Eastern senior dies following auto accident

JEFF MADSEN
Staff editor

An Eastern senior died Friday afternoon from injuries she sustained when she was hit by a car Aug. 19.

Donna L. Connelly, 21, of Hinsdale, was pronounced dead Friday at 12:30 p.m. at Carle Hospital in Champaign. Visitation will be held Monday (5-9 p.m.) and Tuesday (4-9 p.m.) at Elliston Funeral Home, First and Grant Streets, in Downers Grove. Mass will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Connelly was a four-year member of the Alpha Phi sorority and worked at the Union check-cashing station. Friends remembered her as an easy-going, enthusiastic and peaceful person.

"I don't think Donna was ever one to let herself get stressed out," said Tegan Ward, who would have been one of Connelly's roommates this semester.

The last thing I remember about Donna before she left Friday was she looked so peaceful when she was sleeping. We had been practicing for Rush and it was pretty exhausting. But Donna just looked so peaceful," Ward said.

Connelly, a business major, had just registered for graduation before the accident.

"I pledged with her and had known her for four years," said Lisa Birchner, a friend and sorority sister. The Alpha Phi's held a memorial service for Connelly Sunday. "She was very friendly and enthusiastic. She was always there for you."

Connelly was crossing Seventh Street and Lincoln Avenue at about 11 a.m. on Aug. 19, when she was hit by a car driven by 81-year-old Orval McNamer, 1540 18th St.

Police said McNamer was traveling eastbound on Lincoln and swerved into the path of a truck traveling northbound on Seventh Street.

McNamer's vehicle hit the truck, and struck Connelly before it slammed into a tree on Lincoln Avenue. McNamer was also transported to Carle hospital, but was released Aug. 21.

McNamer was charged with disobeying a stop sign. No other charges have been filed against him.

Rives concerned about quality of education

CHRYSTAL PHILPOTT
Editor in chief

Effects of the university's dire financial straits seemed to have been the thing most on Eastern President Stan Rives' mind Saturday at a presentation to the Illinois Opinion Writers Association.

"We've got to be concerned about the quality of education we provide students and trying to provide quality education for a greater number of students with less resources won't work," Rives said during the luncheon meeting at Boomers w/a Twist, 506 W. Lincoln Ave.

"The responsibility we have is not to determine how much the state of Illinois is going to provide, but it is to provide the quality education it can with the resources available. The question we'll have to answer is how many students can be served with the resources we have," he said.

Downsizing the university from the current 10,500 students to 8,500 within the next five years is the solution university officials are in the process of implementing.

The 10,500 student-figure for this fall is up considerably from the 10,121 student-figure of last fall, he said.

However, though Rives said he

Budget director stresses tax need

By CHRYSTAL PHILPOTT
Editor in chief

Higher education is in dire need of a tax increase, Illinois budget director Bob Mandeville said Friday night to the Illinois Opinion Writers Association.

"You cannot continue to finance the programs we now have on the books without a tax increase. You cannot start new programs . . . without a tax increase," Mandeville said during the after-dinner lecture in the Martin Luther King Jr. University Union.

"We can't pretend anymore we can fund new programs plus the ones we have on the books without new revenues. You can't continue to fund all the programs people want funded without a tax increase," Mandeville said.

Mandeville said part of the reason why a tax increase which would provide increased funding for education has not succeeded so far is that people haven't seen education's financial crisis as a crisis.

"People have to perceive a crisis," he said. "People don't believe Illinois has a crisis. If I buy the thesis you can't raise taxes until there is a crisis, then the follow up from the people in Illinois is we don't have a crisis. Whether or not that's true is irrelevant. People have to believe there's a crisis."

In the meantime, until people perceive a crisis and a tax increase is implemented to provide increased funding for education, Mandeville said educators have to reprioritize their spending.

"Either we will pay the bills on time with a tax increase, or we will continue to not pay our bills on time. You always have the choice of having fewer people and having a pay increase," Mandeville said.

"I'm not arguing you have enough money. I just spent the last hour talking about how we need to increase revenues for education. I personally believe Illinois has the capacity to handle a one-half percent or a 1 percent tax increase, and we probably should do it to finance education and all the programs where people are hurting," Mandeville said.

number of students are admitted than actually show up, he said.

