In an attempt to try and salvage some of the snow which fell over the weekend, someone made a snowman mixed with grass and other foliage. This Eastern version of 'Frosty' was erected on the archery field south of Lantz Gym. (News photo by Vince Schroeder)

Mattoon stores strict with carding policies

by H. E. Meeker

Mattoon retail stores selling liquor maintain strict carding policies, four store managers who were contacted Sunday said.

The store managers said they have not received any complaints from city authorities citing liquor sales to minors.

Mattoon Police Chief Raymond Senteney said, "As long as they (retail stores) follow city and state ordinances, there is no problem."

Senteney said he has not received any complaints concerning lax carding policies in Mattoon retail stores which have liquor licenses.

The Charleston City Council is considering amending a 1959 municipal ordinance which prohibits grocery and drug stores from selling alcoholic beverages. Some council members believe amending the ordinance may make it easier for minors to purchase alcoholic beverages in Charleston.

In Mattoon, grocery and drug stores may sell alcoholic beverages under different licenses, Janis Strater, Mattoon city clerk, said.

Under a D-1 liquor license, beer, wine and hard liquor may be sold, but a separate sales area with a separate entrance and exit is required in the store, Strater said.

Under a D-2 license, only beer and wine may be sold, she added. No separate liquor storage area or sales counter is required under this license.

Carl Kolpin, Osco Drug manager, 222 E. Broadway, said the store "stresses" carding.

"This policy is an ongoing thing. I know we are tight on carding policies," Kolpin said.

Osco Drug has a D-1 liquor license. Employees are required to ask for a driver's license or two documents proving the customer's birthdate, he said.

He added that Osco has not received any complaints from the Mattoon police for selling to minors by mistake.

Jeff De Leng, store manager for Walgreen's, 700 E. Broadway, said it would be very difficult for underage drinkers to acquire alcoholic beverages there because Walgreen employees card everyone.

"Anyone who's under age isn't going to be served. We require two IDs if the situation is suspect. About the only way they (minors) could get liquor here would be if they have two fake IDs," De Leng said.

Walgreen has a D-1 liquor license and all liquor sales are made at a separate counter "set off from the rest of the store," De Leng said.

An assistant store manager for IGA Foodliner, 1512 Lake Land Boulevard, said, "We are real strict on carding policies. We like it to be known that we're strict."

The store has a D-2 license and usually requires one ID for liquor customers, he said.

Bob Carper, assistant manager for Wareco Service Station, 1820 Moultrie, said store employees card anyone who appears to be under 30 years of age and require at least one ID with a photo.

Carper said Wareco sells beer and added there have been no problems concerning sales to minors.

Honors program courses, awards available for entering fall freshmen

by Nancy Bridges

Eastern honors scholarships will be awarded to qualifying students for fall semester 1983, honors council chairman Douglas DiBianco said Friday.

To be eligible to receive an honors scholarship, a student must be a freshman entering Eastern for the first time and must be admitted to the honors program, DiBianco said.

Honors program director Herbert Lasky said he expects most students to apply for admission to the honors program and for the scholarship at the same time.

The honors scholarship application must be submitted to the honors council by April 1 and requires the student to write an essay in 300 words or less about a book which has influenced him in the last year, Lasky said.

"We want to see how well they can write," he added.

The applicant must also submit one recommendation from a high school official, as well as information on his high school grade point average, work experience and extra-curricular activities, Lasky said.

The honors council will review the scholarship applications and decide who will receive the grants, Lasky said.

The number and amount of the awards will depend upon the funds available, DiBianco said.

All students who apply for the scholarship will be notified, regardless of whether or not they are granted an award, Lasky added.

Lasky said application forms have been sent to Illinois high schools and can also be obtained directly from him.

In addition, faculty and departments are presently being encouraged to propose honors courses and departmental programs, because "we want to give people (students) as broad a selection as possible," DiBianco said.

About 20 different honors courses and two departmental honors programs have already been approved by the Council on Academic Affairs this year.

The university honors courses were designed as enriched general education classes, while the departmental programs were designed to provide opportunities for elevated upper-division course work, DiBianco said.

To create a university honors course, existing courses are modified to include more writing, a broader range of subject matter and more in-depth study, he said.

