SHIPMAN WINS PITCHING DUEL

The Eastern Illinois State Teachers College defeated the Indiana State Normal University nine by a score of 2 to 1 in one of the fastest games that has been played on Schahrer field for several years.

The game was a pitchers battle between Shipman of E. I. and Krusan of Indiana. The former allowing 2 hits and Krusan gave out only one hit. But E. I.'s hit by Thomason came in the critical moment and drove in the run that won the game.

E. I. started the game out by scoring a run in their half of the first when Dappert walked. Then Galbreath drove one through Stohl of Indiana. Shipman struck out, both men advanced a base when Craney tried to catch Dappert off second. Dappert then scored while Gilmore was being thrown out by Stohl.

Indiana Normal came through in the third inning when Hickman walked, then stole second. Hickman then went to third on Krusan's hit to Shipman who was out. Shipman to Thomason. Wampler then sent a sacrifice fly to Gilmore and Hickman scored, tying the score. But E. I. came back in the sixth and untied the score when Gilmore got on when Sherd muffed and threw wild to first. Gilmore went to second and scored on Thomason's single to centerfield.

Indiana Normal nearly staged a rally in the eighth after two were down, when Sherd was hit by a pitched ball and Smith walked but Shipman settled down and fanned Craney to retire the side.

Monday, April 22, there were one hundred and three new students enrolled for the mid-spring term. Later on in the course of the week the number increased to one hundred and eleven. A few more will enroll later when schools not yet dismissed will have completed their year's work.

FORMER STUDENT IS HONORED IN FLORIDA

The New York Times of a week ago Sunday carried the picture of Miss Daphne Hammond, Orlando, Florida, who has been chosen as Miss Orlando and represented that city in the famous Ponce de Leon pageant held recently at St. Augustine. She was chosen as the prettiest lady-in-waiting in the pageant.

Her costume was a beautiful white Louisboulanger taffeta period frock with a long uneven overskirt of printed lead and white taffeta lined with red velvet. Her mantilla was of white silk lace; her fan was a gorgeous red.

The National Geographic made several color pictures of her in costume and Pathe News took a number of reels also. The Chamber of Commerce had a formal banquet and dance in honor of her and its new officers last week.

Miss Hammond is a former student of Teachers College and is at present teaching in the grade schools of Orlando. While at Teachers College she was an assistant in the science department.

Miss Hammond is a sister of Dean Hammond, a former editor of the T. C. News, and of Miss Eleanor Hammond, the stenographer in the college office.

CHAPEL NOTES FOR LAST WEEK

Tuesday
At the Chicago meeting of the Charleston graduates, there were forty-seven present. The graduates were scattered over a period of perhaps twenty-five years and there were no men there whom I began to teach with in 1889.

The talk about school was very pleasant. I like very much to be liked by the student body but I would not turn my hand over to make it like me. I would rather be liked by ten years from now than now. It is pleasant to hear the alumni speak well of the school.

This organization is one of the alumni—we didn't have anything to do with it. The Champaign dinner as died out, and it is probably best that we let it be so. I hope, however, that the Chicago dinner lasts as long as the earth does.

Kermit Dehl, president of the Players, spoke on the three plays to be presented Tuesday evening and urged the support of the student body.

Wednesday
The lecture last evening—the bird songs were delightful—marvelous—wonderful. Mr. Gorst spoke of the mall mouse's squeak as being the highest pitched sound he knew, and had always thought so too.

In Gardner's Music of Nature, the bird songs are written on a score, and the violinist can pretty well play them.

It seems to me, the symmetry in the birds' songs is not as marked as that in the human voice.

Nature and art—some say, hastily, but nature excels art. A man painted a bushel basket of corn, and setting the painting by an actual basket of corn, the two could not be distinguished. The painting sold for three hundred dollars and the corn one dollar and a half. Why not rather save the corn?

In the Chicago Exposition in 1893, the best picture was Alone in the World by Israel the Dutch painter. It was of a man sitting by his dead wife who was laid on a bed. The picture depicted the desolation of the man. Would you have it real as life? No!

