildings. We trust you have taken the time to note some of these. Pemberton Hall is now one of the most modern and beautiful dormitories in the state. Our main building is in the best condition since construction. More room has been provided in the Training school and our gymnasium is being modernized.

YOU SHOULD HAVE THOROUGHLY acquainted yourself with the campus grounds. Of special interest is the iris garden, located south of the power house. This beautiful garden attracted much attention recently when hundreds of citizens called to inspect the large variety of flowers in full bloom. The design of this garden is one of warming beauty. Incidentally, it is President Buzzard's chief delight and was constructed under his direction. It is absurd to think that you have not already paid a visit to the garden. South of this site a few hundred yards is the campus picnic ground constructed during the spring and summer of 1935. It was one of the big news events of that year. It is now at the height of its beauty, a secluded nook that many find pleasant as a study site these warm afternoons.

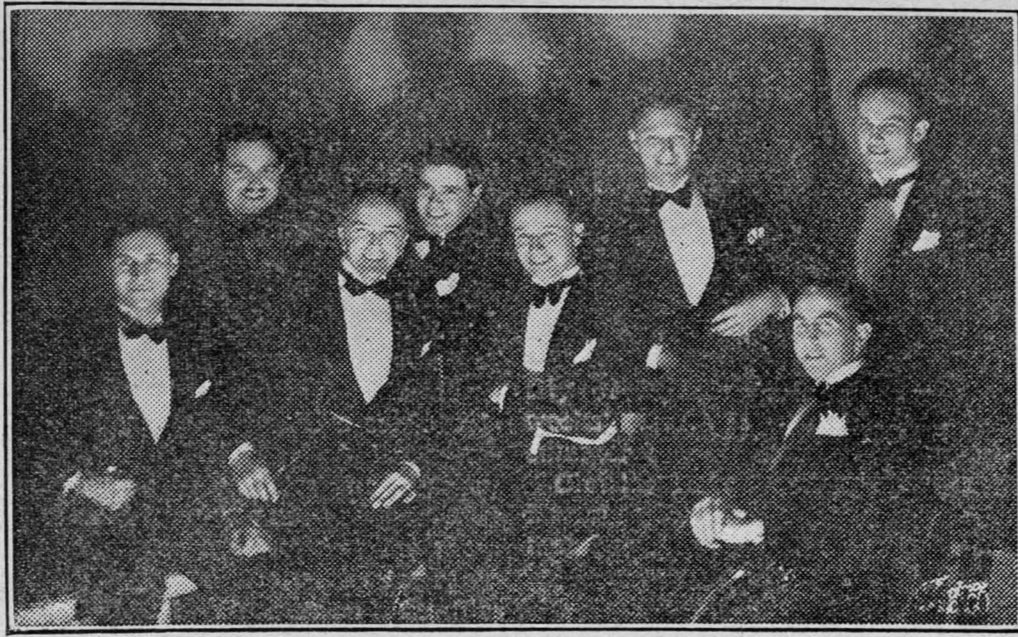

YOU NEED NOT LEAVE THE MAIN building, however, to find things of absorbing interest. As a starting point, try the library. Here you may find the latest magazines, books, and newspapers. Your own community cannot offer any reading matter that approaches, in variety, discrimination, or volume, that which you may find here. Miss Mary Booth, librarian, invites you to inspect the list of books recently placed in the library, to read the latest and best magazines, and to keep abreast with world events through reading the newspapers. Incidentally, each week the News is carrying brief notes on new books recently added to the library. A fine and varied selection of newspapers, including the New York Times, the Chicago papers, the Indianapolis News, the St. Louis Post Dispatch, the Christian Science Monitor, are obtainable any time. All the leading magazines are on file or in the racks.

IN CASE YOU TIRE OF FOREIGN reading matter, why not sample the publications of Eastern State? You may remain in the library to read the 1936 Warbler, a book of outstanding distinction, expert editing, and real artistry. The library will be glad to loan you a copy. The 29 issues of the News during 1935-36 are on file and you are welcome to inspect them. Visit the main office if you wish a copy of the College Catalogue, a splendid publication worth your attention. You are also entitled to a copy of an interesting pamphlet published by the five state teachers colleges. It is a senate committee report on the normal colleges, made last year and authored by Senator T. V. Smith and Senator W. E. C. Clifford.

IF THESE SOURCES OF INTEREST fail you, as they are not likely to do, we suggest you get acquainted with some of the interesting people enrolled this summer. We hope, in the News, to introduce several of the outstanding characters. You will find, we think, that people and things at Eastern are "Interest Bearing."

DEAN BEU IN CHICAGO

Dean F. A. Beu will return to Charleston sometime late today from Chicago, where he received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Chicago. Mr. Beu was in Chicago for the weekend, as well as yesterday and today.

