LANTZMEN FALL FOR MILLIKIN

Honn fell before an orgy of Millikin hits up at Decatur Friday and a 14-6 defeat for his team was the result. Never in his history as a moundman, says "Tuffy," have his offerings been treated with such liberty, and the rather peevish support of the rest of the team gave him didn't help out much. Three errors were charged up against E. I. players—not a great number, but it happened that every one of them led to a Millikin score.

E. I.'s counting began in the first inning when Brown sent Bennett across the plate with a goodly rap. In the third, Green and Bennett walked, Adams singled, and Brown was again successful enough with the bat to score another runner. Three more tallies came in the eighth, and Adams and Adams hit.

Adams, Brown and Bennett did most of the ball playing Friday. Their consistent hitting was about all that kept the Blue and Gray from a complete shutout. Green made the only extra base-hit among the E. I. boys, although his two-bagger flayed did not count—Kish, with four hits, was the chief of the warblers, wielders for the J. M. U. outfit, and Douglas was almost as good. If the Lantzmen do not pick up somewhat from the brand of ball displayed Friday, the Rose Poly game on Schahrer Field this Wednesday might result similarly.

ADAM AND EVA

Many of the scenes in the motion picture, "Adam and Eva," were particularly humorous. The story was that of the pretty young girl who spent money faster than her hard working father of Wall Street could possibly earn it. Because of the extravagance of his family, the father decided to put his affairs into the hands of his salesman, Adam Smith, and then go to South America. "Father" Smith forced all the family to go to work because he said the father had been financially ruined. As is the usual outcome in the motion pictures, the story ended happily for the young people. Everyone seemed to be pleasantly entertained, judging by the peals of laughter which frequently rang out from the audience. This number closes a very successful year of our entertainment course. This year the type of entertainments have all been of a high standard.

WARBLER NEARLY SOLD OUT

Most of the pledges for the 1925 Warbler have been taken up. A few extra copies will be on sale next week at $2.75. Those who want Warblers had better get them immediately.

"Y" GROUPS HOLD MEETING TOGETHER

The Young Women's Christian Association and the Young Men's Christian Association held a joint meeting in the parlors of Pemberton Hall on Thursday evening, May 14. The meeting was in charge of Esther Lutz. After the song service, Fred Koertge led the devotionals. A solo was then rendered by Irmal Townley. Tilford Dudley gave a report of Bruce Curry's lectures which he heard at the conference at Champaign. He illustrated how many people add "footnotes" to scripture passages. When followed the business discussion, during which the joint hike to be taken Tuesday was discussed.

Committees have charge of definite plans for the hike. Miss McKinney gave the organization a special treat by reading from Robert Browning. The meeting was closed by a song and the benediction.

CAMPUS TAKING ON SUMMER COAT

Much work has been done on the campus to get it in shape to show off its spring, summer and fall beauties. The terraces around the new power house and south of the old power house have been graded up and sown to grass. Considerable shrubbery has been set out around the new power plant, around the field house on Schahrer Field, and at several of the entrances, and a hedge is being set out east of the power plant. This shrubbery will soon beautify these barren places.

Plans for a new concrete or crushed rock road have been laid out. This road is to join to the driveway on the east side of the school and pass over the scales at the power house and then on out to the street. A grade driveway is to be placed between the manual arts building and the new power house, but will end at a new walk leading to the manual arts building. The contract for this construction will be let by the state on May 28.

The school gardens have been planted by the children from the first grade to the sixth grade. Some new flower beds have been made south of the training school and cannaes have been planted in them. The tulips have been removed from the flower beds in front of the main building and bedding plants are being planted.

For the first time in several years all the tennis courts have been in perfect condition for use.

FROSH CHOOSE WARBLER STAFF

As the class meeting report shows, the freshmen at their meeting Wednesday elected Thelma White editor and Edgar Gwin business manager of the 1925 Warbler. Miss White is a Charleston High School graduate, while Mr. Gwin is an alumnus of T. C. High. Both were active in their own high schools and are popular with their freshmen and good workers. We always rejoice to see such able students given charge of such an important activity.

The success of next year's Warbler is practically assured. With the unstinted cooperation of class and school, which they will have, they will put next year's book above the standard set by the 1925 Warbler, high as that is.

Miss White and Mr. Gwin have not selected staff members yet. They will take time to pick the best help they are possible, and thus to get another good group of editorial assistants.

Work is already under way, however, as the engraving contract was again let to John and Ollier when their representative was here Saturday. The printing contract will be made soon.

Ines Davis spent the week end at her home near Newton.

