Students Adopt New Constitution

PLAN GETS MAJORITY VOTE

On Wednesday, March 17, the following constitution was voted on by the college classes. The constitution was accepted by the three upper classes. The freshmen voted the proposed plan down by a vote of 152 to 69. The votes of the other classes were: Senior college, pro 21, con 6; Sophomores, pro 124, con 23. The total number of votes for the adoption was 214. One hundred eighty-one votes were cast against it. However, the constitution required only a majority of class votes to become ratified.

Board to be Elected Soon

By the provision in the constitution the members of the board are to be elected next class meeting. The hard work of drawing up the board's duties and methods of procedure will fall upon them. The real work and the success of the student control will rest upon these people. The constitution as accepted is as follows:

The Constitution

Preamble. We, the students of the Eastern Illinois State Teachers College at Charleston, in order to maintain a high standard of student conduct, do hereby establish a Student

Board of Control and do ordain this Constitution:

Article I. Membership. The Student Board of Control shall consist of sixteen members, elected annually from the four classes, elected annually for one year by a majority vote of the respective classes at an election held on Wednesday of the fourth week of the fall term at the regular class meetings.

Article II. Officers. The officers shall be a president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, elected annually from the members of the Board by a majority vote on Thursday of the fourth week of the fall term.

Article III. Duties. Section 1. The Student Board of Control shall meet when called by the President, Vice-President, or Secretary-Treasurer of the Board.

Section 2. They shall consider all matters of student control and shall, by a majority vote, summon a student or students to appear before the Board to answer charges that have been made against them. The vote of eleven members of the Board shall be required for conviction and for decision as to the penalty.

Section 3. They shall present the purpose and plan of the Board of Control to each class at the first regular meetings in the fall term.

Article IV. Restriction and Penalties. The Student Board of Control shall not have the right to suspend or expel a student or students from the college; but it may recommend such action to the President of the College.

Article V. Impeachment. By a vote of nine members of the Board, impeachment proceedings shall be brought by the Board against a member accused of malfeasance in office. The Board, exclusive of the accused member, shall then act as a court for the trial of that member.

A member of the Board who has been convicted by a vote of nine members of the Board is ineligible to continue his membership on the Board. The class which he represents shall elect a member for his unexpired term at the next regular class meeting.

Article VI. Ratification. This Constitution shall become effective when ratified by a majority vote of the respective classes, and the first members of the Student Board of Control shall be elected at the first regular class meetings after the ratification.

Article VII. Amendments. Amendments, approved by a three-fourths vote of the Board of Control, become effective when adopted by a majority vote of three classes, the vote of each class being decided by a majority vote of that class.

SEVERAL TRACK MEN OUT

Track prospects are in a state of developing and what will come out of them can scarcely be forecast at present. Rapioglie, Newlin, Phipps, and Pifer are back from last year's squad and there is a host of new material. The role includes Wersham, Bigler, Voight, Krutinger, O. Wilson, P. Wilson, Athey, Baker, Green, Tiley, Hallows, Bales, Level, Kite, Reed, Pence, Liley, Gannaway, Shoemaker.

Miss Vera Gilbert spent the week end with home folks in Oakland.

Our college has been fortunate in musical numbers this year. But it is probably true that the great musical event of the year will be the appearance here next Thursday of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra in a matinee and an evening concert. Not since the war has a great symphony orchestra played here in the evening. Appearing with the orchestra as soloist will be Elsa Diemer, daughter of Mr. Koch. Miss Diemer has just returned from Germany to sing with the St. Louis and Minneapolis Symphonies.

MISS ELSA DIEMER TO BE AS SOLIST WITH ORCHESTRA

Afternoon and Evening Concerts Given

Many Artists

There is much one might say about the personnel of this orchestra. There is Rudolph Ganz, conductor, world famous as a pianist and soloist before he became conductor; Michel Guskoff, concert master; Frederick Fischer, assistant conductor; H. Max Steindal, first cello, and an artist of international reputation. It is interesting to learn, too, that this orchestra represents an investment of over a million dollars. Yet this great organization appears here at an actual money loss which is made possible by the gifts of wealthy patrons.

