Inquiry of ELU hiring underway

By MATT HORTENSTINE
Staff writer

Eastern will begin an investigation of alleged discriminatory employment practices with a completion date set for March 1, Eastern President Stan Rives said.

Prompted by the U.S. Labor Department's threat of withdrawing federal contracts and grants, Rives told the Board of Governors Thursday that efforts to investigate the issue are underway.

Discrimination complaints from three minority former civil service employees also played a role in prompting Rives' investigation.

The complaints were filed by three black men: Gregory Beard, Anthony Madison and James Anyando, who were hired as part of a provisional hiring program established by Eastern.

"We're obviously concerned about the issue and I have been asked to make an in-depth report," Rives said.

He said that the office of Affirmative Action will undertake the investigation and he expects an objective report.

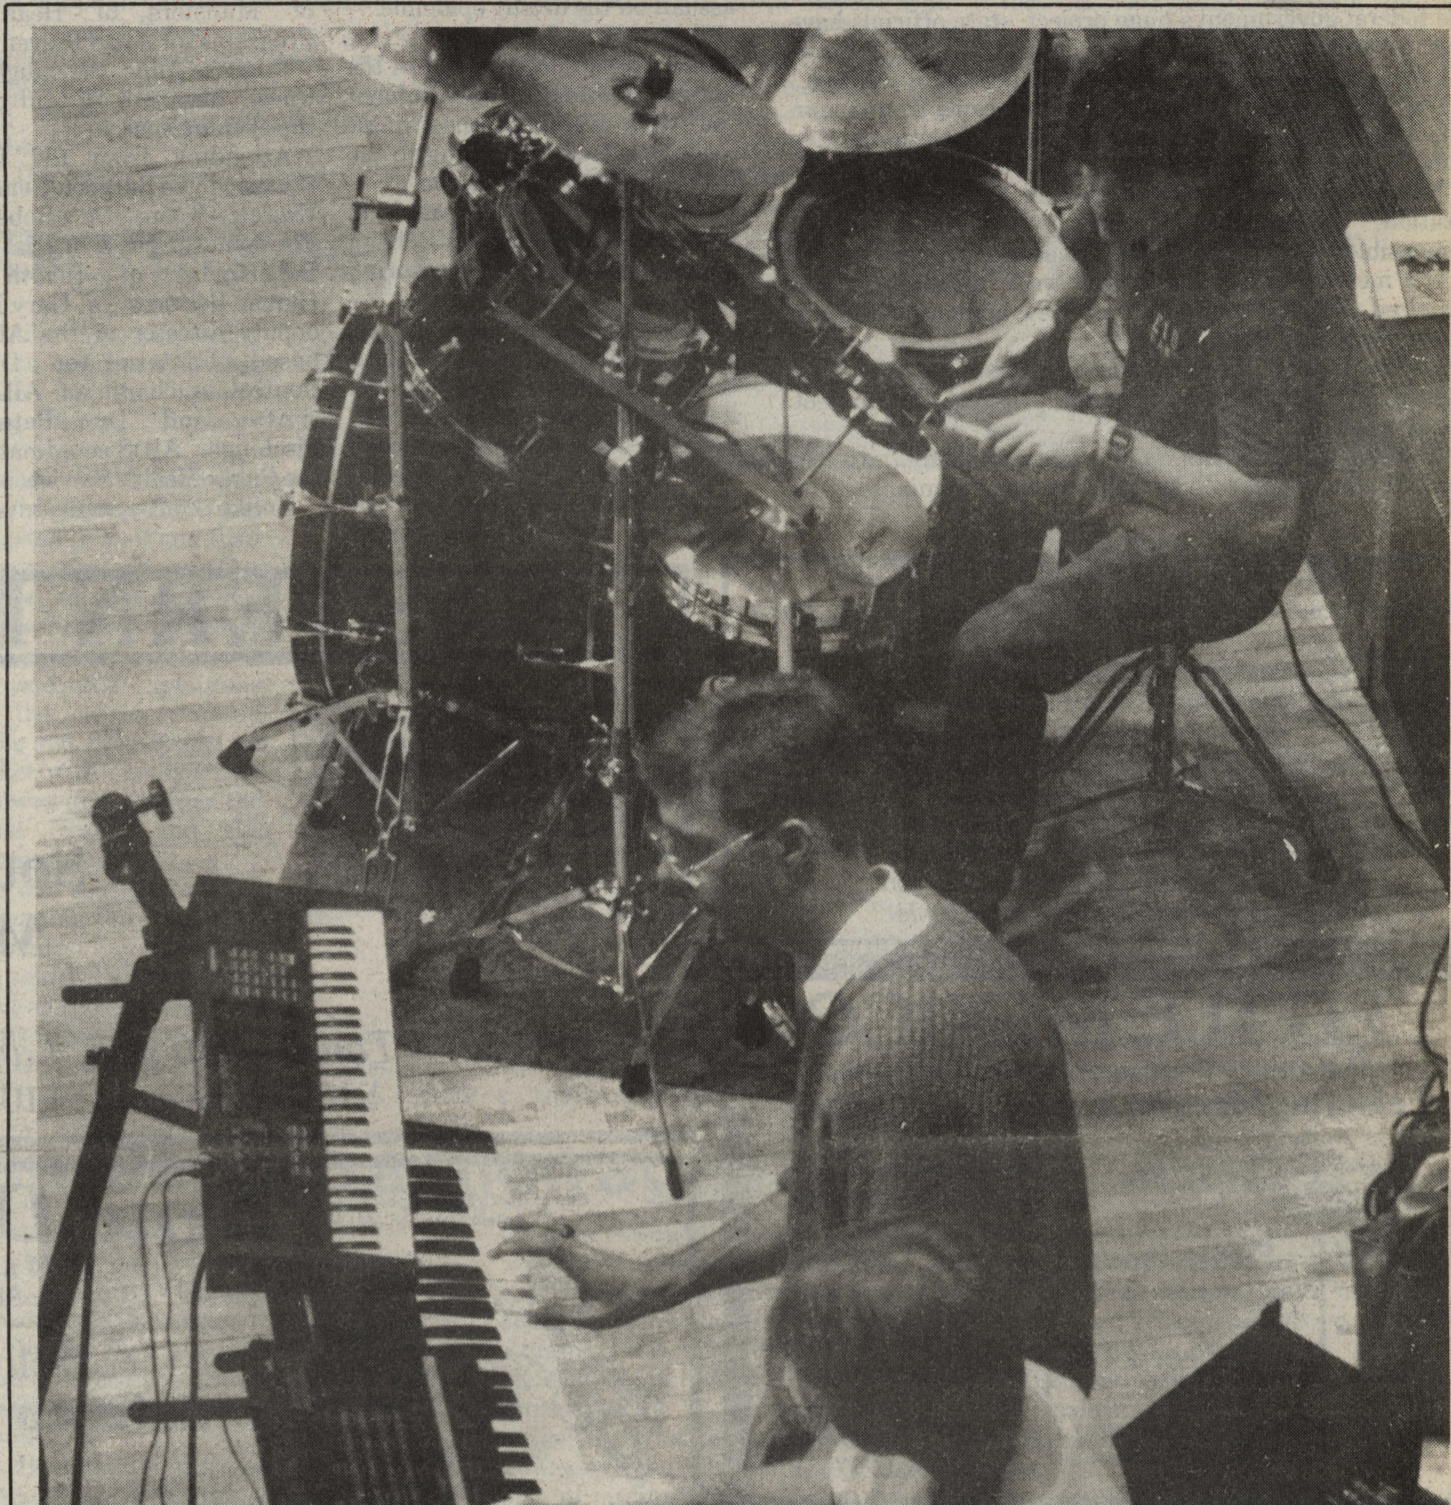

"Our objective is to increase the employment of minorities and women at this institution," he said.

Rives added that he will not comment on the issue until the report is finished.

Affirmative Action Director Judith Anderson confirmed Sunday that the investigation has started.

U.S. Labor Department officials have said that Eastern has 60 days after official notification to complete its investigation, after which the labor department will step in.

If violations are found and Eastern fails to comply with federal mandates to correct the problem, federal contracts and grants could be withdrawn.

No change expected in funding for education

By MATT HORTENSTINE
Staff writer

Eastern President Stan Rives doesn't expect a change in Gov. James R. Thompson's higher education spending plan, adding there isn't enough state money to support it yet.

"The question in any budget is a question of priorities," Rives said. "And state support for education, as measured in total dollars and in percentage of the total budget, is down."

"I simply don't see a change in that trend," he said.

Rives said that Illinois Board of Higher Education's Fiscal Year 1989 budget of $1.8 billion will probably not get Thompson's approval without a marked increase in state revenues.