Departmental honors programs, such as the CAA-approved programs in German and psychology, consist of 12 credit hours and must include a thesis, independent study and a seminar, DiBianco said.

Other departmental programs are presently being developed, DiBianco said.

Five honors courses per semester were offered in the university honors program during fall semester 1982 and spring semester 1983, DiBianco said.

Although the possibility of offering honors courses during the summer term has not yet been discussed by the honors council, approximately 10 honors courses per semester will be offered beginning next fall, DiBianco said.

Those honors courses already offered and those currently in progress "seem to be working out fine," DiBianco said.

City requests study of cable finances

by Michael Kuo

Although City Commissioner Clancy Pfeiffer told the Charleston city council in December that he was receiving numerous complaints from citizens experiencing poor cable television reception, it is unclear whether better cable service is in sight.

The council passed a resolution asking Liberty Cable TV, 726 Fourth St., the city's only operating cable franchise, to make financial records available for inspection in order to determine whether Liberty recently has spent money to improve cable services. The council threatened to grant another cable franchise in Charleston if Liberty does not comply with the resolution.

A year earlier, Liberty was granted a $2 rate increase by the council. Pfeiffer said Liberty representatives had promised to use the new revenues to improve their aging system.

"Since then, they've added smaller outlets in Kansas, Westfield and Ashmore...some citizens have been rumoring that they're using the money (from the rate hike) to make additions," Pfeiffer said.

He added Liberty Cable has a Feb. 1 deadline to comply with the council's request to open its books.

But Liberty manager Ivan Holsapple said, "Nobody told me there was a deadline."

However, Holsapple said he has notified officials at Liberty Communications in Eugene, Oregon to prepare the Charleston outlet's records and send them to Illinois.

Court upholds abortion ruling

SPRINGFIELD—A grand jury's demand that a Chicago abortion clinic operator disclose names of his patients does not violate doctor-patient confidentiality, the Illinois Supreme Court ruled Monday.

In a case weighing individual privacy rights against the investigative powers of a grand jury, the justices came down on the side of the government's right to investigate.

Writing for the majority, Justice Thomas Moran said "any intrusion" on the privacy rights of the women resulting from the information being turned over to a grand jury would be "minimal."

Pope enacts new Church code

VATICAN CITY—Pope John Paul II signs and promulgates a revised code of canon law Tuesday that will affect the life of every Roman Catholic from birth to death.

The document, the first overall revision of the church's legal code in 66 years, is 25 percent shorter, simpler and stresses policy flexibility for local bishops.

The Rev. Raymond L. Burke, a U.S. canon law expert, said the revised code "draws together practical reflections of the life of the Church." He said the code is not an entirely new set of regulations but rather a compilation of the innovations and changes already put into practice in recent years.

Poison threatens water supplies

NEW ORLEANS—National Guard troops hauled water in tank trucks to three towns Monday as copycat cyanide threats at public waterworks left more than 115,000 Louisiana residents without tapwater.

No poison has been detected in any of the incidents, but state officials said they could neither halt nor ignore the apparent prank calls from people claiming the water supplies had been contaminated.

State police spokesman Ronnie Jones said law officers were powerless to halt the calls.

Dorfman murder weapon found

CHICAGO—Police Monday recovered what might be the pistol used to gun down millionaire insurance man Allen M. Dorfman last week along with two stolen license plates from a getaway car used in the gangland-style slaying.

Police said a custodian found a .22-caliber pistol with a silencer loosely attached and the plates in a garbage can at St. Cornelius Scholl on the city's Northwest Side.

Opec emergency meeting fails

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—An emergency OPEC meeting collapsed Monday in disagreement over production quotas—a failure that could force down oil prices and prolong a world-wide glut.

OPEC did not change its base price of $34 per barrel, several ministers said.

"We could not agree on anything at all," said Mana Saeed Oteiba, the oil minister of the United Arab Emirates.

Some oil ministers said there was a consensus that the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries drop its overall production ceiling by 1 million barrels daily to 17.5 million, about the current level of production by the 13 OPEC members. But Oteiba and Saudi Arabian Oil Minister Ahmed Zaki Yamani said there was no agreement on any point.

Yamani said the meeting was "a complete failure."

