HOMECOMING PLAY TOLD BY PRESS AGENT

Martha Rosall

We are so proud of our actors that we feel we simply must tell you about them! When we first planned to produce Bernard Shaw's very pleasant play, "You Never Can Tell," we thought we should like to prepare this play for the production in as short a time as a professional company would take. This year we have an unusual amount of talent to choose from—shows in try-outs. It really was hard to choose from them. They have taken hold in great shape, and, we believe—miracle of miracles!—that for once we are going to finish general rehearsals ahead of our scheduled time, and have time for the brushing up, that which every play needs and seldom gets. Ordinarily, we would not have attempted to produce this play in less than a month and a half.

Our director, Mr. Giles, is giving the actors an unusual amount of liberty in working out their parts for themselves. They are reacting in the finest way possible, and are working at full speed.

We shall have a real theatre. The stage manager and designers are contriving to install special equipment for the stage and electrical dressing. The new velvet curtains will be used for the first time, and will be a great help. They will afford a proscenium opening for the first time, making all details of stage mechanics which have heretofore been embarrassingly exposed to the public. They will also enrich the appearance of the stage.

The play is full of clever and sparkling dialogue. One can almost see Shaw himself grinning all through the play. It is distinctly Shavian!

The unique setting of the first act—unique because it is homely—the lively humor of the lines, the remarkable courtship between the hero, Valentine (William Shoemaker) and the heroine, Gloria Clandon (Mary Margaret Summers), the strongly drawn eccentric characters of Finch McComus (Theodore Whitesel), Bohun (George Rice), the waiter (Kermit Dehl), Crampton (Thompson Shields) and Mrs. Clandon (Helén Mayfield), the bubbling liveliness of the twins, Dolly (Johanna Grant) and Phillip (Delbert Nave), as well as the general rapidity of movement of the play, combine to make this a very unusual offering, and accounts for its great success when performed in other theatres.

Bernard Shaw makes everyone laugh. If you don't laugh with your face, you will with your brain. Try seeing this play, if you are capable of enjoying the good things of life.

At the close of each term final examinations covering the work of the term are given in all courses.

The examination period is two class periods (100 minutes). Examinations for the fall term will be held on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, November 26, 27, and 28. The examination schedule will be announced later.

Monday, December 3 is registration day for the winter term.

Former Students Injured Saturday

Last Saturday evening on their way to Lawrenceville from the E. I. Rose Poly game, Marjorie Ford and Dale Steffey were seriously injured when bright lights from an approaching car caused a band on collision. Marjorie's collar bone and shoulder are probably broken, and Dale suffered a deep gash over the right eye which may cause the loss of sight. Mrs. Ford was also injured. Both girls were students in the college last year.

Mrs. Thomas H. Briggs of Yorkers, New York, was the guest of Charleston friends last week.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY WAS SEASON'S BEST

There goes the bat. It was the night of October 27 when all the ghosts and spooks of E. I. turned out to do obedience to the rulers of Halloween. Never before were such grotesque, queer beautiful spectacles turned loose upon a community as appeared before the judges Saturday night for recognition as to their oddity. Costumes representing the "Little Tin Soldier," "The Spirit of '76," "Little Boy Blue" and hundreds of other various characters of folk lore were present at the dance. And the reigning queen and king, the best dressed couple, turned out to be Jane Anne Bison and Mr. Garvin.

Mr. Blake was the best dressed man. His costume was an effect of a southern gentleman and he was well chosen as the one to represent his class. In open competition with Mr. Blake came the best dressed woman. A suggestion of the "Forest Prim-er-ial" and with a rustling of leaves Miss Florence Wood stepped forward to receive the prize.

Now think of bats, cobwebs, and brooms and I will present to you Miss Florence Walker as having the most grotesque costume. Miss Walker was dressed to represent a witch and in her portrayal she was nearly perfect.

Beulah Gordon with her street-cleaning skirt and her large balloon type sleeves won the prize as having the funniest lady's costume. It reminded one of the horse and buggy days: when our fathers went calling and the fair ones kid brother got a nickle for holding the restive horse.

DEPARTMENTAL NEWS OF THE COLLEGE

Music

Boys Quartet

The Boys Quartet made their first appearance of the year at the Chamber of Commerce, October 25. As usual they made a hit with all present. Homecoming is the time for their second appearance.

