Senate to fill 16 places

JEFF SMITH
Staff writer

Preparations are being made for the Nov. 11 fall elections of student senators, said Elections Committee Chair Lori Lockman.

There will be up to 16 senate seats open for the election, Lockman said. A total of eight senators were appointed earlier to the senate to fill immediate vacancies.

Lockman said petitions will be available to prospective senate candidates beginning Oct. 28. She added the petitions must have 25 signatures from people living in the candidate's district to qualify. The three senate districts are at-large, off-campus and residence hall. Lockman said the petitions must be turned in by noon Nov.

Lockman said a forum is scheduled for 8 p.m., Nov. 5, at which time students are invited to ask the formal candidates questions.

In order to increase voter turnout over last fall's elections, Lockman said she would use a number of channels. "I'm going to try to go around to each organization," Lockman said.

She also mentioned working through Eastern's public relations department and the Residence Hall Association.

Because of a limited budget, Lockman said she also hopes to work with The Daily Eastern in publicizing the elections, Lockman said.

Garner named to BOG post

By BRUCE UNDERWOOD
Staff writer

James R. Garner, a former president of the Western Illinois University Foundation, will replace Lowell Fisher as a trustee to the Board of Governors, Eastern's governing body.

Garner, who was named to the post by Gov. James Thompson, will attend his first BOG meeting Oct. 21-22 at Eastern when the BOG is expected to vote on a spring tuition increase that may go as high as $100 per semester.

He assumes the post during a difficult time not only for the BOG, but also for education in general in Illinois. Following a squabble between Thompson and the Illinois General Assembly over a tax increase, the governor cut $60 million from the budget to higher education, $3.5 million from the BOG.

The cuts will force the BOG and its five member schools to "learn how to cope with that without hurting the quality of education," Garner said.

He said he plans to "look at each one of the campuses, become acquainted with the students, staff and faculty and find the strengths of each."

"I strongly support the mission of the Board of Governors' universities to provide outstanding undergraduate education."

Garner began his experience with higher education in the early 1940s, when he attended Western Illinois University.

The Big Apple' games core of 1987 Homecoming fun

KIM MIKUS
Staff writer

Although the football team's competition will arrive on Saturday, campus organizations will have their "big game" during "Fun Games" at 3 p.m. Monday on the South Quad.

Fun Games consist of six games in which students compete against each other for ribbons, said activities coordinator Lisa Bircher.

Bircher, a junior, said Fun Games "is a tradition," but this year "we are going to get residence halls and other organizations involved."

"Getting the halls involved is our goal this year," Bircher said, adding the method the committee has chosen is by distributing flyers to the residence halls.

Also to increase participation, representatives from the homecoming committee, are "going around to the halls to promote the games," Bircher said. These individuals are acting as liaisons for the homecoming committee.

She said one way the committee is ensuring efficiency is to have each hall represent a different color.

However, Bircher said, "We don't want fun games to be as competitive as Greek Games. It's going to be one big game."

She explained the one big game will be made up of six games all "related to New York and to 'The Big Apple' theme."

Senior Lisa Mariani, Eastern's 1987 homecoming coordinator, said the games will include a "bag lady race, an apple bob and an apple chug where students chug from a baby bottle."

She said other games include finding a piece of gum in a plate of whip cream and another called "dizzy bats."

In addition to winning ribbons, Bircher said participants of the games will also earn spirit points.

Points are given for all of the different homecoming activities, including the homecoming parade float competition and the residence hall window paintings.

At the end of the week, all of the points are added up and the group or organization with the most points is awarded a spirit trophy, Bircher said.

The spirit trophy will be awarded during Eastern's homecoming game Saturday against Indiana State.

Wasetis given an assistant by Student Senate

MIKE HELENTHAL
Staff writer

Eastern's Student Senate has selected former senator Susan Pennington as the new official assistant to Senate Speaker Denise Wasetis.

Although Pennington said her first choice would have been a senate position, a Wednesday night class prevents her from attending the weekly senate meetings.

She added although the job is a non-paying position, she "wanted to be involved in the senate in some way," so she wrote a letter to the senate asking for the assistantship.

Pennington said there usually isn't an assistant, but she and Wasetis found a clause in the bylaws that allows the senate to appoint an assistant to any of the executive officers.

Wasetis said although she shares an apartment with Pennington she chose the graduate student for her record and involvement in senate.

"She (Pennington) is always in the office helping type and file, and she already works on a committee," Wasetis said.

Pennington presently serves on the Student Legislature Committee.

"I already do a lot of work for her (Wasetis), so they might as well make me her assistant," Pennington said.

She said sharing an apartment with Wasetis can only add to the quality of their work.

"Denise has an awful lot of work, but it will be a lot easier if she doesn't have to explain everything to me," Pennington said.

She added when they are both at home "we usually talk about what's going on" with Student Government.

Former German official found dead

GENEVA, Switzerland—A former West German state governor who was caught up in a bitter political "dirty tricks" scandal and was due to testify this week was found dead Sunday in a fashionable Geneva hotel, city police said.

West Germany's Bild newspaper said Uwe Barschel, who resigned last month as state governor of Schleswig-Holstein, shot himself on his way home from a vacation in the Grand Canary Islands "because there was no other way out."

