Hunt retains financial post with 384 votes

by Scott Rhyne

Jeff Hunt was retained as student government financial vice president after Wednesday's special election, as he garnered close to 50 percent of the vote.

Hunt, a senior who had been serving as the interim financial vice president, received 384 votes in the election.

Senator Audrey Berman, election co-chairman, said graduate student Jack Kelly received 197 votes and junior Ken Sjorslev received 173 votes.

Hunt said, "I know that the other two candidates campaigned really hard and I felt that they were both good candidates. However, I am extremely happy with the results.

"My primary goals for the present are to get the budgets out early. Also, I plan to keep justification of the reserve account so it does not get too high or too low. The projected enrollments will be able to help me on that. I don't plan to make any major changes—I just hope to keep things running smoothly," he added.

Senate Speaker Ron Wesel said he was happy with the results of the election.

President John Cole also expressed a favorable response to Hunt's election.

"Having been the one who appointed Jeff, I have a lot of confidence in him. I see that many groups are asking for increases in their budgets. The key factor will be for Jeff to be able to negotiate these budgets with the groups," Cole said.

Berman said that she was very pleased with the results of the election. "We had a turnout of 775 students. Compared to last semester's student government election, the turnout was really good. I feel things ran really smooth," she added.

However, Dede Haut, election co-chairman said, "I was somewhat disappointed; I felt voter turnout could have been better."

Although no election violations were filed with the election committee Wednesday, Haut said, "Anyone wishing to file a complaint may do so at the Student Government office up until one week after the election."

New registration card successful

by Amy Zurawski

Out of the 8,400 Eastern students that pre-enrolled for the 1984 spring semester, 809 employed the new special alternate course card, a registration official said Wednesday.

Director of Registration Mike Taylor added that of the 809 students who used the new cards, 673 students received courses they requested.

The special alternate request cards were provided for the first time during spring pre-registration "wrap-up" to those students closed out of courses they had pre-registered for who also had not received their primary or secondary alternate course requests.

In addition, he noted that the special alternate cards will be used again during the 1985 spring semester, but not during the 1984 summer and fall semesters.

"It won't be used during summer because students don't have any trouble getting the classes they need," he said. "It won't be used during fall because of the lack of time before the semester begins and when students arrive on campus."

Dave Sardella, assistant director of registration, said after re-evaluating the card next spring, officials should have some information which will help decide whether to keep the cards.

Taylor said, "Our main goal is to do what is best for students. If that means continuing to use the special alternate card during the spring semesters, then I'm not against it."

He added that the evaluation will determine if the students are benefiting from them and if the card will be employed permanently.

In an attempt to ensure that more students use the alternate course listings when they pre-register, Taylor said, "We (the registration office) are going to promote the cards as much as possible."

However, Taylor said pre-registration "wrap-up is not the time for students to make alternate requests."

Union contracts allow men to clean girls' bathrooms

by Mary Holland

Affirmative Action regulations and union contracts prevent "sweeping changes" which would prohibit male janitors from cleaning females' bathrooms in residence halls, Eastern's housing director said Wednesday.

Housing Director Lou Hencken said Eastern's long-standing policy allowing males to clean females' bathrooms is a result of a bidding policy which allows janitors to choose the building where they will work.

"The union has specific rules and we have to follow them," Hencken said. "We have to respect the wishes of the people who work for us just like we need to respect the wishes of the people who live in the residence halls."

The practice of allowing janitors to clean bathrooms of the opposite sex was questioned by sophomore Bobbi Jo Russell in a letter to the editor in Tuesday's edition of The Daily Eastern News.

Russell, a Lincoln Hall resident, said she wrote the letter because she is "sick of going to the bathroom and not being able to go because there is a male janitor in there.

"I think it's ridiculous that I am paying so much money to go to school and I'm not able to use the bathroom when I need to," she added.

Russell said the Lincoln Hall janitor cleans the bathroom between 7:30 a.m. and 8:30 a.m., when many residents are getting ready for early morning classes.

"I pay too much money to go to school and take classes to have a man cause me to be late," she added.

However, Hencken said many residents are "overlooking the other problems" involved when janitors are assigned to various buildings.

"If all of a sudden we try to change the way things have been for years, we'll have problems," he said. "If we went to a policy where we'd only have male janitors in mens' dorms, I think we'd be breaking the law.

"The unions are more powerful than we are," he added.

Ed Sawtelle, Eastern's personnel director, agreed that Affirmative Action regulations and union contracts prohibit the university from designating job assignments on the basis of sex.

"We have to get away from men's work and women's work and A work and B work," he said.

Building service workers have a contract that allows workers with the most seniority to bid for the building where they wish to work, Sawtelle noted.

Workers generally choose the building they want to work in on the basis of such factors as the age of the building and the work involved in keeping it clean, he added.

"They are not looking at whether males or females live in the building," he said. "All they look at is the square feet they have to clean and the type of building it is."

Granville Justice, building service foreman of housing, added that building service workers look at a building's layout, the type of tile, the carpet and even the number of shower stalls when bidding for job locations.

"Even the director or the type of students could be a consideration," he said.

However, Justice said building service workers post the hours when they clean bathrooms and "try to schedule it so students can clean up and go to class.

"Personally, there could be times when there are problems, but with (see UNION, page 7)

Desegregation decision upheld

ST. LOUIS—A federal appeals court Wednesday upheld the nation's most comprehensive voluntary metropolitan desegregation plan. But the state, which must share the cost, vowed to take the case to the U.S. Supreme Court for a third time.

Missouri Attorney General John Ashcroft made the announcement hours after the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals approved most of the plan to swap students voluntarily between predominantly black St. Louis schools and those in the mostly white suburbs.

Dixon named to defense post

WASHINGTON—Illinois Sen. Alan J. Dixon on Wednesday was named to a much coveted seat on the Senate Armed Services Committee that had been vacant since the death of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash.

Dixon, a freshman Democrat, told a news conference afterward he supports "a strong national defense" but believes "the Pentagon must spend the taxpayers' money prudently."

Nation-wide drinking age seen

WASHINGTON—States would have two years to comply with a proposed new national minimum drinking age of 21 years under legislation headed toward House floor action.

The measure, adopted Tuesday by the House Energy and Commerce Committee, would prohibit most bars and liquor stores from selling alcoholic beverages to anyone under 21.

U.S. ship blasts rebel positions

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—The giant guns of the battleship New Jersey pounded the rebel-held hills beyond Beirut all day Wednesday in a thundering barrage that brought the United States in firmly on the government side in Lebanon's civil war.

On Beirut's southern edge, meanwhile, 1,400 U.S. Marines waited for orders sending them back to their ships offshore under President Reagan's announcement Tuesday that they would be withdrawn from their perilous position in the coming weeks.

The small British contingent of the multinational force pulled out Wednesday and Italy ordered a gradual withdrawal of its force.

Lebanon's U.S.-backed Christian president, Amin Gemayel, also appeared to be in an ever more precarious spot. His army's 6th Brigade said it was defecting to the side of the Moslem rebels, who held Moslem-populated west Beirut.

The New Jersey opened up with its 16-inch guns—the biggest afloat—at 1:25 p.m. after artillery shells began raining down on Christian east Beirut and around suburban Yarze, near the U.S. ambassador's residence and Gemayel's presidential palace.

Reagan said the U.S. Navy would provide "naval gunfire and air support against any unit firing into greater Beirut from parts of Lebanon controlled by Syria." He said such attackers would "no longer have sanctuary from which to bombard Beirut at will."

Until now, U.S. gunships and warplanes generally hit only rebel units suspected of firing on the Marines at Beirut Airport.