Rives also said a report will be given at Thursday's Council for Academic Affairs meeting proposing upgrading the university's admissions standards.

Despite his support for downsizing the university and for upgrading admissions standards, Rives said he is opposed to raising more funding by increasing tuition this year.

"I'm going to oppose a tuition increase this year, but I believe it will occur anyway. The reason I'm going to oppose it is because we have had (other recent tuition increases) above inflation. What we have done is restrict educational opportunity with those increases," Rives said.

"Furthermore," he added, "I'm concerned that our public universities are being increasingly privatized. Some would say that's a good thing, but I don't think so."

Rives concluded his presentation by saying Secretary of Education William Bennett has put state universities in a corner by placing too much emphasis on cost effectiveness and not enough emphasis on a tax increase as the solution to the current financial situation.

"Nobody likes to increase taxes, but I think we've gotten ourselves into a pretty sorry state in this country. We haven't retained taxes in this area. We have reduced them. And there are many competing priorities for that," he said.

"We are failing to maintain a very fine system. Eventually we are going to have to come back and correct that situation," Rives said.

U.S. executions in a lull

HUNTSVILLE, Texas—Executions are down this year, even in the nation's capital punishment capital, as courts "fine-tune" the laws and death-row inmates wait to see what effect that will have on their cases.

In Texas this year, only Robert Streetman has been belted to the gurney and executed by injection, while eight convicts have been put to death nationally. Last year, Texas accounted for six of the 25 U.S. executions and 10 of 18 in 1986.

Since the U.S. Supreme Court ruled the death penalty legal in 1976, 101 inmates have been put to death, 27 of them in the Lone Star State.

"Texas has a great deal to do with it," Tanya Coke, research director for the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, said of the lull. "The courts heard major death penalty cases which challenge the constitutionality of the Texas law and essentially held them up."

Italian jets collide at air show

RAMSTEIN, West Germany (AP) — Three Italian fighter jets collided during an air show at a U.S. military base Sunday, and one crashed into spectators and burst into a ball of flame. At least 38 people were killed and hundreds injured, officials said.

Several children and the three aircraft pilots, members of a famed aerial stunt team, were among the dead, authorities reported.

West German officials estimated the size of the crowd at the air show at 200,000, and most were Americans and Germans.

The ZDF television network showed a giant ball of fire engulfing the spectators, who ran in panic with their clothes burning and their hair singeing. Flames at the Ramstein Air Base, 60 miles southwest of Frankfurt.

Some people stood in a thick cloud of smoke as a thick cloud of smoke enveloped them, and others toward the scene to try to give first aid.

KKK protests Civil Rights gathering

CHICAGO (AP)— Hooded Ku Klux Klansmen preaching white supremacy staged a rally Sunday near a multi-racial gathering commemorating Martin Luther King, as hundreds of club-carrying police tried to keep the crowds under control.

The atmosphere was tense in Marquette Park on the Southwest Side, where similar rallies sparked violence and resulted in 17 arrests two years ago.

"We had no idea that we'd both be here on the same day, but we are damn proud to be here for the white race," an unidentified klansman wearing a white hood told an all-white crowd of about 500, some holding Nazi flags and wearing

"White Power" T-shirts.

A line of uniformed police men and wooden barriers separated the crowd about 400 feet from the stage.

About 800 police officers, some on horses and others in clubs, filled the park, separating the KKK rally from the multi-racial group that gathered about a half-mile away.

8 face no rent lawsuits

By JEFF MADSEN
City editor

Two lawsuits totaling more than $17,000 have been filed against eight Eastern students who neglected to pay their rent last year.

The Champaign law firm that represents Royal Heights Apartments, 1509 Second St., filed the suits Thursday.

The first suit, against seniors Dan Iveinisevic, Mark J. Pflug, Todd Sterr and sophomore Dan Salata, maintains the students breached the rental agreement and failed to make their rent payments.

The students reportedly signed a lease on March 12, 1987 and agreed to pay a $625.00 security deposit and a total rent of $7,500. The lease terminated August 13, 1988 and was to be collected in monthly installments of $625.00. A $10 daily fee was also imposed for late payments.