Art is way beyond nature. Man made the town and God the country. "Then," some say, "I'll live in the country." Well—man made the houses and God, the caves. Are you (Continued on page 6)

COLLEGE PAPER OFFICERS ELECTED

The student council at the regular meeting last Thursday was unanimous in its selection for editor and business manager of the Teachers College News for 1929-1930.

Harold Middleworth, '31, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Middleworth, Charleston, is the new editor. He is a graduate of the training school, Teachers College High and has an enviable record from each. In high school he was twice president of his class, and is now president of the college sophomore class.

Charles Frye '30, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Frye, Cowden, will succeed Marsdon Grubb as business manager. Mr. Frye, president of the junior class and sports writer on the present staff is well qualified for his new position.

Both men are members of Delta Lambda Sigma.

The News Staff joins with the student body in wishing them a most successful paper next year.

PLAYERS MEETING

Meetings do not consist only of the reading of minutes and the group of ponderous talks by "Mr. Chairman" is proved by the informed and wholly enjoyable meeting of the Players, Friday evening, April 26th. For one thing, the members were in a jovial mood due to the success of the Bill of Plays presented last Wednesday night, April 24th, for another thing, the Players were entertained in a very unusual way—for them—by the lancing of Mr. Merrill Dunn, who has been made a full member of the Players.

Although the absence of Mr. Turcell, Business Manager, prevented the announcement of the profit made on the Bill of Plays, Miss Mary Fitch relieved anxiety by announcing that the profits would be around one hundred dollars.

A general discussion of the next number to be presented, probably near graduation time, was held. The choice lies between a Shakespearian play, a vaudeville, and a modern three-act play. Which will be chosen was not decided, due to the absence of Mr. Giles, who was ill, but the preference seemed to be with the last, with a vaudeville winning a close second.

Last and best, Mr. Dehl announced that the Players might have a party or picnic if they chose, which they did. A picnic was decided upon to be held just before the end of the term. Miss Mary Margaret Summers was appointed General Chairman with the power to appoint committees to take full charge of the picnic plans.

DOMAFIANS PLAN EXCURSION SOON

Now is the time for every good student to come to the aid of his school organizations. The Art Club is sponsoring a moving picture at the Lincoln theatre in the near future. Go and enjoy yourself by seeing a good picture, not to satisfy your artistic tastes. It will be a popular picture of the vitaphone.

If you intend going to the show let the Art Club benefit by it, for the club gets a certain percent of the tickets it sells. Buy your ticket from any member of the Art Club in the halls or on the streets. Ticket sellers will be conspicuous enough. The proceeds from the picture will go to a general fund which will enable the Art Club members to take a worth while trip somewhere.

An announcement will be made later as to the name and the date on which the picture will be shown.

PLAYERS PRESENT THREE LIVELY PLAYS

On Wednesday evening, April twenty-fourth, the Players produced three one-act comedies, and gave several hundred people a delightful entertainment. "Gave" is the word; for the price of admission, no more than the most impetuous collegian would offer for a common or garden variety of inaudible "movie,"—the price of admission,—too small to mention,—would really not have paid for one glimpse of Nitro Glycerin's steal-y approach: all the rest of the fun was free. To any who are bargain hunters of pleasure, the next bill of the Players is hereby recommended, even if "they" should raise the price to well, three times three.

The three plays were different enough to insure variety; they were alike only in being funny. "Box and Cox" is a comedy of situation, one that never wears out. It might have been born in the same street and the same year as Mr. Pickwick, but of humbler parents. (By the way, are the authors of less importance than the assistant stage manager?)

"Spreading the News" is as Irish as Jack Smith's red hair, and as universal as the love of scandal; and "Crimson Cocoon" is as red and as nutty as it sounds. (By the way, was the deep underlying purpose of this play to instill into every observer the keenest appreciation of his own eating place?)

The most noteworthy fact about this bill of plays was that all of them were coached and staged by student members of the Players. Nobody who has not tried it can imagine the amount of labor necessary to such a finished production, using so many untrained and almost inexperienced persons to compose a professional effect. There is always one mind and one will chiefly responsible for such a result, no matter how many have contributed to it; and in this case high honors go to the president of the Players, the Coach of the Crimson Cocoon.

