VARSITY VICTORIOUS IN MCKENDREE GAME

We are witnesses once more to the fact that it takes more than size to win a football game. The McKendree college eleven as they reported on Schaefer Field last Friday averaged 181 pounds of towering strength. What could Coach Lantz's little scrappers do against that machine? They did about half what they could have in the matter of scoring and then held the visitor's rally in the last minute of the game on the 4 yard line. That final minute of E. I.'s "they shall not pass" more than balanced the mistakes made during the previous plays. Final score 14-18.

Russ Hall proved his ability as an elusive and clever open field runner. For showing ability in carrying the ball through all opposition, his run for the last E. I. touchdown was the prettiest of the game. Gilbert climbed another rung to all conference tackle by tearing through the heavy Lebanon forward wall repeatedly for tackles and gains. Taylor smashed off tackle for his usual gains, one being responsible for Gilbert's touchdown. His highly educated toe booted both goals after touchdown and enabled the Blue and Gray to win by a one point margin. "Hank" Osborn has at last found himself and clocked off several pretty runs, one for 30 yards in returning a kick off. Captain Funkhouser seemed to have been burdened with the cares of his office and did not run with the pigskin enough to give us a chance to judge his ground gaining ability. Benoit's line smashing was thoroughly tested and found entirely satisfactory. Webster is easily the best interference in the back field and is no slouch at carrying the oval either. The back field can carry the ball and stop opposing backs on straight football but the old ailment of not being able to smear the enemy's passing attack is still there, though not so bad as it once was. Stop that passing, back field, or there will be some heart breaking scores to record later in the season. The comparatively little E. I. line performed nobly against the monstrous visiting forwards. Jossander charged through like he had no opposition, once, too soon but twice so soon that two McKendree punts were blocked. House and Brown had a great time with the five or six different men who played against them. We are insinuating nothing. Hessler replaced Cornwell, who is a badly bungled up shape from injuries received in scrimmage, and simply flew through the line for spectacular tackles. "Hess" is an end of proven ability but his tackling is valuable at any position. Warner was another ineligible due to injuries and Dunn started at left end. He was removed from the picture by a couple of McKendree backs and Galbreath went in. Both ends played an excellent brand of football, showing the E. I. team that he has another pair of reliable wing men. Isaacson gave his usual hard hitting performance, being turned in only once.

Lee, left half, and Goode, left end, the lightest and fastest men of the McKendree eleven, proved to be the visitor's stars. Lee was a fast man who ran well with the ball and tackled like a veteran, something the rest of the visiting outfit did not do. The team from Lebanon with those exceptions was a slow moving aggressive, easily hurt by its own awkwardness and missed a lot of football opportunities. Coach Davis has four years to shape this squad of freshmen into a real machine and we predict that he will. McKendree used its size as an excuse for being rather rough but were unable to get away with it. The substitutions were too numerous for this writer to get.

The first quarter witnessed a touchdown by both expectations. E. I.'s coming as a result of a McKendree fumble on the first play of the game and Taylor's nice off tackle shoot. Gilbert went over and Taylor dropped kicked goal. A little scrimmage in mid field was followed by the visitor's intercepting a pass and Lee's sudden break through the middle of the line, on a faked end run, for touchdown. His attempt to make the 5 yard gain for goal failed by feet. Gilbert in

MAX CARMAN WRITES

OF U. OF I. ACTIVITIES

We are indeed fortunate in having this interesting article by Max Carman, who is now attending the University of Illinois, in which he speaks of some of the activities there, as well as of those of the E. I. colony who are here to enjoy them. While Mr. Carman was enrolled in the school here, his work was always of the best quality. Needless to say, he continued it in the larger institution and was one of three from this school to get special mention for undergraduate work. The other two were Mildred Gray and Edgar Leach. Since then he has become a member of two honorary fraternities, Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi. He now has his master's degree and next year he will graduate receiving the doctor's degree. Mathematics is his specialty.

Students at the University of Illinois will not lack for good music during the coming school year. The most notable appearance, perhaps, will be that of Jascha Heifetz on February 12, 1924. Heifetz is generally rated as the greatest living violin technician. Other concerts will be given by Edward Johnson, Maria Ivanov and Josef Hofmann. Among the symphony orchestras which will visit the university are those of Cincinnati, Cleveland, St. Louis and Minneapolis. The St. Louis Orchestra as well as the University Orchestra will play at the Spring Music Festival at which several prominent soloists will also appear.

Jane Cowl has paused here for an evening as Juliet. Her fate is coming. Ed Wynne will assume the low brow later on. The Orpheum, like the poor, is always with us. It isn't going to be such a bad winter.