The suit seeks $5,006 from Iveinisevic, including $1,630 in late payments. The $5,006 includes a previous judgement against Iveinisevic.

In addition, the suit seeks $4,549 from Pflug and $5,206 from Sterr and Dalata.

In a separate suit, Royal Heights seeks $3,003 in back-rent from seniors John Howe, Kevin Whitely, junior Kevin Whitely and sophomore Dan Salata.

The suit maintains the students vacated their apartment one year after they signed the lease. The students reportedly signed a lease on March 10, 1987 and agreed to pay a $665.00 security deposit. The lease called for $665.00 monthly rent from Aug. 15, 1987 to April 15, 1988 and $475.00 monthly from May 15, 1988 through Aug. 1988. A $10 daily fee was also imposed for late payments.

Student injured in hit-and-run accident

An Eastern freshman was injured early Saturday morning in what eyewitnesses describe as a hit-and-run accident.

Christine Eversol, 18, of Granite City, was taken to Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center and listed in good condition, and was released Sunday morning.

At press time, police could not release any information on the accident, but eyewitnesses say that the scooter, driven by an unidentified man on which Eversol was a passenger, was heading northbound on Ninth Street.

They had stopped at the stop sign at the corner of Ninth and (Grant), where a car had stopped, heading eastbound on Grant. The scooter having the right-of-way, left the stop sign first and headed north bound on Ninth street. The car pulled out after them, and attempted to pass. The scooter hit the car and Eversol was thrown onto the street, witnesses said.

Foundation announces officers

By CRAIG EDWARDS
Administration editor

The Eastern Illinois University Foundation's Board of Directors met Sunday to elect new officers.

John Heath, a 1958 Eastern graduate and former president of the Eastern Alumni Association, was named president of the foundation.

Heath is the former chairman of L.S. Heath & Sons, Inc., located 50 miles southeast of Charleston in Robinson. The company produces Heath Candy bars. Heath has also served as president of Fenn Bros. and Advertising Dimensions, Inc., which are both Heath subsidiary corporations.

As an active member of the Alumni Association, Heath headed an alumni fund-raising campaign and assisted on the committee to select Eastern President Stan Rives.

Sunday's meeting was the last for David Musgrave as foundation president. Musgrave will remain active on the foundation's board as treasurer.

"It's been a very rewarding experience to serve as president of the foundation and I look forward to my responsibilities as treasurer," Musgrave said Sunday. Musgrave is also a resident of Robinson.

Other officers elected Sunday include Margaret Hollowel, vice president and Charles Titus, secretary. Both are Charleston residents.

Housing office relocation not a smart idea

Eastern's administration may have backed themselves into a corner concerning the recent decision to replace the Union Station lounge with the Student Housing Office.

Editorial In an attempt to provide the housing office with supposedly much needed office space the university has begun construction to remodel the popular first floor student lounge in the Martin Luther King Jr. University Union.

However, students object partly because they were not consulted and partly because they have become fond of the lounge.

The lounge has become a popular place for students to go and study or relax before, in between or after classes.

However, according to Area Union Head Joanne Gossett, the lounge is not used to its full capacity.

Even if the lounge is not used to its full capacity 100 percent of the time, it, just like any other place on campus, has times when it is busier than others and tends to get a lot of student traffic throughout the day.

The popular lounge is not just for studying. It is also used for group meetings and there are two small TV areas for students to watch their soaps or whatever may be on.

One suggestion to alleviate the problem of lost study space was to consider opening the Triad food service. However, students are still voicing preference for the Union lounge.

It is a good possibility part of the reason is not so much the space as it is the surroundings. Students cannot hope to study efficiently if they are not comfortable with their environment.

It seems like the concerns of the students should be heard, but are falling on deaf ears.

It is bad enough Eastern's Union is relatively small for a student population of 10,000 plus students. By moving into the Union the housing office is also restricting the amount of space in the main part of the building and making the student union even smaller. Does the administration really need to make it smaller by taking over part of the building?

Students have a valid reason for getting upset at the change.

When they left after the spring semester and even after the summer they still had a place to go that was their own.

The union is for the students and should be left that way. If the housing office needs more space for offices there are several other possibilities that could be looked into.