But Geneva police official Marcel Carrara denied the shooting report, telling a press conference that Barschel "was not killed by a bullet" and that "there was no blood."

Barschel, 43, was scheduled to testify Monday before a state Parliament panel investigating the scandal. He was a member of West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl's Christian Democratic Party.

14 Americans die in plane crash

RANGDON, Burma—A Burma Airways plane caught fire and crashed about 20 miles short of a popular tourist town in central Burma Sunday, killing all 49 people aboard, including 14 Americans, the government said.

The official News Agency of Burma said 36 foreigners, nine Burmese passengers and four crewmen were aboard.

It was the airline's second disaster in less than four months.

The agency said the twin-turboprop Fokker Friendship 27 "caught fire in midair" and crashed southeast of its destination in Pagan, a town whose ancient Buddhist temples attract many foreign tourists.

The brief announcement did not give the cause of the crash.

The agency said besides the Americans, seven Swiss citizens, five Britons, four Australians, three West Germans, two French citizens and one Thai died.

The crash came one day after diplomatic sources reported increased police protection of the U.S. Embassy in Rangoon because of reports that an anti-American terrorist group had entered Burma.

Officials would not speculate on possible links between crash and terrorists, and no further information was available on the alleged arrival of terrorists.

Jackson keeps optimism despite possible attacks on his character

WINTERSET, Iowa (AP)—Democratic presidential hopeful Jesse Jackson on Sunday dismissed "professional guessers" who doubt the viability of his campaign and rejected speculation that his personal life is about to come under attack.

"I sense victory," he insisted.

On Jackson's second day as a formal candidate, the Des Moines Sunday Register reported that his campaign was being dogged "by reports that newspapers are about to break stories portraying him as a womanizer."

In an interview with the Associated Press, Jackson dismissed those rumors.

"You stay your course and not dignify that which is irrelevant or not essential," Jackson said. "If you confront it and dignify it, you give it meaning. Experience will teach you that people do not judge you on the home run you hit or the error you make the other day, they judge you by your cumulative score.

"For the most part, people judge politicians about like they judge themselves—as human beings."

When Jackson opened his campaign Saturday in Raleigh, N.C., some key supporters said they were concerned that damaging personal revelations were about to be published.

There has been intense scrutiny of the personal lives of presidential candidates since former Sen. Gary Hart of Colorado and Sen. Joseph Biden of Delaware were forced from the race by embarrassing personal and campaign disclosures.

Jackson said he would be cautious in dealing with rumors because "public figures have to be very sensitive to and disciplined about remaining focused in the face of distraction."

Though Jackson insisted rumors wouldn't affect his campaign, he conceded they had caused personal pain on a tour which he is accompanied by his wife and some of his children.

Jackson, an ordained minister, delivered a sermon Sunday at a small Lutheran church in a central Iowa community, using his message to insist on the financial needs of farmers and urban factory workers all have a place in his "Rainbow Coalition."

New law tests teachers' English

CHAMPAIGN (AP)—University instructors may understand solid-state physics, differential equations and organic chemistry, but what happens if they can't explain it in understandable English?

Illinois' state universities are grappling with the question this fall because of a new state law requiring them to ensure that most classroom instructors speak English fluently.

The law, which took effect earlier this year, was aimed primarily at graduate students who serve as teaching assistants, or "T.A.s," and provide as much as half of undergraduate instruction in some areas.

It's being implemented this fall by the four state university systems, each of which has set up its own system to screen the language skills of some or all classroom instructors.

University officials generally opposed the legislation, and a few are still unhappy with it. Some say it attacks the problem with a bludgeon where a scalpel was needed. Others say the student complaints that prompted the law reflected the difficulty of the courses and the friction of young Midwesterners' first contacts with a foreign culture.

Still others maintain that while the problem exists, it was better addressed by the universities themselves well before legislation was conceived.

"If you're a respected institution, you've been worried about this all along," said Howard L. Wakeland, associate dean of engineering at the University of Illinois at Champaign.

On the University of Illinois campus, it's not hard to find undergraduates who have horror stories about teaching assistants using fractured English.

Jackman's bicycle to bounce off head

By TINA POSZICH
Staff writer

Comedian and juggler Edward Jackman won't decide what his act will consist of until the first 20 minutes on stage.

"The first 20 minutes on stage I'm deciding what to do with the show," Jackman said, adding, "I decide where the people want to go with the show."

Jackman's performance is scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday in the Union Grand Ballroom. Admission is $1.50.

The juggler/comedian said each show depends on each audience.

"Sometimes I might not juggle until after the first several minutes and start off with comedy," he said. "Other times, I'll start the show off with juggling."

Heidi Schwaegerman, University Board special events coordinator, said, "He's not just a stand-up comedian and not just a juggler. He does a variety of things."

"He takes a 10-speed bike and bounces it on his head," Schwaegerman said. "That's where the 'dangerous stuff' (Jackman advertises) comes from."

Jackman said he started juggling in high school. "In 10 minutes I became the best juggler most people had ever seen up close," he said.

