Student parties aiming for involvement, performance

Genis

Some students seeking election to Eastern's Student Senate have formed political parties.
The GET SMART party's main concern is to get Eastern more involved in the state government, Bob Erio, GET SMART Board of Governors representative candidate, said.
However, John Cole, PROGRESS candidate for Student Body President, said his party's aim is to serve students having the "best" people in the "right" positions.
Cole said the PROGRESS ticket consists of "qualified" students who fit the party's outlined goals.

Cole said Student Body President Terry Teele helped him select PROGRESS candidates to form the ticket.

Erio said he selected the candidates to run on the GET SMART party ticket because of their "involvement in the support for the tax increase."

"In order to be in the GET SMART party, the candidates had to write a letter to the state legislation supporting the tax increase," Erio said.

In addition to the letter, the candidates had to have Student Senate experience and be registered to vote, he said.

Erio added he chose not to have other executive office candidates because he felt the PROGRESS executive office candidates were qualified.

Cole said Meg Hart was chosen to run for the executive vice president position because "she is organized and efficient."

Phil Montgomery was chosen to run for the BOG representative position because he has experience dealing with legislators and also gets along with students, he said.

However, Cole said two candidates were considered for the position of financial vice president, Gale Redeker and John Modder.

Cole said although Modder has more experience working with budgets, Redeker was chosen because she will work better with the people she encounters while on the job.

However, Modder said he believes Redeker was chosen for another reason.

He said the party probably felt Redeker would make the PROGRESS ticket more well-rounded to appeal to a wide variety of voters.

Senate adds special ballot

Yamin
The Student Senate will select six candidates as candidates for positions on campus advisory search committee assist in finding Eastern President E. Marvin's successor.
Three students will be chosen by special ballot during the April 20 Student Senate elections.
Last week the Board of Governors passed a resolution requesting that Eastern students be selected as members of the advisory committee.
Student Senate Speaker Glenn Good said the fourth highest vote-getter will receive a position on the committee should one of the elected representatives be unable to fulfill his duties.

Following senate discussion at Wednesday's meeting, Student Body President Terry Teele will announce his three nominations, Good said.

Teele said, "I am looking for students who know the strong and weak points of Eastern and will represent all the students of Eastern."

"As soon as President Marvin resigned," Teele added, "I asked that student members be on the selection committee because the decision directly affects them."

Lynch chosen to head campus advisory committee

McCann
The Faculty Senate Tuesday selected Roy Lynch to chair the Board of Governor's campus advisory search committee.
The senate also organized elections to select six faculty representatives on the committee to be headed by Lynch, who also serves as Faculty Senate chairman.
Persons interested in serving on the committee must submit nomination forms with five faculty members' signatures by April 21.
It is essential that they must meet during the summer session," Lynch added that the committee will complete a large portion of its work in June and early July.

Three faculty members of the committee will represent the College of Arts and Sciences, with one member to be chosen from the hard sciences, one from social sciences and one from humanities.

The remaining three faculty members will be selected from Eastern's other schools and including counseling and Booth Library, Lynch added.

The senate slated the general election for April 28, with absentee balloting to be conducted April 27.

Richard Goodrick, senate vice chairman, said the elections must be completed soon to comply with a time table recommended by Don Walters, Board of Governors executive director.

Washington elected in close mayoral race

CHICAGO (AP)—U.S. Rep. Harold Washington won election as Chicago's first black mayor early Wednesday, riding a huge black turnout and strong Hispanic support to thwart Bernard Epton's bid to become the city's first Republican mayor in half a century.

The 60-year-old South Side congressman's victory margin was less than 5 percent of the nearly 1.3 million votes cast in the city's biggest election turnout since the 1944 presidential race.

With 2,793 of 2,914 precincts counted, Washington had 636,136 votes or 51.5 percent, to 596,694 or 48.2 percent for Epton. Socialist Ed Warren had 3,590 votes.

Board of Elections Commissioners spokesman Tom Leach said the outstanding votes were concentrated in three Lakefront wards, where Washington could be expected to do well, and four predominantly black wards of the city.

Epton refused to concede late Tuesday night, claiming he would emerge the victor from a "neck-and-neck" finish.

A record 85 percent of registered voters turned out in the bitter, racially charged race.

A record 77 percent turned out in the Feb. 22 primary in which Washington narrowly captured the Democratic nomination in the three-way race between incumbent Mayor Jane Byrne and Cook County States Attorney Richard M. Daley, son of the city's late mayor.

Washington's campaign manager Al Raby said the Democrat benefited from a higher turnout among blacks than whites and won more than 50 percent of the swing Hispanic vote.

Eighteen chartered buses brought 880 students from downstate schools—including 150 from Eastern—to Chicago Tuesday to help "get out the vote" for Washington.

The project was organized by Operation PUSH (People United to Serve Humanity) and was paid for out of Washington's campaign fund, Frank Watson, a PUSH spokesman, said.

"The students are from the Chicago and the Chicago area," he said. "Some didn't get their absentee ballots on time and came in to vote. All came to work. They are very motivated."

Many of the students—335—came from Southern Illinois University-Carbondale, and a number of them were at the polls to vote when they opened, Watkins said.

He said 150 each came from Eastern and Western Illinois universities, 94 each from Illinois State and the University of Illinois and 57 from Northern Illinois University. Students enrolled in Chicago colleges also were helping, he added.

It was reported that massive numbers of whites who voted in the Democratic primary switched to Epton. But Washington ran better among whites than he had in the February primary.

News Round-Up

Reagan proposes USSR hot line

WASHINGTON—The Reagan administration proposed Tuesday the bolstering of "hot line" communications with the Soviet Union, including a new link between military centers, as a means for averting nuclear war through accident or miscalculation.

"These are very simple things. They would benefit everybody," said Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger at a new conference.

The proposals include upgrading the existing teleprinter "hot line" between U.S. and Soviet leaders to a high-speed system that could relay photos and charts, creation of separate lines between military commands and also between embassies, and provisions for consultation over nuclear terrorist incidents.

Weinberger said he talked over the proposals last Thursday in a meeting with Soviet ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin.

Dobrynin was "noncommittal" and promised to transmit the proposals to his government, Weinberger said.

"The quickest, most effective way to do this would be to set up a small negotiation" between the two nations, Weinberger said.

Anti-US feelings grow in Europe

LONDON—In Britain, a missile protester waves the banner "U.S. Death Merchants Go Home." In West Germany, American facilities are daubed with slogans and bombed. In Denmark, protests over El Salvador have cropped up in Fourth of July celebrations.

A resurgence of anti-Americanism in Europe, particularly among the young, has U.S. officials worried that the trans-Atlantic links forged by World War II may be breaking.

The Reagan administration is trying to recast those links through a program of gentle political persuasion and increased cultural contacts designed to better Europe's understanding of America.

These links have been undermined, some critics say, by cutbacks in foreign language and foreign area studies on both sides of the Atlantic, a decline in standards for the U.S. diplomatic corps and the resulting inability to anticipate developments in foreign countries.

Shelters set up for Cambodians

ARANYAPRATHET, Thailand—Red Cross and U.N. agencies set up emergency shelters Tuesday to receive 100,000 Cambodians following reports that Vietnamese soldiers were poised to strike two guerrilla-controlled camps along the Thai-Cambodian border.

Thai military sources in this border town said sizable Vietnamese forces, backed by tanks and artillery, are just outside the sprawling settlements.

Ban Sangae, a narrow encampment that runs along the border has some 23,000 civilians. Nong Samet, which reliable Western sources say spills over into Thailand, has more than 77,000 people.

The Khmer People's National Liberation Front, one of three groups united in fighting communist Vietnam's forces in Cambodia, controls both camps. The front and another faction are non-communist, the third partner is the communist Khmer Rouge, whose brutal government fell in the Vietnamese invasion of Cambodia in 1978.

GOP seeking votes for Adelman

WASHINGTON (AP)—The long-delayed Senate debate on nuclear arms control nominee Kenneth L. Adelman began Tuesday as GOP leaders scrambled for support among a small group of undecided members. At best, they said, he could win confirmation by just one or two votes.

