Eastern to host playoffs again

by Andy Savoie

Eastern's football team has received a bid to host a first-round NCAA Division II playoff game, an NCAA selection committee has announced.

The contest will be played at 12:30 p.m. Nov. 29 at O'Brien Stadium, Eastern Sports Information Director Dave Kidwell said.

"We're really happy, but we naturally expected it," Eastern head coach Darrell Mudra said. "We felt all along that we'd host the first-round game."

Eastern (9-2) has been ranked No. 1 in the last two NCAA Division II football polls.

The Panthers first-round opponent is still undetermined, as four more teams are yet to be picked for the playoffs.

"We'll play the No. 8 (ranked) team and there won't be any way to find that out until next week. So there won't be much we can do this week to prepare," Mudra said.

Eastern was one of three teams selected for the playoffs Sunday, but the only school which was assured of hosting a first-round game.

Eight teams in all are chosen for the playoffs, and the remaining teams will be picked Sunday, Kidwell said.

Northern Michigan, ranked second in last week's poll, received a bid last week.

Also receiving bids Sunday were Santa Clara (8-2) and Cal-Poly SLO (7-2).

Santa Clara, ranked ninth in last week's poll, defeated California State-Northridge Saturday and "probably won't host" a first-round game, Kidwell said.

Fourth-ranked Cal-Poly SLO downed Boise State 23-20 Saturday and "will most likely host" a first-round game if it beats California State-Sacramento in its regular-season finale next Saturday, Kidwell said.

Boise State was ranked fifth in Division I-A before its loss to Cal-Poly SLO.

Ticket prices for Eastern's playoff contest are $5 for reserved seats, $3 for general admission and $2 for student general admission, Kidwell said.

Other teams still in contention for a playoff spot are North Alabama, Jacksonville State and Troy State.

No. 3-ranked Jacksonville State (8-1) defeated No. 5 Troy State (8-2) Saturday.

Panther receiver Scott McGee outruns Augustana's defensive back Mike Galle for a touchdown during Saturday's game. McGee set a record for touchdown receptions on the season with 16, and he also set a record for points scored with 96. (News photo by Robin Scholtz)

Fee hike will aid support groups

by Scott Calhoun

At least half of the $1 from the proposed athletic fee increase which would be going toward athletic support groups will probably be allocated to the marching and pep bands, Todd Daniels, student body financial vice president, said Sunday.

The student body voted to pass the proposed $9 athletic fee increase last Wednesday. The proposal still must be approved by Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin and the Board of Governors before it is final.

From this increase, $1 will be divided among the pep and marching bands, Pink Panthers and cheerleaders.

The $1 collected from each student each semester is expected to range from $18,000 to $20,000 per year based on enrollment figures between 9,000 and 10,000.

"The band budget for athletic events is around $10,000 and will probably increase by at least $9,000," Daniels added.

Harold Hillyer, Eastern's band director, said he was pleased with the passage of the proposal, since it would not only benefit the athletic department, but their support groups as well.

Although Hillyer was not sure of how much his department would receive, he said the initial monies would be used for new percussion instruments and new flags and uniforms for the flag team. Hillyer added that his first goal was to get the marching band "back in shape."

Phoebe Church, Pink Panther adviser, said she would use the additional funds to help pay for new outfits.

"A total outfit costs about $200, although each girl doesn't have to pay that amount since some uniforms are used from year to year," Church added.

Daniels said he was unsure of the amount of money that would be given to the Pink Panthers, since they are nearly self-supporting.

The group receives $200 annually from the Apportionment Board to pay for music that they must buy for their half-time routines at athletic events. Church said that although she had no official word on the matter, she felt that they would no longer receive the $200.

Less than 50 percent of the 750 surveys asking opinions about the need for a mass transit system at Eastern were returned to the marketing research class conducting the study, a member of the class said.

A group of approximately 10 students are conducting the study to determine the feasibility of a mass transit system on Eastern's campus, Todd Daniels, a member of the class and student body financial vice president, said.

The survey is only one small part of the study, which also consists of reviewing other transit systems at other universities, he said. The rate of success will also be reviewed, Daniels added.

The deadline for returning the survey was Thursday and as of late Thursday, Daniels said, "slightly less than 50 percent of the surveys had been returned."

Three hundred and seventy-five surveys were sent to off-campus students and 375 surveys were sent to students in residence halls, Daniels said.

"The number of surveys sent out was determined through statistical analysis," Daniels added.

"We wanted to send out enough surveys to have 90 percent accuracy," he said.

The surveys were sent to students through campus mail and asked students their class standing, sex and place of residence, Daniels said.

In addition, students were asked their means of transportation when going to class, the downtown square and to the route 16 shopping area, such as IGA, Eisner's and Wilb Walker.

One question directly referring to the possibility of having a mass transit system, said, "I would prefer to use a mass transit system as an alternative to my present form of transportation when going to the Charleston downtown square."

The respondent's alternative answers varied from very strongly agreed to very strongly disagreed.

Students could choose answers ranging from not willing to pay to subsidize a mass transit system to paying over $21 a semester.