The Quartet is composed of the following: Glen Benett, first tenor, Burl Ives, second tenor, Fred Chansy, first bass, and Paul Bridges, second bass.

Bruce Fulwider, last year's member of the quartet, is teaching school near Redmon.

Girls Glee Club

Mary McKnight, Mary Christman, Rosa Todd, Teresa Welch, Mabel Whitten, Pauline Baker, Dorothy Ducey, Rosamund Funk, Helen McCoy, Bernice Faught, Nina Waller, Edna Kroeger.

Geneva Jared, Ruth Hill, Rita Nay, Mildred Meyers, Lela Hamilton, Marie Caruthers, Gladys Squire.

Helen Andrews, Dorothy McNary, Mabel Webb, Mildred Green, Helen Parker, Helen McWilliams, Inez Taylor, Maxine Gruver, Martha Ann Ruth.

Science

Botany

The students in Botany 60 have found out much to their surprise, that the heads of flowers should be wrapped up instead of the stems in order to keep them from wilting. This is indeed important when one considers how many people are prone to make this mistake.

The advanced Botany Class went on an interesting field trip to the Rocks Friday to study mosses, lichens, and liverworts. If you don't know what mosses, lichens, and liverworts are, just ask those who are studying these, and they will be only too glad to give you any information you desire on the subject.

Physics

In connection with the laboratory work students are measuring the velocity of bullets. Some of the students have discovered that when a 22 short cartridge is fired from a revolver, the velocity of the bullet is greater than when a 22 long is fired. This is surprising when one considers that the bullets are of the same size and that the 22 long cartridge has almost twice as much powder as the short. The explanation of this difference in the velocity is that it is due to the shortness of the cartridge chamber of the revolver.

Hygiene

Why does one open the windows of a crowded room? To let in oxygen? Wrong! Oxygen comes in anyway through the walls and cracks. You can't keep it out. No, one doesn't open a window in order to let in oxygen but he does open it in order to cool the air. It is temperature and not lack of oxygen that makes one feel groggy. In a crowded room with still air the body can't cool itself, and so the symptoms are for heat prostration and suffocation as the majority of us believe. If any of you doubt this let me say that this has been thoroughly tested and proved in a specially constructed room.

Homecoming edition next week.

Varsity Club Elects Officers

October 17 the Varsity Club had its first meeting. The meeting was called to order by last year's president, Andrew Meuriot. The following officers were elected: William Stone, president, Burl Ives, secretary, Johnny Powers, treasurer. The annual varsity club dance or Boys' Formal, which will be held sometime in the winter was discussed and those who handled the preparations for the dance last year gave suggestions. It was decided that owing to the creditable manner in which the dance was handled last year, the dance for this year will be in the hands of the same people, namely, Andrew Meuriot and Ruel Hall.

ART CLUB ENTERTAINS THURSDAY NIGHT

What an enjoyable evening it was Thursday when those of the Home Economics Department entertained the members of the Domafian Art Club! An original play was given in a manner highly pleasing to those who saw it. Burl Ives sang several songs to his own accompaniment on the banjo—if Mr. Ives had only conformed to the wishes of his audience, he would have spent the entire evening in singing. A ghost story told by Miss Brown made pleasant shivers chase up and down one's back. In addition to these Edith McDowell gave a very interesting talk on "What the Home Economics Department learns." She told about the different kinds of sandwiches one can take on picnics. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches and cider were served.

The department was adequately decorated for the occasion, lighted pumpkin faces lending a delightful "Halloween" touch to the scene. Dress models, draped and arrayed to resemble ghosts, gave an eerie effect in the gloom. The center of attraction, however, was the bon fire effect in the center of the room, orange electric lights giving the impression of a fire. As the guests filed out of the room on leaving they were startled by seeing what appeared to be a corpse. They were reassured however, by a second glance which showed them only a doll dressed to give a death-like appearance.

MARRIAGE IS ANNOUNCED

Miss Louise Bennett, of Charleston, and Mr. Walter M. Meyer of Keyesport, Illinois were married on Saturday, the twenty-seventh of October at Wesley Foundation, Urbana, Illinois.