Two Performances

It is so seldom that the college can bring an orchestra to Charleston that it would seem that high school and college students should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear both concerts. To the evening concert, recreation tickets admit to the matinee concert admission is only fifty cents, except for pupils in the grades who are given the very special rate of twenty-five cents. Remember the times—2:30 and 8:00. The two programmes follow:

Afternoon Programme

1. Elgar, March "Pomp and Circumstance"
2. Rossini, Overture to "William Tell"
3. Demonstration of Orchestra Instruments
 - (a) For String Instruments, Bolzoni: "Minuet"
 - (b) For Wood Instruments, Mortimer Wilson:
 - (a) "Sleepy Old Owl"
 - (b) "Ant's Parade"
- For Brass Instruments, Bach: "Chorale"
- (d) For Entire Orchestra, Granger: "Shepherd's Hey"
- Waldteufel, "Skaters' Waltz"
- (a) Thomas, "Gavotte" from "Mignon"
- (b) Greig, "In the Hall of the Mountain King"
6. Moszkowski, "Maiden's Dance"
- Eight O'Clock Programme
1. Massenet, Overture to "Phedre"
2. Dvorak, Symphony No. 5 in E Minor, (From the New World)

Intermission

3. Wagner, Prelude to the First Act of Lohengrin
4. Freischütz Wie nahe mir der Schlummer Weber
- Elsa Diemer—soprano solo
5. Liszt, Second Hungarian Rhapsody

Y. M. C. A. OFFICERS

ARE ELECTED

The election held by the Young Men's Christian Association last Friday was final. Candidates for all seven positions were chosen and the members of the association are rejoicing at the excellent selections made.

Every man was chosen by overwhelming majorities which means that the fellows are willing to support their leaders for next year. A total of 72 votes was necessary for election according to the constitution. Following is a list of those selected: President—Howard L. Reed, '26

Vice-President—Lowell Story, '26
Secretary—Theodore Whitwell, '26
Treasurer—Frank Freeland, '25

The three members of the Advisory Board who were elected are: Faculty member—Mr. Ralph Haefner.

Local minister—Mr. C. E. Pettit.
Business man—Mr. Ora Jack.

DIXIE PICTURE

On Friday afternoon a historical picture dealing with the Civil War period was shown in the auditorium. The sacrifices made by the southern soldiers in defense of their cause were vividly presented. The faith of the negroes in the justice of Lincoln was a complication which the southern people had constantly to meet. The final scene in the long struggle, the surrender of Lee to Grant was dramatically portrayed.

SCHOOL CLOSURES SATURDAY

School closes a Saturday afternoon for the spring recess. Classes will resume activities at half-past seven o'clock, Tuesday morning, April 6.

NEW ENGLISH TEACHER

Miss Ruth C. Stephenson, of Oneida, Illinois, is here to take Miss Zwo's work for the spring term. Miss Stephenson is a graduate of Lombard College at Galesburg, Illinois.

Y. M. C. A. TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

Good Vaudeville Program Promised

Tuesday evening, March 23, at seven-thirty the members of the Y. M. C. A. will put on an entertainment in the school auditorium. The program will consist of music, dialogue, juggling, dancing, and hypnosis. The feature of the entire program will be a presentation of the "Womanless Wedding."

Purpose of the Program

The purpose of the entertainment is to raise money for the Y. House fund. The Y had to promise sixteen rooms before it could obtain a room in which to hold the gatherings and establish the headquarters. Because of the lateness of making the contract for the house, it was impossible to obtain the stated number, and it is now necessary for the organization to make up the deficit.

Plenty of Laughs Promised
The program does not consist of any highly educative lectures, or the presentation of any high class drama, but consists of numbers that provide plenty of laughs for those who wish to forget their worries. All who are interested in the work of the Y. M. C. A. should assist in making this a success.

The admission will be twenty-five cents.

There are eight numbers on the program. They are as follows: Rachmannowski, piano solo Samp Lionhardt, feats of strength
The Dude Bandit, a farce
Mohammed Kai Basha, a mind-reader

The Peerless Quartette, songs
The Womanless Wedding, the feature
Prof. I. Drawen
Dante's Chorus.

DO WE SEPARATE?

The graduating exercises of the college and high school can not be held together in the assembly hall this spring unless admittance is by ticket. Check the following figures which are conservative:

There are 684 opera chairs and 176 desks, making a total of 860 permanent seats. A row of chairs across the back of the hall will seat 36; one down the center aisle will add 19; a row on each side of the desks will give 20 extra; 60 can be placed at the ends of the platform. That makes a total of 995 seats and it leaves very little standing room.