The possibility was left open that Saudi Arabia could carry out its implied threat to reduce its price if there was no agreement, which could touch off a series of price cuts around the world and undermine OPEC's already eroding power over prices.

International bankers fear that a sudden and large drop in prices could lead to default on billions of dollars of loans to countries such as Mexico and Venezuela which depend on oil sales for national income.

Mexico exports 1.5 million barrels a day, so every price drop of $1 would cost Mexico $1.5

Stocks take sharp drop

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took its sharpest drop in three months Monday, faced with worries about the oil-price outlook and rising interest rates.

Analysts said the latest market depressant was word that OPEC oil ministers had ended an emergency meeting without settling their pricing disputes.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials fell 22.81 to 1,030.17 for its biggest one-day drop since it tumbled a near-record 36.33 points last Oct. 25. In the last two sessions, the average has lost more than 40 points.

The continuing discord among members of the Organization of Petroleum Countries came at a time when Wall Street was already unsettled by rising open-market interest rates. Prices of long-term government bonds, which move in the opposite direction from interest rates, added to their losses of late with some modest declines Monday.

million a day at a time when the country is struggling through its worst economic crisis and trying to pay off an $80 billion foreign debt.

Other economists say it also would mean an improvement of conditions for importing nations, such as Brazil.

It also would mean lower prices for gasoline and other products made from crude oil.

Federal cuts hurt local services

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal budget cuts could cost state and local governments $57 billion by fiscal 1984 and already have forced sharp reductions in services, according to a "State of the States" assessment issued Monday by public employee unions.

The AFL-CIO Public Employee Department and the American Federation of Government Employees told a news conference they would lobby intensively in Congress to thwart any new efforts by President Reagan to slash spending on a wide array of social programs.

"Our report details a significant and substantial decline in public services at the state and local level due to present policies," Gerald

F. McEntee, president of the 1.4 million-member AFSCME, told a news conference.

"The report also shows that President Reagan's de facto 'new federalism' program has in fact placed responsibility for a broad range of social and human service programs on the states," McEntee said, "But his budget has left the states without the resources to do the job."

The study, basing its conclusions on a June 1982 congressional budget resolution, said states and local governments would lose another $24.5 billion in fiscal 1984, which begins next Oct. 1.

Board names outstanding senior

The Union Board recently named student senator Therese Lang outstanding senior of the year.

Denise Turk, University Union promotions coordinator, said Lang was chosen in December from a field of 33 students who were nominated by student organizations or faculty members.

Resumes from 28 applicants were received by the board, she added.

Nominees' resumes were evaluated in seven different categories by a panel of faculty and students, Turk added.

Lang received the highest rating in the categories of academic achievement, leadership positions, campus honors, campus employment experience and involvement in extracurricular and community programs.

The panel, selected by the Union Board, interviewed five finalists for consideration as award recipients, Turk added.

Lang will be honored on plaque placed in the Union naming her outstanding senior for 1983, Turk added.

Economic situation stalls student activities' move

by Fred Zwicky

Plans to move the Student Activities Office to the former Paul Sargent Art Gallery in the Union basement have been stalled due to Eastern's economic situation, Union Area Head Bill Clark said Thursday.

A recent cut of $489,000 in Eastern's fiscal year 1983 budget forced the delay of the move, although it was originally scheduled to be completed by last fall.

"Money has been appropriated for the changeover to offices in the gallery, but since this summer, we did not feel it would be advisable to bring outside electricians and carpenters to the payroll when the university is faced with its current economic situation," Clark said.

"I think the overall economic situation of the university would have to improve or other considerations come up before we consider the move again. Right now it's on a holding pattern and nothing's happening," he said.

However, Clark added the vacant gallery space is currently being used.

"We are effectively using the gallery right now as a conference room," Clark noted.

The cost of the project was originally estimated at $30,000. An additional $20,000 was later allocated so a chairlift for the handicapped could be installed.

Currently, the Student Activities Office is located on the second floor of the Union addition.

After the move takes place, the offices for student government, the University Board, the Residence Hall Association, the Black Student Union and the Interfraternity, Panhellenic and National Panhellenic councils will be located in the Union basement.

In addition, a general conference room and a UB workroom will be constructed when the project gets underway.