Mrs. Meyer is a former student of E. I. and for the past few years librarian at the Charleston Public Library. Mr. Meyer is a graduate of the University of Illinois.

BLUE AND GRAY SWAMPS ROSE POLY 39-2

Parr and Fenoglio ran wild E. I. Teachers swamped Rose Poly 39 to 2 on a very muddy field Saturday at Terre Haute. It was a game featured by many penalties, long runs, end and off tackle, intercepted passes and one lone safety. E. I. accumulated six touchdowns to one safety for Rose Poly. The margin of the Teachers' superiority was somewhat greater than the score indicates as two touchdowns after long runs were ruled out as a result of penalties sustained by E. I. players as the plays were executed.

E. I. scored her first touchdown early in the first quarter. Rose Poly was forced to punt from her own 8 yard line and Captain Fenoglio securing the ball on Rose Poly's 40 yard line but as E. I. was penalized on the play the ball was returned to the enemy's 15 yard line. A pass by Fenoglio was incomplete, but Creamer made first down around the right end putting the ball on Rose Poly's 5 yard line. Creamer hit center for a 2 yard gain, and Powers plunged across for a touchdown. Fenoglio passed successfully to Adkins for the extra point, making the score E. I. 7 Rose Poly 0.

In the second quarter Cooly fumbled the ball and Creamer recovered. Parr got 31 yards off tackle but K. I. was penalized 15 yards on the next play. A pass Fenoglio to Hall was good for a touchdown but E. I. was again penalized as a touchdown was made. Fenoglio faked a pass and gained 20 yards around left end, after which Creamer passed to Ashmore, who stepped across the line for the second touchdown. The try for point was missed making the score E. I. 13 Rose Poly 0. Cooly, then kicked off to Hall on his own 32 yard line. A pass Fenoglio to Parr was good for 10 yards, Parr added 6 more through the line, and then 15 yards around end, Hall and Deveric made 3 apiece, Parr 15 yards off tackle, Deveric 8 yards and Parr climaxed the onslaught by crashing 9 yards for another touchdown. A pass Fenoglio to Hall for the point failed. Score at the half E. I. 19, Rose Poly 0.

Creamer opened the second half by kicking to Rose Poly's 20 yard line after which the ball was returned 10 yards. Richardson ran 16 yards but Fenoglio intercepted a pass and carried the ball to the Engineer's 40 yard line. After unsuccessful line plunges an incomplete pass from Creamer to Ashmore gave Rose Poly the ball on their own 35 yard line. Deveric snatched Cooly's pass out of the air giving E. I. the ball on their opponent's 40 yard line. Powers gained 8 yards on two plays and Deveric made first down through tackle. On line backs, Creamer Powers, and Deveric made another first down which was followed by a 17 yard run by Deveric for a touchdown. Due to off-tackle the extra point was not registered giving E. I. a lead of 25 to 0. Creamer kicked to Rose Poly's 5 yard line and was returned

THE NEWS WANTS YOUR AID

The News has mentioned at different times its appreciation of student contributions. So hearty has been the response for feature articles that the News is asking for something a little different, but vital to a good school paper.

Have you noticed that we could publish more news in our paper—news that concerns the student body? The front page is meant to be full of "Newsy" items. As has been mentioned before, the staff is limited in number, and no matter how hard each member works not all of the news can be covered. You can help if you will. The staff does not ask you to "write up" the news articles, but if you know one, give the "lead" to one of the reporters, and he will gladly write.

It is such an easy thing to do. Drop the hint with your name in the News box.

Thus far every issue has had an abundance of contributed articles, and the writer feels certain that the students will contribute real, current news. Let's get the floating news into the paper.

DO YOUR SHARE

Those who attended the movie "The Gancho" featuring Douglas Fairbanks, said that it was unusually good and that they enjoyed it very much. However, attendance was not just what it should be. One of the reasons for this seeming lack of interest was thought to be the home talent show given downtown on the same night.

One really should attend these shows when they are given at the school building. He is always assured of being entertained with a good picture; a picture that will last a long time in his mind. Experiments are being made on one of the lanterns which does not give as clear a picture as does the other. By the time of the next show it is hoped that this lantern will be in an equally good condition. People should not sit to the extreme right or left of the stage because the light from the screen is reflected more strongly straight back than it is to the sides. Therefore one gets the full benefit of the light if one sits as close to the center as possible.