Vandalism should be taken seriously

The Food Pantry was forced to temporarily close its doors a few days ago when vandals broke in and destroyed a lot of the food.

The Food Pantry, located in the basement of the First Christian Church at 411 Jackson Ave., collects food from the community to give to the needy.

A supervisor at the pantry said the only thing she noticed missing was a knife used to open boxes of food during Sunday night's break in.

Instead of stealing, the intruder opened boxes and dumped them on the floor. According to the article in the Charleston Times-Courier, "Flour and rice were dumped all over the shelves, cans of sweet potatoes and cherry pie filling were ground into the rug and food coloring was sprinkled all over."

Some of the pantry's paperwork and files were dumped on top of the piles of food staining and ruining some of the files.

Why the perpetrator did it is a mystery. Like all acts of vandalism, this crime is a senseless one.

The intruder probably never stopped to think about the consequences of his actions during the act itself.

He probably never stopped to think about the meal he would be depriving some small child or some pregnant mother or even a whole family.

He probably never stopped to think that some senior citizen would have to go to bed tonight, hungry and crying.

Chrystal Philpott

He probably never stopped to think about the immediate satisfaction some member of the community receives in donating the food, knowing how much it would be appreciated by some needy family.

He probably never stopped to think how ashamed other members of the community would be after reading about it in the newspaper the next day, ashamed something like this could and did actually happen to their community.

He probably never stopped to think about how the workers at the Food Pantry would be upon finding the mess, knowing all of the food had been wasted and would never do anyone any good.

But I've thought about it. And so have a lot of other people in this community, I imagine.

Maybe this creep thought what he was doing was funny at the time, but it wasn't.

Vandalism, especially vandalism of food to be donated to the needy, is one of the most despicable and heinous crimes ever committed.

Speeding is a crime of impatience; drug use is a crime of escape; stealing is a crime of greed; rape is a crime of violence; and murder and battery are crimes of passion and anger. Though none of them are legal or right, perhaps in their motives we can at least see some reason behind them.

Vandalism is a crime of waste, and there's no excuse for that.

Because it says in the Bible we are always to forgive others, I really can't in clear conscience wish evil on the vandal.

But, I do wish that he (or she or they) would stop and think about what he's done. I also wish that other people would read this and think twice before committing an act of vandalism.

Vandalism is such a waste.

Your Turn

Student against loss of lounge

Dear editor,

If they can put it up, they can also take it down.

Why did the Housing Office pick this past summer to start the move to the first floor of the student union?

Why did they, in fact, not ask any students if they minded losing their most popular lounge area?

Because, I think, they realized the student opposition that would arise vehemently when the matter was brought up.

I may even venture to say that the move was sneaky on the part of the "powers that be."

I also believe that since it is indeed still the student union that the Housing Offices appear to be moving into, that the students should be allowed to decide.

Why should the students at EIU allow the bureaucracy to ruin the student areas on campus?

Write a letter. Do a protest. They can still take it down. If you want the lounge area back, make your voice heard.

Columnist insults women's role

Dear editor,

My hostility toward STUPID men rose dramatically while reading Wendell Hutson's piece on Playboy and peaked when I reached the part where he made the ignorant comment on a woman's job! I can believe that in 1988 women are still fighting these primitive ideas sustained by a superior male attitude. The entire article had nothing to do with Playboy it was just one man's slam against women.

My outrage and sorrow is for mankind for Mr. Hutson is an insult to reasonable men as well as women.

First council candidate files

By PAUL HANSELL
Staff writer

Charleston's first city council member feels his ability to communicate will win him a seat on the council in the upcoming spring elections.

Steve Daugherty, 39, declared his candidacy for city council Aug. 20. He added his customer service manager position at Hampd, a paper distribution company in Mattoon, brings an extra incentive to his candidacy.

"I feel the ability to communicate with people is an important trait for a city councilman," he said Thursday. Daugherty added the ability to manage people, equipment and situations are also important traits for council members.

A lifelong resident of Charleston, Daugherty feels it is his turn to repay the city.

As a councilman, Daugherty said one of his goals would be for the city to communicate well with its residents. Daugherty has not yet established a platform, but indicated he will within months of the campaign.