The Memorial Stadium, while by no means complete, is rapidly taking shape. On November 3, 55,000 seats will be ready for the inaugural game with Chicago. It will not be until the fall of 1924 that the stadium is completed and dedicated. All efforts are now being expended in getting the seats ready for the first game. The memorial and decorative features will be added next year. Seats for the two conference games in the stadium—Chicago on November 3 and Wisconsin on November 10—have been on sale since the middle of September. Many seats are left yet, but the best ones are going fast. Any E. I. people who wish to see either of these games will do well to make reservations at once. All tickets are $2.50 and may be obtained from Frank H. Beach, Illinois Union Building, Champaign, Illinois.

Among the E. I. people attending the university this year are: Henrietta Waters, Lucile Dryden, Reba Mitchell, Lois Busby, Margaret Driscoll, Genevieve Haworth, Dorothy Hawsorth, Sumner Anderson, Lloy Hrouse, Forrest Stewart, Glenn Moore, L. A. Moore, Russell Cone, Lloyd H. Moore, Dorothy Blair, Max Carman, Hallean Elliot, Harry Whitsett, Tilford Shoot, Holla Weaver, Edith Crowe, Bernice Greathouse, Arlie Mohlenhoff and Emma Mayfield.

The following are members of the faculty: Paul Belting, assistant Professor of Education; Roscoe Snapp, assistant Professor of Animal Husbandry; W. C. Troutman, associate in English; J. E. Hill, associate in Agricultural Education; Gage Carman, assistant in Animal Nutrition; Horace Coray, assistant in Accountancy; and Charles Prather, assistant in Economics.

Arthur McCall is teaching in the Champaign schools.

Mrs. Josephine Byers Doner is teaching in the Champaign schools. Mr. Doner is an assistant in Mathematics at the university.

Florence Bennett and Helen Gaertner spent the week-end visiting at their respective homes in Centralia.

LAST MINUTES SNATCH T. C. HIGH VICTORY

After outplaying and outlasting their heavier opponents for nearly the whole game, Teachers College High was forced to bow to the gods of luck and accept defeat from Oakland High, 13-23, Saturday afternoon on Schaefer Field. Both touchdowns came in the last few minutes of the final quarter, one on a blocked punt after the T. C. eleven had taken the ball on downs on the 8 yard line, and the other as a result of a blocked placement kick which an Oakland recovered and slid across the line with. Cavina had previously booted over a drop kick from the 30 yard line in the initial period for the only Purple and Gold marker.

The E. I. score came as a result of a blocked punt on the 30 yard line, Replogie's 8 yards on a pass and Stone's plunge for 2 yards. Winkler, the Oakland left half, furnished excitement for the rest of the quarter with two pretty off tackle snatches.

Coach Hughes' line stood up well under repeated battering in the second quarter, the ends and tackles repelling the onslaughts of the husky Oakland forwards. Veach, Grimes and Stillions recovered a fumble apiece but the back field was rarely able to gain and passes were nearly all failures. This was the visitors' poorest period, making no less than three fumbles and playing most of the time in their own territory.

Replogie broke into the limelight with gains totaling 20 yards on two passes and a couple of cross bucks but the rest of the back field could do nothing and the ball went to the visiting eleven on Osborn's punt to the 30 yard line. The north siders plunged all over the field and ended for three first downs but T. C. stiffened and took the ball on the 25 yard line. Cavina was slow in getting off his kick and it was blocked by an Oaklander 20 yards from the goal line. Advancing the ball to the 3 yard line Oakland seemed certain of a touchdown but again Coach Hughes' charges braced and took the ball on downs. Cavina punted out of danger but Winkler's signal for a fair catch was ignored and E. I. fined 15 yards. And again the local snatches in the opening backs and took over the pigskin on the 8 yard line. But this time Cavina's punt was blocked and Oakland recovered for a touchdown. The try for goal from placement was blocked. Score 6-3. The future teachers lined up to receive the kick off, rather peeved over the fact that two magnificent stands in the shadow of the enemy's goal posts had come to naught. Hogue received the kick off and passed the ball to Replogie who fumbled. Of course an Oakland player fell on it a few feet from the goal. The plucky little T. C. eleven made its last fighting stand and the visitors attempted a placement on the fourth down. It was smothered before the ball was fairly off the ground but an Oaklander scooped the oval up and scooted across for a touchdown. The point for goal after touchdown was made by a placement kick. Final score 13-3.