Other questions dealt with whether the student thought Eastern needed a mass transit system, if he would use it and if his friends would use it.

"The survey will be used with the rest of the research in writing a report which will be presented to the administration, student government and the new mass transit committee at the end of the semester," Daniels said.

"We won't know if the results of the survey will be considered in the decision of a mass transit system until we show them our findings," he added.

Murderer insists on immediate execution

CHICAGO—Arguing for his "right to die," a convicted murderer on Death Row has asked the Illinois Supreme Court to let him be executed immediately or else free him, saying that imprisonment is cruel and unusual punishment.

"I want the sentence of death implemented without delay; anything short of that would be cruel and unusual punishment," said Charles Silagy in a 20-page motion. Silagy, who was scheduled originally to be put to death by the electric chair on Nov. 7, also said:

"Imprisonment beyond Nov. 7 is total torture and causes me a great deal of anguish. I am demanding that the Supreme Court meet my wishes and not deny me my right to die."

Silagy, 31, of Danville, was convicted in a circuit court of fatally stabbing Cheryl Block, 32, his girlfriend, after an argument, and then her roommate, Ann Waters, 29. Silagy admitted to the stabbings.

Under Illinois law, a death sentence automatically is appealed to the Illinois Supreme Court.

"The court is still a long way off" from considering his execution, Supreme Court clerk Clell L. Woods said. Key provisions of the death penalty have been upheld by the high court, but it has not authorized a single execution since the death penalty was reinstated. The last execution in Illinois occurred in 1962.

Despite strike settlement harassment continues

CHICAGO—Two top fire officials have charged that fire fighters who refused to strike eight months ago are continuing to be harassed by those who walked off the job.

Deputy fire commissioner Charles Roberts and fire personnel chief Donald Stensland say the rift between firefighters who struck and those who didn't has grown wider, instead of narrower, since the strike that began last Valentine's Day and lasted until March 8.

The harassment of non-strikers persists in several forms, from ostracizing them at the firehouses to committing criminal acts against them, Roberts and Stensland said.

They said 71 incidents of criminal activity against non-striking firefighters, including assaults and damage to property, are being investigated by police.

Roberts and Stensland said the bitterness and low morale have led to a disproportionately high number of transfers requested by firemen since the strike. More than 2,000 of the department's roughly 4,100 firefighters — about 53 percent — have been granted transfers at their own request, and more are scheduled within the next few months, they said.

Khomeini appeals for unity blaming unrest on media

BEIRUT, Lebanon—Iran's revolutionary patriarch Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini appealed Sunday for national unity and lashed out at Iranian newspapers and politicians for creating a climate of dissent while the nation was in a state of war.

"You leaders, why are you asleep so much? Why don't you open your eyes?" Khomeini said in a blanket criticism of officials engaged in political squabbling.

His remarks followed a week-long controversy ignited by the arrest of former Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh, which pitted moderates such as President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr against hardliners of the Islamic Republican Party headed by Ayatollah Mohammed Beheshti.

'Amazing' Kreskin confounds audience

by Peggy McMeen

Th Amazing Kreskin, who calls himself a "scientific investigator" of extra sensory perception and the power of suggestion, insisted he is neither a mind reader, magician or hypnotist.

He said hypnosis is a waste of time and added, "The only person who's ever hypnotized is the hypnotist."

Kreskin, famed mentalist and foremost authority in the field of ESP, performed Thursday night in the Union addition Grand Ballroom to a crowd of about 500 people.

Kreskin was born in Caldwell, N.J. in the mid-1930s. He legally changed his name from John Kresge at 17, keeping the "Kres" from his last name; taking the "k" from Harry Kellar, one of America's first great magicians; and using the "in" from Houdini, the French conjurer. He has been performing for a living since he was about 11 years old.

His television show, "The Amazing World of Kreskin," has been shown in the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, Scotland, the Phillipines and Ireland.

Kreskin has also appeared on "The Mike Douglas Show" 110 times and "The Tonight Show" 88 times—"More shows than Johnny did last year," he cracked.

Kreskin offers $50,000, on deposit in a Phillipsbury, N.J. bank, to anyone who can demonstrate under scientific conditions "psychokinesis—the controlling or changing of a physical object by thought power," he said.

He also offers a $25,000 challenge to anyone who can prove scientifically the existence of a hypnotic trance, state or condition and $20,000 to anyone who can disprove his claim that he uses no secret assistance on stage.

Kreskin performed for three hours to an enthusiastic audience. Saying, "I don't understand everything I do," he proceeded to pull a full glass of water out of a black velvet bag after two volunteers from the audience had declared it empty.

Kreskin instructed the audience to write down on paper anything with meaning to them, and the paper was sealed in envelopes and hidden from sight.

Without ever seeing the envelopes, Kreskin then began to call out dates, names and situations relating to people in the audience, insisting that he was not guessing. Some of the things Kreskin named were written on paper and some were not.

Sophomore John Easley said Kreskin named everything that he had written on his piece of paper, in the order it was written down: Coltrane, a saxophone idol; his mother's birthday; Melody, his cat's name; and Beep, his sister's nickname.

