Tuition hike in conflict with BOG

by Ed Mazzocco

There is an apparent conflict between the Board of Higher Education and the Board of Governors concerning the dollar amount of future tuition increases.

BOG executive director Donald Walters stated recently in a report the BHE fixed formula of assessing students one-third the cost of instruction is too costly and needs to be revised.

Walters said Eastern students presently pay 25 percent of total instructional costs with their tuition, but the BHE would raise it to 33 percent which would meet the one-third level.

Paul Lingerfelter, BHE associate director of fiscal affairs, said Monday the BHE believes students should pay one-third the cost of instruction, although presently they do not.

Lingerfelter added that the BHE will uphold its policy of charging students one-third the total cost of instruction.

However, Walters said the fixed formula of increasing tuition due to instructional cost needs to be made more adaptable for students and that tuition increases should compensate for inflation and not be made to attain the one-third level.

Any tuition increase proposed by the BHE must be approved by the BOG.

Duet caught short in Open Stage rehearsal

by Craig Stockel

They were the next act up, so they slipped into the bathroom to tune up.

"Strum me a G-7," Chris said.

"Who's going to introduce the songs?" Mike mumbled something.

The two began to practice the first song when the audience began clapping.

"Let's go," Mike said. "That's us."

Mike Spencer and Christopher Knollenberg performed as the third act of the University Board Open Stage last Thursday. It was the first time they had played together before a "real" audience.

Their act followed a couple of seasoned Open Stage performers and would be followed by several others, enough to make anybody nervous.

Bebre the act Chris said, "I never get nervous. Maybe I should. It's supposed to be lucky."

"I'm a little nervous," Mike offered, "But if I blow it, I guess I'll just laugh with everybody."

Spence and Christopher were on stage. The spot lights bounced off the guitars' veneer finish. The microphones were on and the audience, at least 250, was ready.

Christopher sang, "Tin Man" as the opening song with Spence's accompaniment--and no microphone. But he didn't know until he had finished that only the people in the front had heard him.

After switching the bad microphone for a new one, the pair played on as if nothing had happened. They never once froze up or lost their composure.

The songs they played came from a repertoire of their favorites such as America, Dan Fogelberg and John Prine. They played their selections, joked with the audience, and enjoyed their spot on the open stage.

They even made room for a friend of theirs, graduate student Dawn Brown, who sang a beautiful rendition of "Brighter Days" as they accompanied her on their guitars.

When their 20-minute performance was over the crowd wasn't ecstatic. They didn't give the duo a standing ovation. But the audience clapped long and loud.

The next performer opened her act by stating simply that Spence and Christopher "would be a hard act to follow."

But the duo didn't hear her because they were recovering from their first real performance as a group.

The periodic Hatzskeller Open Stage provides an early public forum for young performers just starting out. Mike Spencer, left, and Eastern senior Christopher Knollenberg were two such performers at one recent Open Stage. (News photo by Craig Stockel)

"The audience was fantastic," Mike said. "They were understanding about the screw ups (with the microphone.)"

"We usually do a lot better than that," he added.

Conclave elects Polish cardinal to papacy

VATICAN CITY (AP) - The cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church Monday elected 58-year-old Polish Cardinal Karol Wojtyla as pope, the first non-Italian in 455 years to lead the ancient, 700 million-member church.

He took the name John Paul, the same as his predecessor, and told cheering throngs in St. Peter's Square he had been afraid of the nomination but accepted the post "in the spirit of obedience to Our Lord."

Wojtyla, little-known archbishop of Krakow, is the 263rd successor to the Throne of St. Peter. The election of a prelate from a communist nation will doubtlessly have vast repercussions on relations between Rome and the East bloc.

White smoke, the traditional signal that a new pontiff is chosen, billowed into the night from the Sistine Chapel at 6:18 p.m., 12:18 p.m., CDT. "It is official, the pope is elected," the Vatican radio said.

The 111 cardinal-electors, meeting for the second time in two months to elect a pontiff, made their decision in the second day of voting in their secret Sistine Chapel conclave.

It came on what was apparently the seventh or eighth ballot.

The new pope, born in Wadowice, Poland, on May 18, 1920, was elevated to cardinal by Pope Paul VI eleven years ago and is a member of several Vatican congregations-Sacraments and Divine Worship, Clergy and Catholic Education.

He was born the son of a chemical factory worker, and has a good working relationship with the communist government of Poland.

Despite its officially atheistic government, Poland is one of the world's most faithful Catholic countries. Wojtyla was not as outspoken as the primate of Poland, Cardinal Stefan Wyszynski, has been in criticizing the government.

After the smoke appeared, the name of the new pope was not immediately announced, following tradition. Then the doors of a St. Peter's Basilica balcony overlooking the Vatican square swung open, and the senior cardinal deacon announced in Latin to the tens of thousands below: "Nuntio vobis gaudem magnum. Habemus papam." - "I announce to you a great joy. We have a pope."

