BOG scraps salary increase plans

By BILL DENNIS
Staff writer

Plans for a 9-percent faculty salary increase were scrapped Wednesday after the Board of Governors, Eastern's governing body, reached a tentative agreement with faculty unions freezing salaries at last year's levels.

The freeze must still be ratified by union members and then approved by the board, possibly by early October, said BOG spokesperson Pamela Meyer. The agreement freezes salaries at fiscal year 1987 levels for 2,200 instructors at the five BOG schools, 525 at Eastern.

The agreement leaves intact a $105 per month salary increase for the 92 faculty members, 30 at Eastern, who received promotions last year.

Because of the 4-percent cut in the overall budget for higher education made by Gov. James R. Thompson, the board also has 6 percent fewer general education dollars in FY88 than it had in FY87, "leaving no money whatsoever for a salary increase," Meyer said.

In a prepared statement, Jo Ann Hummers, chief negotiator for Univesity Professionals of Illinois, said the salary freeze agreement allows the board to avoid either pay cuts or layoffs.

"We were pleased with the fact that we were able to continue promotional increments in this very difficult year," Hummers said. "In addition, we have an agreement to re-open negotiations should additional monies become available."

The budget cuts could possibly be restored by the General Assembly in a veto override session later this fall.

However, the chance for supplemental funding "is not one that the chancellor (Thomas Layzell) sees as a strong possibility at this time," Meyer said.

The budget cuts will hurt in the long run. Meyer said the board and unions were just beginning to reverse the trend of lower than average salaries at Eastern and the other four BOG schools.

Last fall, the Illinois Board of Higher Education released a report showing that instructors at Eastern had the lowest average salary at $27,800 a year. The report also showed that instructors in the BOG system had an average salary 12.7 percent lower than salaries in comparable institutions.

A contract worked out between the BOG and faculty bargaining groups called for a 9-percent total salary increase, a 5-percent salary increase coupled with a "market-equity" increase.

"There's a real concern about the long run," Meyer said. "The concern is that good faculty members may move on to new positions and the quality of the fine academic programs at Eastern would be jeopardized."

The salary freeze is one of many woes created by the budget cuts. The BOG is considering raising tuition by 9 to 11 percent to help make up for the budget cuts.

A tuition increase would not automatically go toward increasing teacher salaries, Meyer said. The Illinois General Assembly will decide how any tuition increase is allocated.

Also, Eastern President Stanley Rives has frozen hiring because of the budget cut.

Phone sign-up location moved

By JULIE LEWIS
News editor

Eastern students living off-campus will register for telephone hook-up and service with Illinois Consolidated Telephone Co. in a new location this year.

Jim Watkins, customer service manager for the Charleston Consolidated Communication Center, 638 West Lincoln Ave., said students may register for ICTC services at the office instead of in the University Union as in previous years.

"The Union just wasn't convenient for a lot of people," Watkins said. "Many students aren't on campus before classes begin."

He said having the registration at the Communication Center is not only convenient for students just driving into Charleston, but also for employees who need to check records in the office.

Sign-ups were conducted over the weekend in conjunction with a welcome back food tent set up in the parking lot of IGA Foodliner, 700 W. Lincoln Ave.

"We wanted it to be a fun weekend for students, not just a day of standing in line," Watkins said.

Registration will continue Monday through Wednesday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Watkins said credit information is needed to determine if a security deposit is required for that individual. "We really tried to simplify this area of the application to avoid problems," he added.

Watkins referred to last year's registration when students were questioning the fairness of the security deposit.

He said if the student presents two credit references at the time of the registration, and has a good credit history with ICTC, only installation and service fees averaging about $48 will be charged.

Fall registration to begin Monday

Returning students are required to bring an Eastern ID to central registration. Proof of payment for tuition or a deferment is also required, Taylor added.

Students are expected to pay fees at the time of ID validation. A paid fee card or validated ID must be presented at the Textbook Library before students can receive their textbooks, Taylor added.

Three die in private plane crash

ROCKFORD—A small private airplane that crashed in a cornfield, killing the pilot and his two sons, may have been flying too slowly to stay aloft, authorities said Sunday.

The crash was the third incident involving planes in Illinois on Saturday, authorities said. There were no serious injuries reported from the other two incidents when passenger jets were forced to make emergency landings because of landing gear problems.

But Saturday night, pilot Dennis Moring, 42, and his two sons, Brent Moring, 17, and Todd Moring, 15, were killed when the Cessna 172 single-engine plane they were flying in crashed in northern Illinois, authorities said. Before the crash, they were flying over the cornfield about 30 miles southwest of Rockford, hunting for a model airplane the sons had lost, said Ogle County Sheriff Jerry Brooks.

Witnesses said the plane, a four-seater, had made a turn about 400 feet off the ground when it suddenly stalled and plunged to the ground, the sheriff said.

"It looks like the plane was flying too slow and lost its lift," Brooks said in a telephone interview Sunday.

The sheriff said investigators from the National Transportation Safety Board examined the plane later and found no mechanical failure that could account for the crash.

South Korean labor turmoil grows as strikers protest worker's death

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Riot police on Sunday fought hundreds of striking shipyard workers protesting the death of a fellow worker in a previous clash, news reports said. A policeman was reported seriously injured.

The death on Saturday of 22-year-old Lee Suk-kyu was the first in a month of national labor turmoil.

A Labor Ministry official said that for the first time, the number of labor disputes settled Sunday exceeded the number of new disputes. But he said disputes at 494 workplaces still affected hundreds of thousands of workers.

The official would not allow use of his name.