Easley said although he was sceptical of Kreskin before the show, he was "totally freaked out" because no one knows his sister's nickname.

Volunteers from the audience hid a check—Kreskin's salary for the evening—on audience member Frank Bensle of Westfield. Kreskin left the ballroom, came back and found the check in about five minutes, by leading the person who last touched the check around with a hankerchief.

The amazing Kreskin, "scientific investigator" in the field of extra sensory perception, instructs volunteers from the audience on the power of mind suggestion. The volunteers, with their hands held together, watch as their extended fingers are drawn together. Kreskin, sponsored by the University Board, gave a three hour performance Thursday night in the Union addition Grand Ballroom. (News photo by Mark Wolf)

Bensle said Kreskin seemed to move directly for the check, which was hidden in his belt with his shirt pulled down over it. He has seen Kreskin perform before, and said, "I don't understand what I've seen."

Kreskin has given up his salary nine times when he failed to locate the check. He said he will quit this test when he fails the 10th time.

He then mentally suggested a variety of things to more than two dozen volunteers on stage. All shut their eyes and then could not open them again, and one of the volunteers, with his eyes shut, attested to the fact that he was not in a trance.

The volunteers "experienced" freezing and burning temperatures, two could not close their mouths until Kreskin tapped them on the foreheads, and six accused different people in the audience of shooting the character J.R. Ewing of "Dallas," all at Kreskin's suggestion.

Others were stuck to their chairs and had one foot stuck to the floor and one volunteer put his shoes on the wrong feet.

As one of the many humorous remarks in the show, Kreskin asked someone in the audience if he was taking pictures. When he said yes, Kreskin said, "Take all the pictures you want—they won't come out."

Kreskin—whose performance finished with a standing ovation—stated his own philosophy: "To those who believe, no explanation is necessary. To those who don't believe, no explanation is possible."

Former NOW president to lecture on feminism

Wilma Scott Heide, past president of the National Organization for Women, will speak on feminism at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Union addition Grand Ballroom.

Heide has been a visiting scholar/consultant at over 36 colleges since 1976.

She has a master's degree in sociology from the University of Pittsburgh and received her doctorate in interdisciplinary studies from Union Experimenting Colleges and Universities of Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Heide has also been appointed as the Human Rights Commissioner of the state of Pennsylvania and was a delegate last summer to the mid-decade conference for the International Women's Year in Copenhagen, Denmark.

"I do not refer to myself as a housewife," Heide has said, for the reason that I did not marry my house."

Admission to the lecture is $1.

ISSC request should be passed

Your turn

Forget socialism

Editor:

This is in response to Allen Keith's letter of Nov. 13. Sorry Mr. Keith, support for socialism will always be limited in the United States. For all practical purposes socialism in the United States is dead and has been put to rest for good in this last election.

Socialism equals bureaucracy, i.e. it does not work, it has not worked and it will never work. Take a look at England learn from a grand mistake.

Your use of the phrase "twisted demons of inflation and unemployment" is typical leftist rhetoric seeking to stir up an emotional response, not one of intelligence. It is the free enterprise system which helped to put a man on the moon, which has produced the wonder drugs of today which has raised the standard of living of the world. A free system allows men and women to think in a creative way—not in a way predetermined by the individuals who happen to be in power.

As far as overcoming the ills of society socially and morally, no system devised by man will ever do it. This can only come from the heart of the individual—not from the outside.

Look at Poland, Mr. Keith. Have the Polish people enjoyed the wonderful benefits of socialistic ideas? They have not and they have shown the world that fact. Yes, I do realize that socialism and communism are different, but Mr. Keith, they are both a step in the same direction—the wrong direction.

Thanks for Williams

Editor:

First off, Lee Ann Franklin, you told it the way it was (see concert review, Oct. 10 issue). You are not getting old, you just happened to enjoy a great evening of music. As a long time fan of Andy Williams, I want to thank the University Board for bringing him here for those shows.

I am not an Eastern student, but in my position, I spend a great deal of time on the campus and work with a lot of people, predominantly in athletics.

But having attended many of the concerts and presentations that the board has given, I want to say that even though I enjoy all of them, I had to say this one was my favorite. Some might say that I am strange for liking this style of music, but my musical tastes range from Mantovani to Tom Bennett, to Jerry Vale, Boyz n the City, Bachman-Turner Overdrive and Waylon and Willie! I just like music.

So thank you UB for one of the most memorable nights that I have ever had. In this column, I have seen a great deal of negativism toward university activities and institutions, but it's time for a pat on the back for one of them.

Ray Smith

ISSC's breakdown of an additional $1.7 million for grants to students who were ineligible for that amount when the commission adopted new maximum levels of funding in July and another $2.9 million for grants promised for the fall semester encompasses all students that are eligible for awards.

If the Illinois Legislature approves $9.9 million, no students will be left out and they will not have to make other plans for next semester.

In past years, the Legislature has usually approved a figure near that of the request of the ISSC and we hope that the Legislature to do so again this year.

We also urge students to get involved in their own scholarship needs by writing their congressmen to vote for the $9.9 million request before the Legislature takes a vote in early December.

