Position awarded in BOG lawsuit

By JOHN FERA
Administration editor

Eastern officials said Thursday the promotion of an assistant professor in Lumpkin College of Business and Applied sciences to a new administrative position is part of a lawsuit settlement between the Board of Governors and the professor. In a press release Thursday, Eastern officials said Janet Francis-Larabee's reassignment to acting assistant dean of graduates studies is part of the tentative agreement between her and the BOG to settle her lawsuit against Eastern officials alleging mishandling of a sexual harassment case against a business professor. Francis-Larabee filed a $1 million lawsuit against

Eastern student indicted for murder

Friends stand by accused during court appearance

Nine days after he expected to begin his senior year at Eastern, Gregory Jackson was in court Thursday, hearing charges of first-degree murder and attempted robbery read to him.

Jackson and two other Chicagoans were indicted on charges of first-degree murder and attempted robbery Thursday in Cook County.

Jackson, 21, from Country Club Hills near Chicago, was charged Aug. 23 with first-degree murder and attempted armed robbery in the shooting death of nurse Sheila Doyle of Palos Park near Chicago.

Jackson's arrest sent shock waves across Eastern but none were more disturbed than some of his closest friends at Eastern.

"I was just standing there (Aug. 24) in the registration line, then I read the article (in the News) and I said 'that has to be a different Greg,'" said Eastern student Josh Paul, a friend of Jackson's for three years.

Paul said he believes Jackson's situation is either a case of mistaken identity or of Jackson being in the wrong place at the wrong time.

"I just can't believe he (Jackson) was involved. He's committed to school, his fraternity and girlfriend," he said "He had a good head on his shoulders. He really worked hard for his classes."

Paul said Jackson worked in Charleston during the summer and went to summer school to avoid the negative influences of street life in Chicago.

Cook County State's Attorney Jack O'Malley said last week that "all

Campus cable rates to remain the same

Eastern students living in residence halls won't see any increase in their housing bills as new federal cable television regulations take effect this week, the housing director said.

The rate won't change. It included in the rent," said Housing Director Mark Shaklee.

Cable companies nationwide are undergoing changes in compliance with the 1992 Cable Act passed by Congress last fall. Among those companies affected is Telecommunications Inc. of Illinois, the cable company serving the Charleston-Mattoon area.

Because of a separate cable contract between the university and TCI, however, Eastern students will continue to receive cable service in residence halls without any additional charges, Shaklee said.

Under the new cable act, the Federal Communication Commission will regulate basic service charges.

The FCC has issued limits on charges for channels and cable television reception equipment. The limits vary among cities.

CAA seeks student member

The Council on Academic Affairs announced Thursday it will be seeking student representatives to sit on the council.

At its first meeting of the fall semester, the CAA said it is searching for three students to sit on the council and voice student concerns.

"Our bylaws require our organization to have student members," said Kathleen Shank, CAA chairwoman.

CAA members wrote Luke Neumann, student body president, to ask for his assistance in finding student recommendations to fill the vacancies.

Lumpkin Distinguished Professor Efraim Turban, contending he sexually harassed her during the 1989-90 school year. Other Eastern administrators, Board of Governors officials and administrators of the Lumpkin College of Business were also named in the suit.

The settlement calls for her to serve in her current position for the 1993-94 academic year. Afterwards, Francis-Larabee will be reviewed to determine if she will remain in the job.

Until Wednesday, Francis-Larabee worked as an assistant professor of computer and operations management in Lumpkin College of Business and Applied Science. She now works in reviewing the transcripts of international students applying for graduate status, but even her new boss doesn't know how she will be paid.

"I honestly do not know where her salary is coming from," said Larry Williams, dean of graduate studies and research. "Obviously, it's budgeted from somewhere."

"(Additional) money wasn't transferred into the graduate office," Williams said. "We're operating with the same budget we had last year."

Williams said, in his time as dean, there has never been an acting assistant dean in his office.

An assistant to the dean in the early 1980s was responsible for working with international students who applied to Eastern for graduate admission — similar to Francis-Larabee's new role, Williams said.

Williams said he did not have an associate dean working for him until 1990, when Jill Nilsen was appointed to the position.

Nilsen's role as associate dean is much broader than Francis-Larabee's position as acting dean, Williams said.

"She does all the certification for those students graduating. She oversees the Graduate Studies Council, and she serves my role when I'm not on campus," Williams said.

Nilsen has been juggling her duties as associate dean and working with University Relations. She is also Eastern's sole representative to the BOG marketing project.

Because of Nilsen's workload, Williams said he needed more help in his office.

Williams said if Nilsen were not assigned to her University Relations and BOG marketing duties, he would not need another administrator.

"Realistically, I need someone to cover international admissions," Williams said. "I really didn't ask (Vice President for Academic Affairs) Barbara Hill for a full-time administrator. I just needed someone else to even out the workload. That's the area Francis-Larabee will help us at."

Francis-Larabee served as assistant professor of computer operations and management during the 1992-93. Her salary was budgeted at $53,505.

Her promotion from instructor to assistant professor with a market-equity pay increase in March 1990, retroactive to August 1989, became an issue in former Eastern President Stan Rives' alleged mishandling of the case.

Francis-Larabee's lawyer has said he expects details of the settlement to be announced when it is finalized by all parties involved.

three suspects have given statements admitting their involvement in the case."