But "it's too close to call" because Republicans remain seriously troubled about Adelman's qualifications, said Ted Stevens of Alaska, assistant leader of the GOP majority.

Adelman's name was called up on the Senate floor exactly three months after his nomination by President Reagan to be director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called on senators to "render judgment if the arms control process will be speeded up or slowed down by voting for Mr. Adelman or against him."

"If we confirm Ambassador Adelman, he will take office with the administration having taken strong commitments," Percy said. By rejecting the nomination, he said, the Senate would "undercut these commitments and allow the arms control agency to flounder."

"Those voting against will have a heavy burden of responsibility," Percy said. "I feel we have an able nominee now, and we should confirm him."

Sen. Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island, the top Democrat on the committee, said, on the other hand, "Mr. Adelman has been given a fair test and has failed that test."

"He gives no indication that he has the necessary burning commitment to achievement in arms control," Pell said.

Although a final vote is scheduled for Thursday, the first test could come Wednesday.

Sen. Charles Mathias Jr., R-Md., and Adelman opponent, said there had been "some talk" of a motion to recommit the nomination to the Foreign Relations Committee. But the majority leadership believed it could turn back such a ploy.

Sending the nomination back to committee would presumably end Adelman's chances, since the panel voted 9-8 against his confirmation on Feb. 24. The committee subsequently agreed to send the nomination to the floor with a recommendation that it be rejected.

As to the final vote, the leadership was less confident. Stevens said fewer than 10 undecided senators held the balance.

Adelman, 36, is deputy U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. He was visiting undecided senators on Capitol Hill as the Senate debated.

Despite the misgivings of administration supporters about the outcome, Mathias said, "I have always given the president the edge on this thing. Some members, rightly or wrongly, like to give the president his choice on nominations."

And Sen. David Durenberger, R-Minn., who had indicated earlier he was undecided, told a reporter, "I am normally inclined to support any president on his nominee unless I find him substantially deficient. It is only by comparison with others that some find him so."

MX missile may die in House vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—The congressman who led the successful fight to deny the Defense Department money to produce the MX missile predicted Tuesday that the new nuclear weapon will finally go to its grave this year.

But the MX critic, Rep. Joseph P. Addabbo, D-N.Y., also said he believes the margin of defeat for the missile will be far closer this time than the 245-176 vote last December by which the House deleted the $988 million earmarked for building the first five missiles.

Addabbo, chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee on defense, said part of the reason, besides the simple reluctance of some congressman to kill the MX, is that a presidential advisory commission has linked its development to a proposal to build a small, single-warhead missile that would be more politically popular.

In what was seen as an effort to make the MX program more palatable, the panel recommended Monday that 100 of the 96-ton, 72-foot MX missiles be placed in underground silos now housing Minuteman III weapons in Wyoming and Nebraska, while an arsenal of 1,000 15-ton mobile missiles is developed and produced over the next decade.

Some congressional moderates, including Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, have long supported the concept of the smaller, single-warhead missiles, dubbed "Midgetman," instead of the MX "Peacekeeper" intercontinental missile, which would carry 10 warheads each.

"We will not win by the majority that we did last December, but we still have enough of those members of the House" who consider the MX a waste of money and will defeat it, Addabbo told reporters.

At a separate news conference Tuesday, Paul Warnke, chief arms control negotiator for the Carter administration and an MX opponent, noted that the report of the presidential study commission says the "window of vulnerability" of U.S. nuclear forces to Soviet attack is not as serious as the Reagan administration had contended.

Warnke said that so-called window "has never been anything other than a cross-hatch painted on a brick wall."

He said the MX "is not necessary for deterrence," but he did applaud the suggestion that a small, single-warhead missile be developed.

Citizen committee calls for halt to arms race

R.E. Meeker

Some Charleston residents are working for a halt to the nuclear arms race, one resident said he does not support the group's proposals.

The Charleston Nuclear Freeze Committee is requesting that the Charleston City Council endorse a proposal asking the United States and the Soviet Union to halt the nuclear arms race. The motion for the endorsement will be discussed during next Tuesday's council meeting.

The ten-member committee is currently distributing petitions to prove public support for the nuclear freeze proposal in Charleston, Judy Chapman, economics instructor and committee member, said Tuesday.

There have been similar resolutions endorsed by 400 local governing bodies nationwide, Chapman said. In Illinois, 23 communities have backed the freeze proposals including Urbana, Carbondale and Chicago, Chapman said.

She added that city councils and other groups endorsing the freeze proposals will send messages of popular support for the nuclear freeze movement to Washington D.C. The Charleston committee is not affiliated with any national organization and is "entirely a grass roots effort," she added.

Bob Barford, philosophy instructor and committee member, said the time is right for the freeze because both sides have reached parity in their nuclear arsenals.

"The idea that the Russians are ahead is factually wrong. There is parity right now," Barford said.

Stephen Horak, a history instructor specializing in Soviet and East European affairs, claims the freeze movement is only "tactical maneuvering" and verification will be difficult.

"I'm against the freeze movement because it is tactical maneuvering and not an accepted strategic solution which will provide for all people of the Soviet Union not only peace but also freedom to which I'm very much committed," Horak said.

Horak said President Reagan's Zero Option proposal will "prove to be safer than the present nuclear freeze movement proposals."

President Reagan has proposed halting deployment of Cruise and Pershing II Intermediate Range Ballistic Missiles in Western Europe if the Soviet Union will dismantle its SS-20 Intermediate Range Missiles in Russia aimed at Western Europe.

Barford said the Zero-Option is not realistic because it requires more concessions from the Soviets.

"It definitely requires more of them. How can you expect them to say yes?"

"We're concerned with nuclear weapons on a global basis. Europe is only one part of the mess. In my opinion, if the freeze movement was successful and disarmament was carried out, then the European problem would take care of itself," Barford explained.

Horak supports total disarmament, but said that is not realistic at present.

"I would like to see an eventual disarmament on both and all sides. However, I am aware this is not going to happen soon. Therefore, I prefer to trust my government in its obligations to defend me and my country," Horak said.

Horak also questioned the accuracy of verifying Soviet compliance with a nuclear weapons freeze agreement.

Barford said the technology for accurate verification does exist as cited by the Union of Concerned Scientists.

However, Horak said that technological methods will not be sufficient to detect Soviet activities in the Siberian forests and the Ural Mountains.

"Verification is all right, but the degree of verification must be questioned. Technology should not be used as an exclusive means of verification," Horak said.

Horak indicated two non-technical methods required for accurate verification: unrestricted access to the places of storage and production, and press coverage in both countries to report violations of the freeze agreement.

Horak said the "prevailing secrecy" of the Soviet system will not allow these verification methods to be carried out accurately.

Barford said the freeze movement will help both sides.

"The freeze movement will help everybody. By getting rid of nuclear weapons, we will be ending the possibility of eliminating all life on earth," he said.

Student Senate to review committee nominee plan

Wynne Yamin

The Student Senate at its Wednesday meeting will discuss a Board of Government resolution to include three members on the campus advisory search committee to assist in finding Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin's successor.

Senate Speaker Glenn Good said Wednesday that the senate and Student President Terry Teele will each nominate three people to provide six candidates to run in a special ballot election April 20.

Other business, the senate will discuss the evaluation of students serving on student-faculty boards.

The evaluations were conducted by Student Senate Legislative Leadership Committee which approves all candidates. Teele nominates to the advisory boards.

In addition, Good said he expects the senate to further discuss Mayor Clancy Pfeiffer's recent proposal to raise Charleston's bar entry age.

Also, Good said he will provide senators with additional information about the Illinois Student Association's Lobby Day April 19. On Lobby Day, students will lobby in Springfield in favor of Gov. Thompson's proposed tax increase.

Good said the senate will also discuss the April 16 Illinois Student Association Board of Directors' meeting.

He said although the Student Senate will send a representative to observe the meeting, an Eastern representative will not be able to vote until Eastern officially rejoins the ISA.

The Student Senate will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Union addition Arcola room.

Cardinal camp benefits everyone

The renewal and extension of the St. Louis Football Cardinals' summer training camp contract benefits everyone involved.

