Surprise snowstorm: winter's final fling before giving into spring

by Cindy Davidsmeyer

Snow, caused by a post cold front, had its "last fling" in the area Tuesday, area meteorologist Dalias Price, said Tuesday.

The snow started at 6 a.m. Tuesday with Charleston receiving one-hundredth of an inch.

"We're moving along very well," Price said. The area has already gotten one inch of precipitation already in April, he added. The normal rainfall for April is 3.58 inches. Price estimated that Charleston will receive 4.5 to five inches this month.

Lightning and thunder also accompanied the snowfall, which "is rare," Price said. Both were caused by "static-electric" snow flakes hitting each other, he said.

The snow was dry at that time, but was "very wet when it hit the ground, he added.

The snow "should've happened in March," Price said.

"According to my own system of dividing the seasons, true, real spring does not begin in this area until April 10, when the average temperature reaches 50 degrees, he added.

The weather will start to moderate late tomorrow, Price said, with temperatures "on the cool side" until the weekend.

The weekend will be "very pleasant" with highs in the upper 50s to low 60s, he said.

Tom Stoughtenborough, Coles County Agriculture Extension adviser, said Tuesday that the ground is not yet "charged to capacity" by the rainfall, but the recent precipitation "might slow down planting."

The snow "shouldn't affect" harvest, he said, but the "ground will have to warm up to germinate seeds."

"I guess that'll come in due time," Stoughtenborough said.

Dorm resident arrested for phone threats

by Norm Lewis

Larry Wren, a freshman, was arrested Tuesday for disorderly conduct for allegedly making threatening calls to Student Senator Jim Lamonica, Security Police said Tuesday.

Captain Jack Chambers said Wren, a Taylor Hall resident, has been given a notice to appear in court April 19 in lieu of taking him to jail.

Wren refused to comment Tuesday whether he had made any calls to Lamonica but he did say "no one asked me to make any calls. That's all I'll comment on."

Lamonica reported Sunday that he had been receiving calls since before spring break ordering him to drop all the charges against fellow Senator Kyle Smith.

He has filed a University court case and an impeachment hearing will be held Thursday by the Student Senate on Smith's alleged striking of Lamonica in the Union addition March 17.

Smith said that he knew Larry Wren, but he would not comment on what capacity he knows him. He said he did not ask Wren to make the threatening calls for him.

Lamonica said Dave Lapinski, a freshman involved in student government and also a Taylor Hall resident, "told me 'I was there when he (Wren) called and he did not say anything you (Lamonica) said he said.'"

However, Lapinski denied that he told Lamonica he was ever in Wren's room. "The only thing I told Lamonica is that I heard about it. I'm not saying if I was in or out of the room," he said.

Although Lapinski said, "I know what's going on," he refused to comment on whether or not he had ever asked Wren to make any calls, or if he had ever known of Wren calling Lamonica.

He explained that he had to talk with Wren before he would say anything else.

Three Eastern administrators confirm nominations for veep post

by Denise Hesler

Two Eastern faculty confirmed reports Tuesday that they are among the campus applicants for the position of vice president for academic affairs.

In addition, one faculty member said he had declined a nomination to the position.

Leonard Durham, director of the Division of Life Sciences, and Leonard Wood, director of Cooperative Education, both said Tuesday night that they had applied for the vice presidency.

Vaughn Jaenike, dean of the School of Fine Arts, said that he had been nominated for the position but had declined the nomination.

"I think I can serve the university better as the dean of the School of Fine Arts," Jaenike said, adding that "I am pleased to be where I am."

Walter Lowell, chairperson of the vice presidential search committee, verified Tuesday that Durham and Wood are among the applicants and that Jaenike had been nominated by another faculty member but had declined.

Lowell added that, as far as he knows, there are now only five applicants from Eastern, while there had been six before Jaenike declined.

Ninety-two total applications had been received by Tuesday, Lowell said, and 38 who applied had their complete application materials turned in.

He added that he expects "close to 50" complete applications by the Thursday search committee meeting.

