Proposal to revise bylaws tabled by Student Senate

by Nancy Yamin

A proposal to revise the Senate Election Bylaws was tabled by the Student Senate Wednesday.

The proposed bylaws, recommended by Senators Mike Anderson, Mark Schiavi and Scott Calhoun, include three election proposals which were approved by the senate last spring.

The first recommendation states election rules must be posted in polling areas so election officials understand their responsibilities.

The second proposal also states that any residence hall or organization which is sponsoring a voter incentive program must have a separate table in the polling place.

In addition, these organizations must register with the senate elections committee one week prior to the election.

Another recommendation includes a provision which states each candidate may have one poll watcher in each polling area. Poll watchers must also register with the elections committee at least one week prior to the election.

The last proposal states no candidates or workers for candidates may campaign within 100 feet of a polling place.

Senate Speaker Glenn Good said after the Student Senate Legislative Leadership Committee reviews the proposals to change the bylaws, they must be tabled for one week before the senate may vote.

Good said this procedure is necessary so senators have enough time to review the proposals.

In other business, the senate also tabled a proposed revision to the senate bylaws.

The proposal states any first semester freshman or transfer student, who do not have established grade point averages, will be permitted to run for a senate position.

However, that student's eligibility would be checked after first semester grades are released.

In other action, the senate approved 38 students to serve on student-faculty boards.

The students were appointed by Student Body President John Cole and Executive Vice President Meg Hart.

Hart said there are several positions still available for students on many student-faculty boards.

In other business, the senate discussed the voter registration drive scheduled for Sept. 21, 22 and 23 in the Union Walkway.

Good said students may register between 9 a.m. and noon and between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. during the drive.

ISA group likes plan to employ new liaison

by Vicki Vass

Many student body presidents of Illinois Student Association-member universities recently said they favor a plan to hire a professional legislative liaison to represent student interests in Springfield.

Eastern's Student Body President John Cole said he favors the idea of hiring a liaison. "Unless we do something now, the situation is going to get worse," he said.

However, he added that whether Eastern would contribute to the liaison's salary would depend on the result of a student vote by referendum and whether certain conditions are met.

"Eastern will contribute on a one-year basis. We cannot afford to shovel out the money if it isn't worth it to us," Cole said.

In addition, Eastern's contribution for the liaison should be in proportion to the student population, he said. Under the plan, all ISA-member schools would each contribute $5,000.

"Northern can afford $5,000. To them it is only one-eighth of a dollar for every student, Cole said. "To Eastern that would be more than 50 cents for every student—it's unbalanced—they should have a flat amount such as 50 cents a student for the year."

Steve Bedingfield, Illinois State University Student Body President, said ISU is in favor of the proposal. However, he agreed that contributions should be proportionate to student population.

"The large schools should have to pay more than the smaller schools because they are both equally utilizing the service," he said.

Northern Student Body President Ed Gallagher also agreed that students need a full-time representative in Springfield.

"The cost of higher education is sky rocketing; overall quality is deteriorating. The student view must be expressed," he said.

"The legislative liaison is someone who will be able to inform the General Assembly on issues that affect higher education. They will serve as a source of information," he added.

Craig Roberts, Western Illinois University Student Body President, said although he believes hiring a liaison to represent student interests is important, he would like to receive more information about the plan before making a decision.

Mary Barber, University of Illinois Student Body President, said the plan to hire a liaison is a good idea.

Currently, the U of I has a political science department-sponsored internship program designed to inform legislators about the concerns of higher education students, she said.

"The student interns stay all year in Springfield," Barber said. "It is a good experience and a good way to inform legislators of student concerns."

Barber said the main reason she is in favor of hiring a full-time lobbyist is that the internship program would work more efficiently if students were

ISA proposal states: schools pay liaison based on enrollment

by Anne Ingles

Dan Sprehe, Eastern's Illinois Student Association representative, proposed to the ISA Saturday that the amount each university pays to hire a legislative liaison would vary in proportion to its enrollment.

Sprehe and Meg Hart, Eastern's student government executive vice president, joined representatives from 12 other state schools in Springfield Saturday at the first ISA organizational meeting of the year.

Sprehe said he presented Eastern's student government members' ideas concerning the proposal to hire a full-time ISA legislative liaison to represent student interests in Springfield.

The plan for ISA-member schools to hire a professional liaison was proposed by the Northern Illinois University Student Association last year.

Sprehe said he also offered the view that all ISA-member universities raise student fees to pay for the liaison.

In other business, Sprehe said this year's goals of the ISA were discussed.

The main goal of the ISA this year is to raise money to support its student internship program, Sprehe said. Students chosen for the internship program will lobby in Springfield for higher education.

Another goal the ISA discussed is a plan to recruit other universities into the organization, he said.

under the supervision of a professional lobbyist.

"This way the students would have a coordinator and it would be better organized," Barber said.

Roberts said hiring a liaison is important because of the increasing cost of higher education. "Higher education can't expect another tax increase. We have to make sure we get our piece of the pie," he added.

Tom Joseph, Northeastern Illinois University Student Body President, said a professional liaison would be a "move in the right direction" for higher education students.

"If used properly, the students would benefit. It would be beneficial to state universities," Joseph said.

Bedingfield said, "Right now, we are not one unified voice and with this students would have more effect."

Northern Illinois University Student Body President Ed Gallagher said the plan to hire a professional liaison, created by former Northern Student Body President Jim Corbitt last year, is still in the developmental stages.

ISA President Mark Hurley said the establishment of an office for a liaison would be a necessity before he would be hired.

"We would also need a day-to-day secretary, a legal counsel, a business lobbyist—to keep the books in order—and then a legislative liaison to coordinate interns," Hurley said.

USSR: airline on 'special duty'

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko charged today that the South Korean airliner shot down by a Soviet pilot was on "special duty" for the United States, and that the Soviet Union had a right to attack it.

In a speech here, Gromyko accused the Reagan administration of "slander" in accusing Moscow of gross violations of human rights for the downing of the aircraft Sept. 1 with the loss of 269 lives.

"As has become perfectly clear, the South Korean aircraft was on special duty for American authorities and their relevant services," he said, echoing Moscow's earlier allegation that the plane was on a spy mission.