Eastern will be the site of the Cardinals' training camp for the third time this summer. The team made its first trip to Charleston in 1975 and returned in 1982.

After last summer's successful training session, Cardinal owner Bill Bidwill decided to return citing Eastern's professional attitude and dedication to its athletic programs as major reasons.

Eastern and the Charleston community should be pleased to host the Cardinals because having the team in town will benefit Eastern and area businesses financially.

Eastern's athletic department will receive a $10,000 cash gift from Bidwill. The money will be pumped into the intercollegiate athletic program.

Additional money, for the team's use of Eastern's football facilities, will also go to the athletic department. And housing fees for the players' stay in Stevenson Tower will go to the university.

Charleston and area businesses will also gain extra revenue from the Cardinals' stay in the city.

When the Cardinals used Eastern's campus as its summer home in 1975, they attracted many spectators. Last year, even more people traveled to Charleston to see the team.

This time around, Eastern Athletic Director R.C. Johnson expects a record number of St. Louis followers to travel to Charleston because the Cardinal's contract with Eastern has been extended from three to six weeks.

Editorial

Charleston's businesses and drinking establishments reported increased incomes last summer and anticipate even more money will be generated in the community this summer.

On the flip side of the coin, the Cardinals will also benefit from choosing Eastern as the site of their summer training camp.

St. Louis will continue to boost its fan support in Illinois and, in turn, profit from spectators in this area traveling to St. Louis for regular-season Cardinal games.

The Cardinals will also benefit from using Eastern's facilities and by being in a small enough community, Bidwill said they can better concentrate on their pre-season drills.

Many area coaches will have an opportunity to open lines of communication with the NFL team for recruiting purposes.

By making connections with the St. Louis Cardinals, Eastern and Charleston High School can make the team aware of the football talent in this part of the state.

The Cardinals' return to Charleston is a definite plus for everyone involved. Thanks for coming back guys.

Participation important

Editor:

There are some colleges at Eastern that advocate attendance as part of your grade or a sign of professionalism. I would suggest, if they must use attendance, they consider participation.

Now I'm sure we're all aware that we must be there to participate and some may think I am suggesting the same principle. However, I am not.

Some students may attend class daily and even get A's on all the tests, but is this the type of person we are looking for? I say no.

True, grades are important. But the person who applies himself or herself in class by entering discussions, voicing opinions and asking questions shows, in my opinion, intrinsic motivational behavior. And this is the type of person I would want to hire, work with or work for.

I can grade someone higher or lower for participation. But if they are just in attendance, all I can do is give everyone 10 points for being there.

I'm sure that all the professionals here at Eastern understand that participation is a two-way street. With open-ended questions and class discussion, a student can learn something of major importance compared to names and dates. He can learn to think.

Cartoon derogatory

Editor:

This letter is in response to the offensive political cartoon, by Tim Broderick and H.E. Meeker, that appeared in the April 6 edition of The Daily Eastern News.

I, and members of the Black Student Union, feel that your depiction of the black character in your cartoon is demeaning.

We understand that effective cartooning involves exaggerated figures. However, we strongly object to the stereotypical oversized lips drawn on the character representing a black person.

Does your captioned cartoon suggest that the Epton supporter are white democratic friends, while black democratic supporters are unacceptable because of their race?

We find your cartoon unamusing, distasteful and racially motivated. Your political affiliation is of no concern to us, but we feel that there is no need for this type of subversive propaganda. May we suggest that in your future artistic endeavors you refrain from such derogatory works? Please explain.

Paul Robinson

(Editor's note: The caption you describe as subversive propaganda was intended to point out how some voters allow their prejudices to cast their ballots.)

Americans lack knowledge of metric system

As bad as I feel saying this, it must be said—the American public is naive. No matter how many times they are shown the importance of learning the metric system, they still don't know squat about it.

The metric system is on my mind because over break I worked in a gas station that sold their gas in liters instead of gallons.

You would think, or at least I do, that anyone with a few years of schooling would have a functioning knowledge of the metric system.

I'm not saying that I am Joe metric or for that fact Brian metric but come on, metrics has been around for awhile.

Do you know what a liter is? If you pulled up to a gas station that sold gas in liters, would you know if you were getting gouged on the price?

In my experience with the American driver, I've found most have no conception of the actual volume of a liter. I couldn't begin to tell you how many times a day I heard, 'How much is your gas?'

"The price is 42 cents per liter."

"What is it in gallons?"

"There are 3.785 liters in a gallon. Figure it out."

"Forget it, fill it up."

Now is that stupid or what? Paying 42 cents a liter, do you know how much that costs? Well, figure it out. Would you pay that ungodly price?

I could have told them the gas was $1.20 (for those of you who didn't figure it out, that's not the price) and they would have still said, "Fill it up!"

There were more than just a few people who couldn't figure out the price. It seemed to be everyone—young, old, male, female, black and white.

I thought to myself, maybe it's just the people in Hinsdale. You know, us northerners are kind of weird.

So I took a poll, kind of like a Gallup poll of my own—an informal Ormiston poll. I asked 20 friends and colleagues (yes, I still have 20 friends on campus) how many liters are in a gallon?

The results of my informal poll were not too encouraging. Even here on Eastern's campus, in these hallowed halls of learning, not many people could answer my question.

As future leaders of America, we will be working with world leaders, all of whom deal in the metric system. It's not reassuring to realize that two out of 20 college students polled did not know how many gallons a liter contains.

If you think we're getting ripped-off on imported goods now, can you imagine what will happen if the rest of the world finds out just how dumb we are? It's time the educational system in America begin training everyone, from 5-year-olds on up, in the metric system.

UB will discuss ideas for future concert events

by Kevin Esgar
 New ideas for approaching next year's concerts at Eastern will be discussed at Wednesday's University Board meeting, UB Chairman Bruce Quillen said.

Newly-appointed Concert Coordinator John Karol will discuss his plans for concerts next year at Eastern, Quillen said.

"We hope to get more popular bands—both large and small—for next year," he added.

In addition, the UB will discuss two upcoming concerts. The band Popular Demandd will play from 5 to 7 p.m. Thursday on the Library Quad. Kool Ray and the Polaroids will perform between 3 and 7 p.m. Sunday on the South Quad, Quillen said.

Both free concerts are sponsored by the UB, he added.

Also, Quillen said the UB is considering presenting T-shirts to some members of the audience for Thursday's movie, "The Warriors."

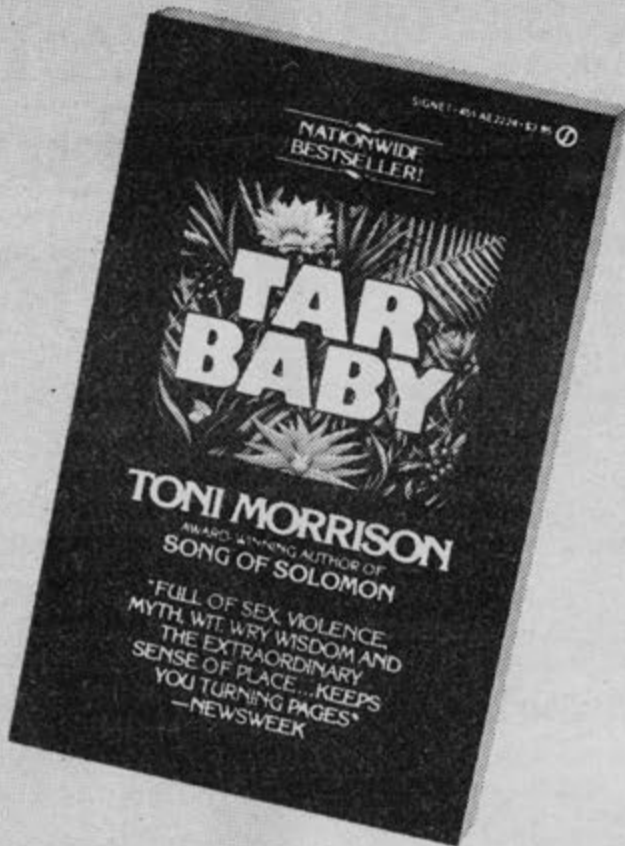

"Movie Coordinator John Brom will inform us on the idea of the T-shirts at the meeting," he said.