At Thursday's meeting, the committee will make its first cut of candidates.

The applicants who receive the largest number of votes at this meeting will then be studied in detail by the committee and will be ranked at a meeting to be held Tuesday.

Within the next week and a half, the committee will probably make its recommendation to President Daniel Marvin unless some problem arises, Lowell said.

Marvin, however, has not yet said how many candidates he wants the committee to recommend to him and he will be out of town until Friday.

Lowell said that "so far, everything (the process) is working beautifully" and added that there are "some very good" applicants.

Suit questioning senator's greek ties before student court

by Ed Cobau

A suit which questions off-campus Student Senator Mike Baum's eligibility to hold his present seat will be heard by the student supreme court Wednesday.

BOG policy rewrite brings responses

Janet Norberg, chairperson of the Council of Faculties (COF), told the Faculty Senate Tuesday that the COF has been

Summer internships open for state jobs

Internship applications for the Governor's Summer Fellowship Program are now being accepted, and may be picked up at the Placement Center in the Student Services Building.

Internships will be open to college students, graduates and professional people.

Interns work from June 15 to Aug. 15 in various state agencies, departments, boards and commissions either in Chicago or Springfield, with a minimum salary of $550 per month.

Applications must be submitted by May 1 to Joan Fafoglia, room 202, State Capitol, Springfield, 62706.

The court will meet at 3 p.m. in the Union addition Tuscola-Arcola Room.

The suit, which is brought by former Student Senator Pat Boylan and Residence Hall Association President Wayne Morris, getting "fantastic" input on the Board of Governors (BOG) policy rewrite.

Although Eastern's Faculty Senate voted not to comment on the rewrite, saying it should be negotiated instead, Norberg said the senates from Western Illinois University, Northeastern University and Governors State University have sent the COF formal written responses.

The policy draft covers such items as salaries, teaching loads and academic freedom.

Norberg also said that an ad-hoc committee of the COF met with the BOG presidents in an attempt to get their reactions to the draft and also to express the faculty's view to the presidents.

In other business, Senator Frank Abell of the Library said that absentee ballots for Monday's run-off election will be available at the reference desk at the Library beginning Thursday.

The election will determine the winners of positions on the Faculty Senate, the Council of Graduate Studies and the Council on Academic Affairs.

charges that Baum is a member of a fraternity and is therefore ineligible to hold a seat in the off-campus district.

The student government constitution states that a candidate must be a resident of the district he wishes to run in.

Morris said Tuesday that in the suit he and Boylan maintain that "He (Baum) is still legally a greek and affiliated with the greek system.

"I told him (Baum) that it wasn't a personal thing against him," Morris said, but he added he and Boylan felt that Baum was still ineligible to serve in the off-campus district.

Baum, currently senate Elections Committee chairperson, said he feels that the charges are a "personal vendetta."

"I don't think he (Morris) likes me very much. He works with me on the Elections Committee and does work under me, but I think it (the suit) is a personal vendetta."

Baum added he officially withdrew his name from the fraternity list in November before the elections and that "several persons are witness to it."

Baum currently resides in the Beta Sigma Psi fraternity house although said he still is no longer a member.

In addition, he said that fellow senator Craig Courter would be his legal representative.

Henderson audit investigation completed

By Ann Dunn and Dave Shanks
 The investigation concerning Former City Clerk Jerry Henderson's audit has been completed, State's Attorney Paul C. Komada said Tuesday.
 On Feb. 1, the City Council voted to deliver the audit information to the state's attorney's office for legal action.
 The special audit was called for by Mayor Robert Hickman on Sept. 17 following the resignation of Henderson. Funds totalling $3,896.05 were found missing, all of which have been recovered by the city including the cost ($1,450) of the special audit.
 The investigation team, consisting of an investigator from the state's attorney's office and one from the state police office, completed the investigation "a couple of days ago" but they probably won't get the report transcribed and to Komada before the beginning of next week," Komada said.

