will be partly sunny with highs in the low to mid 70s. Wednesday night will be fair and cooler with lows in the mid 40s to 50s.

During Saturday's Homecoming football game, many students gathered behind O'Brien Stadium to participate in the various tailgate parties. Ken Hesler, director of university relations and development said the parties have created concern among many Eastern officials. (News photo by Beth Lander)

Tailgate parties become topic of discussion

by Amy Zurawski

"Action could be taken" concerning Eastern's tailgate parties as the result of the President's Council meeting Wednesday, a university official said.

Ken Hesler, director of university relations and development, said observations made by several "university officials" during Homecoming tailgate parties will be discussed at the meeting.

Hesler added that he did not know what would result of the meeting would be or what type of action would be taken.

Fans who tailgate in the parking lot rather than cheer for the team in the football stadium have caused continued concern, he said.

Tailgating activity, restricted to an area behind and southwest of O'Brien Field, is allowed between the hours of 10:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. or until the game has ended, he said.

Glenn Williams, vice president for student affairs, said reviews of tailgating activities were made during the Homecoming game Saturday.

Dave Kidwell, Eastern's sports information director, said he could not verify whether a specific review committee was created to consider the issue of tailgate parties.

Union Area Head Bill Clark said, "I cannot comment on the review boards of the tailgate parties at the game Saturday."

Hesler said, "We are concerned that tailgate parties are no longer small social gatherings in conjunction with the game."

Williams said, "They are just beer busts if the people are not going to the ball games."

"There are more complaints about tailgate parties this year than last," he said. "We receive complaints and we explore them if they are specific. Some complaints are general and we forget those."

A general complaint would be "someone was selling liquor at the tailgate party. This complaint has no specifics, so there is no way to follow up on this," he noted.

Specific complaints would include names and license numbers, he added.

In addition, the extra costs of security and cleanup caused by the tailgate parties need to be confronted, Williams said.

However, Kidwell said only problem caused by the tailgate parties he has noticed is "fans staying at the tailgaters during the game and not supporting the team."

Proposed change tabled

by Deann Leatherwood

Action to make a recommendation on the proposal to reorganize the Council on Academic Affairs remained tabled after three students and the CAA chairman expressed views concerning the proposal at Tuesday's Faculty Senate meeting.

Student Body President John Cole, Student Senate Speaker Glenn Good and CAA Chairman Pat Wright expressed their views about the proposal.

The plan to reorganize the CAA, proposed by Faculty Senate member Lewis Coon, calls for decreasing student membership from three to two and adding four faculty members.

The proposal also states that four faculty members would be elected at large to increase CAA membership from 12 to 15.

Wright said he thought the most common concern about the proposal among CAA members is the suggested division of representation.

Wright said he disagrees with the proposed division of representation because the CAA should represent the entire university and not individual departments, he said.

"It's not as though one's voice cannot be heard, anyone is welcome to CAA meetings," Wright said.

Cole said he opposes the plan

because the at-large election of student members would "create a popularity contest."

Under the current system for selection of CAA members, the student body president and executive vice president conduct interviews to recommend student members.

Cole said they try to keep the experienced students on the committee. He said two of the three current student members have had previous CAA experience.

However, Coon said the current selection system is "patronage—Chicago style."

BOG committee to narrow presidential field to three

by Sheila Billerbeck

Eastern's presidential candidates will be narrowed to three Wednesday by the Board of Governors search committee in a special telephone conference, BOG Executive Director and search committee adviser Donald Walters said.

Although the board committee will eliminate two of the five candidates late Wednesday afternoon, who the three finalists are may not be available until the final three candidates are contacted.

Although the finalists will be named early in the semester, the entire search process actually began a while ago when former Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin announced his resignation March 17, which became effective June 30.

A BOG search committee and a campus advisory search committee were formed to seek and find the best candidate to fill Eastern's top administrative position.

The campus committee worked with the board committee throughout the summer eliminating applicants to find eight candidates eligible for campus interviews.

Each candidate followed a two-day interviewing schedule with Eastern faculty, staff and students. The first candidate arrived at Eastern Aug. 29 and the last candidate finished Sept. 27.

Campus search committee chairman Jeffrey Lynch said the campus committee narrowed the candidates from eight to five last week and sent candidate profiles to Walters on Oct. 3.

After the board committee narrows the candidates from five to three, the final stage of the search occurs Oct. 15 when the finalists face interviews with the entire BOG at the O'Hare Hilton in Chicago, Walters said.

