HOME COMING, OCTOBER 29—FORMER STUDENTS INVITED

E. I. 3, SHURTLEFF 6

E. I. lost one of the most heart-breaking and bone-breaking football games of several seasons, Friday. The score should have been 3-0 in our favor. The team deserved to win. With Homecoming one week away, several men are out with injuries. Rawlands, E. I. center, received a broken collar bone at the beginning of the second half, but played the rest of the game. It was one of the best exhibitions of grit ever seen on Schahrer field. Perry is out for at least three weeks. It is the hardest blow the team has received this season. Muchmore has a cracked rib and will be out of the Homecoming game probably. Playing against a 180-pound tackle, he showed some as good football as any man on the team. Ashbrook, playing the other guard, got a smashed cheek bone and a black eye in the first part of the game. Johnson had the same kind of opposition that Muchmore encountered, and treated it—the same way. Swope played a great game, getting through and stopping several plays before they got started. Gobert was easily the individual star of the game. His dropkick from the 30-yd. line in the third quarter should have won the game. In the same period he returned a punt 35 yards to the 25-yd. line. He also played an excellent defensive game. Great-house got away to several good gains, one for 20 yards. The team outplayed Shurtleff until the last few minutes. The varsity is still weak on passing. Shurtleff outweighed but not outplayed us. Shurtleff got one lucky break in the last quarter when their quarterback ran 25 yards for a touchdown. He failed to kick goal. This player was Shurtleff's star. We had the ball in their territory most of the time. We were near the goal several times but could not get it over. It was a hard luck game. Let's pep up and beat Rose Poly at Homecoming. It will be harder because of our hospital list, but we can and we will do it.

Lineups: Dunn, R. E.; Swope, R. T.; Ashbrook and Johnson, R. G.; Rawlands, C.; Muchmore and Alcorn, L. G.; Creamer, L. T.; Crowe and Anderson, L. E.; Gobert, Q.; Prather, L. H.; Funkhouser, F. B.; Great-house and Osborne, L. H. Shurt-leff had only a few minutes to make their train and it was impossible to get their lineup.

Referee—Winters, U. I.
Umpire—Asbury, C. H. S.
Head lineman—Hampton.

Don't fail to see the E. I. football team in action on October 29.

Field Trip

Between six and six-thirty Monday morning a few sleepy students and two instructors took a Big Four special to Embarras Station. From there they walked and swam through bogs and marshes, climbed over mountains and up ravines studying the many different plant formations. These trips have proven very interesting to students, and we wonder why they are not more popular with other members of the faculty.

Teachers' Meeting

Over fifteen hundred teachers attended the 24th annual meeting of the E. I. S. T. A., held in the Teachers College building Friday and Saturday of last week. This meeting was one of the best that has been held here in years. The lectures by Dean Davenport and Edward Steiner were very good, receiving many favorable comments. The recital by Arthur Kraft was excellent. All the sectional meetings were crowded.

"Big talk"—Saturday, Oct. 29. Don't miss it.

WILL COME BACK STRONG SATURDAY

Coach Lantz is now facing a hard situation. Of the twenty men out for football nine are on the hospital list. It is hoped that some of these men will be in a condition to play at Homecoming next Saturday. Probably this week will witness a "shake-up" of the E. I. lineup. Failure to catch forward passes and inability of the team to form interference are the outstanding defects of the team. Twice in Friday's game, failure on the part of some of the E. I. players to "clip" their men resulted in the loss of two touchdowns. Everyone who knows the kind of coach Mr. Lantz is, is sure that E. I. will have a strong team out on the field next Saturday; although Rawlands Muchmore, Snyder and Ashbrook will be greatly missed. E. I. always comes back strong after a defeat and should win their next game.

Eureka's defeat of Wesleyan makes Normal U. stand out strong as a competitor. Normal U. held Eureka to a 0-8 score last week. Our varsity meets Normal on their field on their Homecoming day, Nov. 5. Last year we played Normal under the same conditions, and we hope to give them the same end of the score they did us.

Big parade, October 29, come.

FORMER STUDENTS ARE URGED TO BE PRESENT

The home coming next Saturday promises to be the best that we have ever had. Only bad weather can spoil the day. Every former student within traveling distance of Charleston should make every effort to attend. Possibly there are trival matters which may make it seem impossible for you to come, but remember you are bound to be well repaid for any inconvenience that you may have in coming. You can not afford to miss the splendid program that the committee has arranged for you. Mr. Lord's and Mr. Neal's speeches alone will make your presence worth while.