Classical and popular selections will be presented by the Master Singers tonight as their program on the Entertainment course. This is the first of three numbers to be given under the auspices of the Entertainment committee, headed by Quincy Guy Burris.

Male Octet Gives Many Programs for Colleges; Varied Offering Promised

Jacques Homier Directs Well-Known Radio Stars; Recreation Tickets Will Admit.

The Master Singers, male octet which appears here tonight in the college auditorium at 8 o'clock, have been favorites with colleges and special groups during the past year, if one is to judge from the number of appearances and the volume of applause reportedly granted this group. The ensemble has entertained before numerous teacher-institute groups in widely scattered areas of the nation.

This veteran organization has been performing for more than six years. It attained national prominence four years ago and has been featured over the radio since that time. They supplied the musical portion of the House by the Side of the Road series.

Jacques Homier is credited with making the octet into a national headliner. He is director and arranger, as well as a master musician. Dean Remick, concert pianist, comes in for a large share of the praise. This is not to neglect the eight young men who do the singing, for after a'l—

A tenor, a baritone, and a piano solo, and a large number of ensemble numbers are to be presented.

Recreation tickets will admit. For outsiders a small fee is charged.

Edith Stoltz Will Head Committee

Hobart F. Heller, Dean of Men, has appointed Edith Stoltz chairman of the entertainment committee which is planning recreation for the summer term. Miss Stoltz has held this position for the past two years. She conceived and supervised the Amateur Night program given last summer. It proved so popular that a similar evening was presented during the regular school year.

Other students on this committee are Gwen Oliver, Rose-Marie Megaw, Wayne Neal, Vincent Kelly, and Glen Cooper. Faculty members are Dean Heller, Paris J. Van Horn, and Miss Nathalie McKay.

New Office Occupied By Dean H. F. Heller

For the benefit of new students, it is announced that Hobart F. Heller, Dean of Men, may be reached for conferences in his new office, located in what was once the north section of the reception room. Miss Nathalie McKay, Dean of Women, is available for conferences at Pemberton Hall.

FIDELIS WILL MEET WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Fidelis club, campus fraternal organization, will hold a business meeting on Wednesday evening at 7:30 in room 10. Otho Quick, club president for the past year, will remain as president during summer school.

The club will discuss plans for several social functions during the summer. Mr. Quick states that the Fidelis will co-operate with the recreation committee in sponsoring one of the school parties outlined in the social calendar.

Other business will concern participation in Amateur Night and the possibility of obtaining a clubhouse next fall.

Eight Issues of TC News Are Scheduled

There will be eight issues of the News this summer instead of six as announced in the first edition of the term. More issues will be published because heads feel that the increasing volume of news during the eight weeks term justifies the change. President Buzzard feels that summer term students should get as many issues proportionately as do students during the regular school year and suggest that eight issues be published. The addition of two issues will not affect the subscription price originally asked of outsiders. You may still get a copy of the News regularly for 25 cents.

Registration Total

With registration totaling 678 Friday afternoon, it is felt that the final figure will reach 700 before this week is concluded. Last year's mark was only slightly higher.

"TELL THE TRUTH AND DON'T BE AFRAID"

Van Horn Revises Phys. Ed. Program

Physical education classes organized last week to carry through an eight weeks' program specially designed by Paris J. Van Horn, director. Incorporating variety and catering to many different interests, the program is the most complete and most thoroughly plotted ever attempted at Eastern.

Coach Van Horn spent several weeks in devising the schedule. He was in conference for several hours with Carl Bookwalter, outstanding authority on physical education, for the purpose of getting suggestions from the Indiana university director. Mr. Bookwalter heartily approved of the program.

Director Van Horn Comments
In commenting on the schedule Mr. Van Horn says:

"It is primarily constituted for two main purposes: to offer sufficient variety that students can get a maximum enjoyment out of physical education; to suggest a program for men already out in the field of teaching."

In drawing up the program, Mr. Van Horn considered time, facilities, and number of participants. Students will be graded on the bases of attendance, skill, improvement, and attitude.

For the first four weeks physical education classes will meet three times each week. After that classes will convene four times a week.

A different sport or activity will be engaged in each meeting day of the week. Playground ball, golf, tennis, stunts, decathlon work, basketball, volleyball, relays, and play periods are features.

Golf Will Be Included

Three or four holes of the golf course on Lincoln field will be available this summer. Mr. Van Horn plans to spend some time on this sport, offering shot instruction, study of rules, and introduction of golfing terms. One or two

Cancel Field Trips; Only One Enrolls

The week-end geography and history field trips into Illinois, Indiana, and Kentucky are not to be taken this summer unless more students enroll, it has been announced by those in charge. At a meeting held last Tuesday after chapel, only one person was present to enroll for the trips.

Last summer a large number of EI students enjoyed the trip on the Lincoln Trail through Illinois and Kentucky. One week-end was taken to make the trip. Stops were made at all points of interest which happened to be conveniently located at intervals of 10 miles.