If the idea is implemented, ticket stubs will be used to determine shirt winners, he added.

In other business, the UB will briefly discuss their plans for summer entertainment at Eastern. Quillen said the UB summer budget was increased by 400 percent this year, which will help bring more entertainment this summer.

The UB will meet at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Union addition Kansas room.

Cold air postpones spring

by Ed Mazzocco

Although some students visited balmy climates during spring break, others went home to cold, rainy weather.

But no matter if you have a tan or not, the recent weather in Charleston probably has not given anyone "spring fever."

In addition, it looks like the fever may be delayed for another week.

Richard Wise, Eastern geology and geography instructor, said the weather through Saturday will be "colder than normal with about a half inch of rain."

Although a blizzard was reported in Wyoming on Tuesday, Wise said the storm moving in from the southwest is bringing rain to Illinois.

Wise said the rain would last through Tuesday night and there is a good chance the rain will continue most of Wednesday.

However, he said, "It's a typical spring storm."

"Normal temperatures for this time of year range from 60 to 65 degrees. Temperatures will be about five to 10 degrees lower this week," Wise said.

Rental service to sell textbooks

Students may purchase books at discount prices from the textbook rental service's sidewalk sale, a textbook rental service spokesman said Tuesday.

Barb Brooks, of the textbook rental service, which is located in the south end of Pemberton Hall, said the sidewalk sale will be conducted at 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Brooks said the purpose of the sale, titled "Giant Tax Sale," is to get rid of obsolete textbooks.

In addition, she said the book's sale prices will range from 10 cents to $2.

Biblical documents to be discussion topic

The nature of biblical writings will be discussed Wednesday during a lecture sponsored by the Wesley Foundation.

George Schweitzer, distinguished alumni instructor at the University of Tennessee-Knoxville, will speak on "The Biblical Documents," the Rev. George Loveland, director of Wesley Foundation, said.

Tower Week:

madness hits students from Stevenson Tower

Stevenson Tower residents have not been their normal selves this week. Students swallowed entire onions, walked in their sleep, carted their dates home in wheelbarrows and swam in the Johns, all for the glory of being the number one floor in the Tower Week games.

The events, which began last Thursday, were designed to push the physical and some of the mental skills of participants representing their floor.

The final award for the best floor will be made Wednesday night.

Brian Phillips demonstrates his racing skills Thursday as he navigates the lobby on a tricycle, trying to beat the clock.

Ken Diana and Kim Weiss lead the sixth floor team in a tug of war event Monday.

Gina Maniscalli rides a barbell chariot through the cold, wet Sunday weather. She was pulled by other third floor members.

Joni Cress, after donning a pair of long Johns, navigates Buzzard Education pool in an inner-tube in the "Swim in the Johns" race Sunday.

IAB approves Johnson's FY 84 budget with questions

John Humenik
Eastern's Intercollegiate Athletic Board failed Monday to unanimously approve Eastern's Athletic Director C. Johnson's $638,354 fiscal year 84 athletic budget.
The board voted 4-1 with one abstention to approve Johnson's budget, but also raised some questions about the athletic department's projected $3,505 deficit.
Johnson projected losses of $5,000 and $2,500 in Eastern's Panther camps and football and basketball guarantees as major income deficits.
A guarantee is a contract between schools scheduled to compete. The guarantee ensures that both teams will provide compensation for the visiting team's traveling costs.

"We've raised the price of our camps, and we're concerned about them," Johnson told the IAB. "We really had to push hard to get what we did last year, so a reduction is realistic."
Eastern's Panther Camps accounted for $15,000 of its fiscal year 1983 $641,850 budget. In 1982, the Panther Camps were budgeted the same, although the overall budget was $5,850 less.
Johnson said he anticipates a loss in sports camps revenue because many parents cannot afford to send their children to summer camps.
The $2,500 loss in guarantees was projected because Eastern will not receive as much income for traveling to contests as last year, Johnson said.

Meanwhile, the IAB questioned Johnson about his concession budget which has decreased by $2,000 over the last three years.
Johnson projected Eastern's concession income at $35,000. Although the 1981 concession income was $37,000, it decreased by $1,000 last year.
"At one time the concessions were $42,000, but they have stabilized it," Johnson said.
"In football more people are coming, but they are not spending that much," he continued. "Basketball has lost people, so the money isn't there."
Johnson told the IAB that his department is looking into other possibilities of increasing its concessions revenue, but added that a cost increase is likely.

"We try different products and check with other schools," Johnson said. "We're now spending more on the products and pay out $3,000 in salaries."
Overall, Johnson projects $331,000 in student fees, at least $92,095 in Panther Club funds and $120,000 in gate receipts as the major sources of income.
"I think the budget is a fair one, but it isn't adequate," Johnson said. "I think we're in better shape than many of our colleagues are."
"Many schools rely on outside income and might have over-extended themselves during a year," Johnson continued. "The problem down the road for us is where we're going to get the money."

Erratic defense blamed in slugger's 9-3 loss to Illini

Mike Lynch
Eastern News correspondent
CHAMPAIGN—Eastern's baseball team was victimized by erratic defensive blunders Tuesday in dropping a 9-3 decision to the University of Illinois.
The Panthers (9-7) committed two costly errors in the sixth inning which opened the doors for a three-run Illinois outburst.
Illinois, 15-10 and ranked 27th in the nation, used three markers to break a 2-2 deadlock and never looked back in dumping the Panthers.
"Our defense stunk today. The reason we lost was percent defense," Eastern head coach Tom McDevitt said.
Eastern jumped on the board first by touching Illinois starting pitcher Tony Leonardi for two third-inning runs.
Eastern's second basemen Steve Hall led off the third frame with a bunt single and advanced to second on a bunt single by shortstop Brian Jones.
Moments later, an Illinois error allowed both runners to advance an extra base in moving to second and third.
After retiring the following two batters, Leonardi appeared to have escaped the early Eastern threat.
However, right fielder Neal Bertram doubled to score Hall and Jones and lift Eastern ahead 2-0.
Trailing 2-0, Illinois knotted the contest on a seventh-inning homerun by right fielder Gary Borg off Eastern starting and losing pitcher Marshall Crutcher (1-2).
Don Pall (2-3) relieved Leonardi in the top of the eighth inning and eventually recorded the victory.
The score remained tied until the bottom of the eighth frame when a pair of Eastern throwing errors and a mental mistake gave Illinois a lead it never lost.
Illinois designated hitter Doug Jones singled to left field in the sixth inning and was able to steal second when Eastern failed to cover the bag.
"If we had someone covering the base we would have been out of the inning because the throw was off and the next guy struck out," McDevitt said.
Consequently, the Panther mistake allowed Illinois to take a 3-2 lead as shortstop Rob Pullen singled to left field. In addition, Pullen advanced to third as right fielder Joe Olker followed with a base hit.
With runners on first and third, Illinois head coach Tom Dedin called two double steals. Dedin's Eastern's second basemen Steve Hall lays down a bunt single to start off the Panthers two-run third inning against the University of Illinois. Eastern eventually fell to the Illini 9-3.

strategy proved fatal for the Panthers.
Two throwing errors by Eastern catcher Tim Torricelli scored both Pullen and Olker and the Illini exited the sixth inning with a 5-2 lead.
"When you get behind by a certain amount of runs like we did that changes what you can and can't do," McDevitt said. "After the sixth they could afford to do things we couldn't."
The Panthers closed the gap to 5-3 in the seventh inning when Seitzer, who walked, scored on Jeff Yocum's single with two out.

However, Illinois put the game out of reach in their half of the inning when Terry Wells doubled home two runners to give the Illini a 7-3 advantage.
Illinois added two more runs in the eighth off Eastern reliever Dave McWhorter who came into the pitch for Crutcher in the seventh inning.
Eastern now turns its attention toward Wednesday's 1 p.m. home opening double-header against Indiana State at Monier Field.
Sophomore Mick Freed (2-1) and senior Bill Morton (3-0) are slated to start for Eastern.