As to the actors, Ella Mae Craighead was so deaf that it is a wonder she can miss so little in the classroom; and if Burl Mitchell could pass the examination to enter first grade, his looks belied him—but, of course, melancholy may not sit so heavily upon him in real life. If Merrill Dunn is absent this week, look for him at a country inn—where was it? But who was Cookie? And will he have the

BIRD IMITATOR PLEASES AUDIENCE

A large and appreciative audience enthusiastically heard the sixth number of the entertainment course which was a lecture about birds by Mr. Charles Crawford Gorst.

This gifted singer of beautiful bird songs made a strong plea for the preservation of bird life, stating that man is actually dependent on them for food; for birds serve a real economic purpose in their effective destruction of insects.

Mr. Gorst opened his programme by whistling the Spring Song as he imitated a canary would do it. Mr. Koch accompanied him with the piano.

He had many beautiful water color sketches of birds which made his ruly remarkable bird calls seem more realistic.

Last Wednesday morning a six o'clock quita a large gathering, some of whom were equipped with field glasses, bird books, and the like, assembled on the walk in front of the main building. The object was to find birds on or about the campus. The birdwalk lasted some two hours, and was under the direction of Mr. Charles C. Gorst, the speaker of the evening before. Quite a tense moment was enjoyed by all when they gathered in lines behind trees and listened to the birdman, luring a white-throated sparrow to him by giving its call. In fact he called two birds into the bushes near which he stationed himself. Gold finches were sighted in trees near the edge of the woods, and one of them remained quite still for some time, enabling the watcher to get a good view of him through the field glasses.

Other birds seen were the brown thrasher, robin, morning dove, cow bird, robin, meadow lark, and bluejay. All in all, it was a very delightful talk and one which can be put to profit by those who participated in it.

E. I. LOSES CLOSE MEET TO SHURTLEFF

Charleston Teachers' Jumped Out of Win Over Alton Team

With the broad jump as the final and deciding event of the afternoon, the Charleston Teachers were unable to jump the 21 feet 10 inches set by the Shurtleff jumpers and therefore lost the closest meet that has been witnessed on the home field for three years by a score of 69.4 to 65.6.

Conett was the star of the meet for E. I. winning the javelin with a throw of 175 feet 7 inches and then winning the discus and the shot making a total of 15 points for the afternoon. Credit is given to Hall who strained the muscles in his legs in the 100 yard dash and then came back to tie with Elliot for first honors in the pole vault.

Trowbridge and McClintock were the stars of the Shurtleff team. Trowbridge winning two firsts and a second, while McClintock won one first and three seconds.

The day was ideal for the meet and the events were run in good time. Mr. Moore, a former member of the faculty acted as starter, while Mr. Spooner of the science department was the official at the finish line.

Coach Beu can be commended on the good showing made by his team Saturday afternoon; although not winning, the team came within five points of victory, the closest any team in three years has been able to do. With the improved showing made by Sims and Wasem, and the rest Hall will give his legs this week, it is expected that the Teachers will give the Indiana Normal team a hard struggle, Saturday afternoon on the home field. It is reported that the weather conditions which existed Saturday there should have been a better attendance at the meet. Better turn out Saturday.

ERRORS BRING DEFEAT TO E. I.

The Teachers College varsity baseball team on Monday afternoon at Shahrer Field lost its second conference game in as many starts of the season when the Blue and White clad team from the James Millikin University at Decatur trounced them, 7-2.

The hotels scored in the third and sixth frames while Millikin turned in two scores in the opener of the sixth, three in their half of the eighth and two in the ninth Millikin nicked eight singles, the College seven. They booted the ball five times and the Blue and Gray team fumbled it seven times.

In the third inning, Galbreath of Charleston was hit by a pitched ball. Shipman walked. Gilmore flew to shortstop. Thomsom hit to right field and Galbreath scored. In the sixth, Wasem got on base after one down on an error. Powers sacrificed, and Dappert hit to right field to score Wasem.

Millikin scored in the sixth when Gideomb got on by error by Frye's and stole second. He went to third on Shipman's wild pitch. Ingles walked and went to second on a steal. Kirke knocked one through first and Gideomb scored. Gains through Shipman and Ingles scored.