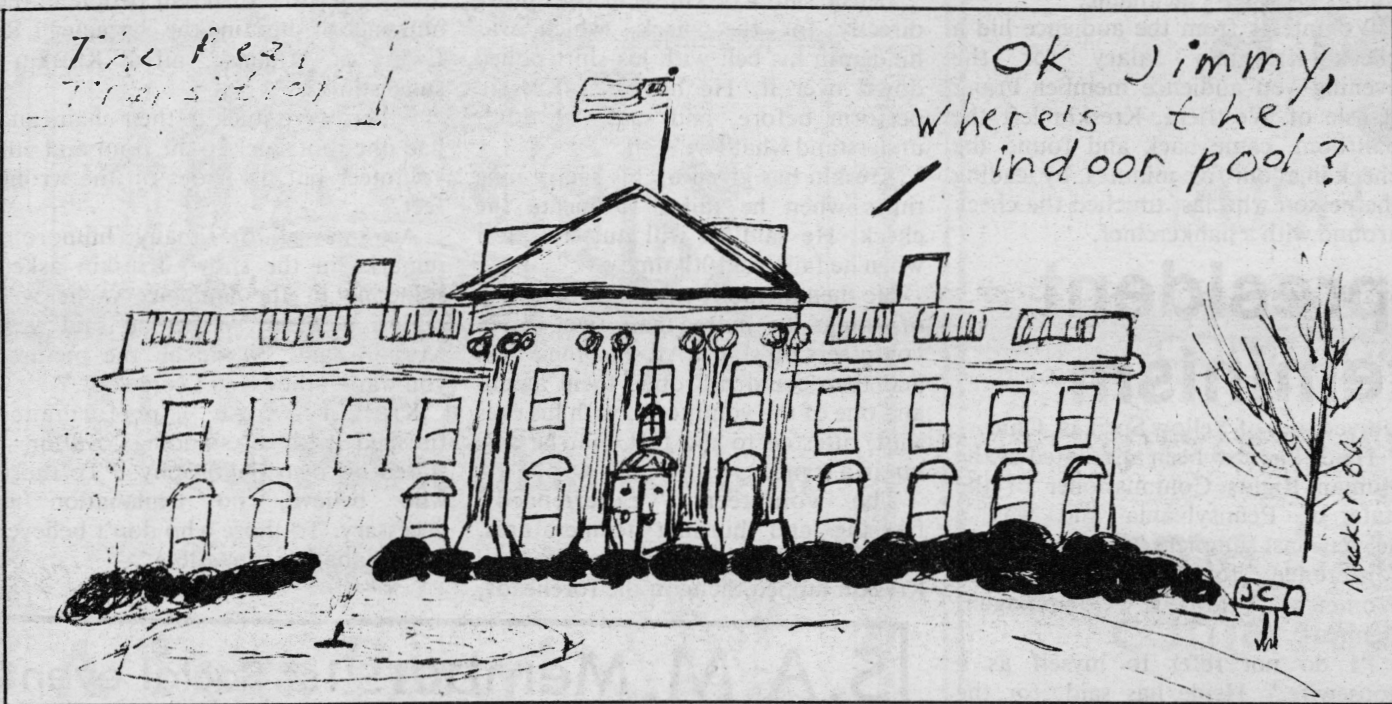

Legislators need input from students, especially when higher education money matters are concerned.

We recommend that the Illinois Board of Higher Education support the $9.9 million funding request from the Illinois State Scholarship Commission and urge students to express their support by writing state legislators to vote for the request.

The recent decision by the IBHE to support a $5.3 million request instead of a $9.9 million appeal by the ISSC will not meet the present needs of the scholarship commission, and we urge the Illinois Legislature to approve the ISSC's $9.9 million request.

We believe the IBHE has not taken into consideration in its request perhaps one of the most essential reasons for the request—that of making sure students who were promised ISSC awards for the first semester receive them.

We believe that many students may not come back to school for the second semester because they did not receive the financial assistance they were promised for the first semester.

Carter translates the Presidency

Personal file:

Herb Meeker

"I would but I think Ham Jordan would have more information on that subject."

"Jimmy, would you be able to answer any of my questions by yourself without any help from your advisers?"

"Heck Ronnie, I've been president for four years; I've got to know something. It's just that I possess capable advisers and do not hesitate to ask for their advice. A president cannot be an island you know, he needs to reach out for information to solve all the crises which face him every day. Why do you think the cabinet was formed—it's the eyes and ears of the president on the issues. Without it the presidency would be lost."

"Gee, I'm sorry Jimmy, for a minute there that landslide victory must have gone to my head."

"That's perfectly understandable Ronnie. I tried pulling the same 'tough guy' routine with Jerry Ford when I came in for my briefing four years ago."

"OK, now we can get down to the real business. Is it true you have cooks on 24-hour call here in the White House and you can order anything you want?"

President Jimmy Carter and President-elect Ronald Reagan will meet this week to discuss the passing of power from the old to the new administration. Here's what the first meeting might sound like.

"Governor Reagan, I'm so glad to see yuh."