Authorities charge Jackson and Chicagoans Marcus Gray and Antwon Tyler shot Doyle while trying to steal the hood of her car. Doyle's body was found July 4 in the trunk of her car parked in the garage of her home near Palos Park.

The three men allegedly wanted to steal the hood of Doyle's car to replace one damaged with a gun on a car Jackson's mother owned, said Sally Daly, a spokeswoman for the Cook County sheriff's department.

Jackson's girlfriend of four years, who also is an Eastern student, asked the News not to use her name and declined to comment on the allegations against him.

Jackson is a member of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, which in February 1992 was suspended for four years for allegations of hazing.

"I can't comment on anything until I've spoken with Greg to see how he's doing. That's the only respect I can do for a friend (in Jackson's position)," said a member of Alpha Phi Alpha who asked his name be withheld. The fraternity member said he hopes to speak with Jackson this weekend.

Paul said Jackson's warm personality conflicts with the charge, adding he doesn't know and has never seen Tyler or Gray.

The other suspects charged in the shooting death have criminal records. Jackson has never been convicted of a criminal offense.

"He's (Jackson) outgoing. He jokes around a lot. He's a very good-natured person; very polite ... he gets along with everybody," Paul said.

According to the Cook County Jail Records Office, Jackson was released Aug. 26 on $100,000 bond.

The cost of expanded basic cable service for Charleston residents is now $22.07, a 7-cent increase. Mattoon residents now pay $21.78, a 22-cent cut. Both prices went into affect Wednesday.

Other changes include the costs of cable equipment. The cost of a cable converter for customers without cable-ready sets is now 9 cents instead of $2 per month. Remote control devices now cost 13 cents a month in Charleston and 14 cents a month in Mattoon.

However, premium channel converters, which were free, now cost $1.44.

Also under the act, some television stations were changed to new cable channels.

Channels were changed in April and again this week as TCI tried to predict what the FCC might change, said Dan Van Zandbergen, system manager of TCI.

As a result of the changes made, Charleston and Mattoon viewers will each receive one new channel. WBAK, an ABC affiliate, will air on channel 20 for Charleston residents, and W41BL Channel 41, an independent station in Sigel, will air on channel 19 for Mattoon residents.

Police track false permit buyers

By ADAM McHUGH
Campus editor

Underclassmen who hold unrestricted parking permits purchased by an upperclassman may return the permit to campus police without penalty until Sept. 10 under a campus police offer.

Sgt. Ron Osborne said traditionally many underclassmen ask upperclassmen to buy unrestricted permits.

"This is not a new problem, we've dealt with this for several years now," he said.

"The only thing new this year is that we are offering students a chance to come forward if they have committed this violation, and no formal charges will be pressed against them."

Through Sept. 10, campus police will let freshmen and sophomores who hold a permit purchased by an upperclassman come forward without a penalty other than confiscation of the permit.

After Sept. 10, police will take the student's permit without reimbursement, charge each person involved a penalty of $25 and revoke their parking privileges for one year.

"I expect there will be as many or more of this type of violation as in years past," Osborne said.

"We have had as many as 80 of these violations previous years," he added. Liz Schafer, judicial advisor said fraudulent parking permit violations peaked at Eastern police officer Willard DeLong types up parking tickets on a computerized ticketing system Wednesday afternoon in the Student Recreation Center parking lot.

73 in the 1990-91 school year.

Because police have started to watch more closely, there were only two cases reported during the 1991-92 academic year, she added.

Osborne said the campus police have several ways to check the validity of a parking permit.

"We go through the license plates to see if the name they put down matches the permit - that is our main way," Osborne said.

"We can't prevent students from doing this, but by getting the word out that violators will be punished, maybe we can keep a few people from doing it in the future," Osborne said.

Police offered underclassman restricted permits for the first time this week. At $112.50 per semester, they cost about six times more than a regular permit.

One hundred forty restricted parking permits were sold to underclassmen Monday and Tuesday. More than 2,500 unrestricted passes have been sold to juniors and seniors.

Students have complained of high costs and poor parking lot locations.

BOG, teachers negotiations at impasse

AMY CARNES
Staff writer

No settlement was reached in this week's contract negotiations between the Board of Governors and Eastern's teachers union.

The two sides will try to meet again next week, said Mitch Vogel, president of the University Professionals of Illinois union.

Vogel said the union is seeking a proposal which would give teachers a cost-of-living increase comparable to that offered by other state universities.

This settlement would also maintain a salary equity payout offered by the BOG in 1991. The BOG has offered a 0.8 percent raise in addition to the salary equity payout slated to be received by the UPI in 1994.

"We do not feel the offer made by the board is appropriate, and we are not in a position to accept it," Vogel said.

The UPI contends the BOG's current salary increase proposal is less than inflation.

Negotiations continue to prove that faculty and staff are not the board's top priority, Vogel said.

The BOG views the previously negotiated equity increase as part of this year's monetary package. The UPI opposes the idea, claiming the mid-year equity payout is "catch up" money and must be kept separate from Cost of Living Allowance money.

Vogel said there has been tentative agreement on the format of the mid-year equity payout.

Those employees farther away from comparable group salaries would receive more of an increase than those closer in comparison.

