Cover-up trial to start Monday without prosecutor Jaworski

WASHINGTON (AP) — The major prosecution in Leon Jaworski's year-long tenure, the Watergate cover-up case, progresses to public trial Monday with opening statements to the jury.

Jaworski waited to announce his resignation as special prosecutor until the jury of nine women and three men had been sworn in and cut off from news about Watergate. The jury was sequestered Friday; Jaworski announced his departure Saturday.

His resignation, effective Oct. 25, is not expected to have any effect on the trial of the five cover-up defendants, including former top Nixon aids John N. Mitchell, H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman.

Richard Ben-Veniste, a 31-year-old trial lawyer, who fought many of the Watergate tapes controversies for the Jaworski special prosecution force, will outline the government's case.

Lawyers for Ehrlichman, and two other defendants, Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson, also will deliver opening statements Monday.

Of all the criminal prosecutions brought under Jaworski's tenure as special prosecutor, the cover-up case is the biggest.

In it, all five men are charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice by trying to derail investigations into the break-in at Democratic Party headquarters.

In addition, all but Mardian are accused of obstructing justice, and Mitchell, Haldeman and Ehrlichman also are charged with multiple counts of lying.

The cover-up trial prosecution team is headed by James F. Neal, a Tennessean who left the Jaworski staff for some months and returned for the cover-up case.

Before the opening statement, however, some last-minute procedural matters remain.

Sirica has yet to rule on Haldeman's 11th-hour motion to suspend the trial and delay it until former President Richard M. Nixon can appear as a witness.

Sirica turned down a similar attempt from Ehrlichman.

Both men said the Nixon testimony is vital to their defense.

Sirica had asked for a statement on Nixon's health and was told by the former president's lawyer and doctor that Nixon should not travel for three to six months because of the phlebitis that put him into a hospital for 11 days.

The judge gave lawyers for Haldeman, Ehrlichman and the government until Wednesday to reply to Nixon's motion to quash the subpoena for his appearance and will rule after that on whether Nixon must testify.

Driscoll: Ford may veto compromise bill

Rep. George Shipley, D-Olney, set up appointments for the Eastern vets and Driscoll says his help opened doors for them in getting to see such people as Larry B. Chernikoff, a staff member of the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee, and Edwin Arnold, executive assistant to the head of the Veterans Administration.

The bill breezed through both houses of Congress by unanimous votes, Driscoll said, but their efforts to get it passed may be for nothing if the President vetoes the package and Congress does not override the veto.

Conner said his fear was that Congress pushed the bill through just to appease vets, knowing full well that the President would veto it.

Queen, freshman attendant to be elected

Homecoming queen and freshman attendant elections will be held Monday in the University Union from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

All students who present a validated I.D. card will be eligible to vote for one Homecoming queen candidate and one freshman attendant candidate.

The queen and court will be introduced Thursday night at the Styx Concert in McAfee Gymnasium.

The coronation will take place during the Guild concert and dance in Lantz Friday at 8 p.m.

Candidates for queen are Kari

Last showing of 'Godfather' to be Monday

The last showing of the UB movie "The Godfather" will be presented Monday at 8 p.m. in McAfee. Admission is 75 cents.

Saturday night at the first showing the UB "took in $400" (from an attendance of a little over 500), Ann Ryan, a member of the UB's executive council, said Sunday.

She added that it was "not that big of a crowd," but that the UB had never done a Saturday night movie before.

"I think the people just aren't used to it," said Ryan, adding that people have other things to do on Saturday nights.

Although Ryan had predicted that the Sunday showing would draw the biggest crowd, that night's total was about 500 persons, also.

Because of popularity of the film, the UB had decided to show "The Godfather" on three consecutive nights.

The UB has been forced to use projectors from audio-visual for "The Godfather" because one of theirs had blown Friday night.

Humane Society condemns killing of cattle to protest grain costs

CHICAGO (AP) — The Humane Society of the United States Sunday condemned a planned mass slaughter of cattle by dairymen and beef raisers in Texas and elsewhere to protest feed grain costs.