"Yes, Mr. President, you look fine, considering..."

"Now Ronnie, we don't have to go into that do we? And please call me Jimmy."

"Well, Mr. President, uhh I mean Jimmy, I have some pressing questions that need answering if I'm going to take office this January."

"Yes, of course, I understand. Oh by the way, y'all aren't planning on walking down Pennsylvania Avenue, are you?"

"No Jimmy, Nancy and I are riding horseback."

"Good, I nearly froze my tail off when Rosalyn and I walked all that way in dead winter."

"Now Jimmy, first there's that question concerning Palestinian autonomy. The Israelis are holding firm..."

"Hold it Ronnie, maybe it would be best if you addressed that question to Zbigniew Brzezinski, my national security adviser, when you and your prospective cabinet meet next week."

"Whatever you say Jimmy. Then maybe you could answer some of my questions concerning SALT II?"

"I think that would be another one for Zbigniew."

"OK, then could you answer some questions about the new Drug Enforcement Commission?"

ISA supports more scholarship funding Fee _____ from page 1

by Patty O'Neill

Members of the Illinois Student Association drafted a letter recently to send to the Illinois Board of Higher Education supporting a request for an additional $5.3 million for the Illinois State Scholarship Commission.

Mike Nowak, an Eastern member of the ISA, said the letter requested more funding be given to ISSC because the commission ran out of money for the student scholarships in late August.

"The ISA is asking Governor James Thompson to put back the money he took out of the ISSC funds earlier this year, approximately $5.3 million, when he made the cutbacks across the state," ISA president Bill Houlihan said.

"It's beginning to really hurt the trade schools because they start later on in the fall and they were the last ones to receive money," he added.

Currently, a request from the ISSC for $9.9 million in supplementary funding for the ISSC is before the Illinois legislature and will be voted on sometime in November.

The IBHE has requested $5.3 million in funding.

The difference between the two amounts is that the ISSC's request includes funding awards which were not met first semester.

Houlihan said he felt it was the obligation of the state of Illinois to reimburse the students attending the junior colleges and four-year institutions.

Also at the meeting, Nowak and Tom Lamczyk, both student government members, were elected to the ISA's Board of Directors.

In addition, Bill Houlihan was appointed as the president of the ISA for another month.

Nowak said, "We decided to wait until next month's meeting to elect a new president because Southern Illinois University at Carbondale was unable to attend. Consequently, Houlihan's presidency was extended another month."

However, Houlihan does not plan to run for the presidency of the ISA again.

"I couldn't make the commitment for an additional 10 months because I'm planning to move back to Washington D.C. after graduation," he said.

In other business, the ISA decided to hold a special meeting at Governors State University in efforts to get junior colleges from the Chicago area to join the ISA.

"Some junior colleges can't make it to our meetings because they are set up as a Board of Trustees and are not properly funded to make the trip," Nowak said.

The junior colleges around the Chicago area are operated by the Cook County Junior College Board, which is similar to the BOG, Houlihan said.

There are nine paid universities to the ISA and the final date to join is February, Nowak said.

sponsor, had no comment on the proposed increase.

Daniels said he was uncertain how much of the new increase the cheerleaders would receive, but added their annual budget is around $3,000.

Daniels said there usually are not too many problems with groups running over their budget although the AB keeps a $10,000 surplus of funds on hand for expenses not provided for in the budgets.

Daniels added that he did not think the requests for additional funds would cease, since every group is trying to expand its program.

Top metalsmith to speak and hold workshop

Eleanor Moty, a renowned metalsmith specializing in a photo process, will speak on her craft 7:30 p.m. Monday in the west end of the University Union Old Ballroom.

Garrett DeRuiter, one of the sponsors of the lecture, said Moty will present some of her work in photofabrication—a process by transferring a photo images onto metal, and then building on or etching away from the image.

Moty, who has had over 100 exhibitions both nationally and internationally, is considered one of the top metalsmiths in the country, DeRuiter said.

The professor at the University of Wisconsin-Madison will also present a workshop beginning 9 a.m. Tuesday in the jewelry room of the Doudna Fine Arts Center. There she will demonstrate the technique involved in photofabrication.

Marvin home renovations to cost $45,901

by Laura Rzepka

Construction work on the home occupied by Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin has begun to make the house "more accessible" to entertain the public, Sam Owen president of the Eastern Illinois University Foundation said.

The construction work which began Nov. 3 is expected to be completed by the spring at a cost of $45,901, Owen said.

"The weather is a factor in giving us a head start," Owen said.

The work will involve remodeling the existing garage into interior rooms and the addition of a new garage and driveway, Owen said.

Young Construction Company is responsible for the construction work on the house which was built in 1972. Bhupen Panchal is the architect, Owen said.

The EIU foundation is footing the cost with contributions from alumni and friends of Eastern, he said.

The house, located at 1112 Williamsburg Drive, is owned by the Foundation and has never had any major remodeling, Owen said.

"There hasn't been any other work than regular maintenance," he added.

Although Marvin could not be reached for comment, his wife, Maxine said the cement for the garage was poured Wednesday.