"That will require an income tax increase similar to the one the governor called for last year," he said.

Rives indicated that he supports such an increase in the income tax to support increased funding for education and other state-supported services.

He complained that education staff and faculty were the only state employed people not to receive a pay increase last year.

"The priority for education should be a lot higher," he said. "But I remain an optimist."

On a brighter note, Rives said the Lumpkin College of Business Coleman Hall annexation to Coleman Hall is the third highest project on the IBHE priority list.

However several of Eastern's requested capital projects for FY '89 were rejected by the Board of Governors, Eastern's governing body, and not included in its recommendation to the IBHE.

Of the $15.5 million originally requested for capital projects, only $8.8 million was approved by the BOG. These projects still must pass both the governor and the Illinois General Assembly before they materialize.

In addition, Rives confirmed a Friday news release which stated that freshman applications for the 1988 fall semester have been cut off because they are up 46.7 percent.

Neighboring 'Greek Rows' give insight to Eastern idea

By AMBER GRIMES
Staff writer

Bowling Green State University and Southern Illinois University at Carbondale both have something Eastern wants—a "Greek Court."

The project could come one step closer to reality when Eastern officials meet with Eastern fraternities later this week to discuss details of the

on-campus greek housing.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Union addition Casey Room.

Eastern President Stan Rives and several other Eastern officials visited several campuses last year to determine the feasibility of such on-campus greek housing.

Bowling Green, located in Bowling Green, Ohio, has three "Greek Rows" on its campus—"Old Fraternity Row," "New Fraternity Row" and "Sorority Row." Southern has one "Greek Row." These projects are equivalent to Eastern's proposed "Greek Court."

Although residents of the "Greek Rows" at Bowling Green and Southern had mixed feelings about the projects, most believed the positive aspects outweighed the negative ones.