NEXT SATURDAY IS ALUMNI DAY

Plans are under way for the entertainment of the alumni on Saturday, May 23. Chapel exercises will consist of two speeches and several musical numbers. At noon there is the luncheon. This will be held out of doors if the weather permits. Immediately after the luncheon is the business meeting. Next comes a game of baseball between the alumni and the varsity. In the evening there is a dinner and dance at Pemberton Hall.

It is always a great pleasure to have our alumni come back to old E. I. There will be many of them here that day, and we will be here to welcome them.

INDIANA NORMAL WINS FIELD MEET

The dual track and field meet held between E. I. and Indiana Normal on Schahrer Field last Wednesday resulted rather lopsidedly in favor of the Indiana squad by an 82-44 score. The meet was a good one, though, with several very creditable marks, and the interest aroused and the training given the athletes amply paid for the trouble and embarrassment of a defeat.

One of the features of the meet was Replogle's running of the 220-yard low hurdles. His time was 26 and 4-5 sec, and his perfect form drew forth many admiring comments from the visitors. Another good mark was made by Ruel Hall in the pole vault. Although Hally had never gone more than 10 ft. 6 in. in his time, he cleared the bar at 11 ft. Wednesday and tied Boltinghouse of Indiana for first place. He also won the broad jump with a 21 ft. 3 in. leap. Boltinghouse was also a high jumper of ability as his mark of 5 ft. 10 in. proves.

Normal's main sprinters were Holland and Conover, the former being high point man.

The Summary

100-yard Dash—Won by Holland, Indiana; J. Anderson, Indiana, second; Replogle, E. I., third. Time 10 1-5 sec.

SOPHS GIVING BUNKER BEAN

"We're going to elope."

"What!"

"Straight off. Grandma fixed it. Ramtah! That's me! Last king of the Predynastic Era. I ruled a peaceful reign. Much avers to violence."

Before Bunker Bean—"From Boston?—well hardly"—knew who he was in his first incarnation, he was afraid to smoke, afraid to drink, afraid to speak—especially to pretty girls. But Bunker, the countless Casanova, and Balthazar, the world's greatest astrologer, fixed that all up. They consulted with the spirits and found that in his first incarnation, Bunker was Ramtah, a great Egyptian King, in his second incarnation, he was Napoleon, the great French emperor, and now he is Bunker Bean, destined to become the greatest king of finance and of women in the world.

"I just perfectly knew it would be all right. I just perfectly don't care if Pops is mad. I guess a woman just perfectly has the right to choose her own husband." This from the flapper, the true product of modern flapperism. She gets everything she wants and she wants Bunker Bean. She gets him, too! Gwen, her sister, wants a man with iron nerve. Bud Matthews, the greatest left-handed Pitcher the world has ever seen, has nerve,—yes, much iron nerve.

What do mama and papa think of the flapper marrying a young upstart of a clerk? Ask Bulger, ask Bulger. Pops, with his gout, cannot run fast enough to keep the pair from eloping and the overdressed Julia is too hysterical to do any good. Only Grandma, the sage, grandma, the wise, kept a cool head. She helped the children get away. Don't get a false impression of grandma! She could smoke her fags with the best of them. But best of all she was the best little mummy-maker in the world.

And, oh yes, the mummy—the mummy of Ramtah, the wise and beneficent ruler, does his head. What is inside of him? Ask Bulger, ask Bulger.

Bunker could imagine nothing of less consequence than the flapper breaking Ramtah's head, 'cause 'twas only lil ole last year's kink anyway."

You laughter-loving folk, don't miss this uproariously hilarious comedy given by the sophomore class in the Teachers College auditorium on the evening of May 22, at 50 cents.

VACATION PLANS

Some of the students and faculty of E. I. are making some very interesting plans for the summer vacation. Many students are planning to go to school these places: Aileen Collins will spend several weeks visiting relatives and friends near Kansas City, Kansas. Bernadine Abell and Valentine Pulleyblank will visit in Colorado. They expect to make a special trip to Yellowstone Park.

Miss Ellington intends to spend the first six weeks at her home in Mississippi and then to attend Columbia University for the last six weeks of the vacation. In the latter part of the summer, Mr. and Mrs. Allen will take a trip to California. Miss Major will spend the greater part of her vacation at her home in Kansas.

The men's quartette went to Oakland, Newman, Arcola, and Tuscola today to give programs at these respective high schools. Mr. Taylor and Miss Major accompanied the boys on this trip.