"Most people spent time practicing to be the third or fourth best player on a team," Jackman said, adding, "I learned something nobody else did and became the best they had seen."

"Most comedians can tell you exactly how long their act is," he said. "I have trouble doing that because each show varies so much."

The performer said a good show depends on how much he ad-libs.

"For me a good show is when I do something that's completely ad-libbed. I don't want to do something I've already seen before," Jackman said.

The performer looks at college performances as a learning experience.

"Performing at colleges is so much different (than at night clubs)," he said, adding, "There's so much more for me to learn. There's more writing material."

Jackman said his future plans are not definite.

"Even if they don't remember my name, people remember the guy with the bicycle on his head," Jackman said.

Alliance Church opens its door at Charleston Motor Inn

JANE CLARK
Staff writer

The freedom to choose and practice religion is an American privilege, and a new church in Charleston will give citizens another option when exercising this right.

The Alliance Church, which is part of the Christian and Missionary Alliance denomination, began conducting services at the Charleston Motor Inn, 920 W. Lincoln Ave., Sept. 27.

Total attendance for the two Sunday services, held at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m., was 53 on Sept. 27 and 44 on Oct. 4.

"The attendance was typical for a starting church," said Leonard Bauer, pastor of the Alliance Church. "We are trying to attract a wide variety of people, university students as well as community members."

When asked if the location may keep some students away, Bauer responded, "Students go three miles for a hamburger. We figure they'll go one or two miles for church."

The interest in the church was originally kindled by three Charleston families and sparked on by Eastern Physics Professor Doug Davis.

"Doug has been pursuing this idea for at least 10 years," Bauer said. "Over that period, he contacted and wrote at least 45 letters to various church authorities."

In June of this year, church officials finally consented to the idea after Davis went to them with an interested pastor and proof of community support.

"Our beliefs are somewhat between the openness of the Assembly of God teachings and the strong doctrine teachings of the Baptist religion," Bauer said.

"We'd like to have 75 to 100 people attending services on a regular basis," Bauer said.

Workers repair water pipe

BILL DENNIS
Staff editor

Eastern physical plant employees worked into early Sunday morning repairing a water pipe which broke outside of Douglas Hall late Saturday evening.

Service to Douglas was not interrupted because of the damage, although water pressure was down slightly, said Victor Robeson, physical plant director.

Most of the water flowed down a sidewalk and toward the hall's parking lot, preventing any structural damage to the building, he added.

The repairs made over the weekend are temporary, and more work will need to be done starting Monday, Robeson said.

The damage was probably caused by ordinary wear and tear, Robeson said.

Robeson, who was at the site during repairs, said no other problems have been reported.

The leak was discovered between 9 and 10 p.m. Saturday and reported to the physical plant, said Lincoln Hall counselor Maureen Ferriter.

Ferriter was on duty at the front desk when she was told of the leak by an RA from Douglas. She said she then called the physical plant.

Ferriter said the leak had caused four "geysers" of water to spring from the ground outside of Douglas Hall facing the tennis courts. The workers were at the scene until 5 a.m., she said.

Iraq resumes blitz, Baghdad hit

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—Iraq resumed its aerial blitz of Iranian oil targets Sunday, severely damaging a Liberian-flagged supertanker. Two crewmen were reported killed and four others missing in the attack.

An Iranian surface-to-surface missile exploded in Baghdad, the Iraqi capital, as Iran retaliated for the attack on tankers.

Two Exocet missiles from Iraqi jets crashed into the engine room of the 239,435-ton Rova, setting the ship ablaze, according to gulf-based shipping sources.

It was one of three raids announced by Iraq against tankers along the Iranian coast since Saturday morning.

Shipping sources identified one of three targets as the Merlin, a 215,925-ton Cypriot-flag tanker under charter to Iran. An Exocet missile crashed into the ship but did not explode and damage was minor, they said. The unexploded missile was still aboard.

The identity of the third ship was not known, the sources said.

Both Baghdad and Tehran reported that a long-range Iranian missile was fired into the Iraqi capital overnight but disagreed where it hit. Iran claimed the missile struck a major military garrison.

(and other dangerous stuff)

New trees make a mess of old plans

Eastern officials have inadvertently tied a cement block onto every student's grade point average.

Textbooks will be thrown, vulgar drivels will pour from mouths and local drinking establishments will become crowded with melancholy students.

This later result was evident the other night as I enjoyed a drink with my friend Buck Miffleton.

"I can't believe it," Buck said as if someone had just slugged his mother in the midsection. "I've been counted absent from all of my classes four times this week just because I was late to class. I hate this campus."

Needless to say, I was somewhat taken aback by this outburst. This is a nice campus. The people that teach seem to be a level-headed bunch of folks. And Eastern's administrators know what they are doing most of the time—so why the sullen look?

"I mean I was really going to do good this semester and now my GPA has just signed up as a crew member with the Tidy Bowl Man on his trip up the creek," Buck said as he slammed his fist on the bar hard enough to disrupt the basket of popcorn sitting by my arm.

With kernels of popped corn strewn about and pools of beer forming, I decided to get to the bottom of this tantrum once and for all.