One of the main reasons cited for approval of the project was convenience.

"The house is owned by the university, so there's no worries," said Tracy Greul, president of the Chi Omega sorority at Bowling Green. "If an appliance breaks down, they take care of it right away."

"By being on campus we're very oriented," said Doug

Haren, house manager of Lambda Chi Alpha at Bowling Green. "Also, we're close to campus and classes."

"I like it, we're centrally located, we have easy access to the library, recreation center and classes," said Brian Farmer, treasurer for Zeta Beta Theta at Bowling Green.

Supercollider prompts questions

KANEVILLE—The supercollider's impact on microwave ovens, jobs and changing the community are on residents' minds as they ponder the proposed $6 billion atom smasher that Illinois wants to be built in their backyard.

With Illinois among the finalists of the states bidding for the federal government's huge project, state officials have been organizing meetings with people who live in the area Illinois is promoting for the site, 50 miles west of Chicago.

The first question at a recent meeting came from a man who asked, "Who do I talk to to organize opposition to this thing?"

"The state does not have a manual for organizing opposition," replied Don Etchison, the Illinois official responsible for trying to get the project built here.

At a meeting in St. Charles last week, questioners who criticized the project and its cost drew applause from the crowd of about 200 residents.

But the loudest response was in support of Dick Van Bopaert, 57, who talked of the job prospects the project would create.

"I worked for 22 years for the same company until last Aug. 31 when I was told my job was being eliminated," he said.

Representatives of 145 countries to gather for London AIDS summit

LONDON (AP)—Health officials from 145 countries are gathering in London this week for a world AIDS summit at which they will plan a global assault on the deadly epidemic.

The three-day conference, which opens Tuesday, will be the largest meeting of government ministers ever held on a single health problem, according to the World Health Organization.

The U.N. agency, based in Geneva, and the British government are co-sponsoring the event.

"The conference, we believe, is going to mark another critical turning point in the global mobilization against AIDS," Dr. Jonathan Mann, the American director of WHO's Special Program on AIDS, said in an interview with The Associated Press.

Health ministers from 131 countries and government advisers from 14 others have registered for the World Summit of Ministers of Health on Programs for AIDS Prevention.

Princess Anne, the daughter of Queen Elizabeth II, will deliver the opening speech.

Attending from the United States will be Surgeon General C. Everett Koop; Dr. Robert E. Windom, the No. 2 official at the Department of Health and Human Services; Dr. Gary Noble, deputy director of the Atlanta-based Centers for Disease Control in charge of AIDS activity; and Dr. Peter J. Fischinger, AIDS coordinator for the Public Health Service.

Unlike conferences involving medical experts working on vaccines and treatments for AIDS, this summit deals mainly with government efforts to control the spread of acquired immune deficiency syndrome.

Its stated aims are:

•To present WHO guidelines for AIDS prevention and control and consider how they can be used as part of a global strategy.

•To provide an update on the global AIDS situation, including its social and economic impact.

•To review national policies for slowing the spread of AIDS, with emphasis on public education campaigns.

Since AIDS was first identified in 1981, the disease has spread throughout the world, with the number of reported cases doubling roughly each year.

'Telifund' helps raise donations from alumni

TERRY RYAN
Staff writer

Nearly $1 million was donated to Eastern in 1986 by alumni, students and corporations through annual givings, said Development Director Charles Ross.

Last year the alumni donated $18,000 compared to $214,000 the year before. The reason for the increase is that more alumni were asked to donate, said Audrey Dumentat, director of annual givings.

The Foundation instituted a new way of getting contributions from alumni called the Telifund.

Through the Telifund representatives of the six colleges (Applied Sciences, Arts and Sciences, Education, Business, Fine Arts and Health, Physical Education and Recreation) call their alumni and ask for donations.

"The EIU Foundation was created in 1953, but it has only been since late 1984 that a professional staff has been in charge of the Foundation," Ross noted.

Dumentat said Telifund "adds a personal touch to the fundraiser."

The Foundation also sends out an annual mailing in early December that asks the schools' alumni to give money, said University Relations Director Daniel Thornburgh.

Another fundraiser being used by the Foundation is the 10th Decade campaign that is trying to raise $5 million in five years, from 1984 to 1989, said Thornburgh, who is also the Foundation's executive officer.

Another plan is to help get new books for Booth Library. "An appeal to all alumni is being sent out to donate $10 to the library in which the donor would receive his name on a book plate on a book in the library," Thornburgh said.

Ninety percent of the money brought in by the Foundation is in the form of "restricted dollars," which is money that has been designated for a specific area by the donor, he said.

Many of these restricted dollars go into scholarship funds, some go to academic programs, some go to student life-enrichment programs and some go to athletic programs.

Color-coded signs keep skating safe on campus

MICHELLE ZAWIN
Staff writer

Two red and green safety signs have been posted on the edges of the campus pond to let interested iceskaters know if the ice is suitable for skating.

The colored signs can be seen from Fourth Street so you will not have to walk all the way up to the pond," said grounds superintendent John Collins.

The red "Danger No Skating Allowed" signs are to warn people there are not proper ice conditions for skating and the green "Yes, Skating Allowed" signs let people know the ice is safe, he said.

In the past there was no official policy for ice skating, although the Physical Plant did test the ice for safety, Collins said.