This would help correct salary compression, gender inequities, differentials caused by low starting salaries, and move salaries closer to norms.

Search to continue for new director of affirmative action

CHRISSE MOCH
Staff writer

After a four-month delay, the search for a new director of affirmative action and cultural diversity will start next week, said Jon Laible, search committee chairman.

The search was postponed to spring after only six applications were submitted by the Oct. 18 deadline.

"This is the kind of position where you need to have good representation," said Laible, who is also dean of the College of Sciences.

Laible said he and other members of the committee were selected to aid in the search did not feel that there was an adequate number of applicants for such a position.

On- and off-campus applicants were included in the six already received, Laible said.

Advertisements for the position will begin at the beginning of next week, Laible said.

Laible said the search committee will narrow its list of prospective applicants to three. Those three would then be brought to Eastern for on-campus interviews in late October or early November.

He said he hopes to fill the position by Jan. 1.

The committee has 10 representatives from affirmative action, student affairs, business affairs, civil service employees, department chairmen, the Faculty Senate, the ADA advisory committee, the women's studies council, the Black Student Union and the Hispanic Student Union.

"The idea is to have a committee that properly represents the university," Laible said. "Then, the word gets out to likely candidates. We can make sure they have the qualities that match what we're looking for."

Some duties of the affirmative director are: developing and implementing the university's affirmative action program, monitoring equal opportunity and civil rights legislation, investigating all discrimination complaints, collecting data and preparing reports for external affairs and promoting diversity in the university community.

Permits net big profits

By BRIAN HUCHEL
Staff writer

Restricted parking permit sales for freshmen and sophomores have proved profitable for the University Police Department, with four-day sales netting more than $23,000.

Permits sales brought in about $23,600. This total excludes the 2,500 unrestricted parking permits sold to juniors and seniors.

The permits went on sale Aug. 30. Since then, 140 permits out of a possible 470 have been sold, 61 for the O'Brien Stadium parking lot and 77 for the Ninth Street lot.

Campus police halted sales for the Ninth Street lot Aug. 30 because the 77 permits sold fill all its spaces. After an unexpected student rush to buy permits, police decided to evaluate the lot before selling any more permits.

"Ninth Street is used a lot by commuters," said Sgt. Ron Osborne. "We are going to wait two weeks, periodically checking the lot during that time. If it seems as though there are a number of extra spaces, we will sell a few more."

Osborne said he doesn't know how many extra spaces, if any, would be sold until after the evaluation.

Students complained that the permits were too expensive and they should have been sold for parking lots closer to campus.

"We have had a few complaints, mainly about how far off-campus the lots are," Osborne said. "Students should consider this a courtesy. University policy states that freshmen and sophomores are not allowed to have cars on campus. It also provides extra money for parking lot repairs and maintenance."

Emily cleanup starts

HATTERAS, N.C. (AP) - Hurricane Emily caused hurricane-like damage to only a tiny slice of the East Coast, but there - on the outermost reaches of the Outer Banks - residents were struggling to cope Thursday.

"We have no water. There's no electricity. We're using generators. It's just a hell hole down here," said a harried Christy Lane, 17, who answered the phone for her grandparents at Dolphin Realty Inc.

"Our life has been changed forever," said James Caldwell, who is helping his sister and a brother clean up their homes - and his own - in heavily damaged Hatteras.

In Dare County, which includes most of the Outer Banks and the easternmost portions of the mainland, preliminary damage estimates for residential and commercial property reached $10 million.

Corrections

A story in Thursday's edition incorrectly reported that Janet Francis-Larabee has been reassigned to the graduate studies and research department as acting associate dean. She has been reassigned as the department's acting assistant dean.

Another story in Thursday's edition reported incorrectly that Eastern President David Jorns will give an address Sept. 7 regarding an increase in student enrollment. The News regrets the errors.

Are the senate vacancy woes unsolvable?

Here it goes again.

Candidates are being sought to fill five vacant positions on the Student Senate. Two of those were left because members were elected to the senate's executive branch, but another two opened because of too few credit hours and another because a senate member did not return to school.

Editorial

Last year, members were guaranteed a tough screening process and promised students a decrease in the number of members that resign each year. After this latest round of resignations, one has to wonder if the senate can do anything to stop the annual exodus?

Jennifer Zumwalt and Dave Boland are off the senate because of insufficient credit hours. Senate requirements state they must have at least 12 credit hours to serve on the senate.

Boland, the most recent removal, was only taking one class. And while Zumwalt had the courage to resign on her own, Boland had to be removed.

That is atrocious.

What the exiting members should have done is resigned at the time of last April's election - allowing students to elect new members.

But even that doesn't work. David Switzer ran in the April election but is not returning to school this semester. He has not been in contact with Bobby Smith, speaker of the senate.

That is more puzzling than atrocious.

Last year, eight senate members had to be replaced, causing members to ask for stronger screening procedures. Obviously, these measures have not worked.

Should the senate ask people about their class schedules and their upcoming semesters? Should there be a background check on a student's academic eligibility?

Smith should be commended for clearing out the two delinquent senate members. It was Smith that found these people and confirmed whether or not they could serve.

But vacancies cripple the senate and short change a student body that was guaranteed full representation. Once again the question must be asked - does the senate have any power to stop it?