It wasn't that he hadn't been studying. It wasn't that he had been frequenting the local pubs too often. The problem that my forlorn friend had was that Eastern is putting in new landscaping across campus from Old

Steve Smith

Main to Buzzard Building.

So, it's about time, you may say. Well, it's not a time for poor Buck Miffleton. You see Buck, a semester junior, had formulated a plan on getting classes called "The Beeline Approach."

This unorthodox approach of getting to class requires the student to walk over any object, plant or person in his/her path until sitting safely in a desk.

Buck, a true veteran of beelining, had carefully calculated the distances and times to each building campus down to the last inch, the last second. For example, it took Buck exactly four minutes and 15 seconds to get to his class in Old Main and only 10 minutes and nine seconds to get to his Coleman classes.

Now, thanks to the landscaping, Buck said the time it takes him to get to class has almost doubled.

"The thing that really gets me," Buck said, obviously peeved, "is that now I have to use the sidewalks. The new planted trees and bushes in all the places where I used to walk saved the most time."

While it is true that the landscaping will improve the looks of Eastern it is also true that hundreds, possibly thousands, of Buck Miffletons exist on campus.

"Those plants had better be made out of cement because I swear, I will not hesitate to walk right over them," Buck yelled as he stood up, knocking over a chair and causing several patrons to look.

But Buck, what if they poured cement all over the fertile campus grounds making Eastern into one big parking lot from Old Main to Carman Hall?

"I'd probably have to wait in line for a parking sticker."

Here Buck, let me buy the next round.

Health Services took too long to stock condoms

Ask Americans what their greatest fears are and among them they will undoubtedly include the fright of catching the deadly AIDS virus.

And now, doing its part to stem the spread of the virus, Eastern's Health Service is selling condoms.

Editorial However, what the Health Service is doing, in a roundabout way, is promoting safe sex among those sexually active through the use of condoms.

It is a move that comes none too soon to a university that has reported an increased number of pregnancy tests in the past year.

While the goal of stopping the spread of AIDS is a noble move indeed, putting a dent in the number of unwanted pregnancies is a greater one.

The realization by the Health Service that Eastern students need contraceptives is welcome, although it is disturbing that the condoms are not stocked with the main intention—curbing pregnancies.

One official said the Health Service would not stock condoms for contraceptive use only. This left the student the options of traveling to an off-campus location to buy condoms or the alternative—not using a contraceptive at all.

While the university promoted safe sex through numerous lectures and seminars, it offered little assistance in attaining them.

It is comforting to know that this university is concerned about the spread of a deadly disease. But finding a contraceptive remained typically a task for females.

Women could, and still can, get prescriptions for birth control pills and diaphragms at Health Service. Now the burden of finding a contraceptive can be shared equally between partners.

Unfortunately, the university had to wait until an AIDS scare frightened it into stocking and promoting the use of condoms.

Letter policy

The Daily Eastern News encourages letters to the editor from any reader addressing issues relating to the campus community.

The name and telephone number of at least one author must be submitted with each letter to the editor. Letters must be 250 words or less.

Only the first three names from letters containing more than three authors will be published unless further specified.

Library offers tours through October

Editor:

I think it's important that all students know about the library tours being given.

Some time during your stay at Eastern you'll probably want to use the library's materials to complete a project. However, if you don't know exactly where to find and how to use certain materials, your work will be much more time consuming and frustrating.

So, to make it easier for you, the library has 40-minute tours that help eliminate the problems mentioned.

If you are interested, just go to the main level reference desk at the following times: 10 a.m. Wednesdays, 2 p.m. Tuesdays and 6 p.m. Thursdays. These tours will continue through October.

Campus Police need their guns

Editor:

Mr. Paul Phillips, in response to your letter on Oct. 5, Campus Police have been carrying guns for more than 10 years and will continue to carry guns as long as they are trained through the Illinois State Police Academy in Springfield and the Police Training Institute in Champaign.

Mr. Phillips, I believe that you are naive when you attend a school with more than 10,000 students and think that Campus Police only need guns at night. Where you have been spending your adult life?

I think that you and the student body (that minute population that is behind you) can keep your suggestions to yourselves where they belong, and Campus Police will continue carrying their guns like they are mandated to do by the State of Illinois.

Just think Mr. Phillips, every person that has a job to do has equipment to do the job. Would you send a football player on the field without a helmet?

Beatles' legend lives on in '1964'

By JUDY WEIDMAN
Activities editor

Although the Beatles' music is now available on MTV and compact discs, 790 people caught a "live" glimpse of what the group looked like back in "1964."

Dressed in Beatle attire and armed with London-made instruments, the group "1964" turned back the hands of time Saturday night in McAfee Gym.

During the concert, the audience heard a variety of Beatle favorites, including "I Wanna Hold Your Hand" and "I Saw Her Standin' There."

In its second performance at Eastern in the past two years, 1964 livened up the crowd by encouraging it to sing along with "Eight Days a Week," "You Can't Buy Me Love" and "I Feel Fine."

The band started the second set with the well-known hit "Twist and Shout" and progressed in loudness to "A Hard Days Night" and "Yellow Submarine," before Gary Grimes (Paul McCartney) mellowed the crowd with "Yesterday."

And the band remains in a never-ending yesterday period.