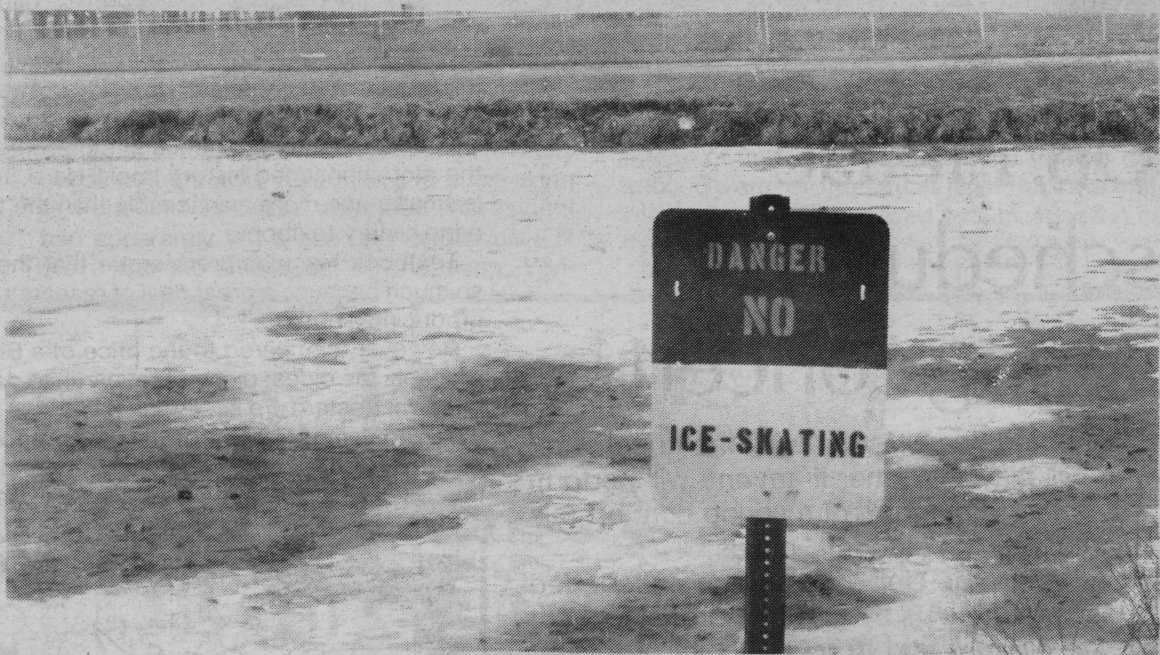

He said that holes are drilled in the ice to test the thickness of the ice, but that several other conditions determine how safe it is.

"It depends on the condition of the ice," Collins said. "If the ice has started to melt and then it refreezes, we add another two inches to the previous thickness we were using before it is safe."

Collins said other conditions affecting the ice safety would include the age, because the ice gets weaker with age; whether it has snowed and whether the snow has frozen; and the outside temperature.

The ice will be tested once a day, depending on the temperature, once it has frozen.

Collins said vehicles will not be allowed on the ice because of an incident fifteen years ago in which a tractor fell through the ice.

Signs like the one pictured, located at the campus pond, advise skaters if there are proper skating conditions. These safety signs, colored red for danger or green for safe, are visible from Fourth Street.

Stolen sandwich leads to action against Jimmy John's

RUSSELL STARE
Government editor

The theft of a submarine sandwich Thursday night prompted an Eastern student to take action against Jimmy John's Gourmet Subs, 1417 Fourth St., by trying to organize a group to boycott the establishment.

Sophomore Valerie Speciale tried to organize Students Against Jimmy John's because she said she was tired of getting ripped off and not getting my food."

Jimmy John's Owner Jim Liautaud, 24, said the woman's unrest was the result of a theft from one of his drivers.

In the last several weeks Liautaud said several of the delivery vehicles were broken into and the sandwiches stolen.

He noted there are no records of what orders are delivered except the order slip attached to the bag.

When a theft occurs, Liautaud said the drivers must return to the store and wait for the customer to call about the order. When Speciale called to inquire about her sandwich, Liautaud said the situation was explained to her but Speciale did not wish to have her order replaced.

Speciale ran a Campus Clip in Thursday's edition of The News to inform interested students of the "organizational rush" held at 8 p.m. in the Video Lounge of the University Union.

Speciale did not attend the meeting. However, a representative of Jimmy John's and a member of the press were present.

Liautaud said; "We're not Supermen. We make mistakes."

"I was not concerned" over the meeting, he added.

Liautaud owns stores in Elgin, which is the location of the central office, Macomb, Champaign and Charleston.

UB, Please schedule a spring concert

As spring semester sets in, the question of who will play, or rather if anyone will perform at Eastern in the form of a spring concert this year, is fresh on students' minds.

Last year, the University Board succeeded in disappointing us by failing to provide an act for the concert and from the looks of things, this year may not prove any different.

Editorial

As in past years, the UB has been throwing around big name bands such as The Kinks and INXS, only to tell us later that these bands have unexpectedly changed their touring schedules. The excuses sound all too familiar to those used last year when the now popular R.E.M. was among bands being considered by the concert committee.

Since the concert committee's function is to provide entertaining concerts to students by using student fees, it should be safe to assume it would strive to make the biggest concert of the year an attractive one to Eastern students. It should be even more apparent that this committee would at least provide such a concert.