Glenn H. Seymour of the history department and chief sponsor of the tours, is willing to organize the same trip for those who should like to make it. If you are interested in making this tour, see Mr. Seymour immediately.

Editor Stanley Elam Is Victim of Mumps

Stanley Elam, next year's editor of the News, visited with Charleston friends Sunday. Mr. Elam has just recovered from the mumps which, he says, staged a battle of the left and right wings with first one and then the other assuming outlandish dimensions. He will not be in school this term but remains at home near Stewardson. Walton Morris, co-editor elect with Mr. Elam, has gone to his home in Decatur for the summer.

Four dances have been scheduled. The registration dance Friday was the first of a series of bi-weekly dances. The last dance will be the annual Summer Formal scheduled for July 24. An attempt will be made to secure Paul Blair and his swing band from Danville who have been the campus favorites during the school year. The Novelty Six of Effingham will play at least one of the other dances.

The tentative social calendar for the summer term is as follows: Tuesday, June 23, Recreation Hour; Friday, June 26, Dance; Friday, July 10, Dance; Thursday, July 16, Round-up; Wednesday, July 22, Amateur Night; Friday, July 24, Summer Formal. The above schedule does not include numbers on the Entertainment Course.

The committee plans to fill in vacant week-ends with recording dances.

Faculty members serving on the Recreation committee are: Hobart F. Heller, chairman, Miss McKay, Miss Hupprich, Jay B. MacGregor, and P. J. Van Horn. Student members are: Gwen Oliver, Rose Marie Megaw, Glen Cooper, and Vincent Kelly.

What's This? Chaps, Spurs New Fashions!

What is the "Roundup"? We don't know. But we do know that every male student is invited to attend, to bring a former student as guest, to contribute some entertainment if he wishes. We know, too, that there will be only a very small fee for the day's entertainment and refreshment. When is the "Roundup" to be held? We're not even sure of that. Just keep watching the News for further announcements. We have been informed that it is to be made one of the outstanding events on the summer schedule. So collect your boots and saddle and be ready for a dash to the Eastern campus soon.

Degrees Received by Four EI Instructors

Four faculty members have received degrees within the past ten days. Charles S. Spooner of the natural science department received his Ph. D. in Zoology at the University of Illinois on June 8.

Lawrence F. Ashley was granted his Ph. D. in education and industrial arts at Ohio State university on Monday, June 8.

Frank A. Beu, Dean of the college, received his Ph. D. degree in exercises at the University of Chicago yesterday.

Vivla V. Russell received her Ed. D. in home economics and education from the University of Oklahoma last Monday, June 8.

Frank Cossins, student here during the past year, is heading a WPA recreation project. He has been leading his troupe regularly through radio and stage presentations.

Registration Dance Friday Nite Opens Eastern's Social Season

Johnny Reynolds and Orchestra Play; Reception Held for New Students at Eastern.

An informal reception and the registration dance officially opened all-school summer social activities Friday evening in the main building from 8 to 11:30.

Faculty members who were asked to receive were President and Mrs. Robert G. Buzzard, Miss Nathile McKay, Paris J. Van Horn, Miss Rose Zeller, Mr. and Mrs. Jay B. MacGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart F. Heller, Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Guinagh, Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Alter.

For dancing in the auditorium, Johnny Reynolds and his 9-piece band furnished music. About 150 students and guests were present, to many of whom dancing in the auditorium was a new experience.

For those not caring to dance, bridge was in progress at Pemberton Hall. Hostesses to the several tables in play were Pearl Gunn, Isabel St. John, and May Carnes.

The student recreation committee composed of Gwen Oliver, Rose Marie Megaw, Vincent Kelly, and Glenn Cooper was in charge of arrangements for the evening. Jennie Mae Huff, Georgia Leihser, and June Richey took care of the serving of punch and cookies in the reception room throughout the evening.

Former Art Teacher Will Be Wedded Soon

Miss Ruth Mooers, a former art teacher at Eastern State, is to be married at her home in Minneapolis in August to John Holmberg.

Since leaving Charleston, Miss Mooers has taught art in the Texas State College for Women at Denton, Texas. Mr. Holmberg is associated with the advertising department of the Ford Motor company of Minneapolis. The couple will make their home in that city.

EI Women Will Hear Number of Speakers

Plans are being made to present to the women of the college several speakers at various times throughout the term. Miss Nathile McKay, dean of women, who is in charge of arrangements, states that the meetings will be called, and the speakers will probably be chosen from townspeople and faculty.

Great poets, artists and statesmen have sprung from Harvard but surely the school excels in producing past masters at the fine art of publicity.

PEMBERTON GIRLS PLAN FOR SUMMER SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Tentative plans have been made as to social activities at Pemberton Hall during the summer term. These include weekly Sunday open-house to friends, picnics and special parties, and co-operation in a recreational hour for all students of the college. Election of officers to be in charge of these functions will be held this week.