At its national conference which ended Sunday, 300 delegates passed a resolution that in part said the anticruelty group "does condemn and stands unalterably opposed to the needless killing of any living creature when done solely for publicity purposes or for economic or political recognition."

Dairy and beef raisers in Stephensville, Tex., plan to shoot nearly 1,000 young calves in a huge pit and bury them to register their anger over the cost of feed.

The farmers delayed their plan after being contacted by the Texas agriculture commissioner and the White House, in hopes of meeting with White House officials.

But no talks have been announced and the slaughter is set for Tuesday or Wednesday, humane society officials said.

The resolution also criticized the cattle raisers' "announced proposal to purposefully bury the carcasses and thereby waste this protein so desperately needed in today's starving world."

Humane society members will observe any mass slaughter and seek prosecution under state anticruelty laws if the killings proceed and any animals suffer inhumanely, a spokesman said.

Douglas M. Scott, director of the Humane Society for the Gulf States region and a staff investigator, said there are reports farmers and cattle raisers in several other states, including New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Wisconsin and Missouri, are planning similar slaughters.

Scott said his group is concerned about "the needless killing for publicity reasons, and we're wondering how in hell they're going to kill 800 calves without maiming some."

He said it would be difficult for those planning to destroy the animals to avoid maiming some in a mass pit shooting.

"They would have to make sure the calves were shot cleanly," Scott said.

Another spokesman said the crux of state anticruelty statutes is whether an animal has to endure any pain or suffering.

Eastern hosts debate meet

By Scott Jones

Eastern hosted its annual Land of Lincoln Debate Tournament Friday and Saturday, while Eastern also sent two debate teams to compete at the University of Kentucky.

"A total of 38 teams from 23 colleges and universities in seven different states competed in the Land of Lincoln Tournament, which was normal for this tournament," Charles Harrison of the Speech Communications Department said Sunday.

The tournament was divided into junior and senior divisions.

"Concordia from Moorhead, Minn., won the senior division, while Capital College of Columbus, Ohio, won the junior division competition," Harrison added.

Such universities as Illinois State, Indiana State, Iowa State, Kansas State and Northwestern participated in the tournament.

The topic of the debates was "Should the power of the Presidency be curtailed."

The 38 teams that competed consisted of two member teams.

"After six rounds of debate were completed the eight teams with the best records qualified for the quarterfinals. Then the winners advanced to the finals," Harrison said.

Eastern does not compete in tournaments that they host.

Instead Eastern sent two teams to the University of Kentucky. There were eight rounds of debate. One of Eastern's teams won five and lost three, while the other team won four and lost four.

Next week Eastern will send a debate team to Emporia, Kansas, and another team to Bradley.

Eastern will host three more tournaments this year, one of which is the college regional tournament.

"The success of the Land of Lincoln Tournament was made possible by the Eastern students who were timekeepers and the teachers who were judges," Harrison said.

Cloudy, cooler

Homecoming a time for fun, not fighting and back-stabbing

Homecoming is supposed to be a time for fun, not a time for fighting and back-stabbing. Student Activities Director Bill Clark said recently. We agree, and urge the entire Eastern community to try to restore the proper spirit to this year's Homecoming.

Fourteen candidates are running for Homecoming queen this year and, like last year, one is black. Those who were here for Homecoming 1973 will recall that there was not a queen because of a dispute over election violations and a threat by blacks to withdraw from all Homecoming activities, including the football game.

We laud efforts by the Homecoming Committee to remove the rules and technicalities of the queen election which last year almost made a shambles of the annual event.

Streamlining the election rules has hopefully put an end to the bickering over campaign violations, removing at least one obstacle.

We also hope there will not be any bickering or hard feelings no matter who wins, whether it be white, black, or even a man. This year's contest has something new, with the first serious male candidate for queen in recent memory. Maybe this is what is needed to remind us all that the whole event is meant to be fun.

While having a queen at Homecoming is as old a tradition as the annual event itself, the Eastern News does not feel that it is necessary to keep up the tradition, if it is going to disrupt the week's activities, or if there is not sufficient student interest in the election.

