Bank president to replace Edgar

by Kirby Pringle

Harry "Babe" Woodyard, a farmer and bank president from Chrisman, was named by the 53rd District county chairmen Friday to replace the House seat vacated by Rep. Jim Edgar.

Edgar resigned from his office Thursday to become legislative liaison for Gov. James Thompson.

Coles County Chairman Herb Brooks said Sunday Woodyard was elected unanimously, although it took several ballots to confirm his nomination.

"On the first ballot, Clark County

Chairman Bill Savage voted for himself, Vermilion County Chairman Joe Sanders voted for himself and Edgar County cast its votes for Woodyard," Brooks said.

The dissent among the chairmen on the first ballot left no candidate with a clear-cut majority. Brooks said the chairmen decided to vote again until one candidate emerged with a majority vote.

Brooks added that he originally supported Charleston City Commissioner John Beusch until he realized Beusch did not have enough support to win. He said he then swung his support to Woodyard.

"It obviously wasn't in the cards for John Beusch," he said; "although I think Beusch would have made a very good representative and probably would have reflected Jim Edgar's political views."

Beusch had said earlier that he would still run for 53rd district State Representative in 1980 even if not appointed by the county chairmen.

"Woodyard is absolutely strong enough to win re-election. He is a good candidate and will represent Coles County well," Brooks said.

"Coles County will not suffer, first, because he is an excellent candidate, and second, because of the political reality of the size of our county," he added.

Woodyard is currently a member of the Danville Junior College Board of Trustees. He has previously served as chairman of the Edgar County Board of Supervisors, on the Chrisman School Board, and as president of the Edgar County School Association.

Rep. Coffey decides to retain 53rd district post

While one area legislator resigned last week to accept a position in Governor James Thompson's administration, another one who had toyed with the idea has apparently changed his mind.

State Senator Max Coffey, R-Charleston, indicated Friday in a press release that he will remain in office, after announcing three months ago that he was considering resigning.

Another Charleston area representative, Jim Edgar, resigned last week to join Thompson's administration as the governor's legislative liaison.

Coffey announced last December that due to the negative response of his constituents against his support of a pay increase for Illinois legislators, he was considering resigning from the office he had been elected to in November.

Coffey said his threat of resignation was basically a trial balloon to "see if the public wants me as a full-time legislator or what."

One of the reasons Coffey cited in support of the pay hike was the cost of maintaining his offices in Charleston, Danville and Springfield. He had considered closing one or more of them, but has decided to keep all three open,

Sen. Max Coffey...
...not going to resign

he said.

In the press release, Coffey stated "after reviewing his mail, phone calls and street conversation about the controversial pay increase, he found that a large majority of his initial supporters were still backing him."

Coffey added his supporters felt that he had "worked very hard for the 53rd district" and thought he should continue serving as state senator.

AB scheduled to discuss student activity budgets

by Vicki McGrath

The Apportionment Board Monday will begin hearing budget presentations from 14 student fee supported activities to determine appropriations for the next fiscal year.

AB Chairman Tom Dersch said Sunday the AB "has a ballpark figure of around $265,000 maximum from fee income and interest income to allocate to student activities."

Dersch added that requests from the activities total around $290,000.

"That means we have to determine where the fat is, if there is any, and decide where it can be cut so that it does not affect substantially the quality of the program," Dersch said.

Dersch said on Monday advisers from the Eastern News, Warbler, Vehicle, Health Service, University Board, student government and the Apportionment Board will present their budgets.

Budgets will be presented Tuesday from spokesmen for the Players, the general music budget, the sports and recreation budget, WELH, forensics, the University Model United Nations, and the Art Board.

"The members of the AB have had the proposed budgets for a couple of days and had a chance to review them," Dersch said.

"The budget presentations are our time to question activity advisers to determine justification for certain

AB Chairman Tom Dersch...
...AB to cut budget fat requests," Dersch said.

Dersch said the AB, which has eight student members and three faculty members, "has a substantial say in what money goes where."

Monday's session will begin at 6:15 p.m. in the University Union Ballroom.

The AB will discuss and determine final appropriations on Saturday and Sunday and their recommendations will then be sent to President Daniel E. Marvin for final approval.

Mideast pact not final — Carter

JERUSALEM — President Carter conferred for almost five hours Sunday with Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin but adjourned without agreement in the quest for a Mideast peace treaty.