Master of hypnotism to perform

by Sharon Bray

Eastern students, faculty and area residents will be mesmerized and hypnotized Tuesday by the talent of a University Board-sponsored act.

Gil Eagles, master of hypnotism and extrasensory perception, will demonstrate "basically hypnotism, with a little bit of ESP," UB Adviser Denise Turk said.

UB Special Event Coordinator Carol Poppeck said Eagles, billed as the "world's fastest hypnotist," will hypnotize 12 people during his performance, adding that he will also give some of the subjects post-hypnotic suggestions.

The ESP part of the act is done by covering his eyes with cotton and half dollars, Turk said.

Poppeck said Eagles will be doing "teasers" from 5-6 p.m. in Stevenson, Taylor and Thomas halls. Poppeck said Eagles will demonstrate some ESP by telling some people what their name is, how old they are, what their social security number is and what they like.

Turk said, "The hypnotists are very popular. We had a hypnotist here last year and we had to turn students away because we couldn't get them all in the (University Union) Ballroom."

The hypnotist will perform at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Union Grand Ballroom. Admission is $1.25 for students with valid ID's and $2 for the public.

Remember this?

Feb. 1, 1982 was a day to remember. Eastern closed its doors that day after 16 inches of snow buried Charleston. Before we all grow too nostalgic missing clean white snow and glistening icicles this winter, we thought we'd offer this look at the winter storm that hit town a year ago. Remember traipsing to Bob's Liquors for beer and schnapps, being snowbound with only one can of soup and huge February heating bills. But most of all, remember how much fun the unexpected vacation was.

Your turn

Fat: a Midwest tradition

Editor:

After reading Ed Sotor's letter in the Jan. 20 edition of The Daily Eastern News, my friend and I were moved to write this letter.

Both of us have recently moved here from the West Coast. To say the least, we are shocked by the overabundance of heavy females residing on this campus. Could there be some truth about the correlation between corn growing states and female weight problems?

Or is it, in fact, a midwestern tradition that college women disregard their appearance in favor of more congenial personalities?

We have found, with great satisfaction, that women in this part of the country possess a second helping of genuine character. But, by the same token, many do not hesitate to allow this spirit to carry over into their dietary habits.

Why do so many women here at Eastern, while possessing beauty, intelligence and depth give so little attention to their physical perspectives?

Metabolic disorders aside, and no offense intended, why are some of you chicks so fat? We will be looking for some excuses from some of you "corpulent cuties" in upcoming editions of "Your Turn."

Support: key win factor

Editor:

The Eastern men's basketball victory over Western Illinois University on Saturday was indeed the most exciting game for the Panthers so far this year.

It was a great feeling to see the team come out and play with such intensity and do the things that were necessary for a hard-fought victory.

But the most exciting part of the game was the fact that with the crowd that was on hand, there was actually some noise and support in Lantz Gymnasium.

I will agree that it is hard to give total support to a 3-12 team, and this was proven by the empty seats that were still available. But Saturday night, the fans saw a team that played better than its overall record shows and that deserves more respect than it has attained this year.

The Eastern Panthers are a young, talented and promising team. There is no doubt that they are going to win many games in the future, and Lantz Gymnasium will be filled once again.

Being a graduating senior, I regret not being here the next two or three years, because there will definitely be some excitement for the students of Eastern during basketball season.

At this point, support is the key factor, as the Panthers continue to improve. With this support, the numbers at the games will increase, and Lantz Gym will be silent no more.

Hats off to those who showed their enthusiasm and support on Saturday and best of luck to the Panthers for the remainder of the season and for years to come.

Open forum to investigate eating disorder problems

by Melinda Wilson

An open forum concerning anorexia and bulimia will be held to build student understanding of eating disorders.

Counselor Genie Lenihan said she and Bud Sanders, counseling center director, will conduct the forum sponsored by the counseling center.

Both counselors have worked with Charleston area clients suffering from anorexia and bulimia for the last two years "with encouraging success," she said.

A video-taped recording of a Phil Donohue television program which dealt with the problems of eating disorders will also be featured, Lenihan said.

"People with anorexia or bulimia often feel isolated, but in reality the problems are very common. That's what we are trying to do—let them know that they are not alone," Lenihan said.