For those who do want a queen, and have put time and money into the election, it is only fair that they at least have a chance to see their candidate crowned. We call on everyone who participates in the election to play by the rules and accept the outcome.

Eastern's Homecoming went without a parade in 1972, queen in 1973. Let's try this year along with everything else.

The queen election is Monday in the Union, and 14 candidates good luck to the person who wins.

'Cuckoo' is hilarious, heartbreak

"One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," the Theatre Arts Department homecoming play, is a perfect mixture of comedy and drama.

At times it is hilarious, at other times it is heartbreaking, but at all times it is fantastic. It is a production that should not be missed.

"One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" takes place in a male ward of a mental institution. Joan Allen plays Nurse Ratched, a domineering and emasculating psychiatric nurse who turns patients into sniveling infants in order to "cure" them.

James P. Kleckner plays Randle P. McMurphy, a former prison inmate who is switched to the institution because of psychopathic tendencies. He immediately declares himself leader of the ward and endears himself to other patients.

McMurphy sees what Nurse Ratched has done to the patients and begins his own form of treatment.

This treatment includes basketball games, a revolt, so the patients can watch the World Series on television and a party with booze served in an envelope during the night.

This all serves to make McMurphy feel like human beings again.

Nurse Ratched, however, wants this to happen, everything she can do to stop McMurphy's actions. A full-scale battle breaks out between them.

McMurphy vows that he will not give up, but he is in battle with his enemy.

It is virtually impossible to fault with this production of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

The set, designed by Blanchette, perfectly captures the zoo-like feeling of the mental institution.

The lighting and the sound effects are also very effective.

"One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" also contains some of the most powerful scenes ever to take place on stage.

Joan Allen and James P. Kleckner are superb as Nurse Ratched and McMurphy. Saying that they could very well be an Oscar winner.

The rest of the cast is excellent. Randy Arney gives an outstanding performance as Billy, the sensitive and suicidal patient. Lewis is also very good as Bromden, a giant of a man who has been belittled by Nurse Ratched.

Andy Lanman, as the patient who suffers from hallucinations, and C. Wright, as Aide Turturro, provide some of the most memorable moments in the play.

Everyone in the cast deserves to be congratulated for their excellent production.

"One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" is a truly good play. David Sullivan has done an excellent job of putting it all together. David Sullivan's direction is superb, and the entire cast has delivered a performance that is sure to be remembered for a long time to come.

Superman Henry has feelings, too

"why haven't you changed into your costume?"

"I'm not going to be Superman anymore," Henry said. "I'm sick and tired of working miracles."

"But, Henry, if you won't be Superman, what will we all do?"

"That's not my problem. Being Superman means you have to travel a lot. I want to spend more time with Nancy."

"I can appreciate that," I told him, "but you have an image to uphold. The media made you what you are today. You just can't go into a phone booth and say you're not coming out."

"Why should I come out?" Henry replied. "The House is picking on me; the Senate is picking on me; the press is picking on me. You know Supermen have feelings, too."

"You can't pay attention to criticism, Henry. If everyone loved you, you wouldn't be doing your job."

"Everyone USED to love me," he said.

"Yes, but that's because they didn't like Nixon. You always looked so much better compared to him. Once he resigned, you were more or less on your own, and some people decided they loved you and some people decided they didn't."

"I think Superman should be loved by EVERYBODY," Henry said. "I don't mind criticism, if it's fair. What I don't like is unfair criticism."

"Nobody likes unfair criticism," I told him.

"I'm the first one to admit," he added, "that I'm not perfect. What I don't like is other people telling me I'm not perfect."

"Nobody likes to be told they're not perfect, Henry. The thing to do is rise above it and prove they're wrong. Now get into that silly costume and fly off to the Middle East and straighten out our problems."

"I'm not going to do it unless I have assurance that people will stop picking on me."

"You have my word, Henry. I'll make sure that there is not one line in the newspapers questioning any of your past actions."

Henry started taking off his pants.