Beirut radio said the shelling of east Beirut came from artillery positions of anti-government Druse leftist forces in central mountain areas occupied by the Syrian army. The right-wing Christian "Voice of Lebanon" radio said two people were killed and 60 wounded.

Second space-walk scheduled

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Two Challenger astronauts refueled their backpacks Wednesday for an encore venture into open space, while officials on the ground worried that rain and clouds might prevent the first Florida shuttle landing on Saturday.

Mission Control told the crew that "you're the talk of the world" after the spectacular excursion that Bruce McCandless and Robert Stewart made into space Tuesday with no rope to anchor them to the shuttle.

McCandless and Stewart are scheduled for a second walk beginning at 6 a.m. EST Thursday, but their three fellow astronauts joked they might fight for the chance "to share all the good deals."

President Reagan will telephone the astronauts at 10:25 a.m. Thursday from his ranch near Santa Barbara, Calif., deputy White House press secretary Larry Speaks said. Speaks said McCandless and Stewart "will be outside their spacecraft" when they receive the call.

The five Americans weren't the only humans orbiting the Earth; the Soviet Union launched a Soyuz spacecraft carrying three cosmonauts to its Salyut-7 space station.

Formation of new college expected to be approved

by Pam Lill

The College of Applied Arts proposal will be presented to the Board of Governors for approval Feb. 23, Robert Pringle, BOG deputy executive director for academic affairs, said Tuesday.

The proposal, authored by Eastern President Stanley Rives, will combine the School of Technology, the School of Home Economics, Career Occupations Program and the Military Science Program.

Rives was not available for comment Wednesday.

Pringle said the chances the proposal will be passed are "good."

If a majority of the BOG agrees to the proposal, it will be submitted to the Illinois Board of Higher Education in early April, Pringle said.

He noted that the proposal was a "commendable recommendation of the president."

The larger academic unit would result in more effective administration and better-run faculty, Pringle said.

In addition, the proposal is estimated to save Eastern about $40,000.

Under the proposal, School of Home Economics Dean Barbara Owens would become dean of the College of Applied Arts. Owens declined to comment on the proposal Tuesday.

Technology education instructor John Messer said he previously commented on the proposal in a position paper drafted by the School of Technology in October.

Resident files suit against Steidinger, Johnson, city

by Karen Sisulak

A suit has been filed against Charleston Police Chief Maurice Johnson, Assistant Police Chief Herb Steidinger and the City of Charleston for alleged eavesdropping practices.

The suit, filed by Charleston resident Betty Wilson Feb. 2 at the Coles County Courthouse, charges Johnson, Steidinger and the city with six counts relating to recording a conversation without consent, embarrassment, and damage to reputation.

Wilson's suit stems from police interrogation after an incident with a city police officer.

The suit states that Johnson allegedly involved the operation of an eavesdropping device, namely a video camera and recorder and directed other law enforcement officers of the city to use the eavesdropping device to hear and record the conversation between Johnson and Wilson."

According to the suit, Wilson claims Johnson did not have authorization by state law to record the conversation and did not have consent from Wilson to record the conversation.

The conversation was "heard by patrolmen, detectives, officers, and employees of the police," which the suit claims to have led Wilson to "suffer embarrassment and has damaged her reputation."

The count against Steidinger alleges that he "participated in the operation of the eavesdropping device and directed other law enforcement personnel to use the device to hear and record the conversation."

The suit further claims that Steidinger "caused a conversation between Wilson and others" to be heard by personnel of the police department.

Wilson also charges in the suit that the City of Charleston "through its agents and employees has knowingly aided, abetted and permitted eavesdropping of the conversation."

Johnson and Steidinger declined comment pending the legal action. However, City Attorney Tony Sunderman said he believes "the charges are not legally viable."

Sunderman added that he believes the "suit will be cleared up within the year."

Wilson's attorney, David Eberspacher of Harlan Heller Law Firm, 1101 Broadway, Mattoon, said Wednesday that Wilson would not comment on the case at this time.

CAA will vote on revisions of freshman admission standards

Proposed revisions in Eastern's freshman admission standards will be discussed by the Council on Academic Affairs Thursday.

The proposal, developed by a CAA subcommittee on request from Eastern President Stanley Rives and the Illinois Board of Higher Education, is an attempt to specify subjects and units high school students should complete to gain admission to Eastern.

CAA Chairman Pat Wright said discussion on the recommendations, which were tabled at last week's meeting, will be limited to one hour.

The vote to accept or change the recommendations will be taken at a later meeting, Wright added.

In other action, the CAA is also expected to discuss a proposed revision of Eastern's academic waiver rules.

James Quivey, CAA member, said a document was submitted to the CAA for discussion regarding the extension of academic waivers.

The CAA will meet 2 p.m. Thursday in the Union addition Arcola-Tuscola room

Covert racism must be strangled

James Meredith, who is speaking at Eastern Feb. 21, represents one of the most important symbols—other than Martin Luther King Jr.—in the black man's fight for equality in America.

When the University of Mississippi was integrated in 1962, against the wishes of a riotous crowd, Meredith was the black student who risked his life to attend the school.

Today, a scant 20 years later, it is hard for the average college student to imagine such overt racism.

The blatant, overt racism which boiled to a head in the 1950s and '60s—which the Civil Rights act and the Voting Rights act and other legislation aimed to end—is gone today.

But a more dangerous type of racism is present in the '80s. A covert racism permeates through our society today.

It is more dangerous because the same resentment toward blacks exist, but people won't admit the bias.

Afro-American studies programs across the nation are becoming increasingly black in their enrollment. The assumption that there are "black" classes, which only blacks can take, is sad—and wrong.

This month—Black History Month—especially points up the need to address this covert discrimination that exists today.

Back in 1926, Carter G. Woodson saw a need to ease race tensions between whites and blacks, as well as to bring about the scholarly studying of blacks. His answer, "Black History Week," has been expanded into a month-long tribute to blacks' contributions to society.

The exploration of knowledge about black Americans, Woodson thought, would be the best way to increase knowledge, acceptance and appreciation of blacks.

Woodson's original objectives remain the primary goals of Black History Month even today, and in the changing mood of the '80s, the importance of these goals is underlined even more.

The University Board has attempted to raise the consciousness of Eastern students by having special events and visiting speakers to mark Black History Month.

We could all do well to listen to Meredith's recounting of America's sorriest chapters—and finally close the book on racial prejudice.

Interested students who wish to seek more information on DUI are encouraged to attend an alcohol forum sponsored by the Student Senate Awareness Committee and OCSHA 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday in the west end of the Union Ballroom.

Becky Markwell, Comprehensive Alcohol Safety Project coordinator for Eastern, will speak on the aspects of the recently aquired grant and how Eastern obtained it.

Rich McCoy of the Illinois State Police will speak on Illinois' drunk driving laws. Janet Winter-Black, assistant states attorney for Coles County, will speak on the prosecution of drunk driving offenders.

Four Eastern students will then be tested for levels of alcohol to demonstrate effects. A panel discussion will take place following the presentations.

Malone—paranoid or ignorant?

Editor:

In a recent letter to the editor, author Neal Malone expresses concern "about the tendency of some females to harbor and cultivate paranoid feelings in regards to males, with the belief that every move made is a progression toward rape."