He said the aircraft overflew for a long period of time some of the Soviet Union's "most important strategic facilities."

"Why was it there and how," he asked. "There is a great effort being made in order to avoid giving answers to these legitimate questions."

Gromyko said the Korean plane did not respond to directions to land and "tried to escape with the result that a Soviet interceptor aircraft fulfilled the order of its base to cut short the flight."

Secretary of State George P. Shultz, who was scheduled to meet with Gromyko Thursday, was impassively during Gromyko's speech to the meeting of the 35-nation Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe.

Shultz has said he will denounce the Soviet Union for shooting down the airliner.

He told reporters during his flight to Madrid early today that if Gromyko fails to provide a satisfactory response, Shultz may cancel another meeting with Gromyko scheduled at the U.N. General Assembly meeting in New York later this month.

Britain's foreign secretary, Geoffrey Howe, told the conference earlier today that the NATO countries are considering a temporary air transport embargo against the Soviet Union to protest the downing of the South Korean airliner, which passengers included 61 Americans.

Turkey to buy 160 F-16 fighters

ANKARA, Turkey— Turkey will spend $4 billion for 160 U.S. F-16 fighter jets over the next 10 years to modernize its air force, the Defense Ministry announced Wednesday.

The jets, produced by General Dynamics, were chosen over the F-18 aircraft manufactured by Northrop and McDonnell Douglas.

Counterfeiters arrested in Italy

BERGAMO, Italy— Police arrested 19 Italians involved in a counterfeiting ring which printed fake U.S. dollars and Italian lire at a clandestine mint in this north Italian town, authorities announced Wednesday.

Police seized $1 million in bogus U.S. dollars and a small amount of counterfeit lire and treasury bills, officials said.

Governor signs new bills; drunk driving laws stricter

Arion Bray
 Penalties in Illinois will be tougher for those convicted of drunk driving as of Jan. 1, 1984 because of a package of bills signed by Gov. Jim Thompson last week.

Assistant Coles County State's Attorney Janet Winter-Black said that drunk driving under the influence is now a misdemeanor. The penalty for conviction is decided by the court with the maximum penalty being one year in jail or a fine of $1,000.

There was wide discretion before the part of the courts. What the legislature is trying to do is take the decision out of the hands of the courts," she added.

Thompson's Assistant Press Secretary Jim Prescott said one bill provides that a person convicted of drunk driving after his license has been suspended will face a minimum penalty of 30 days in jail or 30 days of community service.

Prescott cited driving under the influence, leaving the scene of an accident involving personal injury or death or homicide as reasons for license suspension.

Winter-Black said community service involves such things as washing county vehicles, picking up litter along the highway or helping in the maintenance of public buildings.

Prescott said another bill provides for a 48-hour jail sentence or 10 days of community service for violators who have had previous convictions within the last five years.

The third bill requires that cases of court supervision be reported to the secretary of state. Cases of court supervision are currently not reported to the secretary of state, he added.

The fourth bill prohibits a passenger in a vehicle to transport or possess open alcoholic beverages, Prescott said. Under current law, only the driver was prohibited from possessing alcoholic beverages.

Alcoholic beverages may be transported if they are in their original containers and the seal has not been broken, he added.

The last bill limits the number of times supervision can be used as a penalty to once in a five-year period, Prescott said.

Foreign education debate slated

Wally Armstrong
 The differences between German and American educational systems will be discussed Thursday by German scholar Johannes Schlandt.

Schlandt, who is on leave from the German school system, said he will discuss such topics as university examinations, the employment situation in Germany, teacher training and German athletics.

John Guckert, instructor in the German education and foundations department, said, "It should be interesting to both students and faculty to understand how West German education prepares students to compete with the competitive world."

Guckert, who arranged Schlandt's visit to Eastern, said Schlandt is spending the 1983-84 academic year in the United States as a foreign curriculum consultant to Lake Land College in Mattoon and John A. Logan Community College in Carterville.

Schlandt's visit here is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education, International Studies Branch, he added.

Schlandt said he will also be speaking to area clubs and organizations during the year.

A 1973 graduate of the University of Munich, Schlandt is an English and history teacher in the Munich Gymnasium, Guckert added.

Schlandt will speak at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Buzzard Building auditorium.

Cole to review campus security

by Carl Pugliese

In his State of the University Address, Student Body President John Cole said Wednesday reviewing the campus security system is his "primary and immediate goal."

Cole proposed that an ad hoc security commission be formed to examine methods of improving security.

"We are simply going to attempt to find ways to upgrade the present system," he said.

In addition to forming a commission, Cole proposed a $1 increase per semester in student activities fees. The money would be used to maintain existing security equipment and to purchase new campus lighting.

"If security is that important to students," Cole said, "then $1 is a small price to pay."

Cole also proposed that an internship program be implemented to increase campus security. According to his proposal, the interns would walk the campus from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 p.m. each weeknight.

He added the internship program would "free up" present security personnel, increase student employment and create a campus escort service.

Cole said some of his other goals for the year include conducting "a more active voter registration drive" and reviewing the student government constitution and bylaws.

The voter registration drive is scheduled for Sept. 21-23. Cole said he hopes between 4,000 to 5,000 students are registered to vote by May.

OCSHA should adopt delegate plan

"We want to serve as a common bridge to bring landlords and students together."

—Off-Campus Student Housing Association President Barb Krug.

Good idea!

OCSHA is debating a new program called "Assign-a-Delegate." The plan would involve OCSHA members serving as delegates or mediators between students and landlords.

Through the university's placement in Charleston, landlords and students have been introduced to a necessary business bond.

Landlords earn a regular income from their investment and students, hopefully, receive adequate housing at a reasonable cost.

But sometimes students don't pay the rent, or leave the home or apartment in a tragic state of disrepair or annoy neighbors with loud stereos and parties.

And sometimes landlords don't make necessary repairs, or equip the tenant with an inadequate heater, refrigerator, oven or unacceptable quarters altogether.

If a plan such as "Assign-a-Delegate" was implemented, these and other problems between students and landlords might be averted.