"Okay," he said, "I'll do it one more time. But if I hear any squawks from anybody about what I did, it's the last time I go into this phone booth."

I held his pants while he took off his shirt.

"I don't know if I ever told you this, Henry," I said, "but you have lovely legs."

"Don't try to change the subject," he said as he took off his shoes and socks. This is everybody's last chance. If they don't like what I'm doing, let them get another Superman."

"They'll like it, Henry," I assured him. "They'll like it."

And so last Tuesday as people looked up into the sky they saw a weird object. One person said "It's a bird"; another person said "It's a plane," and then everyone cried out at once "No, it's KISSINGER!"

Lilly urges involvement in Bicentennial

Debbie Pearson

Over 200 communities throughout state have already become actively involved in preparations for the American Bicentennial, an Illinois Bicentennial commission spokesperson, said Sunday. Samuel A. Lilly, an Eastern graduate executive director of the Illinois Bicentennial Commission, addressed a meeting of the Coles County Historical Society on the topic "On the Occasion of Our Approaching Anniversary."

He told the group of about 100 persons that he has found a diversified amount of community involvement and participation throughout the state.

Goals of his committee are to see as many people involved with the Bicentennial at whatever level they want to be, Lilly said.

His commission also encourages groups and communities to plan things which will "have a lasting effect" and will remind future generations of what we did during the Bicentennial.

Cornerstone ceremonies for the Greenwood School Museum were postponed because the school has not yet been moved from its original location in the Southeast corner of Coles County.

Once it is re-erected on Hayes Avenue just north of the Buzzard Educational Building, the historical society will be able to meet in the basement of the old building.

'Help Us Breathe' to aid Charleston

Charleston residents with breathing problems are invited to the first meeting of the "Help Us Breathe Club" at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Coles County Tuberculosis office at 1414 Fourth St.

William K. Hite, a Charleston doctor, will discuss the lungs with a question-and-answer session afterward.

Gallup Poll shows 21 per cent drop in Ford's rating

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — President Ford's approval rating has dropped 21 percentage points since he took office, according to the Gallup Poll.

The survey shows half of those questioned saying they approve of the way Ford is handling his job, 28 per cent disapproving and 22 per cent expressing no opinion.

The current rating represents the sharpest decline for any President in his first two months in office.

In a poll taken just after Ford took office in August, 71 per cent said they approved of the way Ford was assuming the nation's leadership. Only three per cent said they disapproved, and 26 per cent said they were undecided.

Ford's rating fell off five percentage point between the first poll and one taken early in September.

The latest poll was taken after Ford pardoned former President Nixon on Sept. 8, and before Ford presented his economic program to Congress a month later.

The pardon was the chief cause of Ford's decline in popularity, and the nation's economy was another important factor.

Just three years out of college, laser technologist Jim Carroll didn't make senior research physicist at Eastman Kodak Company by acting timid. So when he had the courage to pit science against a dread disease, we backed him. Win or lose.

The medical community enlisted Kodak's help in training lasers on the war on cancer. We responded with a pair of 500 million watt laser systems. And left the rest up to Jim.

In time, the lasers proved unsuccessful in treating cancer, but we'd do it again if we had to. Because while we're in business to make a profit, we care what happens to society. It's the same society our business depends on.

Dodgers tie Series with win over A's

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Joe Ferguson hit a towering two-run homer and relief ace Mike Marshall came out of the bullpen to nail down Don Sutton's victory as the Los Angeles Dodgers edged the Oakland A's 3-2 in Sunday's second game of the 1974 World Series.

The result tied the best-of-seven battle for baseball's world championship at one victory each with game three scheduled for Tuesday night in Oakland.

Sutton dazzled the A's on two hits through the first seven innings, then squirmed out of a one-out, bases-loaded jam in the eighth before Marshall took over in the ninth.

Sutton hit Sal Bando with a pitch to open the Oakland ninth and when Reggie Jackson hit a checked-swing double inside third base, Dodger Manager Walter Alston called for Marshall.

Joe Rudi tagged Marshall for a single to center that delivered both Bando and Jackson and made the score 3-2.