Daugherty, who is also a student at Eastern this fall, has enrolled in a social and technical design class. He is presently seeking a bachelor's degree in career occupations and is three classes away from obtaining his degree.

Dan Quayle praised by Bentsen

By the Associated Press

Senator Lloyd Bentsen said Sunday that Senator Dan Quayle probably could grow into the job of being president if it became necessary.

It was the faintest of praise from a 67-year-old Texas Democrat seeking to contrast his experience with that of a 41-year-old Indiana Republican and to make the difference a major issue in their campaign for vice president.

Appearing on NBC's "Meet The Press," Bentsen was asked whether Quayle was qualified to be president.

"Frankly, he would not be on my short list as I look over my Senate colleagues," said Bentsen. "He obviously was on the short list of the hard right... Now I wouldn't say that he couldn't grow into the job; he probably could. But if tragedy befell a president, you'd have to be able to move in immediately and take over and do what has to be done in facing whatever issues that confront you at that time."

Sunday.

BSU claims it's not just for blacks

Black Student Union allows students of all races to share cultures and unite together to help others in need.

Audra Bowie, president of BSU said "the Black Student Union is a campus service organization for the minority student. Services that promotes development and cultural awareness for its members. It is here to provide these services through activities that meet the needs, not met by the majority." Students interest in joining BSU can go to their recruitment night at 6:30 p.m. on Aug. 30 at the Afro American Cultural Center located on 1525 Seventh St. Although BSU has provided cultural awareness within Eastern's black community, some feel that BSU helps promotes segregation between other organizations. "I don't think their against the idea of having black organizations, but it's the name that segregates the organization. It's like when you say the Minority Newsletter or BSU, you automatically get a negative response," said Bowie. She added that "BSU was originated for black students, but the name makes other students assume it's only for blacks."

The BSU organization was developed in the spring of 1967. Several students were displeased with the way the university was handling housing, black enrollment, social organizations, and the lack or absence of black staff members.

Eleven years later, BSU is still struggling to obtain recognition and provide services that is needed for black students on the Eastern campus.

BSU continues to target its programs toward black students, but still hopes to work with other groups. "We're not segregated. We just come together at certain points. We have different interest, yet we still look out for each other," Bowie said.

Currently, BSU has 25 members from last year, few members are from other ethnic backgrounds, according to Bowie. She added that she would like BSU not to be thought of as just a black organization, but an organization that welcomes everyone.

China 88 opens doors for competition

By CHARLA BRAUTIGAM
Staff writer

A new taste in Chinese cuisine arrived in Charleston over the summer and its giving local restaurants some tough competition.

China 88, 1140 Lincoln Ave., opened its doors June 2 and owner Steve Chen believes his combination of prices, location and quality food makes his restaurant better than most Chinese restaraunts.

"Our prices are very reasonable," Chen said. The lunch menu prices range from $2.75 for chicken chow mein to $4.25 for shrimp vegetable or dragon & phoenix delight. Each lunch special includes the soup of the day, two won tons and fried rice in addition to the main course. "My prices go to the customer," he added.

However, the prices do increase at dinner time. After 4 p.m., the prices range between $4.75 for beef chow mebin to $8.95 for Peking Duck to $60 for a family dinner of eight.

Because China 88's prices are cheaper at lunch time, Chen said the busiest hours are between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday through Friday.

China 88 is also the closest Chinese restaurant to campus and offers a "kind of flavor different than what this area has tasted. I brought most of my dishes (recipes) from the East Coast," he explained.

Unfortunately, Chinese 88 doesn't deliver.

"I don't know if the cook can handle it (the orders) . . . and the kitchen is too small. But that doesn't mean China 88 will not deliver in the future. I keep thinking about it," Chen added.

But at this point, Chen said he's satisfied with his business.

"People have been very nice to us . . . I feel appreciated by the students and the town. And if I succeed, I'll get another restaurant, a bigger one, and keep the same name," he noted.

In his 15 years experience with U.S. restaurants, he has worked in several cities including Washington, D.C., New York, Chicago and Springfield.

But after working in the biggest of cities, Chen decided to locate his restaurant (China 88) in Charleston. "I wanted to live in the small peaceful city," Chen noted. He moved to the United States in 1976 from Taiwan.

