Alumni: Campus has changed, not students

by Theresa Norton

While Eastern's campus has changed drastically in the last fifty years, returning alumni said Saturday they feel students are still basically the same.

"It is a different world, just unbelievable," Morris Smith, a guard on the 1928 team, said.

"When I was here there were only four buildings," he added.

Members of Eastern's 1928 football team gathered Saturday morning to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their conference co-championship.

Smith recalled the morale of Eastern's only 'undefeated' football team. "We didn't think about high points. We just tried to win games, to be secure, a solid football team," he said.

He also noted changes in other areas of campus life.

"Fifty years ago, nobody smoked cigarettes, once they crossed Lincoln (Ave.) - students and faculty both," he said.

He also told of daily chapel services which were required for students. Eastern's president then, Livingston C. Lord, conducted the daily service.

"If you didn't show up to chapel, Mr. Lord would know about it even though attendance was not taken," Smith said.

Another former student, Katherine Barnes, class of '34 said, "One thing I really miss are the beautiful flowers and gardens in front of Old Main, where the parking lot is now."

But it's nice to know the school is growing. I wouldn't want it any other way," Barnes, the wife of a 1928 team member added.

Barnes noted the difference in lifestyles fifty years ago and present.

"Today you don't have to slip around. I think it's good to have freedom to do things," she said.

Leland Routledge, also of the 1928 team, said, "Everything's a ~~same~~." "Sheridan Field (where the team once played) which used to be in the area where the Union is now, and Lake Ahmoweenah are gone."

Smith also recalled playing tug of war on Class Days across Lake Ahmoweenah, just as students today do over the pond near Lantz Building.

However, Barnes said there are not real differences between students of his era and now.

"There is just more freedom now. You had a variety of people then, and you have a variety of them now."

Alumni Association offers many programs

by Betsey Guzior

Although Homecoming is the main event for the Alumni Association, Alumni Director Charles Titus is kept busy with the many programs it offers throughout the year.

In his office in Old Main, dotted by memorabilia of former graduating classes, Titus possesses the first record book of the association, when it was founded on June 14, 1905.

The organization is governed by a 15-member board of directors who are elected by members of the association. Titus works with the board in instituting the programs at Eastern.

The association publishes a quarterly magazine, "Eastern Alumni." The magazine provides information about the university and its activities, plus reports about accomplishments of alumni.

Periodically the Alumni Association sponsors informational meetings for alumni, parents of students currently enrolled at Eastern, high school students and businessmen involved with the university.

Titus said the purpose of the association is to "foster a continuous relationship" between Eastern's graduates, students and the university.

He added that the association wants to help improve the university on the assumption that the "better the university, the better the alumni."

Another program of the association is the "tele-fund" campaign now in its second year to obtain contributions from alumni in Decatur by phone during the spring.

Last year the tele-fund raised over $2,000 in contributions, Titus said, and next year the association is expanding its campaign to four cities.

Titus said the association is the "prime sponsor" for the Livingston C. Lord scholarship award program, the highest scholarship award Eastern offers.

Another award sponsored by the Alumni Association is the old Rail Splitter Award that is given yearly to the winner of the first Western Illinois University—Eastern basketball game of the season.

Parachutist injured in fall during parade

by Tom Keefe

A Charleston parachutist Sunday was in satisfactory condition in Burnham City Hospital in Champaign after suffering multiple fractures in a fall during Eastern's Homecoming parade Saturday.

William Crail, 32, of 1612 Marion St., fractured one leg and both knee caps, after losing control of his parachute, a hospital spokesman said Sunday.

Maxine Johnson, an acquaintance of Crail who witnessed his fall, said Sunday he was apparently attempting to land in a vacant lot near Sporty's between Sixth and Seventh Streets.

Johnson said Crail was "very close to hitting high wires" and possibly lost control in an attempt to miss them.

She said Crail is a member of a parachuting club and an "experienced parachutist" jumping on his own and not for any promotional reasons.

Crail was traveling at a fast rate of speed before he hit the ground, she said.

Crail missed the grassy part of the vacant lot and landed in gravel on his face and knees, she said.

He was taken to Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center before being transferred to Burnham City Hospital, Gary Davidson of the Charleston Fire Department said Sunday.

