NORMAL SCHOOL NEWS

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE STUDENTS OF THE EASTERN ILLINOIS STATE NORMAL SCHOOL

VOL. 2

CHARLESTON, ILLINOIS, TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1917

NO. 27

TEACHER'S EXAMINATION

Teacher's examination were held in each county throughout the state last Thursday and Friday. The Coles county examination was held in the office of County Superintendent Oscar L. Minter. Forty people took the examination. Twenty of these asked to have certificates issued for Coles county. Thirty three of the applicants were women. Thirty-seven of the applicants asked for second grade certificates.

Of the people taking the examination seven were high school graduates, thirteen had attended both high schools and Normal schools, and twenty had attended Normal schools only after the grades.

MILITARY TRAINING

Freeport High School is to have military training. The Freeport people believe in preparedness and are among the first to put this course in military training into their school.

Pratt High School, of Pratt, Kansas, is giving a course in military training. They have an elective course however, and no one is required to take the work.

Y. W. C. A.

The regular weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held last Friday evening in the music room. Claude Fox led the meeting. The work which includes a systematic study of lessons has been started and should have the support of all the boys of the school. Homer Moats was elected president of the Association a short time ago. Mr. Moats is anxious to see the work progress and will do all he can to see that a good program is given at each meeting.

AS OTHERS SEE US

Evidently the basket ball tournament at Charleston was a success if we are to believe The Normal School News. We might suggest that the next time you write up such a voluminous topic as a tournament that you dose it good with "pep" and "enthusiasm" and not leave it a mere chronicle of bare facts and statistics. Your editorials are good. — N. I.

Thank you, Northern Illinois. We are open to frank criticism and believe that you are sincere in your article. We tried our best to make the tournament as barren as possible so that our readers could have a complete record of the tournament. Our paper's aim is not literary, being simply a newspaper.

Oscar Freeland took the teachers examination last week.

MILITARY TRAINING

Would it be possible to organize a company of students for military training? This question has been asked many times during the last week. Many of the students are in favor of organizing such a company and some of the faculty seem to favor it. It seems that at least one member of the faculty has had a course in military training and is willing to help in the organization of a company. The question of whether or not a company should be organized here is certainly a live one and all the students should think about the war situation and how he can best serve his country in case we enter war with the European powers.

Y. W. C. A.

The regular weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held in the parlors of Pemberton Hall Friday evening. The meeting took the form of an Easter lesson. Agnes Hoult led the meeting. Hazel Gumm and Rachel Risser sang a beautiful duet; Mary Dickerson gave an Easter Greeting; and interesting accounts of how Easter is spent in New York; Among the Indians of New Mexico. and on Mt. Rubidos in California.

There will be no meeting this week.

NEW GYM

The Neodesha High School of Neodesha, Kansas, is to have a new gymnasium, with room for manual training and domestic science. The Neodesha school seems to be a progressive one.

Several Charleston people are teaching in the Neodesha schools. Earl Taubeneck, '15; Flossie Doty, '15. Miss Emma Newel, '12, and Esther Bussard, '16.

UNIFORM DRESS

We notice in several of our exchanges that the students in many places are adopting uniform dress. This week we notice that the girls of a Kansas school have adopted a sailor dress, to be made of blue serge in winter, and Copenhagen blue chambray, in spring and fall. This style of dress is not compulsory in that school but is promoted. In other schools boys have adopted uniform dress.

We suggest that this plan of uniform dress might well be adopted by the Senior class for the graduation exercises.

Helen Root spent Thursday afternoon shopping in Mattoon.

Audra Foreman was called to her home to care for her sister who is suffering from appendicitis.

BASE BALL PRACTICE

Work has been started on the base ball diamond on the athletic field and it will soon be in shape for regular practice. Although many of the athletes are not out for practice because of vaccinated arms they will soon be out again and work will be started in earnest toward putting the team in shape for the Rose Poly game soon after spring vacation.

HATS AND CAPS

Both the boys and girls of the Junior and Senior classes are ordering felt hats and caps in their class colors and numerals. These class hats will add much to class spirit. We hope that each member of these classes will be supplied in time for the Junior-Senior picnic this spring.

VICE PRESIDENT BEREAVED

Grace Long, Vice President of the Seniors is mourning the loss of her dog, Muggins. Muggins was killed by a car last Saturday while down town shopping with his mistress.

SENIOR GIRLS MEET

The girls had a meeting Monday morning to discuss the dress to be worn during commencement week.

NORMAL SCHOOL NEWS

This week closes the third quarter of the school year. Our aim has been to edit a newspaper and not a literary one. We feel that we have succeeded in some ways and failed in many others. Perhaps most of them have been our fault, but you, the members of our institution, are partly to be blamed. We feel that we have given a boost to school spirit and that our editorials have been satisfactorily effective.

We have stimulated your interest in The Normal School News and we believe that most of you read it. But here is where you are at fault. Too many of you depend on reading your neighbor's paper. This neighbor is not treated fairly. "He wants what he wants when he wants it." This year the money that has come in through the advertising and subscriptions, has paid for the printing but very little is left. To have a school paper next year there must be more subscribers. Prove that you are a supporter. Read your own Normal School News, or have it sent to a friend. We will charge you only 25c for the remainder of the year.

James Gillet has returned from his home in Chicago, where he was called by the illness of his father.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING

At a meeting of the Senior class last Monday morning possibilities for a class play were discussed. The meeting was opened by class president Schahrer, Mrs. Wilson told of some of the plays that were possible. Indoor and outdoor plays were discussed. Modern and Shakespearian plays were mentioned. Mrs. Wilson mentioned some modern plays, such as the "Man From Home," "The College Widow," "A Scrap of Paper," "Brown of Harvard" and "Officer 666."