"Eating disorders are not medical problems, but a psychological disorder that most medical doctors don't diagnose properly," Lenihan said.

However, bulimics, who are obsessed "with the idea of (being) thin, do not restrain their food intake. They often rid themselves of food through means such as vomiting," she added.

The forum is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Rathskeller in the University Union.

U.S.-Soviet affairs documented

U.S.-Soviet relations will be the topic Tuesday of a one-hour documentary titled "George Kennan: A Critical Voice."

Wolfgang Schlauch of the history department said Kennan, a former American ambassador to Russia, was influential in shaping U.S. foreign policy after World War II by developing the concept of containment.

In the documentary, Kennan, who is also a historian and professor, discusses the Yalta Conference and the division of Germany and Europe, Schlauch said. He added that Kennan will also focus on present peace movements in Europe and nuclear-freeze arguments in the United States.

Kennan also proposes a nuclear-freeze zone for Northern and Central Europe and rejects the first use of nuclear weapons, Schlauch said.

The presentation, sponsored by the History Club, will begin at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Coleman Lecture Hall. The club will conduct questions afterward.

Domino's Pizza files complaint

A complaint has been filed by Domino's Pizza, 611 Seventh St., against the man who stole a Domino's delivery car Saturday, a Charleston police official said Monday.

Charleston Police Detective Ken Belleau said, "The person who went for a joy ride in the car is an Eastern student, but we cannot reveal his name until the state's attorney files charges."

Belleau said the state's attorney will file final charges after the Charleston Police Department finishes its report.

The car was stolen at midnight

Saturday between Carman Hall and Regency Apartments after its driver, Domino's employee Andre Clark, had left the car to chase "these guys that were throwing snowballs at the car and almost made me have an accident."

Clark flagged down a passing Charleston police car and the police then recovered the stolen vehicle and apprehended the driver.

The arresting police officer, Sgt. Elmer Black, was not available for comment Monday.

Evaluation survey heads agenda

The Faculty Senate Tuesday will discuss a survey taken concerning student-teacher evaluations, Faculty Senate Chairman Jeffrey Lynch said.

The student-faculty evaluation survey was conducted by School of Education Dean Frank Lutz, Lynch

Faculty Senate to hold election for committee

by Keith Clark

The Faculty Senate will be conducting its election for the Academic Program Review Committee Thursday in the Union lobby.

Faculty Senate Election Committee Chairman Richard Goodrick announced the nominations for the election at last Tuesday's Faculty Senate meeting.

The election was the result of a request from Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs Stanley Rives asking the senate to form the seven-member committee.

The committee will meet only if an academic program is under consideration for elimination and if a faculty member may lose his job as a result of the elimination.

The nominations from the School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation are Kathleen Doyle, J.W. Sanders and William Smith.

Nominees from the School of Business include Leonard Meyer and Jerome Rooke and nominees from the School of Fine Arts are Mary Ann Bialek, Clarence Blanchette and Cary Knoop.

Beverly Miller and Donald Rogers are nominees from the School of Education, also representing Booth Library, and Wayne Coleman and Joyce Crouse are nominees representing the School of Home Economics and the industrial technology department.

The School of Arts and Sciences was split into two different sections, with nominees from the first group being H. Edward Brazil and Donald Garner and nominees from the second being James Stratton and William Weiler.

One representative and one alternate will be elected from each set of nominations, with only faculty members designated as negotiated faculty eligible to participate in the election.

Voting will take place in the Union lobby Thursday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and absentee ballots are due on Wednesday.

said.

Last semester, the validity of student-teacher evaluations was discussed by the Faculty Senate.

The survey discussed the reliability and validity of whether students should be required to sign the evaluation forms, Lynch said.

The survey was a result of a Faculty Senate request to Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs Stanley Rives.

In other business, the Faculty Senate will discuss minor bylaw revisions in an attempt to make Faculty Senate elections run more smoothly.

These revisions include stating more clearly where the senate gets alternate candidates, Lynch said.

Also, Lynch said the Faculty Senate budget will be discussed so members know where and why budget cuts were made.

The Faculty Senate will meet at 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Union addition Martinsville Room.

If you're tying the knot it pays to know the ropes.