Begin announced the Israeli Cabinet would meet late Sunday so that treaty terms may be “clarified and decided upon.”

The prime minister said Carter would meet with the Cabinet on Monday to receive its decision.

“We have not yet reached a final agreement,” Carter said as he emerged from the prime minister’s office.

“Important issues remain to be resolved,” he added. “All of us are dedicated to continue with our best efforts to reach success.”

Carter and Begin adjourned to attend a state dinner, where they heard a concert by Isaac Stern. Their advisers continued to meet into the night in the prime minister’s office.

Associate White House press secretary Jerrold Schecter said they were discussing “ideas for resolving the differences.” Those at the session included U.S. Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance and Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan.

After his talks with Carter, Begin said he assumed Vance would fly to Cairo to inform Egyptian President Anwar Sadat of Israel’s decision.

“There are serious problems and we are dealing with them very seriously,” the prime minister said.

The president described the talks as friendly, frank and thorough. Begin said they were “very serious and also, I suppose, very friendly as the president said.”

(AP) News shorts

It was understood the American delegation was concerned about the situation and feels that prospects for a treaty are still very much up in the air.

Pressure ousts China’s advisers

BANGKOK, Thailand — China said Sunday its advisers have been kicked out of Laos under Soviet and Vietnamese pressure, and accused Hanoi of tightening its grip on its small and weak western neighbor as part of a drive to dominate all of Indochina.

Vietnam fired a propaganda barrage back at Peking, accusing Chinese Vice Premier Deng Xiaoping Teng Hsiao-ping of forging a “devilish alliance” with Washington and saying the cowboy hat Deng donned in Texas shows his “real nature.”

Vietnam claimed fierce fighting continued Sunday against the Chinese invasion force near their common border and accused China of firing more than 3,000 rounds of artillery into the coastal province of Quang Ninh, destroying homes and a ceramics factory.

Hanoi again insisted that the Chinese were not withdrawing, as Peking had announced last Monday. It said in some areas Chinese troops were actually advancing.

But Western analysts in Thailand said China apparently was continuing a slow pull-out of its forces.

They said they could not substantiate Vietnamese claims that Chinese troops were shooting wounded Vietnamese soldiers and civilians and had fired on a Red Cross vehicle.

Vietnam has repeatedly accused the Chinese of mass atrocities in the three-week-old war.

Official predicts deep recession

WASHINGTON — Sen. Henry M. Jackson said Sunday the United States is heading into a deep recession because of skyrocketing oil prices and short supplies engineered by the oil producing nations of the Mideast.

Jackson, chairman of the Senate Energy Committee, predicted that decision abroad will result in gasoline prices in America reaching $1 a gallon within a year. That will cause the American inflation rate and bank interest rates to shoot up, he said, causing a severe economic slowdown.

Many private economists have been predicting for some time that 1979 would bring a mild recession, but the Carter administration has disputed even that view.

Jackson, a Democrat from Washington state, made his predictions in a television interview on ABC’s “Issues and Answers.”

He blames a new strategy by the members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries of simultaneously limiting production and raising prices.

OPEC has raised prices from time to time to adjust for inflation in the past, but the organization generally has not engaged in attempts to deliberately create shortages as a way to raise prices.

Razing planned for Gacy home

CHICAGO — Law-enforcement officials scheduled a meeting for Thursday to draft plans for demolishing the home of accused mass murderer John W. Gacy in their search for more bodies and evidence.

The officials said they would hold the meeting at Gacy’s home, where another body was discovered Friday, leading investigators to speculate the number of bodies linked to Gacy could climb.

State’s Attorney Bernard Carey has scheduled the meeting Thursday during which Cook County Sheriff’s investigators, a condemnation expert and a representative of the county Building Department will draft plans for seeking court permission to tear down what is left of Gacy’s house.

Only the outside walls and roof of the house are still standing, but investigators say they want to dig around the footings. Carey said he also wants to dig to a depth of 6 feet throughout the property to insure that no evidence or remains are missed.

Investigators are also seeking court approval to question Gacy again about the location of more bodies. Although Gacy told investigators where to find most of the bodies so far recovered, he reportedly did not mention the one found Friday.