Each candidate will meet with the BOG for final interviews in the morning. The BOG will meet in executive session in the afternoon and choose Eastern's next president. Eastern's new top administrator will be introduced at a press conference following the BOG's executive session.

If the presidential search process continues to go according to schedule, Eastern's new president may be inaugurated and be in office by January.

Teachers stand firm on pay raise

CHICAGO—Tens of thousands of teachers stood firm Tuesday in their demand for their first pay raise since 1980, while school Superintendent Ruth Love vowed she was "not willing to mortgage the future" of school children to resolve the strike.

The strike has idled nearly 436,000 students in the nation's third-largest school district. Mayor Harold Washington has refused to intervene in the walkout, saying it is not his idea of "accountable government."

Teachers and school board representatives planned to return to the bargaining table Tuesday afternoon, a day after negotiation sessions abruptly ended after just one hour.

Even if an agreement is reached, teacher's union officials expect ratification to delay the opening of schools by a day or two.

Sniper fire in Beirut, one killed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Snipers terrorized the Beirut area's Christian and Moslem sectors Tuesday leaving at least one person dead in the ninth day of a fraying cease-fire.

U.S. presidential envoy Robert C. McFarlane returned to the Lebanese capital in a renewed effort to stem the violence.

A Lebanese military communique said Shiite Moslem snipers in the Chiyah slum shot at army positions in the Kaska and Chatilla neighborhoods of West Beirut. The communique said troops shot back.

Snipers in Chiyah also were reported shooting up the Christian southern suburb of Ain Rummaneh, where terrorized residents were forced to flee.

In the mountains adjoining Beirut, Western reporters said a woman was killed and a man wounded in the Christian village of Deir Al-Kamar, where hundreds of Christians have taken refuge since Druse militiamen drove out Christian fighters. The reports quoted residents of the village as saying the two were hit by sniper fire from surrounding Druse areas.

Bombers added to arms control

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Reagan Tuesday broadened his team of nuclear arms negotiators and told members of Congress he is willing to add U.S. bombers, in which the United States has a decided edge, to the mix of weapons under discussion with the Soviet Union.

Reagan also appointed R. James Woolsey, an undersecretary of the Navy during the Carter administration and a Democrat, to the U.S. team negotiating long-range missile arsenals with the Soviets. The announcement was seen as a move to boost Capitol Hill support for the Reagan's arms control efforts.

Under a "build-down" proposal advanced by Reagan for the first time Tuesday, weapons reductions would be linked to modernization of nuclear arsenals, with existing warheads being dismantled as new warheads are deployed.

Few party-related arrests reported

by Douglas Backstrom

Despite recent residents' complaints about loud off-campus parties, Assistant Police Chief Herb Steidinger said this weekend's nine party-related arrests were "typical" for Homecoming weekend.

"It is the worst weekend, but it is no different from the past few Homecoming weekends," Steidinger said. However, Steidinger said he did not have figures on the number of party-related arrests during previous Homecoming weekends.

Of the nine arrests over Homecoming weekend, Steidinger said four arrests were for public possession of alcohol, three were for underage drinking, and two were for disturbing the peace.

Steidinger said not all the individuals arrested for party-related incidents were students. "We don't keep separate records on student arrests," he added.

There were also a minimal number of party complaints from residents during Homecoming weekend, Steidinger said.

There were a total of 14 loud party complaints Friday and three people were arrested between the hours of 12:27 p.m. Friday to 6:24 a.m. Saturday, Steidinger said.

There were 13 loud party complaints Saturday and six people were arrested between the hours of 4:29 p.m. Saturday to 4:20 a.m. Sunday, he said.

City could be site of work release program

by Kevin McDermott

The Illinois Department of Corrections is considering Charleston as the site of a prisoner work-release program. Mayor Clancy Pfeiffer announced at Tuesday's city council meeting.

Under the program, state prisoners serving the last six months of their sentences would be released during the day to work in Charleston, Pfeiffer said.

Pfeiffer stressed that the prisoners in the program were not "hardened criminals," but people convicted of non-violent crimes, and that they would be doing basic cleaning chores under close supervision.

The program would create about twenty jobs in the city, he added.

The state does not need permission from the council to set up the program. However, officials would prefer to obtain local cooperation before such a program is implemented, Pfeiffer said.

In other business, the council voted unanimously to approve the guidelines regulating the distribution of the $563,149 Community Development Assistance Program grant.

The grant, approved by the council last month, will be used to make general economic improvements in the city.

Finance Commissioner John Beusch said the guidelines outline the methods for distribution of the grant throughout the community.

