Winter forecast offered by furry ground crawler

By CHRYSTAL PHILPOTT
City editor

For students wondering what kind of winter 1986-87 will be, according to old wives' tales, the woolly worm has already been giving the forecast.

The woolly worm, also known as a caterpillar or woollybear, is from the family Arctiidae, zoology instructor Michael Goodrich said.

During the fall the hairy worm can be seen crawling across roads or hanging from trees and bushes. Its hair is used as a defense against predators, by making the worm an untasty and prickly dinner.

The worm's diet consists mainly of the foliage of trees and weeds.

The first four to five months of its life are spent as a caterpillar, at the end of which time is winter hibernation. With the emergence of spring the woolly worm emerges as a colorful tiger moth. The average life span of a woolly worm is one year.

Paul Carman, who works at the DeBuhr & Son Seed & Feed Store, 2001 Western Ave., Mattoon, said he has always heard that the darker the fur of the worm is, the fiercer the winter will be.

"A lot of people believe that," he said.

Goodrich said according to the legend he was familiar with, the wider the band on the back of the banded woolly bear, the harder the winter will be.

"I don't believe it myself," Goodrich said. "As far as we know there's no scientific basis. There's no evidence to support it."

But weather and climate instructor Richard Wise does not entirely rule out the possibility of a connection between weather and the worm.

"Maybe the woolly worm can predict what the winter will be like," he said. "Who knows?"

"I suspect that there may be relationships," he said, "but I don't think we're smart enough to figure out what it is if there is one. After all, weather does affect the environment in many ways."

"It (the worm's hair) could be influenced by the summer conditions, which could lead to a certain (See WINTER, page 7)

Eastern students wait outside Carman Hall Saturday afternoon as Charleston firefighters extinguish a box fire in the stairwell between the fifth and sixth floors.

Fire in Carman Hall stairwell causes evacuation of south tower

The south tower of Carman Hall had to be evacuated Saturday afternoon after a fire was discovered in a stairwell.

Janet Hahn, assistant counselor at the residence hall, said the fire was discovered at approximately 3 p.m. Saturday in a stairwell between the fifth and sixth floors.

Hahn said several boxes and an aerosol can were burning, but she added that she did not know how the fire started.

An exact damage estimate from the fire could not be determined by Hahn, but she estimated the damage would equal the cost of cleaning the stairwell.

"There is soot on the ceiling of the stairwell," Hahn said. "There is no problems in the (residents') rooms. It left a real mess," she said.

Hahn said no injuries were reported in the evacuation of the men's tower.

The fire is currently under investigation by the Charleston Fire Department.

Charleston Fire Chief Tom Watson could not be reached for comment Sunday.

Eastern officials seek 17 percent budget increase

By BILL DENNIS
Administration editor

The Board of Governors could approve a 17 percent increase in Eastern's operating budget for next year at its Monday morning meeting.

Also on the board's agenda is an undisclosed land acquisition proposal and a related non-instructional capital improvement project for Eastern.

Eastern President Stanley Rives and Verna Armstrong, vice president for administration and finance, said they could not discuss the project until it is discussed by the board in executive session on Monday.

However, Rives did say that the land acquisition matter was discussed with the Faculty Senate in executive session last week.

BOG Chancellor Thomas Layzell's proposed budget increase for Eastern is part of a total 17.8 percent system-wide increase that will bring the total budget for the five BOG universities to more than $207 million.

The proposed increase would give Eastern a budget of $47.8 million next year. Eastern's operating budget this year is $40.8 million.

The BOG will meet at 9 a.m. Monday at the Hyatt-Oak Brook Hotel in Oak Brook, Ill.

Armstrong said the increase would cover a five percent raise in salary for all employees at the five universities. Also, a second increase is planned to bring salaries on line with averages for comparable positions.

There is no set percentage for the "market equity" increase, Armstrong said. It would depend on a study that would be done following approval of the budget, Armstrong said.

The budget increase would also cover expansion of existing academic programs, inflation and general increases in necessary expenditures, such as utility rate hikes, Armstrong said.

Although passage of Layzell's proposal is expected, the final budget is far from certain. Last year, the BOG recommended a $45.98 million budget for Eastern, an increase of 21.7 percent. However, the Illinois Board of Education only recommended a $41.57 million budget, an increase of just 10 percent.

Eastern's final budget for this year, after being signed by Gov. James Thompson, was $40.8 million, an increase of 8 percent.

Budget legislation for next year should be on Thompson's desk by July, Armstrong said.

Capital projects under consideration at Monday's meeting includes the long-delayed $6.2 million Coleman Hall annex. Armstrong said she anticipates the project to be approved by the BOG.

State Sen. Harry "Babe" Woodyard, R-Chrisman, said last week he believes the Coleman Hall project has a high enough priority from the BOG and the IBHE to make passage by legislators likely.

Last summer, the project was taken off a list of Build Illinois projects after legislators discovered that $230,000 in Build Illinois planning money hadn't (See EASTERN, page 7)

Adlai forgets LaRouchies

CHICAGO—During one sharp, brief exchange in the first gubernatorial debate, Adlai Stevenson may have been able to accomplish what he has been unable to do since March, put the stunning victories of Lyndon LaRouche supporters in the Democratic primary behind him.

For months, the Stevenson campaign has been dogged by the Democratic nominations of LaRouche backers Mark Fairchild for lieutenant governor and Janice Hart for secretary of state.

Stevenson announced within hours after the primary that he would never run with the two, calling them, "neo-Nazis."

Stevenson's Illinois Solidarity Party received a boost in August when it turned in petitions with more than the 25,000 signatures needed to secure a spot for its candidates on the general election ballot.

Republican Governor James R. Thompson, said Stevenson lacks leadership abilities because his candidates lost.

"You went out and lost the race for lieutenant governor and secretary of state," Thompson said, "to two crazies who took you and your party by surprise."

"What I did was right, I did what skeptics said we could not. We reorganized, we regrouped the party, we put together a first-rate ticket, we divorced those LaRouchies," Stevenson said.

Judge on trial in Senate

WASHINGTON—Federal Judge Harry E. Claiborne goes on trial in the Senate this week in the first impeachment proceedings since 1936.