This year, something has been planned for every minute of the day that you will be here, and we assure you that you will not have a dull minute while you are in Charleston. All that we ask of the former students is that they come and we will do the rest. We think that the program is the best that has ever been planned for any home coming.

Chapel exercises, table banquet and the foot ball game are essentials to every E. I. home coming. In addition to these we have several new attractions. The class stunts are bound to be a great success and the hockey game will attract great interest. The parade led by a real E. I. band, will add much to the gaiety of the home coming. The banquet with Mr. Taylor as toastmaster, and three or four good after dinner speakers will be, as usual, the most interesting, the most enjoyable part of the whole program. An excellent chicken dinner, planned and served by Miss Molyneaux will add much to this part of the program.

Come back and renew acquaintance with your old class mates.

Teachers College News

Published weekly by the students of the Eastern Illinois State Teachers' College on each Tuesday during the school year at 511 Jackson St., Charleston, Ill.

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 8, 1915 at the Post Office at Charleston, Ill., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Some students take Homecoming as an opportunity to enjoy one themselves. That is a very poor spirit for any student to have toward a Homecoming. It certainly shows a lack of interest in the school. To choose this Saturday to go home on, of all Saturdays, is a kind of treason to E. I. You must stay. Show the alumni you think enough of them and E. I. to be here Homecoming.

If students sending in editorials of criticism will write them over their signatures, it is more probable they will be printed. Any person can sit down, write a vituperative editorial and send it in without his signature. The same person, knowing that his signature is required, to get it printed, will use greater care in the composition of his theme. This column is not going to contain any grousches from disgruntled students. We are quite willing to print contributions that point out real questions and problems. Generally a student who thinks he has a complaint would do well to stand off and see where he is at fault.

ARTS AND CRAFTS

Students from each of the classes have been appointed to sell tickets for the Arts and Crafts exhibition, which will be held in the Teachers College building Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. This collection is a very wonderful one of its kind, and every student should take advantage of this unusual opportunity. This exhibition was brought here for educational purposes only. In order to cover the expenses of this exhibition an admission fee will be charged—season tickets 35 cents, students 25 cents; single admission 25 cents, students 15 cents. Buy your ticket at once from one of the students who are selling them. Do not wait for them to come to you, but go to them. The exhibition will be open Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the following hours: 10:20 to 12:00 in the morning; 2:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon; 7:00 to 10:00 in the evening.

Keep in touch with your old school, and old classmates by subscribing for the Teachers College News. Subscription price only one dollar. Send us your name and address now.

Most of the classes have assessed their members for Homecoming. It is not hard to understand why money is needed. One item of expense last year was $100. Students should not look upon the assessment as a tax. Be glad to give. Pay up promptly. Show everybody one more evidence of your loyalty to E. I.

The Senior class of the High School had a very busy class meeting at the regular class meeting time last Wednesday. How to organize as a real Senior High School class was the chief subject. To this end several resolutions were adopted. A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution. Possibilities of printing a class annual and having full grown class dues were also debated.

At their last regular meeting the Freshmen of the college elected permanent class officers: president, Albert Crowe; vice president, Sumner Anderson; secretary, Neva Gish; Treasurer, Forrest Greathouse.

The school had two sings Tuesday and Thursday mornings at chapel. The students have given plenty of proof that they are interested and want more sings.

Our Homecoming game is with Rose Poly. We played them a 0-0 game at the first of the season on muddy ground. We should beat them this time if the field is in good shape.

Exchange copies of different college papers are on the round table in the library. Students ought to be interested in looking over papers from schools that are our rivals in athletic contests.

Sophomore Class Meeting

The Sophomore class held its regular meeting Wednesday morning in room 29. Miss Rooker gave a talk on the attendance at class parties, the stunt for Homecoming day and a dance to be given by the Freshman class. An election of officers followed. The results were: secretary, Opal Bussard; treasurer, John White; historians, Lillian Meyers, Marian Everett; Poet, Estelle Craft; sergeant-at-arms, Carroll Dunn. Marjorie Lynch and Marie Buckler were appointed to canvass the class for donations to the Near East Relief Fund.