In the Bradley-Knox game October 13 the Knox girls cheered for the first time in the history of the school. The edict of the co-eds not cheering at games seems to have been traditional since the founding of the school a decade ago.

THE PROPOSED MERGER

M. Alita Waltrip '39

Students at E. I. have you taken sufficient notice of the student activities about this college to wonder why they could not accomplish more?

Did it ever occur to you that it is a miracle that many organizations in our school have held their own?

Why? If they have become a success it is only through the frantic efforts of the members of those organizations. For example, if our college band wishes to put on a feature for the express purpose of getting some money for more equipment so as to render the best possible service for E. I., why is it that that organization just wastes the expense of presenting that feature? Why is it that just a select few feel a need of raising themselves to a higher level of appreciation when there is a musical programme presented by the band, orchestra, glee clubs, and male quartets? Why are we so slack about getting behind our team on the field? There is no other answer to these questions than this. As a school we must have a mediator for the welfare of the school and the townspeople, for the school organizations and the student body. This can be made possible by the consolidation of two organizations within the school: the Student Council and the Student Board of Control. It is not my intention to negativate the organization, but almost every upperclassman in school will agree that the Student Board of Control "got off" on the wrong foot for some reason. The Student Council has worked long and strenuously, but by the consolidation of the two a greater work will be in store for the product of consolidation. The motive for combining these two was to produce an organization such as would be ready and efficient as a sponsor for all student activities and organizations. It seems to be the promise of redemption for E. I.

If these organizations have the backing of an influential "go-between" there is no reason why our school could not become distinguished as E. I. rather than just a school in Charleston, Illinois. One might not have thought of it before, but many of the business men of our town are alumni of our college. Is there any reason why they should forget their loyalty to old E. I. on such great days as Homecoming? Is there any reason why our football field should not be crowded to standing capacity? Is there any reason why the entertainments in our auditorium should not be attended by

THE SADDEST WORDS OF TONGUE OR PEN

"Instead of the regular recitation today, you may spend the time writing summaries of the last three chapters studied."

"Bobbied hair isn't smart any more, my dear."

"There's a phone for you, sis—sounds like a woman's voice, though!"

"How about that five you owe me?"

"Explain your absence from chapel yesterday."

"You'd better take those shoes a size larger, ma'am."

"Hand in outside reading reports promptly on the day indicated."

"Please, be a good sister, and let me wear your new rose taffeta formal tonight. Honest I haven't a thing new of my own to wear."

"Twenty-five per cent off on themes that are a day late."

"Will you remember after this that seven twenty-five classes begin at seven twenty-five."

"Lights out at ten-thirty."

"The report that our eight-ten class isn't going to meet is a mistake."

"There aren't any letters for this morning."

"Have you seen my note-book?"

If we're here to help others, what are the others here for?

HARVEST MOON

There is beauty in an Indian summer night, when the harvest moon, orange yellow hangs heavy from a violet canopy. See how it casts phantasmal glowings everywhere making golden tassels of brown corn shocks and a gleaming castle of the old, red barn. What black lacy drappings it makes of stripped, barren trees, and a glimmering path of beaten gold the orchard lane. You cast all nature under your magic spell, harvest moon, orange yellow, hanging heavy from a violet canopy.

Our official grouch says: Give some people a bushel of joy and they'll hunt up the station called Sorrow and growl because Providence didn't give 'em a ton.

THE PROPOSED MERGER

one hundred per cent of our students as well as by some of the brown-people? Is there any reason why certain laws should be passed by the upper classmen to be permanently added by the freshmen? I am thinking of the green cap. Any freshman would feel honored by being permitted to wear the green cap, if the right attitude were sponsored by an intelligent backing. The burning of the green caps at a bonfire and snake dance following class day would be a sign of promotion. The green cap thrown into the fire with ceremony would show to his fellow students that he has rightfully become a sophomore and would be recognized as such.

