BOG allocates funds; most goes to Eastern

by Cathy Gregory

In recognition of past underfunding from Board of Governor's program support allocations, Eastern will receive $360,600 if the proposed fiscal year 1984 budget is approved by Gov. James Thompson, Acting President Stanley Rives said Tuesday.

Eastern, the smallest residential university in Illinois, would receive the largest allocation from the $925,000 available in the BOG's New and Expanded Program Support and Institutional Support.

Three of the four other BOG schools may also receive program support allocations. The requests include Chicago State University; $206,300, Western Illinois University; $200,000 and Northeastern Illinois University, which would receive $158,900.

Governor's State University, which Rives described as "primarily overfunded," was allocated nothing for BOG program support for FY '84.

"Eastern has always been underfunded and we're just trying to play some catch-up ball," Rives said.

BOG Executive Director Don Walters said the reason for the large allocation was the priority of Eastern's needs. "Eastern's needs are perceived by the Board (BOG) and I to be important and need to be addressed," he said.

"Most of the money will be used to cover a 4.5 percent salary increase for faculty and staff and increased utility costs," Rives said. "The rest will be used for program improvements which we've been requesting for a long time," he added.

Specific program improvements included in the allocation are $150,000 to upgrade instructional laboratory equipment in the School of Technology, $165,666 for additional faculty positions in the School of Business and College of Arts and Sciences and $45,000 for a computer instructional laboratory, Rives said.

Registrar: policy will cause more dismissals

by Denise Skowron

At least 50 percent more Eastern students will be dismissed for low scholarship this summer than last summer as a result of a new probation policy that recently took effect, Registrar James Martin said Wednesday.

"I know very well we'll have a greater number dismissed this summer," as compared to last summer's 60 dismissals, he said.

Martin said he devised a formula to arrive at his estimates by adding the number of summer 1982 students, who would have been affected by the policy, had it been instituted, to the 60 students actually dismissed.

"I anticipate there will be 90 to 100 students dismissed this summer if this pattern holds true," he added.

The new policy, which went into effect summer 1983, is more "stringent" than the former probation policy, Martin said, because it requires a student to demonstrate "satisfactory progress," once placed on academic probation.

Any student whose cumulative grade point average falls below 2.00 loses his good academic standing and is placed on probation, he said. While on probation, a student may not enroll in more than 16 hours during a semester and no more than 10 hours during the summer and intersession terms combined.

"Satisfactory progress" is determined by a graduated scale which specifies the semester GPA a student on probation must achieve to progress toward a good academic standing of a 2.00 GPA and to remain in school, Martin said.

If a student's cumulative GPA at the beginning of a grading period is within the numbers at the left, he must achieve a minimum GPA for that grading period indicated by the

1.60-1.99	2.10
1.00-1.59	2.18
0.00-0.99	2.25

It is possible in certain circumstances, Martin added, for a student to be dismissed without ever being on academic probation.

Martin cited a hypothetical situation of a student who completed a semester in good academic standing with a 2.00 "or near that" GPA. If the student's next semester produced a GPA of 0.00, or all "F"s, to bring his cumulative GPA below 2.00, he would be dismissed without technically being on probation.

Martin said he expects the new academic probation policy to have a significant effect during the coming fall and spring semesters as well as this summer. If the new policy was implemented last fall, 57.2 percent more students would have been dismissed than were under the former policy.

In addition, an estimated increase of 148.5 percent would have been dismissed in the spring 1983 semester had the current policy been in effect, he said. Martin attributed the higher dismissal rate in the spring to freshmen who enrolled in the fall.

The estimated increase in dismissals is "frightening," he said. "I'm worried."

Reinstatement after dismissal for low scholarship requires a student to remain out of the university for at least one semester, Martin said.

Following a semester out of Eastern, a student is automatically readmitted after the first dismissal, he added. But each consecutive dismissal requires a student to petition for reinstatement.

Crane, Studds receive reprimand for sexual misconduct with pages

by Sharon Bray

Rep. Dan Crane, R-Danville, was censured Wednesday by the U.S. House of Representatives for having sexual relations with a 17-year-old female page in 1980, a Congressional official said Wednesday.

Adrian Gray, press secretary for Ethics Committee Chairman Louis Stokes, said the House voted to censure Crane and Rep. Gerry Studds, D-Mass., for sexual relations with pages.

Gray added that Crane and Studds read statements acknowledging the reprimand after the vote was taken.

The representatives were censured because of a violation of the Code of Official Conduct, Gray said.