OCSHA hopes to be able to assign each delegate to a specific apartment complex or landlord so that mediation can progress on a one-to-one basis.

Since the arrangement between students and landlords is not likely to disappear, the two parties need to get together whenever either feels an injustice has been done.

Having a reliable mediator should help eliminate disputes between students and landlords.

The initial action, however, needs to be a firm commitment by OCSHA to implement this plan. After all, if OCSHA plans on being the "bridge to bring landlords and students together," then it's best that bridge be made from concrete, rather than sand.

Your turn

Needs more reporting

Editor:

The Daily Eastern News is a source of information of campus events for students as well as faculty here at Eastern. I am aware of the fact that a great deal of time goes into producing a paper, but many of the stories you cover are really not worth the time you extend to them.

More often than not, in my experiences with the News, you failed to meet the needs of Eastern students by not publishing information that is pertinent to them.

A major interest to the university is Homecoming 1983. It is just a few weeks away and students look to the paper for information on meetings, dates for parade and spirit week (which is 5 p.m. Thursday) and events scheduled for Homecoming week.

What about ads? The University Board pays you for ads to publicize events, but people tend to skip them very quickly.

Since our campus community is diverse, it is a must to have the concerns of the students published in the student newspaper. Before Homecoming 1983 is behind us, how many articles to inform Eastern students of all the activities and events that will be taking place. You deserve to know what's going on. Homecoming is a good place to start.

Administrative overkill

Editor:

Rives' suggestion to consolidate several schools under one head is good. However, he does not go far enough in reducing the administrative overkill.

If we look at administrative decision making at other universities, we would find that they make similar decisions, write similar memos, fill out similar forms, and answer similar questions. The same argument holds for their assistants and their secretaries.

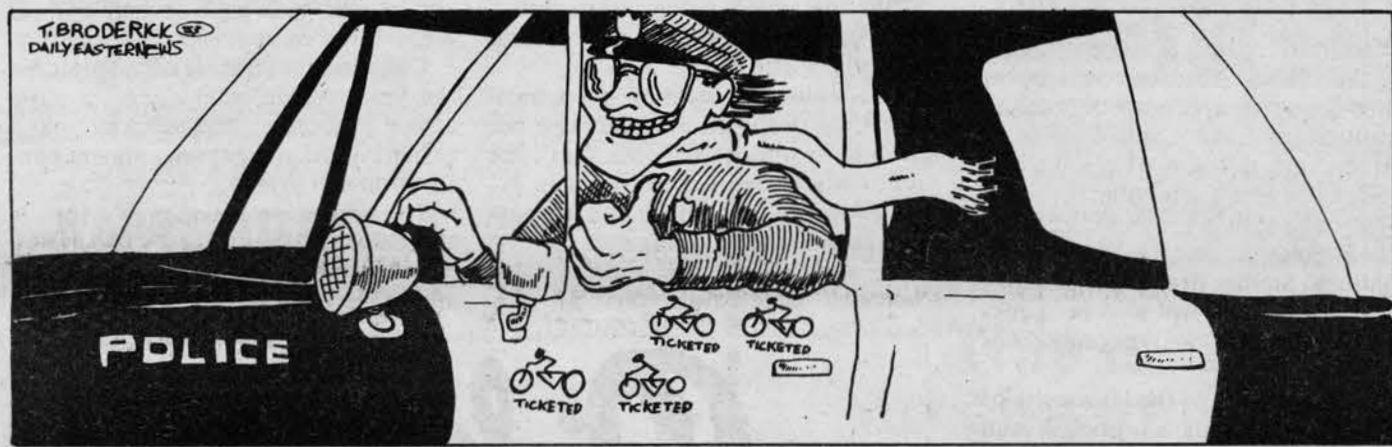

Now that computers have been stalled through which we can communicate with neighboring institutions, why not link the universities together so a local minimal administrator can type in his query and receive an answer from a central bank located at the University of Illinois? Certainly U of I has a long history of intelligent administrative decision making.

In just a few years, the local administration will have retired or moved. We can use their salaries to help the faculty and Old Main can be returned to the students.

Quiz prepares you for shock of 'real test'

Since this is the second full week of classes, you could have already experienced a quiz or even, God forbid, a test.

I can't for the life of me understand some teachers' logic. Don't they know that just a few short weeks ago we were all sleeping until 11 a.m.; not thinking about world problems and economic theories?

What it basically comes down to is culture shock.

So, to those of you who have yet to experience the shock of that first quiz or test, I have devised a short, 11-question quiz. It's all the little known facts and figures that you always wanted to know but were afraid to ask about.

Seminar set to discuss health jobs

Nancy Bridges
 Students will discuss their internship experiences and explore career opportunities Thursday at a meeting describing the health education major's community health career options.

Caryl Keller, health education instructor, said the student interns include one student who served in a career rehabilitation center in Atlanta, and another who worked with American Indians in Arizona.

In addition, several faculty members will explain career opportunities in the community health field, she said.

Faculty speakers include Jack Richardson, Susan Woods, Marilyn Morrow, Valois, Marty Reed, Kathy Doyle and Caryl Keller. A description of the community health option will also be included.

Students majoring in health education must choose between the school option for teacher certification or the community health option, Keller said.

The community health option, when paired with a major in another field such as science or business, enables students to "make themselves more marketable," she said.

The option, first implemented in the spring semester of 1981, consists of 39 semester hours, including seven required courses, several elective courses and an internship in a student's area of interest, she added.

Career opportunities for the graduate interested in the community health field include health agencies such as the American Cancer Society, patient education, industrial health programs and public health departments, she added.

The meeting describing the community health option will be conducted at 6 p.m. Thursday in the Booth library lecture hall.

CAA plans changes in courses

by Crystal Schrof

The Council on Academic Affairs Thursday will consider a revision of a management course proposal and two revisions of majors.

CAA Chairman Pat Wright said the council will consider changing the number of semester credit hours for Management 4000 "Special Topics" from two to three credit hours.

The CAA will also consider eliminating Management 3951 "Site Visitation," Wright said. The topics covered in Management 3951 "Site Visitation" will be covered in Management 4000 "Special Topics."

