E. I. LOSES TWO GAMES

Monday the E. I. nine invaded the Bradley grounds at Peoria and came very near bringing home the big end of the score. Probably if Bradley had had a good umpire instead of a "dub" the end of the story would have been different. We seldom kick upon the decisions of the official, but they were more than justified Monday. However, the Bradley coach apologized after the game for the kind of umpire they had; but that did not help the score and E. I. lost another game which they should have won.

The game opened with Tyler, who beat St. Viators, pitching for Bradley. With the exception of a little wildness he pitched a good game until the eighth inning. Then the E. I. batters hit him hard for seven runs. With the score eight to ten and two gone Carroll replaced Tyler. Coyle hit a grounder and from the viewpoint of every one except the umpire, was safe by two steps. Score E. I. 8, Bradley 10.

Coach Lantz saved Greathouse for the Millikin game on Tuesday, and started Duncan pitching and Haddock catching. Duncan was not pitching up to his usual form and so Prather replaced him in the third inning after Bradley had obtained six runs. During the fourth inning it looked as if Prather was not going to be able to stop the Bradley hard hitting batters, and they made three more runs.

During the rest of the game the team tightened up and allowed in only one more run on an error. Greathouse made a wonderful one hand catch in the fifth, which brought out the deserving applause of the spectators. Greathouse was the star of the game, getting a single and a three base hit with two on the sacks. Greathouse is one of the hardest workers on the team and his playing is the bright light of the E. I. nine.

CLASS MEMORIAL 1921

The class memorial for 1921 has been completed and adds much to the looks of the campus. The class made a wise and useful selection. The memorial, a long concrete seat located on north side of walk in front of Pemberton Hall, is very convenient, especially to the Hall girls. The seat harmonizes with the other building, being made of concrete. Probably the memorial will dedicated this coming alumni day, Saturday.

SPRING FANTASY

The second annual Spring Fantasy was given by the girls physical education class under the direction of Miss Stewart Saturday afternoon at 4:30 on the south campus. The demonstration was much better this year than last. The girls drills and dances were very good, showing the marks of much drill and hard work.

The fantasy speaks more for the work done by Miss Stewart with her gym classes than written volumes. The beautiful May Pole winding was one of the most beautiful sights that has ever been seen on the campus. All the numbers were very good. Miss Stewart's "Spring Time" dance, the drills and the "Sunbeam Polka" were probably the best numbers.

An interesting part of the fantasy was the crowning of the May Queen, Miss Marie Buckley, who was selected to have that honor by a vote of the student body. About a thousand people saw the demonstration. The number would have been larger if the fantasy had not been postponed from Thursday.

COUNTY FIELD MEET

With the winner in doubt until the last two events, Mattoon took the County field meet Saturday with 18 1-3 points. The other four entrants placed as follows: Oakland, 16 1-3; C. H. S., 12 1-3; T. C. High 11; Lerna, 8. Bates of Charleston high ran the half mile in 2:12, 2-6 sec. better than the district meet. The T. C. High relay team won the mile relay handily, time 4 minutes. The quartet was composed of Hall, Sanders, Replogle, McIntosh. Sanders obtained a lead of 40 yards in his quarter and McIntosh finished 60 or 60 yards ahead of the Oakland runner. Many of the events were won with poor records. However, Brainard, C. H. S., won the pole vault at 10 feet 6 inches, Oakland, the high jump at 5 feet 5 inches and Mattoon, he javelin at 142 feet 3 inches. The crowd was very small. The number of T. C. students out was surprisingly small.

This was the second annual County meet. A large silver cup, the Fred Harris trophy, was given to the winner. This cup was given by Mr. Harris of Mattoon. To obtain permanent possession of the trophy a team must win it three times.

The meet will be held again next year and should have a much larger patronage.

CITIZENS MILITARY

TRAINING CAMP

Any student or reader of the Teachers College News that wishes to send in an application for the Military Training Camp at Camp Custer, Michigan from August 2 to May 31 should do so immediately. No applications will be received after May 31. Several students of previous school years have attended these summer camps, and many are expected to take advantage of the opportunity offered this summer. The value of the military training to many of our students would be great, and it is hoped that as many of them as can will attend one of this many citizens camps. For further information see or call Dr. C. D. Swickard.

Help beat Millikin Thursday.

WE WANT 800 STUDENTS

NEXT FALL

With that end in view, every chapel period last week was given over to special exercises. Tuesday morning the children of the elementary school put on a "pep" program. Grades 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 came to the platform in class groups and gave their stunts. E. I. yell leaders would do well to capture some of the original yells that were given. Then the three lower grades massed themselves upon the stage and sang two E. I. songs.