The first rule in the code states, "A Member, officer, or employee of the House of Representatives shall conduct himself at all times in a manner which shall reflect creditably on the House of Representatives."

Eastern political science instructor Joe Connelly said Wednesday that a censure is a reprimand recorded in the official House Journal noting the House's disapproval of a representative's actions.

He added that the censure is not a legal action.

The only other action that could have been taken against him would have been an expulsion, Connelly said.

"An expulsion is very rare. It is only done when the act is very serious—like taking bribes," he said.

He added that the action taken by the House may have been stricter if the acts had been examined by Illinois laws and standards.

"What he did is not a crime in the state of Virginia. In Illinois it is a misdemeanor with a 17-year-old," he said.

Connelly added, "They (the pages) are taken to Washington to work as assistants and Congress is responsible for them," he said.

Equipment for gym taken over weekend

Sports equipment was stolen last weekend from the Lantz and McAfee gymnasiums, Capt. Jack Chambers, campus security investigator, said Wednesday.

Basketballs, softball equipment, warm-up clothing and uniforms were stolen from McAfee's equipment room, while athletic shoes were stolen from the Lantz equipment room Friday night or early Saturday morning, Chambers said.

However, Chambers said campus security is uncertain whether the incidents were related.

Russell Waltrip, Lantz Gym and facilities supervisor, said about 16 pair of athletic shoes were stolen. He estimated the cost of the stolen shoes at $500.

Liberty franchise to be revoked by city

by Sharon Bray

Charleston Mayor Clancy Pfeiffer Tuesday asked City Attorney Tony Sunderman to begin the legal process to revoke Liberty Cable Television's franchise with Charleston.

At Tuesday's City Council meeting, Pfeiffer said he believes it is necessary to revoke the franchise because "we don't get any cooperation from them."

He also said it appears the company is not upgrading its system as promised.

"When they asked for a rate increase a couple of years ago, they said most of the money would go for things like new amplifiers so they could upgrade their system and provide better service," Pfeiffer said.

"I have seen no improvement in their service," he added.

Pfeiffer also cited problems relating to the amount of money the city is supposed to receive because of the franchise agreement.

Sunderman said the city is supposed to be receive 4 percent of Liberty's profits. While the city is receiving some money, he added that there is no way of knowing if it totals the 4 percent figure.

"We are supposed to receive audited numbers to determine how much we get," Sunderman said.

Pfeiffer said, "All we have received is a non-professional set of figures, no matter how much Tony has asked for the audited figures."

Pfeiffer said he believes the company has been unfair to Charleston residents.

"If they say they are going to upgrade their system, then they ought to do it," he added.

Commissioner John Beusch said he believes it would be a good idea to find a new cable service for Charleston before revoking the Liberty franchise.

Pfeiffer said the city would start looking for new companies, but it was best to begin the legal process because the procedure could be lengthy.

Pfeiffer also expressed regret about having to take legal steps to get cooperation from the company.

"It seems bad that to get anything done that we must go through these channels," he said.

In other business the council placed on file for public inspection two ordinances relating to the city's parking system.

One ordinance would raise the fines for city parking violations. The fine currently stands at $1.

The minimum parking fine would be raised to $3. If a violator did not pay the fine within 48 hours the fine would be $4. If the fine is not paid within 96 hours the fine would be $5. Any fine left unpaid after after 96 hours would be $10.

The other ordinance would raise the rent for reserved parking spaces in the city's lots to $10 a month effective Sept. 1. Spaces are currently $6, $8 and $10.

CUPB discusses FY '85 planning statement

by Denise Skowron

An update of recommendations, including a operating budget request in excess of $36 million, was presented to Eastern's Council on University Planning and Budgeting Tuesday.

The fiscal year 1985 planning statement, to be heard by the Board of Governors Thursday, is $36,980,200, a 14.6 percent increase from last year's allocation, Acting President Stanley Rives said Tuesday.

In addition, the FY '84 budget of $32,263,200, approved by the BOG and the Illinois Board of Higher Education, awaits the final step—Gov. Jim Thompson's signature, Rives said. "Our information is that the governor does intend to sign the appropriation, but he has not yet done so."

"Both the 1984 and proposed 1985 budgets have one thing we're very pleased about," Rives said. "The percent increase is the largest in the BOG system."

The FY '84 budget is a 6.8 percent increase over the FY '83 budget, he added. "We're where we should be in terms of an increase for this underfunded institution."