Another reason Chen decided to locate in Charleston was because his son was enrolled in the junior high and he did not want to uproot him again.

He also chose Charleston for his restaurant because it is the heart of Eastern.

The majority of Chen's customers and employees are students. During the summer months, China 88 was slow business has picked-up since the fall semester began. "The summer was a slow time for China 88," Chen said.

Chen said he named the restaurant China 88 for a variety of reasons.

The word "China" explains the type of food served while the number "88" is not only the year it opened, but considered lucky in China.

"Eight means increase," explains Chen, who equates the number with "increase in money" or "making money."

Finally, Aug. 8 is Father's Day in China, "and I'm a father," he said.

Spikers shine in scrimmage

By BILL LOOBY
Staff writer

Thundering spikes, excellent blocking and Gianna Galanti proved to be too much for the College of St. Francis as Eastern's women's volleyball team won five of six games in Saturday's scrimmage.

The Panthers won the match with the Joliet college by scores of 15-6, 15-13, 9-15, 15-0, 17-15 and 15-5.

Galanti, a senior middle hitter, racked up 17 kills in the in the winning effort. She was backed up by stellar performances by sophomore Diane Kruto, who recorded 13 kills, 11 digs and three service aces, and Patti Frigo. Frigo had 12 kills and 10 digs.

The match was certainly not played like the scrimmage it was billed as. Hustle, diving for balls and enthusiasm shown by both teams made the games very exciting.

"We took it as though it were a regular match," Galanti said. "I felt as though we were all very confident coming into this match."

Galanti credited her teammates for her performance. "I have to give credit to the passers and the setters, the ball was there."

Setters Donna Sicher, a junior, and Kelly Stover combined for 65 assists in the match.

Kruto, Galanti, Frigo and junior Ann Ruef seemed to be at the net constantly, blocking for points and spiking the ball down the throats of the Saints.

After the first three games, the Saints might have still entertained thoughts of winning the match. Those thoughts perished in the fourth game.

The Panthers, capitalizing on errors by the St. Francis team, held serve for a 10-0 lead. After Kruto won the serve back with a bullet of a spike, she served for four more Eastern points. Galanti finished the game with a service ace.

Top swimmer banned from Olympics

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Angel Myers, who won three events at U.S. trials and may have had a shot at five Olympic medals, was disqualified from the Seoul Games next month for use of a banned drug, the U.S. Swim Team said Sunday. The team refused to disclose the drug.

Richard Quick, Olympic coach, said Jill Sterkel and Janelle Jorgensen were both named to replace her.

"We have the utmost sympathy and concern for Angel Myers during this very difficult time," Ray B. Essick, executive director of U.S. Swimming said in a prepared statement.

"It is a shame that this has happened to our sport and to Olympic sports," Quick said, "but it speaks well for the necessity and integrity of substance testing. Every consideration was given to Angel during this process."

In a statement, U.S. Swimming, governing body for the sport in America, said initial tests of Myers, who is from Americus,

Ga., were confirmed by a second urinalysis "in accordance with strictly controlled procedures outlined in the USOC-USS agreement on drug testing."

Cards defeat Reds 5-3

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tony Pena hit a three-run homer off Tom Browning in the sixth inning to help the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Cincinnati Reds 5-3 Sunday.

Tom Lawless also hit a solo homer off Browning—his first regular-season homer since April 1984—to send the left-hander to his first loss since July 16. Browning, 13-5, had won his last five decisions.

Bob Forsch, 9-4, allowed six runs in six-plus innings for his first consecutive victory. The right-hander is 5-1 in his last six starts, allowing just 10 earned runs. Ken Dayley pitched 2-2/3 innings of one-hit ball and Todd Worrell got the last out for his 20th save.

The home run again was the downfall of Browning, who has yielded 28 in his last 28 starts. Lawless lined a one-out homer to the fifth to cut the Reds' lead to 3-2, and Pena's sixth-inning homer put the Cardinals ahead.

Pedro Guerrero and Terry Pendleton singled ahead of Pena's ninth homer.

The come-from-behind victory gave the Cardinals a split of their four-game series.