Bus service in Seoul returned almost to normal after a partial walkout Saturday, but foreign and domestic flights from Seoul's airport were delayed Sunday as 500 ground workers walked out for the second consecutive day.

In Koje on the southern coast, the police officer was badly hurt in a clash with shipyard workers when he tried to persuade about 500 workers to release Lee's body for an autopsy in another hospital with better facilities.

Baltic residents protest 1939 pact

MOSCOW (AP)—Thousands of people in the Baltic capitals braved police barricades Sunday to protest the 1939 Hitler-Stalin pact that allowed the Soviets to take over Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, sources said.

Sunday was the 48th anniversary of the non-aggression pact between Nazi Germany dictator Adolf Hitler and Soviet leader Josef Stalin, which delayed Russian fighting in World War II deeded control of the Baltic republics to the Soviet Union.

Some Western nations, including the United States, regard the Baltics as "enslaved nations" under Soviet control.

Baltic residents told Western reporters in Moscow that hundreds of police turned out to control demonstrations in the capital cities of Riga, Latvia; Vilnius, Lithuania; and Tallinn, Estonia.

Parking stickers issued Tuesday

By STEVE SMITH
Associate news editor

Parking sticker sales, one of the fall semester's early line-waiting bonanzas, will begin at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday in the southeast lobby of the University Union.

Sale of parking stickers will begin a day earlier than in years past because of efforts by the Student Senate, who last year lobbied to move the date back so as not to conflict with classes and add/drop schedules.

Campus Police Chief Tom Larson anticipates the turnout will be "heavy" with 1,000 to 1,500 students expected to purchase the stickers. About 1,800 stickers will be available for purchase.

"We didn't have problems," said Bosler, who was in charge of last year's sticker sales. "The Union is a good place to sell them (parking stickers). It gives them (sticker purchasers) plenty of room."

In addition to the long lines that have plagued the sticker sales in the past, students, faculty and staff seeking to purchase the stickers will see an increase in price.

The cost of an automobile sticker is now $25. Motorcycle and moped stickers will cost $10.

With an increase from $6 to $25, on-campus student parking fees saw the largest increase. Staff and off-campus student parking stickers increased $5.

"Freshmen and sophomores need not stand in line unless they have a signed paper from Dean (of Student Services) James Johnson," Bosler said.

The parking sticker price increases were approved in March by Eastern's President's Council to raise more money to maintain campus parking lots.

However, the cost of parking violations on campus will not cost more this fall semester unless an immobilizing device has to be used.

"It costs more to put that (immobilizing device) on," Larson said of the increase from $10 to $30. "There is a little more work involved."

Larson noted that campus police will be ticketing vehicles in violation of campus parking regulations in lots designated for staff Monday and in student parking lots Tuesday.

Senate kills FLASH camp

By DONELLE PARDEE
Government editor

Although the Student Senate received some positive interest in its freshman orientation camp originally scheduled for Aug 28-30 in Monticello, Ill., the program was canceled.

Anita Craig, director of student activities, said the weekend trip was canceled because not enough freshmen registered.

FLASH camp, (Freshman Learn About School Here), is designed to help familiarize incoming freshmen with Eastern and to help them adjust and get a chance to meet other students in a relaxed atmosphere.

At least 75 freshmen were needed to sign up for the retreat in order to balance out the cost of the retreat planned to take place at Allerton 4th Memorial Park in Monticello, she said.

"Only 45 students were registered by Aug. 10," Craig said, adding although the official deadline for registration was Aug. 14.

Craig said the students were informed early so they would have time to make other arrangements for that weekend.

Although there were not enough freshmen signed up for the retreat, Senate Speaker Denise Wasetis said the senate had all the peer counselors needed.

Craig said about 50-55 students were interviewed to be peer counselors. The counselors would only have to pay $40 of the $70 fee, she added.

Both Craig and Wasetis said the senate plans to offer the same program next year.

Some possible changes will include the possibility of having it a different weekend, promoting the program better and informing future freshmen sooner.

Add/drops implementing new system

By GRETCHEN IVES
Staff writer

To make the first days at Eastern that much easier, students will be able to add and drop classes in the Union Ballroom this semester.

Previously adds took place in the Union Ballroom while drops were submitted in McAfee Gym outside of the registration office.

"Doing drops in the ballroom will allow seats to be freed up faster," said Director of Registration Mike Taylor.

Drops may be submitted in the Union Ballroom Thursday and Friday.

He said from Saturday until Nov. 6 (last day to withdraw from courses or Eastern), students still wanting to drop a class can do so by filling out a drop card and placing it in the drop box located outside of the registration office in the south basement of McAfee Gym.

Add/drops will begin Wednesday the first day of classes. Students may add classes at the time indicated by the last digit of their social security number.

The schedule for adding classes on Wednesday is as follows:

- 8 8:30 a.m.
- 9 9 a.m.
- 0 9:30 a.m.
- 1 10 a.m.
- 2 10:30 a.m.
- 3 11 a.m.
- 4 11:30 a.m.
- 5 noon
- 6 12:30 p.m.
- 7 1 p.m.

Doors to the Union Ballroom will close at 4 p.m.

Add/drops will continue Thursday and Friday from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the Union Ballroom. Friday is the deadline for adding classes for the fall semester.

When students are going through add/drops they should have a couple of alternatives in mind in case the class they want are closed, Taylor said.

"If students really have to have a particular class, they should talk to their department chair about having a seat added to the course," he added.

Students who have not registered for classes should go between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Wednesday to the registration office located in the south basement of McAfee Gym or from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday.