Coach Hughes experimented with two players in the back field, Hogue and Grimes, who were almost entirely new to their positions. Replogie was the chief ground gainer and made many of the tackles for the locals, distinguishing himself in general all ground play. Osborn got off some nice punts against the wind. But T. C. High lacks a back field and never was it more apparent than in Saturday's contest. Coach Hughes has the job of fashioning a back field from inexperienced players and is doing the best possible with the material at hand. The T. C. line gave a very good performance, Cavina and Veach scolding down for a touchdown in fine shape. The rest of the line did not exhibit such spectacular football but played a steady, firm game.

R. Hickey and Winkler gave flashy exhibitions for the visiting eleven. Oakland has the weight but not the ability to use it. Quite a crowd of Oakland people accompanied the team, comfortably filling the east bleachers. It was the first time in a long while that the Schaefer Field has had a larger crowd of rookers observing an invading eleven than was present to pull for the home outfit. Lineup and Summary:

ASSOCIATION HAS SUCCESSFUL MEET

The twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Eastern Division of the Illinois State Teachers' Association was a decided success with 1423 teachers enrolled. The Friday sessions were very well attended, but many had returned to their homes before the Saturday morning meeting was held.

The program for the two days as printed in last week's issue was followed, with the exception that after the singing of America the invocation was given by the Reverend John L. Fisher of the Christian church.

The various section meetings were all extremely interesting, and a good many thought-provoking things were brought out. Some challenged the best that most of the teachers could give.

The Friday evening meeting in which Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas, spoke of the industrial situation and Miss Elsie Diemer rendered one of her most pleasing song recitals was a very good one. After Mr. Allen's lecture Miss Diemer rendered the following program:

Se tu m'ami (If thou lov'st me)—Pergolesi.
O del mio dolce ardo (O thou beloved)—Gluck.
O Sleep Why Dost Thou Leave Me—Handel.
A Pastoral—Veracini.
Aria from the opera Aida—Verdi.
Ouvre tes yeux bleus—Massenet.
Romance—Debussy.
Summer—Wick.
Spin, Spin—Thullie.
Nur wer die Sehnsucht Kennt—Tschaiowsky.
Ave Maria—Shubert.
Encore, The Cuckoo—Lehman.

Invocation—Kramer.
The Sweetest Flower That Blows—Hayley.
My Bonnie Brown Head—Dichmont.
The Pine Tree—Salter.
The Brownies—Leoni.
Life—Curran.
It is to be regretted that such excellent music is not brought before more people often.

The business meeting preceded the final talk of the meeting which was delivered by E. B. Bryan, president of Ohio university. When the new business was taken up a plea to admit college candidates for graduation and others not new teachers but who wish to get the benefit of the talks for one dollar was voted down. The president appointed an auditing committee composed of F. Allen, E. H. Taylor and O. L. Mindrup to audit the treasurer's books in January. The motion that the representatives for the Springfield meeting should have their fare paid from this association's treasury was carried.

The nominating committee submitted their list of names which were all left to stand as the committee chose them.

Among the magazines in the library is The London Mercury, an English monthly, devoted mainly to literary discussions, criticism, poetry, stories, literary history and criticism of new books on the subject of fine arts, music, natural history and similar fields.

ARTISTS RENDER UNIQUE PROGRAM

The first big number of the entertainment comes, which was held Wednesday night, was a very pleasing one. The program consisted of two parts, the first being a concert given by the opera artists, and the second a one-act opera, "The Secret of Samanie".

The program opened with a group of songs by Mr. Jose Mojica, who is said to be the greatest of all living singers of Spanish love songs. Mr. Mojica, who appeared in a full Spanish costume, gave as his first number "Beneath a Balcony," a serenade. Along with the piano accompaniment Mr. Mojica sang this number to the tune of a guitar which he played. This was followed by "Princesita Ita," "Tapiatan Eyes" and "Clavelitos," the latter being sung in Spanish. The singer had won the hearts of his audience, and it was not willing to have him conclude his first part of the program. He announced his encore, which was an American popular song—"Sweetheart."

Mr. Mojica's Spanish temperament and splendid performance in addition to his well-rendered tenor voice and his clear enunciation of words made him popular with his audience. He lives his songs and expresses the emotions in them in his face, voice and manner. It has been requested by many that he be re-engaged, as a soloist for the music festival as a special drawing card. It is interesting to know that the silver on the costume he wore was handed down for generations from his ancestors. Mr. Mojica had to pay $300 to get the costume.

The next group of songs was sung by Mme. d'Hernandez and Mr. Edouard Cottrill. They were:

At the Moonlight (old French Song)—Lalli; The Heart of My Beloved—Delecruse; Plain d'Amour; Martini; and Duet of the Light (from "Hamlet")—Thomas.