Kal Daniels hit a two-run homer in the first to put the Reds ahead. It was Daniels' 13th homer and his first since Aug.

Tim Jones singled home a run for St. Louis in the third, his first major-league RBI and the first off Browning.

Jeff Reed's single put Cincinnati ahead 3-1 in the third, Lawless' first regular season homer since he was with the Reds in 1984 cut the lead back to one. Lawless' last homer was in the World Series last fall against Minnesota.

Braves defeat Cubs 4-2

ATLANTA (AP)—Rookie Tim Lincecum allowed four hits in six innings and sparked Atlanta's winning rally with a home run as the Braves defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-2 on Sunday.

Lincecum, 2-4, fell behind 2-1 in the third inning when he yielded a two-run homer to Mitch Pendergast. But Lincecum then retired the next 12 batters in order.

Lincecum struck out six and walked one and Paul Hatcher pitched the ninth inning for his fourth save.

Lonnie Smith hit his first home run of the season against Steve Moyer, 7-13, in the first to give the Braves a 1-0 lead.

Gregg Dunston led off the eighth with a single and was sacrificed to second by Lincecum before Webster's homer.

Eastern names new baseball coach

By JAMES BETZOLD
Associate sports editor

Eastern's baseball program received an infusion of youth Friday when 29-year-old Dan Callahan was named head baseball coach.

Callahan will replace 53-year-old Tom "Skip" McDevitt on Jan. "I know Coach McDevitt has established a good program here," Callahan said Friday afternoon at Monier Field, where fall tryouts are under way. "I hope to maintain his success and even expand on it."

Callahan was selected Tuesday by a search committee headed by Associate Athletic Director Ron Paap, but an announcement was not made until Callahan came to Charleston Friday.

"We interviewed four candidates," Paap said. "We felt initially that any of the four would be capable."

But during the course of the interviews, Callahan became the consensus favorite of the committee, Paap said.

"He was No. 1 on our rating scale," Paap said. "Basically, the man that we wanted was Dan Callahan. I'm sure that he'll maintain our fine tradition."

Other members of the committee were Promotions Director Paul Lueken and Sports Information Director Dave Kidwell.

Last season Callahan was an assistant coach at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale, where he worked primarily with outfielders and pitchers under Coach Richard "Itchy" Jones.

"You've got a fine coach there and a fine person," Jones said. "He's the type of person people will relate to."

The appointment will also continue the friendly rivalry developed in recent years between Eastern and Southern.

"It's been a great rivalry, not because it's a state school against a state school, but because of the relationship between Coach Jones and Coach McDevitt," Callahan said. "I don't think that'll be any different now. It'll be an honor to coach against Coach Jones."

Callahan said he has prior commitments at Southern that will keep him in Carbondale the third week of September.

"Technically, he (McDevitt) is still the coach," Callahan said.

"I'm sure he'll ask for my input."

Meanwhile, McDevitt will continue to run fall practice.

"I think they picked a fine young man," McDevitt said. "He comes highly recommended by 'Itchy' Jones."

McDevitt compiled a 299-187 record in 11 seasons as head of the Eastern baseball program.

Callahan said he will be making new plans for the program, including improvements of the playing conditions at Monier Field.

"You try to make do with what you've got," he said. "We'll try to make it look as good as we can. I'm the type of person who takes pride in the field we play on."

However, Callahan said there will not be an assistant coach "as far as finances go. If there's a graduate assistantship, I'll take advantage of that," he said.

Former Eastern player Jones served as an assistant coach last season.

Although Callahan said he advanced to Division I coaching more quickly than he had anticipated, he said he has aspirations to advance to coach at the professional level.

"Right now, I'd say 'no' to professional baseball," Callahan said. "I had a taste of it. I think it's something I'd like to do."

Callahan pitched briefly for the San Diego Padres and Seattle Mariners organizations. He pitched for four years in college, two at the University of Orleans and two at Eastern College - and graduated in 1984.

Booters win Miklovic game by 3-0 count

By AL LAGATTOLLA
Staff writer

In last season's Miklovic Alumni soccer game, the Panther alumni were the victim of a 14-0 blowout.