Schnepper service hours lowered; total requirement reduced to 100

By STEVE SMITH
Associate news editor

Almost one year after the first reports of a "Pimp and Whore" theme party at which a nude woman was handcuffed to a staircase, the repercussions felt at Eastern seem to be subsiding.

Appearing Friday in Coles County Courthouse, Clark Schnepper, 22, showed little emotion as Probation Officer Judy Watson read his progress report.

Schnepper, a member of the disbanded Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, pleaded guilty Feb. 2 to battery, a misdemeanor, after a woman reported that she had been handcuffed to a staircase for several hours while she was nude following the Oct. 1 "Pimp and Whore" theme party. The Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity hosted the party.

In addition to losing its charter as a result of the handcuffing, the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity house, 1509 S. Second St., was demolished last spring to make way for an apartment complex.

As a result of the findings in the progress report, the remaining number of community hours that Schnepper was ordered to serve was reduced from 75 to 25 hours.

Schnepper was originally ordered to serve 150 hours of community service work.

"He is doing fine with everything," Watson said of Schnepper's probation.

The progress hearing, which required that Schnepper serve 75 hours community service before July 10, was a stipulation of Schnepper's sentence. He was also ordered to pay $90 in court costs.

Schnepper's probation is progressing smoothly and he is more than cooperative, according to the report.

The report added that Schnepper is planning to attend Sangamon State University in the fall and noted that community service hours would hamper his studies. Watson requested that the remaining 75 hours be eliminated, however, Associate Judge Ashton Waller said that 25 hours should remain.

Assistant State's Attorney Avery Gerstein said no further progress hearings are scheduled.

"If the defendant (Schnepper) doesn't comply with his probation . . . we can always revoke his probation," Gerstein said.

Lack of speakers causes orientation postponement

Minority Orientation, a program designed to help new students adjust to college life at Eastern and which was scheduled to begin Tuesday, has been postponed until Sept. 1.

However, the "Welcome to EIU" social dance will be held on Friday and Saturday from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. in the University Ballroom.

The program, sponsored by the Afro-American Studies Department, will have two sessions, "Why Am I Going to College" and "How to Finance a College Education."

Johnetta Jones, Eastern's Afro-American studies director, said it was postponed for one week because some key people were not available to participate.

"We also find that we get better attendance because not as much is going on," she said.

"During the first week, everyone is doing something to welcome the new students here."

Money games compromise Illinois' future

When political foes clash over starting new programs or cutting items from vital state functions when the cash runs low, government big-leaguers give some cheap shots.

Case in point, this summer's football game between Gov. James Thompson and the General Assembly over an income tax increase. Instead of pigskin, the Springfield teams tossed around the responsibility for cuts in vital state programs—especially education.

The governor's defense for his tax hike dreams shook politically volatile subjects. Without the tax hike, he threatened to cut funding for state schools, which in turn, would jeopardize prosperity for Illinois' future.

The General Assembly was hard pressed not to agree. So the governor held the assemblymen to blame for stagnation in education program spending.

Assemblymen up for re-election this November were however hardly likely to fumble a campaign ball by increasing taxes this close to their goal. So they spun the budget cutting game around and blamed the governor for failing to keep the state operating with what money it had.

While the battle raged on, the assembly and governor went back and forth with excuses. Sitting still somewhere in the crossfire was Illinois public education.

"The education of our youth remains the first priority of my administration," Thompson wrote in his election time budget for 1987. He continued by restating the obvious: Prosperity hinges on progressive education.

While the two sides fought back and forth the only thing they compromised is our future. In effect all that the governor and General Assembly could agree to is mediocrity in state schools.

Avoid problems, don't move in early

You think you had problems moving in. Well, let me tell you...

As an editor for The Daily Eastern News, I have to be back on campus several days before everyone else so I can get an early start on upcoming news events. But, it is not all fun and games.

Moving in early has only one advantage in that there is easy access to a parking space, and I didn't have to fight crowds of parents and fellow students for space in the elevators or the stairwells.

However, problems do occur while going through this process.

First things first. I had to receive permission from Director of Housing Lou Hencken to move in early. I did this right after I left in May for the summer.

I didn't know that during the summer, the News' adviser would be taking care of notifying the housing office that several of the staff editors would be moving into the residence halls early.

I sent a letter to his office explaining why I would be moving in three days early and where I would be living for the next nine months.

I received a letter telling me I could move in on Aug. 19, but there would also be a $30 charge added on to my housing bill for September.

That is all the letter said. It did not specify a time when I should arrive. When I went through this last year I was told what time to check in, not that it mattered because there wasn't anyone around to let me in my room.

So, Wednesday morning Mom and I loaded the car to the point where it might burst and scatter my things all over the highway. We drove 212 miles down here making great time, only to arrive at Taylor Hall and find there wasn't anybody around to let me in my room.

To top it off, a memo stating the staff editors who were living in the residence halls was sent around to the hall counselors in early August. The memo said I would be moving into Andrews Hall on Aug. 18. A day later I was supposed to move into Taylor Hall. The only effect the memo had was to say they weren't expecting me.

But that didn't stop my mom from becoming more agitated by the minute. She called the housing office at 12:30 p.m. and was told all the RAs and counselors were at Fox Ridge State Park until 2 p.m.

The housing office sent someone over to give me keys to my room, but we would have to wait until after 1 p.m.

Meanwhile, I was supposed to be in the newsroom working on stories for the first edition of the paper.