Experts give eye tips to avoid strain from studies

by Heather Ayres

Eyes are a technical machine that can easily be damaged and students should be extra careful while studying for mid-terms, a health service spokesman said recently.

Common sense, according to Jerry Heath, director of the Health Service, is the most important aspect of taking care of eyes.

Not exposing the eyes to sunlight and other bright light are some common-sense kinds of care, Heath added.

While studying, taking frequent breaks and looking at something different for a minute helps to rest the eyes, Heath said.

Charles Sellet, a Charleston optometrist, said a student should hold the reading material 14 to 16 inches away from the eyes while studying.

Good light is important but having the light come from a certain direction or at a specific level of brightness is not crucial, Sellet added.

Richard Huntworth, another Charleston optometrist, said students should try to make the light in the room even to cut down on glare and to relieve eyestrain.

For the record

Although the recent flooding will not damage homes in the Charleston area, it will erode topsoil both upstream and downstream of Lake Charleston.

The Eastern News Thursday incorrectly quoted Charleston Commissioner Clancy Pfeiffer as saying the flooding would not cause any damage.

The News regrets the error.

Senate charges Prokos with negligence of duties

by Pat Sheehy

The Student Senate Thursday charged Student Collective Bargaining Representative Dean Prokos with dereliction of duty.

The senate voted to give Prokos one week to prepare and present a report to the senate at its Thursday meeting. If Prokos fails to report the senate will start the impeachment process.

The motion was made by Student Senator Robert Singleton on the grounds that Prokos had attended one or two meetings and told the senate he had no report.

Singleton said, "He came before us to say that he had no report and it was only because we pried that he gave bits of information."

"If Dean is doing anything then I want to give him a chance to show us," Singleton said.

Prokos was not present at the meeting and was unavailable for comment Sunday.

The senate also voted to join the Illinois Student Association at a cost of $200 per year, which entitles Eastern to be on the ISA Membership Assembly.

The Membership Assembly initiates and conducts ISA programs and establishes goals for the organization.

Schools already in the ISA include Loyola University, Sangamon State University, Illinois State University and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Budget review demands care

This week the Apportionment Board will determine student activity fee allocations for next year, a difficult task which requires prudent judgement.

The AB must decide how to prune the approximately $290,000 in fees requested by the various activities using student fees to the roughly $260,000 the board projects it will have to allocate.

Those decisions need to be made carefully and with proper consideration of each activity's needs relative to the funds available.

The advisers to the various activities submit their budgets and requests for student fees to the AB, which then decides the fee allocation and sends its recommendations to the Student Senate. Finally, President Daniel E. Marvin approves the budgets.

In previous years, some AB members have used budget hearings as an opportunity to impose their own policies on various activities.

More recently, however, the board has seemed to realize that although its function is to examine budgets and reduce inefficiency and waste, its intervention should be limited to the allocation of fees.

We urge the AB's members to continue to perform their role of distributing student activity fees to achieve the best use of those monies as the board meets this week.

Giving blood means getting a sense of well-being, as this donor demonstrates. (News photo by Mary Hudack)

Kudos due blood drive for record

Eastern's annual spring blood drive has again surpassed the previous year's total for the number of pints collected.

The four-day total of 1,397 pints of blood is the most ever collected at Eastern and students who took the time to donate a pint a blood should feel extremely proud.

Walter Lowell, drive adviser, said recently Eastern gives more blood per person than any other campus and is used as an example at other campuses to encourage donors.

Numerous repeat donors and many first-time donors found the time to give blood. They were helped and encouraged by nurses and volunteers who worked during the drive.

We would like to commend all those who gave of themselves to help others.

Letters to the editor

Civil response

Editor,

I would like to thank the civil service employees for their support in the drive to contact our legislators concerning salary inequities.

I have spoken with Larry Stuffle and he has received a massive response from our employees. However, some of the letters have contained false accusations.

First of all, Mr. Stuffle has been working on a bill to provide a tax shelter for our retirement. Several letters indicated that he has done nothing for us. Actually, he has passed 13 bills improving our pension. Also, he has the best record of all 235 legislators on student and higher education issues. Mr. Stuffle was accused of giving himself a raise while not working for us. He voted against the legislative increase, while urging legislation to give us money for a salary increase.