Perhaps he is unaware, as many men are, that:

- One to three women will be sexually assaulted in their lifetime—one to 13 will be raped.
- Every six minutes a woman is raped. Every eighteen seconds a woman is beaten or physically abused by someone she loves.
- Most women are not raped by strangers, but men they know and trust. In studies of male undergraduates at UCLA and the University of Wisconsin, only one third said there was no possibility that they could be sexually violent toward women.
- Violent pornography depicting female victims has increased in "adult only" books and films, as well as in Penthouse and Playboy. There was one rape-per-book in the top selling 400 adult books in 1968. In 1974 there were four rapes per book.
- The Coles County Women Against Rape has received 16 area rape reports since September. The vast majority of these women (with an age range from under 12 to over 60) were raped by friends, boyfriends, husbands or relatives.
- Ninety nine percent of all female Eastern students surveyed report having experienced verbal public harassment on campus.

In light of the above statistics, behavior which seems "paranoid" might better be understood as women's perception of real threat and potential danger.

Malone's diagnosis of paranoia is unfortunate.

Handwritten letters will be accepted if they are legible.

Reagan's panel voids 30 years of gain

The newly restructured U.S. Civil Rights Commission has taken some bold steps to alleviate things that have stuck in the craw of the Reagan administration—not poverty or minority discrimination, but rather the recent progress that has been made in employing minority workers.

According to the commission's chairman, Clarence Pendleton, the commission "is not to deal with the problems of the poor..." and, "It's not a commission dealing with minorities." Obviously.

The Civil Rights Commission is concerned more with finding ways to eliminate minority protection systems than it is with strengthening them.

One of the best examples of successful minority protections in the past 25 years has been racial quotas in hiring employees, known as affirmative action.

These quotas ensure that prejudiced employers will not overlook qualified job candidates just because of their skin color. And as much as we'd like to think that those days of racial bigotry are over, prejudicial hiring practices would rear their ugly head quickly if no affirmative action quotas were in place.

Tell that to Mr. Pendleton, the head of our nation's Civil Rights Commission.

"What we believe on the commission is that quotas impermissably infringe upon the 14th Amendment protection rights of all Americans," Pendleton said Sunday, Jan. 29 on Face The Nation.

Crossviews:

The Daily Illini

It is true that quotas can be overzealously instituted and enforced. Most people have heard horror stories of qualified employees turned down for a job because the company had to blindly follow "the quota," hiring minority individuals that couldn't perform up to par.

A quota that calls for a proportion of minority workers considerably higher than the minority population of an area is unfair. This shouldn't mean, however, that a company with a 1 percent minority workforce in an area with a 20 percent minority population should be allowed to continue its monopoly of social injustices.

If Reagan or Pendleton think that the 300-year history of white American racism has been erased during the past few decades, they are wrong.

And the blindness on Reagan's part is quite clear to the many minority Americans that are seeing their opportunities severely limited by his policies.

He has opened up minority opportunities in one area though—to vote him out of office this November.

Low turnout for Senate activity

by Nancy Bridges

Senate Speaker Ron Wesel said he was "disappointed" in the turnout for the "Meet the Senate" night held during the recess of the Student Senate meeting Wednesday.

Wesel said, "People are disgusted with us, but when we gave them the opportunity to come talk to us they didn't come."

Six students attended the program which was planned to give students the opportunity to meet senators and express their concerns.

Senator Audrey Dumentat said she was also disappointed with the turnout.

Dumentat added that the turnout could have been better if there had been time for more promotion before "Meet the Senate" night was held.

In other meeting business, the senate approved unanimously a motion to support the Buddy Button System, a volunteer student escort service currently being formed on Eastern's campus.

In addition, the senate approved a by-law which allows the legislative leadership committee to conduct an exit interview with outgoing senators and executive officers.

The senate also approved five students to student-faculty boards.

The appointments include John Modder, Apportionment Board; Christine Peradotti, Sports and Recreation Board; Matt Basale, Union Board; Mike Pramshafer, WELH Advisory Board and Laurie Saturn, Women's Studies Council.

Rives shortens work week

by Kris Nicholson

Eastern's 1984 summer work week for university employees will be shortened from five days to four and a half days.

Eastern President Stanley Rives announced plans to alter the summer session work week to 37½ hours in the Feb. 3 University Newsletter.

Rives has scheduled working hours from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 7:30 a.m. to noon on Friday.

In addition, Rives shortened the lunch break to 45 minutes as compared to the current one-hour lunch period.

A survey of civil service employees and consultations with academic and administrative personnel showed there was interest in changing the working schedule. Currently, employees work from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Glenn Williams, vice president for student affairs, said Rives approved the work schedule on an experimental basis. Rives was unavailable for comment Wednesday.

George Miller, vice president for administration and finance, said Tuesday that the change is being made to "benefit the workers."

Miller said the work-schedule change will affect all offices across campus with "some exceptions," he said. Exceptions include security, switchboard, the heating plant and the library.

Exceptions are based on demonstrated needs and recommended by the appropriate vice president.

Williams noted that offices such as security "can't send their people home for the weekend—there wouldn't be any university left when they got back."

In previous years, a "flexible schedule has been in effect," Miller said. The flexible system allowed workers to adjust schedules to make summer work more convenient.

"This was a problem because some offices couldn't take advantage," Miller said. However, he added that the new working schedule will still not allow all offices "to take advantage."

Miller added that the working schedule will not affect summer school classes which run four days a week.

Eastern student hurt during one-car crash

Eastern student Lydia Palmer remains hospitalized at Burnham Hospital in Champaign, recovering from injuries sustained in a single-car accident Jan. 27.

According to Coles County Sheriff's Department records, Palmer, a junior from Charleston, was driving on Westfield Rd. in Hutton and lost control of her car.

The car skidded off the road and struck a telephone pole, leaving Palmer unconscious. She was taken to Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center and was later transferred to Burnham.

She is currently listed in stable condition and has regained consciousness, Burnham officials said Wednesday.

Breath test given tonight

by Doug Apple

Charleston police will be on hand Thursday in the Union to administer sobriety tests to students as a part of Eastern's Alcohol Forum.

The forum is co-sponsored by the Student Senate Awareness Committee and the Off-Campus Student Housing Association.

Senator Glenn Good, student awareness committee co-chairman, said the highlight of the forum will be a breathalyzer test and sobriety demonstration using four Eastern students who will be given prescribed amounts of alcohol prior to the forum.

OCSHA President Barb Krug said Herb Steidinger, Charleston's assistant police chief will administer the coordination tests to the students.

Good said speakers will also discuss various issues concerning alcohol.

Becky Markwell, Comprehensive Alcohol Safety Program project coordinator, will discuss the CASP grant, Good said.

The forum will be presented from 7-9 p.m. Thursday in the west end of the Union Ballroom.

AB to hear budget request

by Pete Swanberg

The Apportionment Board Thursday will hear the second half of the University Board budget requests for Fiscal Year 1984-85, Student Body President John Cole said.

The UB will present seven committee budgets and explain the reasons for the requested amounts, Cole said.

The first half of the budget was presented at last week's AB meeting.

AB Chairman Jeff Hunt said that each committee's budget is broken down into line-items which explain how the allotted funds for each budget will be spent.

In other business, the Sports and Recreation Board is expected to request traveling funds and a line-item transfer, Hunt said.

The traveling funds will be used to finance a trip to the National Recreational Sports Association Conference in Fort Worth, Texas.

David Dutler, ex-officio Sports and Recreation Board member, and three Eastern students are planning to attend the conference March 29-April 3.

The AB will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Union addition Arcola-Tuscola room.

communication they can be worked out," Justice said.

However, Russell and other Lincoln Hall residents said bathrooms are cleaned at times when they are in heavy demand. Sophomore Lisa Neff said the bathroom she uses is cleaned between 7:30 a.m. and 8:15 a.m.