Mobs urge shah's death

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) - Mobs shouting "Death to the shah!" rampaged through the streets of Tehran on Sunday, and an opposition coalition demanded that Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi abdicate, further tightening the political vise on the man who has reigned over Iran for 37 years.

One anti-shah religious leader said the current campaign is aimed at ending "American domination" of Iran, and another said a "holy war" against the shah might break out if a solution to the crisis is not found.

Quebec premier blamed

OTTAWA (AP) - Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau has put the blame for a lack of progress on a new constitution for Canada on Rene Levesque, the independence-minded premier of French-speaking Quebec.

Thus the prime minister, facing a national election in the spring, appears in the eyes of many to have come out ahead in his latest skirmish with Levesque and his Parti Quebecois provincial government, which has hoped to maintain a low-key position until they can get the momentum going in Quebec for independence.

The skirmish came last week during a televised three-day conference Trudeau had with 10 provincial premiers on a constitution that would replace the British North America Act, now Canada's law of the land.

6 bodies found in blaze

DES MOINRES, Iowa (AP) - Surprised firefighters came across six bodies - and then began looking for more - as they battled a blaze in a Des Moines department store Sunday after officials said everyone had left the building safely.

"We didn't think there was anyone in the store," said Acting Police Chief Thomas Teale. "It's hard to say if there are more."

The flames - which began with an explosion - and thick, black smoke prevented firefighters from removing the bodies from the second floor of the Younkers Department Store. They said the dead included two men and four women.

Election polling places located close to dorms

Students living on campus will not have to go very far to vote in Tuesday's general election.

The primary student precincts are 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18 and the polling places in each respectively are Bob Hickman Ford, 1600 Lincoln Avenue; United Campus Ministry, 2202 Fourth St.; the University Union, which serves as the poll for both 16 and 17, and the Immanuel Lutheran Church, 902 Cleveland.

The remaining polling place by precinct include: one, the Newman Center, 909 Lincoln Ave.; two, Charleston High School, south door, 1615 Lincoln Ave.; three, labor hall, 14th and Madison Streets; four, Fire Hall No. 1, 404 10th St.

Others include six, Farm Service Building, west Illinois 316; seven, Neal Tire Service, 10 Fifth St.; nine, Lincoln School, Division and Madison Streets; 10, Fire Hall No. 2, 1510 A St.; 11, Carl Sandburg School, 1924 Reynolds Dr.; 12, School Administration Building, 410 W. Polk, and 13, the old Charleston Hospital, 825 18th St.

Voting hours are from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Investigator okays ballots

by K.J. Pringle

Absentee ballots recently handed out on campus were investigated by a state elections board investigator who found no evidence of conscious wrong doing, Coles County Clerk Jackie Bacon said Thursday.

"I've tried to protect the students by informing them that absentee ballots can only be used if they are not going to be in the county that they are registered in on Election Day," Bacon said.

Bacon added that students who still have absentee ballots may absolve themselves by doing one of four things by Tuesday.

--If the student has a blank ballot then he should return it empty to the county clerk's office so that it may be voided.

--If a student has marked the ballot and is unsure what to do with it, he should return the ballot to the county clerk's office in person with a statement that he wants the ballot voided.

--If a student has already voted and returned the ballot, but has not been notified that the ballot has been processed, he should again go to the county clerk's office and personally tell Bacon to void the ballot.

--If a student has voted and his ballot has already been processed, he should go to the polls on Election Day and tell the election judges to void the absentee ballot and then cast his vote in person.

Charleston man pleads guilty to two charges

A 23-year-old Charleston man pleaded guilty Friday to charges of attempting to abduct an Eastern coed.

Bob Jones entered the guilty plea in Coles County Circuit Court to charges of aggravated battery and attempted kidnapping in connection with the Oct. 16 incident, in which he grabbed and attempted to carry a coed off campus to a waiting automobile.

Three other Charleston residents were arrested in connection with the incident.

Two of the three were juveniles, but the third, Mikey Daniels, 17, of Charleston has also been charged with aggravated battery and attempted kidnapping.

Daniels is awaiting a Monday preliminary hearing.

Jones will not be sentenced until a presentence investigation is filed by the county probation officer. Jones is being held in the Coles County Jail until sentencing.

RHA must prepare for new budget duties

Editorials

The recent action by President Daniel E. Marvin to place the responsibility for the housing budget review under the Residence Hall Association, is good in principle, but should be approached carefully.