We should not have to beg for a spring concert, however in light of last year's flop, we believe we must. Please UB, give us a spring concert.

Eastern students deserve the same quality entertainment the university has attracted in the past when top name bands such as "The Fixx" and "John Cafferty and the Beaver Brown Band" performed to enthusiastic crowds.

The UB consistently attracts big name bands for Parent's Weekend, such as Chuck Berry, Bob Hope and Frankie Avalon. Although "1964" is a popular band, there are a few other bands in this country:

The committee has already completed the traditional survey of students to determine what type of concert would be most attractive to the Eastern community.

The committee should use this survey for the purpose it was intended for—to book an act which will please the students the UB was designed to work for.

February is rapidly approaching, we hope the UB concert committee will use this month wisely, so we can once again enjoy a spring concert.

Letter policy

The Daily Eastern News welcomes letters to the editor from any reader.

A dollar is a terrible thing to waste

A stack of paper does not cost much, about $3.59 for 500 sheets.

Add some words to a sheet of it and the value begins to go up. Put a masthead on several sheets, call it a newspaper and a person can ask as much as 50 cents for it.

Cover a large number of these with hard cover and the price shoots through the roof.

While it costs about $20 to bind a book, the price of the words printed on a book's pages can demand a very high price. Just ask any person who has had to purchase a textbook from Eastern's Textbook Library.

A history book commands a price of about $40. A set of accounting reference books, paperback mind you, will set a budding accountant back almost $100.

With these figures in mind, walk around the corner to the nearest bookstore and do a little browsing.

A copy of a Tom Wolfe novel runs under $5, tells a little about history and is much more entertaining than the aforementioned history book. Here, too, the book is smaller and more manageable than the typical zillion-page history textbook.

Textbook manufacturers argue that the books cost so much because a great deal of research is involved in producing a book.

However, compared to the price of a Bible, which is probably the oldest piece of research to date, textbook prices at Eastern are sinful.

A King James version of the Good Book runs about $19.95. And, get this, it is leather bound. In addition, this $19.95 book has convenient references in the margin explaining what is printed.

What a novel idea. A textbook with explanations in the margin. A typical book here only has "Julie Robbie" in the margin and the little "TLA" symbol which of course stands for "true love always," on adjacent page.

Eastern students are lucky because they can find the textbooks. But students rue the day a book can be found and the book has to be purchased.

It is also interesting to note that a student who was to read a textbook over, lets say, Christmas break, charged rather stiff late fees.

While $2 per book may not sound like much, many libraries charge one nickle per day and take weeks and holidays into consideration when determining penalty.

At a public library the normal penalty would be a mere more than $1 to have a book over Christmas break, mere pittance compared to a whopping $2 per book.

All these numbers may sound like gobbledygook, but it shows that education costs. And a large chunk of these costs are because of the high price of books which are the backbone of any learning institution.

Education can be greatly enhanced and accessible to the masses if only the cost of books were reduced. It doesn't seem to make sense to pay $30 for a hard cover textbook when a leather-bound book costs as much at another bookstore.

The money saved from finding a less expensive source for books could be given to the instructors, who deserve it more than the book manufacturers.

With the effectiveness of the American education system coming under heavy fire, why not spend money, on books at least, and encourage students to read? After all, a dollar is a terrible thing to waste.

Your turn

UPI election process a complicated issue

Editor:

Your editorial in Friday's Daily Eastern News treated a decertification election as though it would pit United Professionals of Illinois against some other faculty union. This is not the case. UPI, an affiliate of the American Federation of Teachers, which represents faculty in the five-campus Board of Governors bargaining unit, is the only faculty union on this campus.

The petition which the Faculty Senate has been asked to circulate would, if signed by 30 percent of the entire bargaining unit, result in a decertification election. Such an election would be conducted by the Illinois Educational Labor Relations Board and the vote would be on whether faculty want to continue to be represented by UPI or whether they do not want to be represented by a union.

Even though the petition mentions the option of making Eastern's faculty a bargaining unit separate from the rest of the BOG, this issue is a red herring. Under Illinois' collective bargaining law, bargaining units are established by the IELRB. Changing the definition of a bargaining unit cannot be decided by faculty vote, nor can a request for such a change be initiated by a faculty petition. Decertification of UPI would eliminate collective bargaining in the five BOG universities. For faculty at one university to then negotiate with their campus administration would have to involve a lengthy recertification process, during which faculty would not be represented by any union.

The editorial correctly points out the legislature's failure to adequately fund higher education could start an exodus of talented junior faculty from Eastern and quality of instruction would suffer. To blame UPI for the mistakes the state legislature is making is ludicrous. UPI worked harder than any other group to prevent those mistakes. UPI conducted a vigorous political action campaign last spring and last fall UPI sponsored a mass rally on the steps of the State Capitol in support of better funding of higher education. We are the only group in higher education that lobbies every year for better funding of higher education.

Guest doctor to speak on PMS in Rathskeller

By BETH CARLSON
Staff writer

A workshop entitled "PMS-How does it affect you?" will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Rathskeller balcony.

Dr. Kathleen LeVeck, from the department of Link Clinic, will be giving information on the medical aspects of premenstrual syndrome, said Counselor Claudia Lane from the Counseling Center.