A nine member prosecution team from the House of Representatives will try to persuade senators that the Nevada judge, and a federal prisoner, should be removed from the bench for a 1984 tax evasion conviction.

Since federal judges are appointed for life he can only be removed by impeachment. He has been collecting his $78,700 annual salary while in prison.

Claiborne, 69, failed to report more than $100,000 in income.

Faced with a busy pre-election schedule, the Senate delegated an unprecedented 12 member committee to hear evidence then turn over the transcripts for further proceedings and a full trial.

On 13 previous occasions since 1799 the entire Senate handled every phase of an impeachment case.

Reagans talk drugs on TV

WASHINGTON—President and Nancy Reagan chose their White House living room as the setting for a broadcast appeal to all American families Sunday, climaxing a week of administration and congressional focus on drug problems.

It was the second time in four years that the Reagans have made a joint broadcast speech on the issue.

Last week, Reagan addressed groups of businessmen and elementary school principals on the issue. He also received recommendations from the White House Domestic Council, a subgroup of his Cabinet, for an executive order and legislation dealing with it.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said the executive order would call for efforts to rid federal workplaces of drugs and would include mandatory drug tests for some workers in law enforcement, safety and other sensitive jobs.

Daniloff says Soviets distorted testimony to ruin his credibility

MOSCOW (AP)—American journalist Nicholas Daniloff on Sunday denied Soviet claims that he admitted taking part in a CIA operation and said Kremlin officials were using a "crude distortion" of his testimony to undermine his credibility.

Daniloff, 51, a correspondent for the U.S. News and World Report, repeatedly denied he ever worked for the CIA or has any connection to an intelligence agency. "And that, please believe me, is the God's full truth," he said.

He gave his first detailed account of his Aug. 30 arrest and 13 days at Lefortovo Prison during a news conference at the U.S. Commercial Office, a building near the U.S. Embassy.

Daniloff looked more fit and rested on his second full day of a tenuous freedom arranged through diplomatic negotiations last week.

He said being released in the custody of the U.S. ambassador "is a great relief from the sort of emotional torture that I have had to bear over the last two weeks."

"I am terribly anxious to get back to the United States, to be back with my children. You ask me how I feel. Frankly, I feel like a sneaker that's been through the wringer," he said.

Daniloff noted that he still faces a three-count espionage indictment, must be available for questioning and is not permitted to leave the Moscow area.

Similar restrictions apply to Gennadi Zakharov, a Soviet physicist and United Nations employee charged in New York with espionage. He was released in the pretrial custody of Soviet Ambassador Yuri Dubinin in exchange for Daniloff's conditional release.

The Moscow correspondent reiterated his contention that he was set up by the KGB as an attempt to gain Zakharov's release.

He said the Soviet acquaintance Mikhail A. Luzin, called Misha, gave him a packet, and that he did not know what was in it. Daniloff said eight KGB agents then arrested him and put him into a closed van with his hands manacled behind his back.

In Lefortovo, the package was opened and Daniloff said he was shown photographs of military objects and maps marked secret.

Daniloff said he hopes his case can be resolved quickly and without a trial, but said the Soviet Union "continues to whip up a campaign which is intended, of course, to undermine my credibility."

On Saturday, Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman Gennadi Gerasimov told a news conference that Daniloff admitted taking part in a Central Intelligence Agency operation to establish contact with a Soviet citizen.

Earthquake kills 17, injures 300

KALAMATA, Greece (AP) Rescuers pulled seven bodies from the rubble of an apartment building toppled by a powerful earthquake in this southern port city, raising the death toll to at least 17 people killed and more than 300 injured.

A Defence Ministry spokesman said more than 100 people were hospitalized after Saturday's quake, and 200 more were treated for cuts and puncture wounds. Rescue crews pulled out 31 people alive from damaged buildings, more bodies were believed buried under rubble, said the spokesman who demanded to remain anonymous.

Angela Papadopoulos survived 17 hours buried under a 25-foot heap of concrete rubble of a collapsed five story apartment building.

"The cement is pressing my head, I can't move," she shouted repeatedly to rescue workers drilling to save her.

Senior police officials said they had no idea how many people were still unaccounted for in the city of 42,000.

The earthquake, measuring 6.2 on the Richter scale, rolled through this town, 180 miles southwest of Athens, at 8:24 p.m. Saturday. Police said the quake was followed by 15 aftershocks measuring as high as 5.2. A level of 6.0 is considered dangerous.

Illinois losing jobs, report finds

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois lags far behind other states in the national competition for new industry and has lost 26 percent of its manufacturing jobs, one of the worst records in the midwest, a new study indicates.

However, the state has many assets—from strong universities to good transportation—and can build on them to become more successful in the nationwide bidding war for new industry, the study says.

The two versions of the report, prepared by the Chicago-based Fantus Co. were released late last week in a campaign dispute between Gov. James R. Thompson and challenger Adlai Stevenson.

Fantus, hired by the state for about $100,000 to prepare the studies, found "manufacturing has been the worst performing Illinois economic sector."

Together the two reports criticize the state's economy, but recommend a series of steps Illinois can take to become more competitive, such as reducing unemployment insurance costs and providing tax credits for corporate research.

Fantus examined 500 of its industrial relocation clients of the last five years and found only eight—1.6 percent—chose to expand or relocate to Illinois.

Petition deadline arrives for open Senate positions

By DOUGLAS BACKSTROM
Government editor

The deadline for submitting applications to be on the Student Senate is 5 p.m. Monday, Senate Speaker Joe O'Mera said.

Eighteen applications have been submitted thus far, he said.

Although O'Mera said he is still expecting additional applications, there have been three applications turned in for the three open residence hall seats; five turned in for the three off-campus seats; and 10 turned in for the four at-large seats.

Those students who have not already been interviewed and turned in applications will be interviewed Tuesday, O'Mera said.

The senate committee chairmen and the senate speaker will interview the senate hopefuls.

"Then the new senators will be seated at Wednesday's meeting," he said adding that there will be some good competition involved.

Candidates will be questioned on their student government ideas, what they can offer the senate and their past experience, O'Mera said.

Several executive senate officers said the senate and many of its committees are lacking members and they are hoping students will show interest in the government boards.

