DON'T FORGET THE CARNIVAL, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27

Do You Use It?

The greatest dictionary ever compiled, in fact, the greatest secular book ever written, is the "Murray's," or "New English Dictionary." About 63 years of work have already been put in on this masterpiece and yet it is not finished. When completed it will be the great treasury of the English language, containing as it does every derivation that is humanly possible to discover, and nearly 6,000,000 uses of current and obsolete English words.

Twenty-two years after work on it had started, Sir James Augustus Henry Murray was chosen its editor. On July 26, 1916, Sir James died, with his task of research, analysis, revision, and organization and management of many assistants, and some 1300 readers, the world over, practically completed.

One of the most highly valued readers was a madman named Minor—Dr. W. C. Minor—who was responsible for from 5000 to 6000 quotations showing the uses of rare words. Sir James recognized the ability of a contributor by the name of Minor and decided to investigate. He found him to be an American citizen, a veteran of the civil war, and in a mental asylum. It was Minor's unpleasant duty to brand a deserter and it left a decidedly morbid impression on him, and later upon suffering a sunstroke he became the victim of a gradually increasing mental aberration. Hoping to be cured he sailed for England, and while there he committed a murder.

Each word of the 500,000 or more words in this dictionary is treated as follows: first, the word is given with any variations in spelling, and with its etymological derivations; secondly, all shades of meaning since its introduction are given, with appropriate quotations from authors since 1150; thirdly, its obsolescence in use if any is noted; and fourthly, its combinations with other words are noted.

Dramatic Club Meets

The members of the dramatic club met last Friday night in the reading room, where plans for holding the "little theatre" were discussed and the announcement of the play selected for the carnival was made. John Underhill's play, "The Prodigal Doll," was read by Florence McDowell, and Harry Rawland made a short talk "The Toy Theatre."

Bulletin Sixty-six

The Normal School Bulletin number 66, entitled "Training Departments in the State Normal Schools in the U. S." is just off the press. L. M. Wilson, of the psychological department prepared this thesis to be used in obtaining his doctor's degree. It consists of 115 pages, which are divided into six sections. Among the points discussed are: The facilities and organization of the training departments; how the departments try to teach students to teach; and the guiding purposes of these departments. This is an interesting bulletin, and it contains much information for one who is in the teaching profession.

The next bulletin will be an Alumni Register. A similar register was prepared in 1914, and since it was so popular, this new bulletin had to be compiled for publication. This register will give the history of all the E. I. graduates since they left the school.

Y. W. C. A. Meets

The Y. W. C. A. held their weekly meeting in the parlor of Pemberton Hall Thursday evening. Services were led by Sylvia Ashworth. Dorothy Bratton read, Maude McDowell gave a short talk on "Love and Companionship" and Margaret McLaughlin talked on the work for the year. The meetings hereafter are to be held on Thursday evenings instead of Friday. All girls of the school and women of the faculty are invited to attend these meetings.

Last Game of the Season

The last foot ball game of the season will be played this week when we meet the Merom College team from Indiana. Merom has a team which will make the contest very interesting. Our team has been practicing hard the past week and they are confident of winning. Every one is wanted out at the field to boost the team by cheering for we must win this game.

Let's win the last game.
Do your bit.

The Student Council met Friday afternoon and arranged a program for the Carnival on November 27th. Places were made for the plays, stunts and side shows to be given by each class.

Coach Lantz refereed a foot ball game at Bloomington last Saturday.

Mr. Wilson Leaving

Mr. Lester M. Wilson, senior class advisor and psychology instructor expects to leave here about the middle of January for Lima, Peru. He has signed a contract which places him in official charge of statistical measurements and the certification of teachers including the preparation of questions for teachers examinations. The salary is $7500, with transportation to and from. Mr. Wilson will be missed very much by students, faculty and all who know him.

Student Teachers Entertained

Miss Jessup, history teacher in the training school entertained the student history teachers at her home on 9th and Taylor last Saturday night. The evening was spent in playing games and making a small booklet which tried the literary talent of those present. After this refreshments were served. Everyone present had a delightful time, as one of the students expressed it, this will be one of the memories brought up when we think of our Senior year at E. I.

Football Squad Steak Roast

Thesday evening about 25 members of the football squad and their lady friends, Coach and Mrs. C. P. Lentz, Mr. Crowe and Miss Molyneaux, hiked to Wilson's woods where the annual steak roast was held. From the number of steaks consumed everyone seems to have satisfied his appetite. As usual, everyone enjoyed the evening, and as we sing, "I've had enuf but not too much to long for more," so do those who were present express themselves.

Armistice Day Celebration

A number of ex-service men of the school and their lady friends attended the banquet and dance given by the local post of the American Legion. The question of the day was, "Where were you two years ago today?" and many different answers were received.

A reprint of the complete file of the Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper of the American Expeditionary Forces, printed in France, from Feb. 8, 1918, to June 13, 1919, has been added to the library.

Sharpen up your skates, the ice on lake Amoweenah is getting thicker every day.

Warbler Staff Elected

At a recent meeting of the Senior class, it was decided to publish another annual this spring and the staff was elected. Oliver J. McNeilly was chosen editor-in-chief, Vernon E. Barnes, business manager, Catherine Lytle, circulation manager, and Clyde H. Leathers and Evelyn Allison, associate editors.

The Warbler being something new to this school, there having been but two previous volumes published, the Senior class expects to make this one the best, and to set a standard for future volumes. A great many have the idea that the annual is published by the staff, and it usually is; but it really is, or is supposed to be, published by the class. It is the duty of the staff to direct the work of the class, not to do all the work. Not only is the Senior class expected to contribute, but each of the other classes will be expected to help fill up the volume. Much more will be said about this matter later.