Marshall struck out Gene Tenace and then A's Manager Alvin Dark went to his pinch-running specialist Herb Washington, who wound up getting picked off.

Eastern's second team had to play SIU twice because Purdue brought no second team with them.

It didn't matter, however, as Debbie Sloat's first half goal was all the Panthers needed.

In the second game, the lead exchanged hands on three occasions, and the game was tied twice before the Panthers pulled it out of the fire.

Goals by Sloat, and a pair from Karla Klueter were instrumental in the win.

Panthers win!

Stettner scores twice as Eastern beats fifth ranked Delta State 13-3

By Gene Seymour

Even coach Jack Dean was having trouble adjusting to the fact that his once winless football Panthers had knocked off Delta State, the number five ranked team in the NAIA, 13-3, Saturday at O'Brien Field.

"Alright guys!" Dean screamed at his charges in a pandemonium-filled locker room in his post-game talk. "Just because we didn't win today, uh, er, I mean (followed by an uproar of laughter) just because we won today doesn't mean we can let up now."

Dean said it all in his little slip up.

The excitement that generated through the 3,000 plus fans on this overcast Saturday, could only be comparable to last year's victory by the basketball team over number one ranked Tennessee Chattanooga.

"We got breaks today that went against us in all the past games," said Dean.

"I can't single out any one person for this win," said an elated Dean. "It was such a great team effort, everybody played a super game."

"Hell, anytime you hold a fifth ranked team in the nation to three points in a game when they have been averaging 26 per game, you're doing a job."

Dean assessed Delta State, a team which after their ten hour bus ride from Cleveland, Miss., seemed somewhat off in their execution, being among the toughest teams that the Panthers will play all year.

"I'd have to put them (Delta State) right up there with Western Illinois and Indiana State talent-wise," said Dean.

"They weren't all that big, but they are very quick and strong."

The Panthers employed ball control and outright hard-hitting on both offense and defense to dominate the tension-filled ballgame.

"Oh, man, that was the most Hard hitting on defense was characteristic of Eastern's effort in Saturday's 13-3 win over Delta State. ferocious defense I've ever seen by one of my teams," Dean said.

"Everybody was out there hitting hard."

What possibly turned the atmosphere of the game around occurred in the second quarter when the Panthers experienced a change of attitude.

At 7:18 of the second quarter, Mark Stettner scored the first Panther touchdown in three weeks as he bolted over from the 1½ yard line on fourth down.

"Last week we went for the field goal just to get on the board first," said Dean, "and that didn't help any (Eastern lost 28-3) so I figured 'what the hell', let's go for it and get some momentum."

The screaming 3000 fans gave Dean no choice, as any field goal attempt would have drawn a round of boos.

Stettner followed center Dave Stotlar and penetrated the goal line by a fraction of an inch.

This gave the Panthers the lift they were looking for as they went on to take a 6-3 lead to the locker room at halftime with them.

In a big win, almost everybody can be cited for stellar performances; however, the Panther defense, particularly the linebackers and the burn-prone halfbacks, were the outstanding surprise of the game.

Orville "Headhunter" Erby, Craig Baldacci and Tom Boss, Eastern linebackers, consistently came up with big plays and hard hits.

Erby, who came up with two crucial interceptions, also contributed several key tackles, while coming with timely hits on DSC receivers, jarring the ball loose and ending potential threats.

The entire secondary, including Tom Purvin, Pete Schmitt and Purcell Reed "played super", Dean said.

Tight pass coverage and stinging tackles marked their efforts.

"I'm so excited I can hardly stand it," said Purvin, a sophomore from Wisconsin Whitewater.

Purvin set up the final touchdown in the fourth quarter.

With the Statesman driving final minutes of the fourth quarter in desperation last-ditch attempt to tie Eastern, Billy King fumbled in after a pop by Wayne Ramsey, and picked the ball in mid-air and ran yards to the DSC 21.

"If I just would have a little speed, I would have had me some," Purvin quirked.