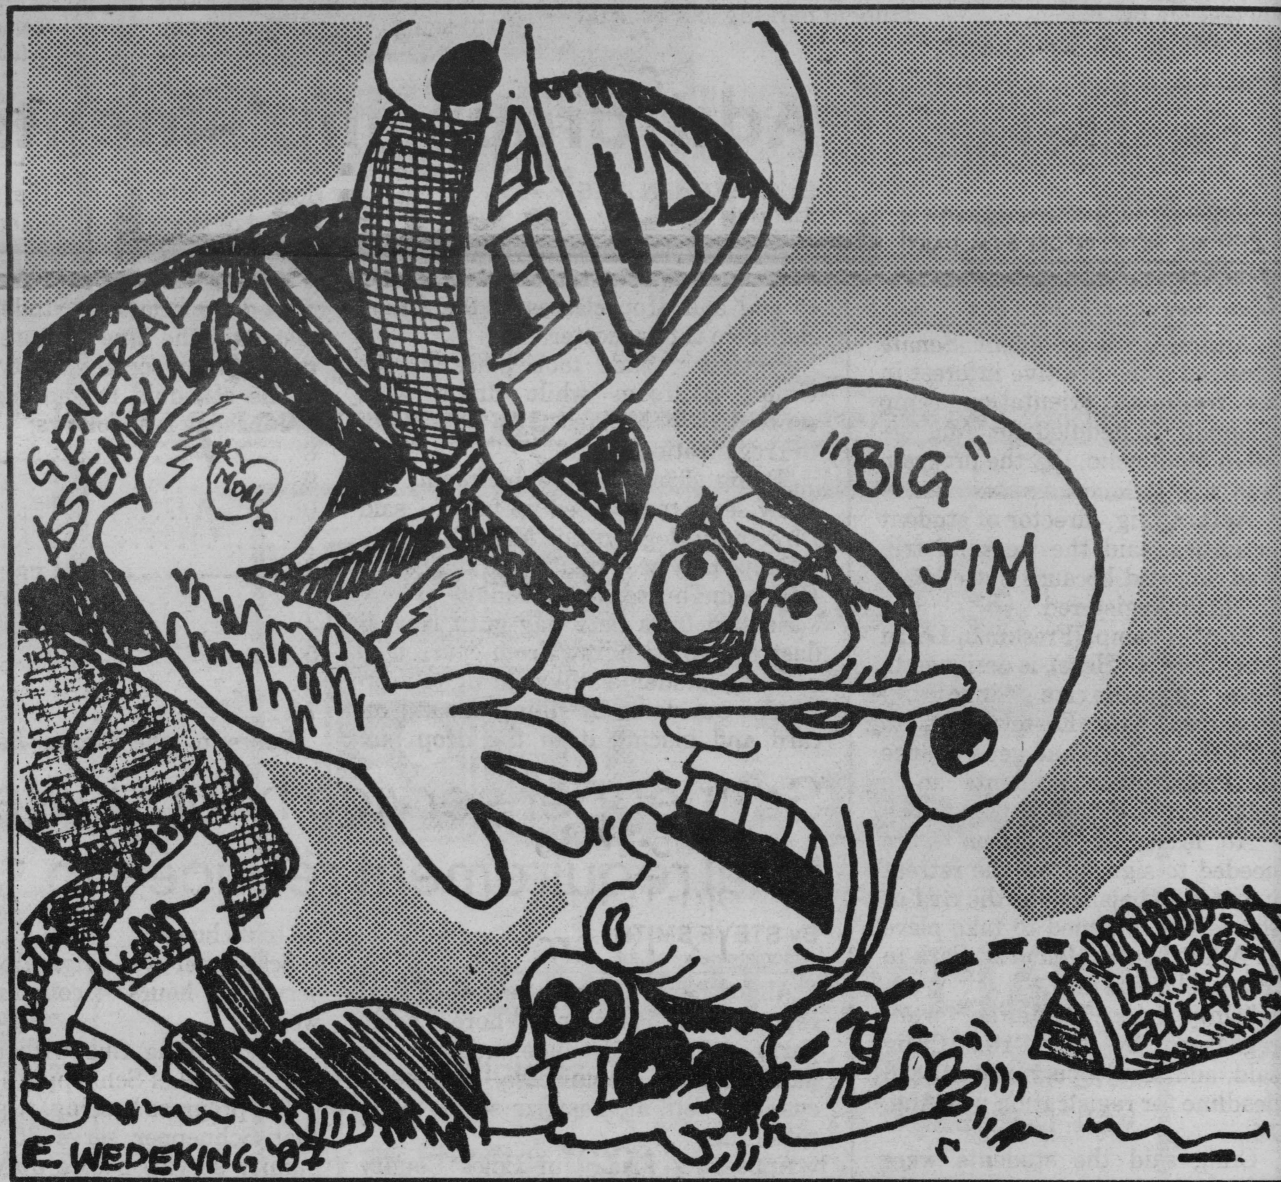

Someone from the housing office finally showed up at 1:30 p.m. with the keys. I moved all my stuff into my room on what would be my roommate's side.

Unfortunately, there weren't any room damage sheets for me to fill out. Instead of leaving everything packed, I wrote all the damages down on a piece of paper and filled out the sheet when I got it.

Despite all the hassles, I was comforted to know I wasn't alone. Seemingly everyone who arrives early has the disadvantage of moving in when the housing office hasn't had a chance to fully prepare its staff and the halls.

At least my RA this year has been understanding. Although she has problems of her own, she has been helpful. Another good thing is this year I was able to get my keys when I moved in. Last year I had to do without keys for the first three days I was here.

Your turn

Pull your own load if you want college

Editor:

Only certain people are entitled to aid from the federal or state governments for a college education. Those who have served in the military are examples of such people.

