E. I. 6, LINCOLN 14

E. I. lost the Lincoln game on fumbles and hard luck, with the former as the big factor.

Lincoln started off with smashing football, and in the first few minutes play her left half caught a pass and ran 30 yds. for a touchdown. Goal after touchdown. Score 7-0.

E. I. played some real football with Greathouse and Funkhouser alternately carrying the ball. Greathouse went over with the ball. Prather failed to kick goal. Score 7-6.

After the next kickoff, Swope threw a Lincoln back for a 11 yd. loss, and a short time later a Lincoln punt went out of bounds after going only 20 yds. E. I. had a golden opportunity for a touchdown, but lost the ball on the 1 yd. line. To top it off, a minute later, the Lincoln left half scored up a fumble and ran 40 yds. for a touchdown. Score 14-6.

Although neither team scored this half, E. I. had several chances to score. At the beginning of the half, Greathouse gained repeatedly. After the ball had changed hands several times, E. I. started for a touchdown only to lose the ball on a fumble. The quarter ended a short time later. Score 14-6.

Thirty minutes after the opening of the quarter E. I. fumbled again. Lincoln made quite a little on short passes, but failed to keep it up when in scoring distance. A dropkick from the 30 yd. line failed. Wilson was put in as quarter and Gobert changed to left end. Two passes from Wilson to Gobert netted 63 yds. Dunn made 6 more. It seemed a certain touchdown for E. I., but the next pass was intercepted. After the ball changed hands, E. I. started down the field again, but Gobert failed at a 40 yd. dropkick. The game ended shortly after. Final score 14-6.

Greathouse was E. I.'s star. He could gain consistently, and spilled Lincoln for losses again and again.

Funkhouser and Capt. Prather played a good game. Funkhouser could be counted on for the necessary yards on a 4th-down. He hit the line in Big Ten style. Gobert, playing at quarter, ran the team well, and at end made 63 yds. on two passes. Dunn played the best he has this year. Swope played his usual excellent game.

Lincoln's left half was easily their star. That longlegged bird was their big ground gainer and passer.

This is the third game E. I. has lost that they should have won. We concede Wesleyan's and Normal's superiority, but contend that E. I. should have won from Shurtleff, Carbondale and Lincoln.

It wasn't a happy ending to the football season.

E. I. FOOTBALL SEASON

Summary of E. I. Varsity

Swope, Gobert and Greathouse were the outstanding players on the E. I. varsity football team this season; Swope for his good defensive playing, Gobert for his ability in running the team, Greathouse, a new man, for his fast, open-field running. The varsity was the lightest team in the conference. The season is to be considered a success when it is remembered that the team has played against hard luck and bigger teams all season. "Get more Students for the Senior College," should be the slogan. It is impossible to create a new winning team each year.

Summary of E. I. High

Donaldson was easily the star for the High School team. He played only the last three games. His line plunging was quite a little above the high school average. Kerr, as utility man, was indispensable to the team. He played well as halfback, tackle or center. His tackling was the best of all men on the team. Iknayan improved as the season went along and in the last three contests played an excellent game at his tackle. It was the High School's first season, and it certainly can be counted a success.

With the help and co-operation of all the students, this staff will make an unusually good annual this year.

Mrs. S. E. Thomas entertained the school at chapel Saturday morning with two piano solos. The school hopes that Mrs. Thomas will not make that her only appearance.

CARNIVAL DEC. 10

At a meeting of the Student Council Friday, it was decided to hold a carnival Saturday, Dec. 10. The Student Council has arranged the following program for that night:

- 7:00-7:20—Senior College stunt—Assembly Building
- 7:30-7:50—Football squad athletic show—Room 16.
- 7:55-8:15—Sophomore College stunt—Assembly Room.
- 8:25-8:45—11th year stunt—Room 6.
- 8:50-9:10—Faculty stunt—Assembly Room.
- 9:20-9:40—10th year stunt—Room 6.
- 9:45-10:05—Freshmen College stunt—Assembly Room.
- 10:10-10:30—9th year stunt—Room 6.

Admission to the four shows in the assembly room will be by one ticket, price 35 cents. Admission to the other shows will be 10 cents each.

- Open 7:00-10:00. Admission 5 cents each:
- 12th year stunt - Reception Room
- 9th year stunt - Room 8
- Sophomore College stunt - Room 18
- 10th year stunt - Room 17
- 11th year stunt - Room 7

There will be a "jitney" dance in charge of the Freshmen College class in room 16 from 10:00 until 11:30.