Four plays later, Stettner, the freshman fullback from Elgin, burst almost unmolested from the line for his second score of the game, giving the Panthers a 12-3 lead.

Charlestonian Jeff Sanders added PAT to account for the final score.

Sanders earlier thrilled a "Charlie Day" crowd when he attempted a 33-yard field goal in the first quarter, short by about one and a half feet.

Stettner, who seems to have permanent track on the starting spot, pointed out the reasons for the offense's success.

"It takes time to get an offensive wishbone down pat," Stettner said.

"Now after three weeks, we have the knack of moving the ball."

"Also our blocking, with Andy Trice, Sam Ragdale, Steve and Fred Thompson has improved a whole lot," Stettner added.

The Eastern backfield of Browne at quarterback, Hagenbruch and Gerald Bell at backs, and Stettner at fullback, were very sure of themselves this afternoon. Browne operated the wishbone almost to the point of mastery.

Hagenbruch had the long run of the game as he took a pitchout in the fourth quarter and ran it forty yards to the end zone.

The Panthers suffered a setback however, as Browne broke his leg in the next-to-last play of the game.

"It looks like Greg will be out the rest of the year," said Dean.

"His jaw is completely wired and he is drinking his food through a straw. He was just starting to really get into running that offense," Dean said.

Soccer Panthers capture state tournament

By Jim Lynch

Eastern won the Illinois State soccer tournament over the weekend, beating Northern Illinois 5-0 and Western Illinois 4-1.

The tournament was held at Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville.

"It was a team effort all the way around," said soccer coach Fritz Teller. "We had balanced scoring from our forward line and the defense played two great games. Everyone contributed."

Leonard Mason, the freshman forward from Jamaica, played two good games, picking up a goal and two assists in each contest. However, Teller said he was not the outstanding individual for Eastern in the tournament.

"If I had to pick one player above the others," said Teller, "it would have to be Mike Alhassan. We moved Mike off the forward line to defense and he did an outstanding job."

"He tied our defense together. The players have confidence in him back there."

Eastern opened its title surge Friday with the 5-0 shellacking of Northern.

Sophomore Siegfried Eichhorst got the Panther scoring started with just 2:07 gone in the contest on an assist by Ben Addoquayre. Eichhorst also got the Panthers' second goal on an unassisted shot at 29:45, giving Eastern a 2-0 halftime lead.

The Panthers offense went to work right away in the second half and it paid off in a goal by Greg Milburn at 15:45. Milburn was credited with the assist.

He also assisted on Eastern's next goal, a shot at 26:00 by Addoquayre. Mason himself picked up the final score of the game with 37:00 gone in the second half. He was assisted by Addoquayre.

Eastern consistently put pressure on the Huskie defense, taking 49 shots on goal to a mere 18 for Northern.

"They have a very good goalie in Pete Mannos," said Teller. "He's probably one of the best in the Midwest but we just played a great game."

In Saturday's championship game between Eastern and Western, the Panthers scored-first, last and in between.

Addoquayre started the scoring with a goal at 17:25. Eichhorst was given the assist.

Don Hale notched Eastern's other first half score at 34:25 on an assist by Mason. The Panthers again took a 2-0 lead into the dressing room.

Western finally penetrated the Panther defense with a goal at 12:20 but that proved to be all the offense the Leathernecks could muster.

The Panthers got that goal back at 32:47 on a shot by Mason with an assist

Eastern field hockey teams capture two wins apiece here Saturday

By Gene Seymour

Eastern's field hockey teams posted double victories Saturday at the quadrangular meet held on campus.

The Panther's first squad, led by the scoring of Deb Davis, upped their season slate to 7-1-1 with a 3-0 win over Indiana University, and a 2-1 come-from-behind victory over tough Purdue.

The second team enjoyed a 4-1 win over Southern Illinois, 1-0 in the nightcap, and 3-2 in the nightcap, to improve their record to 6-1-2.

The Panthers had little trouble with Indiana, as goals by Sue Wright and Vicki Wright provided the breakaway, and Vicki Wright scored the winning goal.