In addition, the council will consider curriculum changes for the energy management major, he said. The curriculum changes consist of modifying course titles and basic chemistry and physics requirements.

Wright said the CAA will also consider a proposal to modify the computer management major.

In addition, the council will consider making Political Science 1103 "American National Government" an alternative course to Sociology 2710 "Principles of Sociology" or Political Science 2603 "State and Local Government" for computer management majors, Wright added.

The CAA will meet at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Union addition Tuscola room.

Woman slays two children

URBANA, ILL (AP)—A woman found innocent by reasons of insanity in the slaying of her two children will remain in a state mental hospital even though the court no longer requires that, her attorney said Wednesday.

Kathleen Johnson has been at Adolph Meyer Mental Health Center in Decatur since the April 8 stabbing and mutilation of her sons, Jeremiah, 8, and Mike, 2.

Psychiatrist Morton Tabin told Circuit Judge Harold Jensen on Wednesday that Johnson did not appear to suffer from mental illness now, and did not seem to be a threat to herself or anyone else. However, he said he felt she was depressed and should stay at Meyer to be monitored.

Code-A-Phone provides news

by Julie Jackson

Area radio stations now have easy access to a variety of news and information related to Eastern through the University Information and Public Relations' Code-A-Phone program.

Harry Read, university information and public relations director, said Code-A-Phone is an answering service with a series of recorded messages and interviews compiled and recorded by Waldo Grigoroff.

Grigoroff, who has had background in the field of radio as an announcer, takes news suggestions given by Read, conducts interviews related to the topic, and then tapes the message on the Code-A-Phone service. The messages are then made available to radio stations by dialing a special number.

"The program was developed to help get the message of Eastern out and it has been accepted quite well," Read added.

Grigoroff, who works in the history department, said the Code-A-Phone service is being used by 15 stations within a 50-mile radius.

"It is the stations' prerogative to use the news over the air as recorded or have their own announcer broadcast the information," he added.

Read said the broadcast is not limited to local stations. Stations all over the state are notified of the service, especially if there is a news item of importance for that area.

"If a student does something outstanding, we put it on the Code-A-Phone and contact their home station about the news," Read said.

Faculty to express views on plus/minus grade plan

Faculty members have been given the opportunity to express their views on the Council on Academic Affairs' proposed plus/minus grading system, Chairman Pat Wright said.

Wright said a survey has been circulated among faculty members and is expected "to determine current grading practices" among Eastern faculty.

The survey asks four questions, to which faculty can respond yes or no, and has room for additional comments, he noted.

The survey asks faculty if they would be interested in using a plus/minus grading system in assigning final grades.

Also, the faculty are asked if their grading procedures generally result in a numerical grade which they then convert to a letter grade.

In addition, the survey asks faculty if their grading procedures generally equate a letter grade which they equate to a certain percentage of material covered or with a quality of performance.

The faculty are also asked to determine what numerical percentage represents an A and an A-.

Wright said the results of the faculty survey will be included in the final report on the proposal for CAA members.

He added that he believes the proposed plus/minus grading system would allow students the opportunity to receive more precise grades on their transcripts.

The plus/minus grading policy would allow instructors to award borderline students with a fairer grade, Wright said.

Under the proposal, instructors would be allowed to record plus/minus letter grades on final semester reports, he noted.

"Each letter grade and its modification would be computed into the student's grade point average according to a determined scale," Wright said.

Under the current system, a student receiving a B+, C+, D+, A and a B+ on his report card would have a GPA of 2.375. With the proposed system, the GPA would be 2.638.

However, if a student were to receive B-, C-, D-, A- and a B-, the current system would give the student a GPA of 2.375. Under the proposed system, the GPA would be lowered to 2.075.

The proposal, which was originally discussed by the CAA last spring, was tabled to allow committee members time to investigate the proposal further.

Wright said he believes the proposal will be discussed by the CAA in October.

If the proposed grading change is adopted, the scale would be as follows:

A	4.0
A-	3.7
B+	3.3
B	3.0
B-	2.7
C+	2.3
C	2.0
C-	1.7
D+	1.3

Rogers, Raines rally past Cubs 6-1, Expos now leading Eastern Division

MONTREAL (AP)—Tim Raines' two-run double capped a four-run second inning and Steve Rogers fired a five-hitter as the Montreal Expos won their fourth straight game by beating the Chicago Cubs 6-1 Wednesday night.

The victory gave Rogers, 17-9, the National League lead in wins. The right-hander struck out four and walked two in pitching his 13th complete game of the season.

Montreal erased a 1-0 deficit with their four-run outburst against Dickie Noles, 5-9. Gary Carter doubled and Terry Francona walked and, with two outs, Doug Flynn singled home the tying run.

Rogers followed with an RBI single to right and Raines drove in two more runs with a bouncer that rolled into left-field corner for a double.

Francona's first homer, with one out in the sixth, stretched the lead to 5-1 before Carter added an RBI single off reliever Bill Campbell in the seventh.

Chicago got an unearned run in the first inning when Thad Bosley scored as Ron Cey bounced into a bases loaded double play.

Cards win 5-2

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Rookie Danny Cox pitched eight strong innings and Ozzie Smith rapped three singles, leading the St. Louis Cardinals past the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2 Wednesday night.

The loss, coupled with Montreal's 6-1 victory over Chicago, dropped the Pirates one game behind the first-place Expos in the National League East.

Cox, 2-3, took a three-hitter and a 5-1 lead into the ninth. But the right-hander departed after Marvell Wynne began the ninth with a double and scored on Dave Parker's one-out single. Reliever Dave Rucker walked pinch hitter Gene Tenace and Bruce Sutter came on to get the final two outs for his 17th save.

Lonnie Smith led off the game for St. Louis with a single and stole second. Ozzie Smith followed with a bunt single and Willie McGee then delivered an RBI single. One out later, Andy Van Slyke's sacrifice fly made it 2-0.

Richie Hebner hit his third home run of the season in the Pittsburgh second before Ozzie Smith singled home a St. Louis run in the bottom half of the inning.

The Cardinals added two more runs in the seventh on McGee's double off Rick Rhoden, 10-12, David Green's pinch-triple and Ken Oberkfell's squeeze bunt.