Softballers to face struggling Aces unit

by Kathy Leahy
Eastern's softball team will put its four-game winning streak on the line 2 p.m. Wednesday when it hosts Evansville University in a non-conference double-header at Lantz Field.
"We really don't know what to expect from them," Eastern head coach Deanna D'Abbraccio said. "We haven't played them and we've never seen them play either."
Evansville (5-14) has not seen any action since it dropped 2-0, 8-0 twin-bill to Indiana University March 29.

After the long layoff Cindy Bogucki and Stacey Snowden, Evansville's top hitters, will try to get the Aces going offensively.
Bogucki is currently the Aces' leading batter with a .391 average, while Snowden enters Wednesday's contest with a .375 average.
Eastern (6-3) is led offensively by senior shortstop Nancy Kassebaum and junior centerfielder Mary Tieg who are both currently sporting a .367 batting average.

However, the Panthers may be without junior third baseman Kathy Trnka, who bruised her left arm when she was hit with a ball during Monday's home opener against Southern Illinois-Edwardsville.
Trnka was four for six against Southern Illinois, and is currently batting .240.

Tennis team wins again

by Scott Mountford

DECATUR—Eastern's mens' tennis team boosted its season record to 11-3 Tuesday when the Panthers downed Millikin University 7-0.

Eastern captured all seven singles matches that were played, but were unable to compete in the doubles competition due to poor weather conditions.

The Panthers traveled to Millikin without their usual squad, taking with them the younger Panther players to face the Big Blue. Eastern head Coach Carl Sexton said he made this decision because last year the Panthers defeated Millikin 9-0.

"We've had good matches with Millikin in the past," Sexton said, "But they are in the process of rebuilding their program and haven't had time to develop yet."

Playing No. 1 singles for the Panthers was Mark Munie, who got Eastern going by defeating Jeff Clow 6-4, 6-1.

"Mark came back from losing the first three games of the first set and wound up having a good match," Sexton said.

In addition, No. 2 man Scott Fjelstad, soundly defeated the Big Blues' Doug Kmus 6-2, 6-2, and No. 3 player Mark Emola, got past Millikin's Greg Huck.

Other winners for the Panthers were Ken Holbert, Rob Maxwell, Steve Allbright, and Dan Patrick.

The Panthers turn their attention to an important quadrangular meet with host Principia College, Bradley University and Southwest Missouri State Friday and Saturday.

SIU-C trackster wins decathlon

by Rhea Nall

Southern Illinois University's Paul Bergkoetter rallied back Monday after placing third Sunday to win the third annual, two-day, 10-event EIU decathlon at O'Brien Stadium.

Bergkoetter scored 3,169 points after the first day of competition and added 2,859 points in the final five events to register 6,028 total points.

However, Bergkoetter's victory in the 1500-meter run was the event which propelled him past second place finisher Tracy Minto of Indiana State who posted 5,929 points.

Consequently, Eastern head coach Neil Moore said Bergkoetter's victory Monday gave the junior an excellent shot at being a favorite for the Illinois Intercollegiate Meet in Champaign.

Tom Lindsay, who scored 5,564 points to place fourth overall, was Eastern's top competitor in the meet. Lindsay finished the first day with 2,793 points.

Overall, Lindsay ran the 400-meter event in 4:45.2, high jumped 5-3 $\frac{3}{4}$, threw the shot 30-8 $\frac{1}{2}$, long jumped 19-9 $\frac{3}{4}$, and ran 11.9 in the 100-meter dash.

Monday, Lindsay ran the 110-meter hurdles in 17.7, threw the discus 88-1 $\frac{1}{2}$, vaulted 13-3 to win that event, threw the javelin 123-10, and ran the 1500-meter event in a time of 4:45.2.

Panther freshmen Velton Austin and Rick Schuering had tough times but placed sixth and seventh respectively.

"For their first decathlon, I thought Lindsay did an outstanding job," Moore said. "He volunteered to compete and I think he can break 6,000 points easy."

Golfers top ISU

Marc McMullen Eastern's golf team registered its best spring outing Monday by defeating Illinois State 302-321 and tying the University of Illinois at the Mattoon Country Club.

Kevin Strothman paced Eastern with a 1-under-par 71. He captured the medalist honor by posting the afternoon's best score.

"I'm really happy with Kevin's play," Eastern coach Kevin Anglin said. "He's had a really good spring for us."

Mark Ferris followed Strothman by shooting a 2-over-par 74, while Dave Gosson scored 78.

"Kevin and Mark are really starting to take charge, and with conference play right around the corner I think we are going in the right direction," Anglin said.

"Both are consistent off the tee and they have the ability to keep the ball in the fairway out of trouble," he continued.

Mike Wendlandt (79) and Brett Herd (81) rounded out Eastern's scoring.

"...base, and she did very well against Southern Illinois both offensively and defensively," D'Abbraccio said. "We will miss her if she isn't able to play tomorrow."

The Panther offense will battle Evansville's lone starting pitcher, Nina Scaterra who is 4-5 on the season with a 1.66 earned run average.

The Panthers' pitching staff will center with senior Kathy Richards and junior Donna Ridgway. Richards sports a 1.30 ERA, while Ridgway (2-1) boasts an 0.55 ERA.

In addition to Trnka, freshman Jan Wamser and junior Janet Blacker and also not see any action in Wednesday's contest. Wamser was hit with a ball in the lower leg during practice Tuesday, while Blacker is suffering from a severely sprained ankle.

"This will obviously cause some changes in our lineup," D'Abbraccio said. "But I think we will be all right."

Sox losers in home debut

CHICAGO (AP)—Rick Dempsey's tie-breaking, two-run double in a three-run seventh inning lifted the Baltimore Orioles to a 10-8 victory Tuesday, spoiling the Chicago White Sox home opener.

The White Sox had overcome an early seven-run deficit, much to the delight of a crowd of 38,306, and they even had gone ahead 8-7 on a run-scoring double by Harold Baines in the sixth inning before the Orioles came back with three in the seventh.

Eddie Murray opened the seventh with a single and pinch-hitter John Lowenstein walked. Reliever Dick Tidrow retired the next two batters, but pinch-batter Al Bumbry singled in the tying run and Dempsey followed with his two-run double.

Run-scoring singles by Cal Ripken Jr., Murray and Rich Dauer gave the Orioles a 3-0 lead in the first. John Shelby opened the Orioles' second with his first homer and, after Ripken singled and Murray walked, Gary Roenicke unloaded his first homer for a 7-0 lead.

Chicago rebounded with five runs in the second. Ron Kittle singled and scored on a double by Carlton Fisk, who scored on a single by Vance Law. Tony Bernazard and Tom Paciorek followed with successive homers.

Greg Luzinski drew a walk to open the Chicago third and Kittle greeted reliever Storm Davis with his second homer to tie it at 7-7. Reliever Sammy Stewart, 1-1, was the winner, with reliever Dennis Lamp, 1-1, taking the loss.

Student Election Guide

Supplement to the Daily Eastern News / Charleston, Ill. 61920 / Section Two, 8 Pages

Voting times and places

Coleman Hall and the Union Ballroom will serve as the polling places for the Student Senate elections April 17, Diane Clayberg, elections committee co-chairman, said.

Students residing in Carman, East, Thomas, Taylor, Andrews or Lawson Halls should vote in Coleman Hall's second floor south foyer.

Off-campus students and residents of Lincoln, Douglas, Stevenson, Ford, McKinney and Weller Halls should vote in the Union Ballroom, Clayberg said.

Elections committee co-chairman Gary Chartraw said students must present a validated student ID to vote.

The four executive officer positions to be filled are student body president, executive vice president, financial vice president and Board of Governors representative.

The candidates for executive vice president and financial vice president are running uncontested.

However, there are two candidates for student body president and two candidates for BOG representative.

In addition, 24 students are running to fill the 19 Student Senate positions.

In the at-large district, 10 students are running for six full-year and two half-year positions.