These numbers were given in French and worked out in minutest detail from an artistic point of view. Mme. d'Hernandez and Mr. Cottrill's voices blended beautifully. However, Mme. d'Hernandez didn't sleep the night before her appearance here. The maid at the Congress Hotel had stolen her evening gown, the one she wore here and it was through the work of detectives that it was restored to her. This may account for a touch of fatigue in her voice. Mr. Cottrill is usually chosen to sing the difficult roles in opera songs in English because he is considered the best among the foreigners for his pronunciation.

The tenor from "Faust," entitled "Angela Pure" was perhaps one of the best numbers given during the program. The three artists rendered this well.

When this number was finished, the pianist and conductor, Mr. Charles Lauwers, was promoted. Mr. Lauwers deserves a great deal of praise for his splendid technique and fingering, which has been well added to the program. Mr. Lauwers is the husband of Mme. d'Hernandez.

After the ten minute intermission "The Secret of Samanie" was given.

The cast was:
Count Gil, a Piedmontese (baritone)—Edouard Cottrill.
Susanne, his wife (soprano)—Alice d'Hernandez.
Antonia, their mother (tenor)—Jose Mojica.

The plot is a rather simple one. Count Gil is very much in love with his wife but is averse to cigarette smoke, and Countess Susanne, who is a devotee of the cigarette, takes the opportunity to smoke during her husband's absence. When the husband returns he catches the smoke, and finding out that the servant does not smoke he suspects his wife of entertaining a lover. His wife's efforts to pacify him are unsuccessful, and in a huff he leaves the house. The Count returns only to notice from Antonia and he rushes about in a jealous rage, determined to capture the culprit. Failing to find anyone, he then goes out. However, the Count finally discovers his wife smoking a cigarette. The servant is out, the Count forgives his wife, and Susanne forgives the Count and all are happy.

HOW GOOD A HOSTESS ARE YOU TO YOURSELF?
Have you a storehouse of good things that will never fail you, or are you a servant to the bustle and clatter of things about you? The question in other words is: Can you be left entirely alone in your present environment and not be working up a desperate case of the so-called "blues"?

There are many companions to be found in the forerunners of your time such as Wordsworth, Keats and Shelley. Shakespeare can entertain by the hour with good wholesome fun or with the more serious strain. Even Montaigne can gracefully present himself to those who will listen to him as he displays his own characteristics. And a great find among these silent friends is Nature with her forces everywhere.

(Can you delight in these magnificent beings and be contented, while all humans about you are silent? Or must gossip be about society be open armed and jazz at every turn to make your "perfect heaven on earth"?)

There is a great tendency on the part of many of us to overlook the opportunities now being afforded us whereby we can gain valuable stores for later life, while the novelty of present-day fads lures us to the enjoyment of an almost nothingness—shouldn't there be a medium somewhere? A diet solely of either would be distasteful, but a little of both well-chosen would make for agreeableness.

LISTEN!

Yes, that is exactly what we are going to talk about, listening and hearing—or rather trying to hear.

General order in the assembly hall has been on the downward trend for two years. It seems fairly evident to us that disorder in chapel is now greater than it was at any time last year. The question is: Can we see this startling disintegration of school morale working before us without giving it some earnest attention? It is not yet, nor should it have to be, ever a matter of faculty versus students. If it were, The News' point of view would necessarily be different. Our, the students', efforts must prevent it from becoming so.

Chapel, like Sunday, was made for us—not we for chapel. The motive which created and maintains it is thoroughly in harmony with our aims. Need we repeat the value to all of us—in training and in learning—of gathering each morning for a short religious service, necessary announcements and some needed advice, solid food for thought or some crisp tasteless bit of entertainment—all stabilizing and giving us a common background for the rest of the day? making it bang on chapel hinges, so to speak? It does so for many of us. But the question primarily does not lie with us. It lies with you and with me—as individuals, I maintain a running fire of worthless chatter through Mr. Koch's preliminary playing. You follow suit with equal fervor through the first hymn. I yawn, and my yawn indicates dullness, certainly, but nine times out of ten dullness in myself, a sort of cumulative fatigue, indicates a need for shorter evenings and longer nights. I parody the Lord's Prayer while you entertain with facial gymnastics; several smiles; a few snicker. A great deal is lost to no one's credit.