EDITORIALS

HONOR TO WHOM—

We give letters and sweaters to our athletes. We publicly and privately applaud our actors. Our laudation of our glue clubs is loud and long. All this is as it should be. We can hardly give them more credit than is their due.

But then there are some people who never receive any recognition and go right ahead doing the many little things that must be done to make these others the greatest success. These people do whatever is to be done about the school. They see the task; no one else does it; they do.

For instance, there is Bob Shoemaker. Bob marks the tennis courts, helps Mr. Lantz always, is ever on the job at entertainments, always drops in at The News office on Monday and writes what he can, helps with the Warbler if asked, and always puts himself at the service of his school.

Like to him is Roy Stillions, who, besides serving as class president, is one of Mr. Lantz's "old faithfuls," selling tickets, keeping gates, or serving wherever he can.

Carl Butler, while still in high school, has shown the same willingness to be always at hand, doing the task that needs to be done, helping wherever he can.

Harry Mitchell and his helpers have won for themselves a place in the hearts of the students with this year's Warbler, a long, hard, and thankless job, although the book itself is a great reward to those who made it.

Bernadine Abell has worked hard and faithfully as president of the Student Council. The other members of the Council and Student Board of Control, as well as hardworking class presidents, and treasurers, too, deserve praise.

Then there are many whose names I cannot recall who have "done their bit" whether as stage hands, doormen, ushers, or any other of the many workers here. Too, I should mention the teachers, all of whom have cooperated in making the events of the year a success. Especially, perhaps, to Mr. Koch and Miss Major, Miss Daringer, Mr. Widger, and Mr. Giles, goes praise for the plays and music we have enjoyed. Others, too, deserve special mention.

These people, giving freely of their time and effort (as have others I, too, have missed) work right ahead, thinking not of reward, nor receiving any except the satisfaction of a task well done and the praise of their friends. To them all, whether named or not, The News extends this recognition.

BE FRIENDLY

Most of us have experienced the feeling of bewilderment and being out of place when among strangers, but how many times do we realize that other people have the same feelings? There are many visitors in our school during the year. They are new students, alumni, salesmen, visitors and superintendents who are looking for teachers.

Why not introduce yourself to them and offer your assistance? This makes a good impression upon the guest and it furnishes pleasure to the one doing his duty as a host. The extending of greetings is very noticeable among members of fraternities and sororities, and it makes one think that they are above par, but they are only ordinary people. If any one desires to try out the experiment he will have many chances in the next two weeks. Many superintendents, visitors, and alumni will be here expecting to be shown and not to play hide and seek for particular things or people that they wish to see.

Miss Pauline Baggott spent a part of the week end at her home in Kinmen.

CHIT-CHAT

By not having a joke column this week we give you more time to read and write those in your friends' Warblers.

Got an idea? Well, you won't get to keep it very long. Somebody'll be after you to put it in his Warbler.

I must pass on this one from the Bradley Tech:
One always hears of Souvenirs, And Pioneers, And Buccaneers, And Engineers, But mother's ever say to wash Our Necknecks.

Allow me, ladies and gentlemen, to present to you the editor and business manager of the 1926 Warbler. Thelma White and Edgar Gwin. Now we're sure of another step forward in the annals of our annuals.

Some of the sophomores do not think it quite fair because the seniors get to go to school the last week, as they understand, while their own classes do not meet. 'Zat so, sophs?

Picnics are in the air now. Ho! for the river, and away we go. Boating, bathing, and beautiful—eats. I almost said girls. Which comes first, Level?

There's one sure cure for sleepiness; that is sleep.

SPORT BRIEFS

Athletic Calendar for Week
Wednesday—Rose Poly at E. I. (Baseball).

Friday—County H. S. meet at Mattoon.

Friday and Saturday—Little Nineteen meet at Galesburg.

Saturday—Alumni game on Schahrer Field.

There will be four high schools participating in the county track and field meet to be held at Mattoon Friday: Oakland, Charleston High, T. C. High, and Mattoon. Mattoon is expected to cop the honors, since she won the district meet held here a few weeks ago.

Newlin did not get to run against Indiana Normal because of a ninjured leg. It is expected that he will be able to go to Galesburg this week however, and represent E. I. in the half mile. Mr. Moore has not stated just who will make the trip, but there will probably be 5 or 6 wearers of the Blue and Gray on hand.

Several E. I. students that attended the high school meet at Campaign Saturday morning stayed for the Ohio-Illinois baseball game in the afternoon. Illinois finally won in the twelfth inning, 5-4.

While the state high school meet was going on in the Stadium, there was also a dual meet between the Universities of Illinois and Michigan being run off on the same field.