The next step for the council will be the appointment of a city administrator to run the new department, Beusch said. He added that several people have already applied for the $28,000 a year job to be funded through the grant.

Fund-raising position open

by Doug Apple

The Office of University Relations and Development is searching for a director of development.

Ken Hesler, director of university relations and development, said a director is needed to develop and conduct an annual donation program to solicit funds from corporations and foundations.

Hesler said he currently does the work to be assigned to the new director, "which takes up about 12 to 15 percent of my time.

"We've never had a full-time person working to raise money for the university," he said.

Applications will be accepted until Oct. 14. A master's degree and at least two years of fund-raising experience at an educational institution is required, he added.

Senate to review student questionnaire

by Nancy Yamin

Results from a survey which questioned students about their opinions on the plus-minus grading proposal should be reported at Wednesday's Student Senate meeting.

Ron Wesel, academic affairs committee chairman, said he is hoping to report results from student surveys which were sent out recently.

Wesel said the surveys dealt primarily with the proposed plus-minus grading system being discussed by the Council on Academic Affairs.

The survey also questioned students about campus security and the possibility of hiring a legislative liaison to represent higher education students in Springfield.

A proposal which calls for the Student Senate Auditing Committee to maintain an auditing manual will be discussed Wednesday by the senate.

The proposal, sponsored by auditing committee chairmen Gale Virgilio and Lynn Lippoldt, states the auditing committee chairman is responsible for preparing an informational auditing manual to be used by the members of the committee.

In addition, the chairman may revise the manual if necessary.

Virgilio said the proposal ensures the manual will not be lost and will be read.

"In the past it took the committee almost a semester just to figure out what to do," Virgilio said. "The manual explains everything so we can get started on audits right away."

The Student Senate is scheduled to meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Union Sargent Art Gallery.

Full scholarship offered

by Mike Samuels
and Linda Wagner

Interested sophomores at Eastern have the opportunity to compete with other students in Illinois for a full scholarship for the 1984-85 school year, Larry Thorsen, campus scholarship coordinator, said.

The Harry S. Truman Scholarship covers tuition, fees and room and board, Thorsen said. The scholarship is "essentially a full free ride for two years."

The Truman scholarship is a national scholarship honoring 105 scholars all over the United States, he said. Two students per state and a few students at large are awarded the scholarship annually.

Each campus may submit no more than two candidates for the scholarship, Thorsen said. He added that the nominations from Eastern must be sent to the National Truman Scholarship Committee by Dec 1.

Sophomores interested in applying for the scholarship should contact Thorsen in Coleman Hall room 214H by Oct. 7.

Counselor talks about relaxing

by Beth Kenny

Ways of alleviating stress will be offered during a workshop Wednesday.

During the Counseling Center-sponsored mini-workshop "Stress and Biofeedback," Counseling Center Director Bud Sanders will explain how to control the reflex-regulated body functions which contribute to stressful feelings.

"When we experience stress, blood flows to internal organs—because our body wants to protect them—and away from the outer edges of the body so our hands and feet become colder," Sanders said.

In the first stages of biofeedback, temperature-sensing equipment is hooked up to the finger tips and an electromyograph is hooked up to the forehead to measure tension level, he said.

"If we can control the temperature we can become more relaxed," Sanders said. "Through guided imagery, I will tell a student that their hands are in a bucket of very warm water and with enough practice this will raise the temperature of their hands and they can become more relaxed," he said.

The mini-workshop is scheduled for noon in the Union addition Greenup room.

Workshops include interest test

by Beth Kenny

Eastern students curious how their interests compare to the interests of successful professional men and women have the opportunity to find out how they score in the Strong-Campbell Interest Inventory.

A series of "Career Decision Making Workshops" sponsored by the Counseling Center will give students the chance to take the Strong-Campbell Interest Inventory.

Dave Baird, workshop coordinator, said the workshops should be advantageous to students who have not declared a major or selected a career.

In addition, current information regarding projected employment potential for specific occupations will be available.

Baird said he hopes the workshops will "increase self-awareness and give an opportunity for exposure to the real world of work."

The workshops are conducted from 2 to 4 p.m. Thursdays at the Counseling Center. Participation will be limited to eight students per session.

Rafferty receives MCC honor

by Jeff Long

Eastern sophomore quarterback John Rafferty has been named the Mid-Continent Conference's offensive "Player of the Week," league officials announced Tuesday.

"A lot of the credit doesn't go to me, but to my offensive line and the receivers," Rafferty said Tuesday. "They make my job very easy."

"The line has provided great blocking and the receivers are catching everything I throw at them," he continued.