"It (PMS) is a medical disorder," Lane said.

"We have to let people know that it is treatable," she added.

PMS is caused by a chemical imbalance of hormones which controls the menstrual cycle. The imbalance triggers a variety of symptoms, Lane said.

Speakers will also discuss their personal experiences with PMS, and how they worked through them.

"It (the workshop) will also look at how PMS affects the family—the husband and the children. We want to educate partners and children in trying to deal with PMS," Lane said.

Lane will cover the psychological and emotional behavior behind PMS.

Paula Kirk, coordinator of the PMS Awareness Center at Link Clinic, and Garrett Kirk, an ultrasonographer in the Charleston area, will also be speaking at the workshop.

Lane said that considerable progress has been made in making people aware of PMS.

"It is a reality for a large percentage of women. Hopefully one day, people will realize that PMS is as real as diabetes," Lane said.

"One out of every three to five women experience some degree of PMS," she added.

Southern Illinois University at Carbondale greek chapters agree with those at Bowling Green that the development of a "Greek Row" is beneficial.

"We have a close association with the fraternities on the row and on campus," said Allen Goembel, president of Delta Chi at Southern. "It's like a huge family, everyone knows everyone else. If something needs to get done, it gets done. There's always someone around to do it."

"I think its definitely a good idea, it adds something to the college experience. You become close to a lot of people."

Sonya Gibbs, Panhellenic delegate for Delta Zeta at Southern, said the closeness comes from having a small project.

"The rules and regulations for parties are pretty reasonable," said Steve Howe, Zeta Beta Theta vice president. "We have a lot of freedom."

The only bad thing is being dictated to by the university," said Haren. "There are strict rules enforced by the university."

"Another problem is that there is a lack of clear identity," said Telios, a four-year resident of Bowling Green's "New Fraternity Row." "The chapters get lost. Its hard to tell which chapter they are and where they are located. University housing on university land with university regulations might not be to every chapter's best interest."

"One drawback is that the house is small," said Greul of the Chi Omega unit. "We have 108 members, but only 21 can live here at the house."

Guest flutist to perform at Dvorak

By KIM MIKUS
Activities editor

Max Schoenfeld, professor of flute at Illinois State University in Bloomington, will perform a guest artist recital at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Dvorak Concert Hall.

"It is important to bring other guest artists" to campus for students to learn from, said Eastern Flute Instructor Tim Lane.

Schoenfeld, who has taught at ISU for the past 17 years, has a distinguished career as a performer and teacher, Lane said.

Schoenfeld "graduated from the Manhattan School of Music in New York" and has taught at Oberlin, a well known music school in Ohio, Lane said.

He has performed extensively in New York City with the New Orleans Philharmonic. Lane added that Schoenfeld is currently the principle flutist with the Illinois Chamber Orchestra and the Springfield Symphony.

"He (Schoenfeld) is a very good flutist," Lane said.

Lane said this is the kind of man he wants his students to see perform.

"The music business can be very competitive and we need these type of people," Lane said.

Accompanying Schoenfeld on the recital will be pianist Julian Dawson.

Dawson joined the ISU music faculty in 1975, following a four-year term as associate conductor of the Scottish National Orchestra and chorus master of the Glyndebourne Opera.

Schoenfeld will also conduct a "master class" on Monday, Lane said.

In this class, students will not only have the chance to listen to Schoenfeld, but also to play for him. The students then will have the opportunity to learn from Schoenfeld's comments.

"Everybody has different strengths and weaknesses and he (Schoenfeld) will show them (students) their strengths and weaknesses," Lane said.

Men's swim team drops two weekend meets

By GARY LARSEN
Staff writer

Eastern's men's swim team dropped two meets over the weekend, losing to Bradley by a score of 110-94 at Lantz Pool on Friday, and then traveling to the University of Missouri-Rolla for a meet on Saturday, where they lost 104-81.

The meet against Bradley went much as Eastern coach,

Ray Padovan had predicted. "It was a fairly close meet throughout," Padovan said. "We won and lost a few races by only a tenth of a second. What made the difference in the meet were the first and second place finishes they (Bradley) posted in both the 200 I.M. and the 100-meter freestyle."

Notable times against

Bradley included a personal best for junior Lance Krall in the 1,000-meter freestyle, clocking in at 10:29.2. Also notable were junior Brian Weaver in the 100-meter freestyle with a time of 51:7, and senior Tim Schnittker in the 200-meter breaststroke with a time of 2:13.3.

When Eastern's men traveled to Missouri-Rolla on Saturday, they went there with much less than a full team. "We had to leave some people home due to ROTC commitments, an injury, an accident, various reasons," Padovan said.

"We had planned on going down there in a crowded van and ended up with plenty of room," Padovan said.

As a result, Eastern had no entries in the 200-meter fly, and UMR enjoyed some free points.

Padovan said junior Jay Hunt was impressive against UMR with a time of 4:58 in the 500-meter freestyle. It was the first time Hunt had swam the event, and Padovan praised his success in it.

Tim Schnittker also posted his season's best in the 200-meter breaststroke, at 2:12.7.

Lady

buttons." Along with Mull's double-double performance, the Lady Panthers were led by sophomore guard Barb Perkes (19 points), junior forward Lisa Tyler (16 points and 12 rebounds), junior guard Sheryl Bonsett and freshman forward Stacy Frierdich (13 points each) and senior forward Ann Brown (11 rebounds).