Two EI Students Married Sunday

Ruth Neal, Carl Cooper Are Married at Windsor.

Ruth Neal and Carl Cooper, students of Eastern, were married in Windsor at 5:30 p. m. Sunday. The Reverend Mr. Garst performed the ceremony.

Evelyn Ringo and Robert Johns, also students here, were attendants. Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served to the bridal party, close relatives, and a few other friends at the home of the bride's parents near Windsor.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper will live in Charleston.

Among the wedding guests were Raymond Cole, Gail Weber of Stewardson, and Catherine Lumbrick, all students of EI.

GUESTS OF ROTHSCHILDS

Mrs. Donald A. Rothschild has as her house guest Miss Newman, a Chicago friend. Miss Newman will visit in Charleston until next Tuesday.

Guests at Pemberton Hall
President and Mrs. R. G. Buzzard and sons, John, Charles, and Robert, were dinner guests at Pemberton Hall Sunday, June 14.

And Still They Wed; Three More Recorded

Ione Bertolet, Charleston, and A. Oliver Bower, also of this community, were united in marriage at eight o'clock Thursday evening. The wedding occurred at the home of the bride's mother at 530 C street in the presence of 50 guests.

Mrs. Bower is a graduate of the two-year course at Eastern. For the past seven years she has taught the fourth grade at the Franklin school in Charleston.

Mr. and Mrs. Bower have departed on a brief wedding trip. They will return soon to the Bower farm near Bushton.

Russell Smith Marries

Alma Jones and Russell (Judy) Smith, former Eastern student, were married in Casey on Friday, June 5. Mr. Smith attended the college for two years. He is now superintendent of a CCC camp in Metropolis. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home in that city.

Wed Xmas Day—Announce Now

The second Christmas-time wedding to be announced in June became known to the public last week when it was revealed that Esther Wetsel and Kenneth F. Eaton were married Christmas night in Charleston. Mrs. Eaton is a graduate of the junior college and a teacher in the Mt. Carmel school system. Mr. Eaton is employed in a drug store at Paris, Ill., where the young couple will reside.

STEAK FRY IS GIVEN WEDNESDAY EVENING

Several students and former students of the college enjoyed a steak fry at Walker's Ford Tuesday evening. Those in the party were Johnnie Blackburn, Jack Kincaid, Paul Tinnea, Byron Miller, and Alice Murphin.

Miss Nathile McKay Entertains Officers

Miss Nathile McKay was hostess to the officers of the householders Friday afternoon, June 12, at Pemberton Hall. Plans were made at this time for a reception for the new dean of women, and for the first fall meetings of the group. Officers are Mrs. J. A. McNutt, president; Mrs. W. B. Foltz, vice-president; Mrs. Audley Rennels, secretary; Mrs. Olive Graham, and Miss Edna Corzine, entertainment committee.

CLASSES ENTERTAINED

Miss Hunter entertained her three penmanship classes with a picnic on the campus picnic grounds Thursday evening. Games were played after the picnic supper was served. The classes plan to make this a weekly event.

Miss Hunter also contributed a special "Stray Notes" column to the News on the occasion of its anniversary issue in the spring of 1935.

Fraternity Members Leave For Vacations

Alumni and active members of Phi Sigma Epsilon are seeking varied points for vacation stays this summer. Johnny Powers is working towards his master's degree in physical education at Iowa university.

Jerry Royer is attending the same school but hopes to get his master's in English.

Jim Michaels, active, is on a trip to Colorado for a visit with relatives and friends. He plans to stay there most of the summer.

Lealyn Clapp will do work towards his master's at the University of Illinois.

William Peters is another grad working on a master's at the U. of I.

Carl Hance will study at the University of Illinois during the last six weeks' term. It will be his second summer session at the university.

Charles Brian, active, is working in Kansas City with Hank Preece, alumni member of the fraternity who is also attending a college in that city.

Daughter Is Born to Former EI Teacher

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haven of White Plains, N. Y., are the parents of a baby daughter born Tuesday night, June 9. Mrs. Haven is the former Miss Lillie Thompson, head of the home economics department at Eastern. She left here six years ago and gained her master's degree at Columbia university. After that, she taught for two years in White Plains. Mr. Haven is a teacher in the same city.

Just Women's Dorm! That's EI Now

Women in the college during the summer term number 448 in total. Of these 209 hope to reduce and are therefore, we presume, doing light housekeeping. Pem Hall harbors 62 innocents from the elements, while 59 of the same drive back and forth from home every morning and evening, some of whom live as far as 50 miles from Charleston. Forty-three girls admitted inabilities or at least unwillingness to practice the culinary arts and study, and are boarding out, 12 more are working for room and board, and one works for room only. Local Charleston families send 53 of the—dare we say "weaker"? sex, and nine live with relatives in Charleston. To get down to the important statistics, however, it is well-known that the total enrollment is 678. Now 678 minus 448 leaves 230, all of whom we may safely presume are men. The question is, what chance do 448 women have with only 230 men? Or should we say what chance do 230 men have with 448 women?