There are 150 members of the sophomore class, 17 in the senior class and 54 from the high school. Assuming that 175 of the 221 are to receive a diploma or degree, it can readily be seen that all the desks will be occupied by graduates. That reduces our seating capacity to 820. It is fair to expect that each college graduate will have present at least his parents and one other relative or friend not in school. Taking 140 as the possible number of college graduates, we have 400 seats left. Since the high school is made up largely of Charleston students, each senior should attract an average of five relatives and friends. Now we have 250 seats left. Let us suppose that 200 of the remaining 550 students stay for the exercises, 50 of the faculty, and that only 50 of the school's 1200 alumni attend. We're standing them up now and the end is not yet. There are many people in Charleston who attend graduation because they are interested in the school and its graduating exercises. No estimate of the number could be made.

All this overflow crowd wants to be there. It would be too bad if any were turned away, but that will happen unless the high school has separate exercises. At least 200 seats, and probably 300, would be available for the college exercises.

Separate the two commencements or admit by ticket under the present system. Which is it to be?

Now we do get a vacation. This is the last number of The News before we are dismissed for the spring recess.

The paper will skip two issues—one during Easter vacation and the other on Monday when all come back to Charleston.

Last week a few balmy days made us think that spring might be on its way. Someone might call up the weather bureau and order some more days like those. All the students would be glad to have them.

The number of strollers on the campus at noon hour and after school has increased enormously. What could be a surer sign of spring?

This week we have the greatest number of our entertainment course. It is something that should be missed by no one.

Anyone who heard the Minneapolis symphony last year certainly not miss the performance of this almost equally great group of musicians.

And when we do go, let's pay attention to the music.

Let's none of us be like some of the girls appear to be.

A person was once heard to remark that most girls do not appreciate music.

He was asked why.

Whereupon he answered: You may pick beautiful strains on a mandolin for an hour and she won't even look out the window, but just one honk from a sinner and down she comes.

ON GOING HOME

"Just three more weeks," I said two weeks ago,
"Until we'll all be going home,—oh boy!"

Since then I've found that time is very slow,
Yes, very slow, to bring a "promised joy."

My work has been quite pleasant these two weeks;
I've reached already one new world or two;

I've learned the educative process seeks
To give experiences that what we do
May be adjusted. But the days Have been

A slow, slow counting one by one.
Twice now
A Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday,
Thursday, I have seen,
A Friday, too, and Saturday. "See how

The time will fly," I whispered hopefully Today. "Just one more week; then home you'll be."

A Sophomore.

STATE CONFERENCE

AT BLOOMINGTON

Bloomington, Illinois, will be the host of about 100 delegates at a state conference being held at Wesleyan University the latter part of this week. The conference is being held by the student Young Women's and Young Men's Christian Associations of Illinois, and will concentrate on a discussion of the efficiency and value of our present educational system. Commissioners on practically all the college campuses of Illinois have been studying and making investigations into our present educational methods and will report at the conference. There will be several educators of note there to lead discussions and to give ideas.

A commission of eleven people has been studying the educational system of E. I. for the last two months and will be represented next week at the Wesleyan conference. It is expected that about ten people will drive up on Friday of this week to stay for three days. The newly elected presidents of both Christian Associations will be included in the delegation since this gathering replaces the Officers Training Conference which is held every spring by both state associations.

BOOKS & THINGS

"Youth" by Joseph Conrad is a volume containing three short stories "Youth," "Heart of Darkness," "The End of the Tether."

If you are a lover of Conrad, you will be no less a lover of him after reading this volume. You will probably be impressed anew by his unusual style. When one seeks the secret of this style, he is somewhat baffled. Is it the pattern of rhythm, pattern of words, musical words, or all of these, or what? It is needless to say anything—the style remains as it is. Conrad is strikingly dramatic in his use of words. Each word has a force all its own—one loses something who misses a word of Conrad.

Of the three stories, "Youth" is perhaps the best. The author has caught the beauty and romance of youth in this story. He has dealt with the theme with exquisite understanding and sympathy.

In "The End of the Tether" the character of Captain Whalley is wonderfully portrayed. Something about the uncompelling patience of the old captain in the face of great calamity pulls at the heartstrings. Conrad presents life as he sees it—you may take it or leave it, as you wish. There is magic in him, if you care for it—romance, too.