"Coach told us that 'if you don't play defense, you won't play.' We can go pretty deep on our bench and we knew Illinois State couldn't," Tyler said.

With all four teams at the halfway point of the Gateway slate, Hilke knows her team will have to play consistently if they want to garner the league crown.

BRENT FEENEY
Staff writer

Eastern's men's track team won their first scoring meet of the season Saturday afternoon as they comfortably defeated the Northeast Missouri State, Missouri Baptist of St. Louis, Florissant Valley Community College of St. Louis.

The Panthers scored 77 points to SEMO's 45 points, Missouri Baptist's 35 and Flo Valley's 5.

"The score speaks for itself," Eastern Coach Neil Moore said. "The guys proved their toughness today. They showed that they have plenty of character and that they're fighters."

Moore pointed to sophomore Fred Neal and senior Jim Maton as his squad's best performers on the day. "Fred and Jim did really well today," Moore said. "They had really good efforts today, and they both looked good."

"We trained hard all week for this," Moore said. "Our ultimate goals are the AMCU and NCAA indoor championships. I'd like to win all of our meets on the way to them, but if we have to sacrifice them for our main goals, we will."

Neal won the 400 meter run with a time of 49.32 seconds and anchored the winning team in the mile relay, which covered the distance in 3:22.28

Maton was nipped at the wire in the mile run, finishing second in 4:10.73, but won going away in the 800 meters, winning in a time of 1:52.96.

Eastern swept the top three places in the 35-pound weight throw, senior Jeff Genarelli winning with a throw of 45-2. Freshman Mike Ford was second with a toss of 40-1/2, while sophomore Brad Alewelt was third at 34-10.

Genarelli also won the shot put with a throw of 52-1-1/2, while Alewelt was second with a put of 41-9-3/4. Junior Mike Giesler was third with a toss of 40-3-1/2.

Senior Darren Barber won the 55-meter hurdles with a time of 7.65 seconds. Junior Robert Flot was third with a time of 7.72, while sophomore Don Glover was fourth at 8.05 seconds.

Junior Derrick Lee was runner-up in the long jump, leaping 23-8-1/2, while junior Tim Gately was fourth at 22-5-1/2 and Barber was fifth with 21-8-1/2.

sophomore Mike Rodell were 2-3-4 in the pole vault, all with jumps of 14 feet.

Sophomore Scott Stecken won the high jump with a leap of 6-8, while freshman Dan Steele was fifth in the 400 meters with a time of 50.54. Junior Al Oaks was fourth in the 800 meters at 1:56.79.

In the 200 meters, Hegggs was third with a time of 22.18, while junior John Wells was fifth in the 5,000 meters with a clocking of 15:29.32.

Lee was second in the triple jump, going 46-10-1/2, while Eastern won the two-mile relay with a time of 8:12.17.

Women's track team takes fifth at Purdue Invitational

MIKE FITZGERALD

Eastern's women's track team finished fifth in a seven team field with 45 points in the Purdue University Invitational Saturday despite a record-setting performance from junior Lorry Plutz.

Plutz captured first place in the 400-meter dash with a new Eastern record time of 57.11 seconds. She also finished second in the 200-meter dash with a time of 25.78.

The host Boilermakers captured first place in the meet with 161 points. Southern Illinois took second with 92. Michigan State finished third with 84 points while Western Illinois finished fourth

The Panthers also received some fine performances from senior Tracy Olawumi who took second in the 500-meter dash with a time of 1:17.40.

Olawumi also ran the lead on the mile relay team that took fourth place with a time of 4:03.10.

Tina Dawson finished fifth in the high jump with a leap of 5-foot-4 inches. Freshman Laurie Mizener took fifth in the 3000-meter with a time of 10:42.

Esta Saverson and Dawson finished fifth and sixth respectively in the long jump. Saverson jumped 16-foot-7 inches while Dawson jumped 15-foot-10 inches. Willella McKinney finished sixth in the 55-meter dash with a time of 7.54.

Wilander takes a 3rd Australian Open

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Hometown hero Pat Cash was hoping to turn the Australian Open tennis championships into a national celebration. But Mats Wilander spoiled the party.

The 23-year-old Swede downed Cash in a marathon five-set final Sunday to win his third Australian Open. Wilander said he has worked hard to improve his game since losing the French and U.S. Open finals to Ivan Lendl last year.

"I couldn't have won this match six or seven months ago," he said following his 6-3, 6-7 (3-7), 3-6, 6-1, 8-6 victory in the rain-interrupted match. "I feel a lot stronger, particularly with my serve."

It was the fifth Grand Slam title for Wilander, who has also won two French Opens. And it was the fifth straight time the Swedes have won the Australian Open.

Teverbaugh (167 pounds) finished in fifth.

Not only did the Panthers come away with the crown, Campbell came away with the meet's Most Valuable Wrestler award, and Tyler won the most pins award with four falls in a total time of eight minutes.

"Campbell getting the most valuable award was tremendous," McCausland said. "He was in the toughest weight class in the tournament, and he wasn't one of the seeded wrestlers. It was great to see."

Another highlight of the tournament was Simcox's victory in the 158 title bout over Johnny Nimmo, the defending NAIA national champion at that class.