Senate continues voter drive

By DOUGLAS BACKSTROM
Government editor

In an attempt to register 700 students by its Sept. 29 deadline, the Student Senate acquired 284 student signatures last week for their voter registration drive.

The senate has now registered a total of 309 students for the drive, Senate Speaker Joe O'Mera said.

Last week, the senate set up registration tables in Eastern's residence halls' food services to register students to vote in the local November election, O'Mera said.

The senate proved to be more successful in the food services than during their senate-sponsored Organization Day earlier this fall when it only registered 25 students.

"I'm quite happy" about the number of students signed up, O'Mera said.

Students living off campus will be able to sign up at a table in the Union this weekend, O'Mera said.

These dates are National Voter Registration Days, O'Mera said.

The senate is encouraging all students to register so they can voice their opinion in November's local election.

Dean search goes on Fourth candidate interviewed

By TERRI BROWN
Staff writer

Conferences is one area of Eastern that could be expanded upon, said an employee of Pennsylvania State University who was interviewed Friday for the position of dean of adult and continuing education.

Barbara A. Copland, director of the adult student center of Pennsylvania State University, was the fourth person interviewed for the position. The last interview will be conducted Tuesday.

"Conferences are as much of continuing education as the credit programs are," Copland said. "Not only would I like to see it continued here, but I'd also like to see some expansion and some innovative ideas."

Copland said she sees some "untapped areas" in businesses, but she would have to evaluate the problem more. "You can't just charge in and say 'this is what will be done.'"

She received her master's degree from the University of Missouri and bachelor's degree from Western Michigan University.

Barbara A. Copland

Since receiving her doctorate in education from Pennsylvania State University in 1980, Copland has worked as a program assistant, area representative and a director for the university.

Copland said one of her duties at Penn State was marketing the continuing education program with brochures, radio, television and company calls. "I would go through the whole array of what we had to offer—academics first, of course. Conferences and similar things are important, but they grow out of the credit program," she said.

When asked about compensation for teaching an overload, Copland said she realized one of the major barriers of getting faculty to teach continuing education is "because it's not built in to reward them. And that's abominable."

faculty members were paid a percentage of their regular salary for teaching an overload. She said a full professor was paid a percentage of a full professor's salary.

Copland said that times are currently changing, and any instituion that won't adjust "will have to suffer the consequences."

"It's our responsibility to serve adults," Copland said. "Forty percent of today's students are 25 or older. And those are increasingly part time."

She said Eastern's smaller size helps this situation because there is a better chance of interacting with the students. "It looks like a very stable institution."

Copland is one of five candidates chosen out of 80 applicants by the search committee to travel to Eastern to be interviewed.

Candidates are interviewed by various academic groups such as Faculty Senate, Council of Academic Affairs and Council of Deans.

Barbara Richter, search committee chair, said it hopes to have its recommendation to Eastern President Rives by Sept. 17. Rives will make the final decision.

The new dean will replace Carol Holden who was director of adult and continuing education for three years. The position was upgraded to a deanship this year.

Tennis court repair funds badly needed

The Board of Governors, Eastern's governing body, is expected to approve Monday Eastern's request for about $105,000 worth of repairs on tennis and basketball courts here.

It is no secret, especially to members of Eastern's tennis teams, that these repairs are greatly needed. The courts behind Weller Hall, which are used in intercollegiate competition by Eastern's tennis teams, should be in much better condition.

If the courts are not repaired soon, they will continue to deteriorate and will eventually become too dangerous to use.

The university has often shown its support for athletic programs through the funding of projects such as the resurfacing of the track and the addition of lighting at O'Brien Stadium. We are happy to see our tennis teams have not been forgotten.

Not only do tennis teams use the courts, but many Eastern students do also.

Outdoor recreation is a vital part of college life for most students. Since the university has recognized the need to provide students with these courts in the first place, we are glad to see that it also recognizes the need to keep them in good condition.

In an article this summer in The Daily Eastern News about the poor condition of the courts, we were quick to point out what we saw as a problem here on campus. We should be just as quick in pointing out when that problem has been taken care of and in acknowledging those involved.

The money is being well spent. The tennis and basketball courts are a part of this university's sport facilities that all students can and should take advantage of.

Correction

In Thursday's paper a sentence in a letter to the editor stated: Roberts' visits to Crossroads and Soweto five years ago do not provide greater stability than Bishop Tutu's position regarding disinvestment. It should have read; Roberts' visits to Crossroads and Soweto five years ago do not provide greater credibility than Bishop Tutu's position regarding disinvestment. Also, Thomas Mihail is a special education instructor not a speech communications professor. The News regrets these errors.

Your turn

Students should register to vote

Editor:

The question has arisen about the old argument of town vs. gown and I would like to address this question.

Are you tired of not having a voice in this town? The one way to put a scare into the city administrators' hearts is to register to vote in Coles County, it is the only way students can get a fair shake in this town.

Let's start a trend of voting in Charleston now so by the time the next mayoral election rolls around students will be used to voting in Charleston elections. Then we will have a serious impact on who next mayor will be.

Student Senate will have tables set up outside all food services on Monday September 15 and Thursday September 18. We will also have tables set up in the Union Semptember 20 - 22. These days also happen to be National Voter Registration Days. Help us reach our goal of 700 students.

Remember, you can't complain if you don't vote.

There are two sides to every issue

In Kevin McDermott's column "Censorship by any other name" (Thursday, Sept 4), I discover that as a result of my having satirized a very silly article in the local newspapers, the editor in chief of The Daily Eastern News has come to perceive me as part of a "sinister side" to the debate on pornography.

True, I recognize, as any informed person must, that much pornography is violent and degrading, and (to borrow a phrase from D.H. Lawrence) "does dirt on sex." Also, I characterized the Report of the President's Commission on Pornography as serious, thoughtful and reasoned. Therefore McDermott suspects me, along with "various spokespersons for the women's movement," of secretly opposing the First Amendment. He directly challenges me to reply, and I am pleased to oblige.

First, I am not a "spokesperson" for feminists, turncoat liberals, or any of my colleagues on campus. I speak as a free-lance thinker, for myself and no one else.