"It's not really that he's a guy. It's the time he does the cleaning," Neff said. "I wouldn't mind if he cleaned after noon."

But Hencken said it is "not as simple as most people think" to schedule the cleaning of bathrooms in the afternoon hours.

"What are you going to have them do in the morning?" he asked. "We had them vacuum in the morning and then we had complaints that they were vacuuming at 7:30 a.m. when people were sleeping."

The Housing Office attempted to close bathrooms when they were being cleaned but that policy "caused resentment from both residents and building service workers," he added.

Hencken said, "In a couple of areas we made a mistake—like when we tried to close the bathroom at 7:30 a.m. in the morning."

In light of the problems and complaints raised by Eastern students, Hencken said, individual problems involving male building service workers cleaning female bathrooms will be looked at "in a case-by-case manner."

Klammer still Olympic hero

SARAJEVO, Yugoslavia (AP)—The roar of 10,000 voices is still in the ears Franz Klammer. He remembers the adulation of more than 2 million Austrians.

It was his moment of glory, a stunning victory in the men's downhill at the 1976 Winter Olympics at Innsbruck, Austria, Klammer's home country.

Klammer is back at the XIV Olympic Winter Games, after missing the 1980 Games at Lake Placid, N.Y., because he was in a slump. This time, he was honored by his teammates and picked to carry the Austrian flag in Wednesday's opening ceremonies.

He has staged a remarkable comeback this season, winning one race, and finishing high in two others. But on the slopes of Mount Bjelasnica, where the downhill gold medal will be contested Thursday, his best training run was only 11th fastest of the day.

"How can I forget the victory eight years ago," he said, "This was no everyday affair. This was something you will always remember."

"It was my biggest success. The downhill there was difficult, because the race was in my home country. I probably have not done better anywhere before or since then."

Klammer's career record shows 25 World Cup downhill victories, plus the Olympic gold and a runner-up finish in the world championship downhill in St. Moritz, Switzerland, in 1974.

His Olympic victory came on a sunny day on Mount Patcherkofel, which overlooks Innsbruck, the capital of Tyrol.

The winner of the 1972 Olympic downhill race, Switzerland's Bernhard Russi, was in first place with a time of 1 minute, 46.06 seconds.

ing corps with the signing of William Perkins, a 6-foot-3, 215 pound running back from Georgetown High School.

Eastern also pooled the local stock, coming up with quarterback Scott Johnson out of Newton High School.

Johnson, 6-foot-3, 180 pounds, who was heavily recruited by Panther head coach Al Molde, also committed, place kicked, kicked off and returned punts and kickoffs at Newton.

Eastern also signed wide receiver-defensive back Mike Altekruze from Carbondale High School.

Altekruze, 5-foot-11, 165 pounds, a two-time All-South Seven player, caught 28 passes for 585 yards and three touchdowns last season. He also threw three touchdown passes.

Heading the list of recruits for the offensive and defensive lines is Joliet Catholic's Sean O'Brien at 6-foot-2, 250 pounds.

O'Brien, an offensive tackle, was a first-team pick in the East Suburban Conference last season.

Dave Popp, Mike Edwards and Dave Lewandowski were the only other offensive linemen to sign with Eastern.

Edwards, a 6-foot-3, 240 pounder, and Lewandowski, a 6-foot-4, 255 pounder, also play on the defensive line.

Popp is a 6-foot-5, 210 pounder from Libertyville High School.

Rounding out the list of recruits were junior college transfers James Reddicks and Stanley Turner along with prepster Steve Porter.

Reddicks is another on a lengthening list of Eastern recruits from Santa Anna Junior College. Reddicks is a 5-foot-10, 180 pound defensive back.

Linebacker Stanley Turner, 6-foot-1, 218 pounds, from Hinds Junior College in Mississippi and Steve Porter, 6-foot-2, 190 pounds, from Gordon Tech High School round out the list of Panther recruits.

Drake player Eastern must be aware of Thursday night.

Forwards Kay Riek, who leads the GCAC with 8.1 assists, and Dawn Wumkes each average over 60 percent shooting from the field.

"Riek and Wumkes are our two toughest defensive players," Baumgarten said. "Eastern will have to concentrate on getting past them also."

Hilke said the Panther offense will concentrate on moving inside against Riek and Wumkes.

"We'll have to put the ball on the floor and drive toward the basket," she said. "They tend to give up a lot of baseline and we feel we can do a much better job than last game."

Baumgarten said Thursday's game will be different from her squad's first outing against Eastern, a 70-59 Drake win, "because all the league teams have improved."

"This is the second half of the season and people have improved and teams have made changes," Baumgarten said. "Right now we're playing extremely well."

Drake, which shares second place with Illinois State University at 6-1, enjoys a slight lead over Eastern, 6-3, in the GCAC standings.

Hilke said, "We need to win this one. We lost to Drake last time not because we couldn't play well, but because we didn't play well; we are very capable of winning."

Baumgarten agreed a victory Thursday is equally important for her team. "Every game is do or die for us," she said. "We have to win this one."

Grappler Bernie Reuttiger (above) and his brother Mark Reuttiger (below) are confident they can place in the NCAA Division I Championships. If they accomplish their goal, they will gain All American status. (News Photos by Beth Lander and Sam Paisley)

Grappler pair ready for nationals

by David Gronowski

Bernie and Mark Ruettinger have more in common than brotherhood. They both wrestle for Eastern and possess a desire to be All-Americans.

"They're both capable of placing at nationals," Eastern head coach Ralph McCausland said recently. "They have the potential to go up against anybody."

Bernie, 24-8, is in his final season. "I feel like I've been beaten only twice this year," he said. "I'm having a good year and if I release my potential and ability I can go to nationals and place. Whoever gets hot can win it all."

NCAA All-American honors are based on place finishes at the Division I national championship meet. Both Ruettingers would have to advance to the final round to earn All-American status.

In regards to his chance to earn the All-American rating, younger brother Mark said, "College wrestling is a lot of peaks. You have to peak at the right time and I feel like I am."

Bernie, who wrestles at 142 pounds, has 72 career victories at Eastern. "Bernie has had a tremendous season," McCausland said. "He relies on technique and has only one weakness, his riding time. But he's been improving as the year goes on and he needs to finish strong."

Mark, a sophomore who wrestled at 134 pounds for much of the year, will cut down to 126 for the remainder of the season.

"He's a small 134 pounder," McCausland said. "It'll be tough for him to go down to 126, but he's the type of kid that it won't affect his performance. I think he could do well at either one."

Although he hasn't won any tournaments, Bernie placed second at the Illinois Open and third at the Michigan State Invitational and Southwest Missouri State Open. His most impressive showing was Feb. 2 at Illinois State University.

"He won by superior decision against a tough kid," McCausland said.

Mark's most impressive showing was at the University of Miami—Ohio's Redskin Open. Wrestling at 126 for the first time, he proceeded to pin all three opponents on his way to the championship.

Gridders sign 10 'blue-chip' recruits for fall

by Jeff Long

Eastern's football program, currently trying to replace 23 players, Wednesday signed 10 high school recruits and two junior college recruits to national letters of intent.

The list of Panther recruits features several respective all-area players and includes Illinois' leading high school scorer for the last two years.

James Marable, a 5-foot-10, 175-pound running back who also plays defensive back, is one of two impressive running backs Eastern signed Wednesday.

Marable, who prepped at Schurz High School in Chicago, was the leading scorer in Illinois the last two seasons with 53 touchdowns—23 as a junior, 30 last year as a senior.