TODAY'S QUOTE

Home of lost causes, and forsaken beliefs, and unpopular names, and impossible loyalties.

Matthew Arnold

Only total insanity will stop Bill Cosby

So Bill Cosby is supposedly coming back to Eastern for November's Parents Weekend.

Mr. "I Spy," the man that put the Cosby in "Cosby Show."

Old "Hey, Hey, Hey" himself.

But Director of Student Activities David Milberg is not confirming that Cosby is the weekend's performer, citing contractual and legal reasons barring him from releasing the name before Sept. 7 - the final day the performer scheduled for Parents Weekend can cancel.

Hmmm. Could this be foreshadowing of a repeat of last year's Parents Weekend when singer/pianist Ray Charles used the cancellation option and got out on the final day? Of course singer Lou Rawls (students: who?) filled the vacancy and caused a large scale ticket cancellation and a loss of revenue for the university.

But of course the distinguished Dr. Huxtable would not cancel his stint at Eastern for a larger monetary gain, which was said to be Charles' reason for cancellation.

Although Cosby did appear on The Tonight Show Wednesday night, he made no mention of his coming to Eastern in November. Hmmm. Strange. But he is a busy star and big name stars can't possibly be expected to remember or even know about all their planned future engagements.

But let's enter the realm of endless possibilities and ponder some of the unforeseen reasons Cosby might cancel if he is indeed being contracted for Parents Weekend.

Ooooooooo. Dum. Dum. Ooooooooo. Doo dot!

That was spooky music if you didn't recognize it.

Sept. 7 arrives, it's late in the day and the Office of Student Activities has heard no word from Cosby concerning cancellation. In California, Cosby reclines in his new hand-made dinosaur-skinned evening chair given to him from Steven Spielberg after filming Jurassic Park. Dum. Dum.

Elliott Peppers

"...Cosby has been replaced as the Jello Gelatin Pudding Pops spokesman with PBS's Barney the Dinosaur."

Then Cosby's solid gold cellular phone rings and it's NBC telling him they agree to sell the broadcasting company for 100 billion and the clause that Cosby must incorporate his Jello Gelatin Pudding Pops personae into all future board meetings.

Moments later television executives from CBS call Cosby saying they would like him to start work immediately on the new cartoon series "Fat Albert

& The New Cosby Kids" - a spin off of the successful series "Fat Albert & The Cosby Kids" which first showed in 1972.

Cosby's answer: "Hey, Hey, Hey." Come on didn't you guys watch the series?

But then Cosby rethinks his position on the two offers and says, "I can't disappoint Eastern's students and parents."

Sniff. I cried too.

But just as Cosby is about to call Eastern and confirm his arrival in November, Jello Gelatin, Inc. calls saying that Cosby has been replaced as the Jello Gelatin Pudding Pops spokesman with PBS's Barney the Dinosaur.

Cosby is an incredible performer. He's in an elite class of comedian performers who can entertain all age groups without altering his family-oriented comic style that made him famous. Modern nightclub comedians are basically all copycats playing to audiences who suck up their monologues on sex, violence and profanities. It seems to never fail on an HBO comedy special of a taped performance at a New York or Chicago night spot that the first few words out of a comedians mouth are profane.

It would be an honor for Cosby to once again grace Eastern with his dimpled smirk and witty humor, barring any unforeseen monetary infractions of course.

UB working hard to provide campus bar alternatives

Dear editor:

With the increasing concern regarding underage drinking in Charleston, University Board is working with campus and city leaders to plan more alternative activities to the bars. It is a challenging task to program these events - especially weekend programs - but we are doing it successfully. The first Quakin' the Quad was held in April and was brought back by popular demand during Orientation Week.

Look at the numbers - both Quakin' the Quad events had more than 2,000 people in attendance. During Orientation Week, close to 2,000 students attended each night's events. I take my hat off to the UB for the wonderful job they have done in programming these events. And they are not through yet. Each and every coordinator works countless hours on planning quality entertainment at a low cost for students.

The response to Quakin' the Quad that UB has received from administrators and students alike has been very positive in light of what The Daily Eastern News suggests. The editorial board has been totally unsupportive of the UB's efforts. The Daily Eastern News denounced the board for a "poor job of programming," yet Quakin' the Quad was an overwhelming success according to students surveyed. The editorial board still insists on thrashing UB for spending, in their opinion, "way too much money on the event." Their biased review of Quakin' the Quad was not based on facts or student input. In fact, the campus editor did not see fit to assign a photographer to cover the event.

It's ironic that little time and effort was put into the paper's coverage of Quakin' the Quad, yet it was quickly labeled a failure. It seems to be the policy of The Daily Eastern News to be critical of UB's programs and activities without full knowledge or understanding of what it takes to program a successful event.

A word of advice from UB - be sure you do your job effectively before judging the way others are doing theirs. The constant criticism aimed at student organizations is getting old, and frankly the students are getting tired of it. The students on this campus deserve more than highly-opinionated articles filled with inaccurate facts and little use information. We take pride in the work we do, and ask only for a little shake.

Kevin L. Chairman, University Board

Recycling program delayed

By STEPHANIE CARROLL
Staff writer

Delays in curbside recycling and the loss of recycling bins at local grocery stores has meant the elimination of most of the recycling in the Charleston area.