Another new magazine has been added to the library. Look it over. It is the "Far Eastern Review." In its own words the Far Eastern Review is "A monthly review of far Eastern trade finance and engineering dedicated to the industrial development and advancement of trade in far eastern countries."

"An End to Malicious Propaganda" is an article reflecting a sane view of a situation which has long been a "bag-a-boo" to many Americans. Other articles reflect an equally good judgment of other matters of interest to everyone who has the welfare of the nation at heart.

Page 401 of the London Mercury is the fourth of a series of essays "Contemporary American Authors." This particular essay has to do with Edwin Arlington Robinson, and is written by J. C. Squire. I enjoyed the quotations from Mr. Drinkwater about Mr. Robinson much more than I did what Mr. Squire himself had to say. Mr. Squire points, and quite rightly, that Americans are neglecting a very great poet, simply because of indifference. He points out also what he considers the strength and weakness of this poet.

Y. W. C. A. VESPER SERVICES

On Sunday afternoon the Young Women's Christian Association gave their Easter Vesper Services at Pemberton Hall.

A delightful program was given, being as follows:

Piano solo—"A La Bien Gimee," Miss Birdie Marie Burwell
Sacred Hymn—silent prayer

Hymn
Vocal solo—"Evening and Morning," Miss Hyla Ward

Song—"A Lovely Rose," Girls Seriette

Hymn
Vocal solo—"The Good Shepherd,"
Miss Helen Grune

Vocal duet—"We Thank Thee, O Father," Miss Myrtle and Irma Townley

Violin solo—"Angel's Serenade,"
Miss Ella Geer

Many were heard to say that they had had a thoroughly enjoyable time.

Y'S SAVINGS

Election of officers Tuesday night, March 22. Show your loyalty by being there on time to cast your vote. The entire cabinet, with the exception of the U. R. will be elected. Meeting begins at 6:45 P. M. and will close in time to go to the vaudeville.

Let's give the boys our support and attend the vaudeville.

There were over a hundred at the Vesper Service.

Show the new officers that you are backing them by attending the meetings.

The Y. W. C. A. is cutting its meeting short this Tuesday in order that their members may attend the vaudeville program given by the men at 7:30 P. M.

Proceeds from the Y. M. vaudeville will go to the Y. M. House fund. A worthy cause—support it!

An impossibility—a womanless wedding—will take place tonight.

An impossibility—you'll laugh more than you are able—tonight.

All persons holding bills against the Y. M. C. A. should present them to Gannaway this week if they want them paid.

Tuesday, April 18, will witness the inauguration of the new officers for both Christian Associations. The affair will be either a banquet or a public meeting. Plan for it.

Miss Dryden (to pupil hanging halfway out the window): Come in, Charles. I'm afraid you'll take cold.

CLASSES CONDUCT
REGULAR MEETINGS

SENIOR COLLEGE CLASS MEETING
The first thing taken up by the senior college was the proposed constitution. The members of the class met by standing. The constitution carried by a vote of 51 to 6. After this the class voted to give five dollars out of the class treasury to aid the Student Friendship Fund.
The term of the Junior representative to the Student Council had expired; so Margaret Coon was elected to fill the vacancy. At the close of the meeting a motion was made and seconded that the president of the class appoint a nominating committee to select nominees for election to the Student Board of Control, provided the constitution was adopted.

SOPHOMORE CLASS MEETING
President Cox took his stand before the sophomore class and called the assembly to order Wednesday morning, March 17. According to the custom, the minutes of the previous meeting were then read by Clyde Mills. After being corrected by "Junk" Cooper the minutes were accepted as read.
Visitors
Ruth Truman, a representative of the High School, made an announcement of the "Living Pictures" which were to be shown that night.
Ralph Edwards and Ralph Casey, members of the senior college, passed around copies of the constitution drawn up by the board of student control. Each member of the sophomore class then cast his vote concerning the ratifying of the constitution.

(Class Business)
Joe Pifer made a concise, yet direct talk concerning class dues. Several threats were made to those who had not yet paid their fall and winter class dues.
The motion was carried authorizing the president to appoint a nominating committee to serve in the matter of the student control.
A discussion was begun concerning whether or not the sophomore class should give a class play. A committee of five members was to be appointed to look after the matter.
The class was disappointed because there was no time left for Conrad Hogue to read. Probably he will appear next class meeting.
The president declared the meeting adjourned.