She said the work is not interrupting anything at home.

"We are continuing to entertain on the weekends," she added.

TAC funds reach $120,000

by Sue Ann Rentfrow

Gifts and pledges for the construction of the Tarble Arts Center reached $120,000 Friday bringing the campaign closer to the halfway mark of its $250,000 goal, Ken Hesler, coordinator of the TAC campaign, said Sunday.

Hesler said more than 80 percent of the total money pledged is from major donors. These include donations from individuals, trusts and corporations that have contributed $2,500 or more.

Several faculty and administrators from Eastern are among the major contributors. These people include Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin, Dean of the School of Fine Arts Vaughn Jaenike and Dean of the School of Technology Donald Lauda.

Dr. Lee Steward of the Health Service, David Buchanan of the chemistry department and Marilyn Oglesby of the management and marketing department also have made contributions to the Tarble Arts Center.

The largest single contribution has been $50,000 from the unnamed charitable portion of the Linder family trust held by the Charleston National Bank.

"I think the campaign is making good time and should finish up in the spring," Hesler said.

A mail campaign began during the second week in October to alumni and area residents and about 50 contributions are coming in each week as a result of the mailing, he said.

"These gifts range from $1 to $1,000 and I anticipate this response will continue well into the spring as we maintain mail contact," Hesler said.

Another mailing to persons who did not respond will begin in January with a third mailing scheduled for later in the spring, he said.

A special telephone campaign conducted last week among fine arts alumni across the nation produced $2,000 in pledges during its first three nights, he added.

"The interest and participation in the campaign is really outstanding," he said. "The effort, organization and participation on the part of students, faculty and the community shows strong support for the Tarble Arts Center."

Eastern alumnus Newton Tarble left $1 million after his death to construct a fine arts center. Interest from the original gift has generated $200,000 with the remaining $200,000 to come from the fund raising campaign. An additional $50,000 is being sought for unexpected costs that arise during the construction of the center.

RHA to sponsor Big Turkey contest

Turkeys are popular main courses this time of year, and now students can vote for their favorite ones in the Biggest Turkey on Campus contest to be held Tuesday and Wednesday sponsored by the Residence Hall Association.

Residence hall students can vote for the student, or campus person who they feel represents the biggest turkey on campus, Sue Morse, RHA member, said. Voting will take place in the food services of the halls, she said.

"The contest is just for fun. It's a sort of Thanksgiving Day ploy," Morse said.

Lutz, Dedman considered for public defender post

by Jerry Fallstrom

A decision on a replacement for Coles County Public Defender Nancy Owen will be made in the next two to three weeks, Ralph Pearman, chief judge of the 5th Judicial Circuit said Friday.

So far two persons have applied for the job, which Owen will vacate to take over as Coles County state's attorney. Owen, a Republican, defeated Democrat Lonnie Lutz for the office Nov. 4.

Lutz is currently an assistant public defender.

Pearman said only Lutz and assistant state's attorney Jim Dedman have applied for the position. Pearman said he does not know how many other candidates will apply.

John Elder, a Charleston attorney who considered applying, said Friday he has decided not to pursue the opening.

Pearman said he will consult with the other circuit judges to decide who to appoint.

"It isn't just up to me," Pearman said. He said a majority vote will be taken of the circuit judges before making the choice.

Circuit court judges include Pearman, William Sunderman, Loren Kabbes, Joseph Spitz, Thomas Burke and incoming judge Paul Komada.

Sunderman said he would not speculate on who will be appointed, but said the decision should be made in two weeks or "maybe before."

Retiring Circuit Judge Burke said Lutz "would be an agreeable candidate." But he said he did not want to commit himself to any particular candidate.

"The basic criteria is to find the individual that has the most qualifications. That is the only thing to consider," Burke said.

Food for needy to be collected

Canned goods and cash donations will be collected from 9 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday in the University Union Lobby for the eighth annual Turkey Harvest program.

The program, sponsored by Kappa Alpha Psi social fraternity, helps collect food for Thanksgiving baskets that can be distributed to needy Charleston and Mattoon families for a Thanksgiving dinner they may not have a chance to receive, Ernest Newman, vice president of the fraternity said.

Newman said the organization hopes it will collect enough food and money to fill 10 baskets. Last year five baskets were prepared for needy families in the area. Each basket will consist of an eight to 10-pound turkey, bread, canned goods and vegetables, Newman said.

A basketball tournament to help raise more money for the baskets will be held Friday and Saturday in McAfee gym. Newman said the tournament is open to black fraternities and sororities. A $5 entry fee will be charged.

He said winners of the tournament will receive trophies.

Newman said members of the fraternity may also be collecting donations in the dorms on Thursday for the food baskets.

Panther women harriers finish 14th at nationals

by Brian Nielsen

SEATTLE, Wash.—Eastern's women's cross-country team ended its season with a disappointing 14th place in the AIAW Division II finals Saturday.

The Panthers failed to achieve their pre-meet goal of bettering last year's eighth-place finish.

"Our kids ran their best for that particular day, but it just wasn't good enough," Eastern coach John Craft said. "We were hoping to do better than last year, but it didn't come out that way."