Second, I have read the first thousand pages of the Commission's two-thousand-page report, and intend to finish it when time allows. Though I do not agree with everything it recommends, I believe it deserves the description of "serious, thoughtful, and reasoned." I do not know how much of the report McDermott read before deciding it should be labelled "infamous." Those who wish to base their judgment of the matter on sound evidence need not take sides between his opinion and mine; the report is available in Booth Library.

Since I am neither a part of the religious right, nor an admirer of the present administration in Washington, how did I come to spend so much effort reading this report at all, much less find anything commendable about it? Some such question as this underlies McDermott's statement that my Times-Courier letter is an example of a sinister "unexpected development" among "liberal groups," and I would like to answer it.

When I was an undergraduate studying Victorian literature, John Stuart Mill's great essay "On Liberty" made an indelible impression on my mind. Mill believes that we should never suppress ideas that oppose our own, but give them due consideration. He offers four reasons for doing this:

- First, what we believe on a subject may not be true.
- Second, what we believe to be true may only be partial, while opposing views contain other fragments of the whole truth.
- Third, until we have considered opponents' views, we hold our own views without understanding them, as mere prejudices.
- Fourth, our beliefs degenerate into lip-service and

Personal file:

Peggy Brayfield

habit, if we never consider the reasoning of those who disagree.

Wanting my convictions to be based on as much truth as possible, and not held out of prejudice, mere habit, or conformity to some predetermined "party line," I took Mill's ideas as a guide. Thus the liberal ideas of J.S. Mills lead me to read such things as the opinions of arch-conservative journalist William Buckley, whose views I know to be at an opposite pole from my own on virtually every topic. In the spirit of Mill's "Liberty," I obtained a copy of the report of the Commission on Pornography, despite my strong antipathy for the present administration and for the far right. I was somewhat surprised to find in the report much valuable information, much intelligent analysis, and a great deal of food for thought. Reading McDermott's comments, I wondered if he had read the sections of the report entitled "the Constraints of the First Amendment" and "The Role of Private Action." If not, he should do so and reconsider his word infamous.

My ideas about pornography, its potential for harm, and what, if anything, should be done about it cannot be adequately explained, as McDermott challenged me to do, in the space available here. Briefly, when it comes to the discussion of ideas, I am a free-speech advocate. Ideas may be discussed without resort to obscenity, which is not constitutionally protected speech. However, pornographic pictures are not the discussion of ideas. In fact, they are calculated to stimulate the glands while by-passing the brain, and it is only by doing violence to language that they can be classified as "speech" at all. Further, The question of censorship is not the place to begin any consideration of pornography; first we need to understand a great deal about its nature and effects.

There are few human phenomena so depressing to the spirit as pornography of the violent and degrading sort, but for this very reason, as well as for its social relevance, the issue calls for serious discussion and debate.

I would welcome invitations to make presentations on the subject to classes and other organized groups.

—Peggy Brayfield is an Eastern Illinois University English instructor.

Shooting pictures for the 1987 Warbler yearbook has begun for seniors and sign up for underclassmen pictures begins Monday, said Warbler classes editor Debbie Pippitt.

Pictures will be taken from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, in the Union addition Sullivan and Shelbyville rooms, Pippitt said.

Sign up for pictures will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Union walkway.

Seniors may walk in without signing up, but the Warbler staff prefers that students sign up first, Pippitt said.

Underclassmen may sign up beginning Monday but shooting of their pictures will not begin until Sept. 22.

The last day for seniors' scheduled pictures is Sept. 19. For underclassmen the last day for scheduled appointments will be Oct. 3, Pippitt said.

However, walk ins for seniors and underclassmen will be accepted Oct. 6, through Oct. 9, Pippitt said.

Student teachers and seniors, who have conflicts, may come in from noon to 4 p.m. Saturday, or 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, she said.

Pippitt said seniors must pay $5 while underclassmen pay $4 at the time the pictures are taken. Checks made payable to Yearbook Associates will be accepted.

The Warbler is scheduled for distribution in April, Pippitt said.

New coordinator boasts athletic philosophy

Ball State graduate heads student services admissions program

By ERIC WEDEKING
Staff writer

Student Services has a new motivating force working in its Prescriptive Curriculum Admissions program.

John Coffey, 32, a Ball State graduate and a former counselor at his alma mater, has just begun working with freshmen students in PCAP this semester.

He brings an athletic-type philosophy to his work, along with a humanistic one, which he stresses is necessary to interact well with students.

PCAP has been in existence at Eastern since 1983. The program is designed for incoming freshmen who don't meet admission requirements and educationally deprived students who have the genuine desire to succeed in obtaining a college education.

Students are accepted at Eastern after they successfully take diagnostic tests, attend special laboratories and follow a prescribed academic program set by the assistance center.

Students in the program must enroll in at least six hours of classes and have a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or above for two consecutive semesters before continuing in university studies as regular students.

Coffey, a former student-athlete at Ball State, has a master's degree in speech pathology and audiology from that university. He said there are about 18 students currently in the program.

"As the coordinator at PCAP, I am a firm believer that the student must work to succeed," Coffey said. "I can inspire and motivate, but the student has to work."

He said the PCAP group is diverse. "You could say they are all across the board. High school students who didn't apply themselves, some athletes, late bloomers and people who didn't flat out prepare themselves.

"I know, once being a college athlete, that I have to produce. You can't force them (students) to produce, but I can gain an insight and see them as human and get to know them on a human level," Coffey said.

"The golden rule I go by when helping students in PCAP is that I treat them the way I would want to be treated. I think that is the way people should look at all aspects of life."

Coffey commutes on weekends to Indianapolis where his wife and child currently reside. He is in the process of finding a permanent residence in Charleston.

RHA discusses fall plans after tabling budget talks

By ERIC WEDEKING
Staff writer

Eastern's Residence Hall Association tabled approval of its fall 1986 budget at Thursday's meeting.

RHA bylaws state that members must review the budget for at least one week before it can be approved.

The RHA's fall budget is up for approval with a projected income-expense estimate of $2,429.77.

Mary Smith, assistant director of housing, told the RHA the money was earned through the summer camps and conferences at Eastern. "It was one of our best years to date," she added.