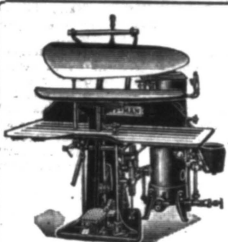

FRESHMAN CLASS MEETING
The greater part of the freshman class meeting was devoted to a discussion of the proposed constitution. The constitution met much opposition and in the final vote it lost almost two to one.
Stanley Cook of the high school gave a talk asking the freshmen to help them make the "Living Pictures" a success.
Two new members to the committee for the freshman-sophomore banquet were elected. The new members were Chesney Vought and Bob Worsham.

SOCIAL NOTES

MISS BEATTY HAS BIRTHDAY
She was surprised! The St. Patrick's dinner party given on Wednesday evening, March 17, at Pemberton Hall was all in honor of Miss Pauline Beatty's 19th birthday. The table decorations were very artistically carried out in the true Irish colors. An inviting, tantalizing white cake graced the center of the table.
Those present were: Misses Pauline Beatty, Anna Mary Egan, Esther Lutz, Elsie Kirsten, Donna Rogers, Birdie Marie Burwell, Inez Davis, Olive Elder, Edith Harper, Vera Gebhart, Anna Parr, and Mrs. Josephine Moffett Benton.

HIGH SCHOOL TO PLAY BASEBALL
The high school is to have a baseball team this year. Last season this sport was not taken up by the juniors. It is played by very few high schools.
Gordon Cook will take charge of the boys and endeavor to train a winning team.
Several boys have started some individual practice, but no regular practice has been held.

TRAVEL LECTURE IS ENTERTAINING

CARVETH WELLS

PROVES SUCCESS

On Thursday evening, March 18, Mr. Carveth Wells gave one of the most interesting lectures that any one connected with our school have ever heard. Mr. Wells graduated from the London University as a civil engineer. He was employed by the English government for several years. He was first sent to Canada, where he was engaged in the survey of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.
Later he was sent to the Malay Peninsula, where he spent six years in surveying and mapping unexplored territory.

Lecture on Malay Jungles
The lecture that he gave Thursday night was upon the experiences that he had while he was submerged in the jungles which abound there. He told of fish that climb trees, worms that sing and the pigmy deer that can be fried whole in a frying pan.
The lecture included narrating Malay music, a display of exquisitely beautiful Malay costumes and other handicraft; also hand colored lantern slides and motion pictures were used to illustrate his lecture.

Experiences Well Told
Mr. Wells had a very pleasing appearance and personality. His experiences on the vaudeville stage have developed in him an ability to hold the attention of his audience without any apparent effort. His seemingly most exaggerated, as well as more rational statements, are told in a manner that always leaves one in a credulous, yet incredulous state of mind. However, according to statements of men who are informed upon life in the Malay Peninsula, he told the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

MANY PLEASED BY LIVING PICTURES

LIVING PICTURES
Mr. Homer G. Dornham, under the management of the high school history department, presented his Living Picture program last Wednesday evening in the auditorium of the Eastern Illinois State Teachers College.

Models
The models for the pictures were chosen by Mr. Davidson, from the student body of the entire school.
Twenty-four different pictures were shown. These were made effective by means of the backgrounds used, the lighting, and the costumes of those painting. Most of the entertainment was well done. Probably "The Tired Little Gleaners" and "Feeding Her Birds" were the most liked. However the "Song of the Lark," "The Angelus," and "The Syndics" deserve to be mentioned.

Musical Numbers
There were several very good musical numbers given throughout the programme. Misses Erna Townley and Hyla Ward each rendered a vocal solo. The boys glee club sang three numbers.

Misses Gertrude Lynch and Ruth Harper accompanied the pictures with the violin and piano.
In general, all those who saw the Living Pictures were much benefited.

PEN-SPEASHERS

Old Ezra Gump, the sage of Toon-erville says: "Why buy them bell bottomed britches if they don't ring when your wife goes through your pockets?"

"Why is a pancake like der sun, like?"

Like: "I dunno, wy?"

"Because it rises in der yeast and sets behind der rest."

Jacob Ernst: Did you order this sundae?

Nolting: Good heavens! Have I been here that long?

Johnny came home proudly showing a dollar that he had found on the street.

Father: Are you sure it was lost?

Johnny: Yes, I know it was. I saw the man looking for it.

Wife: You mean to tell me that you put your hands in the fly paper on purpose?

Reubens: That's my story and I'm gonna stick to it.