Rives said the recommended increases are designed to help Eastern get "caught up" since it is underfunded by $3 million. "We are roughly $3 million below the average amount of funding," he added.

Areas included in the CUPB's budget recommendations are salary, utility and general price increases, Rives said.

Faculty and staff salaries are recommended to be increased by 10 percent with 6 percent for inflation and the remaining 4 percent as "catch-up dollars," he said. "We all know faculty and staff have fallen behind," on the pay scale.

The utility and general price increases total 15 percent and 6 percent, respectively, he added.

While the CUPB will request no new academic programs for FY '85, a total New Expanded/Improved Program Request (NEIPR) of $960,500 will be made for instructional staffing, instructional laboratory equipment and academic program support.

Director of Planning and Budgeting Analysis Richard Liu said the instructional staffing category, which includes funding for new faculty and staff positions, makes up $368,500 of the NEIPRs.

Rives said the "heaviest" portion of the NEIPRs lies in the instructional laboratory equipment category with a request of $487,000 to fund equipment for the science, technology, speech and business departments.

Academic program support, the third NEIPR category, recommends a $105,000 allocation for library materials and the faculty development program.

A request of $124,200 for expanded repair and maintenance improvement projects would allow for a "great deal of flexibility," Rives said. "Eastern has the lowest budget in the state for permanent improvements."

A permanent improvements project currently facing Eastern is a leaking ceiling in the Student Services Building with an estimated $80,000 repair cost, (See CUPB, page 7)

Coffey denies report about alleged patronage abuse

by Sharon Bray

Sen. Max Coffey, R-Charleston, Wednesday denied accusations of nepotism reported by WCIA-TV in Champaign.

WCIA correspondent Jennifer Schulze said Wednesday that Coles County residents made some complaints to the television station about Coffey's relatives' patronage jobs. She added that the complaints prompted the station to do the story.

No other complaints about other legislators have been made to the station, she added.

At least five of Coffey's relatives are on the state payroll, she said.

Don Schafer of the comptroller's office said Wednesday that there are about 40 state employees with the last name of "Coffey."

However, Coffey said only four of his relatives are on the payroll, with his wife Janet making the fifth.

Coffey said he was accused of putting pressure on state officials to give jobs to his relatives. "I don't have to put pressure on people," he said.

"I'd like to think I can help someone in the district, whether or not they are related to me," he added.

While Coffey said he may be able to influence an employment decision in a state job, he said he does not create positions "just so my family can have work."

"I never put my family in front of anything else. That means that if they are qualified I may be able to provide some influence," he continued.

Coffey, who said he helps "hundreds of people get jobs," added that there is a certain process that must be followed to get a patronage job.

"Someone wants a job. They come in my office, tell me what they want to do and then they fill out an application," he said.

"A patronage job application must be signed by Elmer Goetz (Coles County Republican Chairman). I may also sign it myself, but I don't have to," he added.

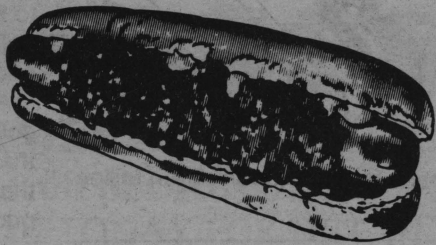

"I do the same for all of my constituents as I do for my family. I don't think anybody who has come to me asking for help can say I didn't go to bat

Welcome to Eastern BOG members

Welcome BOG members!

We welcome Board of Governors members to Eastern and to an opportunity to become better acquainted with our campus, students and faculty.

With Eastern hosting this month's BOG meeting Thursday in the Union Grand Ballroom, members of the BOG and Eastern's faculty and students have a chance to obtain a better understanding of each other.

Many students have only a vague idea of how the BOG functions and, through no fault of their own, BOG members are not always aware of what faculty members and students consider to be Eastern's biggest problems.

Now is the perfect time to bridge this communication gap.

We encourage members of the BOG to break from agenda business and take a little time to get to know the Eastern community.

While Thursday will probably prove to be a busy and somewhat hectic day for BOG members, we hope you can find the time to take a tour of our campus.

A trip around our small campus would make a great post-lunch stroll and wouldn't take much time at all. So take a look around and ask students and faculty for their opinions about improvements that need to be made at Eastern.

Editorial

Students and faculty should also do their part to bridge the communication gap by attending the BOG meeting and asking questions about issues that affect them.

Too often students and faculty blame 'The Board,' for all of Eastern's funding woes instead of trying to comprehend the intricacies of budgeting that the board faces.