Many yellow and white chrysanthemums, to which blue and gray ribbons were attached, were sold by the girls of the school.

The weather man assisted the committee in making this day a success.

Did you notice the cheer leaders at the game? Who said we were not the style?

Just one hundred registered on Home Coming Day. Seventy-nine of these were graduates of E. I. This list is not complete as all the home comers did not register.

First Semester Dance

The Charleston Normal School Club of the University of Illinois will hold their first semester dance next Friday evening, Nov. 19. Tickets, at two dollars each, may be obtained from Edgar Harris, or S. Goodwin, Urbana, Ill. All E. I. students and faculty, and all former members of the student body and faculty, are invited to attend.

Misses Pearl Price and Pauline Ashworth are on the road to recovery after having been operated on for appendicitis.

From the number of meetings the Juniors are having, one would judge that they are quite an industrious lot.

OUR SCHOOL

Do you know—

That the legislature of this state,
by an act approved May 22, 1895,
to provide more adequate facilities for the training of teachers for the public schools of the state, established the Eastern Illinois State Normal School?

That on Sept. 7, 1895 the five trustees provided for in that act, selected a beautiful 40-acre tract of land three-fourths of a mile south of the public square of Charleston?

That the citizens of Charleston bought this land and presented it to the state?

That on Dec. 2, 1895, the contract was made for the erection of the building?

That the cornerstone was laid on the afternoon of May 27, 1896?

That the building and grounds
were dedicated August 29, 1899, and that on Sept. 12, 1899, the institution was opened to students?

That during the first year there were 17 members of the faculty and 240 students?

That the first class graduated in June, 1900, and was composed of 4 students?

That in 1907 the state legislature
appropriated $100,000 for a woman's building, and a gymnasium—
the first appropriation for a woman's building ever made in the state of Illinois?

That this building, now known as Pemberton Hall was finished and occupied Jan. 3, 1909?

That our athletic field is one of the best, if not the best of such of secondary colleges in this state or neighboring states?

That our training school building was completed in 1913 at a cost of $75,000?

That our manual arts building is well equipped for manual arts and mechanical drawing, and that soon
a printing press will be added?

That our library is very well equipped as to books and pamphlets, and also as to expert librarians?

That our gardener is one of the best to be found?

That we have a wonderful greenhouse?

That our forestry contains over 6000 trees?

That our laboratories have the best of equipment?

That we have over 15000 preserved specimens of both local and foreign fauna, including marine animals, and that there are many shells and corals and thousands of mounted insects and other dried specimens?

That we have over 2500 lantern
slides?

That our entertainment course offers an opportunity to see, hear and enjoy things which one otherwise would have no chance to enjoy?

That the boys' and the Girls'
glee clubs offer a chance for many to learn to sing and enjoy good music?

That the dramatic club is an organization which permits the students to read and study the works of good playwrights?

That the student council is becoming an active and important organization of the school?

That the Students of the school issue a 4-page weekly called the "Normal School News," and that it deserves the support of the students, teachers and alumni?

That the Senior class issues an annual called the "Warbler," that the price of the annual this year will range between $1.50 and $2.00,
and that anyone wishing a copy
should send his name to Miss Catherine Lytle, in care of Pemberton Hall?

That we have the best faculty to be found in any school anywhere?

That the student body agrees with the student who said he wished Dr. Lord was president of the U. S. instead of just E. I.?

That our former faculty members and students are making good in the world?

That we have the best school
ever?

That we want more students?

That we want you to advertise this school, tell others about it, and if anyone wants to attend a good school send him here?

That you didn't know some of these facts before?

That you do now?

If you have been doing all you can for E. I.?

If not, why not?

THE INCUBATOR

Dear Inc: Any one wishing to Please call at Geometry I. 10:20.

Perhaps the legs will be there also.

A SENIOR'S HAPPY-EST MOMENT
When he fads across the front page of his plan, "An excellent plan." R. M.

We wonder when the Prep boys will no longer feel privileged to flirt
with Senior girls. R. M.

EMBARRASSING FOR TWO
When you reach your hand in your coat pocket from behind and find somebody on the other side of the rack reaching in the other pocket.
The question naturally arises,
"What for?" R. M.

How many of the Seniors and faculty enjoy wading the water between the main building and the training school on rainy days? Oh,
for a drain! R. M.

THAT GUILTIEST FEELING
When you answer a telephone call and tell the party at the other end of the line that you have to study, and then spend the evening dancing.
L. B.

Have you made your plans for the carnival? J. B. S.

BEGINNING TO WEAKEN
After we gave notice that the Inc.
was to be discontinued if not better supported a number of students contributed, but now interest has died again. There are a number who like to read the Inc. that never think of contributing, and many perhaps wonder why their contributions were omitted, but most such cases are personal jokes or slams. Remember this is not a joke section.
We are saving that for the Warbler.
One contributor wishes us to have a two-columns Inc., and if the students would keep it filled each week
we would; but as it is one column is bad enuf. Remember, if you don't contribute to it, the Inc. will be discontinued. THE EDITOR.

CHANCES FOR A GOOD TRACK TEAM

E. I. is going to have a good track team this spring, for there is plenty of material at present as the trip to Blackburn demonstrated, and again the hallowe'en pranks. If some of the boys could go over the hurdles
as readily as they went over the fence and badges, they would break
the hurdle records. THE EDITOR.