The Cardinals, with 11 home dates still remaining, set a Busch Stadium attendance record Wednesday night when 25,981 fans paid to watch their game.

In 70 home dates, the Cardinals have drawn 2,123,727. The previous record of 2,111,906 was set last year.

Panther grid tickets on sale today

by Jeff Long

Eastern fans who wish to purchase tickets for the Panther contest against intrastate grid rival the University of Southern Illinois-Carbondale may do so Thursday, Eastern Associate Athletic Director Joan Schmidt said Wednesday.

Fans may purchase reserved-seat tickets from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Lantz Gym ticket office. The ticket price is $7 per person.

The kickoff is slated for 1:30 p.m. at Southern's McAndrews Stadium.

In addition, Eastern's office of alumni services has arranged a reception to be conducted prior to the game.

The reception will take place from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday in the Regency Room of the Carbondale Holiday Inn, located at 800 East Main Street. All interested EIU alumni, faculty and friends are invited to attend.

For those fans who miss Saturday's game, a tape-delay replay of the game will be aired at 9:30 a.m. Sunday by Olney's WUSI-TV, Channel 16.

Bill Criswell, former voice of the Salukis, will handle the play-by-play duties, while former Southern quarterback and current Mount Vernon High School coach Brad Pancoast will provide commentary.

Fans may also tune in to the "Coaches Corner" Monday through Friday at 7 p.m. on Liberty Cabletelevision's Channel 12, Premium one. The show will feature weekly comments by Panther head coach Al Molde, the Panther scoreboard and player interviews.

Rafferty pleased with starting role

by Kirby Flowers

When sophomore quarterback John Rafferty came to football camp this fall he was expected to be a backup at best.

But at the end of fall camp Rafferty had Eastern's starting quarterback position and responded by leading the Panthers to an impressive 38-7 victory over Illinois State University last Saturday.

Rafferty said getting the starting job the first week did not really surprise him, but he admitted he was a bit tentative at the beginning.

"I wasn't surprised, but the starting job did come quicker than I thought it would," Rafferty said. "But I really progressed well this fall."

"At first I didn't know how the older players would react to me calling the plays, but once I was there it was easy," he added. "I'm just having fun now."

The quarterback position had been a major question mark in the Panther offense, but Saturday Rafferty stepped forward and answered the question with a solid performance.

In his quarterback debut, Rafferty completed 14 passes for 136 yards and one touchdown. More importantly he took charge of the Panther offense, earning him the respect of his coach.

Eastern head coach Al Molde said, "I couldn't be more pleased with the way John played last week. I like everything about him."

"I really like the way he handles the team on the field," Molde continued. "He has the savvy to know when to throw the ball. He could be a great player."

"The thing about him I like the most is the way he will eat the ball if he has too," Molde added. "He would much rather see him eat it than throw up a interception every time someone gets in on him."

Rafferty said he agrees with his coach about his style of play and added that it has been a characteristic he has always possessed.

"I'm not the kind of player who yells and wants to get everyone's attention," Rafferty explained. "I would rather set an example by my actions, by being calm and cool no matter what the situation is."

Molde said he has found his starting quarterback in Rafferty and added that no pressure is on the young quarterback to perform.

"John is the best-prepared quarterback to lead our team," Molde said. "He is the guy that we turned to and he will remain our starting quarterback."

This Saturday Rafferty will be put to the test against a tough Southern Illinois University squad at Carbondale. Rafferty said although he is pleased with last week's effort he knows he can improve.

"I know we are still going to go with a conservative game again," Rafferty said. "But I would like to be more consistent with my passes when I get a chance to throw."

Molde said that Rafferty will have a chance to show his arm a little more this week, but agreed with his quarterback that the Panthers would remain conservative.

"We are going to throw a little more," Molde said. "But we will stick with our game plan of a balanced offense. We will let the game dictate how much we will throw."