My incentive is not malice. It is in itching egotism, a yearning for attention, which only grows by being gratified. I do not sit through hymns and study through the speaking out of irreverence or disrespect meant as such but sometimes from laziness, sometimes from mere bored self-satisfaction, as smug complacency in my own unique position—not so unique now as it should be.

We need not analyze the effect of all this. It is as apparent as it is undesirable. The record we are setting may not reflect against our intentions, but it surely reflects against our manners and even morality; for self-control is the basis of morality. And we all realize this but still go blundering rudely on. Nobly approves, but most of us help. The question is individual at present as stated before, but it is of general concern, and the students who think—who want to listen and hear—are wondering what can be done about it. Let us hope that their wonder bears immediate and useful fruit unless we can stop the need for it.

ELEVENTH YEAR LEAD IN WIENER ROASTS

The first wiener roast of this school year was enjoyed by the members of the eleventh year class on Tuesday evening. The chaperones were Mr.
and Mrs. Willey and Miss Theriot.
It is rumored that had a prize been awarded for the prize wiener consumer Mr. Willey would have come out the victor. Perhaps about the best entertainer was Miss Theriot who charmed her audience with singing to the strains of her ukelele. A good time was had by all who attended.

CANDLES AGAIN

Another special table was selected at Pemberton Hall Tuesday evening
so that the birthday of Mary Schroer should not pass unnoticed. A cake with lighted candles was brought in with the last course, and only a few of the scene embarrassing by counting the lights. Those at the party were Mary and Katherine Schroer, Sylvia Ashworth, June Price,
Christine Lively, Corinne Leonhard,
Lorna Doone Spencer, Dorothea
Jones, Lois Craig, Margaret Popham,

VARSITY VICTORIOUS IN McKENDREE GAME

dedged in several long runs off tackle before the quarter closed. Score 7-6.

Taylor failed a 40 yard drop kick by inches and the ball went to McKendree on the 30 yard line. Josseland heaved himself through and blocked the punt. Osborn recovering on the 27 yard line. Then Hall pulled off his sparkling run for touchdown and Taylor booted the drop for another point. Score 14-6. Near the end of the period Hall, Webster and Funkhouser carried the ball to the 11 yard line but lost it on downs. Taking the oval from mid field again Gilbert to Hall netted 16 yards and Webster circled right end for 15 yards. A 15 yard penalty on McKendree put the oval 3 yards from the goal, but Gilbert fumbled his eagerness to go over before the half ended.

The third quarter was enlivened by Hall's return of punts and the E. I. line's charging and blocking. As the period neared its close Taylor made 11 yards on a lateral pass from Gilbert and Hall featured a 20 yard criss-cross. With the pigskin 2 yards from a touchdown the quarter ended. Gilbert was called through the center of the line but started around left end and was thrown for a big loss. Taylor narrowly missed a drop kick from the 25 yard line. A few minutes later the visitors recovered a fumble in mid field and Burst shot a pass to Goode who ran 35 yards for a touchdown. Josseland was off side and the penalty gave them goal. Score 14-13. Unable to gain after receiving the kick off Gilbert punted into enemy territory and it was returned by the same method. Hall let the ball get away from him and a McKendree lineman fell on it on the 30 yard line. A pass and end run brought the oval to the 4 yard line and E. I.'s famous stand.

The visiting team and rooters labored under the delusion that the score was a 13-13 tie, never realizing the idea until the game was over. Accusation of the officials for not keeping score was rushed down, but the visitors still held for a tie score. There is no doubt in the minds of anyone at the contest, except the Lebanon outfit, that Taylor kicked both goals. But McKendree has gone home feeling that they got a raw deal on that score when as a matter of fact they were lucky to not be beaten 30-13. The victory was fairly won by the Blue and Gray and nothing can take it away from Charleston.

NEW GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION IN VIEW

About 75 girls interested in sports met in the gymnasium at 4 o'clock Tuesday and signed up for their favorite sports. Plans tending toward a newly founded athletic association for the girls of the school were also discussed.

The present idea for such an organization is to have the members of the class teams of last year automatically members of the association, while all others must work for membership by winning points. Five hikes—one early in the morning, one about supper time, one on all day affair, one late in the evening and another still unplanned—will be planned to enable candidates to win points. Each hike attended will count 25 points and 100 points will be needed for eligibility to the organization.

Later in the term, officers will be elected and it is hoped that much enthusiasm for the right sorts of exercise will be shown. Miss Woody is planning various schemes for a variety of teams in basketball and it is probable that girls' athletics will win the place with the student body where they deserve to belong.

Marie Swinford of Marshall and Lora Morse of Shelbyville were guests of Helen Douglas at Pemberton Hall on Saturday.