This merger would serve as an organization to act as sponsors for the introducing of a freshman into college life from the time he leaves the train at the station in Charleston until after he has registered with the help and advice of the upperclassmen, and after he has been introduced to the various organizations of the college. With this sort of an introduction, there is no doubt but that the freshman will take a greater interest in the school since an interest is being taken in him. The freshmen constitute a large and necessary part of the student body and therefore a greater need for efficient and intelligence in getting their footsteps in the paths in which they should go while freshmen and when they become upperclassmen they will not depart therefrom.

This reasoning all goes back to the question of combining the Student Board of Control and Student Council so that our college will possess an efficient sponsoring board or council where student conduct will be just a minor item of its business transactions. Are you, as interested E. I. students, willing to vote for the uniting of the two organizations so that the school will profit by its being? Are you willing that E. I. take a step forward in its life history? If you are, try to find out all you can from anyone on these two boards and listen open-mindedly to what is being said concerning the question. As individual students we can do only a small part. A sponsoring board can do much toward gaining the prominence we wish to hold in our school, in the town, and in our own minds.

TIME

If a student keeps busy, time flies; if he loafs, time drags. However, time remains stationary and man moves. Where? What is time? Without time we would have no world, yet, what is it? Take away time from distance, and we have no distance, for it takes time to cover distance. Space, what is it? Is it time? If there was no time there would be no space, for it takes time to place something in space or demote space. Time, the most valuable asset in life, what do you do with it?

PRYING POLLY

Question: What do you think of our pep meetings?

Sam Mitchell, sophomore—If they could yell the way the team plays football, they would be a lot better off.

Eugene Norton, junior—I think they are very weak. Only about half of the kids yell, and the other half just look on.

Nina Waller, freshman—We could have more pep, but we're doing fine. I think they have just about worn out the yells they have, and need some new ones.

Marion Rambo, senior—I think the pep meetings as they are, aren't pep meetings. If they would yell, and get it over with it would be all right. As it is, some one else wants to yell. They stall around until everyone loses all the pep he ever had.

Wayne Zimmerly, twelfth grade. The college should make more noise than it does. It seems to me that eight hundred college students, and one hundred twenty-five high school students ought to raise the roof.

Femme Une-Mary isn't the least bit afraid of a mouse.

Femme Deux: She ought not to be with her catty disposition.

E. I. Wilts Rose Poly 39 to 2

20 yards. A pass by Cooley was incomplete. When Cooley attempted to punt out of danger, Sims, broke through the opposing line and blocked the punt. Ashmore recovered the ball and carried it to Rose Poly's 2 yard line, from which place Creamer easily chalked up another 6 point marker. Fenoglio's pass to Ashmore was good for the single point, thus increasing Charleston's lead to 32-0.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter Fenoglio intercepted a pass on his own 15 yard line. Parr slipped through tackle for 25 yards and Hall followed with a 12 yard run to Rose Poly's 39 yard line. Parr came through with 18 yards. Hall 3 and Creamer 3. Cooley intercepted Fenoglio's pass and on the next play Fenoglio retaliated by intercepting a pass by Cooley. The ball was lost on downs following unsuccessful line plunges and incomplete passes. Cooley was forced to punt and Fenoglio returned the ball to his own 37 yard line. Parr hit the line for 4 yards and Creamer made first down. After Hall added 2 yards, Fenoglio executed a phenomenal quarterback sneak for 42 yards giving E. I. her sixth touchdown. Fenoglio passed to Hall for extra point. Score E. I. 39, Rose Poly 0.

In the closing minutes of play the Rose Poly athletes were saved from a shut out when an inaccurate pass from center sailed over Creamer's head, to roll beyond his own line. He recovered quickly but was tackled across Charleston's line, thus giving Rose Poly a safety and their only marker of the game. The score was thus made E. I. 39, Rose Poly 2, which remained unchanged during the final minutes.

This game furnished a great contrast to Charleston's preceding games in that her efforts in scrimmages were more fruitful than her passes. This is shown from the fact that six of her passes were completed, 21 incomplete and 4 intercepted, while the great total of 370 yards was gained in scrimmage. The total gain from passes was 83 yards featured by a 30 yard pass from Creamer to Ashmore for a touchdown. The yardage gained in scrimmage was piled up principally by Fenoglio, Deveric, Creamer, and Parr. Parr alone stepped off 150 yards on 11 attempts giving him an impressive average of almost 14 yards a try. Ashmore pulled down passes that seemed impossible to reach and realized large gains. The forward wall was a bulwark on defence and a pine driver on offense, presenting a solid front continually and opening gaping holes in Rose Poly's line, and enabling the backfield to function efficiently. They consistently broke through to throw Rose Poly's ball carriers for great losses.