"When the Beatles were out they were in their early 20s and not perfected, so you can't play it too slick," Grimes said. "It's kind of hard to play it bad."

Although none of 1964's members ever saw or met the original Beatles, Greg George (Ringo Starr) said they spend a great deal of time learning the mannerisms.

"We watch videos over and over and we look at pictures," George said. "We just use information that's available to everyone."

The 1964 group consists of Grimes, George, Mark Benson (John Lennon) and Bob Miller (George Harrison).

Bob Miller, a member of the band "1964" (top), acts out the part of George Harrison at "1964 as the Beatles" Saturday night.

Gary Grimes (Paul McCartney) and Miller harmonize to vintage Beatles tunes during the performance of "1964 as the Beatles" Saturday night (bottom left).

Campus toured by students

By KRISTIN OELKE
Staff writer

Fall open house, which offers high school seniors a chance to take a close-up look at Eastern, begins 9 a.m. Monday in the Union Grand Ballroom.

In the Ballroom, booths will be set up representing the Financial Aids Office, ROTC and various academic departments.

Also, Eastern's housing department will be giving campus tours between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Tours of the residence halls will also be available and lunch will be served for the visiting seniors and their families.

Director of admissions Dale Wolf said he expects between 400 and 500 people will attend the open house.

Although Wolf mentioned that the program is successful, he said the Veteran's Day open house attracts more students because the event is conducted on a national holiday, making the trip more practical for parents.

"A student rarely picks a college that he hasn't visited," Wolf said, adding, "I hope our students remember the overwhelming experience it is to visit a college and will give a friendly smile and welcome them (high school students)."

Runners to participate in Lung Run

By LISA DEMPSEY
Staff writer

Between Homecoming, fall festivals and Halloween, there's plenty to do in October. The problem is that many of these activities are either fattening or just bad for the health.

One exception is the Oct. 31 Lung Run for the American Lung Association. The Lung Run is a five-kilometer race and a one-mile "fun run" designed to help finance the Asthma Youth Camp, a summer youth camp for Illinois children between the ages of 6 and 13 with asthma, said Lung Run Coordinator Anita Thompson.

The seventh annual event will begin 8 p.m. at Mt. Zion High School in Mt. Zion, and in keeping with the Halloween spirit, runners are encouraged to run while dressed in a costume, Thompson said.

Prizes and $20 gift certificates will be awarded for the best costume in four categories: most original, most attractive, funniest and ugliest.

Last year, about 120 Lung Runners raised $975 toward the financial goal of $1,500.

Runners have a chance to obtain sponsored pledges to further help the Lung Association reach this year's goal, which is also $1,500, she said.

Thompson said students could obtain Lung Run entry blanks by writing 152 N. Edward St. in Decatur.

Entry fees will be $8 for the road race and $1 for fun run.

Bork apparently defeated

WASHINGTON (AP)—A key Senate Democrat warned today that the White House had not assumed Robert Bork's apparent defeat will mean that the next Supreme Court nominee faces easy passage.

"I don't think anybody should share the illusion... that the next nominee will sail through like a greased pig no matter what that nominee may be like," said Sen. Alan Cranston, the Democratic leader. "We'll take a hard look at the nominee."

The surprised lawmakers and, apparently, the White House when he said Friday he would continue his fight for the nomination.

White House strategists have indicated they hope for quick confirmation of a new, conservative nominee after the Senate votes on Bork. That vote is now expected to be later this month.

Branston, D-Calif., said on ABC-TV's "This Week with David Brinkley" that a successful nomination would have to be "somebody who doesn't come with an agenda that's pretty much what the extreme right wants in our country."

Sen. Joseph Biden, D-Del., the chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, was asked whether the long battle over Bork might mean that picking a new justice could fall to the next president.

"In the past, there have been suggestions they (Democrats) adopt the Strom Thurmond tactic, which as you remember, as of June of the year before Carter left office, the announcement went out, no more judges," he said in an interview on CBS-TV's "Face the Nation."

Loch monster still a mystery

DRUMNADROCHIT, Scotland (AP)—The biggest scientific search for the Loch Ness monster ended Sunday with one purported monster picture debunked, three sonar contacts showing something big in the murky waters and the elusive Nessie still a legend.

The three-day expedition proved to be a mix of serious scientific investigation along with the biggest media extravaganza ever to hit the tranquil shores of Loch Ness.

The hunt ended up focusing on three sonar blips that showed objects in the middle of the 754-foot-deep loch. The most significant blip depicted an object at a depth of about 625 feet, looking like an inverted V.

Video film taken by the team meanwhile showed that the famed "pargovle head" photo of Nessie taken in 1975 by The Academy of Applied Science in Concord, N.H. was really a rotting tree stump about 20 feet below the surface.

Homosexuals demand protection from discrimination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thousands of homosexual activists, led by AIDS victims in wheelchairs and bearing signs carrying messages like, "Thank You I'm Gay," marched Sunday to demand protection from discrimination and more federal money for AIDS research and treatment.

U.S. Park Police estimated that 1,000 people participated in the march past the White House and rally at the Capitol. The crowd, carrying balloons and banners and wearing buttons and T-shirts, heard from speakers including Democratic presidential candidate Jesse Jackson and former National Organization for Women President Eleanor Smeal.