I urge you to follow up on any response that you receive from our legislators but any accusations should be substantiated. Also, follow the progress that is being made on our behalf by the legislators. Then, if you have a complaint, it can be supported by fact.

Again, thank you to the employees who wrote letters. I appreciate your support and interest in our common problems. Continue in your efforts and our goal may yet be reached.

One last note: I have received no response from either Mr. Edgar or Mr.

Campbell.

Gaye Snyder

Grade A truths

Editor,

Concerning the problem of inflated grades, maybe we professors are finally discovering several important facts:

1. Research has shown that grades as such have almost no value in predicting how a college graduate will perform in the major professions, including teaching, medicine, engineering and law. Some correlations in these studies have run as low as .09.
2. Learning theorists have long assured us that high levels of anxiety inhibit effective learning. Some professors are therefore now using the contract approach which allows students to learn free of worry about grades.
3. There are several ways of evaluating student progress that are more informative and more useful than giving grades.
4. When students actively participate in evaluation, it has greater meaning for them.
5. Research indicates that grades tend to be arbitrary and inconsistent, varying widely from department to department, from professor to professor, and even from day to day with the same evaluator. Grades therefore ought not to be taken too seriously.

In case anyone is interested, I have a list of 17 myths about grading, most of which have been disproved by responsible research. I also recommend reading Wad-Ja-Get?: The Grading Game in American Education.

Hal Malehorn

Annoyance

Editor,

In the March 7 issue, NCAA Representative Jimmie Franklin state: "...neither the Student Senate nor the Intercollegiate Athletic Board...is responsible for enforcing Title IX or HEW regulations on this campus."

While it is true that student government has no authority to enforce Title IX regulations, neither does Mike Mullally have the right to prevent enforcement of these rules.

I find Franklin's attempt to put student government in its place annoying and uninformed. Individual senate committees are required to investigate matters involving student rights and rights of minorities.

Additionally, the senate is charged by the Student Government Constitution with making "recommendations to the proper authorities concerning anything lying outside of the senate's jurisdiction."

Robert Singleton

Good show

Editor,

We would like to thank Ms. Johnetta Jones, Mr. John Price and related campus associates for planning and coordinating an excellent series of events during Eastern's recent celebration of Black History Month. Highlights among these events for us were Dean Richard Barksdale's dramatic lecture on the Harlem Renaissance, Comptroller Richard Burris' inspiring account of the factors involved in his becoming the first black cabinet-level official to be elected in Illinois in its 160 year history and an entertaining evening with the black Gospel Choruses.

In addition to the large number of black students and staff in the audiences at these events, we noted the presence of a considerable number of non-black students and staff. We take this to be an encouraging indication of a growing interest on the part of non-blacks in the importance of black contributions to American life and culture.

Jo Barger

Letters policy

All letters to the editor must carry the name, address and telephone number of their authors for identification purposes. Letters which do not carry this information will not be published. Names will be withheld upon written request. Letters should be typed and should not exceed 250 words. Letters will be edited only for libelous material or space considerations.

CAA votes to keep single readmission policy

by Laura Fraembs

The Council on Academic Affairs voted Thursday to maintain only one readmission policy at Eastern as is currently stated in the school catalog.

This vote came after debate concerning the catalog statement, approved by the CAA in August, which eliminated a second policy previously in effect.

CAA member Ronald Wohlstein said, "When we approved that statement, we were under the impression that it was only clarifying what was already in effect, not eliminating one plan."

However, after discussion of the two different policies, a majority of the CAA members agreed the eliminated policy is unnecessary and voted not to reinstate it.

Under Plan 1—the policy which is now in effect—the student is readmitted to the university with all deficit grade points and hours intact.

Under the eliminated Plan 2, the student would have all D and F grade points and the hours in which they were earned deleted.

Registrar James Martin told the council this plan should not be reinstated because it "contributes to grade inflation" when students are allowed to keep only their higher grades.

In addition to discussing the readmission policy, the CAA also appointed Wohlstein as chairman of a subcommittee to study grade inflation.

CAA Chairman Herbert Lasky said, "I am rather worried that the recent article in the Eastern News intimated it (grade inflation) is a recent problem, but the CAA has been discussing it for some time."

The Eastern News reported March 2 that Thomas Bond, vice president for academic affairs, believes that the average grade point at Eastern does not accurately reflect student ability.