Eldorado and Danville tied for first honors in Class A with 17 points apiece while Hinsdale won the Class B title with 28½ points. Carlinville was second with 22 points. Byron Miller occupied fourth place in the half mile run, Class B, giving T. C. 2 points. C. H. S. received 1-3 point when Hawkins tied for fifth in the high jump.

Miss Ferris Morgan, who taught first grade in Arcola this year, was a visitor at E. I. Saturday.

Miss Adele Molyneux of Oxford, Ohio, visited her sister, Miss Martha Molyneux, at Pemberton Hall a few days last week.

Olive Elder entertained Pauline Beatty, Genevieve Chesnut, and Anna Mary Egan at dinner at Pemberton Hall Sunday.

CLASS MEETINGS

The senior college class spent the time Wednesday morning in a kind of miscellaneous business which helped to close the senior college work for the school year.

The sophomores who will go to the freshman-sophomore party Monday night, May 18, were asked to sign their names to the paper passed, so that the party committees might know how many to plan for. Miss Daringer urged all the class to enthusiastically boost and heartily support the class play, "Bunker Bean," which is to be given Friday, May 22. There will be no reserved seats. The tickets will be on sale all this week at fifty cents each. Since the memorial committee had not made any definite plans to submit to class approval, this committee will have a meeting soon, and then call a special class meeting to discuss the suggestions.

Thelma White was elected by the freshman class to be editor of the 1926 Warbler. Edgar Gwin was chosen to work with Miss White as the business manager. Miss Weller told the class a little more about the freshman-sophomore party and asked for volunteers who would help to decorate for the party. The class voted for the president to appoint a committee which will meet with a sophomore committee to make all the arrangements for the sophomore-freshman picnic.

High School

The twelfth year class spent all the period trying to arrange a suitable time for class night and a day for the junior-senior picnic.

Mr. Giles and Miss Case were elected by the eleventh year class to be the class advisers for next year. The rest of the period was in charge of the entertainment committee. Charles Foreman read some selections from Mark Twain.

The tenth year class chose Emma Ball to keep the treasurer's books for the summer. The rest of the time was used as a social hour and study period.

The ninth grade selected a committee, composed of Neal Adkins, Wayne Sanders, and Neal Goodman, to propose plans for a class picnic. A special assessment will have to be made to cover the expenses of this party.

All of the mid-spring students from Crawford County held a meeting at class meeting time Wednesday and decided to have a picnic Friday. They went to the Rocks just after 3:10 Friday and returned in time for the picture show Friday evening. All the students who live in Crawford County as well as the six weeks students were included in this good time.

The senior class of the high school will hold the annual class night exercises Wednesday, May 20. All the alumni of the high school and the faculty are invited to attend.

Helen Sutton returned to her home in Newton last Thursday to attend the funeral of her grandfather.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Eagleson and daughter, Sureda, of West Salem, Illinois, visited their daughter, Eloise, at Pemberton Hall Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Schornkau and Glenn Hashbarger spent the Sunday with Hyla Hashbarger at Pemberton Hall.

Ruth Francis entertained Jo Frances Tiffin and Kathryn Sellers at her home on Polk Street, Sunday.

SOCIAL NOTES

STUDENT-FACULTY RECEPTION HAS LARGE ATTENDANCE
Last Monday night, May 11, between 250 and 300 people enjoyed the student reception for the faculty in the parlors of Pemberton Hall. The evening program consisted of solos by McKinley Turner and Jo Frances Tiffin, a duet by Ruth Pawley and Thelma Ryan, and a reading by Katherine Sellars. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. After the program, the party moved to the gymnasium, where the Illinoisans furnished the accompaniment to terpsichorean pleasures.

AN OUTING
A group of teachers from Crawford County who are attending the E. I. S. T. C. held their annual picnic at the Rocks Friday afternoon from 3:30 to 7:00 o'clock, being chaperoned by Mr. E. H. SCIENTISTS VISIT ROCKY BRANCH

Monday, Mr. Spooner's and Mr. Stover's zoology and botany classes took an all day trip to Rocky Branch. The purpose of the biologists was to procure insects of this particular habitat, while the botanists scoured the hills for new and interesting forms of plant life. Some of the more expert hunters reported large "bags," and one or two botanists found rare (?) specimens. The casualty list was low, and nothing more serious than wet feet and sore muscles seemed to be the actual damage.

Misses Mary and Myrtle Lord were the dinner guests of Miss Pauline Baggott at Pemberton Hall on Saturday evening.