Next, three speakers from the student body, Luke Crouse, Arthur Forster, Marian Everett gave short speeches. Crouse talked on why he came to E. I., and Miss Everett on the trips of the Senior Sextette last Monday to Arcola, Tuscola and Hindsboro. The event of students speaking to the school is too rare here. This is especially noticeable at "pep" and mass meetings of students. Tuesday morning demonstrated that we have at least three speakers. The class will grow. A lot of that 800 text fall are going to be orators. Keep in mind the prophecy at the pep meeting before the next football game.

The chapel exercises ended by the school singing the school song.

Thursday morning Mr. Neal and Mr. Hudson spoke as citizens of Charleston. Mr. Neal has lost none of his vigor and fire and besides being "chief high booster for E. I." can arouse more enthusiasm than any other E. I. campaigner. Mr. Hudson gave a business like speech on the meaning of the word drive and suggestions for our drive. There is no one better qualified to speak on this subject than Mr. Hudson. During the war he was the biggest figure in this part of the country in the Liberty Loans, Red Cross and War Charities drives.

Friday morning Mr. Widger, Coach Lantz and Mr. Allen spoke on different phases of the bigger enrollment campaign. Mr. Allen spoke of the effect of more training on one's earning power and Coach on the value of more students to E. I. and the different ways in which school organizations would be aided.

Saturday the Boys' Glee Club and Girls' Sextette sang. Each had to give an encore. The Boys' Glee Club has had its praises sung quite often and always deserved it. Now is a good time to shower some well earned praise on the Senior Sextette. '22 is the first class sponsor such a club. The venture has been wonderfully successful and any time the sextette is on any program at E. I. or other schools, instant recognition of its abilities is given. The members are Dorothy Nehrling, Lillian Myers, Marjorie Lynch, Harriet Tate, Anne Laughlin, Marian Everett. Mr. Koch is director. Undoubtedly he is in a large part responsible for the excellent work of the club.

The festival chorus sang, "Day-break" as the "grand finale."

Such was the great week of chapel programs, the first week of its kind at E. I. T. C. and a gratifying answer to all critics and pessimists of the school. It has been hinted that we need to lack school spirit. That was said by persons who did not know that every E. I. student and faculty member is loyal to the last yell and last effort in supporting the school. We do not parade our enthusiasm at every time and place but reserve our "pep" and spirit until the right moment and put over such a barrage of fight and E. I. advertisement that prospective students become enthused themselves and turn E. I. boosters.

It can be done, it must be done, it will be done. At least three fourths of the work must be done by you, student body of E. I. Are you ready, willing, eager, impatient to start your summer campaign. If you are then 800 students will be here Sept. 12, 1922. It is a test of your E. I. loyalty. We shall know the answer on enrollment day.

Millikin 11, E. I. 4

Tuesday E. I. met the Millikin nine on their diamond at Decatur. Millikin got the long end of the score but the team says that they did not deserve it. This game should have been won above all others, but the folding of the E. I. team defeated themselves. Missjudged flies, errors and three solid ivory bone-head plays helped Millikin to win.

Coach Lantz saved Greathouse for this game, but the winner off Rose Poly was out of form. Millikin registered nine hits (at least four of which are questionable) off him in 2 1-3 innings, and had crossed the plate seven times. Prather pitched the rest of the game and held Millikin errorless except in the seventh. Then with only one hit and several errors, not so say anything a star base head, Millikin made four runs.

Pfeffer, Millikin's underhand pitcher, pitched a good game for Millikin, allowing the E. I. batters only nine hits. However Millikin plays a return game here this week and the E. I. nine should easily win it. Every student should be out to see the most important game of the season.

WARBLER 1922

The Warbler for this year will be on sale the latter part of this week. The Warbler this year is the biggest and best that has ever been published. The annual which usually has one hundred and twenty pages, will have one hundred and sixty this year. The Warbler will include pictures of the different classes, faculty and athletic teams. Also many "snap shots" and pictures of the school buildings and campus. Every student should make arrangements to buy one of these annuals. The price is $1.75.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The Junior-Senior banquet will be held tonight. The Juniors have spent much time in planning this annual event and all those that have been lucky enough to get an invitation are looking forward to it with pleasure. The Juniors have demonstrated their abilities as entertainers several times this year, and without doubt the program for tonight will be one of the best ever given at this very enjoyable affair. More will said about the event in our next issue.

Miss Weller entertained the members of the Senior college class and Mr. and Mrs. Nehrling with a lunch on her lawn Sunday evening. With Miss Weller as hostess, it is needless to say that everyone enjoyed themselves very much.

CONFERENCE OF ILL. H. S. EDITORS, MANAGERS AND FACULTY ADVISERS

Thursday, May 18 the editors, business managers and faculty advisers of the different school papers in Illinois held a conference at the University of Illinois. This conference was held under the auspices of the course in Journalism at the University.