Mueller wins local pageant title

by Laura Rzepka

Junior Sally Ann Mueller was chosen Miss Charleston-Delta Chi Queen for 1979 Saturday and will participate in the Miss Illinois Pageant in Aurora on July 17.

Mueller, 20, an art and music major from Wildwood, Illinois, played "Ritual Choir Dance" on the piano in the talent competition.

She is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota music sorority and plans to be an interior designer and teach piano.

The talent competition comprised 50 percent of the judging, pageant announcer Pam Van Alstine said.

Van Alstine is the statewide publicity chairperson for the Miss Illinois Pageant.

Mueller is the recipient of a $350 scholarship, a six-day trip to the Miss Illinois Pageant, a crown, trophy, diamond necklace, Swiss watch, evening gown, swimsuit, and silk rose bouquet.

Mary Phipps, President of Eastern's Parents Club, will serve as Mueller's chaperone during her reign.

The Queen's court includes first runner-up Lorene Wickham and second runner-up Deborah Eggleton.

Sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta, Wickham choreographed and performed a ballet dance to "Songbird."

She hopes to own a dance studio in the future.

As the first runner-up Wickham received a $150 scholarship, trophy and silk roses.

Freshman Eggleton is a music therapy major from Peoria, Illinois. Sponsored by Leland Hall Insurance and Real Estate, Eggleton sang "What I Did For Love" from the musical "Chorus Line."

She is also a member of Sigma Alpha Iota music sorority.

Eggleton received a $100 scholarship, trophy and silk roses.

Other events included on-stage personality and swimsuit competitions.

The candidates also engaged in a seven minute interview with the judges Saturday afternoon, Van Alstine said.

The pageant's theme was "It's A Musical World" with all 12 contestants singing and dancing in the opening number.

The production included songs from "Fiddler on the Roof," "Godspell," "Oklahoma," "The Sound of Music," and "The Wizard of Oz."

Senior Lorre Sue Miller reigned as Miss Charleston-Delta Chi last year.

Editor positions now available

Applications for editor-in-chief positions on the Eastern News and the Warbler for the coming year are due Wednesday, Student Publications Adviser J. David Reed said Sunday.

The jobs of editor on both the paper and the yearbook involve overseeing every aspect of publication, including newsgathering, advertising sales and production, Reed said.

Experience on student publications is the most important qualification for applicants, he added.

Application forms are available in the Student Publications Office, Student Services Building Room 102.

Eastern student receives marketing merit award

by Yvonne Beeler

Carolyn C. Dohrenwend, a marketing and energy management major, received the 1979 Student Marketing Award of Merit at the 18th Annual Marketing Conference on Feb. 23.

Dohrenwend's experience in marketing contributed to her winning the award.

She has been a research-writing assistant to Rao J. Tatikonda at Eastern and an intern at the institute of Environment Quality in Chicago.

She was also an administrative secretary for three golf courses in Lake Placid, New York and a collateral clerk for the Small Business Administration Disaster Office.

Dohrenwend is a transfer student from Indiana University at Bloomington, Ind. While at Indiana, she was a member of the Student Athletic Board, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and a little sister to Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

At Eastern she is a member of Beta Tau Upsilon, the energy management club and secretary of American Marketing Association.

One student from each school in the American Marketing Association is nominated.

"The student must have a genuine interest in marketing based on professional attitude and academic performance," Tracy Wzientek, administrative assistant in the association, said.

Michael Dyer, faculty adviser of the association, Don McMullen, assistant professor of marketing-management, and John Moore, professor of marketing-management, all from Eastern, were involved in selecting the outstanding marketing student, she added.

For the future, Dohrenwend is considering energy marketing for an oil company and plans to pursue her masters in business administration.

Oruwari, Rorem fail to place in Division I track

by Brian Nielsen

DETROIT, Mich.— Eastern's Augustine Oruwari and Reo Rorem both had sub-par performances Friday and failed to reach the finals at the NCAA Division I track championships.

Oruwari was edged out of a 60-yard high hurdle semi-final spot by a foe he had beaten earlier this season, and Rorem was eliminated in the preliminaries of the mile run when he ran 10 seconds slower than his personal best.

"This is kind of a down note from what I considered a successful indoor season," Panther track coach Neil Moore said. "But the competition was real good, and when you're not at your very best in a meet like this, you're out."