Eastern's grid staff landed another strong recruit to replace running backs Kevin Staple and Wes Nixon, who exhausted their eligibility last year.

Running back Jeff Shepard, 5-foot-9, 200 pounds, was a Chicago Sun Times First-Team player last season at Richards High School in Oak Lawn.

Shepard, who began his senior season as a guard and switched to running back with seven games remaining, rushed for 1,132 yards and 11 touchdowns in those games.

In addition, Shepard was a unanimous all-conference pick in the SICA North Conference last season.

Eastern may have added some power to their run. (See GRIDDETS, page 11)

Women cagers clash with Drake

by Mike Sengstock

Lorri Bauman, Drake University's highly-touted center, possesses a big edge over Eastern's women's basketball team even before the two teams square off 7:30 p.m. Thursday night in Des Moines, Iowa.

Bauman proved with a 34-point outing against Eastern Jan. 14 that she can more than handle the Panthers' defense, which worries Panther head coach Bobbie Hilke.

"We'll have to do a better job fronting Bauman this game; we can't let her roam around," Hilke said Wednesday. "We let her roam around too much in the last game."

The 6-foot-3 center currently leads all Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference scorers with a 29.7 point average per game.

"We didn't have very good games out of three or four players the last time we played Drake," Hilke said. "We have to click on all cylinders to win this time."

Eastern forward Chris Aldridge has the task of defending Bauman, but Drake coach Carol Baumgarten said, "It will take more than one player to stop her."

"Bauman's beaten the best in the country," Baumgarten said. "To stop Bauman, you'll have to put more than one player on her and that leaves other players open."