The high price of the curbside collection has postponed that program, and recycling bins were pulled from stores because of problems in finding markets for the material after it was collected, said Mike Fuller of Laidlaw Waste Systems Inc. in Charleston.

Fuller said recycling bins were pulled from both Charleston and Mattoon, as well as other communities.

"After we picked up the waste, there was no one to take it off of our hands," Fuller said. "We can't just bury it in the landfill, that doesn't solve anything."

Fuller could not specify when and from where the bins have been removed because they were removed before he began at Laidlaw. He took over as manager of the facility in early July.

Curbside pickup, which was slated to begin in September, could only be feasible with a large amount of volunteers, Fuller said.

"It takes a lot of money for us to go around and collect the waste (at drop-offs) as well as for the curbside pick-up," Fuller said. "Then we have to have someone who will take it off of our hands."

Finding the volunteer help for the program is also a problem, he said.

"Let's say we have a 1,000 homes in the area," Fuller said. "It wouldn't be economically feasible to do the curbside pickup without volunteer participation from all those homes."

"If we could get 50 percent volunteer participation from Charleston and Mattoon, it might be more feasible."

He could not specify how long it would be before the bins would return or the curbside pickup would begin.

Senate interviews completed

By SHERRY SIDWELL
Student government editor

The petitions are in, and now the waiting game begins.

The Student Senate began accepting petitions last week to fill five vacancies that have occurred this semester. When the last petitions were turned in Wednesday, the senate had received 22 applicants for open positions.

Applicants have been interviewed by Senate Speaker Bobby Smith and the Legislative Leadership Committee, which is made up of the chairmen of the senate's eight committees.

Smith said halfway through the interviews that he has been happy with the quality of candidates.

"We have definitely had no bad people apply," Smith said. "Those we've seen so far have all been well-qualified and well-prepared candidates."

Smith said the senate's Legislative Leadership Committee is stressing ingenuity over experience.

"As I have said, experience isn't a big issue with me. It's not really necessary to ask what clubs and activities they were in in high school," Smith said.

"Personally, I'm looking for ideas. I want to know that they're willing to work to have a positive impact on the campus. I want to know how they think they would go about it."

Smith said the candidates were asked questions about ideas and goals they would work for as senate members. Candidates were also asked what role they would want to take in relation to those already on the senate and how they thought they would work with the administration.

"We also like to ask what have they seen since they've been here at Eastern they would like to change," Smith said. "Everyone has had real definite ideas, which shows a lot of innovative thought. Everyone's already thinking ahead."

The applicants are: Chastity Hutson, Chris Boyster, Michael J. Treis, Lisa Zbiegien, Jeff Kocis, Glenn Fundator, Mason Hall, Andrew Gardner, Kevin Hughes, Brian Anderson, Paul Talaga, Dan Lamboley, Harvey Pettry, Matt Cook, Stuart R. Kaeding, Frances L. Baker, Joseph Bidasio, Nicholas Bart, John Mustis, Debbie Bucykiwicz, Martha Roman and Nadine Pinter.

The vacancies occurred after the resignations of senate members Luke Neumann, Matt Giordano and Jennifer Zumwalt and the removal of members David Switzer and David Boland.

IDOT funds drug abuse workshops

By ADAM McHUGH
Campus editor

Eastern received a grant of more than $180,000 from the Illinois Department of Transportation to conduct conferences and workshops dealing with the issue of traffic safety problems caused by alcohol and drug abuse on college campuses.

The $182,237 grant will aid in the continuation of the national highway safety program "Policies and Programs for the 1990s: A Team Approach to the Prevention of Alcohol, Other Drug and Traffic Safety Problems in Higher Education."

The program deals with schools, mainly junior colleges, south of Interstate 80.

Becky Markwell, assistant director of safety programs at Eastern and local project director, said Eastern will put together a team of campus security members, administrators and students to hold workshops at junior colleges such as Lakeland College in Mattoon, Kankakee Community College and Belleville Area Community College.

Some of the issues Markwell said the team will discuss at workshops are underage drinking, driving under the influence of alcohol, and safety problems such as vandalism on campus.

Eleven schools participated in the program last year, which began in 1992. Markwell said nine more schools are being targeted for this year.

"This program simply gives university officials an action plan, so they can work with their problems," she said.

Assistant director of safety programs

"This year the workshops will be focused heavily on DUI, because students in this area commute so much."

Kathy Larsson, project coordinator, said the program looks at what barriers exist at a university which prevent them from dealing with alcohol and drug abuse problems.

"Policies and procedures often need to be beefed up at universities in order to deal with many problems," Larsson said.

Larsson said among the schools targeted for this year's workshops include Johnny Logan Junior College in Carterville, Wren Lake Junior College in Ina, Illinois State University in Normal and Bradley University in Peoria.

"The addition of (Illinois State and Bradley) is something new to the program," Larsson said.

With the grant, Markwell said Eastern will also be sponsoring a conference with all participating schools Feb. 28 to March 1, 1994 in Springfield.

"This program allows for stronger linkages between schools in Illinois, and that is important in dealing with the issue of alcohol abuse," Larsson said.

Western hazing suit settlement reached

MACOMB (AP) - The parents of a college student who died after a lacrosse club initiation at Western Illinois University settled their civil lawsuit with the last of 12 former club members.