The Y. W. C. A. is having a membership drive this week. All the girls of this school should join this organization. Get behind this drive and make it the most successful of Y. W. history at E. I.

Visitors Delighted

There were so many exclamations of delight from the E. I. T.
A. visitors about the campus that it was almost unanimous. Perhaps we that are here all the time fail to appreciate it. Go out on the walk south of the green house and look southward over the hockey field. The trees seem to have departed from the usual custom of turning brown and have suddenly burst out in reds
and yellows.

The Junior Party

The Autumn moon hung low.
And with its silvery glow
Softly bathed the earth with light,
Turning the night to deep twilight.

The breezes whispered on the trees
Of things, that one quite seldom sees:

For tripping o'er the velvety
grass,
Came many a Junior lad and lass.

Dressed in garbs of long ago
That were made of skins and calico
And rescued from the attic chest,
They used to be grandfather's best.

Some were stained and badly torn,
Others wrinkled, faded, worn.
And as the Juniors passed along,
They left the smell of moth balls
strong.

Into the gym of Pemberton Hall,
Came these Juniors, one and all.
They held a real, old fashioned
ball

With plenty of eats and fun for all.
The doughnuts were tough, the
cider sweet.

Their hearts were light, so were
their feet.
They danced the old Virginia reel,
Until the wall clock did reveal

The hour was swiftly drawing
nigh,
When all "Hall" girls must say
"good-bye"

To their friends from out in town.
Or else Miss Molyneaux will frown.

So with a cheer for old E. I.
They bade each other a last
good-bye.
Each taking joyously his way
To meet again some other day.

Of Philadelphia

Hat one was jammed down over my eyes. I pulled the thing off my nose, and stepped up to the mirror gasping. There, perched on my head, was a tuft of black velvet, drawn tight back from my forehead, pulled out on either side, and ending with a long, black, shining stick, protruding from over each ear. Hat two replaced this immediately. It was a small, light wisp of orange duveteen, cocked on my right eyebrow. Black lace was pilled carelessly on top, with a long sweep of it lopping over my right ear. It was lavishly loaded with Japanese chimes, dangling down over my eyes. Better so than hat three. Frowny, weepy feathers hung be-draggled from the brim, and a rosary flopped down over my shoulder. I concluded that hanks of cloth were spears, necklaces, chimes, or crumbs, stuck on at an angle, or flopping down, as appendages, answering to the name of "Hat."

Alumni Notes

The following former E. I. students are teaching in Atchison, Kansas: Ruby Harris, supervisor of grades and J. H. S.; Mary Porter, 5th grade, Lincoln School; Alice Pittman, principal Washington School; Virginia Edman, 5th grade, Franklin School; Esther Kelso Mathematics, J. H. S.; Merrill McCabe, Principal of J. H. S.

The Old Game

He made a run around the end.
Was tackled from the rear:
The right guard sat upon his neck,
The fullback on his ear.
The center sat upon his legs,
Two ends sat on his chest:
The quarter and the halfback then
Sat down on him to rest.
The left guard sat upon his head,
The tackle sat upon his face:
The Coroner was next called in
To sit upon his case.

Junior Weiner Roast

About one-half the class of '23 showed up for the weiner roast given by that class last Monday night. Everything went along smoothly until the arrival at the camping grounds. The wood had been gathered for a good fire, when it was discovered that the "eats" had not arrived. There was much consternation and subtle threats to deprive the Seniors of their repast. Later, Mr. Marvin, who with his wife, chaperoned the party, came along with the pickles. It appeared as though there would be no weiner roast at all, when following Mr. Marvin, some of the belated students, Louise Means and Neva Gish with some others arrived and also the eats. After all had eaten their fill Mr. Marvin entertained with a story. Games and dancing followed and all returned tired but happy.

State Organization of College Papers

The editor of the Vidette, Normal U. school paper, is boasting of an association of college papers. A regular news letter, carrying news in brief from all the schools will be sent out. Criticisms from various papers would be very helpful to each staff. It is proposed that a state convention be held some time during the next year, where final plans of the organization will be perfected.

The staff of the News is heartily in favor of this plan and will co-operate in every way possible with the other editors

Two foot-ball teams from the Model school will have a game on Schahrer field Thursday afternoon at 3:30. The admission will be 10c, the proceeds going to the Near East Relief.