The class voted on whether a modern play or a Shakespearian play should be given. They decided unanimously for a modern production.

A committee was appointed by President Schahrer to select a play. Miss Wilson, Miss Sheffington, Mae Belle Anderson, Neva Higgins and Harry Pyle were named on this committee.

All those who would be willing to take part in the class play were requested to meet next Thursday at 4 o'clock in Miss Davis' room. A try out will be given at that time to see who is best fitted to the parts.

Miss Sheffington talked on the class gift to be left on the campus by this year's class. Several suggestions were made among them were, gate post, lamp post, flag pole, ergle.

The class officers are to make investigations and report on the various things above mentioned.

Mary Lyle asked for volunteers for work on the Senior class books.

Frank Harris mentioned the fact that snap shots were desirable and suggested that those who had any that were desirable bring them to Miss Lyle.

The class voted to have a Library Science Jubilee some time after vacation.

Otto "Dutch" Schmaelzle made a speech on originality and Miss Ske ington suggested that if this class is prompt in all their appointments it will be a most original class. She also made an appeal for the class to pull together.

Charleston is to have a new Opera House. If the public gives the Opera House the deserved support, we will be able to see some good plays in Charleston. We need an Opera House and should do everything we can to help along this good cause.

Daphne Brown is in school after a few days absence because of illness. Miss Brown did not have the small pox as was rumored.

With the approach of graduation day the Seniors begin to think more and more of plans for the coming year. The day was, when a Normal school education would possibly have been sufficient, but that time has passed. Now the person that has graduated from a Normal school has the foundation for a college education, or he can teach if he does not care to go much higher than the elementary schools. It is a well known fact that if one wishes to go very far in educational work a graduate course at some good college is necessary and a master's degree in the particular subject chosen by the individual is certainly a necessity in going to the top.

Taking last year's graduation class of our school as an example, by far the greater part are not in college. Probably the greater part of the class are teaching. Some of the class have realized that they must have a college degree if they are to get far in their chosen work. One young man who has been offered a substantial increase in salary to remain where he now is, will go to college so that he may be able to do more efficient work and rise higher among educational men. This case is only one of many. In looking over the Alumni register it is easy to see that the ones who are rising in the educational world are those who have realized the value of a college education. Everything considered it seems far more likely that the person with a college degree is likely to get on in the world. This is shown by the choice of college graduates for the best positions both in the business world and in teaching.

Many Normal School graduates go to college sooner or later. More should go, but why delay this necessary education until forced to procure it in order to advance? Why not go to college next year? Objections of several kinds would be given by different people in answer to the above question. Chief of which would be, "I haven't the money." This is indeed a most powerful reason for not going, but many times this is an imaginary trouble. It is many times, a case of not liking to spend the money. It is a safe statement, we think, that people of experience in the matters of education will advise a college education as soon as possible. Then why not next year start toward a college degree and not wait until circumstances require it. The time will come when a person without a college education will have to give way to the person with the degree. Let us prepare against that time by being in possession of both the necessary knowledge and the necessary credentials.

SOCIETY NEWS

By Zula Phillippe

Florence Gilman and Fern Hostettler ate Sunday dinner at Portee's Cafe.

Fern Hostettler and Beulah Smith entertained Marie, Olmstead, Marguerite Edwards, Mary Lyle, Dorothy Davis, Mae Donna Deems, and Zula Phillippe at a spread and a slumber party in their room at Pemberton Hall Saturday night. The evening was spent about the table eating and telling "snappy stories." Mary Lyle acted as toastmistress.

Claude Fox entertained Homer Scovil, Arthur Forster, John Rife, and Lyman Ritter at a five hundred party and spread at his room 1101 Sixth street Saturday evening.

Mary Elizabeth and William Cone gave an informal dancing party at their home Monday afternoon from two to five o'clock.

Marguerite Bell entertained a number of friends at her home on Sixth street Saturday evening. The hostess and guests cooked their own supper, after which they spent some time dancing and then made a visit to the Candy Shop. Those present were Eula Stanberry, Barbara Miles, Mary Elizabeth Cone, Myrtle Black, Marjorie Fox, Florence Gilman, Josephine Berry, and Margaret Bell, and Eugene Gordon, Glen Moore, James Ford, Dale Sexson, Trevor Servies, James Bell, and Vernon Baker. The party was chaperoned by Miss Williard and Mary Bell.

DISLOYALISTS AT SCHOOL
The trustees of Columbia University have appointed a committee to ascertain if doctrines subversive of or tending "to the violation or disregard of the constitution" or "to encourage a spirit of disloyalty to the government of the United States and the principles upon which it is founded are taught or disseminated by officers of the university." It is an inquiry that ought to be made in every college and university, in every public school.

We do not charge that such doctrines are taught in Columbia or elsewhere, but where does the noisy brood of boy disloyalists, anarchists, pacifists, come from? Are the young men of the colleges, the boys and girls of the schools, the victims of exterior propaganda, or are they taught in the schools and colleges?

If anywhere patriotism is being poisoned in the young, if anywhere our children and youth are exposed to the inculcation of fatal doctrines by their teachers, the fact can not be faced too soon. There will be the customary patter about "academic freedom." That freedom can not protect teachers, if such there be, who are undermining the patriotism of the next generation.—New York Times.