Attorney Robert C. Strodel said his clients, Dale and Alice Haben of Oswego, settled the lawsuit against the last five men Wednesday. Seven others settled earlier this summer. The settlement is worth $530,000.

The Habens' 18-year-old son Nicholas died Oct. 1990, of acute alcohol poisoning.

The Habens accused the athletes of pressuring their son, continuing to provide him alcohol after he became intoxicated and failing to attend to his obvious medical needs when they dumped his unconscious body in a dorm room.

McDonough County prosecutors had accused the lacrosse club members of hazing Haben during club initiation by encouraging him to drink a combination of liquor, beer and food coupled with abusive calisthenics.

Plans for flood aid set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Clinton administration announced plans Thursday for distributing aid to the flood-ravaged Midwest, saying states and local governments will have to pick up between 10 percent and 25 percent of the cost.

One Republican governor accused President Clinton of reneging on a promise to pay for all the losses, and a spokesman for another called the plan "grossly unfair."

A formula announced by the Federal Emergency Management Agency would require the federal government to pay 90 percent of the cost of damage to public facilities — but only if a state's total losses exceed $64 per person. None of the nine Midwestern states so far has met that standard.

The government would pay 75 percent of the cost for any state with less than $64 in damage per resident.

Republican Gov. Terry Branstad of Iowa said President Clinton led him to believe the federal government would pay all the costs.

"It's certainly better than nothing, but it's not what the president promised," Branstad said. "We hope this isn't the last we hear of it."

He said Iowa will be forced to come up with $70 million it doesn't have even if, as expected, the state's losses exceed $64 per person.

Michael Lawrence, spokesman for GOP Gov. Jim Edgar of Illinois, said, "We think it's grossly unfair." He said it is likely Illinois will not qualify for the 90-10 split while neighboring Missouri probably will.

Strings tied to school funds

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Lawmakers working to get Chicago schools open on time are trying to link everything from the super-max prison to school vouchers to the bailout plan.

"What it's boiling down to is this: If Chicago is going to get something, downstaters want something too," said Sen. Denny Jacobs, D-Moline, who said he does not agree with that political tactic in this case.

Legislative leaders ended a three-hour meeting with Gov. Jim Edgar on Thursday with none solidly backing Chicago Mayor Richard Daley's school-funding plan to open city's schools on schedule.

Meanwhile the House and Senate adjourned until Friday morning, ruling out final action Thursday on the crisis.

The Democrats as well as the Republicans had changes they wanted to insert ...

Everybody realizes there is going to have to be some give and take," Edgar told reporters.

House Speaker Michael Madigan suggested the negotiations pointed to major roadblocks at reaching a solution but wouldn't offer further detail.

"There were two areas of discussion," the Chicago Democrat said. "There was the discussion based in the world of reality, and then there was one that bordered on the bizarre or surreal. I couldn't tell the difference."

Edgar said no one at the bargaining table was insisting on tradeoffs to benefit downstate districts in exchange for support for a Chicago bailout plan.

But some rank-and-file lawmakers said members dredged up issues they want passed and haven't been able to secure votes for in the past.

James Jordan's accused killers due in court today

LUMBERTON, N.C. (AP) - Two young Robeson County men accused of killing Michael Jordan's father were due in court Friday for hearings on several pretrial motions, including two seeking a gag order.

"The motion I filed was to restrain pre-trial publicity, but it is directed at the law enforcement agencies and the district attorney's office," Hugh Rogers, an attorney for Larry Martin Demery, one of the defendants, said Thursday.

The motion is similar to one filed by public defender Angus Thompson II, who represents Daniel Andre Green. But Thompson has also asked that Judge Robert Frank Floyd close some hearings on the admissibility of evidence in the case, to seal the case file and to bar cameras in the courtrooms.

The proposal to close some hearings is being challenged by news organizations in the state.

The North Carolina Press Association and the North Carolina Association of Broadcasters both plan to challenge any move to close hearings.

"It is not possible for the public to be informed of the operation of the court system if the doors are closed. North Carolina has a tradition of open, honest well-run courts."

"Our attorneys, Wade Hargrove and Mark Prak, will vigorously press our position that all pre-trial and trial proceedings relating to the murder charges against Daniel Green and Larry Demery be conducted in the open so that the public can see that justice is being administered fairly to all parties," said Rees Poag, president of the NCAB.

A.B. Futrell Jr., president of the North Carolina Press Association, said the effect of Thompson's motion would be to bar the public - not just the press - from the courtroom.

U.S. Open third round awaits No. 2 Sampras

NEW YORK (AP) - Pete Sampras overcame 24 aces by Daniel Vacek today to move into the third round of the U.S. Open.

It's rare when Sampras, the Wimbledon champion and seeded No. 2 at the Open, comes in second in the ace count. Vacek won that battle, 24-17, but Sampras had more power overall and won 6-4, 5-7, 6-2, 7-6 (7-3).

"The guy served huge," Sampras said. "Very dangerous player."

That is the type of match where it's good to get by. Playing before a stadium court crowd that included actress Sophia Loren, Sampras kept his serve under control, double-faulting just three times in the 2 1-2 hour match and winning 91 percent of his first-serve points. Vacek, whose career includes a victory over defending champion Stefan Edberg, had nine double faults and won 77 percent of the points on his first serve.