 He added, "Then I'll have to decide whether to file charges on the information from the investigation or turn it over to the grand jury.
 "Normally, where the evidence is quite clear cut" Komada said, he files on the information. He added, "Sometimes I would feel better for a group of people from the community to decide what they feel to be best."
 Komada said that he hasn't made any decisions about when he would release his decision on the case.

"I don't want this thing turned into a political issue by anybody," he said, adding, "I don't want wild charges to go flying."
 "It might be best to wait until after the city election" to release the decision, Komada said. "Perhaps justice might be better served if any decision be made after the elections so that no political ramifications could be made," he added.
 During the investigation, Komada said, "A lot of people were interviewed and a lot of accusations were made. I had the investigators follow up on every accusation.
 "The vast majority of accusations were found to be groundless after further investigation but there is the possibility of more charges being filed against other people.

Demos sweep township election

By Norm Lewis
 It was a clean sweep for the Democrats in all eight township offices as only approximately 2,600 voted for Charleston township candidates Tuesday.
 For township supervisor, Tom Morgan, Democrat, gained 1,733 votes to win the position over Republican Jarl Blank, who received 1,172 votes.
 Elmer Lee, a Democrat, won the post of road commissioner with 2,017 votes over Willis Replogle, a Republican, who received 906 votes.
 The position of township clerk was won by Democrat William Hall, who beat Republican Tim Yow by a 1,785 to 1,102 margin.
 Uncontested was the township assessor's office, won by incumbent Democrat James M. Spence, who gained 2,308 votes, the most of any candidate.
 Eight candidates ran for the four open trustee positions and Democrats again gained control of the positions, although their margins were not as great as in the other races.

 Irma Justice, a Democrat, led the trustee hopefuls with 1,716 votes. She was followed closely by Charles Stanberry, with 1,592 votes, Jim Hill, who received 1,459 tallies, and Larry Summary, who received 1,428 votes.
 Justice and Stanberry are currently on the board of trustees, the legislative portion of township government.
 Robert Rupel, with his 1,370 votes, led the Republican hopefuls who all ran unsuccessfully for trustee. Others included Charles Stites, with 1,131 votes, James Metzger, who received 1,110 tallies and Ewell W. Fowler, who received 1,001 votes.

Info assists home-hunters

It is again that time of year when the importance of finding good housing for Eastern students with a desire to live off-campus is at its peak, and the Student Senate's Housing Committee has been providing some valuable service to home-hunters.

First with a full-page listing in the Eastern News of cautions and advice about leases and landlords and now with plans for a bulletin board referral service of prospectively tenants and available housing, the committee, headed by Sens. Don Dotzauer and Tom Holden, is doing its best to reduce the headaches that often come with finding and renting livable quarters.

Now it is up to the students to use and support the work done by the committee and to make the service more complete by giving to the committee information about specific landlords and houses or apartments.

If a student is ripped-off by landlord, or finds one who is cooperative and honest, they should aid those who follow by tipping off the housing committee so such information is available.

End Student Senate inequality

The Student Supreme court case concerning districting of the Student Senate, which should have been heard Monday but was not due to lack of quorum, is a good opportunity to end once and for all the inequality that exists in representation on the senate.

For years, the Eastern News and many in student government have argued that the Greek District, which insures six seats are occupied by fraternity or sorority members, is an arbitrary and unjustifiable division of the student body.

It is fine that greeks have been concerned about and active in student government, and we do not intend to demean their role in general as student leaders.

However, the fact of belonging to a social order should have no bearing on the opportunity to be elected to a student government office. To insure greeks of six seats is discrimination.

Greek organizations have shown a respected ability to garner votes and win elections for their candidates not only in the Greek District but in the at-large district as well.

That ability, coupled of course with the worth of the individual candidate, should be the determining factor in deciding who represents the students, not an institutional rule.

We support reorganizing the senate to only three districts — at large off campus and on campus — primarily because many students must live in dormitories due to the freshman-sophomore rule and have no say in their place of residence.

If all students were free to choose where they lived, meaning that no groups would have the advantage of a captive constituency, then a simple at-large election would suffice.