In other business, Cathy Young, homecoming coordinator, told the RHA "more non-Greeks need to get involved in the Spirit Contest for this year's Homecoming."

Young made her presentation to about 45 members attending the RHA meeting.

RHA President Mark Hetzler voiced his support that hall residents should become more involved in Homecoming related events. Homecoming is scheduled for Oct. 11.

However, Hetzler complained that the RHA did not receive a letter of invitation to take part in Homecoming activities until very recently as compared to some Greek organizations that received invitations in July.

Young also said the Homecoming king and queen applications were due last Friday and last minute resident hall hopefuls should have their applications in before the deadline.

In other business, it was announced that computer terminal installation is complete in Stevenson and Taylor halls.

In other reports, Graham Wilkin, fill-in Student Senate representative and Ford Hall president, said there were increased complaints from hall residents about insect infestation in the halls.

Wilkin suggested seeking more than one exterminator for the halls. The issue will be referred to the Housing Office.

Wilkin said hall residents wishing to move off campus should contact Legal Service Adviser Steve Davis for free advice about their housing contracts with the housing office.

In addition, Wilkin said students are now able to register to vote in local, state and national elections at the food services Monday.

Wilkin advised RHA members that they should rally hall residents to register because "students live here nine months out of the year and many things that government does directly affects Eastern students."

In final business, about 30 RHA members traveled to Lake Shelbyville last Saturday and Sunday for a "get acquainted session" for new and old members. Leadership workshops were held and committees drawn up.

Drivers program receives grant

CAM SIMPSON
Staff writer

An $121,656 Illinois Department of Transportation grant, to fund advanced driver education classes, was awarded for Eastern last week.

The classes, meant mostly to train emergency vehicle drivers, is given to Eastern every year with the stipulation of a "minimum goal" for enrollment.

Gregory Piland, a spokesman for the Illinois Department of Transportation said.

Advanced driver education is meant to improve the emergency driving skills for police and ambulance drivers. The course follows an updated General Motors designed curriculum.

Although only meant to cover 75 percent of the total cost, Piland said by reaching the minimum goal for enrollment, the Department of Transportation will match funds by giving each student an "hourly wage."

He said this hourly wage should make up the 25 percent void left by the grant, allowing the state to fund the entire cost of the program.

New restaurant planned uptown

By CHRYSTAL PHILPOTT
City editor

For Coffee Tea, Etc., 1415 Fourth St., the Etc. could stand for another store.

At least it will as soon as co-owners Bill and Arletta Lynn finalize their expansion plans.

Arletta Lynn said the couple is in the process of making arrangements to open a branch of Coffee Tea, Etc., a restaurant, at 501 Seventh St., where the Cricket Cage, a gift and stereo shop once was.

"I am really hoping for the first of November (to open)," she said. "Definitely before Christmas."

The couple hopes, she said, to be finalizing plans and setting the exact opening date in the near future.

"I am already training my manager and some help at this store so that when it's time to open the other store, we'll be ready," she said.

"We've had a lot of positive feedback (from the first store)," Lynn said, explaining the decision to branch out.

The move of other new stores, such as Popcorn Plus and Uptown Audio, to the square in the last year, Arletta Lynn said, was also a major factor in the Lynn's decision to relocate on the square.

"Downtown's really coming alive. It's really starting to move," she said.

Bill Lynn is also an economics instructor at Eastern.

"It (the worm's hair) could be influenced by the summer conditions, which could lead to a certain type of winter, so it could I suppose have some connection," Goodrich said.

"But as far as it being a weather forecaster, I just don't believe it myself," he said.

In order to test the theory, Wise said he conducted an experiment a few years ago in one of his classes.

Students were instructed to collect the worms and then see if they could find a way to confirm or disprove if the worm could predict what the winter weather was going to be like.

Wise said half the worms predicted a hard winter and half predicted a light one.

"At least those woolly worms didn't do too well," he said.

Carman said most of the worms he has seen so far this fall have been light-colored, meaning if the legend holds true, this winter should be a light one.

"We have had a pretty cool September," Wise said, "but I really don't know what the winter will be like. The 90-day forecasts for that period aren't out yet."

Last summer, the project was taken off a list of Build Illinois projects after legislators discovered that $230,000 in Build Illinois planning money hadn't been allocated yet, Woodyard said.

Since then, Rettburg-Gruber architects of Champaign has received the planning money and preliminary plans for the construction of the annex on the north end of the South Quad near Garfield Avenue has been approved.

Woodyard said if the project is approved in next year's budget, construction could begin by fall of 1988.

Armstrong said other, smaller construction and maintenance projects may be submitted as Build Illinois requests.

The Build Illinois project has been "extremely helpful" in getting funding for smaller projects, Armstrong said.

Northern Iowa bottles up Kansas State 17-0

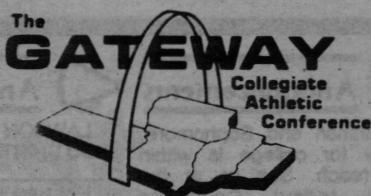

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—Defending Gateway Conference champion Northern Iowa toppled Kansas State of the Big Eight Conference 17-0 Saturday.

The Panthers, 1-0-1, were paced by quarterback Mike Smith's 296 yards passing and a smothering defense that held Kansas State at bay.

Northern Iowa rolled up 445 yards in total offense and 22 first downs.

Western wins

Western Illinois utilized special teams' play to defeat Mankato State 17-13 at Macomb.

Leatherneck Albert Brown returned a kickoff 89 yards for a touchdown to key the Western Illinois win.

The Leathernecks, 1-1, blocked a punt and stopped a late drive to ensure the victory.

Southern rolls

Paced by the play of quarterback Pat King, Southern Illinois pounded Murray State 31-0 at Murray, Ky.

King threw three touchdown passes of 3, 11 and 40 yards to spark the Salukis, 2-1.

Southern Illinois piled up 470 yards in total offense, compared to 278 for Murray State.

The Salukis face Eastern Illinois Saturday in conference action.

ISU tips SW Missouri

Indiana State slipped past Southwest Missouri 14-10 in Gateway Conference action in Terre Haute, Ind.