So instructors and students, don't just complain about conditions at Eastern, take this time to do something constructive about them. Attend today's BOG meeting and tell the board what's on your minds.

This type of personal communication between board members, faculty and students can only help all parties concerned. We encourage everyone to make an effort toward better understanding today.

And we encourage BOG members to take note of the thoughts and opinions they hear on campus and keep them in the forefront of their minds when making decisions that effect Eastern in the future.

Your turn

Priorities all wrong

Editor:

Are we all really created equal?

Recent events have almost deteriorated my biblical belief that we are created equal. This is due to the fact that priorities were set for some that infringed on the rights of others.

Along with many others, I have found this past week to be very frustrating. I'm writing this letter in regard to the priority given to the recently held Christian Conference.

Eastern is a learning institution and it is my opinion that those students should have priority. However, someone must think otherwise.

It seems all the overhead projectors were taken out of Blair Hall for the Christian people to use. Perhaps their instruction is more important than our learning.

I don't mind too much having to wait in line to take a shower, but when I go to breakfast only to discover that just Christians are entitled to being served bacon the situation becomes frustrating.

After a long day of classes and homework I enjoy a game of racquetball. However, my efforts to play a game were brought to a halt one day when I found that the all the courts were reserved solely for Christian use.

I do not know who decided to set these priorities, but I believe that giving the Christians wants top priority over the students wants is totally unfair.

Students pay their fees and tuition for learning and recreation. Discovering that were at the bottom of a "priority list" makes me believe that we as Eastern students are being treated in a grossly unfair manner.

I only wish to reveal these thoughts to those administrators who set school policies and those students that just sit back and let it happen.

Also, I wish that a copy of this letter could be sent to each church group that visited Eastern because I believe that a true Christian would not want priority at the expense of others.

BOG to debate possibility of 10 percent tuition hike

by Crystal Schrof

Whether Eastern students will experience a $84 tuition increase for the 1983-84 school year will be determined by the Board of Governors Thursday.

Acting President Stanley Rives said the BOG will review a tuition recommendation formulated by BOG Executive Director Donald Walters. The recommendation will need the board's approval before it will go into effect.

"In general, the tuition request will be about 10 percent for all levels—lower, upper and graduate," Rives said.

Rives pointed out that he was "pleased" with a tuition increase at only 10 percent. He added that if the Illinois General Assembly had not passed a tax increase, Eastern students would have to face a "significantly higher" tuition increase recommendation.

"No tuition increase would have been unrealistic," Rives said.

In other business, the board will review Eastern's fiscal year 1985 budget request. Rives said Eastern will be asking for a 15 percent increase over their fiscal year 1984 budget.

Eastern's fiscal year 1984 budget is $32.2 million. However, Rives said he could not disclose any additional information on the proposed fiscal year 1985 budget.

"The board reviewing the budget request is the first action for the 1985 budget," Rives said. "The budget will then be reviewed by the Illinois Board of Higher Education and the legislature. It will then go back to the board."

Also, Rives will ask the BOG to approve $24,782 for the binding of Booth Library periodicals.

The BOG will meet at 7:30 a.m. Thursday in the Union Grand Ballroom.

Exercising in humid weather topic of visiting faculty lecture

by Matthew Krasnowski

The lecture "Exercising in Hot and Humid Weather" will be conducted Friday, Director of Human Performance Thomas Woodall said Wednesday.

David Costill, director of human performance at Ball State University, will discuss how individuals should exercise in hot and humid weather, Woodall said. A slide show will accompany Costill.

"The lecture will be in conjunction with the Panther Pant runs," Woodall said, referring to races scheduled for Saturday.

Costill will instruct the workshop "Exercise Under Variable Medical and Environmental Constraints," PED 4999 this weekend through the Distinguished Visiting Lecturer program, Woodall added.

"Costill is one of the top exercise physiologists and has tested several national record holders at the human performance lab at Ball State," Woodall said.

Costill, 48, is one of the top swimmers in his age group in the country, Woodall added. Costill has also written several books and essays on physical fitness.

The free lecture will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Buzzard Building auditorium.

Meeting to provide information on Decatur form of government

by Sharon Bray

An informational meeting for discussion of the council-manager form of city government will be co-sponsored by the Coles County League of Women Voters and the Charleston Area Chamber of Commerce Thursday.

Dee Best, chairman of the CCLOWV city government committee, said three people from the Decatur city government will make a one hour presentation. Decatur uses the council-manager form of government.