The Y. W. C. A. girls will have charge of selling refreshments in the corridors.

The above is the program as planned by the Student Council, and we hope the different classes, faculty and friends of the school will co-operate in making this carnival the most successful of all that we have ever had. In the class meetings Wednesday morning, the classes should discuss the stunts which they will give. If a class is not able to carry out its part of the program, the president of the Student Council should be notified at once.

Miss Skeffington attended the National Meeting of English Teachers in the auditorium at Chicago Friday and Saturday of this week.

The boys who were interested in the Christmas dance met Wednesday to discuss plans for the annual party. A committee was appointed to take charge of securing music, of decorating, and of issuing invitations. The dance will be held Dec. 23.

HOCKEY

Hockey, which was added to our list of sports last year, is being continued this year. The game is played on a field 100 yards by 50 yards, with goal posts 4 yards apart at each end. Halfway between the two goals is the "center line." Each half of the field is again divided equally, and the line is known as the "25-yard line." In front of each goal is a semi-circle with a radius of 15 yards. This semi-circle is called the "striking-circle." Five yards inside each of the side-lines, the longer lines of the field, is marked a line parallel with the side-line; this is called the "5-yard line."

The game is somewhat similar to football in that there are eleven players on each team and that each team attacks its opponent's goal. Of these eleven, five, called "forwards," are on the center-line. There are three, called "half-backs," who back up the forwards. Back of these, between the 25-yard line and the goal, stand the "fullbacks," ready to send the ball away from the goal they are defending. Within three yards of the goal is the goal-keeper, who defends the goal, aided by the fullbacks. The ball is put into play at the center by a "bully," and from here each team strives to send the ball to their own halfbacks, who in turn send it toward their goal. If they send the ball between the goal posts from inside the striking-circle, this counts one point for their side. If they send it across the line outside the goal-posts, the ball is taken back to the 25-yard line, where it is again balled off and played.

As there are penalties in football, so there are in hockey. The player's stick must at no time rise above her shoulders. If so, it is a foul, and the penalty is a free strike for the opposing team. Should the ball be knocked outside the side-lines, one of the opposing team is privileged to roll the ball in toward the goal of her players. In all cases, there shall be no play with the rounded back of the stick.

Many former E. I. students visited school during their Thanksgiving holidays. The following were among the visitors: Charles and Robert Allen, Stephen Turner, Leslie Cook, Glen Baker, Margaret Champion, Paul McMorris, Richard Kepner, Raymond Phipps.

Published weekly by the students of the Eastern Illinois State Teachers' College on each Tuesday during the school year at 511 Jackson St., Charleston, Ill.

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 8, 1915 at the Post Office at Charleston, Ill., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

We have always understood that teachers were considered a cultivated class of people. What place can there be in an advanced class in a teachers' college for persons who do not know that an invitation should be accepted with a certain degree of interest, or declined with the offer of a good excuse? A valued member of our faculty and his wife, who have taken a rather unusual interest in the social life of the students, have been grossly insulted. If the slight was due to a misunderstanding, an adequate apology should be made; if it was intentional, an apology would scarcely cover the ground, but it would at least give the affair a semblance of social decency. To utterly ignore an invitation, is the height of ignorance or rudeness. Such a thing might be pardonable in children who had had no social training, but even children should be censured for such a breach of etiquette. We hope that there will never be a repetition of such an offense in our school, and believe there will not be, as many students have discussed the affair and expressed strong disapproval of such conduct.

Saturday Night Dance

The largest crowd of the year was present at the dance in the gymnasium Saturday evening. Marjorie Lynch's 4-piece orchestra furnished the music.

Registration

All students planning to attend school next term registered Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

The school term closes Friday of this week. Many students have been noticed with unusually long faces. Cheer up. You haven't your grades yet.

Basketball

Basketball practice started yesterday. About twenty-five candidates reported for the varsity team, and twenty for the High School. The varsity schedule is not complete, but it will include games with Lincoln, Millikin, Carbondale and Indiana N. There will be eight varsity games, and probably as many for the High School.

Season tickets will be sold to the people of Charleston that wish to buy them. Everyone will have the opportunity to see five or six dollars worth of basketball for a dollar and a half. The new balcony will furnish seats for two hundred more "fans." Buy your tickets next week.