Sunday, the story was different, but the result remained the same as the present day Panthers defeated the alumni 3-0.

"We played very sloppy," said present-day Panther coach Cizo Mosnia. "The alumni were better than last year, but that is no reason to play this way."

The Panthers were forced to play without their captain, junior fullback Greg Muhr. Muhr was injured in Friday's exhibition game at Indiana University.

"The injury is offsetting the team right now," said Mosnia.

While he could not help the team on the field, Muhr did help out on the sidelines by announcing the game.

The first goal of the game was scored by sophomore forward Mario Mihalic assisted by forward LeBaron Hollimon.

The other two goals were scored by junior forward Garry Laidlaw, the first assisted by fullback Tom Pardo and the other by forward Mark Noffert.

The Miklovic Alumni game began in 1974, honoring former Panther Jim Miklovic, who was killed serving his country.

Since then, the present-day Panthers have a record of 14-1, and have not allowed a goal for two consecutive years. In the last five years, the present-day

Panthers have outscored the alumni by a score of 25-3.

The game was attended by 18 former Panther stars. Goaltender Mark Simpson was one of them.

Simpson now has a trial with the San Diego Sockers of the Major Indoor Soccer League.

Simpson was a 1988 graduate of Eastern.

Simpson was All-Midwest his sophomore year, All-Illinois his junior year and both All-Illinois, All-Midwest as well as team Most Valuable Player his senior year.

"I was real happy (to be drafted)," said Simpson. "It was really a big blow to me when the Sting folded."

Simpson said he was happy to play in the game.

"When I came into town, it's just that special feeling you get," said Simpson. "I want to try to come back as much as possible."

Another 1988 graduate, John Glendinning was another alumni attending. John's brother David is a current Panther midfielder.

Glendinning did have some feelings about coming back as an alumnus.

"It's a real weird feeling, even sad," said Glendinning. "But, you have to go on, all good things must come to an end."

Glendinning has memories of his years at Eastern.

"I had the best four years of my life here," said Glendinning.

Glendinning especially has memories of last season's game at St. Louis University.

"It was our second to last game of the season," said Glendinning

of the game that could have catapulted the Panthers into the NCAA playoffs. "We gave a good fight, but we just couldn't rise to the occasion."

Glendinning is presently playing semi-pro soccer with Sparta.

The most valuable player of the game was 1984 graduate Aldo Esposito.

Esposito was a member of the 1981 team that took third in the nationals in California.

"It was a totally different team," said Esposito. "We had many superstars on the team, and the others were supporting players. I was a supporting player."

Esposito, who now lives in Edmonton where he is a marketing representative for IBM, remembers the trip to nationals.

"It was the greatest feeling in the world," said Esposito. "We were treated like kings."

The alumni game is an exhibition game for the present-day Panthers. The Panthers officially begin their season on September 3 in Colorado Springs, Co., against Air Force.

Mizener takes first place in Lady Panther invitational

By PHIL CHAPARRO
Staff Writer

Laurie Mizener had to have wished Saturday's exhibition cross country meet against Purdue counted.

The sophomore led the Lady Panthers and coasted to an easy triumph in the Early Runner Invitational at a clip of 18:28.

"I felt pretty good," Mizener said. "It was really humid, but my time is 50 seconds better than last year's meet."

The women competed on a three-mile course which is one-tenth of a mile shorter of competing standards.

"Laurie looked good," Coach John Craft said of Mizener. "The course is 188 meters shorter, however, you add about 30 to her time and she has her PR."

Even with the triumph of Mizener, Eastern's four other runners did not fair as well.

Junior Connie Bierman placed ninth at 22:02, freshman Kathy Glynn finished 10th at 23:36, sophomore Kristin Taylor took 11th at 24:59, and senior Tina Dawson finished 12th at 27:44.

"This was just a practice meet," Craft said. "We have a couple more runners to look at, but we will be ready to compete next Saturday at Carbondale."

The Lady Panthers came out of the exhibition injury-free, and should enter the regular season with the services of highly-touted freshman Stefanie Stump.

Stump did not run Saturday, but did work out after suffering an injury.

"I hope I can run," Stump said, referring to the season. "My knee is a little sore, and I have some pain but I'll see how it goes."