"Let's find a common ground of humanity," Jackson told the rally late in the afternoon. "We share the desire for life, liberty, the pursuit of happiness, equal protection under the law. Let's not dwell on distinctions."

He brought the crowd to its feet when he called for an end to the AIDS crisis.

"We can fight AIDS and every form of death. Let's give life a chance," he said.

After his speech, Jackson spoke to a number of AIDS victims in wheelchairs near the stage. He shook their hands and said, "God Bless you."

The rally stretched along the mall for more than a dozen blocks.

"Here we are from California,

Alabama, Florida, Arizona, Alaska, Seattle and Delaware— east, west, north and south—in numbers too large to ever be denied again," said Eleanor Smeal, former president of the National Organization for Women.

She told the crowd they numbered 500,000 and yelled, "Look at you!"

"Feel the political power of the moment. Spread love and fight hate," she said.

You remember. She was always there when you were frightened. And if you got hurt, she was standing by with bandages. Wouldn't it feel good to talk to your mother again right now?

Calling over AT&T Long Distance Service probably costs less than you think, too. And if you have any questions about AT&T rates or service, a customer service representative is always standing by to talk to you. Just call 1 800 222-0300.

Sure, your schoolwork and your friends keep you busy. But call home and find out what she's wrapped up in.

Lady harriers take 11th in 5K IU meet

By JAMES BETZOLD
Staff writer

The Eastern women's cross country team finished 11th out of 12 teams Saturday at the Indiana Invitational at the University of Indiana in Bloomington, Ind.

The meet was won by the University of Michigan with 45 points while Eastern's team total was 334.

Overall top finisher in the five kilometer race was former Michigan runner Sue Schroeder with a time of 17:10. Michigan's Eileen Donagey was the top collegiate finisher with a time of 17:14.

Despite the low team finish, head coach John Craft did see improvements in some of his harriers.

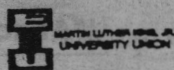

"Lori Albro ran quite a bit better," Craft said. "I'm pleased with her performance."

Albro was Eastern's top finisher with a time of 20:08 (63rd place overall).

Other Eastern finishers included: freshman Cindy McDonald, 20:43 (66th place); senior Marcia Rivard, 21:30 (67th place); sophomore Pam Kinkelaar, 21:32 (68th place); senior Lisa Jostes, 24:50 (70th place).

One important runner missing from the list of Eastern finishers was freshman Laurie Mizener. She had been Eastern's top finisher in every meet this season, but was unable to finish when she fell down during the race.

Cirino turned, fired and no mistake as he put the into the lower right hand er past goaltender Mike ay, who played the second for Eastern. The goal, which came at 53:28, gave Northwestern a 1-0 lead.

However, the Panthers fought back and tied the game at 66:50. It started when freshman Rob Hartman gained control of the ball and fired a shot.

Wildcat goalie George Kokodynski punched the ball away, but the rebound came to sophomore David Kompare, who put the ball away for his team leading 10th goal of the season, tying the match at 1-1.

The next Eastern match is Wednesday against Wright State, and Mosnia didn't mince words.

"Wright State has a very good team. If we aren't ready mentally for it, we could be in trouble," Mosnia said.

Linksters 5th at Valpo tourney

By DAVID LINDQUIST
Staff writer

Eastern's golf team's fall season ended Friday with a fifth place finish in the Valparaiso University Invitational.

Franklin College won the event, recording a team total of 409 at the tournament.

Eastern's squad, consisting only of freshmen, turned in a team total of 429 for the 18-hole tournament.

The best Panther individual finish of the season was scored Friday by Alan Burkel, who placed second among all tourney competitors.

Coach Paul Lueken was impressed by Burkel's round of 76 at the Valparaiso Golf Club.

"I'm very happy with his play," Lueken said. "It's especially nice since Friday was the first time he had played that course."

Other Panthers contributing to the squad's team total were Doug Deidrich, Doug Langan and Dean Grunewald.

Only four strokes separated the trio of freshmen as Deidrich shot an 85 and Langan recorded an 87.

Lueken said aside from Eastern's own tourney, the Valparaiso Invitational was the first college event Deidrich and Langan had played in.

Grunewald scored an 89 for the Panthers.

Friday's tourney marked the conclusion of the young Panthers' fall play.

"We had a great fall season," Lueken said. "When you look down our roster, we only had one player, Todd Bittle, who really had tournament experience going into this season."

Panther harriers win Invite

By AL LAGATTOLLA
Staff writer

Eastern men's cross country team went into the Washington University Invitational with confidence Saturday.

"We went into the meet saying we should win this race," said cross country coach Tom Akers. "We knew we had a chance to win."

The Panther harriers then invaded St. Louis under wet and muddy conditions and came out with a first place finish.

"We haven't won an invitational for quite a while," Akers said. "I was real pleased with the way our guys ran today."

The Panther's finished first with 69 points, followed by Southern Illinois at Edwardsville with 78. Finishing third was the squad from Augustana with 89 points and the Washington harriers finished fourth scoring an even 100 points. Fifth with 108 points was Harding University of Searcy, Ark.