Vaughn Armer Will Attend Convention

Vaughn Armer, EI alumnus, will represent the American Business club of Mattoon at the national convention at Newark, New Jersey, this week. Mr. Armer is president of the Mattoon club, having been elected to that honor this spring.

STUDENTS FORBIDDEN TO OBSERVE AT T. S.

The News erroneously stated last week that summer students were welcome to observe classes at any time in the Training school. This plan of unrestricted observation was tried at the beginning of the summer term in 1935 and it was not successful. So Walter W. Cook, head of the training school, has decided to permit directed observation only, unless the teachers in the training school signify that they do not mind occasional visits.

Mr. Cook explains that there are certain times while taking over a new class that the training-teacher does not wish a large number of observers. With inexperienced teachers, the college encourages directed observation rather than un-directed observation.

Physical Education Placed on Justifiable Basis

Summer term students taking physical education may be exposing themselves to a program of athletic education bound to come sometime in the near future for year-round service. Paris J. Van Horn, director in the absence of other athletic staff members, has devised a program which incorporates all that has been missing before—variety and balance. Volley ball, tennis, golf, playground ball, horseshoes, track fundamentals, decathlon work, play periods—all the diversions from which every student can find one to his liking—are included. Appeal to all interests, then, helps justify the program.

A program incorporating variety, planned variety, should be of value to the student who plans to teach next year. It acquaints him with the fundamentals of more sports and shows him how to feature these sports on a physical education program.

Chief complaint with past programs here has been that they were unrelated to teaching. They have failed to point the way to proper handling of physical education and they have offered at best only a short period of violent exercise. Our athletic department for the past several years has done its best to bring the program up to standard and has been succeeding, in the face of handicaps due to lack of gymnasium facilities. It is much harder to have a varied program during the regular school year because classes are so large and because weather conditions usually will not permit many of the outdoor sports offered this summer.

Wasting An Opportunity

One student signified a desire to take history 30, the course in Illinois history and geography offered this summer. The course involved lectures and directed study on the campus, six out of seven week-end field trips, and the preparation of a local field study report by January 1, 1937. Four quarter hours credit could be had by taking the course.

Why no more than one student signed up for this subject is something of a mystery. We have reason to believe that the estimated cost of the week-end field trips probably ranks this as a one-hero cause. Forty dollars looms quite bulky to most students. But we are referring only to the regular school year students who (1) have not been working, (2) who do not have jobs which they should be securing in the future by the proper study now. Summer term students find themselves in a different position, one considerably more awkward when some explanation is attempted as to why only one student enrolled for history 30. We know that they have been working and that they should be securing their jobs in the future. We assume that they have some money. We assume, too, that more than one social science major is here this summer. We will wager, in fact, that there are more social science majors than any other.

There is no use now to wail about the ineptitude of our students. The best we can do is suggest that you take advantage of a substitute project offered by the history and geography departments. Mr. Seymour is willing to conduct one week-end tour over the Lincoln Trail some time soon. The cost will be small, the educational value large. Why waste another opportunity?

From Ole Poker Face, Aboard S. S. Queen Mary; Fine Time, Wish You, Etc

Aboard S. S. Queen Mary
Dear friends:

Having a fine time. Sleeping under blankets every night. Wish you were here. Of course we don't. We just want to make you feel bad.

Summer school is going thru college steerage. It's all the same boat, but you're way aft. Considerable pitching and listing. All's well if you meet your heavy date in the registration line, or if you find the right apple to polish. Otherwise bon voyage is bum.

The truth about summer school has never been written. We think the coal dealers are behind it. Many a faculty coal bill is not paid till July.

Tired teachers listen to tired professors because they are tired. It's all so crazy.

Summer school is a disease. You give it to the other fellow because somebody gave it to you.

It's at summer school you exhume romance. It's a hundred to one you won't meet him, and if you do, it's a hundred to one he won't remember you.

Summer school is a bird haven. You sparrow your money to have a lark. It swallows the change.

You kid yourself into going. Then you start kidding the professors. Many a winter school student learned the art of apple polishing at summer school.

The larger the classes, the less you have to talk.

The less you have to talk, the more you are stimulated to talk.

Everyone tells the professor he never studied harder in his life. The poor professor has to sit up nights trying to find somebody to flunk.

Everything's different at summer school. In the winter it's the Teachers College News. In the summer it's the Teachers College Blank. In the winter the professor coaxes the students. In the summer the students coax the professor.

You go to summer school to get a vacation from home. Then you take a geography tour to get a vacation from summer school.

It's better to be fired with enthusiasm than to burn down the schoolhouse. You might get desperate at home.