Decatur City Manager Leslie Allen, Decatur City Councilman Carol Brandt and Richard Lutovsky, president of the Metro Decatur Chamber of Commerce, will be the speakers at the meeting, she said.

Best said the speakers will determine the format of the meeting that is free and open to the public.

The meeting is being presented because the CCLOWV has not studied the council-manager form of government for a few years and decided it was time to look into the form of government, Best added.

Elected and appointed members of the Charleston and Mattoon city governments have been invited to attend the event, she added.

The presentation will be at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the lower level of Reflections Restaurant, 506 W. Lincoln Ave.

UB sponsors concerts, free food

Eastern's Funday will showcase two musical acts this year, UB adviser Booker Suggs said.

The rockabilly band the Hellbillys and the soul/rhythm and blues band Popular Demandd will perform Monday in conjunction with the University Board-sponsored Funday, Suggs said Tuesday.

This is the fourth year Funday has been scheduled to "break the monotony and fast pace of summer classes," he added.

Different tastes will be met because the Hellbillys and Popular Demandd play two different musical styles, Suggs said.

"We want to provide something for everyone," he added.

Free watermelon and free ice-cream will be available during the concerts, Suggs said. The free event will begin at 4 p.m. Monday on the South Quad.

In addition, the CUPB will make a recommendation of a $408,000 allocation for the "Other" category under which a number of items falls, Rives said.

The breakdown of the Other category includes $191,700 for civil service and is "based upon an analysis of how our salaries stand compared to others," he said.

Another item included in the Other category is a request for $73,400 to pay for an elevator in the Clinical Services Building. When first built, Rives said that there was an elevator shaft in the two-story structure, but not enough funds for an elevator.

Liu said the final items in the Other category include a request of $142,900 for computer services. The breakdown includes $161,300 for computer support and $81,600 for computer base managment.

In addition, George Miller, vice president for administration and finance, addressed the issue concerning the construction of "O'Brien Stadium Meeting Room," to be funded almost entirely by donations.

The 50 foot by 40 foot single-story meeting room to be located at the north side of O'Brien Stadium has an estimated value of $52,000. "The community has asked for the facility," to be used for Panther Club meetings and as an instructional facility for traffic safety, Miller said.

While the meeting room would be paid for by donations, with the exception of an estimated $8,000 labor cost funded by grants, construction must be approved by the BOG because the facility would be owned by Eastern.

for them," Coffey said.

"If a member of my family is not qualified for a certain position, then they won't get the job," he added.

Coffey cited his wife as a prime example. He said he has heard doubts about whether his wife Janet is qualified to be a supervisor at the Mattoon unemployment office.

"To begin with, she has not been officially notified that she has the job," he said.

Coffey added that he believed his wife was qualified for the job because of her educational and working background.

He said his wife is not the first person in the job and that the office needed someone "more qualified."

"If it wasn't true, then the office wouldn't be in the bad shape it's in now," he added.

Coffey said his nephew Tim is another example.

"Tim has been working at Fox Ridge for four or five years. He recently got humped and had to go to Marshall to work," he said.

He added, "I could have easily stepped in and said 'my nephew is going to work in Fox Ridge,' but I didn't."

Coffey said he believes the whole controversy got started when someone who did not get a job that was given to one of his relatives became angry.

"I wish people would come to me personally with things like this," he added.

Coffey said he didn't think his family should be punished for being related to him.

"I want them to have the same chance as everyone else," he said.

'Speaking in Tongues' orders you to dance

SPEAKING IN TONGUES

Talking Heads

Our heroes break their three-year-old creative silence and present us with the dance album of the summer.

Speaking in Tongues, the sixth Talking Heads album, should remove any doubt that the Heads are the premier white funk group around. Expanding on 1980's outstanding exercise in African-funk rhythms, Remain in Light, and borrowing liberally from the members' solo efforts, the new album doesn't just invite you to the dance; it orders you to it.

Singer/songwriter David Byrne's voice is as quirky as ever. But where the hitches used to veer off into occasional distractibility (Squawking Heads), Byrne has learned to control his voice and employ the jumps to strategic effect here. The result is a tighter sound.

The first track, "Burning Down the House," will probably wind up as the dance club hit of the year. Driven by an irresistible synth-bass pulse, the song pulls you in with Chris Frantz's manic drumming and Byrne's syncopated chanting ("I'm-an-or-di-na-ry-guy"). The song strikes me as being the perfect number for these scorching July days, with its heat imagery and palpitating rhythms.

