CHARLESTON, ILLINOIS, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1917

NO. 7

HOME COMING, SATURDAY, NOV. 17. WE WANT TO SEE YOU

$1300 IS PLEDGED

Our nation is still at war and we are one of the great needs to carry on this warfare. A movement is now on in the United States to raise one million dollars by December 15, 1917. This fund known as the Student's Friendship War Fund, Illinois has been pledged to raise $85,000. The money to come as gifts from faculty members and students in all schools.

Last Friday E. I. S. N. S. had a campaign to raise its share of a great fund. The plans for this campaign were in the hands of a committee composed of three faculty members, the Y. W. C. cabinet, a representative from the foot ball team, the editor of the school paper, and some key students. This committee secured $100 from Chicago and $100 from Hart a Canadian soldier.

Mr. Hubbard has kindly consented to assist in the collection of the money. You may see him in the office any day from 1:00 to 1:30.

If any one wishes to make a pledge, who has not already done so, please see Lyman Ritter, Cecil Ellsberry or Ruth Hadden.

RECEIVES CARNEGIE MEDAL.
Award of Carnegie medals and money to the widow and father of Ollin V. (Jack) Bennett, a former E. I. student, recalls Bennett's sacrifice of his life June 13, 1916, in the effort to rescue J. Harlan Etheridge, aged eighteen, a sophomore of the Normal school, from the waters of the Embarras river.

Bennett, Etheridge, Arthur Corbin and James Brown, a member of the basket ball team, visited the river to bathe. Etheridge and Brown, who could not swim, intended to paddle around in shallow water. Bennett and Corbin had left the water and were dressing when cries from Brown warned them that he was in distress. Seeing both boys were in danger, Bennett went after Etheridge who was in a deep hole, while Corbin rescued Brown by the aid of a long pole. As soon as Bennett reached Etheridge, the frightened boy got a grip on Bennett's neck and both went down. Their bodies were recovered within a few feet of each other after being in the water for thirty minutes. Bennett's underwear had become wrapped around his ankles and the lower part of his body, making him helpless.

Bennett, age twenty-four, left a widow, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Furman Bennett and two sisters at Martinsville. He was a member of Co. A. Casey, Illinois national guard.

TIE GAME PLAYED AT WESLEYAN

Coach Lantz with his speedy little team left Charleston Thursday noon to play the second conference game of the season with the Wesleyan team at Bloomington. The Wesleyan team was going to have to face and they were praying for a muddy field, their only chance to hold our boys. They got their muddy field, and as our boys are not used to such they were able to hold the blue and gray team to a 0 to 0 score.

With the exception of a few minutes in the last quarter our boys kept the pig skin in the Wesleyans' territory. At one time in the second quarter it looked as if the blue and gray team was certainly going to make a touchdown, but they lost the ball on downs within seven yards of the goal line. Line plunges were the ground gainers for both sides. Forward passes were very unsuccessful, and end runs failed. Our boys are not discouraged because they were held to the 0 to 0 score. They feel confident that the Wesleyanites would have no show with them on a dry field.

JOHN WRITES A PLAN

The following article written by John Hawkins, former editor of The Normal School News will be of interest to all, and especially to the seniors who are now writing plans for teaching:

I have written my plan for Tuesday. It is for your acceptance or rejection. However, if you will give me a class, I am sure that I can put the lesson to them in such a way that they will see the wisdom of accepting it. We have a number of German sympathizers, slackers and spies. It was my pleasure to have six of them today building a concrete culvert. We gave them a lesson in Americanism at the point of the bayonet. I assure you I had real pleasure in seeing them build bridges for Uncle Sam.

1. Subject: Americanism.
2. Aim: To cause the kaiser worry.
3. Preparation: Trained American soldiers, big guns, armored cars, air plains, battle ships, mu-spirit and money of true Americans.

4. Method of procedure:
 - a. Training in American camps.
 - b. Crossing on American transports.
 - c. Entering France and training there.
 - d. Fighting in true American manner.
 - e. Triumphant with the Allies in the cause of democracy.
5. Subject matter:
 - a. Kings and crowns.
 - b. Democracy and autocracy. Killing of non-combatants and American method of warfare.
 - c. The rightness of the allies and the wrongness of the Huns.
 - d. Summary: What was the cause of it all? How has all such conflicts ended? Are you an American? Then let us all unite in doing our best to cause the kaiser as many sleepless nights as possible.

FOOT BALL SATURDAY

What promises to be one of the best games of the season on the local field will be played Saturday when the team from St. Viator's will be here. Every loyal student of the school should be at this game and help to swell the funds of the athletic association. The game will be called promptly at 2:45.

Fern Hostettler entertained Foster Poole from Purdue College Sunday afternoon and evening.

SERVICE RECORD

Mr. Lord has appointed a committee for the purpose of keeping a record of all students in any way connected with the service during the present war. The committee is composed of Mr. Hubbard, Miss Ingils, and Mr. Vestal.

Blanks have been mailed to Martin Schahrer to be made out by the men at Camp Taylor, and Joel Connelly at Camp Logan. In addition the committee is getting in touch with information connected with all graduates and former students.

To any one reading this notice knowing of some one who has ever been connected with this school, and now serving their country in any military capacity, it is the earnest wish of the committee that they send them information concerning same. Every effort is being made to have the records complete by home coming.

A copy of the blanks is printed below:

1. Name. Class.
2. Location of home at time of enlistment.
- Occupation at time of enlistment.
3. Date of enlistment.
- Place of enlistment.
- Organization with which enlisted.
4. Organization into which transferred.
5. Where located.
- Left home. Date.
- Place. Date arrived.
6. Promotions. Office. Date.
7. Actions engaged in.
8. Honors received.
9. Mustered out. Place. Date.
10. Person most frequently writing to. Name. Relationship. Name of student friends now in school. (Give two.)
11. Remarks.