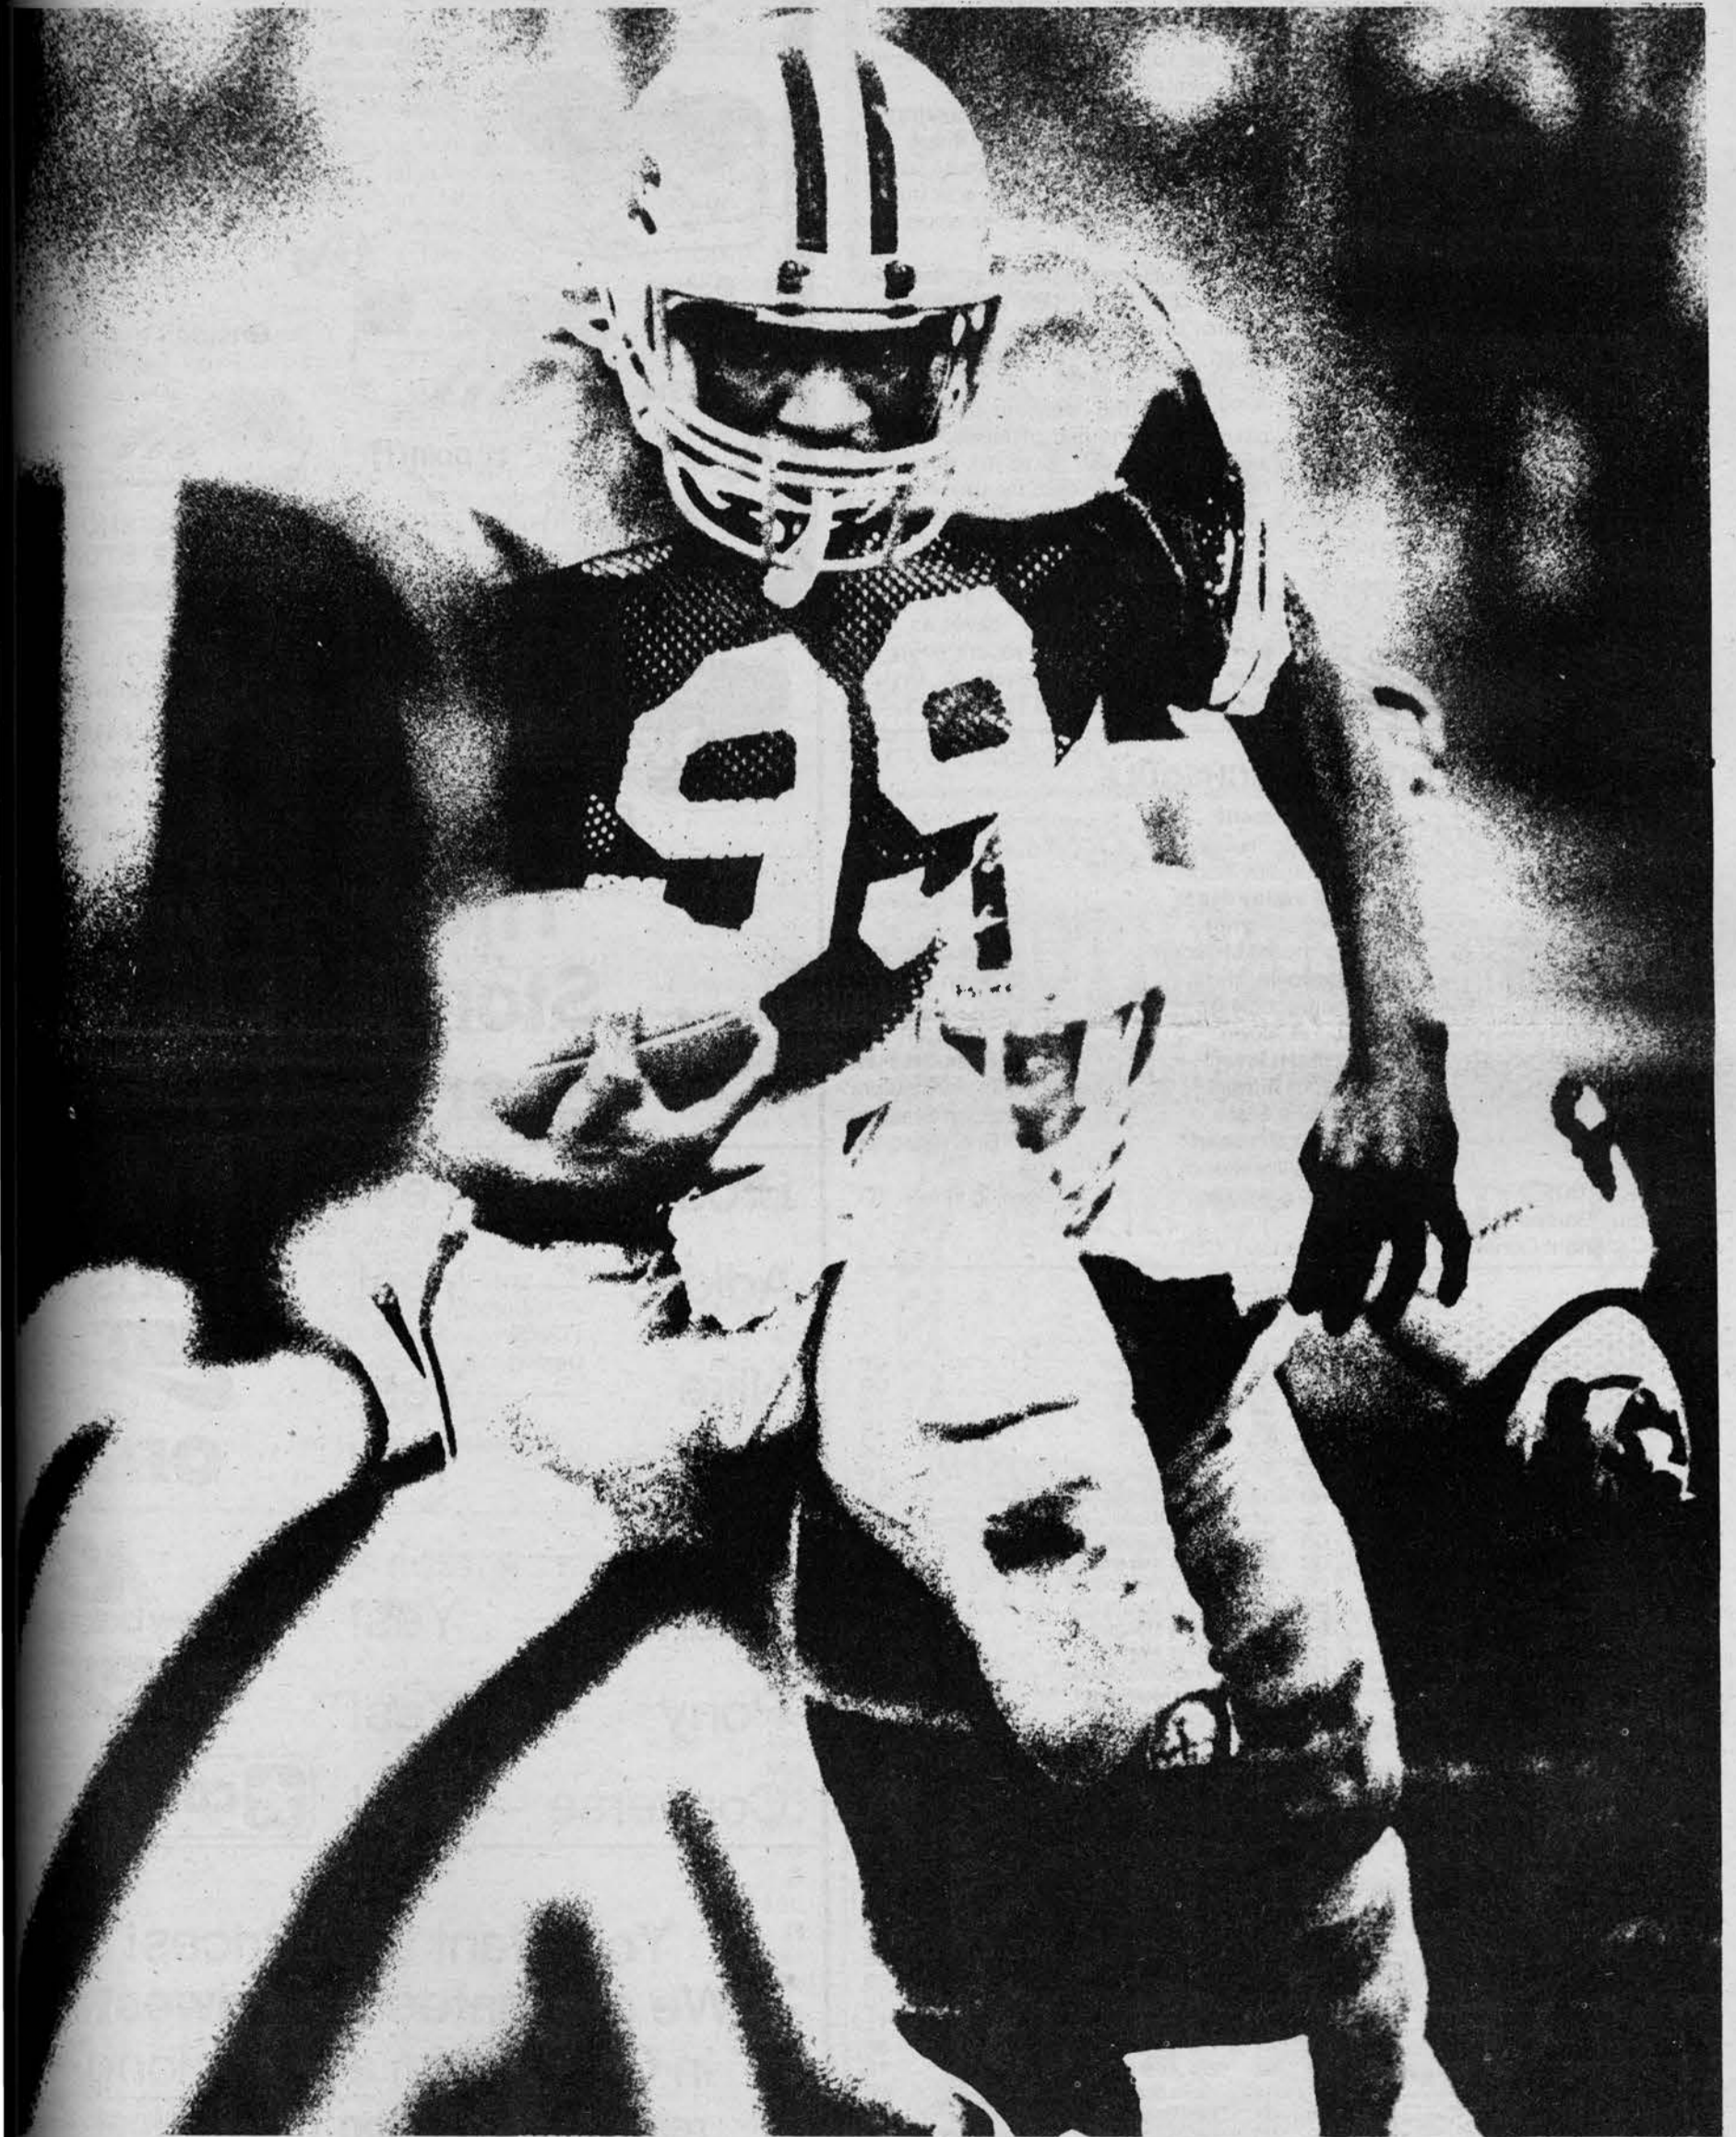

Softball tryouts

Eastern's head softball coach Deanna DiBraccio has scheduled a mandatory meeting for 7 p.m. Thursday at the swimming pool lounge in the Lantz Building for all women interested in tryouts for the Panthers women's softball team.

Any students with questions may call DiBraccio at 581-6008 or stop by her office at the Lantz Building.

Gridders boast veteran unit, anticipate I-AA tourney play

by Kirby Flowers

A veteran Eastern grid squad lead by a new head coach is after its second-straight post-season bid to the National Collegiate Athletic Association Division I-AA championships.

"The team is committed to returning to the NCAA playoffs," first-year Panther coach Al Molde said. "But in order to do that we have to win every game."

Last season Eastern went undefeated during the regular season, posting a 10-0-1 mark. In addition, the Panthers earned their first post-season bid in their second year of NCAA Division I-AA competition.

In the opening round of the playoffs, Eastern beat a tough Jackson State unit 20-17. The team was later eliminated by Tennessee State 20-19.

Molde admits that the road to the playoffs is a long one, but he does believe his team can accomplish the goal with a good start.

"We have to get off to a fast start," Molde said. "We must play well early if we are going to reach our team goal."

Consequently, Molde said his team will have to execute the offense and defense to the two opening two road opponents.

"We will be on the road against Illinois State and Southern Illinois and the home team always has some advantages," Molde noted. "So it is important that we really limit our errors and turn overs."