Student Council Meeting

Friday the Student Council met in the reception room and appointed a committee to investigate and lay before the council plans for a balcony in the gymnasium. Plans were made for a carnival to be given in the main building, in order to raise funds for the Student Council. The question of having a High School basketball team was discussed. Plans for placing a safe in the reception room were made. In this safe the Student Council books, records, and other important student papers, will be kept. The treasurer reported a balance of $83 in the treasury.

Our New Power House

Work will probably be started on the new power house sometime next spring. It will be large enough to care for the needs of a much larger school than E. I. is at present. An addition to the west side of the elementary school building is also being planned. The need of this addition is unquestioned. The E. I. T. A. meeting this fall demonstrated the need of a large room for sectional meetings.

Nineteen individual pictures of the football team are posted in the corridors. Prices are as follows: Set, $1; any 12, 75c; 6, 40c; 3, 20c; 1, 10c. Leave your orders with John Whitesel or Charles Prather.

Thanksgiving at Pemberton Hall
With but a single day of vacation this year, almost all of the students at Pemberton Hall remained in Charleston for the holiday. Dinner, to which some thirty-five or forty student and faculty guests had been invited, was served at one o'clock.

After the football game, Miss Molyneaux and the girls of the hall pleasantly entertained the Lincoln football team, the faculty, and other guests, at a the'
dansant—the first of its kind at
E. I. The girls admirably demonstrated their superior abilities in the role of hostesses, and all of those who attended are hoping this will be the first of many similar parties. As for those who failed to go—of course they cannot know what a genuinely good time they missed.

Football Letters
Eighteen members of the football squad won their letters the past season. The following played the nine conference games: Capt.
Prather, Swope, Dunn, Much-
more, Johnson, Rawland, Alcorn, Funkhouser, Creamer, Crowe,
Wilson, Turney, Gobert, Ash-brook, Osborne, Lee, Anderson and Greathouse.

Vernon Baker, a former student of our school, was married last week to Miss Mildred Lutz.

THE INCUBATOR

ADVICE TO TEACHERS WHO EXPECT TO TEACH IN SMALL TOWNS NEXT FALL.

1. Abolish all bad habits.
2. Have a good time while you can.
3. Don't save your money, you won't need it.
Be able to tell how many pounds is a bushel of oats, and how much the interest on $150 for 6 years at 4 per cent would be, etc. (For the inquisitive citizens.)
5. Cultivate the habit of enjoying yourself almost everywhere.
6. Be prepared for such nick-names as supt., prof., principal, etc.
Realize that you are going to teach next year and get some ideas when you have the opportunity.
Look forward. One who knows.

The 440-Yard Dash

Did you ever run a close race with anyone? If so, you know something of the exertion and anxiety experienced.

It was in a small fieldmeet that I participated in a quarter-mile run. I had just completed the 50-yard dash, the 100-yard dash and the 200-yard dash, when, foolish as I was, I determined to compete in the four-ty.

At last, came the call for entrants. "On your mark; get set; go," shouted the referee.

We were off! When we reached the half-way mark, some were straggling behind. My breath was coming in spurts, hot and stinging. My muscles seemed as if they were all tied in a knot, aching and painful.

"Who is that in front?" I wondered.

In vain did I try to move my legs faster. Would the race never be over? The exertion was almost unbearable now. Pattering footsteps told me I was losing ground. I almost stumbled, but recovered and went on.

Far away cheers sounded. I added just one little feeble spurt to my gait; and fell, painfully, and ever so tired, into waiting arms.

Lynn Sanders.

On an Old, Decaying Bridge

The front wheels of the huge traction engine were already on the bridge.

"Will she hold up?" asked the engineer, shouting above the steady puffing of the steam.

"Try 'er a couple of feet further," came the answer.

Then, as the great wheels started to roll, there was a crunching of gravel and a creaking of the old bridge, when the sharp cleats of the hind wheels came down on the floor. The planks cracked and splintered. Two more puffs and the engineer shut down the throttle. After taking one satisfying look at the bridge beneath him he started to reverse. The large claws of the wheels tore up the boards, and the tottering old bridge wavered and groaned.

"She's safe," shouted a bystander, as the large monster grated back off the bridge.

Theodore Whitesel.

Motion Picture Machine

A requisition has been made for a motion picture machine. The probability of getting one is good. It is thought that it will be known for certain in a short time.

There is an exhibition of toys at the manual training building this week. It will be worth any student's time to go to this exhibit. Toys have been made by members of Mr. Ashley's classes.

Mr. Taylor led chapel Tuesday morning during Mr. Lord's absence. The subject of Mr. Taylor's talk was, "How to Study."