Eva Fry entertained in honor of her sixteenth birthday, Saturday night, in her room from 10 to 10:30. Fern Hostettler, Lottie Leach, Maybelle McMinn, Myrtle Black, Katherine Ford and Hermina Kruci Menzi were present. Candy, fruit and fried chicken were served. After refreshments, those present were entertained by a ghost walk and a number of other Halloween feasts.

Homer Scovil spent Sunday with home folks in Cowden.

What does co-operation mean? It means "working together." Have you ever stopped to think of how much value co-operation is, in the progress of a home, a school, and a nation? Many homes all over the country are merely so by name, because the inmates do not know the meaning or the value of "working together." The children in many homes are brought up to feel that home is a mere stopping place.

If co-operation is such a strong point in the progress of a home, how about a school? A school is not going to advance in any definite way, or to any great degree, as long as there is any friction between organizations in the school. No institution can attain its goal unless all parts concerned, are working toward that goal. Unselfishness and broad, deep thinking, on the part of those concerned, is the only thing that will keep an institution "working together."

The same is true of a nation. If a nation prospers, it must have harmony between all executive bodies. If nations are at peace, they must cooperate one with another and work for the same end.

We, as students are away from home. We have not advanced so far as to have the affairs of a nation in our hands. We are in a school, however, and should use our energy in the right direction.

Let us get together and make our school the very best school that is possible. How is this to be done? One word will answer. Co-operation. This means that each student must get the welfare of the whole institution in mind, and not just one part of the whole.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

A surprise party was given for Alma Deames Friday evening at the home of her uncle, Mr. Frederick Koch. About twelve of her girl friends succeeded in making the surprise successful. Games and dancing made the evening an enjoyable one.

Those invited were Merle Root, Harriet Foreman, Henriette Brown, Edith Crowe, Lucile and Dorothy Nehrling, Florence Springer, Ila James, Mae Donna Deames, Myrtle Black, Dorothy Davis, Beulah Smith and Audrey Shuey. Dainty refreshments were served.

Anna Robertson entertained in her room at Pemberton Hall Sunday evening in honor of Izma Dillon, Evelyn Andres and Lylria Sage, of Granite City.

Refreshments of ham sandwiches, cheese-pimento sandwiches, pickles, cake, fruit and cocoa were served.

Others present were Martha Damotte, Mildred Droegge, Carrie Kogel and Priscilla Davis.

A Hallowe'en party was given by Margaret Hasler, Opal Maddox, Mary Dorothy Williamson and Catherine Williamson in rooms 5 and 7 at Pemberton Hall Saturday night. One room was decorated with pumpkins and the other was draped with white sheets, witches and black cats. The lights were shaded with blue coverings, giving a very spooky air to the room. Ghost stories were the chief feature of the evening.

Refreshments of fried chicken, bread and butter, sandwiches, pickles, apples, doughnuts and popcorn were served.

Those present were Helen Revard, Thelma Smith, Herminia K. Menzi, Mary Allen, Katherine Ford, Eva Frye and Ethel Bennett.

The guests came masked and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Mr. Little, of Chicago, and "Jimmie" Hart, a Canadian soldier just returned from the front in France, were guests at Pemberton Hall Friday noon. Many of the students enjoyed talking with Jimmie, as he was very entertaining and has thrilling stories to tell of the war, which is the center of interest at present. They were entertained at lunch by Esther Kelso, Ruth Hadden, Nannie Ellis, Mildred Gray, Mae Donna Deames, Lucy Gray, Cecille Ellsberry and Rachel Kisser, members of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, and Lyman Ritter and Homer Scovill, of The Normal School News Staff.

A birthday dinner party was given at Pemberton Hall Friday evening in honor of Beulah Smith and Miriam Coen, who were "so" old on that date. The table was decorated with ferns and pink candles. Later during the feast two birthday cakes were added to the appearance of the table.

Those present were Beulah Smith, Miriam Coen, Mae Donna Deames, Dorothy Davis, Fern Hostettler, Josephine Berry, Marjorie England, Myrtle Black, Katherine Briggs, John Smysor and Miss McKinney.

The regular Saturday night dance was held in the gymnasium this week. A good many were present and every one seemed to have a pleasant evening. Misses Farrar, Vincent, Stanley, Hoy and Peters were chaperones.

Izma Dillon, Evelyn Andres, and Sylvia Seago, from Granite City, were visiting Anna Robertson, Sunday.

Beatrice Rannin entertained her sister, Marjorie Bannin, of the Danville schools, Saturday night and Sunday.

Next Saturday night will be the big Hallowe'en dance. Every one come in costume and have a big time.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

It has been the general feeling among the girls at Pemberton Hall that Student Government was coming sooner or later. Last week the matter was put before the girls and was very favorably accepted. Miss Peters, the matron, called a "house meeting" of the girls on Tuesday and tried to explain Student Government in a way that lead the girls to believe it was the proper way for girls to be governed.

On Friday night an election of officers was held and the following were elected:

President, Loel Zehner.
Senior Representatives, Rachel Risser, Clara Wright.
Junior Representatives, Ruth Hadden, Bertha Wills.
Sophomore Representative, Josephine Berry.
Freshman Representative, Bes-sie Daily.

9th Year Representative, Evelyn Frye.

The girls seem very anxious to make this new issue a success and it is to be hoped that Student Government has come to stay.