It's kind of ironic, getting engaged is one of the most emotional and sentimental times of your life. But one of the first things you have to do is spend a large amount of money in an area with which you are probably rather unfamiliar: diamond rings.

That's where S.A. Peck comes in. We've been in the business of importing diamonds and designing them into beautiful engagement and wedding rings for over 50 years. With this kind of experience, our knowledgeable gemologists can steer you through the confusing world of diamonds and settings, and help you pick the right one for you.

Once that's done, we ease your mind even more by selling you that ring for a saving of up to 50% less than what you'd pay for the same ring elsewhere.

Send for our free 44 page catalog, full of over 300 color pictures of wedding and engagement rings, all available at up to 50% saving. It'll get those knots out of your stomach fast!

'Jimmy John' brings new sub shop to town

by Mike Dominick

Eighteen-year-old entrepreneur Jim Liautaud, who arrived in Charleston about two weeks ago, has already opened his own business.

Jimmy John's Sub Shop became the newest addition to Charleston's restaurants when it opened Jan. 10.

Liautaud, a 1982 graduate of Cary-Grove High School in Cary, Ill. said he always wanted to open a restaurant and found that Charleston was the perfect location.

"The whole atmosphere around Charleston is just great," Liautaud said.

"I always wanted to open up a hot dog stand, but I was not able to come up with the money necessary, so I did some research and decided on sub sandwiches," he said.

When he decided to open a sub station, Liautaud said he "went to different college campuses to experience other sub stations. I took the best of each of the subs I tasted and developed what I believe to be the four best subs anywhere."

"The reason we only make four subs is that we want to make the best for people and we can get that way by making a limited number of subs," Liautaud said.

Liautaud said he plans to enroll at Eastern next fall as either a finance or business management major.

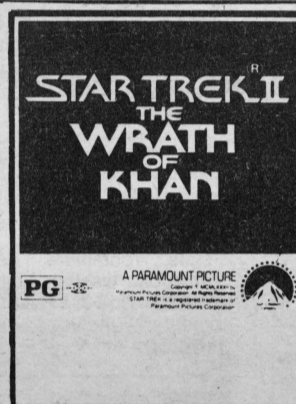

"After I graduate I plan to open up another restaurant some place, but I will keep Jimmy John's open," Liautaud said.

Tod Willman, an employee at the restaurant, said, "Jimmy John's bakes their own bread daily so it is always fresh. Everything we put in our sandwiches is always fresh. We never serve anything bad."

Liautaud noted, "I work 70 hours a week now, but I know it is necessary if I'm ever going to make it in this business."

He added his parents' reaction to his business venture was mixed.

Jimmy John's, located at 1417 Fourth St, is open from 11 a.m. to 2 a.m. seven days a week.

bit. If we can convert on those turnovers, we may be able to get the jump we need on them offensively," Hilke said.

Hilke said she plans to go to a running game more often than she has in previous games to keep Bradley in check.

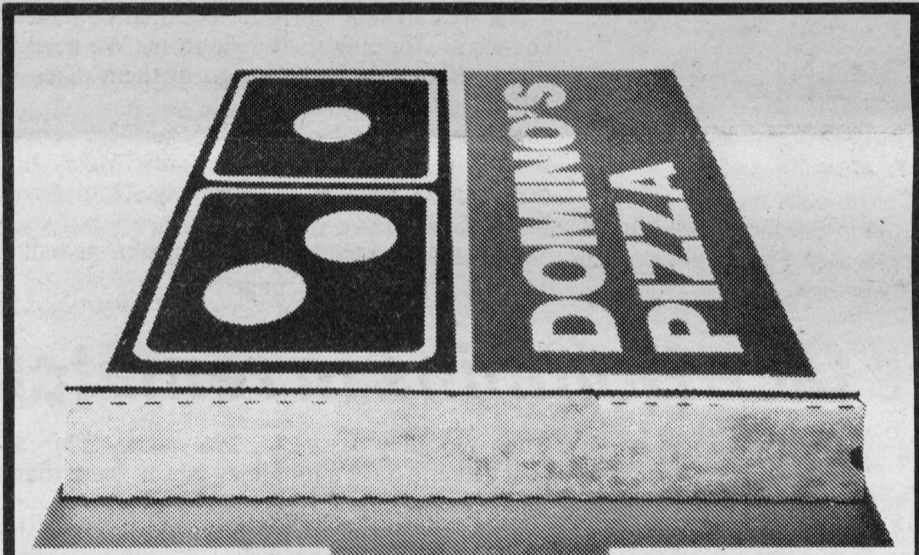

"We need to score quickly on them and the run will enable us to do that if we can use it effectively," Hilke said.