The duties of the RHA will be to study the budget submitted by the housing office, and review any requests for changes in housing costs.

Marvin's proposal is different than that suggested by student leaders, who proposed that the bond revenue budgets be divided between a University Union Board and a housing board.

Marvin's rationale was that since a mechanism for reviewing the housing budget already exists, another board would be superfluous.

But the RHA will have to change its emphasis and direction if it is to undertake this kind of responsibility.

In the past, the organization has at times busied itself with matters of smaller importance: picnics, bunkbeds, etc.

While it has also participated in problems of larger scope, such as roommate rights and obligations and 24-hour visitation, the nature of hall problems and the group itself has limited its action.

If the RHA is to assume this kind of budget review responsibility, it must conduct its elections in a serious manner to insure that qualified, intelligent persons are seated, and it must assert more independence away from Housing Director Louis V. Hencken.

Hencken by no means runs the group with an iron hand, but he does act as an information source and adviser to the group.

Now, however, they will be reviewing a budget he has submitted, and they must treat it as critically and carefully as possible.

To do otherwise would be to subvert the original intent of the student government leaders who wanted to take budgetary approval out of the hands of those who made up the budgets.

We urge the RHA to begin preparing itself now, and to set up guidelines so that current and future members will be well-informed and responsible.

Cross burning shows problem

If it was a joke, it wasn't funny, and if it was more than a joke then Eastern has a serious problem on its hands.

A large cross was burned Halloween night in front of the Kappa Alpha Psi house, a fraternity with black membership.

Burning a cross in front of a black's residence is, as most should know, an old terrorist activity practiced by groups like the Ku Klux Klan.

It is a symbol of hatred and fear perpetrated originally against those who had no power to resist.

Its presence on campus, whether as a prank or as an act of racism, shows we have a deeper problem than a university of educated people should have.

We hope the incident doesn't happen again. Students here need to realize that relations between people depend on mutual good will and effort.

Letters to the editor

In defense

Editor:

This is in response to the article which appeared in the Eastern News on Oct. 26, 1978. The article was reporting the decision by the University Board to remove Karen Asmus as concert coordinator.

As chairman of ushers, and a close friend of Karen, I was able to work with her at each concert making sure that things went as planned.

For three years I have been associated with the University Board and have seen a variety of student "leaders" come and go.

This year's board, in my opinion, could only be classified as leaders of "Ripley's Believe It Or Not."

A decision such as the one made last week, although being quite typical for them, disturbs me greatly.

Karen had informed the necessary (term used loosely) people concerning her resignation as concert coordinator weeks ago, saying however, with the Homecoming concert so close she would remain until then to help out and then resign.

Her reasons for resigning were many but her utmost concern was for her academic achievement.

Much time and effort was needed to do her job to her standards, time and effort in which she was unable to give any longer.

Why then, a week before she was going to resign, was this conversation forgotten? It is amazing what the mind can do when it wants to, isn't it?

Karen Asmus was a hard working coordinator last year, yet decisions were constantly being made without her knowledge as to what concerts would be presented at Eastern.

The same people who made these decisions are still here this year, so why now, when Karen's scholastic pressures were great, was no help given?

The only thing given to this hard working and dedicated member was a slap in the face.

Mr. Kaefer seems to think, "if concerts don't turn out right, they (the students) think that's the way UB works."

Oh Mr. Kaefer, what words of wisdom doth flow from your lips. University Board's actions in this matter shows the students exactly "the way UB works."

In ending this letter let me say that I am resigning from my position as Usher Chairman.