Summer school is the only real proof that teachers take life seriously.

The logic of the whole thing is simple. Teachers can't be idle three months without going crazy.

Having a fine time. Sleeping under blankets every night. Wish you were here. Oh yeah?

Signed: Ole Poker Face.

Inquiring Reporter Learns History of Summer School Students at Eastern Finds Eastern Is Place Where Old Friends Meet.

Summer school seems to be the place where old friends meet. Among the 678 students now enrolled, there are many who have been a part of the summer school for several years past. Here is a bit about them—

Kenneth Baker '26 tells us he has been teaching for the past ten years and is now an instructor in math and book-keeping in Sigel.

Fred Koertge, who was on the News staff in '25, is the manual arts teacher in Bridgeport high school.

Roy Ratts has been teaching in Phoenix, Arizona.

Leon Strader '30 has been teaching in the Westfield grade school system for the past six years.

Vernon Farmer '36 is principal of the grade school at West Salem.

Jake Volc '34 will coach and teach math and science at Redmon next year. He has been at Greenup for the past two years.

Mrs. Ruth Reat, a persistent summer school student, is one of Coles county's successful rural school teachers.

Florence Agee, who has been teaching for some time in Champaign, is here, and so is "Tim" Turney, one of Mattoon's fifth grade teachers.

Elizabeth Jones, who is not an old familiar face at summer school but a Pemite of last school year, brought her mother to school with her this term. They will both teach in Crawford county next year.

Meet John Lewis; He Is Postmaster

John Lewis, president-elect of the Student Council writes that he has secured a position as postmaster of Waggoner, for the summer months.

Mr. Lewis intends to arrive in Charleston about September 1 to assist with the orientation program of the freshman class. A large part of the program will be turned over to the Student Council next year.

MUTINY! DAMSELS COP FRAT'S NAME

One of our favorite campus fraternities suffered a horrendous blow to its dignity recently when a graduate mailed a newspaper clipping to the college which reflects upon the nomenclature of this club. Carlos Cutler, graduate, mailed an item which told of a club of girls who had done a commendable deed in Chicago. They donated several sets of earphones to a church that deaf people might hear the sermons. These girls call their club "Fidelis." The boys on our campus who pride themselves on the dignity of their good deeds are somewhat offended. They refuse, however, to change the name of their fraternity. They are going to suggest instead that the girls call themselves "Fidelettes."

Dances at Decatur Will Be Featured

A letter from Lew Hogan, manager of dances held frequently at the Decatur Armory, brought word of the appearance of Ted Weems and his famous band at the Armory tonight. Mr. Hogan had assumed that the News was discontinued for the summer and consequently failed to run an ad in last week's issue. Mr. Hogan offers special prices to Eastern students by mailing in his dance ad.

During the rest of the summer the News will carry all ads of the Decatur dances. Mr. Hogan hopes to offer several of the big time dance bands of the country during the summer.

The BIG and little in Review

Richard Dailey '36 has accepted a position in Springfield with the Central Illinois Public Service office. He is to be permanently employed with that company. . . . Frederick Powell, a student here in 1934-35, who now attends the Missouri university at Columbia, Mo., is visiting here for a few days. Mr. Powell has been elected editor of the Shamrock, official publication of the engineering school at Missouri U. The magazine is issued monthly. He was a member of the News staff while here contributing a column and many news items. . . . When John Snyder, proprietor of the Candy Shop, heard Sunday night that he had become a grandfather, he promptly fished out some of his choicest cigars and passed them out to the editor and others. Incidentally, that efficient new clerk at the Candy Shop is Marion Mathas, class of '36, and a student here during the summer term. . . . Russell Tripp, employed in the department of education at the State Capitol building, is supervising official publications emanating from that office. He has converted the Educational Press Bulletin, pride of the office, into a worthwhile, interesting organ of news and views.

FROM URBANA COMES AN . . .

Interesting opinion from Professor R. R. Barlow, associate on the journalism staff at the University of Illinois. Mr. Barlow, until the past year, has been adviser to the Illinois College Press association. News heads, particularly Adviser F. L. Andrews, have had many contacts with the able professor, since the paper is a member of the association. In a recent interview, Mr. Barlow expressed himself as believing that international discord is the product of a muzzled press. Commenting on the situation in Europe after a six months' study taken early in 1935-36, Mr. Barlow analyzed current difficulties.

HE MAKES THE FOLLOWING . . .

Observations on the European press: "The European newspaper reader is merely a robot manipulated by dictators and bureaucrats, who make them think and act as they wish. Americans, on the other hand, live in the light of knowledge and facts about what is going on in the world through newspapers free to print the facts and all shades of opinion; the European lives in a mental fog. European newspapers are not free to keep their readers enlightened. The German knows practically nothing about what is going on beyond his borders. Italian journalists print what Mussolini gives them. The Englishman sees Hitler only through the eyes of the Foreign Office." And then Mr. Barlow gives his interpretation on the "state of the nation" in regards to a free press: "In America the free flow of news is the nerve-center of progress. The reader is free to think and act for his own and the common good. He is self-propelled and does not have to get his initiative from the prod of harsh rulers. The result is that the American public stands for progress, tolerance, and peace."