If someone wants to go to college he could get a job. It may not be convenient, but a person could work for a few years and then go to school.

The sob story of paying back government loans would be erased if the loan was never taken out.

Then some would say education is only for the rich. It should occur to readers that some of the rich got that way from hard work and diligence and that sending their children to school is a reward of their labor.

The easy loan philosophy is advocated by the same minds that condemn the federal budget deficit and trade deficit. How about cutting the federal and state budget deficits by cutting out loans and forcing some people to work?

It's really no different than welfare. In welfare, those who will work must work harder, to provide at least the same standard of living for those who will not work. There is no difference between government loans and welfare.

None deserve an education at the expense of another. None deserve an education at the expense and detriment of their country.

Merchants move with name change

By CRYSTAL PHILPOTT
City editor

In an effort to improve the image of the Charleston square, the Downtown Merchants Association has changed its name to the Uptown Merchants Association over the summer.

"We felt like down was a negative attitude and up was a positive one," said Linda Wass, president of the Uptown Merchants Association. "Up sounds like you're growing, moving."

Though newer businesses on the square have been quick to voice encouragement for the new name, Wass said older businesses have been a little quieter.

"All the new business owners here are real pleased with it. They feel it's a positive change," she said. "The older businesses—they don't say much about it. They realize

Stores throw block party

The uptown Charleston merchants are throwing a "Rock Around the Block" party for students which will begin around 11 a.m. and last until 10:30 p.m. Monday on the Charleston Square.

"What we're doing basically is trying to promote the uptown—all the new businesses, the new merchandise," said Linda Wass, president of the Uptown Merchants Association and owner of Linda's Sporting Goods, 510 Sixth St.

"We're wanting to run some promotions with the college kids to show we know they're in town and that we do care," she said.

"Rock Around the Block" will kick off the festivities with live broadcasts from WEIC FM 92 beginning at 11 a.m.

A shuttle van will be available to transport students to and from the square every 15 minutes starting at 11 a.m. Pickup will be at the University Union Walkway.

The band "Simulated Stimulation" will be performing on the square at 5:30 p.m. The Pink Panthers will perform at 7:30 p.m. and the band "Canebreakers" at 8 p.m.

Drawings will be held throughout the evening.

there are a lot of new businesses on the square and there are a lot more coming.

Although many new businesses have opened up on the square in the past several months, several buildings still remain vacant. Wass said the Uptown Merchants are not looking for any specific business.

"We're just trying to get anything we can get up here. We're looking to get a major department store up here to go in where Spurgeons used to be (523 Seventh St.). So far we haven't had any luck, though."

Wass said she was extremely pleased with the name change and felt it would help improve business on the square.

"We're working, campaigning to make the uptown a better place to shop," she said.

As a part of that campaign, Wass said uptown merchants are focusing more attention on students these days, citing specifically the "Rock Around the Block" party being held for students Monday.

"We want to get people—the students—involved with all that's going on here," she said.

Additional promotions and special festivities are already being planned for Eastern's Homecoming, Halloween and Christmas, she said.

His $30,000 per year position will have him oversee the production of the university's alumni newsletter Old Main Line. The directors of information, art and design, and the duplicating center will all answer to Tate.

Tate, who holds a master's degree in communications and public relations from Michigan State University, served in the Air Force from 1959 until his retirement this summer.

Officials urge frosh participation

By STUART TART
Staff writer

Band members chanted, cheerleaders flipped and Pink Panthers danced as Eastern President Stanley Rives encouraged approximately 200 freshmen and new students to "make the most of what we call the Eastern experience."

Rives spoke at the new student orientation Sunday afternoon in Lantz Gym.

Rives, citing a 50 percent graduation rate of students nationally who enroll in undergraduate institutions, then urged students to put classes ahead of other priorities.

"Let me urge you at this moment of beginning to take the goal of being a student seriously," he said.

Rives also presented students with good and bad news about Eastern's finances. He said that while an Eastern fund-raising campaign has proven successful to date, the university has received a lowered appropriation from the general assembly this year.

"The Illinois General Assembly and the governor have failed to provide adequate 1987-88 budgeting for both primary and secondary education and for universities," he said.

Rives said the university has received about 1 percent less state aid than it received during the 1986-87 school year. This cut in state aid, he explained, may result in a midyear tuition hike.

Other university administrators and student officials added to Rives' encouragement for students to get involved in campus classes and activities.

"What you're going to do in the next four years will determine what you do when you're 45," said Glenn Williams, vice president for student affairs. Eastern Athletic Director R.C.

Johnson and head football coach Bob Spoo encouraged students to support Eastern athletics.

Spoo discussed the concept of a football team's twelfth man or a basketball team's sixth man. The audience is a team's sixth or 12th man and their support can make the difference between winning and losing a game, he said.

"I'm asking you to come out and lend that kind of support that can put us over the top," he added.

Student Senate Speaker Denise Wasetis also asked students to get involved and help student government so it can accomplish its goals for the school year.

"Student government has helped me to get involved," she added. "Get involved so you can enjoy your years at Eastern."

Choir tryouts start Monday

Chorus tryouts for Concert Choir and Mixed Chorus will be held from 10 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday in Dvorak Concert Hall.

Students enrolled in Music 0300 sections 001 and 002 should sign up for an audition time in room 28, in the music wing of the Doudna Fine Arts Center.

"If they can't make the listed times, they can contact me," said Robert Snyder, director of choral activities.

"As long as they can carry a tune or are not tone deaf, they'll have a spot in one of our choirs," Snyder said.