In the eighth Gideomb got a hit followed by another by Ingles. Kirke walked, Resh forced Gideomb out at home. Gains struck out, but Alfrey hit, scoring Ingles, Kirke and Resh. In the ninth Habekost hit a single and scored on a hit through first. Gidcomb flew out to center. Ingles flew to left field. Dappert felled Kerke's ball too slow and Tarro scored. Resh was an easy out.

Shipman, Charleston pitcher, is an ace, striking out eleven Millikin willow swingers. The breaks were against him that's all.

T. C. COLLECTS 14 1/2 POINTS AT PARIS MEET

In the athletic division of the League track and field meet held at Paris the Blue and Gold squad gained fifth place in a field of seventeen by earning fourteen and two-third points.

In the high jump, Titus tied for first to collect 2 1/2 points. Craig took fourth in the century and third in the 220 yard dash for 3 points. James annexed fourth place in the 140 yard dash for a point and Zimnerly galloped over the low timbers for second place and 3 points. Titus ended his day by taking first in high hurdles with its five points.

The high teams of the tournament were:

- Robinson—Championship—38 1-6.
- Paris—24.
- Martinsville—22.

CHARLESTON BRINGS HOME HONORS FROM PARIS

T. C. Girls' Glee Club started out the programme for Girls' Choruses by singing "A Little Girl In a Calico Gown" by Stultz and "The Green Cathedral" by Hahn. They did their best and it surely made Miss Hanson feel encouraged. After eleven choruses had sung their selections, the four winners for the preliminaries were posted as follows: Charleston T. C., Robinson, Paris, Palestine. Time would tell whether or not they would be among the first places at night in the finals. They brought home third place honors.

Katherine Ferbrache was a successful contestant in extemporaneous composition. The main topic was "Recent Inventions". The subject chosen from that was "Radio". The time for study varied all the way from a month to two days. The last was not the least though. Katherine brought home a medal for second place.

BIG REPRESENTATION FROM T. C. AT LEAGUE SATURDAY

One of the largest representations from Teachers High to attend an athletic event away from home journeyed to Paris. Although we failed to gain the coveted championship we achieved fifth place out of a strong field of seventeen other schools. A large crowd from T. C. arrived in Paris Saturday morning in time for the preliminaries in all events. The Blue and Gold was very fortunate in the preliminaries. Only a few men were eliminated in the athletic events and the glee club went to the finals as did Edward Thomas in the violin and Anna Katherine Ferbrache in literary composition.

For those who had means of transportation there was no school Saturday morning and for those who stayed at home there was no school in the afternoon and very little in the morning as many instructors dismissed their classes for lack of a 'quorum'.

PENALTY DEPRIVES T. C. OF FIRST IN VIOLIN

Because he used twenty seconds more than the allotted time a penalty was given Edward Thomas, stellar T. C. violinist, which reduced him to second place. In the awarding of positions the judge stated that in actual points Eddie rated first but the penalty cut down the margin between himself and his nearest competitor, a Paris entry who was born and who had studied in Germany. Tough luck, Eddie.

The High School Girls Glee Club placed third and Anna Katherine Ferbrache took second place in literary composition.

T. C. WINS ANOTHER MEET WITH 72 POINTS

The track and field meet held on Schahrer Field last Tuesday resulted in another victory for the Beu-men who amassed a total of 72 points. All of the T. C. men who placed in the triangular meet kept their places in this one.

T. C. PLAYS FIRST HOME GAME WEDNESDAY vs. MARSHALL

Wednesday afternoon, Teachers High's baseball team will tackle the strong Marshall nine on Schahrer Field. In its first game the Gilmore nine piled up the impressive score of 16-2 against the Hindsboro squad. Of course, the Ping-men are far stronger than Hindsboro but, under Titus' competent arm and "sluggers row", they may not fare any better. Marshall and T. C. have always had good ball teams and this year is no exception, in addition to that, the Teachers High club is still smarting under a twin defeat last season to Marshall. As these two game were the only T. C. defeats in three seasons the desire for revenge is so much the stronger. Titus has always worked well against the Ping-men and so let's hope this will be no exception. The batting averages so far are:

- Marker .600, Hedges .600, Titus, .300; Thrall .600, Scott .500, Pinnell 1.000, Kellam .800, Wyeth .500, Bails .500.

THROW AWAY YOUR CAN-OPENER!