The morning session began at 9:00 o'clock. An address of welcome to the University was given by Dean Thomas Arkle Clark, the dean of men. Three other most interesting talks were given by Frank W. Scott, Director of Courses in Journalism, on the "Place of Publications in High Schools"; and by S. Dix Harwood, assistant in journalism on, "The Reporter on the High School Newspaper." The third talk was made by Elmo Scott Watson, instructor in journalism on, "Problems in Head Writing and Makeup." The discussion of these subjects were led by H. M. Hodgson, in charge of journalism laboratory and by S. W. Pettiglor, managing editor of the Daily Illini. In the discussion led by Mr. Hodgson, an article was taken from the Teachers College News. Mr. Hodgson said that on the whole the article was well written but that it was rather indelicate. It excited his curiosity but did not satisfy it.

After the morning session adjourned a visit was made to the plant of the Daily Illini, where a special issue was printed for the delegates. Then came luncheon at the Illinois Union Cafeteria, and entertainment features by Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi.

The afternoon session began promptly at 1:15 with a talk on "The Editorial Page", by Frank W. Scott. The discussion of this subject was led by D. F. LaFuss, the editor of the Daily Illini. A talk on "Financing and Managing the School Newspaper" was given by H. H. Finley, of the East St. Louis High School. Mr. Finley has made an extensive study of the methods used by the different school newspapers and their troubles and from the standpoint of the business manager, this talk was most helpful. The discussion on this subject was led by W. L. Krannert, business manager of the Illini Publishing Company. After this discussion the award of prizes in the newspaper contest. First honors were given to the Senn News published by the Senn High School in Chicago. Several other schools received honorable mention.

The delegates were given complimentary tickets to the May Fete given by the Women's Athletic Association.

A very enjoyable time was had by all the delegates and they voted to hold annual sessions at the University. Paul S. Hall.

UPSET IN THE RIVER

It is a beautiful night in June. The stars are shining brightly. The air is so very cool and refreshing that we drink it in and thirst for more. My friend and I decide to take a boat ride, as the river in near our house. We hear the whip-poor-will calling to its mate as we walk to the river. We get into the boat and drift along so peacefully and quietly that you can't hear any sound. We talk of everyday life, its sorrows, its joys, and what has happened since we last met. We are so interested in talking that we forget to watch where we are going. My friend is not even rowing now, and suddenly we look up; the boat is nearing the dam. My heart is beating like a trip-hammer; I scream, Oh, Leland, save me! We are going over the dam." He leaps up from his place in the boat and clasps me in his arms and shouts, "hold on to me, and I will swim to the shore." He leaps out, holding to me; the water almost strangles me instantly; I finally get my breath, but oh, the fear that steals over me! The water is icy cold, and sends a chill up and down my spine. How Leland ever managed to get to the shore, with me clinging to him, I do not know, but the next thing I know I am safe on terra firma, and Leland is making me in a shaky voice if I am all right. I could only say, "You have saved my life! Oh, how thankful I am that we are safe." We walk home with our wet clothes on, not feeling quite so happy, but truly thankful that we escaped death.

ALUMNI SATURDAY

Saturday will see the E. I. nine facing a team composed of old E. I. stars. Turner, the fast third baseman and home run hitter from Charleston ball club; Cook, second baseman and outfielder from the same team; Hill, former star E. I. twirler (probably the best we have ever had) will pitch, and R. Hamilton, catcher for four E. I. teams will be in his old position. Other players that will be in the lineup will be Anderson, Ralph Adams, and probably May, Freeland, G. Cook, or Harris.

If you have not paid your subscription for the Teachers College News, do so this week.

MILLIKIN THURSDAY

The biggest and best baseball game of the season will be played with Millikin Thursday. Although this team won from us last week, the E. I. nine does not give them the credit of being the best team. Of all games of the season, the two with Millikin should have been won. Coach Lantz's men have sworn to avenge themselves and are looking forward to the game as an opportunity to show the baseball fans of Charleston what an E. I. nine can do. Be out to see the game. Beat Millikin is still our slogan.

INDIANA NORMAL GAME POSTPONED

The baseball game with Indiana Normal was postponed last Thursday afternoon because of the rain. The game will probably be played next week. This game will end the baseball season for 1922.

A tennis tournament will probably be played off the last of this week or the first of next. Due to the short time in which the courts have been in condition not all of the tennis players have been able to practice.

JUNIOR COLLEGE 'GIVE DANCE
Saturday night the Juniors gave a splendid dance to which the Senior College and High School were invited. The dancing started about seven-thirty and lasted till eleven. Towards nine o'clock refreshments were served consisting of ice cream and cakes. Punch was on draught through most of the evening. The dance was one of the best attended during the year, as the chairs on all four sides of the gym were filled. Marjorie Lynch's orchestra furnished the music, which was fine. Several of the faculty were present as chaperones. You students who didn't come surely missed a good time.