Oruwari and Rorem both had enjoyed successful seasons, which included meeting qualifying standards for the Division I meet.

But neither were able to equal the national qualifying times they did earlier in the indoor campaign.

Oruwari had earned a spot in the nationals by running a 7.35 in the 60-yard high hurdles, but the sophomore from Nigeria had trouble with his starts Friday and could not run better than a 7.4.

Oruwari's 7.4 got him third in his preliminary heat and advanced him to the quarter-finals later in the day. But in the quarters he finished fifth with a 7.48.

He needed to finish in the top four of his quarter-final heat to advance, but he was edged out by Western Illinois' Jerry Holloway, who ran a 7.41. Oruwari had beaten Holloway for the Illinois Intercollegiate title on Feb. 10.

"Augustine said the starter there gave him some problems," Moore said. "The starters' cadence was a little different than what he's used to, and so Augustine was a little slow getting out of the blocks. And if you get a bad start against this kind of competition you're beat."

World record-holder Renaldo Nehemiah of Maryland won the hurdle championship, in an NCAA record 6.90.

"I was very impressed with Nehemiah," Moore said. "I think everytime he ran, he set a new NCAA record. In the quarter-finals he beat the second place man by a full hurdle."

A bad cold slowed down Rorem and kept Eastern's indoor mile run record holder from seriously challenging for a berth in Saturday's finals.

Rorem finished way back in his heat as he ran a 4:13.8—a far cry from the 4:03.6 he ran a week earlier to qualify for the nationals.

"Reo came up with a cold about Thursday," Moore said. "We didn't think it was too serious, but it really affected him when he started to run. He just didn't have it."

Moore said his junior distance runner also had trouble adjusting to the bank-board track at the Cobo Arena. The race was Rorem's first on the wooden-type track.

"The track had a little to do with it, but I think it was mainly his cold," Moore said. "He was just unable to do what he wanted to."

The University of Texas El Paso's Sulemin Nyambui, a 25-year-old freshman, won the mile run championship in 3:57.89. That time erased the previous NCAA record of 3:58.6 set by Jim Ryan in 1967.

Nyambui also won the two mile run in 8:37.87.

Moore did find some bright points in the disappointing Friday.

"One of the most important things besides just the experience which pays off in a meet like this, is the motivating factors," the Panther mentor said. "You find out how much work you have to do to compete with some of these guys. And with a little work, maybe we'll be there by outdoor Division I meet time."

In the race for the team championship Saturday, Villanova edged out UTEP 52-51. Auburn was a distant third with 27 points.

Eastern's trackmen will be out of action now until the outdoor opener when they host Indiana State on March 31 at O'Brien Field.

St. Joe's bows in quarters

The Great Lakes region will not be represented in the NCAA Division II finals next week in Springfield, Mo.

The St. Joseph's College Pumas fell to Bridgeport University 92-82 in the quarter-final game at New Haven, Conn. Friday night.

The Pumas, which ended Eastern's hopes for a national title last week in the opening round of the regional at Dayton, Ohio, led by as many as eight points in the first half, but Bridgeport ran off 13 consecutive points late in the half to gain the lead for good.

St. Joe, which finished the season with a 20-10 record, was paced by senior Dave Downey, who pumped in 25 points.

Quarterfinal results

Bridgeport 92, St. Joseph's 82
North Alabama 103, Nicholls State 97
Wisconsin-Green Bay 65, Puget Sound 53
Cheney State 65, Maryland-Baltimore County 62

Thompson proclaims 'Panther Day' at dinner

by Carl Gerdovich

SPRINGFIELD — Governor James Thompson proclaimed Friday, March 9 Panther Day in the state of Illinois.

In recognizing Eastern's NCAA Division II national football championship team Friday evening, the governor and his wife Jayne opened the executive mansion honoring the Panthers for their 10-9 win over the University of Delaware last December at Longview, Texas.

The Panther team, coaches, university officials and the press dined on two cases of Delaware hens that Thompson won from Delaware Governor Pierre DuPont in a wager over the championship match.

Thompson recalled how the wager came about.

"Some guy named DuPont called me up and said his state university was playing one of the schools in Illinois for the NCAA II championship," Thompson said.

"I said, 'What do you mean one of the schools in Illinois. You mean THE university in Illinois.' I told him that I never even heard of your state, let alone the school."