Conine and Melanie Hatfield will start at the two guard slots, with Kathy Center and Toni Collins starting in the forward positions. Sue Hynd will start at center as a result of an ankle injury Darla Farthing, who is out indefinitely, Hilke said.

Farthing injured her right ankle during a scramble for the ball in Saturday's Panther victory over Western Illinois. Last year Farthing had trouble with that ankle and earlier this season she suffered a stress fracture in her left ankle.

She will not be the only usual starter sitting out Tuesday's action, as Nancy Kassebaum, Eastern's All-American guard, will remain sidelined with a strained knee.

Bradley enters Tuesday's contest with an 0-2 mark in the GCAC after dropping its last game to Indiana State, a team Eastern (2-1 in the league) defeated earlier in the season 81-74. Both Brave conference losses have come at the hands of the Sycamores.

Conference clash

Lady Panthers to face Braves

by Kathy Leahy

Eastern's women cagers' defense will be challenged Tuesday when the Lady Panthers face Bradley University and the nation's sixth-ranked scoring offense in Peoria.

Eastern (13-3), which has lost three of its last six outings, will confront a Bradley squad that has averaged 87.1 points per game this season en route to a 10-7 record.

Lady Panther head coach Bobbie Hilke said she expects Tuesday's Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference game to be oriented toward combating an offense "better than we have faced this season."

"They are by far the most offensive team we've played this year and we are going to have to play a strong offensive game against them in order to come out on top," Hilke said.

Bradley sophomore guard Judy Burns, who ranks 25th among the nation's leading scorers with a 22.4 point average, is the key to the Lady Braves' offense.

In addition, senior forward Karen Anderson has played an instrumental role in the Bradley attack by averaging 17.5 points a game. Anderson is also one of Bradley's top rebounders.

Hilke said her squad's main concern is to stop Burns and then counterattack.

"We need to play Burns defensively. She is dangerous from anywhere on the court. We need to shut her down," Hilke said.

"We're going to have Lori (Conine) guard Burns and just hope that she can help stop Burns from scoring too much," Hilke added.

"If we can shut Burns down, then we have a good chance at stopping the whole team. We need to stop them offensively and then go at them offensively," Hilke continued.

Hilke said she believes the Panthers can control Bradley if they convert on the Lady Braves' high turnover ratio. Bradley is averaging 22 turnovers per game.

"They have a tendency to turn over the ball quite a bit," Hilke said. (See LADY, page 11)

Redskins face Dolphins in rematch

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ten years ago it was the end of a perfect season.

In 1972, the Miami Dolphins became the first team to post an unbeaten record in a 14-game season. They embellished that record with playoff victories over Cleveland and Pittsburgh and crowned it on Jan. 14, 1973, in Los Angeles with a 14-7 triumph over the Washington Redskins in Super Bowl VII.

Next Sunday, in nearby Pasadena, the Dolphins go gunning for the Redskins again in Super Bowl XVII, the climax to a strike-wracked season.

Miami's starting left guard, Bob Kuechenberg, is one of the two remaining active Dolphins from that championship season of a decade ago, the other being reserve defensive end Vern Den Herder.

"We just had the 10-year reunion last month," Kuechenberg said of that Dec. 18 gathering in the Orange Bowl, the day the Dolphins won 20-19 for the second of its three victories over New York this season. "We beat the Jets and then went up and saw all the old-timers. Now we've got a reunion with the Redskins. It's uncanny, when you think about it."

The Dolphins began 1982 against Washington with a 24-7 exhibition victory. They would like nothing more than to end it that way.

Quarterback David Woodley was asked whether his Dolphins might have an edge because Washington hasn't played any American Conference teams this season, while Miami played Tampa Bay and Minnesota of the National Conference.

"I don't know how much that's going to matter, but I don't think they are in for any surprises. We played them last year, (Miami won 13-10) and in the preseason this year, so it's not like we're total strangers," he said.