Another viable alternative, which we bring up only for discussion, would be dividing representation according to academic areas.

But one thing is clear: the greeks have no right to their own district, and should not feel slighted at losing it because their past efforts show they will likely continue to win elections no matter what district they run in.

Unsigned letters not published

The "letters to the editor" columns of the Eastern News are intended as a forum for opinions, the public's chance to reach the readers of the Eastern News.

Because of that purpose, our policy toward letters is a "hands off" one: let whoever wants say whatever they want, as long as it is not libelous.

This includes withholding the names of authors of letters when they request that we do so. However, we also have the responsibility of making sure all letters are legitimate, and so require that all letters carry the signature of the author and an address and phone number where he or she can be reached.

Therefore, unsigned letters will not be published. All others appear as written, except in a few instances when extraneous material is cut solely because of space limitations.

Now, boys...

Editor,

I would really like to know why two young college students must converse themselves as if they were in grade school.

Jim Lamonica and Kyle Smith must come to a conclusion soon because this event is going a bit too far. Pouring ammonia under a person's door in the middle of the night can kill someone and vandalism is against the law, if I remember right.

We still are under these laws aren't we? Oh, I'm sorry this is the Student Senate. If the two senators put their heads together they will realize they are hurting the senate.

What students are going to respect our student government if two of the people we elected are fighting and cussing each other inside and outside meetings.

Lamonica and Smith are getting attention all right — for themselves. Let's work on something for Eastern, boys. I mean, this is what you were elected for.

Name withheld by request

Smith's antics

Editor,

As conscientious Eastern students, there are some actions that we cannot allow to slide by unnoticed. We realize that the News' hands are tied in the situation concerning student senators James Lamonica and Kyle Smith, and are, therefore, prompted to write this letter.

As members of various Greek affiliations, we feel that Mr. Smith is not adequately representing us and that his actions as a senator are appalling, despicable, and unbelievable. Mr. Smith is president of Sigma Pi and the Order of Omega, secretary of IFC, and student senator. It amazes us that someone with such "leadership ability" would react to poorly in a stress situation. Perhaps Mr. Smith has spread himself too thin and cannot handle the pressure.

The tape recording of the March 17 meeting, eye witness reports of senate meetings, minutes, and our own experiences at meetings exemplify the fact that Sen. Lamonica is not the only target of Mr. Smith's vicious verbal assaults.

At a special meeting concerning the budget, Mr. Smith challenged the yielding of the floor by Sen. Jack Overstreet to V.P. Steve Murray, after Smith himself had previously yielded to Sen. Karen Anderson. Mr. Smith refused to be silent and was ruled out of order several times. While Sen. Murray was speaking, Mr. Smith referred to him as a "jerk" and to Sen. Overstreet as a "jag off." The fact that at the March 3 meeting, Sen. Lello and Smith "gonged" Sen. Lamonica is recorded in the minutes.

Several Greeks voting in the Fall '76 elections were handed extra ballots by Mr. Smith in hopes that they would vote twice for his candidate, Ray Lello. Lello, however, lost the election to Kent Richards. A recount was called for — and there is some question as to the legality of the recount — and subsequently showed a switch in some 200 votes between the time of the actual election and the time of the recount. It is necessary to note that Senators Courter and Smith participated in the recounting of the ballots.

Letters to the editor

These examples are, of course, only a sampling of Mr. Smith's antics. There are many more examples, including the infamous "Paper Caper" during which Smith and Courter admittedly stole all the April 1, 1976, copies of the Eastern News.

In conclusion, we would like to ask all of you to please call your senator and urge him/her to vote GUILTY at Smith's trial on April 7. Remember, it's your government and you have a right, as well as an obligation, to see that it works well for you.

Happy hunting

Editor,

With all the reaction caused by the "name withheld" letter about hunting I am wondering why nobody has interpreted it in the way it probably was meant. It was not a letter in support of hunters, but a very sarcastic mockery of them.