"Making Flippy-Floppy" begins with Byrne's barely-controlled command, "Everybody—get in line!" The number funks along at an exhilarating clip, led by Jerry Harrison's synth parts and Tina Weymouth's expertise at developing bass riffs. Guest violinist Shankar contributes some Indianesque droning to support the instrumental break. The Heads have always been the thinking man's dance band, and this song shows why. Byrne notes our naivete when we're young:

*We are born without eyesight
We are born without sin*

Above right: the no-frills edition of the Talking Heads' recently-released album, Speaking in Tongues. Left: for the true Heads fans who care to spend a little extra for the limited edition (only 50,000 available) "moveable parts" album. As an extra bonus, because there are no instructions included, owners of this special edition are challenged to figure out how it works—we couldn't. (News photo by Denise Skowron)

*And our mama protects us
From the cold and the rain.*

This fades to the older person's realization of what life is actually like:

*I can't believe it
And people are strange
Our president's crazy
Did you hear what he said?*

"Girlfriend is Better" features some escapist boasting by Byrne ("I got a girlfriend that's better than that/She has the smoke in her eyes"). The song sounds most like a typical funk number, bolstered by P-Funk member Bernie Worrell's synthesizer effects. The rhythm team of Weymouth and Frantz never ceases to amaze me, and they're in top form here. Their accomplishments with the Tom Tom Club have had an obvious and delightful influence.

"Pull Up the Roots" is a jaunty sing-a-long that demands you gyrate. The instruments meld together perfectly, led by Harrison's synthesizer. If you don't feel motivated to dance to this, check your pulse immediately. You're more than likely dead.

One of Byrne's favorite pastimes is to place his characters in odd situations, and Speaking in Tongues is no exception. "I Get Wild/Wild Gravity" finds him in half-giddy good humor about becoming weightless. "It's hard to hold on to the ground," he cheerfully observes as he climbs up a wall. On "Moon in the Man" he has swallowed a moon rock, which proceeds to sing from his stomach.

Other highlights include the quasi-religious "Slippery People," with Byrne making a statement and being responded to by a chorus, a la Remain in Light's "Houses in Motion." "Swamp" deals with devil worship, and Byrne manages to sound like Leon Redbone on acid. Some pretty mean acid at that.

You get your choice of packaging with this album. You can buy a limited-edition Robert Rauschenberg-designed copy with movable parts, or you can go with the "no frills" cover designed by Byrne. The movable version costs a few dollars more, but there's only 50,000 of 'em in the world.

Talking Heads have once again forged a masterpiece of vinyl. While everyone else is moving incessantly to "Beat It" this summer, I'll be jumping to Speaking in Tongues.

Morton signs pact, will play for Phillies

by Kathy Leahy

Former Eastern baseball pitcher Bill Morton has signed a free agent contract with the Philadelphia Phillies, Eastern head coach Tom McDevitt said Tuesday.

Morton, a 6-foot-4 lefthander from Peoria, was expected to report Monday to the Phillies Class A team in Bend, Ore., McDevitt said.

McDevitt said Morton received a "mild bonus" for signing with the Phillies.

Morton compiled a 4-1 record in his final season as a Panther and boasted an earned run average of 3.63.

However, McDevitt said the Phillies were prompted to sign Morton because he reportedly threw the ball 88-miles an hour for Philadelphia scout Don Williams.

"I'm not surprised Morton was signed. He is a commendable pitcher," McDevitt said. "I'm glad he is getting the chance to play for a professional team."

"Morton will make a good relief pitcher, he added. "He has the type of arm that makes it possible for him to pitch almost anytime."

Panther Pant still taking entrants

by Kathy Leahy

Entries are still being accepted for the 18th annual Panther Pant to be conducted Saturday, Thomas Woodall, coordinator of the race, said Wednesday.

The Pant is a 20 kilometer (12½ miles) road race that winds through the Coles County countryside. This year's race will begin at 7 a.m. Saturday.

"We are still accepting applications up until 6 a.m. Saturday," Woodall said. "We want to see more people entered."

A four-mile Short Pant will also be conducted Saturday.

The Short Pant is designed for those who cannot run the longer distance of the Panther Pant, Woodall said.

"The Panther Pant is a long race, with a lot of hills," Woodall said. "You need to be in top physical shape and have a lot of experience in distance running to be able to run it."

Woodall said all those wishing to participate in the Panther Pant must be able to run a mile in 7:30 minutes.

Awards will be presented to the first ten runners to cross the finish line in the Panther Pant.