Vacek broke Sampras to win the second set, but had problems with his forehand throughout the match and ended it by sending a forehand long, his 43rd unforced error of the day.

Braves top Giants

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Braves cut San Francisco's lead in the NL West back to 3 games, winning their last scheduled meeting against the Giants 5-3 Thursday night on Ron Gant's ricochet single off pitcher Dave Burba.

The Braves, who swept a three-game series at Candlestick Park last week with 10 home runs, won two of three from San Francisco this week with the help of Gant's short single in the seventh inning off Burba's right buttock.

Atlanta has won nine of 11 and 18 of 22. The Giants have lost six of nine. This weekend, the Braves will be home against San Diego while the Giants will be at St. Louis.

Barry Bonds hit his 40th home run and Giants pitcher John Burkett hit an RBI single, putting San Francisco ahead 3-2 in the fourth inning and knocking out Steve Avery.

The Braves still trailed 3-2 in the seventh when pinch-hitter Tony Tarasco doubled with one out off Jeff Brantley (4-6). Nixon followed with a chop single that tied the score.

It could also hurt us. But we're not planning on that happening."

Eastern opens the tournament on Friday with a morning match against Northern Iowa and an evening match against Weber State. The Lady Panthers then wrap up tournament action on Saturday with matches against San Diego and Texas-San Antonio.

Leading the Lady Panthers' attack will be senior Kim Traub, who was named to the All-Gateway Conference team last season and is a preseason pick to repeat that honor. Traub kicked off the season with 10 kills and five blocks in Eastern's victory over the alumni team Saturday night.

"We'll definitely be tested in San Diego," Traub said. "But we're going to give it our best shot."

Returning senior setters Amy Van Eekeren and Shannon Casey, who had 16 and 9 assists, respectively, Saturday night, look to contribute. Also figuring into the lineup will be junior Kaaryn Sadler (four aces).

carried over into the fall. That's why he's in the first backfield," Spoo said. "If he can keep this up, it will do a lot for the whole team by opening up the passing game and the other backs. I feel really happy for him now, and I feel he's earned this with all the effort he's put into achieving it."

And maintaining it is something High has plans of doing — saying that this is only the beginning.

Willie High

"My goal right now is to try and maintain this level for the entire season," said High. "This is only the beginning, and we still have a long way to go as a team. I feel I'm up to the challenge. We just have to see what happens on the field."

Other returnees include Sherri Piowarczyk, Brigid Brennan and Heather Brewster. Newcomers Amy Poynton, Paula Stephen and Monica Brown will add support off of the bench.

Two of the keys to success in the tournament, according to Ralston, will be good defense and playing aggressive. That type of play was the foundation of last season's 23-11 team.

But Ralston's expectations are generally modest concerning the teams' goals in this particular tournament.

"Our goal is to come back from the tournament 2-3," Ralston said. "We think we can be competitive. The alumni game ironed out some of the questions because it allowed everyone some playing time. It gave the team a good tune up for the competition in San Diego."

That also relieves some of the pressure about a definite starting six.

"I'm not worried at this point about who's starting," Ralston said. "We're just going to work on mechanics and confidence. We'll see what happens."

Soccer

In addition, fullbacks Robert Tomic, Matt Cook (a two-time Academic All-Midwest Region honoree), and Vinko Lucinic, along with midfielder Jim Markness (a second-team all-conference performer in '92) will round out the returning starters.

"Tomic seems to be coming around," Mosnia said of the junior from Hamilton, Ontario. "He, along with the other returnees, need to come through for us."

Dyke and sophomore fullback Phil Obiala also hope to contribute to the Panthers' success.

With the loss of graduate Jim Davidson, who recorded 17 goals in 1992, along with the absence of Ricardo Tovar (12 points), the Panthers hope to fill these holes.

Mosnia expects to do this with "several fine freshmen" that have come in.

Leading this list of candidates is highly-touted freshman forward Brad McTighe, a prospect from Lenexa, Kan. Also, freshman Brian Ritschel will compete against junior Jacob Gress for the goalkeeping position.

Other freshmen hopefuls include: fullbacks Mark Gregory, Greg McDonald, and Chris Turner; midfielders Nana Kyeame and Mark Valintis; forwards Carl Kwakye, Henry Ospina, Brad McTighe, Greg McDonald, Brian Kelly, and Chris Turner.

"The only weakness I think we have is that these freshmen do not have any college experience," said Mosnia, hoping his team remains up-beat throughout the season. "We are a very young and hard-working team. I think our attitude will carry us quite far."

Falcon's Rison arrested

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta Falcons wide receiver Andre Rison was arrested Thursday and charged with beating his girlfriend and firing a gun after two men tried to stop him.

Police said Rison assaulted Lisa Lopes, a singer with the rap group TLC, after the two left an Atlanta nightclub early Thursday.

Rison was charged with aggravated assault and freed on $16,500 bond. Lopes was arrested for allegedly attacking a police officer.

She was freed on $1,200 bond on a charge of obstruction. Both face a Municipal Court hearing Friday.

"First of all, I'd like to apologize to my organization and to my fans," Rison said as he left jail. "All I was doing was defending myself. It was a matter of a situation where I thought I might be hindered or harmed, and I protected myself."