Rafferty was praised by the MCC for his performance Saturday in the Panthers' 21-20 Homecoming victory over Youngstown State University.

The Panther quarterback completed 21 of 36 passes for 307 yards and tossed three touchdown passes of 59, 54 and 27 yards Saturday.

Tuesday's league selection also marked the fourth straight week that an Eastern offensive player has been the recipient of the "Player of the Week" award.

"This is a new experience for me on the collegiate level," Rafferty said. "I'd have to say that the second half against Youngstown State has been my best performance of the year."

Rafferty, who completed eight consecutive passes in Saturday's second half—one for a touchdown, is the MCC's top-rated passer and ranked ninth in the NCAA I-AA passing efficiency statistics.

In five games this season, Rafferty has completed 75 of 128 passes for 958 yards and 10 touchdowns. He is currently averaging 191.6 yards per game with a 58.6 completion percentage.

In addition, Rafferty has thrown only six interceptions, which ranks him among the MCC's leaders in lowest interception percentage.

Prior to this season, Rafferty had never taken a snap from center in a college game, but Eastern head coach Al Molde said Rafferty has progressed very well.

"Just six weeks ago John came into fall camp unsure of his status and now he's 'Player of the Week,'" Molde said. "That's a real tribute to the progress he's made in a short time."

Rafferty said he feels comfortable as the Panther signal caller because of Molde's emphasis on Rafferty's passing game.

"We had a conservative game plan in the first few games," Rafferty said. "I think Coach Molde was a little worried with a new quarterback in there. But I feel confident in there now," he added.

Gridders earn 19th ranking in I-AA poll

by Kirby Flowers

After Eastern's setback against Southern Illinois University-Carbondale Sept. 10, the Panthers have regrouped and Tuesday earned a 19th place NCAA Division I-AA national ranking.

"We have come back and continue to get better every game," Eastern head coach Al Molde said Tuesday. "The ranking is an indication of that."

Eastern, 4-1, fell to Southern Illinois 17-14 at Carbondale in the second game of the season, but since then the Panthers have posted three consecutive wins over Grand Valley State (35-21), Northeast Missouri State (49-0), and last Saturday Youngstown State (21-20).

Consequently, for the first time this season Eastern is ranked in the NCAA Division I-AA nationwide football poll.

Despite the ranking, Molde said his Panthers still have a long way to go if they hope to get a playoff bid at the end of the regular season.

"It is nice to be ranked, but it is too early to get excited over the ranking," Molde said, "we still have half the season to go."

"We have a lot more work to do before we can think about a ranking," Molde added. "Right now our big concern is the game with Akron this Saturday."

In addition to Eastern's success, Southern Illinois has continued to roll as the Salukis' downed Arkansas State University 35-28 last Saturday.

The Southern Illinois victory lifted its record to 5-0 and upped the Salukis national ranking from No. 5 to No. 3.

Southern Illinois earned 70 points trailing Eastern Kentucky University and Colgate University with 80 and 76 points, respectively.

Eastern Kentucky, who had shared the No. 1 position with South Carolina State University last week, took over sole possession when South Carolina, 4-1, lost to Alcorn State University 18-13.

The defending National I-AA Champions, Eastern Kentucky, beat Austin Peay University 31-14 to keep its undefeated record of 4-0.

The South Carolina loss and a 34-17 victory over Boston University enabled Colgate, 4-0, to move up a notch this week as the nation's No. 2 I-AA team.

Rounding out the nation's top five I-AA teams were Jackson State University and Furman University at fourth and fifth respectively.

Jackson State held on to the nation's fourth spot for the second-straight week with a 27-20 win over Nicholls State University.

However, Furman moved into the top five for the first time this year, following a 49-0 trouncing of Virginia Military.

Fisk receives league honors

by Kathy Leahy

Eastern senior volleyball player Bonnie Fisk was selected the Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference's "Player of the Week," league officials announced Monday.

Fisk is the second consecutive Eastern player to receive the GCAC's "Player of the Week" honors. Panther Stacy Cook was selected last week after her impressive performance at the Eastern Kentucky Classic.

"I'm very surprised they chose me," Fisk said Tuesday. "When I'm out there playing I'm not thinking about getting things like that, but it's an honor."

Fisk earned the honor after helping the Panthers to a first-place finish in the eight-team University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee tournament last weekend.

The senior middle hitter and blocker paced Eastern to five-straight match victories with 45 kills in 70 at-

Schmidt homer gives Phillies win

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Mike Schmidt hammered a first-inning home run and Steve Carlton made the single run stand up, with late inning help from Al Holland, pitching the Philadelphia Phillies to a 1-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers in Tuesday's opening game of the National League Championship Series.