Awards for the Short Pant have been divided into four age categories: 17 and under, 17 to 26, 26 to 35 and over 35.

Former Eastern distance ace Tim Warneke is the defending Panther Pant champion. However, Warneke has decided he will not run in the Pant again this year.

"Tim ran a big race in Chicago last weekend, finishing second out of about 5,000 runners and he is still drained from that. So he has declined to run the Pant this year," Woodall said.

Woodall said he was still uncertain whether another former Eastern great, Joe Sheeran, would be on hand for this year's Pant.

Sheeran holds the course record with a time of 1:01.50.

In addition, Woodall said Eastern runners John Gassmann and Chuck Elliot are expected to compete.

In the women's division, Woodall said Barb Eiler, a 25-year-old student from Pana looks to be the favorite.

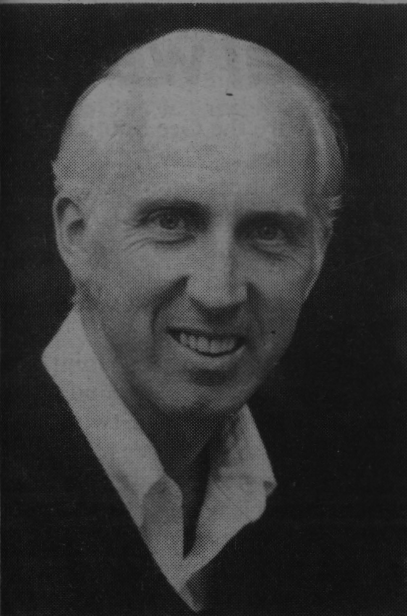

"Barb recently competed in the National Blind Olympics winning three gold medals in swimming and finishing second in the mile run," Woodall said.

Eiler competed in the Blind Olympics as a Class C participant. Class C is for those who can see, but are suffering from impaired vision.

"Barb ran the mile in 5:39 which is a very good time," Woodall said. "So I would have to peg her as a favorite."

For further information contact Woodall at 581-3510 or 345-4109.

Lomax trying to improve despite starting job

by Crystal Schrof

Even though the mercury waivers above the 90-degree mark and fellow teammates hurry back to the locker room, St. Louis Football Cardinal quarterback Neil Lomax is one of the last players to leave the field.

Lomax, who has been the Cardinal's starting quarterback since he replaced veteran Jim Hart, said he believes he must continue to work this season to improve "himself" and his game.

Although Lomax is now secure in his position as the Cardinals starting quarterback, he said the "pressure" is still there to improve during training camp.

"The pressure of worrying about getting cut is over. But that doesn't mean I can't work hard. Now there's a different type of pressure—improving," he said.

"Training camp takes a lot of endurance and you get awfully tired," he added. "I know most of the stuff now but that doesn't mean I can't improve."

Lomax said "there is nothing like training camp. 'You think football at least 23 hours a day. You're trying to endure the heat and plays are always running through your mind."

"There are days I just pray to God for strength," he added.

Lomax led the Cardinals to a 5-4 record last season and to the playoffs, where the Cardinals were defeated by the Green Bay Packers 41-16 in the first round.

However, Lomax had a record-setting performance against the Packers, completing 32 of 51 passes for 285 yards and two touchdowns.

Lomax finished the strike-shortened season completing 109 of 205 passes for 1,367 yards.

In addition, Lomax threw five touchdown passes and was intercepted only six times, less than any other quarterback in the National Football League last season.

Lomax said playing professional football is "personally gratifying" for him.

"God has blessed me with a lot of talent. I never thought I'd play professional ball when I was a freshman or sophomore in college," Lomax said.

"In fact, I wanted to be a professional baseball player or golfer," he added.

Lomax, who played at Portland State, said he "never really dreamed of playing professional ball."

However, Lomax is now looking to the upcoming season and he is setting his sites on returning to the playoffs. He added that he is confident that the Cardinals will be able to make the playoffs again this year.

"The Green Bay game left an awful taste in our mouths last year," Lomax said. "But we did get a taste of what it was like to make the playoffs."

"But now we can say 'hey, we did it then and we can get there again,'" he added.

"Even though we are in one of the toughest divisions, with teams like Dallas and Washington, I think we can definitely make it to the playoffs again," Lomax continued.

"We have just have to take it step by step," he said. "We need to take one team at a time and not think that any team will be easy to beat."