Lois E. McClellan

Now that the can-opener has reached a state of complete exhaustion from continually opening soups, beans, salmon, and what not, let's throw it away or, at least, give it a vacation.

What appeal has a labeled can now that grocery windows display fresh fruits and vegetables of every color and description at remarkably low prices?

Eat two oranges for breakfast now. They're small and inexpensive. If you prefer grapefruit—eat a whole one.

A tempting lunch of cottage cheese, lettuce and tomato salad, brown bread and butter sandwiches, strawberries with cream, and a glass of milk could be prepared in a very short time at a surprisingly low cost.

Perhaps you haven't noticed the fresh vegetables other than tomatoes and leaf lettuce. Try some fresh spinach or carrots. You say you don't like them? Learn to like them—they will invigorate you so that you can say to yourself, "Yes, I've had my iron today."

The Players wish to acknowledge the kindness of the following firms who loaned properties for the bit of one-act plays last Wednesday night:

Linder's Clothing Store for one suit of clothing and Blake's Cafeteria for two tables and chairs.

Harold Craig, stage manager for the high school dramatic club and the following high school stage hands deserve commendation: Ervin Pazalek, Charles Burns, and William Blake.

Pay for your Warbler Tuesday and Wednesday of this week 1:00-1:20 at the table in the front hall.

This week's half-pound of boloney, sliced very thin, is solemnly awarded to Ceneive White who asked her English teacher, "If there was a person in the world who had no senses of touch, sight, smell, hearing and taste, would he have a soul?"

The reply to her question was, "I think they bury such people as that."

National Music week is to be celebrated this year in the week beginning April 29. On account of conflicts in the use of the assembly room, music week in this school is to be postponed until May 7. There will be special music in chapel every morning and free concerts every afternoon or evening. The details of this programme will be announced in the next issue of the News.

The senior invitations have arrived and may be secured from Marsdon Grubb in the front hall at 11:15 today, Tuesday.

Mrs. Cyril W. Conover of Lincoln, Nebraska visited college friends last week.

Mrs. Conover was until last September, Miss Ferne Floyd, secretary to Miss Ewalt.

Soph: Say, what do you think about this here evolution?

Frosh: It's a good idea, but can they enforce it? —College Times

Overheard in the Second Grade: Let's play school. I'll be the training teacher and you be the stupid teacher.

Harry: But I never said a word.

June: I don't care. I know what you were thinking, and there's no use saying you weren't, for I wouldn't believe you if you did.

Waiter: Smothered in onions, sir.
Diner: Well it died hard.

going, then to live in a cave?

It seems to me, a woman's singing surpasses that of a bird, as much as her mind surpasses that of the birds.

Thursday

A friend sent me this clipping by Hamilton Holt of Brown College. Holt condemns the lecture method saying, "It is the means by which the contents of the professor's notebook is transferred to the notebook of the student without it passing through the mind of either."

I enjoyed the plays last evening very much. Someone said, all the characters were stars, and I believe he was right.

In a meeting of the Teachers College Association of America, two years ago, a man told in a speech of seeing an excellent teacher in a Teachers College. He asked the president "Where did you find him?" the president replied, "I didn't find him. It has taken me ten years to make him." He didn't make him at all. Correcting that "all right" habit of a teacher isn't correcting him. Improvement of a teacher is aided by summer school, but it is chiefly done by the teacher himself in his own schoolroom. He is his own best critic. Some think that there is no craft or art in teaching. If there is none there, there is none anywhere. As superintendents, don't speak of "my teachers", but for the organization, say, "our teachers".

The teacher makes himself in the main.

PLAYERS PROGRAMME

china all insured? Somebody ought to recommend Glenn Doddo to the mayor for surprise raids; only the merchants will have to look to their apple barrels if he is appointed. And if John Miller can do everything all his life with as much dignity—that means worthiness—as he sat on those baked potatoes, he is certain of a great future. It is to be hoped that, if he continues to be so careless of his hats, he may be presented to Lysan Combs,—or was it Mr. Cox who was the hatter? Anyway, a person who can be an electrician, stage manager, coach, and actor all in one evening would be a friend energetic enough for any emergency.

The only renegades were the scene shifters; and in their absence the Players and the audience are grateful to the high school crew of dependables who nobly filled the breach.