The top Panther finisher was junior John Wells, finishing sixth in the time at 26:29 despite the fact he fell down in the first 100 yards. He showed what Akers called "mental toughness."

"He did a sort of rolling thing, then he picked himself up and continued. That sh me a lot," Akers said.

Second scoring Panther senior Tom Buchanan wh 11th overall crossing the li 26.44.

Next was sophomore Goodin clocked at 27:06, for 17th place.

The fourth Panther ha was senior Jim Mator overall, timed at 27:11.

Final scoring Panther senior Terry Gordon, wi first top five finish of the coming in 21st overal 27:13.

Junior Sam Kling was at 27:19, senior Scott O finished 33rd and junio Oaks was 34th.

Leatherneck offense to 21 points. Western had been leading just under 32 points in the first half.

"It was just great determination on a lot of individuals' parts," Spoo said. "We had some bad breaks, but we can't do that in order to win. We can't do that in order to win," said senior linebacker Bruce Briscoe, who recorded 10 total tackles.

"Briscoe has a good arm, and I think his receivers caught the ball well," Briscoe said. "The different Leatherneck players caught passes from each other."

"Western has a good defense, but we scored 21 points. That was a lot in itself. The big thing for us was our lack of turnovers in the second half," Spoo said.

"Our defense did a tremendous job holding them to 21 points," said Western coach Bruce Craddock. "The line stand at the end of the game was unbelievable."

The Leatherneck defense held Eastern away at the seven yard line with less than three minutes to play after the Panthers had driven from their own 16-yard line.

The Leathernecks jumped out to a 7-0 lead in the first quarter on Derek Swanson's four-yard run and Layne Bennett's conversion kick with just 2:49 gone from the clock.

The seven-play, 26-yard drive was set up on the game's second play when Eastern quarterback Kurt Simon, who finished the night 15 of 26 for 129 yards and an interception, fumbled on an option play, and Leatherneck safety Emrick Wilcox pounced on the ball at the Eastern 26.

Four minutes and eleven seconds later, Singer connected with wide out Steve Williams, and Bennett added the conversion to boost the Leatherneck lead to 14-0.

"We like to get out early, and the last two weeks we've done that," Singer said. "I think it just goes to show you that we want to win the conference."

Last week versus the Red-birds, Western jumped out to a 31-0 lead and hung on for a nine point victory.

The Panthers got on the board Saturday with 2:54 remaining in the first with a Rich Ehmke field goal from 26 yards to make the score 14-3.

Western upped its lead to 21-3 when Swanson finished off a nine play, 69-yard drive with a three-yard run for a touchdown with 12:36 remaining in the second quarter.

Bennett then added his third conversion of the day.

Ehmke moved pulled the Panthers to 21-6 with a 27-yard field goal with 6:42 before the half.

Eastern tallied the only points of the second half when DuWayne Pitts took a reverse handoff from Simon and rambled 28-yards for the touchdown with 2:05 remaining in the third stanza.

Eastern's attempt for the two-point conversion was snuffed when Simon was stopped six inches from the goal line on a keeper.

Spoo ponders QB dilemma

MARY BOTTINO
Staff Editor

After losing a 21-12 decision to Western Illinois Saturday at Eastern Stadium wasn't enough, Eastern coach Bob Spoo now has another dilemma on his hands.

After mustering only 12 points, Spoo placed redshirt freshman quarterback Eric Arnold in the contest in favor of senior Kurt Simon, who was 15 of 26 on the night for 129 yards and one interception.

Simon also fumbled three times during Saturday's contest.

Arnold entered the game at 11:20 to play in the fourth quarter and completed four of seven passes for 56 yards including a 17-yard pass to senior Ralph Stewart.

The Pekin native also drove the Panthers to the Western seven yard line with less than three minutes remaining, but couldn't connect with an open Pat Carroll in the end zone on fourth down giving the Leathernecks the ball to run out the final 2:02.

"Pat Carroll did an excellent job to get open; I just couldn't get it to him," Arnold said.

"We need to make a decision," Spoo said after Saturday's game. "And it's got to be done by Monday. We need to get it out in the open."

"I'm happy with Arnold's performance. He certainly sparked some things."

Spoo was also outspoken on the matter of dissent among his team.

"There should be no finger pointing. That's not the way we play the game. It's not in the concept of what we're trying to get done," Spoo said.

However, on Sunday afternoon, Spoo was still undecided on whether he will make a change.

The situation "is still in limbo," said Spoo, who began warming Arnold up during the third quarter.

"My first inclination (to put Arnold in) was a lot earlier. I know there are a lot of different opinions on when I should've put him in, but I was just upset about something and I considered a few things and it was not as opportune of a time as I thought."

"When it comes down to it, Kurt didn't do all that bad of a job," Spoo said.

"He fumbled the ball, but he did not have a bad day throwing."

Eastern plagued by turnovers in 21-12 defeat

Leatherneck quarterback Singer tosses for 214 yards

ROBB MONTGOMERY / Staff photographer

Eastern tight end Mike Macek (84) tries to break away from Western linebacker Marty Lomelino (44) during Saturday's 21-12 Leatherneck victory. The Panthers' record dropped to 3-3 on the season and 1-1 in the Gateway conference. Western is currently 5-1 on the season and a perfect 4-0 in the Gateway.