When we list Rose Poly's achievements in these departments the cause of the overwhelming score is made obvious. Rose Poly completed five passes for a gain of 71 yards, 12 incomplete passes and had 6 intercepted. She made only five first downs against 16 for E. I. Her line couldn't hold, and neither could it produce holes for the backfield. Her passing attack was the only phase of the game which she could even slightly be on a level with ours. Cooley, Marsh, and Dickison did most of their ground gaining while Cooley did the passing and punting. It can be safely said that on an average, Creamer's punts were from 25 to 30 yards better than Cooley's. In the penalty department Rose Poly had her only edge. E. I. was penalized 140 yards while Rose Poly was penalized for only 40 yards.

It will take more than penalties to stop a team like Coach Lantz's warriors.

The Lineup

E. I.	Rose Poly
Adkins	L. E. Tonnezi
McMorris	L. F. Gibbons
Atteberry	L. G. Moench
Gibson	C. Ogan
Baird	R. G. Dillingham
Sheddore	R. T. Ellis
Huddleston	R. E. Dick
Fenoglio (c)	Q. B. Eldred
Phillips	L. H. B. Cooley
Powers	R. H. B. Rishison
Creamer	F. B. Marsh

Summary—Touchdowns—Powers, Ashmore, Parr, Fenoglio, Creamer, Deverick.

Points after touchdown—Adkins, Ashmore, Hall.

Substitutions—Charleston, Ashmore, Routledge, Ives, Chesser, Jones, Smith, Stone, Sims, Hall, Parr, Molor, Deverick.

Rose Poly—Theub, Derry, Maxwell, Bieker, Bruce.

HOSPITAL ROLL CALL

Fred "Pat" Chaney has a badly twisted thumb and will be out of football for a few days.

Henry Kinzel has an injury to his leg which will keep him from taking an active part in scrimmage for several days.

One of the Replogle twins, Ronald, has a fracture of the cheek bone received in a scrimmage against the third team of the college.

Marjorie Digby is limping around the corridors these days with a bandaged knee. Miss Digby tells us that she does not know how she received the injury.

Rex McMorris sustained a most painful injury to his knee in the game Saturday.

Sherman Gilmore who has had a severely sprained ankle several weeks ago has hobbled from two crutches, one crutch, and now a cane.

And have you noticed the deluge of spectacles on the campus? Too many lesson plans and reading reports.

Mr. Waffle: What is a man called who studies birds?

Mr. Rand (Freshie): A Birdiologist.

The band made things look like nobody's business Saturday.

Officials—Referee, Goldsberry Wahash; Umpire, Miller, Carnegie Tech; Head Linesman, Boyh, Indiana State Normal.

HORRORS

He held the gun to his head, a look of anxiety, eagerness, and fear crossing his face. He grew tense, and gradually, applied pressure to the trigger. At last a deafening detonation, a resounding crash, and the time-keeper then sat down to watch the kick-off of the big game.

—Shurtleff Pioneer

"Stormy" Parr, who after his brilliant work against Rose Poly has been christened "The Horse" made a large number of gains on off tackle runs and was one of the stars of the game Saturday. It was mentioned by a spectator that after "Stormy" was tackled he fell six yards; quite a gain by falling but I did not disagree with the man who made the remark as I was busy holding ice on the adding machine so that Charles Frye could give an accurate account of the game. Parr was one of the many to make a touchdown.