Call for improved residence hall phones answered

By JULIE LEWIS
News editor

Students checking into the residence halls this week will be busier than usual assimilating themselves to their new homes at Eastern.

An instruction sheet bearing a student's Personal Identification Number (PIN) will be issued to familiarize students and staff about the new telephone system set up by ICTC.

The new system allows ICTC to send individual bills instead of combined bills for roommates as before, said Jim Watkins, customer service manager of the Consolidated Communication Center, 638

W. Lincoln Ave.

"The system will work from any on-campus phone," Watkins said, noting that PINs will not activate from an off-campus telephone.

Each hall resident will receive an eight-digit number; which when punched into the regular long distance dialing sequence on the touch-tone telephone allows the call to be registered in the user's name.

"One thing you don't want to do is exchange your PIN with other friends," Watkins added.

He said, however, the chances of someone randomly using other PINs is almost "non-existent." The PIN is not only made up of eight digits, but must be punched in the proper sequence for activation.

Watkins said there are built in measures in the system to detect an overabundance of charges made to a specific PIN, which should deter a person from finding out a number and using it without the owner realizing it.

"Right now there is no charge to reissue a new PIN, but at some point in time there will be," Watkins said.

"The bills will still come out at the first of the month," he added. Due dates will still be on the 15th of the month with a disconnection notice issued if the bill is not paid by that date.

Watkins said the resident will then have seven days to pay the bill after notification. "If it is still unpaid by that date, the PIN will be deactivated," Watkins said. "And it will cost $25 for the PIN to be reactivated."

Director of Student Housing Lou Hencken said the biggest problem regarding the telephone system in the past has been when one roommate pays, the other doesn't and the phone gets disconnected.

"With the separate billing system, the resident who doesn't pay (the phone bill) will get his PIN disconnected," Hencken said, adding that the resident who pays will still be able to make long distance calls.

About 2,400 touchtone phones were installed in the residence hall rooms, Hencken said. The cost for the installation was absorbed by ICTC and will be recovered over a period of time.

Joy Robeson, of Eastern's telecommunication office, said the new system was installed "at no cost to the university."

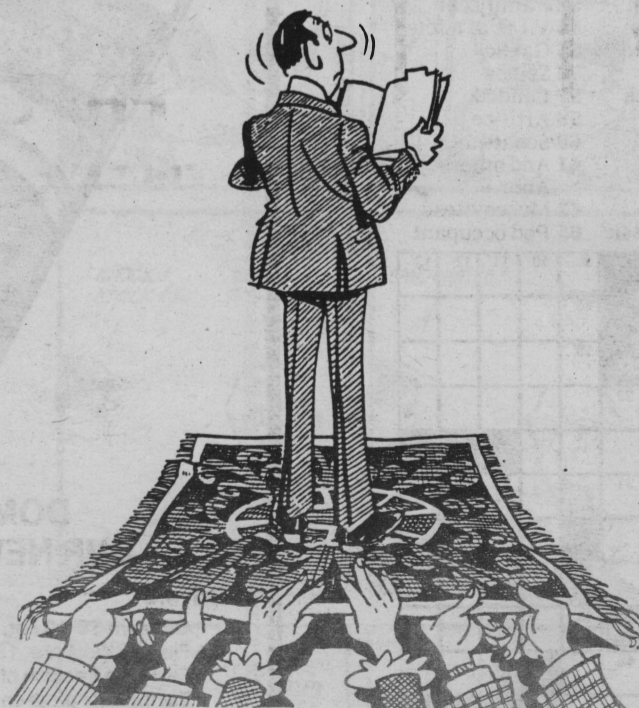

She said it was part of a 10-year contract between Eastern and ICTC which was signed by Verna Armstrong, vice president of administration and finance.

Armstrong could not be reached for comment regarding details in the agreement.

Ditka hails, scolds QBs

CHICAGO (AP)—Coach Mike Ditka praised the performance of quarterback Mike Tomczak but kept things bubbling in the Chicago Bears' camp after the team's 50-14 preseason romp over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Tomczak, competing for a job against Doug Flutie and rookie Jim Harbaugh, completed eight of nine passes Saturday night for 134 yards and two touchdowns in about 20 minutes of action. Jim McMahon, the quarterback who led the team to the Super Bowl two seasons ago, is still recovering from shoulder surgery.

Ditka kept the team's quarterback derby alive after Saturday night's game, saying "I'm still looking."

"My hope is that Jim (McMahon) can play and start next week," said Ditka, referring to next Monday night's game against St. Louis when the Bears go after their third straight preseason triumph.

Ditka used his first stringers only in the first half Saturday night in trouncing the Steelers.

"The first half was impressive," said Ditka. "The quarterback was impressive and the defense played well. You've got to be happy, it was a step in the right direction."

The defense gave up 86 net yards in blanking the Steelers in the first half but the key play came in the early minutes of the game.

Walter Payton fumbled on the Bears' first play from scrimmage and Pittsburgh recovered on the Chicago 19-yard line.

The Steelers moved to the Chicago 6-yard line before defensive lineman William Perry forced Earnest Jackson to fumble and Chicago linebacker Wilber Marshall recovered.

The Bears immediately marched 94 yards to score on a 31-yard pass from Tomczak to Willie Gault.

You may be thinking about choosing one of the newer carriers over AT&T in order to save money.

Think again.

Since January 1987, AT&T's rates have dropped more than 15% for direct-dialed out-of-state calls. So they're lower than you probably realize. For information on specific rates, you can call us at 1 800 222-0300.