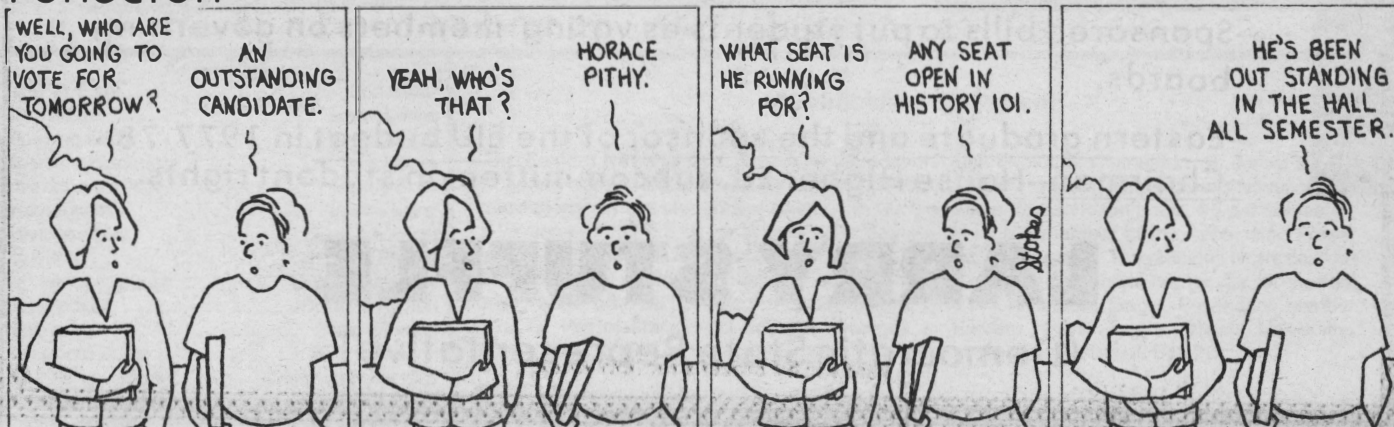

Not that I have to - I am not an "important" person in this delightful organization but because I was raised differently.

Back-stabbing is not my way of life nor a game in which I derive great pleasure from, but that's alright UB, keep that smile on your face and do what you've been doing for so long.

I really doubt you're capable of anything else, believe it or not!

Student election campaigning under way

by Bob Glover

Nine students are now campaigning for the four student government executive posts of president, executive vice president, financial vice president and student collective bargaining representative.

In addition, 25 students are competing for the 16 open Student Senate seats.

Voting will take place from 7:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Nov. 15.

Polling places are at Coleman Hall and the University Union.

Students living in Taylor, Thomas, Andrews, Lawson and Carman Halls will vote in Coleman Hall.

Off-campus, Organizational Housing, Lincoln, Douglas, Stevenson, Weller, McKinney, Ford Halls and all other students will vote in the Union.

The following students will be on the ballot in this order for executive offices:

There are six off-campus district seats being contested by senior Joni

Student injured at game

An Eastern student was injured during Saturday's Homecoming football game when she was hit by a bottle thrown from the stands.

Rita J. Hamilton, a sophomore, said she received an inch and a half to two-inch cut in her head which required five stitches to close. She was treated at Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center.

Joseph Nitch, a junior, was arrested by campus security and booked into the Coles County Jail on a charge of disorderly conduct in relation to the incident, security Police Chief John Pauley said Sunday.

A sheriff's department spokesman said Nitch was released on bond about 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

Hamilton said Sunday she had not decided if she was going to press further charges against Nitch.

Homecoming awards announced

Delta Zeta was announced Saturday the winner of the week-long Spirit Contest in a trophy presentation during half-time of the football game.

In the flatbed float competition, Sigma Pi took first place, the Sigma Sigma-Delta Chi float took second and the Alpha Phi-Phi Sigma Epsilon float came in third.

Black Student union won the decorated car competition.

Delta Zeta, Lambda Chi Alpha won the window painting and house decoration contests held during the week.

In the walking float competition, Alpha Gamma Delta won first place, Lawson Hall won second place and Pemberton Hall came in third.

Senate unable to agree on definition of 'faculty'

by Bob Nasenbeny

After an hour of discussion and five proposals, the Faculty Senate Tuesday could not decide on a definition of who is considered faculty.

Faculty senate chairman Robert Shuff said Wednesday the five motions were defeated because of a failure to receive the necessary two-thirds majority by the Faculty Senate.

"We couldn't find a common ground for the definition of faculty, but there seems to be a general agreement that the dean level and above would not qualify as faculty," Shuff said.

The original definition of faculty is defined as all persons with the rank of professor, associate professor, assistant professor, instructor, or faculty assistant.

Currently administrators can vote and take part in the Faculty Senate.

One proposal which was defeated stated "faculty shall include all members of the bargaining unit, department chairpersons, academic counselors, coordinators and directors of academic programs."

Shuff said, "this proposal came the closest of the five motions" to being passed but, it was well short of the two-thirds majority needed, he added.

Shuff said so far it has been a "slow laborious process because of the nature of collective bargaining. He added, "The BOG and (American Federation of Teachers) may force us to make additional changes" once the Faculty Senate has made its decision.