"The guys are coming together as a team," McCausland said. "It will help as the season winds down."

Panthers fall into AMCU-8 basement with 71-67 loss

By DAVID LINDQUIST
Staff writer

After the smoke cleared Saturday night at Lantz Gym, Eastern's basketball team found itself on the short end of a 71-67 score and in the basement of the AMCU conference with a 0-3 league record.

Wisconsin-Green Bay, now 11-4 overall and 3-0 in conference play, slipped by the home team in front of 6,318 fans, the season's largest crowd and the fourth biggest Lantz crowd ever.

"You have to win at home," said Eastern Coach Rick Samuels. The Panthers won their first seven home contests, all non-conference games.

But including Jan. 16's 69-68 loss to Illinois Chicago, Eastern has dropped both of their league games in Lantz and now has an 8-7 season record.

Emotions ran high late in the contest, with fireworks commencing when a technical foul was called on Eastern's bench following a Panther timeout with 3:55 left.

Referee Dan Korvas signaled the technical after Green Bay had taken the floor and Eastern was still in their huddle.

"I wish I knew what it was for," Samuels said. "The explanation to me was that we took too long. I don't recall a warning."

"I was trying to prevent the coach from going into a delay of game," Korvas said. "He said something unsportsman-like, so I game him the technical."

Green Bay guard Frank Nardi hit both free throws following the technical to give the Phoenix a 55-46 lead.

Soon after, Korvas called a timeout and had a police officer placed on the first row of the east bleachers.

"I thought the fans had to be warned, that's why I put the policeman over there," Korvas said. "Some of the fans were actually on the floor and they were becoming a danger to the game."

A third incident occurred when Korvas called timeout with less than two-and-a-half minutes remaining to have a floor conference with captains Nardi and Eastern guard Norm Evans.

"He said if anything beyond a usual foul was made, a technical would be called," Nardi said. "The play was physical all game and was nearing getting out of hand."

Samuels expressed concern about the conference, as Panther forward Tony Hemphill was about to shoot free throws when Korvas called time.

"The official was icing our free throw shooter, there are better times to talk to the captains," Samuels said. "I don't think he handled it correctly."

The Panthers made a run at Green Bay during that time, cutting an 11-point Phoenix lead at 3:52 to the four-point final deficit.

"Looking at the tempo of the game, Green Bay did what they do well," Samuels said. "Nardi showed he could shoot from the outside."

The senior hit four of four three-point attempts and led the Phoenix with 23 points.

The Panthers were led in scoring by junior guard Jay Taylor, who scored 22, and Hemphill, who added 12.

Lady Panthers pound ISU 81-61; obtain share of lead in Gateway

By BARRY BOTTINO
Sports editor

The more things change, the more things stay the same.

And for Barbara Hilke and the Eastern women's basketball team, that adage held true Saturday.

Going into the Lady Panthers 81-61 win over Illinois State Saturday evening at Lantz Gym, Hilke found her team in a two-way tie for second place in the Gateway Conference with Southern Illinois.

And after the Lady Panthers' decisive win and a 77-73 loss by co-leader Indiana State in Carbondale, the four aforementioned teams were back to where they started on Thursday—in a four-way tie for first.

their record to 11-5 overall with the 20-point win.

"The schedule doesn't favor us," said Hilke, whom along with Southern Coach Cindy Scott have to play the three remaining co-leaders (all 7-2 in league play) on the road.

"Against Indiana State (an 86-76 loss), we didn't play good defense and we had some offensive breakdowns," said sophomore center Laura Mull, who scored 18 points and grabbed 10 rebounds.

"After that loss we all felt we knew what we needed to do," Mull said. "But our defense was the key."

"I'm elated," said Hilke, "because our kids really dug down and played defense. We played a man-to-man defense for 40 minutes at full speed. And Illinois State probed all the supposed weaknesses in our defense."

The Lady Panthers outscored the Redbirds 47-32 in the second half after holding a five-point advantage at the half and were bolstered by five players in scoring double figures and three players in rebounding double figures.

With Eastern up 34-33 with 18:43 remaining, the Lady Panthers reeled off a 12-4 run that put them up by nine.

Eastern quietly built the lead to 13 with 5:24 left when they pulled off a 10-4 spurt to push the lead to 19 with just over two minutes remaining.

"We just took the ball at them and made their defense make choices," Hilke said. "We pushed all the right

Grapplers whip SIU-Edwardsville to capture 1st at SMS

Going into this weekend's Southwest Missouri State Invitational wrestling tournament, Eastern Coach Ralph McCausland was emphasizing wrestling as a team in order to do well.

Saying the team did well was an understatement.

The Panthers won the tournament, scoring 126½ points to defending NCAA Division II national champion Southern Illinois-Edwardsville's 107¾. Illinois State was third with 92¾, while Wisconsin-Parkside was fourth with 77 points.

Defending National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics national champion Central State (Oklahoma) finished fifth with 73¾ points, while Augustana of South Dakota was sixth at 68 points.

In seventh place was the host SMSU team with 61½ points while Central Missouri State was eighth (37½) and Fort Hays State of Kansas was ninth (32¾).

The Panthers placed eight of 10 wrestlers in the meet, with three firsts, two seconds, two thirds and a fifth.