Police said Lopes went inside a Kroger grocery store when Rison began striking her with his fist about 3:30 a.m. When two men tried to intervene, Rison allegedly told them "to get the hell out of there," said Sgt. R.J. Dukes.

Police said Lopes then ran outside while Rison went to his car and got a gun. Rison threatened a woman who offered a ride to Lopes and fired a shot at a wall outside the store, Dukes said.

Rison said he was carrying a gun for protection.

"A man of my stature and the stature of the woman I date — we're both stars," he said.

Rison practiced with the team Thursday.

Panthers take opener 34-17

By DON O'BRIEN
Staff editor

Murray, Ky. — It only took Eastern's Panthers one half to figure out Murray State.

"We knew their base coverage and base defense going into the game, but we had to kind of feel them out at first," said senior quarterback Jeff Thorne. "We went right down and scored on them the first time, and then sputtered a little."

A strong rushing attack, which was paced by Willie High's 172 yards, and a solid defensive effort led the Panthers to a 34-17 win over the Racers.

"Winning down here is especially nice since we haven't had that much success here," said Eastern head coach Bob Spoo.

The Panthers are now off until Sept. 11 when they travel to Louisiana to take on nationally-ranked McNeese State.

Eastern held a 13-10 half-time lead on the strength of a 44-yard field goal by sophomore Steve Largent before opening up for 14 third-quarter points.

MURRAY, Ky. — Sophomore Willie High has always thought he's had something to prove since starting his career at Eastern.

The Mattoon native was red-shirted his freshman year and saw only limited action last season rushing just 29 times for 132 yards.

He more than equaled that Thursday night.

High rushed for 172 yards on 20 carries including a 1-yard touchdown burst in the third quarter to help lead the Panthers to a 34-17 opening-game win over Murray State.

State.

"Last year was kind of frustrating for me, but I worked very hard in the off-season," High said. "Tonight I got the chance to show what I could do, and I made the most of it."

"I always knew I had this in me, but tonight the line just did a great job of opening up the holes for me — I really had the easy job tonight."

Panther head coach Bob Spoo agreed that High's off-season work really paid off on the field.

"Willie had a great spring, and it just 10 Panther lead.

Both teams exchanged scores in the fourth quarter. Murray State added a touchdown midway through the quarter when Cory Rodney hit Matt Hall on a seven-yard scoring pass.

Eastern responded with under two minutes remaining when Thorne, who passed for 199 yards, hit Obadiah Cooper for a 48-yard scoring strike to make the final score 34-17.

McGowan paced Murray with 96 yards rushing and 206 all-purpose yards.

The Racers dropped their first game under new head coach Houston Nutt, who was coaching his first game after eight years as a Division I assistant.

James Dorsey led the Panther defense with nine tackles and Shavez Hawkins recorded three quarterback sacks.

"The defense held up tonight when it had to," said Spoo, "and the offense got the job done in that last drive."

Korosec rushed for 54 yards on 13 carries and Pete Mauch had 119 return yards for the Panthers.

Soccer looks to win with combinations

By BOB CRAMPTON
Staff writer

Coming off a sluggish 3-12-1 season, Eastern's soccer team looks to utilize a combination of freshmen along with five returning starters to turn its fortunes around.

The Panthers will start their quest for a better season Saturday when they kickoff off the year at Western Kentucky.

The Panthers have jumped out of the gates early, as they prevailed in a trio of exhibition games. Eastern hopes to bring this surge into the season's opener on Sept. 4 versus Western Kentucky, before returning home to face Oral Roberts University on Sept. 6.

"I thought we played well in those (pre-season) games," Mosnia said. "Since the kids are young, I hope it will boost their confidence going into the first game. We don't know much about them (Western Kentucky), but we're going in with a positive attitude."

With a young club and high expectations, the Panthers will look upon junior standout Paul Agyeman, who is expected to be the top offensive threat to this year's club.

Agyeman, an All-Mid-Continent Conference and All-Midwest Region selection, was the team's leading scorer with 22 total points last season, as he tallied seven goals while dishing out eight assists.

"Paul is playing very well," said Mosnia, who is in his 10th year as head coach. "We will be looking for him to make things happen, because he is our team leader."

Volleyball starts season at San Diego Tourney

By ANTHONY NASELLA
Staff writer

Eastern volleyball coach Betty Ralston is a firm believer in the old adage, what you don't know won't hurt you.

And she's hoping that adage holds true to form on Friday, when the Lady Panthers participate at the University of San Diego Tourney, considering she knows very little about her team's opponents.

"I truthfully don't know any of the teams were going to play," said Ralston, whose team was picked to finish second in the Mid-Continent Conference preseason poll. "I have no scouting reports. So we're just going to go out and play our game. We'll work on

Coaches vote Traub conference selection

Eastern volleyball player Kim Traub was named as a preseason All-Mid-Continent Conference selection in a vote by league coaches.

The coaches ranked Eastern second out of the league's ten teams in the Mid-Con preseason poll, just behind defending champion Northern Illinois.

Traub, a middle hitter from Effingham, will once again anchor the Lady Panthers' attack after capturing all-conference honors last season and ranking in the top five in the conference in hitting percentage (.309), kills per game (3.59) and blocks per game (1.20). She was also named the league's "Player of the Week" four times and the "Athlete of the Month" in September.

this tournament," Ralston added. "It could help us, but