"Name withheld" was using a common and in this case effective propaganda device. The bitter reaction was the response he hoped to provoke. Everyone was so busy reading the words, that they totally missed the overall tone and meaning of the letter.

The reason "name withheld" wrote the letter can be known only to him. Maybe he was trying to portray hunters as vicious, self-aggrandizing people. If that was the case, the letter by Pat Lawson shows that nobody has a monopoly on those vices.

Sociology shines

Editor,

I would like to express my appreciation of our Sociology and Anthropology Department.

This past week-end, I attended a sociology convention at the University of Notre Dame designed for the presentation of undergraduate and graduate student papers. I would say that only one of the eight presentations that I heard from other schools was truly a quality paper. In fact, one of the other seven papers had been saved by the student from his junior year of high school and then presented without apparent revision.

If a school can be judged by a look at the students that represent it, I am sure the nearly and sociology major from Eastern chosen to represent our school could have made our students and our faculty shine out. I am convinced that our sociology instructors and our students uphold very high standards for education, in comparison to other schools.

Trip to king 'Tut' exhibit planned

A field trip to the Chicago Field Museum King Tutankhamun exhibit April 26 is now being organized by Alex Peck of the art department, Peck said Tuesday. Peck will present an introductory lecture on Tutankhamun at 7 p.m. in the Library lecture room April 21. The exhibit will display several pieces of Tut's treasure, including artifacts from his tomb, Peck said. The exhibit is on loan at the Institute from the Museum of Antiquities in Cairo, Egypt. In addition to the Field Museum, Peck said students will also be able to visit the Chicago Art Institute. Seats are open for 47 persons on a chartered bus, and Peck said those interested should sign up as soon as possible. The cost of the tour includes $13 for bus fare, a 50 cent museum fee and money for meals. Students can sign up in the Art Department office in Room 216 of the Fine Arts Building and can call for information at 581-3410 or 345-2737.

Revamped tennis team to begin play on road

by Josh Martin

After a year's absence, Eastern's men's tennis team will return to the courts Wednesday to face the Missouri-St. Louis team at St. Louis.

The Panther netters will be back in action after receiving a one-year hiatus because of cuts in the athletic budget.

A total of 12 tennis hopefuls tried out for the team with nine still out. Coach Gerald "Dutch" Gossett wants to cut the squad down to seven members before the season starts.

Gossett has only two members of the 1975 season back for this year. They are Don Harvey, who played No. 2 singles in 1975, and Doug Overly, who was the sixth man on that same team. Both Harvey and Overly are seniors.

Harvey, who has also been selected captain of the team, is expected to start the season as the top singles player. Overly's experience has helped him to secure the No. 2 singles spot.

Since Eastern did not give scholarships to the tennis team this year, the rest of the team is comprised of walk-ons. The top walk-on, Steve Leski, has the No. 3 singles spot and is pressuring the top two members of the team.

Other members of this year's team are Ron Easter, Mike Pince, Tom Wenzel, Bob McKibben, John Henke and Mick Spencer.

"We have a real tough schedule," coach Gossett said. "And since it is only our first year back, I would be very pleased if we win three of our matches."

"Next year we will be receiving scholarships again," he added, "and this is really going to help the recruiting for our tennis program."

The weather has not been any help to the tennis team and could be a factor in early play.

"We have been working inside since February," Gossett said, "but we have only been able to work outside for four days so far."

Eastern's first home tennis match will not be held until April 19, when the Panthers host Indiana State.

Former Eastern gymnasts compete in national meet; Spikerman tops

All three former Eastern gymnasts who participated in the Division I national meet last week in Tempe, Ariz., failed to gain All-American status, former coach John Schaefer said Tuesday.

Bruce Spikerman, a senior at Indiana State, the co-champions with Oklahoma in the meet, placed 18th in the floor exercise and 26th in vaulting. Spikerman was a two-time Division II All-American at Eastern, before transferring in 1975 after the sport was cut from the athletic budget. Spikerman scored 17.35 in the floor exercise out of 20 points, and recorded an 18.20 score in vaulting.