Nine students are running for seven off-campus seats. Of the seven seats, five are full-year seats and two are half-year seats.

In the residence hall district, five students are running for four full-year positions.

The polling places will be open between 7:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. April 17.

'STUDENTS PROGRAMMING FOR STUDENTS'

Celebration '83 Begins

by Mr. J. Sain

The Erick Hawkins Dance Company will present performances on April 16 at 8:00 p.m., and April 17 at 2:00 p.m. in Dvorak Concert Hall. This will be the first event in a week-long Celebration of the Arts.

The company consists of nine dancers and has been in existence for over 25 years. The dancers are accompanied by eight musicians. All the dances in the repertoire have been choreographed as total works incorporating the visual aspects of sculptured sets, masks and costumes along with the movement and music.

Erick Hawkins certainly is no newcomer to the dance world. His career as a dancer began in the 1930's. In 1939 he became the first male dancer in the Martha Graham Company and he formed his own troupe in 1957.

He stands nearly alone in his uncompromising requirement of live musicians for his dance productions. Hawkins has commissioned regularly America's best musical composers and costume artists to create the total "artistic fusion."

Dance enthusiasts will regard Hawkins' presence on this campus as an experience of a lifetime.

Tickets for the performance are $5.50 for adults, 1.4.50 for children and senior citizens, and $4.00 for EIU students. Group rates are available.

Come out of the shade with Kool Ray

Step back into the past and here hot 50's and 60's rock and roll Sunday, April 17, at 3:00 p.m. in the south quad with Kool Ray and the Polaroidz.

So, come out of the shade and rock with these four energetic young musicians as they perform hits from the past and present.

It will be a full afternoon of rock-n-roll and should not be missed. The show is being brought to you by UB Mainstage Productions, Barry Burford, Coordinator. Rain location will be the Grand Ballroom because these boys rock, come rain or shine.

Gang fights for its LIFE

by Missy Cook

Did you like West Side Story? If so, you will love The Warriors. It has more action, more suspense, more everything! The Warriors will be presented Friday, April 15 at 6:30 and 9:00 p.m. in McAfee North.

A battle of gigantic proportions is building in the streets of New York City. A street gang, The Warriors, has been unjustly blamed for the death of a rival gang's leader. The armies of the night outnumber the police five to one and they're all The Warriors.

"The Warriors is intense and most of the action is in bright Day-Glo colors against the terrifying New York blackness. There's a night-blooming psychedelic shine to the whole boutique movie" says Pauline Kael of New Yorker magazine. Tickets are on sale now at the Union Box Office or may be purchased at the door for $1.25.

VT-TV SCHEDULE

The VT-TV is located outside the east entrance of the University Ballroom, in the Video Tape Lounge.

by Tina Dvorak

It will bring them out of their dorm rooms and into the Grand Ballroom on Wednesday, April 13, at 6:00, 8:00 and 10:00 p.m. as the porno hit brought the N.F.L. cheerleaders out of the locker room and on to the buff pages of Playboy. Debbie Does Dallas is presented by UB Movie Committee.

The story centers on seven rather naive girls on a high school cheerleading squad. With only two weeks to go before their trip to Dallas and no money, the girls form Teen Services, Inc., a group dedicated to total customer satisfaction, for a price of course.

So, say goodbye to those girls in baggy sweaters and knee length skirts. Now it's hot pants and tight tops and Debbie Does Dallas for only $1.25. All seats are as good as those on the fifty yard line and are going fast. So reserve your ticket now at the Union Box Office. But don't despair — if you forget, tickets may still be purchased at the door.

Backed by Popular Demandd

by Missy Cook

Get set to let your soul fly! Thursday, April 14, Popular Demandd, the Chicago-based soul showband appears from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. on the library quad.

Popular Demandd consists of six energetic, talented showmen and one fiery female vocalist. Formerly members of the Brass Bullitt, these seven decided to move to a different music sound. The group classified itself with the likes of Earth Wind & Fire, Aretha Franklin, Cameo and the Barkays.

Popular Demandd isn't just a band. They think of themselves as a family filled with love and togetherness.

Popular Demandd hopes they will be in popular demand with the students of EIU tomorrow from 5:00 until 7:00 p.m.

Pulitzer prize winner speaks

In such a complicated and dangerous world, what can one journalist do? Seymour Hersh Reports, Monday, April 18 at 8:00 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom.

Seymour Hersh is probably one of the more important investigative reporters in America today. Winner of the Pulitzer for uncovering the My Loi Massacre in Vietnam, former investigative "ace" of The New York Times, Hersh created national controversies with his reports on the CIA's domestic spying operations, Richard Nixon's secret bombing of Cambodia, and the illegal sale of US weapons to mid-east terrorists. No one in journalism has a keener eye for conspiracy and cover-up in high places.

Hersh is uniquely able to discuss the role of journalism as a watchdog. His targets have ranged from Watergate to the pet multinational corporations. His forthcoming book on Henry Kissinger and foreign policy is perhaps the boldest attempt ever to probe the covert maneuverings of men in power.

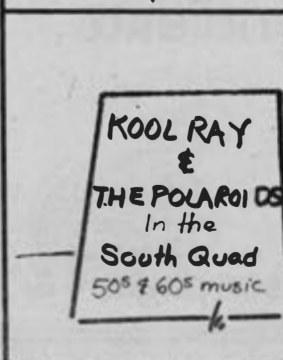

Tickets are on sale now at the Union Box Office or may be purchased at the door the night of the lecture for only $1.00.

Advanced Ticket Sales

Advanced tickets may be purchased for all University Board sponsored events one week prior to the date of the event. Tickets may be purchased at the Union Box Office Monday through Friday from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Student Senate Off-campus

Mike Anderson

Mike Anderson said he is running for Student Senate because he will devote the time and effort to help bring the right ideas and programs to the students of Eastern."

Anderson is a sophomore political science major from Plano who served on the Elmhurst College Student Senate. Anderson was also a member of the student advisory committee at Wood Junior College in California.

"I will always be available to the students within my district so that if they have any ideas, suggestions or comments," he said, "I would be able to discuss them along or implement them through the senate."

He added, if elected, he will ask to be placed on a student-faculty board where he would accept input from the students to present to the senate.

"It is through the students here that we, as a senate, would get our best ideas," Anderson said.

"If I'm elected," he said, "I will give the students what they want—a fair and productive voice."

James Hillestad

Junior James Hillestad, said if elected as a student senator, he would like to encourage students to register to vote so legislators would be informed of students' concerns.

Hillestad, a marketing and economics major from Springfield, is currently serving on the Student Senate Student Awareness Committee and is involved in the Off-Campus Student Housing Association.

After observing student government, Hillestad said he can improve it and inevitably improve Eastern.

"I believe I have the capabilities of a good senator," he said. "I can help improve Eastern through student government."

Curt Kensil

Curt Kensil said he plans to help the Off-Campus Student Housing Association continue to grow if he is elected to Student Senate.

Kensil, a junior from Shelbyville, is a history and speech-communications major. He was appointed in February to the Student Senate and is currently serving on the Student Senate Student Awareness Committee.

"I've gained a lot of experience in student government since February and would like to continue," Kensil said. "Being an off-campus senator, I'd like to work with OCSHA and see that it continues to grow."

Brad Knell

Junior Brad Knell said he secured knowledge of governmental procedure and policy while serving two legislative internships in Springfield. This involvement, he said, qualifies him for Student Senate.

Knell, from Yorkville, is majoring in Economics and Political Science. He is a member of the Student Senate Student Legislative Committee.

Knell said he sees the "strained relationship between the campus and the Charleston community" as one of the greatest problems facing the student body.

Knell said, "We must go further in working toward establishing a local internship program that gives a student a chance to gain experience and provide the local businessperson eager, but cheap, help."

Ron Wesel

Freshman Ron Wesel said he can well-represent students who live off-campus because of his experience working with the Off-Campus Student Housing Association.

Wesel, a journalism major from Martinton, recently served on the Student Senate Housing Committee to help plan the Housing Festival.

"I think that my concern for the students living off-campus would help make me a good representative and a competent senator," Wesel said.