By BARRY BOTTINO
Sports editor

The turnover bug hit Eastern for a second week in a row as the Panthers gave up five of them in Saturday's 21-12 defeat. Once giving Western Illinois a 21-12 victory in front of a crowd of 2,413 at O'Brien Stadium Saturday.

Eastern drops to 3-3 on the season and evens its Gateway conference record at 1-1. The Leathernecks are now 5-1 on the season and a perfect 4-0 against Gateway foes.

"We're not one of those teams that can win when the ball turns over," said Eastern coach Bob Spoo.

"We've got to keep working and try to get better, but it's a slow process," Spoo said.

Western quarterback Paul Singer racked up 214 yards passing with 25 completions on 44 attempts and one touchdown.

The junior from Fort Knox, Ky., had been averaging 280 yards per game through the season.

The Panther defense held the ball.

Lady Panthers win UCF tourney; stretch win streak to 10 matches

By MIKE FITZGERALD
Staff writer

Eastern's volleyball team won a school record fourth tournament title this weekend when it captured the Central Florida/Burger King Classic in Orlando.

The Panthers, 17-3, have won 10 straight matches since the Miami of Ohio Tournament two weeks ago.

Eastern opened the tournament on Friday afternoon by sweeping Stetson 15-5, 15-11 and 15-9. The Panthers then went on to beat North Carolina-Charlotte 15-5, 15-3, 4-15 and 15-6.

In action Friday night, the Panthers disposed of Georgia Southern 15-6, 15-3 and 15-0 in a match that lasted 49 minutes.

Eastern defeated South Florida Saturday morning 15-5, 17-15 and 15-8 to advance into the semi-finals Saturday afternoon.

The Panthers had their hands full in the semi-final match against host Central Florida.

Eastern took the first two games by scores of 15-13 and 15-13, but the Knights roared back to take games three and four by scores of 15-10 and 15-11 to set up a tension filled game five.

Central Florida took an 8-5 lead early, but the Panthers, as they have done so often this season, rallied to tie the score at 10-10.

Eastern then ran off four straight points to take a 14-10 lead. The Knights cut it to 14-11 before Deanna Lund put it away with a service ace to make the final 15-11.

Jeanne Pacione, who made her third all-tournament team this season, thinks a pre-match talk by coach Betty Ralston got the team going.

"Coach said we didn't come this far to get third place," said Pacione. "I think that got the team fired up."

The Panthers faced South Florida in the title match Saturday night. The Bulls advanced to the finals by sweeping North Carolina-Charlotte.

Eastern swept out the Bulls 15-6, 15-2 and 15-6 to pick up the tournament title.

Gina Knoke led the way in

Laura Bruce

the title match by hitting .615 and putting her first nine attempts down for kills.

"I was looking to go to her because she was unbelievably on," said Pacione. "Anything I put up in the air she put straight down on the floor."

Laura Bruce also made the all-tournament team for the Panthers. She had 50 kills, 66 digs and 15 service aces. It is the second all-tournament team selection for Bruce this season.

Bruce gave a lot of credit for the tournament title to the Panther bench for its performance in the clutch.

"The bench always seems to come through and does whatever needs to be done. They weren't intimidated out there," Bruce said.

Mosnia, Panthers settle for 1-1 draw with Northwestern

Eastern's soccer team is, in the words of coach Cizo Mosnia, "like a roller coaster."

"It's been like this all year—up and down. We haven't been able to establish any consistency," said the fourth-year coach after seeing his team tie Northwestern 1-1 on Sunday at Lakeside Field.

"We weren't lively at all today (Sunday). Our passing was terrible. We couldn't string three or four passes together all day," Mosnia said.

"I told them before the game that they couldn't take them lightly," Mosnia continued. "Mentally, you've got to be ready to play, and I don't think that they were today."

Not only that, but the booters had to deal with Lakeside Field's treacherous conditions.

"It's terrible. There's ruts all over the place. Still, the field isn't our biggest problem, the fact that we didn't play well is," Mosnia said.

Northwestern coach Michael Kunert was also outspoken about the conditions of Lakeside Field.

"It looked pretty choppy out there. The ball was taking bounces that you might not normally find. You couldn't trap the ball. But it was the same for both teams," Kunert said.

Kunert was happy with the play of his team, though. "We were coming off a big loss to Indiana (a 7-0 loss on Wednesday to the Hoosiers) and we needed to establish ourselves after that loss," he said. "Eastern is a good team, and we knew we'd be in a battle."

"We're glad that we got a draw today," Kunert continued. "I think that both teams played well today and it was a deserved tie."

"We battled them all day long," Kunert said. "Getting a tie on the road like this one, we'd consider it a win for us, so I'm happy about it."

While both teams had a couple of good chances in the first half, play seemed to be centered most of the time at midfield. The two teams battled to halftime scoreless.

In the second half, Northwestern drew first blood when the Panthers were called for a handball inside the penalty area, resulting in a penalty kick.

Freshman Tom Hospe was chosen to take the penalty, but the ball