Oz Klemma, a junior at Illinois State, placed 19th in the high bar exercise with 17.25 points. Klemma holds the high bar record for Eastern.

Steve Kozub, now of University of Illinois-Chicago Circle, placed 21st in still rings, scoring 17.85.

Rugby squad blasted in openers

Eastern's rugby team was beaten soundly twice in its opening weekend of play. The "B" squad came up with a pair of victories over the weekend.

The team, which was 2-2 last fall, lost its spring opener to the University of Chicago 34-4 Saturday. Eric Davisson scored the only try for Eastern.

On Sunday, Southern Illinois whipped Eastern 42-4. Tom Geraghty was the only scorer for Eastern.

The "B" club romped over Chicago 30-3 Saturday and then edged SIU 8-6 Sunday on Rod Burkett's 60 yard run in the final minute.

SIU had tied the "B" game on a penalty kick before Burkett's winning try.

Both the "A" and "B" teams will play at the University of Illinois in Saturday.

Yarcho converts 47 free throws

Matt Yarcho made 47 of 50 shots to nab first place in the intramural department's free throw contest Thursday at Lantz Gym.

Yarcho connected on 24 of his 25 tries. Yarcho and Nancy Jurgensen, who clicked on 34 of 50, combined to nab first in the co-rec division.

Carla Hillman made 37 free throws to take first in the women's division.

Four competitors—Doug Evans, Mark Hutwagner, Doug Erickson and Dave Chandler—made 45 free throws each to tie for second in the men's division.

Jurgensen and Bev Thompson each made 34 free throws to tie for second for the women.

Each of whom Yarcho and Chandler are members, won the team title, with Thomas Hall second. A total of 277 students, including 11 women, participated in the contest.