"The offense must be error free," Molde continued. "We cannot afford to turn the ball over five times a game or let them come up with a big play against us."

"At the same time, our defense will have shut down their offenses," Molde added. "We will have to dominate their offense and force the turn over."

Molde said that offensively the Panthers would have to make strides slowly until Eastern's quarterback situation is stabilized.

"Because we don't have an experienced quarterback we are going to play a little conservatively at first," Molde said.

Shooters boast top veterans, seek best post-season finish

Mike Lynch
Eastern's 1983 soccer team could be its finest season ever, according to coach Schellas Hyndman, who coached this year's team "better than the 1981 team which finished third in the nation."
Consequently, the Panthers, who completed their third straight post-season bid, could be a strong candidate to top the collegiate ranks this season.

"It is not an unrealistic goal to set," Hyndman said. "Some teams make the attempt but don't have the talent. I think we have a solid 11 players and a coach comparable to no other team I've coached."

The Panthers boast the return of 10 starters from last year's team which registered a 12-3-5 record while earning a berth in the NCAA Division I post-season tournament.

This time around, the Panthers are led by two time All-American midfielders Damien Kelly and Agyeman Prempeh.

In addition, Eastern returns four starters: Randy DeRousse, defense, Aldo Esposito, midfielder, and Eric Hartman, goalie.