However, Thompson said Illinois had to supplement the meal with its own chickens because "Delaware's chicken is scrawny, just like their football team."

After the laughter subsided, Thompson had words of praise for the Panther squad announcing his proclamation that March 9 be Panther Day in Illinois.

"The greatest thing about being governor is proclaiming a Day in the state," Thompson said as he prepared to read his statement with all the guidelines.

"On this day, March 9, whereas the amazing Panther football team made a lot of Illinoisans happy with the championship, whereas that it's proven Illinois athletes are the best, whereas the Panthers have been invited to the mansion to relive the memory of the win, and whereas we will feast on two cases of skinny Delaware chickens...I proclaim this Panther Day in Illinois," Thompson said.

Following the applause again, Thompson spoke with more seriousness on behalf of the entire state.

"We, the 11 million people in the state of Illinois, every citizen in this great state joins me in saying one thing," he said. "We are all very proud of you."

Before the meal, Panther team captain Alonzo Lee led the large gathering in prayerful grace as he did throughout the season. Thompson even informed the players that if anyone needed more to eat to raise their hands and Jayne would see that they were fed.

Following the meal, Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin spoke saying "on behalf of all of us, we are tremendously honored that this evening was made possible."

Representing the Panther squad,

Athletic Director Mike Mullally presented autographed footballs and personalized jackets to Thompson and area legislators including State Rep. Larry Stuffle, former Rep. Jim Edgar (now Thompson's aide) and State Senator Max Coffey. All are from Charleston.

Thompson also presented All-American awards to Panther wide receiver James Warring and runningback Poke Cobb.

The governor arrived an hour late due to the fact that he was busy touring areas of Illinois for spring flooding before declaring a state of emergency.

However, the governor put everyone at ease and set the mood for an informal occasion, which was appreciated.

"This is better than winning the game. I did not anticipate what a tremendous evening this would be," Panther head coach Darrell Mudra said.

"I've always felt it was an honor to be in college and I hope the players feel the same. Of course, our college students are always quoting Aristotle and Socrates," he said with a smile, "and Aristotle once said 'What is honored in a city will be cultivated there.' This will be held in high esteem," Mudra said.

As the evening neared its end at the mansion, Thompson announced to the players, "the house is yours, the city is yours, the state is yours."

Three Panther wrestlers place in Division I

by Keith Palmgren

AMES, Iowa — Three Eastern wrestlers won All-American honors this weekend at the NCAA Division I championships.

Junior Dave Klemm finished second in the heavyweight division enabling him to be Eastern's highest Division I finisher ever. Senior Bob Holland took fourth in the competition at 158 pounds, while sophomore Geno Savagnago placed eighth at 190 pounds.

The University of Iowa was the overall winner accumulating 122.5 points with Iowa State University second with 88 points.

Although Division II schools are not officially counted in the final standings, Eastern would have placed eighth in the competition with 37.75 total points.

"I am really super pleased with finishing eighth," head coach Ron

Clinton said. "The guys did a tremendous job competing against all the Division I and II schools."

California State-Bakersfield, which defeated Eastern in the NCAA Division II championships, finished ninth in the Division I tourney.

Klemm wrestled in five matches to achieve All-American status. Of the five matches, Klemm won four by pins.

Klemm lost in the championship match to UCLA's Brad Bohna 9-5.

"Dave had a great tournament, he just came up against a tough kid in the finals and lost," Clinton said.

Holland lost to the eventual 158 pound champion in an earlier round, but was able to achieve fourth in the wrestle backs.

Savagnago for Eastern placed eighth in the tourney by winning two matches and losing two, which was good enough to bring him All-American standings.

"Geno had a very fine tournament," Clinton said.

Eastern also qualified two other wrestlers in sophomore Bob McGuinn and junior Bob Stout. McGuinn won his first match and then was beaten by the eventual third place finisher.

"Bob is only a sophomore and has two more chances to achieve top honors in Division I," Clinton said. "It was a very good experience for him to compete against the best in both divisions," he added.

Stout who drew the defending champion at 167 pounds did not place.

"Stout gave him his best match of the tournament. People were very impressed by his performance," Clinton said.

"I believe we could have done better, but I think we did a great job in representing Eastern as a whole," Clinton said.