T. C. Crushes Shelby 6 to 0

Although T. C. was at least three touchdowns better than Shelby in the Shelbyville outfit received the advantage of having all the breaks in its favor. After carrying the ball to the Shelby fifteen yard line six times Rogers finally smashed through between tackle and guard for the touchdown. The score, 6-0, by 70 means tells the story of the game. T. C. made 23 first downs to Shelby's 5 and made 258 yards from the line of scrimmage to Shelby's 28. On each of the six times that T. C. threatened to score the referee donated a fifteen yard penalty to Shelby's cause which were beyond doubt directly responsible for the score not being tripled, only once were we able to overcome that disadvantage. Incidentally we were penalized 15 yards to Shelby's 10 yards at no time did Shelby threaten the T. C. goal line. Hedges, Replogle, and Cavins showed much improvement over their playing in the Tercola game, breaking through to snare end runs time after time. Craig's backfield playing was very good for his first time at the job and with a little experience he should make a mighty good fullback. Although Thrall couldn't get started in the first half he played some real football in the last half. One time in particular he knocked down a 25 yard Shelby pass which seemed almost certain to be complete and which would have brought the ball perilously close to the T. C. goal line. Titus came through with his customary fine performance. He made some very good gains around end and made a number of punts well over 50 yards. Rogers looked like a new man, tearing the Shelbyville line for 42 yards on seven plays. Dillard showed flashes of good playing. In one instance he recovered a T. C. fumble on our own 30 yard line which might have imperiled the scanty security given by a six point lead. Ingram and Herman made a fine job of ripping holes in Shelby's line. Stillion should be given credit for good work in helping Scott who, as usual, played good football. Cavins recovered a fumble in the fourth quarter and with a little help should have scored another touchdown. Hutton did well as a new center but needs to learn to block his opponent and was a little wild on his passes occasionally. Taking everything into consideration the whole team played a mighty good game and we hope they will play as well or better against Newton this Saturday. Coach Beu has done a real job of re-organizing his team and Newton will have to be a real outfit to beat it. If you come out to Schahrer field next Saturday you will see what happens when two good teams meet for the boys in blue and gold are going out there to win a football game from a worthy opponent.

SUNSET AND THE EVENING STAR

The T. C. lads worked at practice last Wednesday until Coach Beu had to furnish them with lanterns so they could see the ball. Fortunately all the squad was alert in being sure that they did not look at the moon over their left shoulder for fear that the witches keep them from a much needed victory. Their success can be easily seen as we can tell by the score. —W. C.

Mary Teft, freshman, after studying several law books and United States yearbooks, finally has concluded that fifty per cent of the married people in the United States are men.

PEP MEETINGS

Miss Orcutt says that T. C. is going to have better pep meetings. Hereafter speakers are going to be appointed before pep meetings and the cheer leaders will make sure they attend. Likewise, bashful freshmen and dignified girls will be dragged out and forced to yell. Also, some enthusiasm should be expelled in the form of music, or, to state it more truthfully, unharmonious discord. But that matters little, so long as we make noise, and lots of it, and let that team know we're with them! —R. K.

SENIOR HAMBURGER FRY

Although few went to the senior hamburger fry Wednesday evening, the fifteen or twenty attending had an enjoyable time. The picnics went to Rainbow Inn at about six o'clock. A fire was soon lit, and hamburgers were fried. Other refreshments, served in large proportions, were marshmallows, doughnuts, and pop. Mr. Waffle and Miss Johnson acted as chaperons. His nose seems broken and he's lost his front teeth, yeh, but he didn't drop the ball.

REPLOGLE HURT IN SCRIMMAGE

Ronald Replogle, T. C. halfback, was badly injured in scrimmage, Tuesday, against the college squad. A somewhat peculiar way his right cheek bone was broken, fortunately without injuring his eye. The doctor states that Rep will probably be out the rest of the season although there is a chance that he will be able to play against C. H. S.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY WAS SEASON'S BEST

Now that we have skipped around and told you all the importance we will tell this story in a little more detail. The victory of E. I. over Rose Poly put everyone in a state of pleasurable warmth and so we had the right atmosphere for a delightful party. Couples began arriving around the hour of eight and they continued to arrive till the hall was literally swarming with odd creatures and strangely dressed urchins. The masked began a slow parade around the room and finally stopped and the ones who had received prizes were announced. While the prize winners were receiving a big hand the dancing started and soon all were unmasked and the agony of toe mashing and time keeping had started. During the marathon the dancers and spectators kept alive by a generous service of cider and doughnuts. The cider was good (or at least the gallon I drank was exceptionally good). The doughnuts were like mother used to make and believe me everyone made himself perfectly at home. At eleven o'clock the musicians ceased and the dance was over. A good time had been had by all, no one had been hurt, no one slightly damaged, and so the party was a great success.—B. M.