Freshman quarterback John Smith hit Gary Cannon with a 66-yard touchdown pass in the fourth quarter for the game-winner.

Bream's single keys Pirate win over Cubs

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh Pirates Manager Jim Leyland believes Sid Bream can play every day and that's making Bream a believer, too.

Bream's two-run single highlighted a six-run fifth inning that carried the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 9-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs on Sunday.

"If the manager has confidence, it makes you feel that much better about yourself," Bream said. "I come to the park knowing that I'm going to play and that helps a lot."

"I can only think of about one or two days when Sid's been off track," said Leyland. "He's been consistent all year. It's not easy for a guy in his first full year to bat fourth in the lineup, but he's kept the proper perspective and gone about his business."

With the score tied 1-1, the Pirates sent 12 batters to the plate, loading the bases with Barry Bonds' double and two walks against left-hander Drew Hall, 0-1.

Hall, making his major-league debut, walked Johnny Ray for the go-ahead run and reliever Dave Gumpert hit Jim Morrison with his first pitch to make it 3-1. Bream's single scored two runs, and Junior Ortiz and Rick Reuschel hit RBI singles.

"Hall threw the ball fair," Chicago Manager Gene Michael said. "He was a little wild."

The Pirates added two runs in the eighth on an RBI single by Bobby Bonilla and a sacrifice fly by Ray.

Reuschel, 9-16, worked the first seven innings for the victory.

Augustana victory string stopped after 37 straight

by The Associated Press

Augustana's football team is still unbeaten in three years, but its winning streak has stopped at 37 games in a row.

The Vikings, NCAA Division-III champions the past three seasons, tied Elmhurst College 0-0 Saturday.

"We didn't win. We didn't play well enough to win," said Augustana Coach Bob Reade.

He couldn't pinpoint the problem that caused visiting Augustana to not win its first regular-season game in 50 outings.

"It was a little thing here and a little thing there. In the first game you don't know what to expect, but you cannot make those kinds of mistakes.

"Of course, if we played poorly it may be because they made a happen," Reade told reporters after the game.

Blue Jays Coach Bruce Hoffman, playing at home in the suburb west of Chicago, was elated with his defenders.

"In all my years of coaching, 17 years in college, I've never seen a defense play from the first snap to the last with the hardness, the aggressiveness or the enthusiasm as this one did today," he said.

Worried?

The course syllabus has more in it that you think you can do? Your "snap" class turned out to be the academic version of megawars?

Did the five-day pad give out on the second day? Has the summer romance which was going to glide you through life disappear in the textbook line only to reappear on someone else's arm? Did the money give out even before you made it to drop-adds?

The list of worries for a college student can be longer than Mom's report card speech was in high school! The anxiety closet gets filled with clutter and stress of being a responsible student.

Hang in there! One nice thing about worries is that they change with the passing of time. Another nice thing is that they shrink when you share them with others.

AMCU opens

Boaters settle for 1-1 tie at Green Bay

By DAN VERDUN
Sports editor

GREEN BAY, Wisc.—Eastern escaped from Wisconsin with a 1-1 double-overtime tie with Wisconsin-Green Bay Saturday to open AMCU Conference play. The tie not only dropped the Panthers' record to 2-0-1 but also the spirits of coach Cizo Mosnia. "I feel a little disappointed," Mosnia said. "It was important because it was a conference game." Wisconsin-Green Bay surprised Eastern in the early going by playing a physical, aggressive brand of soccer. "They pressured us and it upset us early," Mosnia said. "It seemed like they beat us to every ball. I'd say they outplayed us in the first half." Wisconsin-Green Bay took advantage of the lackluster Eastern first half by scoring its lone goal of the game. Phoenix midfielder Karl Braun scored on a free kick at point-blank range at the 34:08 mark. Eastern rebounded in the second half to tie the score. Sophomore Curt Elchuk nailed a goal on a shot from about 10 yards out at the 73:02 mark that was set up by freshman Filomeno Megero. "He's (Elchuk) doing very, very well," Mosnia said. "He's been double-marked, pushed, shoved and even punched at."

However, Elchuk's goal was the only score the Panthers could muster despite putting 14 shots on the Wisconsin-Green Bay goal. "We're having problems putting the ball in the net," Mosnia said. Meanwhile, Panther goalie Mark Simpson recorded five saves on the eight Phoenix shots taken on him. "Simpson had another good game in goal for us," Mosnia said. The contest was marred by strong physical play in which seven yellow cards were issued. Eastern also lost Megero to a red card. Consequently, Megero will have to sit out the Panthers' next game because of NCAA rules.

Philly keeps Mets on ice

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Kevin Gross pitched a six-hit shutout and tripled home two runs Sunday as the Philadelphia Phillies beat the New York Mets 6-0 and completed a three-game sweep that prevented the Mets from clinching the National League East championship. The Mets lost for the fifth time in six games. New York still leads the runnerup Phillies by 19 games and needs a combination of two wins or Phillie losses to win their third divisional title and first since 1973. The Mets left carrying the six cases of champagne stored in their dressing room for an expected division-clinching celebration.

schedule—namely last week's California trip. "You really do learn from playing tougher teams," Ralston said. And although the team's record may not reflect progress, the improvement is visible, Ralston said. That's important when the Panthers get to the important matches in the coming Gateway Conference season. "We're trying to go by winning the matches that really count," Ralston said.