And AT&T offers clear long distance connections, operator assistance, 24-hour customer service, and immediate credit for wrong numbers. Plus, you can use AT&T to call from anywhere to anywhere, all over the United States and to over 250 countries.

You might be surprised at how good a value AT&T really is. So before you choose a long distance company, pick up the phone.

Cagers get assistant; Weber named to post

David Weber, 27, has been named an assistant basketball coach at Eastern, head coach Rick Samuels announced recently.

Weber replaces Steve Yount, who resigned in early summer to accept the head coaching position at Lincoln (Ill.) College.

"Dave has a solid basketball background," said Samuels. "I became very comfortable visiting with him. He's the type of individual that will represent the University well. . . in the community, on campus and recruiting. I also received a lot of positive comments about him from a number of people who possess good knowledge of our profession."

For the past year Weber has assisted on a part-time basis at the University of Texas-San Antonio. Weber was previously on the staff at California-

Santa Barbara (1985-86) and Arizona State (1983-85).

Weber co-captained the Weber State team that won the Big Sky Conference in 1983. That squad lost to Washington State in the first round of the NCAA tournament.

"I'm excited about getting back to the Midwest and working with Rick Samuels. . . plus I think the reputation of the AMCU-8 has improved dramatically due to the success it's had in NCAA tournaments. So I look forward to being affiliated with a University and league of this caliber," Weber said.

Originally from Milwaukee, Weber still holds the Marshall High School record for career points and was also an all-city catcher. His brother, Bruce, is an assistant at Purdue University.

Recruit will not enroll

Eastern Illinois basketball recruit Barry Johnson will not enroll at EIU this fall, basketball coach Rick Samuels announced August 13.

Johnson is academically ineligible. "Barry scored a 17 on the American Collegiate Testing (ACT) exam when he originally took the test. That would have been good enough to play but he did not take the ACT on a national testing date," Samuels said.

"When he retook the test on an official testing day, he didn't achieve a sufficient score. Therefore we do not plan on having Barry enroll at Eastern and lose a year of eligibility.

"We do still hope he can play at Eastern in the future. We're looking at two options right now and will encourage him to attend either a prep school or a community college," Samuels said.

Coleman, Smith lead Cardinals to 12-6 win

CINCINNATI (AP)—Vince Coleman had a simple explanation for why the St. Louis Cardinals swept a three-game series from the Cincinnati Reds after having lost five consecutive games.

"We just went through a period of bad times. Everybody has a slump," Coleman said Sunday after the Cardinals collected 17 hits to defeat the Reds 12-6.

The Cardinals were slumping during a three-game series loss in Houston as Coleman and shortstop Ozzie Smith went hitless. Sunday, Coleman had two hits and a run batted in and Smith had two hits, drove in two runs and became the first Cardinal this season to score four runs in one game.

Coleman said he is encouraged that the National League East-leading Cardinals are now going home to play Houston in a three-game series.

"We're going home. It's a mighty poor dog that can't fight at home," he said.

Over in the Reds' clubhouse, Manager Pete Rose conducted a 25-minute closed-door meeting to tell the Reds they need to turn around their performance after they lost five times during the six-game homestand and dropped from first to third place in the West.

"I just tried to tell them what's in front of them, how many games are left and what they have to do. It's getting late," Rose said.

"I just saw what I thought was a lot of guys going through the motions. . . I don't like to see guys going through the motions."

The mood elsewhere in the Reds' clubhouse was glum. Outfielder Dave Parker said, "you know I don't talk to the press. I'll talk to you during the playoffs."

Tom Herr knocked in three runs and Smith and Terry Pendleton drove in two apiece for the Cardinals.

The Cardinals now lead the National League East by 4½ games over second-place New York. They sent nine men to the plate in the first and fifth innings, scoring three runs in the first and five in the fifth off starter Bill Gullickson, 10-11, who lost his fifth straight decision.

Danny Cox, 9-4, allowed the Reds a run in the third and two runs in the fifth before leaving for a pinch hitter. Three St. Louis relievers finished the game.

Coleman opened the game with a single, stole second and was singled in by Smith, who scored four runs. Pendleton added a two-run single after Herr singled and went to second on a groundout.

EIU baseball tryouts start Wednesday

A meeting will be held for those interested in trying out for Eastern's baseball team Wednesday, coach Tom McDevitt said.

The meeting will be held at 4:30 p.m. in the west bleachers of Lantz Gym.

Interested participants must attend this meeting because no spring try outs will be held, except for students enrolling for spring semester.

Women's tennis

A meeting will be held Monday for those interested in trying out for the team, coach Grant Alexander said.

The meeting will be held at 4:30 p.m. in the Lantz Club Room located in the south balcony of Lantz Gym.

Men's tennis

A meeting for all returnees and new prospects will be held Monday at 3 p.m. in the Lantz Club Room, coach John Bennett said.

Cubs lose

Billy Hatcher claims to know what it takes to get to the playoffs, but this time he has his sights set on the World Series.

"Things are happening and I hope they keep happening," said Hatcher, whose tie-breaking, two-run triple with two outs in the seventh inning Sunday led the Houston Astros to a 4-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The victory, ninth in the last 11 games for the Astros, put them in second place in the National League West, one-half game behind the San Francisco Giants.

Seitzer, Duckworth make marks in the majors

Royal rookie sets hit mark; 'Sir Duck' leads Blazers to summer title

Panther Notebook/

Barry Bottino

Eastern grad Kevin Seitzer has shown his stuff during his rookie season with the Kansas City Royals.

The Lincoln native began his climb by replacing perennial All-Star George Brett at third base while Brett was on the disabled list.