Baker traded to Cardinals

by Kathy Leahy

The St. Louis Cardinals have acquired defensive end Al "Bubba" Baker from the Detroit Lions, Cardinals head coach Jim Hanifan said Tuesday.

The acquisition of Baker completes an earlier trade in which Cardinals defensive tackle Mike Dawson and an undisclosed draft choice were sent to Detroit, Hanifan said.

Baker, a three-time Pro Bowl selection, had an incredible 23 sacks his first season in the National Football League and now has a total of 75½ sacks in his 67-game National Football League career.

In addition, Baker was named Defensive Rookie of the Year in 1978.

Baker, 6-foot-6 and 260 pounds, was originally drafted in the second round by the Lions in 1978.

"We are extremely pleased with the acquisition of Baker. His strengths, particularly as a pass rusher, are a proven commodity," Hanifan said.

Baker reported to St. Louis for his physical Tuesday afternoon. He was then expected to meet with the Cardinal coaching staff Tuesday before returning home to Detroit.

Hanifan said Baker will join the Cardinal camp Friday.

Division titles to be settled in final week

by Gary Bray

With only one week left in the intramural regular season schedule, many of the division races are taking shape.

In men's basketball action last Wednesday, the long-awaited match between the undefeated Fast Break and Bad Company teams took place.

Bad Company won by a 68-61 score and earned the league lead. They followed up that victory Tuesday with a win over the Nupes, 58-49, to move their record to 5-0.

Fast Break falls to 3-1 and into a second place tie with the G Force, who won 46-32 last Wednesday over Adam's Rib.

The Jaggs forfeited both their recent games, falling to 0-5. Wins were awarded to the Nupes and the Phi Sigs.

The Nupes hold fourth place with a 3-2 record.

In other action Tuesday, Adam's Rib won their second game against three defeats by beating the Sixty-Niners 60-36.

Three nights of action remain in the schedule, with Bad Company in control of their own destiny.

Bad Company is set to finish their season with games against the Jaggs and the Phi Sigs. They will be inactive the final night of the season.

Fast Break and the G Force have three games remaining and could still capture the crown if Bad Company loses its games.

Fast Break is set to meet the G Force Wednesday night to determine which team will move into second place in the division.

Fast Break will then meet the Sixty-Niners, 2-3, on Tuesday and Adam's Rib next Wednesday.

The G Force will play the Nupes, 3-2, on Tuesday and the Jaggs next Wednesday.

A single elimination tournament will be held the week of Aug. 1 to determine a final champion.

Men's Softball

The Jaggs finally lost their first game of the year.

The Big Sticks came up with the 7-6 victory Tuesday over the Jaggs to knock them out of the undefeated ranks.

The Sticks also won Monday, 12-6, over PUPP, to move their record to 3-5.

The Jaggs held on to first place, however, with a 7-1 record.

The Huns moved into second place in the league, but lost Monday to the Untouchables by a 19-7 score. Their record is 4-2.

The Housing Staff Infection held on to third place, although they also lost a game this week.

The Infection beat Joint Effort 5-2 and LAGNAF 13-4 on Monday, but lost 14-2 to the Huns on Tuesday. Their record is now 6-2.

In a surprising move, Mu Ling's Riceballs dropped both their games this week and fell to a fourth place tie.

The Riceballs lost Monday to the Phi Sigs 6-5 and lost Tuesday to the Untouchables 7-5. Their record is 5-3.

Also at 5-3 are the Gee Spotters and the Untouchables.

The Gee Spotters won both their games this week, defeating LAGNAF 14-13 and the Phi Sigs 7-4.

With two days of action left, the Jaggs look pretty good to come away with the division crown.

The Jaggs are set to play Joint Effort, 2-5, Monday and the second place Huns on Tuesday. With a two game lead, the Jaggs only need to escape losses in both games to finish with the best record in the league.

However, the Jaggs will still have to win a division tournament the week of Aug. 1 to become official league champions.

The Housing Staff Infection will meet Mu Ling's Riceballs on Monday and the Gee Spotters on Tuesday, to determine the second place team in the league.

Co-Rec Volleyball

The Phi Sigs lead the volleyball division with a 3-0 record, after winning last Wednesday's match over the Unknowns II by forfeit.

Also forfeited was the match between the Pace Setters and the Unknowns I, with the Unknowns coming away with a win.

The Pace Setters won their first game of the year when they received a victory via forfeit by the Unknowns II.

The big match between two unbeaten teams, the Phi Sigs and the Oblate Spheroids, was set for Tuesday night. Results of the match were unavailable.