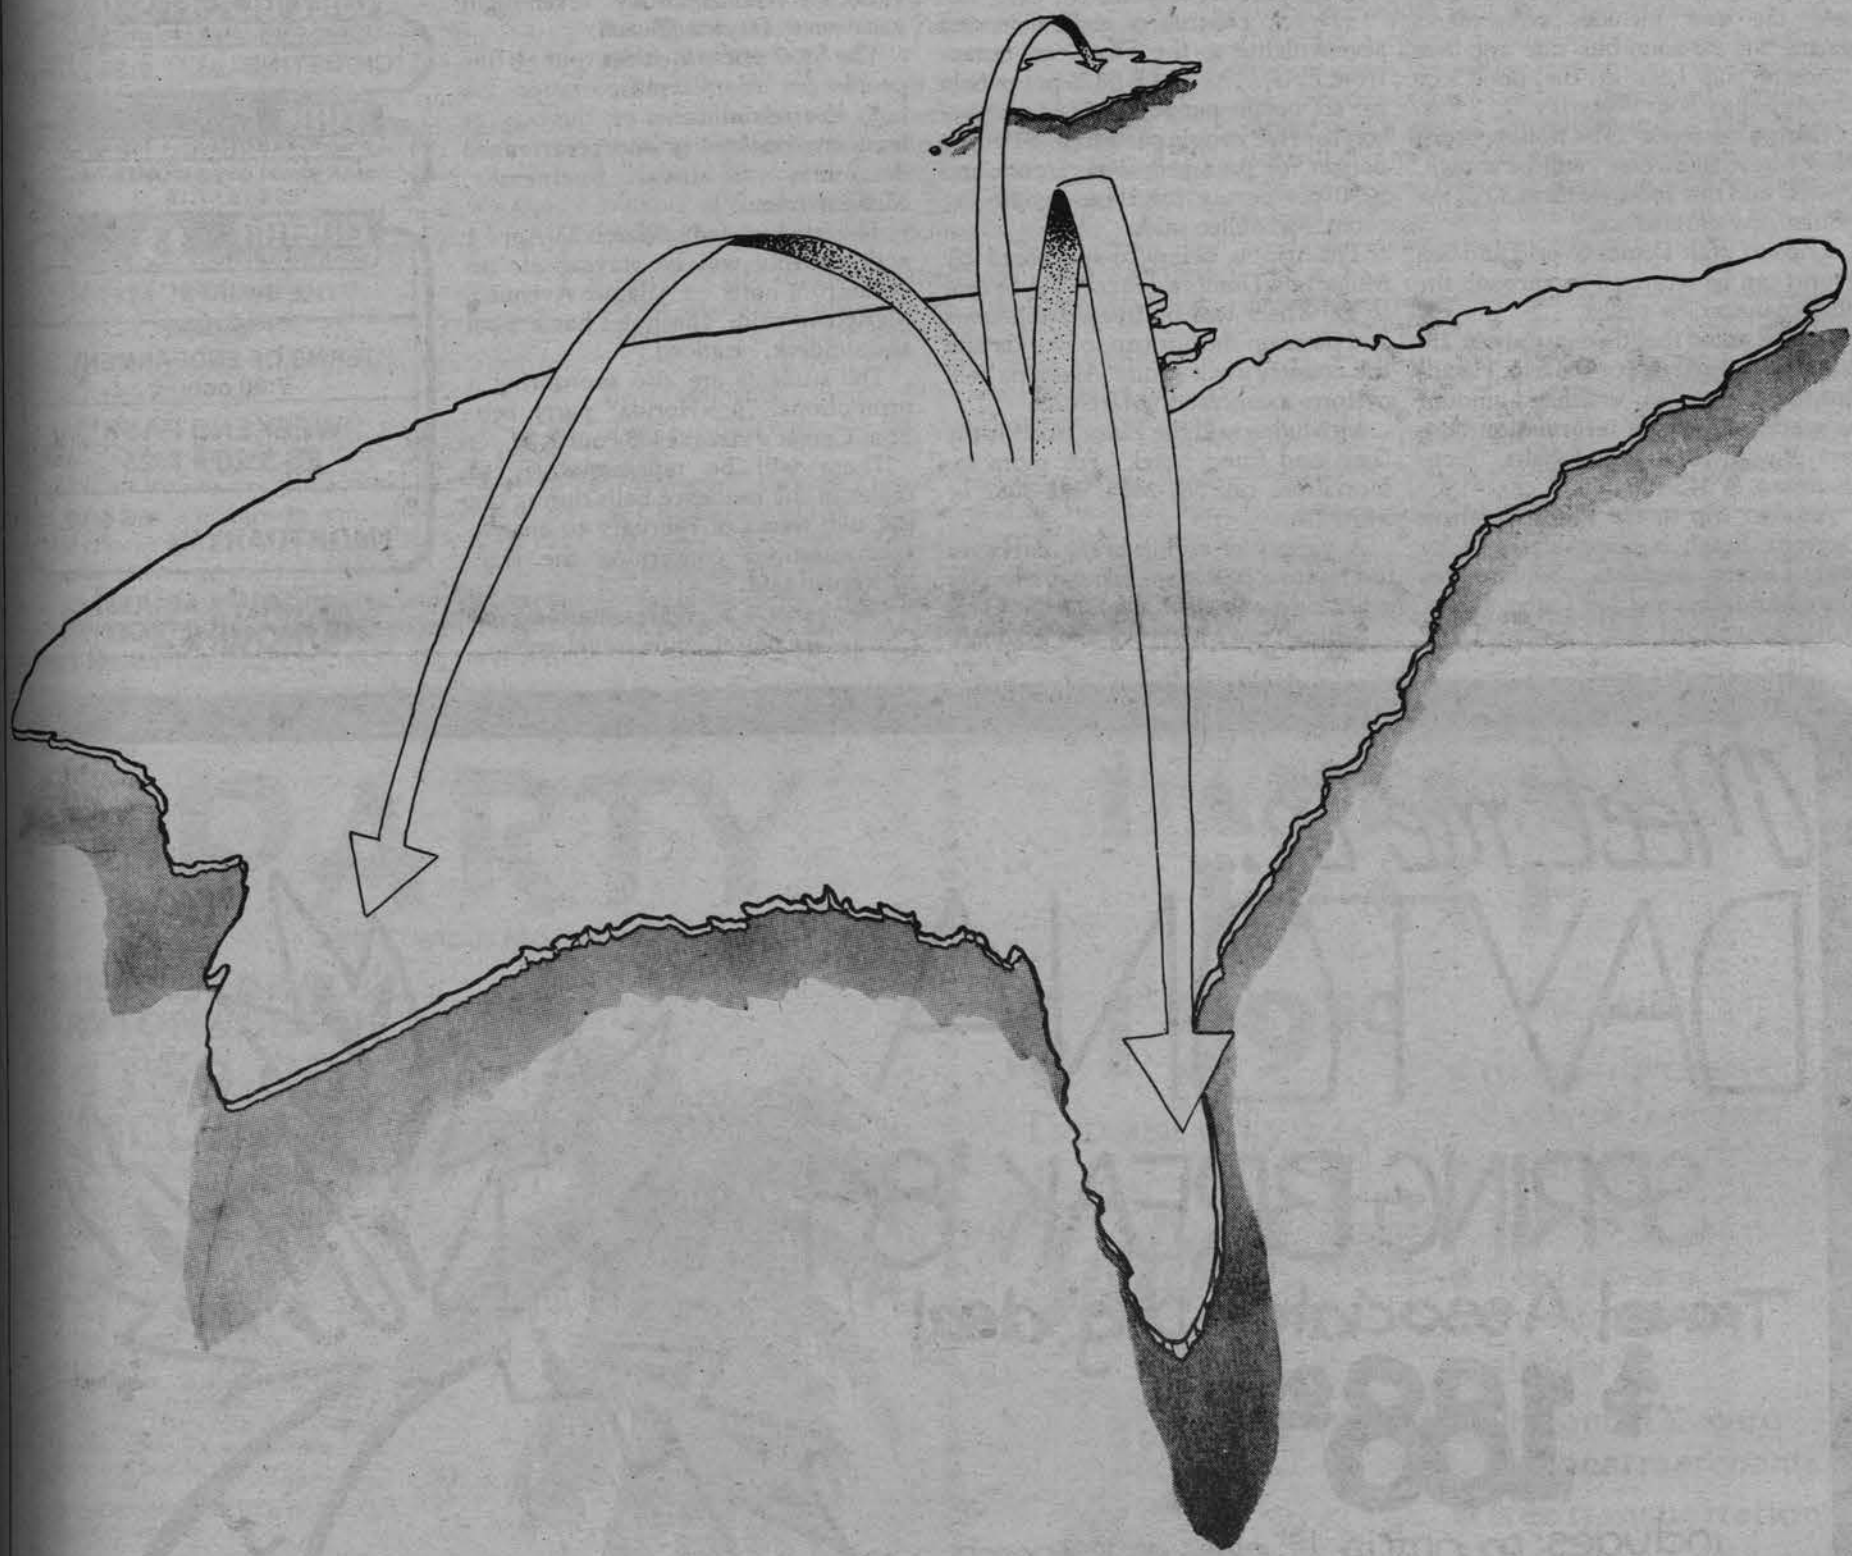

However, Baumgarten said Bauman is not the only (See WOMEN, page 11)

Spring break travel packages help when low on cash

by Debra Klauer

Students who are low on cash, but still have a hankering to travel may find a vacation package which suits both them and their pocketbooks by checking out spring break travel packages.

To help students find an affordable vacation plan, some area travel agencies and Eastern students are offering spring break packages that should please the sun-seeking student.

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity is offering a spring break trip to the Plaza Hotel on Daytona Beach from March 23-April 1. The cost varies from $169-$189.

A six-person room costs $169, while a five-person suite costs $179 and four-person accommodations cost $189.

Bryant Powell, fraternity president and house representative for the trip, said the cost includes refreshments during the 20-hour bus ride and free concerts and kegs at the pool side during happy hour everyday.

During the week, "The Rolling Stone New Music Showcase" will be shown. Powell said this show features 30 of the hottest new musical acts.

Trips to Walt Disney World and Sea World can be arranged by through the hotel manager, he added.

Powell noted that there are about 25-30 people signed up for the trip. He added that there is an "unlimited amount of space." For more information contact Powell or Paul Fabsits, co-chairman, at 345-9084.

Another trip to the Plaza Hotel on Daytona Beach is being arranged by four Eastern students. Sophomores Marc McMullen and Jeff Luthe, Junior Scott Mountford and Senior Dave Eisenbarth are arranging trips directly through the Plaza Hotel.

The trip consists of eight days and seven nights at the Plaza, an oceanfront hotel. The cost is $175 per person for six people per room, $187 per person for five people per room, $199 per person for four people per room and $230 per person for three people per room, McMullen said.

The trip is being co-sponsored by Miller and Domino's Pizza, 611 Seventh St. There will be free refreshments and pizza on the bus trip to Florida and the country rock group Alabama will perform a concert on March 26.

McMullen said the Plaza Hotel is the "best and finest hotel." For more information, call 581-2684, 348-8082 or 345-3716.

A variety of spring break packages to Daytona Beach are being offered by other independent students.

Senior Tom McKeown and graduate student Mike Theole are taking reservations for an eight-day, seven-night vacation to Daytona Beach.

The $159 price, includes four to five people per room, transportation via bus, free refreshments on the bus, at least one pool party and prearranged discounts at local businesses, McKeown said.

The trip lasts from March 23-April 1 and students will be staying at "an oceanfront hotel on Atlantic Avenue," McKeown said. The hotel has a pool and sundeck, he added.

The students are also sponsoring a promotional "pre-Florida" party Feb. 21 at Caesar's Pizza, 1508 Fourth St.

There will be representatives at tables in the residence halls during the last two weeks of February to answer any questions concerning the trip, McKeown said.

Eisenbarth, a representative for Chicago's Coastal Tours travel agency, also is arranging bus trips to Daytona Beach. The cost for the trip is regularly $189, but Eisenbarth is sponsoring a special this week only for $159 per person for four people.

Instead of paying for the trip, it can also be won by an Eastern student through the "Famous Travelers Trivia Contest" which is sponsored by Coastal Tours and the Daily Eastern News marketing staff.

The organizations will award one

Travelers' checks

Officials tell where, what kind to buy and how to protect them

by Kerri Niemann

With spring break quickly approaching, many students may be scrimping and saving every penny. To keep those pennies safe during vacation, students may want to purchase travelers' checks.

Area bank officials recently offered tips about buying travelers' checks including where to buy them, how to protect them from thieves, and which brand to buy.

John Adams, Charleston National Bank employee, 605 Lincoln, said in order to obtain travelers' checks, students should have a current account at the bank at which they buy the checks or simply purchase them with cash.

Students can also obtain travelers' checks by having family or friends wire the request from their home bank, Adams said.

"As long as the bank collects the funds, the checks will be given out," he noted.

Clint Mausehund, assistant head cashier of Mattoon Bank, 333 Broadway, Mattoon, said charges for "American Express is used more often, but that is because the name is more recognizable," she added.

the checks are minimal with $1 being charged for each $100 being purchased.

Once the checks are purchased, security must be considered. Robert Roessle, of Visa travelers' checks security office in San Francisco, said the most important thing for students to remember when using travelers' checks is that they should be treated just like money.

In addition, Roessle said students should remember to sign the checks after purchasing them.