FLORENCE COTTINGHAM SAYS . . .

What this college needs is a happy medium between the average academic year student and the average summer term scholar. If we could strike an average between the lazy, uninterested attitude of many who loaf here all winter, and the intense, "there's nothing worth-while but books" mien of the returning teacher, we would have an interesting and intelligent group.

But they are diametrically opposed. In the winter the library is the corner of 42nd and Broadway, in the summer it's a morgue, a sanctified holy of holies. And with the same library and staff where else could the responsibility be but with the students? In the winter activities pile up on one another and in the summer the News carries on.

Surely we're not to believe that teachers are long-faced, solemn individuals, whose lives are devoted to reading and writing, or that they are flippant, wise-cracking collegians. We would like to see some of the returning teachers take an interest in summer activities and school functions.

A FEDERAL GOVERNMENT . . .

Bureau is attempting to secure private jobs for unemployed young people. The Bureau is making visits to private employers, asking them to share the burden of caring for the four to five million unemployed young persons between the ages of 16 and 25. Placement service centers have been established in 24 cities over the United States. Applications for jobs have far exceeded the total of placements—a natural result. Thirty-five per cent of the applicants have never worked before. This imposes a handicap on the bureau.

Summer's Sports

By Summers

Now that the National Republican convention has had its quadrennial fling at the front pages, it is time to turn to some other great sporting events of the year. Probably no sporting event this year looms larger in interest than the Olympic trials followed by the Olympics. Several of the trials in this country have already been held at various centers selected last fall. Boxers, wrestlers, fencers, basketball players, tennis candidates — all have gone, or are going through their paces. But in spite of the multiple events on the Olympics card, track and field competition still remains the chief drawing card.

That this is true we can hardly dispute when college and city papers with increased frequency mention America's chances in Berlin, and speak usually in terms of track possibilities. From all indications, the United States is again favored with Germany, England, and France the closest contenders. It is surprising to note that the foreign press concedes victory to the U.S. It would logically be supposed by foreign and native observers alike, that our universities will supply the bulk of the track contingent. Yet as in no other year this fails to hit the mark. The answer is this: professional athletic clubs have hit a tremendous boom since the last Olympics and the cream of our athletes wear the colors of this or that club.

Already track coaches are beginning to name a select few from the collegiate ranks who will represent the U.S. They are pretty well agreed that no one can keep Jesse Owens off the team. They are willing to concede that Eddie O'Brien of Syracuse, Williams, Southern California, and Ellinwood of Chicago probably can stave off professional competitors in the 440 yard dash. But at that point all unanimity ceases. Athletic club competitors seem to be favored in the distance events and most of the field events.

A group of loyal Little Nineteen followers have been bold enough to suggest that at least one competitor in this Illinois conference has better than fair chances to make the team. Al Siepert of North Central, pole vaulter par excellence, has inspired this confidence. His consistent leaps over the 13-foot standard have led to the confidence—or overconfidence, as the case may be. Another Little Nineteen star, Karl Hein, quarter miler from DeKalb, gets occasional mention. He can step off the 440 most any day in time once good enough for a world record. By that, we mean he can run the distance in 48 to 49-seconds time. But there are too many men who can easily clip off the yardage in less than 47 seconds to inspire any high hopes for the graceful, powerful DeKalb product.

Basketball Coaching Course Given by Means of Lecture and Clinic Sessions

Paris J. Van Horn Is in Charge of Large Class; Program for Term Divided Into Four Parts.

Paris J. Van Horn, physical education instructor during the summer term, is conducting his basketball coaching course under a lecture-clinic system. An "old timer" at the game, Mr. Van Horn has a wide basketball knowledge to put into his demonstrations and lectures. His past record shows four years' playing time in high school and the same number of seasons in college. He was awarded All-State forward certificates his last years at Indiana State Teachers college.

Ten years of coaching experience supplements his collegiate record.

Among his students are coaches of eighth grade and junior high teams who state his course outline involves all phases of basketball and is in a systematic form.

The regular enrollment in his class is 23, although an additional six or seven attend who have had the course but who wish to obtain Mr. Van Horn's viewpoint on the game, attend.

The class work is divided into four main divisions, each taking two weeks. A brief summary of the class schedule for those who are interested in attending at any time, is as follows:

The first two weeks are devoted to fundamentals. Instructions are given in handling, passing, shooting, and dribbling the ball. Body movement, pivoting, faking, and free-throwing are also stressed.