Shuff said the Faculty Senate is changing the definition of faculty because "the AFT will do it if we don't."

He said the AFT will bring the definition of faculty when it begins negotiations with the Board of Governors next week.

Knuth to head coffeehouse

The University Board Tuesday named freshman Tom Knuth as new UB Coffeehouse Committee chairman, effective spring semester.

Knuth will be replacing his brother, senior John Knuth, who will be graduating this semester.

Knuth was chosen over four other candidates in a UB executive committee vote.

In other action, the UB named Dan Kolb, Movie Committee chairman, as head of a search committee to find a new UB concert coordinator to replace senior Karen Asmus.

Asmus resigned last week.

New flu vaccine ready

A new flu vaccine which offers protection against three different flu strains is available now at the Health Center, Director Jerry Heath said Thursday.

The vaccine, released this week, is administered in two separate injections with preferably a month between injections, Heath said. Immunity is reached in approximately two weeks. The vaccine is 70 to 80 percent effective against the Russian A, Texas A and Hong Kong B flu strains, Heath said.

Students who want to be inoculated should go to the Health Center where the shots will be administered free, Heath said.

Spikers top Pitt, drop two at IU

by Brad Patterson

The Eastern volleyballers struggled in their final regular season action this weekend, losing two of three games at the Indiana Invitational.

The Panthers, now 25-14 on the season, defeated Pittsburgh in the third match, the only team to defeat Pitt in the tournament. Pitt went on to meet Purdue in the final round.

In the opening pool game, the Panthers lost to Cleveland State, 6-15, 15-8, 15-6. After that, Indiana took a tough three-game dual from the Panthers, 15-10, 16-18, 15-8.

"We really didn't play very well in the first two games," coach Margie Wright said. "I hope we got it out of our system before this weekend though."

The Panthers will be hosting the state tournament beginning Thursday.

In the Pitt contest, Eastern took a 16-14, 15-11 decision in a well-played contest.

Volleyball Club to meet

For those persons interested in playing recreational volleyball, there will be a meeting of the Eastern Volleyball Club at 8 p.m. Monday in the Effingham Room of the University Union.

The Sheriff's Job

Courtesy Paul B. Smith, Sheriff Coles County

Now this Sheriff's job is a curious one;
Like the housewife's work, it's never done.
Calls come by night and come by day,
They may be near or miles away.
Do hurry up, says the voice of the caller;
You're badly needed in Possum Holler.
Paw's on a rampage, he's got a gun;
Been looking for Maw since halfpast one.
So we jump in our flivver and hit the trail;
And drive like a streamliner carrying the mail.
Our only hope and all we can figure,
Is to be on hand before Paw pulls the trigger.
We finally arrive and amid confusion—
We learn the affair was a simple delusion.
Paw with his gun was just hunting squirrels.
Maw had gone to school with the two oldest girls.
Next day we're hunting a mottle-face cow;
That night we referee a nice family row.
Now that's just a sample of what we do;
An endless variety of the old and the new.
It may be a prowler, a burglar, a drunk;
He may steal your billfold; your watch or your trunk.
We set out to catch him, and we do our best;
We catch our percentage and lose the rest;
We can't catch them all, for some leave no clue—
They don't leave their cards like the candidates do.
Sometimes they plead guilty, and the judge will scold.
Then half the county will want them paroled.
They blame the depression, the new deal, the tariff—
But most of the folks put the blame on the Sheriff.
So, it's quite a game, if you stay right in—
You'll get a pat on the back, and a sock on the chin.
But, I like it, and I'm shedding no tears—
And I'd like to be your Sheriff for another four years.

Panthers 'Poke' Redbirds 42-7

by Carl Gerdovich

Eastern's Homecoming '78 will be a day the Panthers will long remember and one Illinois State University's Redbirds would rather forget.

Before an overflow crowd in excess of 9,000 Saturday, the largest in Eastern history, coach Darrell Mudra's squad rolled to an overwhelming 42-7 win over the hapless Redbirds at O'Brien Stadium.

Panther quarterback Steve Turk threw for three touchdowns while Poke Cobb ran for two and also passed for one in leading the squad to a successful Homecoming celebration.

Cobb also went over the 1,000-yard rushing mark for the second straight year as the 190 pound junior rushed for 151 yards in 25 carries.