Adams agreed that once the checks are purchased, the person who buys them should immediately sign them. When any check is used, they must be resigned in the space provided, to make them valid, he added.

Signing them twice is also a protection measure. If the checks were lost or stolen, the person who possesses them must complete a clever forgery of the owner's signature in order to use the checks, Adams noted.

"Most stores ask for another form of identification. Although, if the person has the owner's whole wallet, this can sometimes mean nothing," he added.

Therefore, the countersignature becomes important and the only way the checks can be valuable for another party is if they are a good forgery artist, Adams noted.

If they aren't signed, Roessle said the company issuing the checks are not responsible for refunding stolen funds.

Roessle also advised that students should record the serial numbers of all checks spent or stolen, thus making it easier for the company.

Adams also said purchasers should record the number of checks they use, so that if they are lost or stolen, the exact number of checks will be known.

Roessle said that for the most part, "losses are kept down to such a small degree that these (travelers' checks companies) are profitable."

As for the different brands of checks, Adams said he recommends Citicorp. "They have a better refund policy. Otherwise, all the checks are basically the same."

However, Virginia Gould, head teller at the Bank of Charleston, 621 W. Lincoln, said she found no one travelers' check to be superior than any others. "American Express is used more often, but that is because the name is more recognizable," she added.

Kathy Shonk, assistant head teller of Eagle Bank, 701 Sixth St., agreed with Gould and noted that American Express has been in circulation longer than Visa or Citicorp which helps its popularity.

Mausehund said both Citicorp and American Express, which are carried by the Mattoon bank, are reputable companies. "We have had no problem with either company," he said.

The only time a problem occurs is when a particular business, such as a restaurant or gas station, has had a bad experience with the check company and refuses them, but this is rare, Mausehund added.

Regarding refund policies, Shonk noted that the policy is basically the same for both Visa and American Express companies. To secure a refund, the purchaser of the checks must take positive identification to any bank or company office.

The checks, Shonk said, should be refunded on the spot. Gould said American Express also has refund offices in Holiday Inns across the world.

To get a refund from Citicorp, Adams said the student needs the yellow receipt that was given with the travelers' checks when purchased. With the receipt and a picture identification any Citicorp office will give an automatic refund on the spot.

If the person does not have the original receipt, Adams said a partial refund will be given at that time with the remaining money returned within 24 hours.

Officials offer travel tips to make vacation a breeze

by Vicki Vass

Students planning to go away for spring break may be interested in some traveling tips to make their spring vacations less hectic.

Local travel agencies offer assistance concerning the proper ways to prepare for travel.

Kay Saltmarsh, agent at Arrow Travel, 1115 Lincoln Ave., said students should pack lightly to allow for any souvenirs they might want to purchase on their trips.

In addition, Saltmarsh said, "Carry all medication. All valuable jewelry should be worn on the body and not left in the hotel."

Bill Kinsall, manager of Charleston Travel Bureau, 502 Sixth St., said tickets should be kept on the traveler's body and not left in the hotel room.

Saltmarsh said that once the traveler has figured out what he will take and how much will be taken, the next step is to check into weekday air fare.

"The cheapest travel is Tuesday and Wednesday but they are always booked at least seven to 14 days in advance," she said.

In addition, Kinsall advises customers to order tickets early to ensure a lower air fare.

"People should also check into the length of stay; some airlines require over-the-weekend stay, seven days or 14 days. These can apply to where they are going," he added.

Saltmarsh said when an airline changes a plane to a different route at the last minute, reduced promotional fares will be posted.

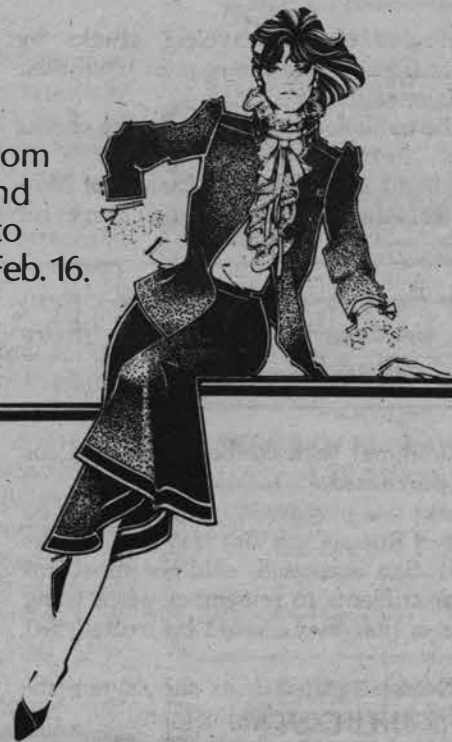

Kinsall said students should also purchase trip cancellation insurance. This insurance guarantees a refund if the traveler is sick or an accident occurs and he must cancel the trip.

Beach Breaking

Daytona offers sun, fun and activities

by Pete Swanberg

Many Eastern students may be setting their sights on taking a trip to Daytona Beach, Florida with mild weather and spring break on the horizon.

Hotel officials and a member of the Daytona Beach Chamber of Commerce said recently that Daytona offers a wild combination of sun, fun and social activities.

Charles Humphrey, advertising and public relations executive for Daytona Beach said he is familiar not only with the social activities offered in Daytona, but also with the amount of money that is spent during the spring season.

Humphrey estimated that about $500 million is spent at Daytona Beach each season with each tourist "spending approximately $62 a day."

Although students may spend a substantial amount of money while in Daytona, Humphrey said many hotels in Daytona provide free activities for students which are sponsored by companies promoting their products.

"Spring break offers a captive audience for the companies who advertise in the literally hundreds of hotels in the resort area," Humphrey said.

"Jockey underwear had a popular event last year. What happened was that guys visiting the hotels would model the new designer jockey shorts for the girls," he said.

He said Playboy Enterprises also sponsors expositions at different hotels during the break season. These expositions contract companies such as Minolta Camera Co. to display their products.

Humphrey said the Daytona Inn and the Daytona Plaza hotels are very popular with students during spring break.

Don Shields, activities director for the Daytona Inn, said the hotel will sponsor a variety of activities directed toward college students, such as toga parties and fashion shows.

"We also have arm wrestling contests every Wednesday and rock n' roll bands every Monday," Shields added.

The contests are co-sponsored by Miller beer, which will provide free kegs and T-shirt giveaways during the events, he said.

Although contests have always been a popular poolside activity, Shields said wet T-shirt contests are being phased out by the Daytona Inn this year because "a couple of girls got excessively involved in the contest last year and ended up getting arrested." He added that the hotel was fined $200.

"Whenever you get hundreds of drunken college students together, especially for spring break, there's bound to be craziness," he said.

Shields noted that riverboat cruises have become a popular activity among college students visiting Daytona Beach. He said there are party cruises every night "where you pay $12 for the cruise and all the beer and wine you can drink."

In addition, Shields said the Daytona Inn provides a variety of ways for students to meet other students from different parts of the country, such as "nut and bolt parties, where the girls get a nut and the guys get a bolt and they have to find the one that matches."

A dating game will be conducted every Saturday, Shields said, with the prize being a free champagne cruise on the Viking Sun, a popular Mississippi riverboat which cruises the intercoastal waterway to the Ponce Inlet and ends at the Ponce De Leon Lighthouse where a party is held.

An employee for the Daytona Plaza hotel, who declined to offer her name, said a variety of activities, such as belly-flop contests, water wheel contests and dunking booths will be sponsored by the hotel.

The spokesman added that The Fixx will play by the pool on March 15 and other rock groups, such as Big Country and Heart, also will be in Daytona Beach during March.