Wesel said he supports Gov. Thompson's tax increase and will strongly urge action on the issue.

Melissa Bell

Junior Melissa Bell said she takes on the responsibility of representing her peers.

A political science major from Springfield, Bell became involved in student government this semester when she joined the Student Senate University Awareness Committee. Later, Bell was appointed to Student Senate when several seats were vacated.

Bell said her past record shows that she has a good working knowledge of student government and could effectively deal with any issues which would plan to continue good representation of students in my district and to actively and fairly support the current proposed programs of student government," she said.

Audrey Dumentat

Sophomore Audrey Dumentat said, if elected, she plans to take an active part in the protest against tuition hike.

A former Daily Eastern News reporter, sophomore Audrey Dumentat said she acquired a great deal of knowledge about the workings of the university and related issues, such as the proposed $500 tuition hike and the no-credit proposal.

Dumentat, a sophomore journalism major from Carlyle, said she believes she has gained a "helpful knowledge of the university" by attending Student Senate meetings.

If elected, that knowledge will help her to better represent the students of Eastern, she said.

John "Fabs" Fabiano

John Fabiano said after being a student at Eastern since fall 1981, he has decided its time to stop talking and start participating.

"I'm tired of complaining to my friends and not utilizing my potential," he said.

Fabiano is a senior energy management major from Rockford who was involved in student government in high school.

Fabiano said if he was elected to Student Senate, he would be able to voice his concerns where it would do the most good—in the senate. He added that he would represent the students fairly.

Financial Vice President

Gail Redeker

Although Gail Redeker has only been involved with Eastern's student government for a few months, she said she has the necessary qualities to perform well as financial vice president.

Redeker, who is running unopposed as a candidate for financial vice president, was appointed to the Student Senate last semester following the resignation of several senators.

Redeker served on the University of Missouri Student Association Finance Committee as finance chairman.

Although Redeker transferred to Eastern this year, she said she has become very involved.

"A lot of people could criticize me because I haven't been at Eastern for long, but I jumped right in and got involved," Redeker said. "I think that says something about me," she added.

This semester Redeker served as a student member of the Council on Academic Affairs.

Redeker said she has several ideas she would implement as financial vice president.

If elected, Redeker said she would release bimonthly financial statements to all Apportionment Board-funded organizations. Redeker said releasing the statements would keep groups up-to-date on their budget's balance.

In addition, Redeker said she would like to publish information to explain the distribution of student funds to students.

—Nancy Yamin

Student

John Cole

Senior John Cole said, if elected body president, he will try to keep relations with administrators, students organizations.

"I get along with people well," Cole said. "I'm easy to talk to and I respect the opinions of others."

Cole, who is financial vice president, apportionment board chairman, said his government experience makes him qualified of the two candidates running.

A computer management and major from Glen Ellyn, Cole has served on the Student Senate for two semesters on the Student Senate. He has served on several ad hoc committees as auditing co-chairman.

Cole said he intends to continue senate programs such as student discount campus security and the Off-Campus Housing Association.

Besides campus relations, Cole said he wants to maintain internal relations in student government.

"I want to work with the financial department on the budget and financial statements," he added.

Cole said he would like to see the office obtain a small computer to help and consolidate paper work.

Along with organizing the office, he would like to make it more interesting by having a magazine reference center.

In an effort to generate ideas, Cole said he would like to see students subscribe to a national magazine called National On-Campus Report.

—Deann La...

OCSHA positions

Barbara Krug

Barbara Krug, candidate for Off-Campus Student Housing Association president, said she plans to work to establish a model lease for students and also build membership in OCSHA.

Krug, a junior from Fox River Grove majoring in dietetics, has worked with OCSHA since last fall and was the OCSHA Available Housing chairman.

"I think that OCSHA serves a vital purpose in that students can turn somewhere if they are having problems with their off-campus living conditions or need a place to live," she said.

If elected, Krug also plans to develop a larger scale Available Housing Board and a more informative OCSHA booklet.

Krug said she would also continue the working relationship between OCSHA and the landlords and students in the Charleston community.

Betsy Hagi

Betsy Hagi plans to work to keep relations between student tenants and landlords open at all times if she is elected as the Off-Campus Student Housing Association vice president.

Hagi, a junior from Bloomington, is majoring in speech-communications. She has worked with OCSHA this year, and has been an executive officer and a representative for the Residence Hall Association in the past. She said she has also worked on Lawson Hall Council.

Hagi said she is running for OCSHA "to gain better insight into the workings of the cohesive relationships between the landlords and the students."

Hagi added she would work to maintain the high standards OCSHA has set "by being a helpful liaison between both students and landlords."

In addition Hagi said, if elected, she would make more people aware of the services OCSHA provides.

Vicki Boysen

Vicki Boysen said she plans to make students more aware of what the Off-Campus Student Housing Association has to offer if she is elected OCSHA secretary.

Boysen is a sophomore finance major from Elgin. She is a member of the Student Senate Student Awareness Committee and the Security Commission.

Boysen said she is running for OCSHA secretary "in order to better conditions for the off-campus environment."

Being on OCSHA, Boysen said, is a positive way to become more active at Eastern.

Dan Brosseau

Good relations between students living off-campus and their landlords is an important issue to freshman Dan Brosseau.

Brosseau is an accounting and pre-law major from Kankakee, who has served on the Student Senate Campus Relations Committee and the University Relations Committee.

In addition to his senate experience, Brosseau was selected to be a student intern in Springfield at the state capitol.

Brosseau said the Off-Campus Student Housing Association is a necessary and good step for landlord-tenant relations.

"I feel that it is a good idea to keep communications between the two parties an open policy," he said.

Steve Smiley

Steve Smiley said he would work to guarantee good housing conditions if elected as a delegate to the Off-Campus Student Housing Association.

Smiley, a senior, is an industrial technology major from St. Joe Ogden.

"I would like to see students treated fairly by landlords," Smiley said.

President

Jim Schobert

Senior Jim Schobert said he is not fighting his campaign for student body president with one goal, however he said he does have plans and ideas.

"I want to make the senate a liaison between students and administrators, more than merely means of communication," he said.

Schobert, an accounting major from Sparta, has been a student senator for three semesters and has been chairman of the Student Senate Academic Affairs Committee and the Student Senate Auditing Committee.

From his previous senate experience, Schobert said he has the ability to lead, work with others and delegate authority.

"I enjoy working with people," he said and he has been a decision maker and has had authority on the senate committee "without any problems."

Even though student body president operates on a larger scale than a committee, Schobert said he has the personal qualities to make the function smoothly and efficiently.

Schobert, said if elected, he plans to improve senate rapport with city and state government bodies.

While improving Charleston City Council relations, he said plans to initiate letter-writing campaigns to Springfield to represent the students' interests.

Schobert said hard work is the way for the senate to get results. "I'm not a headline grabber, just a hard worker behind the scenes getting the work done," he added.

Executive Vice President

Meg Hart

Student Senator Meg Hart, running unopposed for the position of executive vice president, has based her campaign on her involvement with Eastern's student-faculty boards.

Hart, a sophomore majoring in elementary education, said her experience with student-faculty boards makes her qualified for the office of executive vice president.

Currently, Hart is the administrative assistant to the chairman of the Off-Campus Student Housing Association. She has served as a member of the Residence Hall Association for the past two years.

Hart, Senate Housing Committee chairman, said if elected, she will promote activity and involvement within the 13 student-faculty boards at Eastern.

In addition, Hart said she would attend many student-faculty meetings to "maintain open communication between myself and the student-faculty boards," she said.

Also, Hart said she would like to see members of the student-faculty boards adhere to the meeting's attendance policies.

If elected, Hart said she would have periodic meetings with the chairmen of the student-faculty boards.

Board of Governors Representative

Bob Erio

Board of Governors candidate senior Bob Erio said he views the BOG position as a chance to serve students as a watchdog and as a channel to ensure that students' views are heard.

Erio, a political science major from Bullpitt, said his first priority, if elected as BOG representative, is to become more involved in the Illinois Student Association.