ALUMNI DAY SATURDAY
Annual Alumni Day will be held Saturday of this week. As usual the "old timers" have arranged a special program for themselves on that day. The students of the school should do everything that they can to make the visits of the many alumni an enjoyable one.
All the former alumni are urged to come to Charleston in order to make this the biggest and best alumni day that we have ever had. Come back and renew old acquaintances with your former classmates, faculty, and people of Charleston.

The alumni association officers have arranged the following program:
9:00 A. M.—Regular class parade and chapel exercises in charge of the alumni.
10:00 A. M.—Business meeting of the alumni.
10:30 A. M.—Moving picture show for the alumni.
12:30 P. M.—Cafeteria lunch served to the alumni and faculty on the campus.
2:30 P. M.—Baseball game between alumni and school nine.
7:00 P. M.—Moving picture show. Free to everyone.
8:30-11:30—Reception and dance in the parlors of the Hall and in gymnasium.

The Senior class of the Teachers College High School presented three one act plays in the assembly room last Monday evening. The first, "Wurzel-Flummery," dealt with the theme of what a man will do for money. In this cast it was the changing of one's name to Wurzel-Flummery. The cast consisted of Harold Whittemore, Carolyn Springer, Lois Craig, Harold Kerr and Arthur Chapman. Every one showed the results of five weeks of intensive training. Arthur Chapman proved to be the star. The second play, "The Neighbors," concerned the actions of a group of neighbors toward an old widow who was expecting an orphan child. Spurlin as Mis' Diantha Abel and Arlie Mohlenhoff as Peter, occupied the center of the stage. He'len Kastl, Orville Donaldson, Emily Heistand, Sylvia Ashworth, Janet Grimes and Bernice Autherrieth completed the cast. This play probably took best with the audience. The last play, "The Wonder Hat", was well done by Gladys McMillan, Helen Craig, Grace Accord, Corinne Polts and Daisy Icenogle.

A good sized audience was present. The class gave a vote of thanks to Miss Shortess and Mr. Daniels for their coaching of the casts, to Mr. Spooner for his business managing to Miss Major and Mr. Widger for their help in making up the characters the night of the play.

The regular Wednesday morning class meetings were held last week from 9:00 to 9:30.

MY BROTHER'S

NARROW ESCAPE

Are you afraid of a mad dog? I am, and after having an experience with one I hope never to see another. Mother and father were in the back truck garden working. I, who was nine years old, was left in the house to watch my little brother, who was three years old. I had just gone into the house to find my book, "Dead-Eye Dick," and had stopped to eat a piece of pie. I had not realized how long a time I had been in until I heard Benny laughing. I hurried to the door and looked out. He was chasing a big yellow bulldog from flower to flower along the fence.

I laughed also, but instantly I became as rigid as a statue. My mouth went dry and my tongue refused to work, for there in the road was a mad dog. The bloody froth and foam was oozing from his lank, flabby mouth, and he was making a desperate effort to guide himself toward the yard gate. I could have called but mother and father could not have heard me. They were too far away. I instantly thought of dad's big shotgun behind the door. It was always kept loaded for hawks.

Before I hardly realized what I was doing I was reaching for the gun. It was heavy but I hurried to the window, stuck the barrel of the gun out over the sill—Dead-Eye Dick did like that—and cocked it. Horrors! There was the mad dog wobbling over the path toward Bennie. He was very near now. I squeezed hard on the trigger, crossed my eyes, and said, "Bennie," all at the same time.

Simultaneously there was a deafening noise and the gun kicked, knocking me over backwards. An eternity it seemed before I could get up to look out, and the first thing I saw was mother, streaking across the lawn crying, "Bennie." I got outside somehow and saw the mad dog stretched out full length and jerking once in a while. Father stood near by, looking very pale and sickly. Then soon he and mother came to me and hugged and kissed me, asking me how I could do it, and so forth. Then as they walked into the house I heard mother say, "my gracious wasn't that a narrow escape for Bennie? He might have been—" but just then father silenced her, as he turned a pale, thankful face toward me.

As a part of our bigger enrollment drive, the Senior Sextette and Boys' Glee club, with certain members of the faculty have been visiting neighboring high schools. The following have been or are being visited:

Charleston, Mattoon, Ashmore, Kansas, Paris, Lerna, Toledo, Sullivan, Westfield, Arco's, Tuscola, Casey, Pana and others, the names of which we have not received.

A Pathe news reel and a reel of Carbondale U. were shown Friday night. We have one criticism of the Carbondale film. It didn't show E. I. N. U. buildings and campus enough. It is quite probable that a film of E. I. S. T. C. will be made in the not far distant future.

RADIO-PHONE

Rumor says that the Senior class are going to leave as their memorial a radio-phone. Everyone hopes this is true. A more enjoyable class memorial could not be selected. Something definite about this will be published next week.