Men harriers place third at SIU-E

HARRELL KERKHOFF

EDWARDSVILLE—Eastern's men's cross country team proved it was ready for the 1986 conference season as the Panthers finished a respectable third place in the 13-team Cougar Classic held at SIU-Edwardsville. Southern Indiana won the Classic with a team score of 44. The University of Missouri-Rolla finished second with 50 points while Eastern ended up with 60 points to finish third, four points ahead of fourth-place finisher Western Illinois. Sophomore John Wells led the Panthers, finishing ninth with a time of 24:34. Other top Panther finishers were junior Dan Scheffler, who finished 18th with a time of 26:54; sophomore Bruce Albright, 27th, 33:13; junior Tom Buchanan, 30th, 34:19; junior Brian Wright, 34th, 35:30; and freshman Steve Conlon, 38th, 27:42. Albright's score did not register with Eastern's total team points because he was not one of the Panthers' seven designated runners. Coach Neil Moore said Albright was not one of Eastern's designated runners because he did not figure to finish as well as he did. "Albright was a very pleasant surprise to us," Moore said. "We did not figure he would finish that high. It shows us that we have a lot of depth on this team." Art Waddle, who was running without any team representation, won the meet with a time of 24:57. Moore said he believes Waddle was a graduate student and that was why he was not running for any team. Moore said the course at the Cougar Classic was very tough, with very slippery running conditions. Junior Jim Maton suffered a sprained ankle when he slipped on the course. Maton finished the 8-kilometer race in 60th place. On the whole, Moore was pleased with the performance of the Panther runners and the job assistant coach Tom Akers did preparing the squad. "I thought Tom (Akers) did a good job in getting everybody ready for this meet. He knows our runners real well and got everybody ready," Moore said. "This meet gave us a good idea on who will be going to the Midwest Collegiate Championships next Saturday (at Kenosha, Wisconsin)." Besides Albright, Moore said he was also impressed by the running of Scheffler, Wright and Buchanan. "This meet showed us that we have some depth in case we're hit by injuries that are quite common in cross country. Next week we'll really find out what kind of quality runners we have," Moore said, speaking of the Midwest Collegiate Championships.

Spikers battle way to DePaul championship

By JOHN STROUD
Associate sports editor

Eastern's volleyball team rose to the occasion and proved fatigue not to be a factor in sweeping through the DePaul Invitational undefeated for the tournament title Saturday.

It was a complete turnaround from the Panthers' lackadaisical performance in the same tournament last year when they went winless and saw an 11-3 record slip to the wayside.

Eastern coach Betty Ralston didn't foresee that happening this year as the team entered the tournament 2-8 with losses to three nationally-ranked teams under its belt.

Two of those losses came at the hands of Illinois and Penn State in Lantz Gym last week. And with seven matches in as many days, Ralston was a little concerned that the team might be worn down.

The Panthers, however, proved they were motivated—an indication that a rigorous schedule early in the season might be paying off. And what better time with a 12-day layoff from competition following Monday's 7 p.m. home stand against Toledo.

"After the first match (Friday against Central Michigan) I didn't feel we were in danger of losing any match all weekend," Ralston said. "Winning both matches that night gave us a lot of confidence."

Eastern mowed down Central Michigan 15-17, 15-11, 16-14, 15-10 and DePaul 15-10, 16-14, 15-10 in back-to-back contests Friday.

On Saturday, the Panthers played back Mississippi, a team Eastern has lost to the past two years, with a 15-8, 15-10, 12-15, 15-6 victory. They had little trouble with Marquette in a night match, 15-2, 15-5, 15-12.

Eastern built momentum early against Central Michigan. Down 10-14 in game one, the Panthers served to go ahead 15-14, the last point coming on an ace by senior Pandora Nelis.

Although they lost that game, the Panthers carried the momentum all the way through for the win.

Freshman setter Donna Sicher had four aces, including a game winner in the third game. She also added 24 digs and 22 assists.

"This is the best we've played all year," Sicher said. "We worked together as a team. We just got mentally prepared for it and got our confidence up."

Another plus for the Panthers was the return of sophomore outside hitter Laura Bruce, who had to sit out Thursday against Penn State with a foot injury. She was questionable for the weekend.

"Laura helped," Ralston said. "We were able to stick to the 6-2 (set-up) with her." Eastern had to go back to a 5-1 set-up without her Thursday; a set-up the team has had trouble with.

"The confidence factor was there," Ralston said of the victory. "We had good serving, but our hitting needs to be more aggressive at times."