After Brett's return, Seitzer remained at third while Brett and regular first baseman Steve Balboni split time at first and in the designated hitter slot throughout the season.

Seitzer also made an appearance in the All-Star game in Oakland, popping-out, flying out to deep center field against Cub reliever Lee Smith and drawing a walk in his three plate appearances.

On Aug. 4, Seitzer tied the American League record for hits in a game by going 6-for-6 vs. Boston. The Royal rookie recorded two homers, a double and three singles in his history-making effort.

Seitzer's six hits also accounted for 13 total bases and six RBIs on the day, raising his batting average from .313 to .324 in one day.

In the Aug. 17 issue of The Sporting News, Seitzer said, "I'm aware what I'm doing but I'm not going to get caught up in it. If I get caught up in it, I know the bottom will fall right out."

Balboni was also quoted in the same issue that he expects to be either traded or released after the '87 season.

The major league record for hits in a game was established when former Pittsburgh Pirate Rennie Stennett went 7-for-7 during a 22-0 rout of the Chicago Cubs on Sept. 16, 1975.

As of Aug. 21, Seitzer was second in the American League in batting average (.334) behind only Wade Boggs of Boston, who is hitting .365.

The ex-Panther also ranks second in hits with 157, while Boggs leads with 163.

Duck's domination

The Northwest Summer Basketball League host Portland Trail Blazers captured the round-robin championship with a 7-1 record led by former Eastern center Kevin Duckworth's 13.5 points and 5.0 rebounds per game average.

The Golden State Warriors finished 3-5 while Phoenix completed the eight game schedule with a 2-6 record.

The league format called for two 20-minute contests each night.

"Sir Duck" was acquired last season by Portland for St. John's University All-American Walter Berry after beginning the season as San Antonio's backup center.

"He's a new man," said Portland's director of public relations John Lashway. "He's changed a lot. There is a lot more muscle tone to him now. Kevin is a totally different player."

An evidence of Duckworth's change is that although he still weighs 280 pounds, his body fat has dropped from 22 percent to "somewhere around 13 percent."

According to Lashway, Duckworth also played very well against Golden State center Chris Washburn, who was released from a drug treatment center in the Oakland area and is playing the best basketball of his young career.

"I would have to say Kevin is the hardest working player in the NBA," Lashway said. "When our coach gives us an occasional day off, Kevin is the only player that will come in and work out."

In 51 games for Portland last season, Duckworth averaged 6.0 ppg, 3.7 rpg and scored a career high of 18 points against his former San Antonio teammates.

N.Y. Giants dispute cancer connection despite 4th case

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP)—New York Giants officials write off to coincidence the fact that Karl Nelson is the fourth member of the team since 1980 to contract cancer.

And Robert Mulcahy, executive director of the New Jersey Exposition and Sports Authority, says that any hint that the cancer cases might have something to do with the environment around the Giants Stadium is "outrageous speculation."

But don't tell that to members of the Super Bowl champion Giants, who were officially informed Saturday night that Nelson, their starting right offensive tackle for the past three years, has Hodgkins Disease, a form of lymph cancer. They believe it is a distinct hazard to practice and play in the New Jersey Meadowlands, built over a swamp that had been used as a landfill and in the presence of numerous radio towers.

Dr. Russell Warren, the Giants' team physician, said in announcing the diagnosis Saturday night that the disease had been discovered early and that Nelson's chances of recovery were "90-95 percent." He said that the 6-foot-6, 285-pounder, who is 27, would not play this year but presumably could resume his career next season.

Grids lose LB Mills indefinitely

Football Notebook/

Barry Bottino

Eastern football has been stricken with yet another key injury to its defensive unit.

Junior linebacker Jeff Mills underwent arthroscopic surgery on his left knee during the late summer and is out indefinitely.

The 6-2, 210-pound Winnetka native led the Panther defense with 127 tackles last season, including a game high of 19 vs. Western Illinois.

The loss of Mills leaves the Panther depth chart with only two familiar names at the linebacker position—senior Mike Briscoe, who recorded 38 tackles last season, and sophomore George Boykin, who garnered 12 tackles in the 86 season.

No-Shows

The Panther offense also received its share of misfortune when last season's third leading rusher Uasi Latu was among one of five Panthers who did not return to summer camp.

Senior linebackers Paul Wilson and Bill Cochrane, senior defensive back Kevin Hunter and freshman wide receiver recruit Marcus O'Neal are the remaining players who did not report.

"These were guys who were prominent in our thinking," head coach Bob Spoo said.

In 1986, Latu rushed for 147 yards on 37 carries and caught one pass.

Pre-Season Picks

Eastern's offense and defense have equaled their prominence in the eyes of conference coaches and sports information directors, who recently chose two Panthers for each pre-season all-conference unit.

Junior running back James Marable and senior placekicker Rich Ehmke were chosen for the offense while injured junior linebacker Jeff Mills and sophomore cornerback R. Reynolds were chosen for the defensive squad.

Marable, a second team All-Gateway pick last season, led the conference by scoring touchdowns while piling up 1,240 all-purpose yards.

Ehmke, who permanently etched his name into Eastern history by booting a 58-yard field goal to defeat arch rival Northern Iowa 31-30 in the Homecoming contest, ranked second in points scored with 83.

The El Cajon, Calif. native also hit on 47 of 50 points after touchdown and 12 of 18 field goals.

Reynolds tied for the Gateway lead and ninth in the nation with seven interceptions in 1986.

The 5-11, 170-pound Detroit native also underwent a name change from last season, which he was known as Rod.