Soccer

While a national title is Eastern's overall goal this year, the Panthers will also compete for the first Association of Mid-Continent Universities conference championship.

The initial AMCU season will feature the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, Cleveland State University, Western Illinois University, University of Illinois-Chicago and Eastern.

The Panthers' schedule also features contests against Creighton University and University of Nevada-Las Vegas in the Creighton Classic Sept. 30-Oct. 1.

Intra-state rivals Western, Northern Illinois University, and Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville are also scheduled during the Governor's Cup tournament Oct. 7-8 in Macomb.

A rematch of last year's Midwest Regional semi-final game between Eastern and North Texas State University Oct. 15 in Denton, Tex. rounds out Eastern's top-rated games.

Spikers seek GCAC playoffs, open second NCAA season

by Kathy Leahy

Eastern's volleyball team, entering its second season of NCAA Division I competition, is looking to match last season's fourth place finish in the Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference.

In fact, new head coach Betty Ralston has made that her primary goal this season.

"Our main goal this season is to make the final four in the conference," Ralston said. "If we can make the final four and get in the post-season tournament, then we will concentrate on winning it."

This year's tournament has undergone a change in format. All conference teams are required to play each other once during the regular season. The four teams with the best slates will advance to the post-season tournament.

Because of the tournament's change in format, Ralston said she will concentrate more on conference matches.

"We of course want to win our non-conference games, but right now I think we should concentrate on the conference games," Ralston said. "Especially if we want to make it to the post-season tournament."

Ralston, who succeeds Carol Gruber at the Panther helm, inherits a team that posted a 36-14 record last season. In addition, the Panthers have several players returning from last year's squad, including hitter Stacy Cook.

Cook, a 5-foot-8-inch senior, led the team in kills with 397, and chalked up 48 service aces and 96 solo blocks since transferring from Illinois Central Col-

Senior Kathy Briggs, also an ICC transfer student, is another returner. Briggs was the team's most consistent server last season, registering only 14 errors in 717 serves.

Junior Donna Uhler and senior Bonnie Fisk will also return for the Panthers this season. Uhler contributes as both a hitter and a setter. She ranked second among her teammates in kills with 321.

Fisk, who tallied 316 kills and blocked 95 attack attempts last season, returns as a middle attacker and blocker. Fisk also assisted on 131 additional blocks.

Rounding out the list of returnees are senior Gretchen Braker and sophomores Judy Planos, Misty Buckhold, Paula DeFrees and Debra Buesking.

The Panther unit will also have several freshmen joining the squad. Ralston said she believes the freshmen could be the key to Eastern's success this season.

"The returning players look really good on paper," Ralston said. "The biggest thing is going to be blending in the new people."

"The freshmen look great," she added. "They just need to get the experience of playing at the college level."

Men's cross country squad to depend on overall depth

Crystal Schrof
Eastern's 1983 men's cross country team will rely on overall depth this season, assistant cross country coach Tom Akers said.

"We have a lot stronger team this year than last year," Akers said. "Last year we had strong individuals. We have more team depth this year."

"We have as many new runners as we do returning team members," Akers said. "This was probably one of our best recruiting years."

The Panthers will be led this season by returning lettermen Aaron Shepley, John Beine, John Gassmann and Nick Whiteside. Also, returning for the Panthers are Dan Newman, Drew Geisler and Scott Tracy.

Akers said junior college transfer recruits Bruce DeRuntz, Scott Pillsbury and Mitch McClure are looking "very good."

Men's cross country

"Coming in from a junior college we really need them to perform," he added.

Currently, 29 runners are enduring two practices daily at 6:20 a.m. and 3:15 p.m. Akers said he is pleased with the large squad because "there is higher quality with larger numbers."

The team will be aiming for the Association of Mid-Continent Universities Championship meet on Oct. 29, Akers said.

"The conference meet is the big one, especially since we lost it last year by one point," he added. "It looks like it will be between us and University of Northern Iowa."

Youth, inexperience trouble for women's tennis season

by Dan Verdun

Youth and inexperience appear to be the major problems for Eastern's women's tennis team this fall, first-year head coach Gail Richard said.

Lacking a senior group, Eastern returns seven players from last year's squad. Heading the list of top returnees are junior Nancy Abney and sophomores Patti Kearns and Sally Stout.

Eastern also returns juniors Dawn Pavlik, Gina Andres, Rebeca Cabrera, and Judi Szymanski. Newcomers Lori Zupanci, Heather England, Lisa Lait, and Patti Brandt add some overall depth for the Panthers this year.

Richard said she plans to use the fall exhibition season to "restructure and coach" her team not only for the upcoming spring season, but for the upcoming years.

"I'm really hoping to improve the team's play with each match," Richard said. "Hopefully, by spring we'll be competitive with the other teams in our conference."

Richard also said one of her squad's goals is to improve on last season's last place finish in the Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference.

Women harriers anticipate continued running success

Jeff Long
Eastern's women's cross country team, which finished third in the state last year, is anticipating another strong season, head coach John Craft said. However, the Panthers lack experience this season with only three lettermen from last season's team back. Craft said the team's good crop of freshmen should help out. Margaret Smith, who placed sixth in last year's conference championship meet with a time of 18:01, enters her second season as the top Eastern runner and team leader. "We'll be counting on Margaret a bit," Craft said. "She ran all summer, so she'll be in good condition when the season opens." Eastern will also rely on senior Kerri Mortell and sophomore Anne Ogle, who return as lettermen. "We're expecting a lot out of these girls if we are going to be successful," Craft said. "I'm very optimistic about this season."

Women's cross country

Craft said the key to the Panthers' success, however, will be depend on their first-year runners performances. Freshmen Theresa Paul, Janine Jarris, Lisa Fawley and Penny Landmon are expected to help out this season. "I'm enthusiastic about the team we have," Craft said. "I don't want to make any predictions now, because they always turn out to be wrong. But we have some young ladies who are going to work hard." The Panthers opened their season Saturday with the annual EIU alumni meet which, according to Craft, served as a tune-up for the regular season. "It was a non-scoring, practice sort of meet," Craft said. "It gave us an idea of what kind of condition we are in."