Erio said his qualifications include his experience in the Student Senate and the Charleston Chamber of Commerce's Board of Directors.

Erio has also served as chairman of the Off-Campus Student Housing Association. He has served as chairman of the Sports and Recreation Board and the senate's student awareness and elections committees.

In addition to his chamber post, Erio had also served on the Theater Retention Task Force, the Transportation Committee and the Governmental Affairs Committee.

By working with area businessmen, landlords, the chamber of commerce and city police, Erio said he has made ties within the community which have "promoted student government and strengthened relations" between Eastern and Charleston.

Also, Erio said he would encourage the BOG to consider making some student representatives voting board members.

Phil Montgomery

Junior Phil Montgomery said he has a strict set of priorities which he hopes to accomplish if elected as Board of Governors representative.

Montgomery, a junior from Kankakee majoring in political science and history, is currently serving his second term on the senate and is chairman of the Student Senate Legislative Committee. He has also served on the judicial review board.

Montgomery said he believes the duties of the BOG representative should be expanded to include representing Eastern's student body with state officials by working on the Illinois Student Association.

Montgomery said he believes the channels of communication he has established with various state officials would be beneficial if he became BOG representative.

"I've set up ties with such officials as Lt. Governor Ryan, Secretary of State Edgar, Senator Coffey, Representative Woodyard and Congressman Crane," he said.

"I intend to do more personal lobbying with these state officials on behalf of the student body," he added.

In addition, he said if elected he plans to organize more lobbying efforts on behalf of the students.

Darcy Braatz

Darcy Braatz said her previous experience on Student Senate and her help in coordinating programs would serve the students best.

"I believe that I could help generate and follow through on programs and ideas that are to the students' best interest," she said.

A sophomore marketing major from Gibson City, Braatz was appointed to a senate position in February and has served on the Student Awareness Committee, Housing Committee and helped on the Student Legislative Committee.

Residence Hall District

Scott Calhoun

Junior Scott Calhoun said he believes he is a valuable part of the Student Senate.

Calhoun refers to the Student Senate as a valuable organization which gives students a voice in the community.

Calhoun, a computer management major from West Salem, has served one semester on the Student Senate. Calhoun has also served on the Thomas Hall Executive Council and is a member of the Panther Club.

Calhoun said it is his duty to serve the student's views to the best of his ability.

Leslie Garrigan

Sophomore Leslie Garrigan said she would like to become involved in student government to help bring the residence halls and Student Senate closer.

Garrigan, a pre-medicine major from Frankfort, has served as an officer on the Carman Hall Council and a member of the Residence Hall Association.

Garrigan said being involved with the RHA and the Student Senate would help maintain a strong bridge between the two groups.

Glenn Good

If re-elected, Glenn Good said he would continue promoting the open communication which he has helped initiate between the Student Senate and the residence halls.

Good, a sophomore political science major from Berwyn, has served on Student Senate for three semesters. Currently, he is Student Senate Speaker and has been a member on the Thomas Hall Council for two years.

Good said he would like to see some changes in the health service. "Presently lines are too long and should be corrected," he said.

Lynn Lippoldt

As Taylor Hall president, Lynn Lippoldt said she has been able to come in contact with the needs and views of residence hall students.

Lippoldt, a political science major from Wheaton, is the vice president of Model Illinois Government, a Phi Gamma Nu active and holds memberships on the Residence Hall Association and the Housing Board Budget Committee.

Lippoldt said she plans to continue her work on the Student Senate Legislative Committee and added she hopes to become an Illinois Student Association representative.

to gain support for Gov. Jim Thompson's proposed tax increase for higher education.

Jim Prosser

Junior Jim Prosser said if elected, he can offer the student body mature and responsible leadership.

Prosser, a junior high school education major from Shelbyville, said he plans to be very active in finding and solving problems.

"I want to represent the entire student body, not just my own opinion," Prosser said.

Ron Saviano

Freshman Ron Saviano said he is running for Student Senate because he believes too many decisions are made with administrators in mind, instead of students.

Saviano, a pre-medicine major from Crete, said if elected, he plans to get students to register to vote and support taxation for education.

"If there is not a tax, many people will not be able to afford to go to a four-year school," he said.

Saviano has served on the Student Senate Academic Affairs Committee.

Aaron Shepley

Junior Aaron Shepley plans to continue acting as a voice for Eastern students if he is re-elected.

Shepley, a political science major from Crystal Lake, served as a member of the Student Senate Student Awareness Committee and the Housing Committee this semester.

Shepley said he wants to improve Eastern's Health Service and try to gain more student representation on student-faculty committees.

"I have gained the knowledge and experience needed to help the students to the greatest extent," Shepley said.

Ken Sjorslev

Junior Ken Sjorslev said he is running for Student Senate because he can be an effective voice for the students.

Sjorslev, a political science major from Wauconda, has served on the Student Senate at the College of Lake County. While at Eastern, he has been a floor representative in Stevenson Tower and worked on the Senate-Student Awareness Committee.

Sjorslev said he plans to, "Work to the best of my ability to serve the students."

Steve Smiley

Senior Steve Smiley said he enjoyed working in his high school's student government and added that he would like to continue similar activities at Eastern.

Smiley, an industrial technology major, has served on the Carman Hall Executive Council and the Student Senate Student Awareness Committee.

"I would like to see Eastern students more involved with student government," Smiley said.

"Students should be more informed about events that are happening" to be more involved, he added.

Dan Sprehe

Sophomore Dan Sprehe said he has "gained a lot of knowledge" from working on Student Senate this past semester.

The pre-law major, who is from Centralia, has also been a member of the Off-Campus Student Housing Association, Student Senate Housing Committee, Residence Hall Association and has served as chairman of the Housing Board.

Sprehe said he believes higher education is "in serious trouble." He said he believes the Student Senate Legislative Committee and the Illinois Student Association should act together to solve this problem.

Gale Virgilio

Sophomore Gale Virgilio said if elected, she wants to motivate other students to become involved with student government activities.

Virgilio, from Buffalo Grove, is majoring in elementary education. She has helped with various Student Senate Student Awareness Committee projects and other student government projects.

"I want to see the students on this campus informed and involved," she said.

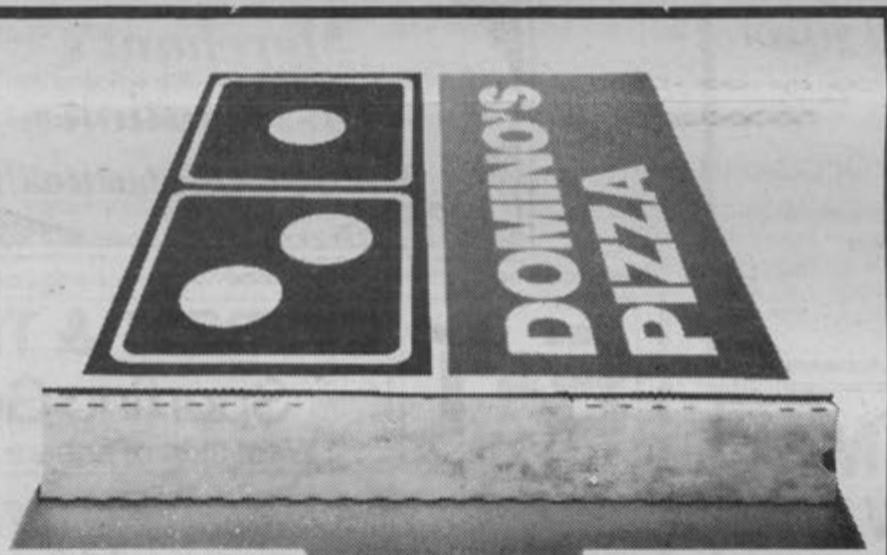

Greg Zaccagni

Sophomore Greg Zaccagni said he should be elected because he would represent the students' best interests.

Zaccagni, a marketing major from Downers Grove, said he served as the University Board's lecture committee coordinator this year.

He added that if elected, he would encourage the implementation of a program to increase student-voter registration.

"Eastern students make up the majority of the population here in Charleston and we would find our interests better-served if we were organized into a voting force," he said.