The Eastern win upped its season mark to 7-2, the school's best win-loss record since 1928 and reinforces its hopes for a NCAA Division II playoff bid.

Illinois State's loss, the 11th straight, set a new Redbird record for the most consecutive setbacks. The Redbirds are now 0-9 on the season.

The Panthers also added another new record to their already rewritten record book. Eastern's 497 total offensive yards against ISU ran its season total to 3,936, surpassing the 3,653 mark set in 1976.

"We haven't done all that well against the top competition this year. I was really surprised, I didn't think we'd dominate like we did," Mudra said.

Smith takes 2nd in region; qualifies for National meet

by Matt Davidson

MACOMB - Robin Smith qualified for the AIAW nationals by taking 2nd place in the regional women's cross country meet at Western Illinois.

Smith finished with a time of 17:17, just one second off of Mary Beth Spencer's winning time.

Spencer, from Wisconsin, successfully defended the title she won a year ago.

Although she finished highly in the field of more than 100 runners, Smith was not always in the front of the pack.

I was behind for about for the 1st mile or so," Smith said. "Then I another TD pass to help the Panthers bomb the Redbirds 42-7. (News photo by Rich Bauer)

"We played a much more aggressive game, especially on defense. We've been making more happen," he added.

Eastern began to make it happen a little more than halfway through the first quarter.

After an encouraging ISU ground game on its first two series, the Redbird offense skidded. The Panthers aggressive defense play set up the first score when Tom Seward recovered an ISU fumble on the Redbird 41.

Turk scrambled for a 15-yard gain, and then hit Scott McGhee on a 31-yard touchdown pass play. A bad snap foiled Dan DiMartino's extra point attempt.

The Panthers tallied three times in decided it was about time to make a move. Finally, about the two-mile mark I caught up with them."

One of the standards that Eastern has is that a runner must finish in the top 12 to be allowed to continue to the national meet.

"I feel that was a motivating factor," Smith said. "I really wanted to go back again this year."

Finishing third was one of Spencer's teammates who finished in 17:27, while Anita Moyer of Illinois took fourth place with a time of 17:32.

Wisconsin had the lowest score in team competition compiling 25 points.

the second quarter on two pass plays and a seven yard run by Cobb.

Driving 40 yards on seven plays, Eastern made it a 14-0 game when Turk lofted a nine yard scoring strike to James Warring. Warring fought off an ISU defender for the ball and the score. A Turk to Jeff Forster pass gave Eastern a two-point conversion.

"That was (Mike) Shanahan's idea to go for the two-point conversion to get back the points we lost on the missed kick," Mudra said. "It was a good idea."

Redbird fullback Bill Fenn cut the Panther lead to seven on a three yard run capping a 56 yard ISU drive.

Eastern came right back with Cobb taking a pitch from Turk and then passing to McGhee for a 19-yard scoring strike.

The ensuing kickoff saw ISU's Fenn fumble the return, and Eastern's Don Pittman recovered for the Panthers on the 29 yard line.

A Turk to McGhee pass gained 22 yards before Cobb rambled in from

Racquetball signup changed

In an effort to enable more people to use the racquetball and tennis courts, signup procedures have been changed effective Monday.

Under the new procedure, the student or faculty member may reserve a court for one hour every other day upon presenting a validated I.D. card or a F/S Recreation card. After presenting the appropriate identification, the secretary will then sign the name on the court that is selected.

The sign up sheets come out two days in advance with Monday's sheet coming out on Friday. However, a seven yards out. The TD run by Cobb set him at 1,000 yards for the season.

Cobb's running has paced the Panther offensive attack for the past two seasons. This year, a passing circus has complemented the junior's running skills quite affectively, and Cobb enjoys it.

"Last year they (opponents) keyed on me and I had a harder time breaking tackles. Now though, no one knows what the offense is gonna do and it gives me a better chance to break some long runs," Cobb said.

"We started taking advantage of a lot of their mistakes and that offensive line was doing a great job opening the holes," he said.

"I really felt that we were moving the ball much better," Mudra said. "We were coming off the ball quick and blocking well."

The Panthers added two more scores in the third quarter on a touchdown run by Cobb and a 28-yard scoring play from Turk to Warring.

court may not be reserved on Monday if you have signed up for one on Saturday or Sunday.