Eastern totaled 345 points—263 behind champion South Dakota State.

Marquette, which had beaten

Eastern out for the Midwest Regional crown two weeks ago, finished fourth with 163 points.

The Panthers were led by junior Dawn Campbell, who came in 46th with a 19:19 time on the rain-soaked 10,000-meter course.

Janet Steele was 68th in 19:36, Julie Curry 71st in 19:41, Nancy Kramer 77th in 19:45, Gina Sperry 87th in 19:58 and Darlene Swank 91st in 20:05.

Craft said the Seattle course "wasn't real difficult, but it was very narrow and had some pretty short turns, so people got bogged up. It was very difficult to pass because it was so narrow.

"It was also very wet up there, and that slowed everyone down," he added.

"But everyone ran on the same course, so that's no excuse," the coach said. "But the narrow course was a factor. All the other coaches were saying that too.

"We had a good season," Craft said. "It wasn't a total failure but we would have liked to have ended it better."

Track practice set

Practice for Eastern's women's indoor track team will begin at 3 p.m. Monday at Lantz Field House, coach John Craft said.

For further information one should contact Craft at 581-6007.

Eastern's volleyball team captured second place in the AIAW Division II volleyball tournament Saturday night at Lantz Gym.

The Panthers placed second to Lewis University, which defeated Eastern 15-11, 15-5, 15-6 in the championship game.

However, on Friday the Panthers surprised No. 1-seeded Lewis in the double-elimination tournament by defeating the Flyers 3-15, 15-13, 15-13 in a close, action-packed match.

However, the powerful Panthers that defeated No. 1-seeded Lewis Friday showed a different side when they faced the Flyers again Saturday night in the final battle of the tournament.

Eastern was easily defeated by the Flyers in a quick three-out-of-five game match.

The turn around from Friday's close battle was due to a number of reasons.

"It was a real pressure situation and our team wasn't experienced enough to handle all the different things going on during the match," Eastern coach Chris Accornero said.

"Lewis played more confidently than we did because they have been in a situation like this before. They were able to handle it," the coach said.

Despite some mistakes made by the Panthers in this final match, Eastern showed it was a serious competitor for Lewis, Accornero said.

"It wasn't lack of talent that made us lose. The team did a lot of good things both offensively and defensively," Accornero said.

Eastern assistant coach Deanna D'Abbraccio added, "Lewis is a very powerful team and Eastern has nothing to hang their heads about. They gave it a good shot."

Freshman Leesa Moore racked up the most points serving for the Panthers with a total of 12 in the three games of the match.

Three Eastern players were named to the 1980 Division II All-State team following the tournament—Bonnie Fisk, Moore and Kathy Schoene.

Eastern's two fairly easy victories over No. 7-seeded St. Xavier and No. 5-seeded College of St. Francis Friday afternoon served as a preparation for the fast-paced battle to come later that night.

The Panthers downed St. Xavier 15-7, 15-5 and beat St. Francis 15-5, 15-6.

"They were good opening games and we were able to get our jitters out," Moore said.

"When we win, it's usually not because the other team is bad, but because we are playing good," she added.

And the Panthers did play well when they battled Lewis Friday night in the most exciting match of the tournament.

Working together was an important factor in the Panthers' win against Lewis with a starting line-up of Bonnie Fisk, Moore, Melissa Walter, Mary Ann Seiwert, Mary Martello and Kathy Schoene.

"They won because they really wanted to win. They made some very good adjustments and didn't fall apart," Accornero said.

"They basically played smart volleyball and used their heads," she added.

Sophomore Cathy Dolan said, "We played aggressively, which helped us win."

Freshman Melissa Walter said, "The fans and the cheering helped us a lot. We're also a much better team now, and we played good."

Eastern's winning streak continued through Saturday with a 15-4, 15-11 win over Chicago State and a 15-4, 15-10 triumph over No. 4-seeded Northeastern Illinois University.

Substitutes Dolan, Rogers and junior Rhonda Morel contributed to the wins.

our competition. Today, the competition just wasn't as strong as we're used to and I guess we knew that going into the game."

Dickerson agreed with the Panther flanker.

"We did not want to come out and play flat today, but that's the way we stepped out. Fortunately we snapped out of it around the second quarter," the defensive coach said.

Although Eastern may have started "snapping out of it" in the second quarter, the offensive fireworks did not begin until the fourth period.

After a 10-yard touchdown reception by Mehalic and a 32-yard run by Darryon White gave Eastern a 27-0 lead through three quarters, the Panthers erupted for 25 points in the concluding 15 minutes.

McGhee and freshman running back Tyrone Davis collected the final three touchdowns for the Panthers.

McGhee scored on a 3-yard pass from reserve quarterback Jeff Christensen and Davis tallied on 1-yard plunge and a 42-yard screen pass from freshman Dirk Androff.

Placekicker Ray DeLong also added a 50-yard field goal for the Panthers.

It was not until 5:42 of the fourth quarter that Augustana finally got on the board with a 26-yard touchdown pass from Tim Line to Steve Mikkelsen.