With these activities and more being scheduled, students heading for Daytona should find plenty to keep them entertained.

Tips to aid foreign travel

Students planning to visit foreign countries for spring break will have to purchase a passport. Local travel agents recently outlined the steps to follow in obtaining the necessary passport.

Kay Saltmarsh, Arrow Travel agent, said to obtain a passport, the vacationer should see a photographer and explain to him that a passport photo is needed.

After the photo is developed, the vacationer should take the photo and a validated birth certificate to the circuit clerk's office. A fee of about $30 is required for the passport, she continued.

"It takes about four to 14 weeks. Also you should never leave your passport in your hotel room," Saltmarsh noted.

Bill Kinsall, Charleston Travel Bureau manager, said once the vacationer receives his passport, the traveler should leave a copy of the passport number with someone at home.

He said if the vacationer were to lose the passport, he would need the passport number so it could be traced.

Then, passport in hand and number duplicated, the vacationer should be ready to travel.

free trip for two to the Sanabell Inn on Daytona Beach. The winner will be selected from a drawing of 14 weekly winners who have correctly guessed answers to travelers trivia clues printed in the classified section of the News.

Students can relax on Daytona Beach for an even cheaper price by driving down to Florida at a discount price of $99 per person for four people per room, Eisenbarth said.

With this special vacation package, students will be staying at the Desert Isle Hotel which is an oceanfront hotel on the strip, he noted. The hotel has a pool area and for an additional $10 students may get a room with a kitchenette.

Besides trips to Daytona Beach, Eisenbarth is arranging trips to Ft. Walton Beach, which is located on the gulf side of Florida. The cost to Ft. Walton Beach is $169 per person for six people per room at the Blue Horizon Beach Resort.

"Ft. Walton is a total resort atmosphere," Eisenbarth said. "The rooms are like condominiums and have a separate bedroom, living room and kitchen," he added.

For only $99 per person, students may also drive to Ft. Walton instead of taking a bus. Both Coastal Tours trips include free refreshments en route, pool deck promotional parties, a welcome beer party and discount coupons at area businesses. For more information call Eisenbarth at 345-3716.

Two local travel agencies are also offering special trip packages for spring break.

Cross County Travel Agency, located in the Cross County Mall at 700 E. Broadway, is offering four specials, Manager Donica Matthews said.

She said vacations from St. Louis to Dallas cost $98 round trip and St. Louis to Las Vegas costs $199 round trip. The special also includes hotel and air fare for 3 nights at the Riviera Hotel.

Two other specials offered by the Cross County Travel Agency include a round trip vacation from Champaign to San Diego, Calif. for $238 and Chicago to Ft. Lauderdale, Florida for $190 round trip, she said.

Arrow Travel, 1115 Lincoln Ave., is also offering a variety of travel packages. For $307 sun-seekers can spend eight days and seven nights in Orlando, Florida. This price includes air fare from Chicago and accommodations at the Ramada Inn West for four persons per room.

Arrow also offers a trip from St. Louis to Denver for $158 round trip. St. Louis to Dallas and St. Louis to Houston are $98 round trip and $198 round trip, respectively.

If sun-seekers would rather soak it up in Las Vegas, it will cost them $199 for four days and three nights. This includes air fare from St. Louis and hotel accommodations in the Riviera or the Sands Hotel.

For a more elaborate vacation, vacationers can depart from Chicago and see the sights of Amsterdam, Alaska for $599 from March 24-31.

This includes accommodations for seven days and six nights at the Crest Hotel, 2 people per room, breakfast each morning, transfers between the airport and hotel, canal tour and guide book.

Some organizations which have traditionally offered spring break packages are not scheduling them this year.

Eastern's University Board will not be sponsoring a spring break trip. "We're not doing one this year because the administration said we can't compete with the other trips offered," UB Chairman Nancy Martin said. "It's just not feasible to do it this year."

Charleston Travel Bureau's manager, William Kinsall said they have single vacations arranged and planned for students but they do not have any bus or group tours scheduled this year.

Hawaiian luau wild, unraveling experience

Many students who go off to exotic places for spring break usually bring back some wild enticing tales to relive the experiences with their roommates.

Well, I have an interesting story to tell that may interest you. If it doesn't, laugh!

My experience took place in Hawaii. It didn't take place during spring break, it was summer vacation.

I involved dancing in front of 9,000 people who were, to say the least, drunk. The bad part was that I had to dance with a 500 pound Irish-Hawaiian whose name was O'Brien.

The thought of going to Hawaii for a few days, the land where Dole apples flourish, would appeal to any college student, especially if he was preparing to spend the rest of the summer broiling in a classroom in Sherman Hall.

But, during my Hawaiian vacation, I never realized that I would make a fool of myself by doing the hula in front of many red-eyed intoxicated speculators with a man who was bigger than the stage we danced upon.

Upon arriving in Hawaii, a tour guide approached our small group and explained the itinerary to us.

We were to visit the Honolulu Zoo, Pearl Harbor and participate in a luau.

The plans in store for us Chicago natives seemed quite inviting; however, my keen sense of fun and excitement tingled with livelihood when the tour guide mentioned the luau.

Ah, yes, lots and lots of assorted nachos and drinks that would make me feel like I had been on a topsy-turvy-hawaiian-merry-go-round by the end of the evening.

Tourists piled into the park by the thousands on the day of the luau. Once stepped off the bus, my grandmother, who accompanied me on the trip, was given a colorful drink called the "Blue Hawaii" by a hula girl who appeared younger than myself.

"Can I have one of those drinks?" "You look rather young to me. Here, I give you a virgin Blue Hawaii," the girl replied with a snottish English accent.

I decided not to embarrass the youngster by telling her I was 18, when in fact I was just 17 and three months old. I took the virgin drink and sat down to listen to the band that was beating away on the stage before me.

Personal File: Douglas Backstrom

Finally, the luau bell was sounded. The corn, mashed potatoes, beef and pork with glazed pineapple sauce was quite appealing to the tastebuds of a person who was used to the cooking a roommate did, which seemed like the recipe was something out of Popular Mechanics magazine.

After the luau, the entertainment began. A master of ceremonies came up on the stage and announced that five individuals from the audience were needed to dance with hawaiian dancers and a sixth was needed for an act that would be announced later that evening.

As I attempted to get out of the limelight, the young female with the English accent who so sweetly accommodated me earlier in the evening grabbed me and said, "Hey guy, where ya going."

Before I had an opportunity to respond, the little damsel signaled for three men in grass skirts to escort me to the back of the stage.

At this, I became somewhat concerned, to say the least.

At the back of the stage, I was given a grass skirt, a head band, anklets and bracelets.

My concern intensified to the point of utter bewilderment.

I was told I would go up on the stage with O'Brien—the Irish-Hawaiian who weighed 500 pounds—and together we would do an ancient hula that was considered "seductive to females in the audience," one of the men in the grass skirt said.

By now I had advanced to hysterics.

I heard audience members laughing at the victims who were before me. I heard them chanting, impatiently for the final act.

It was time for me to make my Hawaiian hula debut.

O'Brien met me halfway on the stage and he told me listen to the beat of the drums.

One spotlight was placed upon the swaying movements of my hips. The beat began to speed up along with my movements. Suddenly, I heard the thunderous roar of laughter. I thought I was doing pretty good considering I was dancing in front of more than 9,000 drunken vacationers. Michael Jackson, look out!

Then it happened. My grass skirt began unraveling. And I thought it was just a small draft.

I really don't understand what those people saw funny. I guess they never saw a black man turn red.