"I remember Miami's balanced offense," Washington Coach Joe Gibbs said. "That and that their outside receivers really killed us last year," when Woodley passed for 296 yards. "They are well coached and have a toughness about them that makes them hard to beat."

They are coached by Don Shula, who has the highest winning percentage of any active NFL coach and trails only Dallas' Tom Landry in victories among active coaches.

Woodley was only marginally effective against the New York Jets in Sunday's rain-soaked 14-0 victory in the AFC title game. He completed only nine of 21 passes for 87 yards, was sacked four times and intercepted three times. He would end up as Miami's leading rusher with 46 of their 138 yards.

Now the defense, the best in the league, which has carried Miami so far this year, has to gear up for Washington quarterback Joe Theismann, who has performed almost flawlessly in the playoffs, including last Saturday in the 31-17 NFC title victory over Dallas.

"It's just a matter of us gearing up for one more game," said linebacker A. J. Duhe. "We've got seven more days of work. I don't think there will be any problems getting seven more days of work out of this team."

In another playoff note, The National Football League said Monday it may require all teams to protect their playing surfaces with tarpaulins to avoid another wet-field controversy like the one at the American Football Conference title game in Miami.

"I wish there had been a tarp available Sunday," Don Weiss, the league's executive director, said by telephone from Los Angeles. "It was very unfortunate that we had to play such an important game under such conditions." New York Jet officials complained before Sunday's game about the lack of a covering to protect the Orange Bowl from overnight rains that left the field a quagmire. The Jets went on to lose to the Dolphins 14-0.

Molde begins coaching duties at gridder helm

by Kirby Flowers

Following Al Molde's first staff meeting Monday, the new Eastern head football coach put rest any rumors of a Cal Jones departure from the Panther grid program.

"I visited with Cal and explained my position to him," Molde said. "Of course Jones was a little disappointed that he didn't move up to the head coaching position."

"But Jones' main fear was that he felt he was 'saddling' me with an unwanted assistant because of the contract he had signed," Molde continued.

"But I explained to him that if I was looking for a defensive coordinator he would be the man I would try to hire," Molde added.

In addition, Molde named Larry Edlund, Bob Bye and Rob Kuhlman as the new Panther assistant coaches and worked to get Eastern's recruiting program organized.

"All three coaches were at Central Missouri State with me," Molde said. "And all did a fine job for me."

"We have already begun our recruiting," Molde explained. "Last weekend we entertained two players, one of whom is a quarterback, in an effort to fill the quarterback spot."

The two recruits were quarterback Gary Scott and wide receiver George Alonzo from Los Angeles City (junior) College, Molde said.

"Scott is a fine quarterback and Alonzo is a great receiver," Molde noted. "We are pretty optimistic about signing the two."

"We also got traveling arrangements and other little things straightened out," Molde added. "We will continue to get our recruiting program going."

Molde said he has not had a chance to sit down and talk to all of his players, but he has met some of them.

"I have not had a chance to sit down and evaluate the team yet," Molde said. "But several of the players have come up and introduced themselves and welcomed me to Eastern."

Consequently, Molde said he does not know his players' attitude toward him, but said the Panther coaches have them working hard lifting weights.

Panther defensive back Robert Williams said he hopes Eastern's new head coach receives a favorable welcome from the student body.

"He deserves a warm welcome," Williams said. "I don't want to see anybody putting him down."

Williams and the other Panther defensive players will not be forced to adjust to a totally new defensive alignment this spring.

Molde said, "I will not change any of the defensive plays. I told Jones that I have confidence in him to coordinate the defensive play."

Molde said that offensively the Panthers will be much the same, with minor adjustments, as they were under previous coach Darrel Mudra.

"My philosophy is basically the same as Darrel's," Molde said. "I like to use a controlled passing game, mixing in the run and hitting the running back out of the back field occasionally."

"Of course the plays will be different," Molde added. "But the offense won't be too much different from what Eastern fans have seen in the past."

The new Panther mentor said he thinks he will fit in nicely at Eastern, since it really isn't much different than Central Missouri State.

"The size of the towns is pretty much the same," Molde said. "And the schools are pretty much alike."