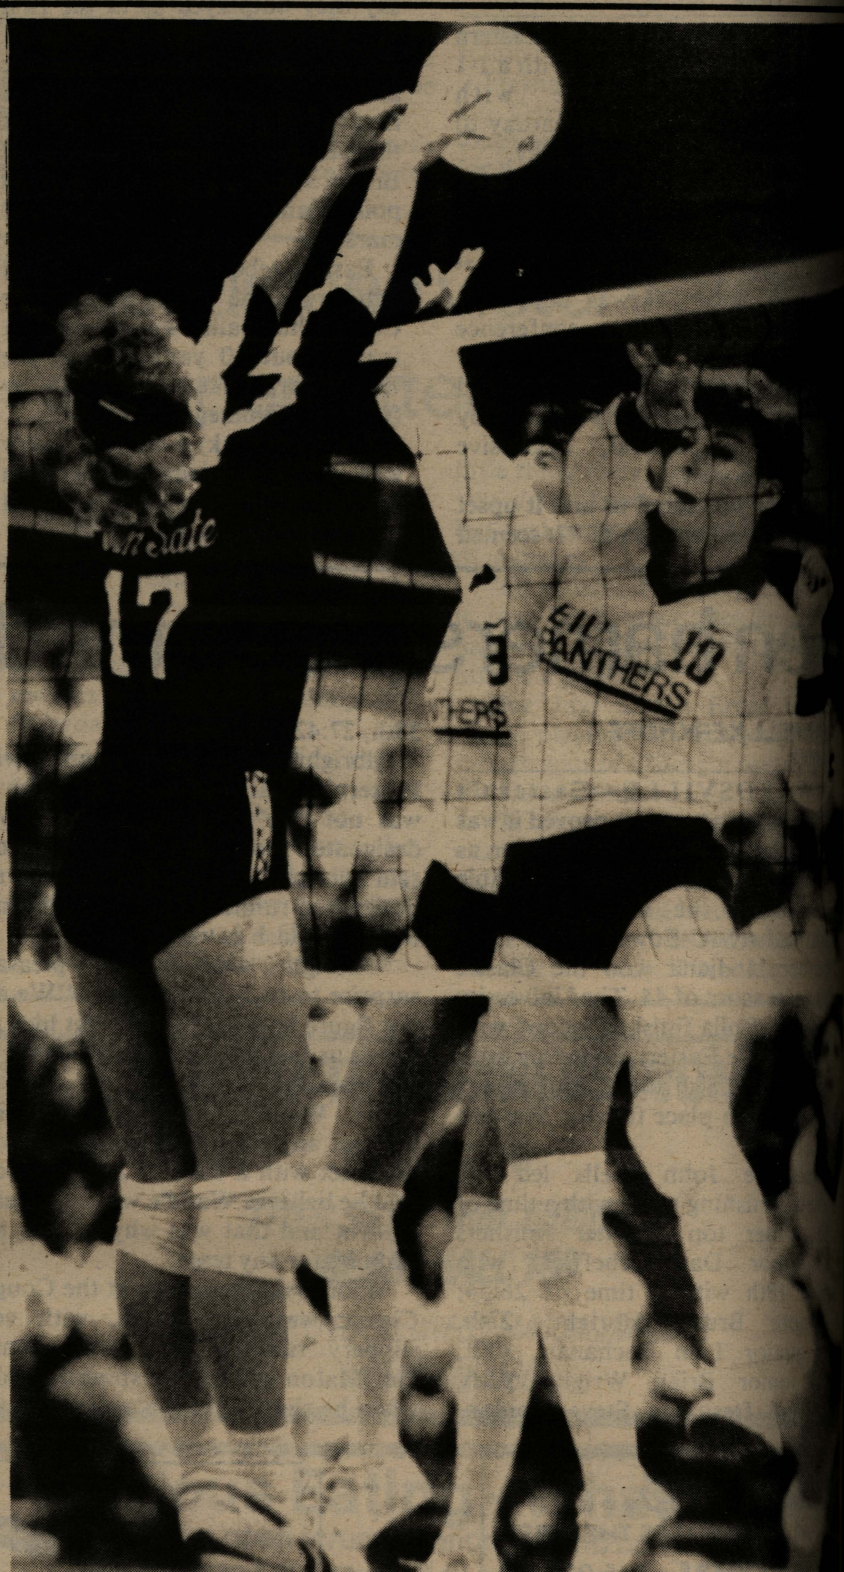

Senior Maura LeFevour led the team in hitting on the weekend with 38 kills on 95 attempts in the four matches. She had percentage highs of .424 against DePaul and .417 against Marquette.

"We had overall team playing," LeFevour said. "We pulled together at crucial moments and came back from losing games to win."

"We went in with a positive attitude and wanted to win," she added.

Eastern erased deficits in all three games against DePaul, including a six-point gap in game two. Down 6-12, Sicher served seven straight points, the last one an ace, to put the Panthers up 13-12. They went on to win 16-14.

Being tough mentally in pressure situations was one area Ralston had stressed before the tournament. She accredits the team's tough play to the experience gained from the rigorous (See SPIKERS, page 11)

Butler kick lifts Bears by Eagles

CHICAGO (AP)—Kevin Butler wanted another shot and Walter Payton made sure he got it Sunday when the Chicago Bears had to go into overtime to subdue the underdog Philadelphia Eagles 13-10.

Butler, who had made one and missed four field-goal attempts in regulation play, booted the winning field goal after Payton had carried six times in the final drive to set up the winning 23-yard kick 5:56 into overtime.

"I wanted another shot. Hopefully, I'll learn from this day," said Butler, who missed on attempts from 38, 52, 37 and 55 yards.

Payton rushed 34 times for 177 yards and scored the Bears' only touchdown on a 1-yard dive. It was his 100th career touchdown.

Payton, the NFL's all-time rusher, surpassed the 15,000-yard plateau in the game and raised his

Panthers drop Northern Michigan 24-21

By DAN VERDUN
Sports editor

MARQUETTE, Mich.—On a day filled with big plays, Eastern survived an upset bid from Division-II Northern Michigan Saturday to post a 24-21 non-conference victory.

The win raised the Panthers' record to 2-1. Northern Michigan fell to 0-3.

"It was a game where we had control of things in the second quarter, but again couldn't put away," Panther coach Al Molde said.

Leading 14-7 midway through the second quarter and driving for an apparent score, the Panthers suddenly had the game reversed on them. Northern Michigan free safety Jerry Woods intercepted a Payton pass and scampered 85 yards for the game-tying touchdown.

"That interception changed the momentum and the whole complexion of the game," Molde said. "It was a huge factor in the game."

"We didn't have the greatest pursuit (on the interception return)," Molde said. "We overran him about three times and then he cut back. We should have had much better hustle (on the play)."

Northern Michigan opened the

for a touchdown at the 11:01 mark of the first quarter.

Eastern bounced back with an 80-yard drive that was capped by a one-yard dive by quarterback Sean Payton.

The Panthers went ahead 14-7 as James Marable, starting in place of the injured DuWayne Pitts, scored from two yards out with 11:33 left in the second quarter.

Marable rushed for 107 yards on 34 carries and caught seven passes for 80 yards on the day.

"Marable was very steady for us," Molde said. "He gave us a good performance. He gave us 187 all-purpose yards."

Northern Michigan took a 21-14 lead at the 10:23 mark of the third quarter as tailback Steve Avery broke off-tackle through a goal-line defense on a third-and-one situation for an 80-yard touchdown run.

However, Eastern safety Darius Shavers got the Panthers back in the game by intercepting a pass at the Northern Michigan 35-yard line.

The Panther offense put Shavers' interception to good use, scoring on a 25-yard field goal by Richard Ehmke to slice the Wildcat lead to 21-17.

"Our defense played pretty well the ball over for us six times in game."

Eastern again reaped the benefit of an interception as strong safety Brounough picked off a Northern Michigan pass at the midfield line early in the fourth period.

The Panther offense then took over driving for what turned out to be a game-winning score. Marable was allowed the Panthers to sustain the drive with key plays on both third and fourth downs.

Eastern capped its drive as Payton hit slotback Calvin Pierce under the goal line for a 13-yard touchdown play with 7:12 to play.

From that point on, Eastern's defense successfully put the clamps on the Northern Michigan offense's bid to establish a scoring drive.

Payton completed 19 of 41 passes for 232 yards. Pierce and Marable were hauled in seven passes for 97 and 6 yards respectively.

"We had some balls that should have been caught," Molde said. "They were right on target and were dropped by our receivers."

Wide out Roy Banks, double-team much of the day by the Wildcat defense, caught just two passes for