The various types of individual defenses are studied the second two weeks. Offensive plays are given the third two weeks while the last week's work will include conditioning, scouting equipment, and administration.

The class meets daily.

Remember your friends with flowers. They say it best.—Carroll-Florist, 413 Seventh Street.—Phone 39.

He is easily the best competitor at his distances in the conference, but company, like the wind, gets so fast in the higher circles.

One other Little Nineteen star of the past season may do even better than the two already mentioned. He is Gene Payton, colored flash from Carbondale. His speciality is the 220-yard low hurdles. He won the state meet with ten yards to spare in new-record time. Charles Austin, dash standout for Eastern and conductor of a sports column in the News during the past year, especially likes Payton's chances. He praises Payton's speed and form which combined seem to conspire to make the hurdles dip as he skims across.

Three Intramural Tournaments Planned

Three tournaments, tennis, golf and soft ball, will be offered as part of the summer athletic program by the Athletic Department for the summer. P. J. Van Horn, director of the physical education department for the summer term, will supervise the tournaments.

Mr. Van Horn has requested that all men interested in any of the three sports report to the gymnasium at 5 o'clock this afternoon (Tuesday). At that time the dates of each event will be set and drawings will probably be made.

Men other than Varsity men will be eligible to compete. Varsity letter winners will not be allowed to compete in their respective sports.

Mr. Van Horn announced that medals will be awarded to the winners.

EX-STUDENTS AID IN SETTING NEW RECORD

Two former Eastern students, Dale McNutt and Arno'd Bell, have recently won athletic honors as members of a championship bowling team. Playing for Delphi, Ind., the two helped win the state championship of Michigan in a tournament at Greenville June 4 and 5. The team on which they competed broke three world records.

Mr. McNutt manages the bowling alleys at De'phi and Mr. Bell is in charge of a similar enterprise at Vandalia, Ill. Mr. McNutt holds the Mid-West record for consecutive high scores.

WINDOWS IN GYM ARE NEARING COMPLETION

WPA workmen have almost completed work on remodeling and replacing windows in the gymnasium. Instead of the old in-swinging menaces once so dangerous to athletes, new-type screens and windows are being substituted. This work has been going on for about two months.

students who have played golf before will assist Mr. Van Horn.

Two play periods, in which the students may choose sports of their individual liking, are to be held. Horse-shoes, tennis, badminton, golf, basketball, wrestling and others are optional on these days.

Some time will be spent on track fundamentals and decathlon work. Some of the events are baseball throw, 100 yard dash, standing broad jump, running broad jump, and shot put.

In the eight weeks Mr. Van Horn will lecture on devising a health program for a community. He draws his knowledge from personal experience with such a program in Brocton, Ill. His health program is designed for the school system which has no regular nurse, hence no regular or complete check on the health of students.

Details of this program will be included in the News at some later date.

Placement Pace Slackens as School Year Ends

Four additional placements during the past week boosted the year's total to 157 in the Placement Bureau files. Last week's record was considerably smaller than those of past weeks. This is normal, however since the flurry of hiring usually ends around the first week in June. From now on the placements will be smaller in number but very steady.

Those placed last week were: Dorothy Fuller, Watseka, city grades; Floyd Pruett, Farina, city grades; Marvin Harrison, Sumner; Mildred Uhl, Dundas, rural.

E. H. Taylor Wins Praise at Western

According to an article appearing in the Charleston Daily Courier Monday evening, Edson H. Taylor, head of the math department here, is receiving high praise at Macomb where he is teaching this summer. An article in the Kalamazoo Gazette reviews some of Mr. Taylor's accomplishments as a teacher of mathematics and authority on the subject.

Mr. Taylor's textbook, "Arithmetic for Teacher Training Classes" is used at Western State Teachers, as in many others either as a full-time or supplementary text. Mr. Taylor has his degree of bachelor of science from National Normal university, and his M. A. and Ph. D. from Harvard. He has written many articles on mathematics. He is chairman of the committee on the Training of Teachers of elementary and secondary mathematics in the United States. This organization is affiliated with the American Commission on the Teaching of Mathematics.

The article says that Mr. Taylor also spent six months in 1913 visiting schools in Germany.

COLLEGE NEWS STAFF IS TO BE ANNOUNCED

The complete staff for the summer News will be published in next week's issue. Several students last week signified desires to write for the eight issues. Edith Stoltz, editor of the summer News in 1932 and an associate editor twice since then, has accepted assistant editorship. Miss Stoltz will assume her office this week, not having been here for the first week of school.

There are still vacancies on the staff. If you care to write for the News, attend the staff meeting after chapel this morning. Assignments will be made at that time.

Ray Sanders Named Head of NYA Here

Ray Sanders has been named student director of the National Youth Administration aid at Eastern. He succeeds Jack Austin '36, with whom he has worked as an assistant this year.

Mr. Austin will have a complete report on the year's work ready for the News next week.