Line also teamed up with Justin Taylor for a 54-yard touchdown with 1:17 left which concluded the Viking scoring.

Panthers dispose of Augustana

by Dave Claypool

Brushing aside Augustana and moving on to post-season play was no problem for Eastern as it humiliated the Vikings 52-13 Saturday at O'Brien Stadium.

The victory almost surely kept the Panthers' No. 1 Division II ranking intact and assured them of a host spot in the first round of the NCAA playoffs which begin Nov. 29.

And Eastern's thrashing of Augustana should probably be a warning to those other playoff teams, because Panther head coach Darrell Mudra said his squad will be even better in post-season play.

"We'll get stronger. We'll be healthier. We've got two or three injured kids that will be back for the playoffs," Mudra said.

Nevertheless, Eastern did not need such additional strength or health against Augustana.

Saturday's contest, which concluded the Panthers' regular season and hiked their winning streak to eight, was a mismatch.

Eastern bombarded the Vikings with 572 total offensive yards, including 378 through the air while tying a school record with five touchdown passes.

And while racking up 45 unanswered points, Eastern's defense devastated Augustana until the Panthers finally pulled back.

"We had to call them off early," defensive coordinator Chuck Dickerson said of his defensive troops. "We would have killed someone if we hadn't. I don't mean to sound cocky, but they just couldn't match our muscle."

Dickerson's assessment was obviously correct, as Eastern sacked Viking quarterbacks six times and held the Augustana rushing game to minus 11 yards through the first three quarters and just 70 for the game.

Even the respected Augustana passing game was held to the bare minimum.

While chasing Viking starting quarterback Scot Shaft, Eastern held the junior to just 55 yards through the air and a 30 percent completion mark. Shaft also threw four interceptions.

However, the Panthers did not start the game like gang-busters.

Allowing quarterback Chuck Wright to call his own plays, the Panther offense struggled with the Viking defense until Wright hit Scott McGhee for a 20-yard touchdown strike with just 40 seconds remaining in the opening period.

Wright then hit tight end Rob Mehalic with a 35-yard touchdown strike to give Eastern a 14-0 halftime lead. But the senior signal-caller also threw three interceptions and fumbled away a fourth turnover to the Vikings.

"We figured Augustana was not that tough and Chuck could do something like that," offensive coordinator Dennis Shaw said in explaining Wright's play-calling responsibilities.

"But a lot of times upstairs we're trying to set up the next play. I don't think Chuck had the knowledge to do that," Shaw said.

In addition to this problem, McGhee and Dickerson said the Panthers had difficulties getting motivated for the Vikings.

"Sure we came out a little flat today," McGhee said. "But we're the type of team that plays according to

Soccer squad eliminated 3-1

LOCK HAVEN, Pa.—The Eastern soccer team's national championship hopes were doused Saturday when the Panthers bowed to top-ranked Lock Haven State 3-1 in the first round of the NCAA Division II Midwest-Mideast Regional.

Lock Haven won its 17th straight game without a defeat and earned the right to play Missouri-St. Louis for the regional title.

The Panthers, who had advanced to the national finals the past two years, end the season 11-5.

Silvano Corazza scored Eastern's only goal Saturday.

Eastern's team did not return home until late Sunday night, and coach Schellas Hyndman could not be reached for comments or further details.

Cross-country team falls to 7th

by Dan Brannan

KENOSHA, Wis.—Eastern's men's cross-country team posted its lowest team finish in the NCAA Division II national finals since 1972 Saturday with a seventh-place performance at Kenosha, Wis.

Humbolt State won the meet with 115 points followed by Pembroke with 120, California Poly-SLO with 132, Ferris State with 513, Mankato State with 176 and St. Cloud State with 183.

Eastern was next with 205 points followed by Indiana-Pennsylvania with 234 and Shippensburg State with 241.

California-Riverside rounded out the top 10 with 244 points.

Eastern's top finisher in the meet was Larry Schuldt with a 27th-place time of 31:28 on the 10,000-meter course.

The top 25 runners in the national finals are recognized as All-Americans, so Schuldt missed it by just two places.

However, Eastern coach Tom Woodall was pleased with Schuldt's performance in the race.

"Schuldt came on strong in the last mile and ran a good race," Woodall said.

Gary Henry of Pembroke was the individual winner in a time of 29:32.

Eastern's next finisher in the race was Tim Warneke in 35th with a time 31:38. He was followed by Mike Beresford in 56th place in 31:57, Terry Donahue in 63rd with a time of 32:01 and Chuck Elliott in 71st place with a time of 32:10.

"Warneke and Elliott ran real well for their first national finals meet," Woodall said.

Jase Travis was Eastern's next finisher in 109th place followed by Perry Edinger in 111th place.

"Edinger didn't do as good as he should have, as he had a cold," Woodall said.

Woodall also said the entire meet was a very even toss up between all of the teams.

"We did not run as good as I had previously hoped, however," Woodall said.

But Eastern did have a successful season, Woodall said.

"I'm not feeling it was unsuccessful at all, because every year is a different year," Woodall said.