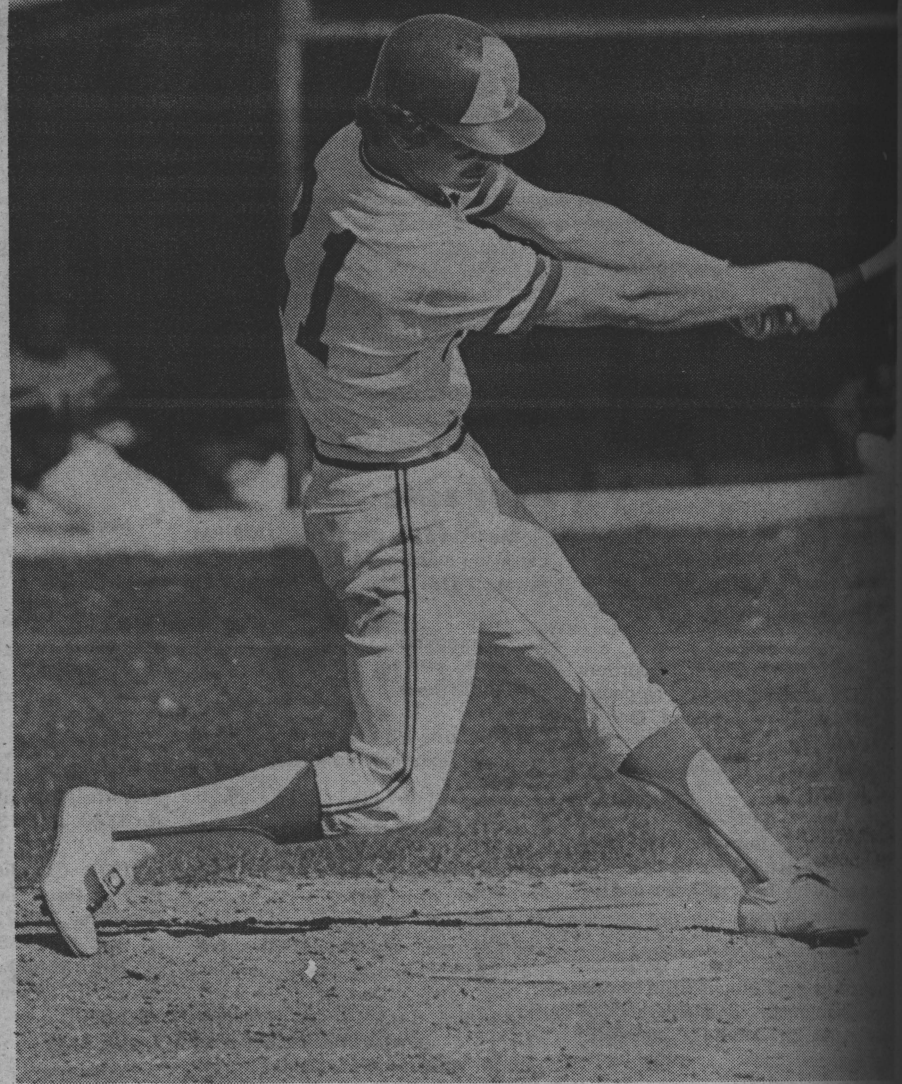

Phi Sigs capture volleyball crown

Phi Sigma Epsilon II captured the men's intramural volleyball title with a 15-10, 15-12 victory over the previously unbeaten Good Guys Thursday night in Lantz Gym.

Phi Sig II had an easy time in the quarter-finals, whipping Pi Kappa Alpha 15-1, 15-9, but encountered difficulty in the semi-finals against Sigma Pi.

The Phi Sigs won the first game 15-3, but dropped the second contest 7-15, before bouncing back for an easy 15-1 triumph to advance to the final.

Sigma Pi nabbed third place honors, besting Phi Sig I 15-10, 14-16, 15-10.

Baseball games 'snowed out'; Panthers travel to Indiana

by R.B. Fallstrom

Snow and rain forced the postponement of Eastern's scheduled baseball doubleheader with North Central College Tuesday. The games will be made up April 21.

Eastern will travel to Bloomington, Ind., Wednesday to take on Indiana University in a doubleheader. Tom Doyle (2-1) and Larry Olsen (0-3), scheduled to pitch Tuesday, will be the starting hurlers.

The Panthers have started to turn around their fortunes after a 1-12 start. Eastern won three of four games during the weekend to raise the season log to 5-14.

Eastern is currently hitting .244 as a team and has a combined earned run average of 6.62. Opponents are faring much better, as the record indicates, hitting .292 and notching a 3.71 ERA.

Track meet cancelled

Eastern's women's track meet against Purdue at O'Brien Field was cancelled Tuesday due to inclement weather.

The dual meet was not rescheduled, mainly because "neither one of us like running during the week very much," coach Joan Schmidt said. "It takes too much away from our practice time."

The Panthers, 1-0 outdoors and 2-1 overall, will be out of action until April 16 at the University of Illinois invitational.

"It's a long layoff for us," Schmidt said, "But at least we'll be here working out."

Football managers needed

Any students interested in being managers for spring varsity football practice should contact assistant coach Ed Helies at the football office at O'Brien Field as soon as possible.

Both male and female students will be considered, Helies said.

Shortstop Jeff Gossett is leading the hitters with a .340 average, with catcher-first baseman Rick Phillippi next at .325.

Third baseman Rick Doss is batting only .259, but is the team leader with 14 runs batted in and is tied for the top in home runs with three.

Lefthanders Tom Doyle and Rick Furmanski have been the most impressive pitchers through the early part of the season. The staff has a 6.62 earned run average, but Furmanski stands at 2.54 and Doyle has a 3.58 mark.

Sox trade Dent

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The New York Yankees acquired shortstop Bucky Dent from the Chicago White Sox Tuesday in exchange for veteran outfielder Oscar Gamble, minor league pitcher Dewey Hoyt and Bob Polinsky and cash.

The Yanks also said that Dent, unsigned by the White Sox, had agreed to terms of a three-year contract.

JV softball game rescheduled

Eastern's junior varsity softball game scheduled for Tuesday against Evansville was postponed until April 25.