Carlton, baseball's all-time strikeout king, hurled a masterful game into the eighth inning, outdueling Jerry Reuss in a battle of the southpaws before a Dodger Stadium crowd of 49,963.

Schmidt provided him with an early run, smashing out a two-out homer in the first inning against Reuss, who has been the Phillies' favorite slugging target over the years. It was the 10th time Schmidt has connected against the Dodger left-hander in his career and no pitcher has surrendered more home runs to him.

It was to be the only run the NL East champions would get in the game, but it was enough for Carlton, the crafty 38-year-old left-hander who won the 300th game of his career Sept. 23.

He worked through a rough jam in the sixth inning and then got help from Holland when the Dodgers

U.B. UPDATEDave Rudolph at Hardee's

By Ann Laury

On Monday October 10th from 11:00 am to 1:00 pm, the University Board Special Events Committee will host the musical performer Dave Rudolph at Hardee's in the University Union. This popular singer-songwriter exhibits a wide range of musical talent from ballads to blue grass, blues to folk rock and has recently finished his fourth album.

In his time, Rudolph has opened for groups such as Cheech and Chong, Ramsey Lewis, Steve Goodman, John Hartford and Tom Chapin. Currently Rudolph is a full time performer in Midwest college coffeehouses and local concert halls. He tours 160 colleges a year and according to Newsweek, is "one of the most frequently recommended acts on the college circuit."

Rudolph is well known for incorporating the emotional participation of the audience into his act. The Chicago Sun-Times reports "Dave Rudolph captivates his audience. He is as much a comedian as he is a singer. Anything and everything that happens onstage or offstage during a Rudolph set becomes fair game for his disarming wit." According to Rudolph, the two most important characteristics of his performance style are "playing the songs and performing and working with the audience."

loaded the bases in the eighth. Steve Sax opened the sixth with his second of three singles in the game. Carlton had picked him off base the first time he reached base and Sax was more careful this time, advancing to second on a sacrifice by Bill Russell. Then Carlton made one of his few mistakes all night, uncorking a wild pitch on his first delivery to Dusty Baker. Sax advanced to third and came halfway home before pulling up.

Now Carlton was in trouble. The Phillies drew their infield in but the four-time Cy Young Award winner made that unnecessary, forcing Baker to pop up in front of the plate. The Phillies surrounded the ball, but it was Carlton who caught it. That brought up the Dodgers clean-up hitter, Pedro Guerrero, who led the team with 103 runs batted in. Carlton worked more carefully and, with the count 3-2, he walked Guerrero.

tempts for a 58.6 percent efficiency. In addition, Fisk made 37 defensive saves, notched six solo blocks and had four block assists. She also registered three service aces. "I was just trying to play the best I could," Fisk said. "I decided to go for everything on defense—no matter what—and it worked really well." Eastern head coach Betty Ralston said Tuesday that she was pleased with Fisk's weekend play and the performance of the entire squad. "Everyone came together and played their best matches of the season," Ralston said. "Our defense was superb, our attacking was aggressive and accurate and people like Bonnie put the ball away time after time." Fisk said she believes the Panthers are playing with the consistency needed to continue winning. "To be good we have to be consistent," Fisk said. "Everyone is beginning to see that and—if we can keep it up—no one can stop us. "I just hope we can stay at the level we are now," she added. "If we stay up we'll surprise a lot of teams."

Starting lineups named

BALTIMORE (AP)— Dan Ford, Baltimore's hobbling right fielder, was the only question mark Tuesday as the managers announced their lineups for the first game of the 1983 American League Championship Series between the Orioles and the Chicago White Sox.

Orioles manager Joe Altobelli said Ford, if healthy, would start in Wednesday's first game of the best-of-five series, despite being a right-handed hitter facing Chicago's Lamar Hoyt, also a right-hander.

"Ford was our regular outfielder during the last part of the season," said Altobelli, who platoons at the other outfield positions. "We'll talk to him Wednesday morning. If he's capable, he'll start."

Altobelli said that Al Bumbry would start in center field and bat first followed by Ford or Dwyer; Cal Ripken, Jr. shortstop; Eddie Murray, first base; John Lowenstein, left field; Ken Singleton, designated hitter; Rich Dauer, second base; Todd Cruz, third base and Rick Dempsey, catcher. Left-hander Scott McGregor, 18-7 with a 3.18 earned run average, will be the Orioles opening-game pitcher.