He then announced the name of the new pontiff. Vatican radio later referred to him as John Paul II. His predecessor, Pope John Paul I, the former Cardinal Albino Luciani of Venice, died Sept. 28.

Wojtyla later made his first public appearance as pope, waving, smiling, raising his eyes heavenward as hundreds of thousands of well-wishers roared their approval in the square.

Eastern sophomore dies

An Eastern sophomore, Gregory Weaver, was one of three killed late Sunday night in a two car accident near Tuscola.

Weaver, 19, of Tuscola, was pronounced dead on arrival at Jarman Hospital in Tuscola shortly after the 10:08 p.m. accident, Douglas County Coroner Ron Keith said Monday.

Details of the two car, head-on collision were sketchy, but the fatal accident occurred on U.S. 45 west of Tuscola, according to investigating Douglas County sheriff's deputies.

The other victims of the accident were Brian Bories and Christopher Collier, both 18 and of Tuscola.

According to sheriff's reports, the northbound and southbound autos collided at the top of an overpass.

Further details of the accident were pending, until the investigation is complete.

Keith said inquests will be conducted into the three deaths, but added that no date has been set for the hearing.

More grants for students

WASHINGTON (AP) - An estimated 1.5 million more college students, including some from families with incomes up to $26,000, will qualify for federal grants next fall thanks to a major college aid package passed in Congress' marathon final session.

The bill will expand the Basic Educational Opportunities Grant program, the cornerstone of the government's current $3.8 billion grant, loan and work-study programs for college students.

An estimated 2.1 million of the 11.6 million U.S. college students are eligible this year for grants ranging from $200 to $1,600, but nearly all are from families with incomes below $15,000. The grants average $1,000.

The new measure will raise the top grant to $1,800, provide more generous grants to low-income students and make eligible students from families with incomes up to about $26,000. The minimum would remain $200.

Air cargo may cool cats

WASHINGTON (AP) - Some kittens and puppies traveling by air may find it to be more than one-fifth chillier while waiting in frosty airport cargo areas this winter if a new proposal by the Agriculture Department is adopted.

The department announced Monday it is considering a revision in federal regulations that would allow minimum temperatures in airport cargo areas to be reduced to 35 degrees Fahrenheit-three degrees above freezing-from the minimum of 45 degrees now in effect.

Officials said the proposal also would decrease to 85 degrees the maximum temperature allowed around dogs, cats and some other warm-blooded animals waiting air transportation, a change that could help summer travelers. The current maximum is 95 degrees.

4,000 demand tax cut

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) - About 4,000 noisy, sign-waving taxpayers marched on the City Hall of this fishing port Monday, demanding that the mayor cut their property taxes. At least two persons were arrested in what a police captain termed "an uprising."

"We're up to our ears," Police Capt. Augustus Correa said at the height of the morning demonstration, inspired by a weekend appeal by a radio disc jockey. "We're calling in all our units, including our night people."

Police dogs guarded the entrance to the building. Mayor John A. Markey ordered the building evacuated three hours after demonstrators converged through morning work-bound traffic.

Bayh named in scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate ethics committee said Monday it found "substantial credible evidence" that either Sen. Birch Bayh or one of his aides broke the law in the Korean influence-buying scandal and asked the Justice Department to consider prosecution.

However, the committee also said it found no evidence that South Korean gifts to senators ever succeeded in influencing a single senator. One member of the committee said the report "exonerates members of the Senate from any wrongdoing" in the scandal.

The ethics committee in its final report said it is asking the Justice Department to determine whether perjury charges would be justified in connection with payments to Bayh and whether Bayh or an aide broke the law by taking $1,000 in the Capitol.

Nazi court ruling upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court today let stand lower court decisions striking down as unconstitutional attempts to ban Nazi demonstrations in Skokie, Ill.

With two justices dissenting, the court rejected arguments that the Nazis' free speech rights must yield to the rights of the Chicago suburb's many Jewish residents.

Today's action, growing out of a legal fight that began last year, should carry no immediate repercussions for Skokie. The small group of American Nazis that had wanted to demonstrate there held two rallies in Chicago last summer - after winning court permission to do so in Skokie.

Budweiser Super Sports signup ends

by Cathy Bielong

Tuesday will be the final day for anyone wanting to sign up for Budweiser Super Sports, Bill Macfarlane of the University Board said Monday. Prospective teams have until 5 p.m. to sign up in the Union Lobby.

So far, 15 teams have signed up, "but I believe we have twenty teams in the make," Macfarlane explained.

Super Sports, modeled after the Celebrity Super Star show on television, includes events such as the 880 yard relay, frisbee throw, the six-pack pitch in, an obstacle course and a volleyball game, Macfarlane said.

The sports are being sponsored by the UB along with the Ronchaetti Distributing Company in Mattoon, which will supply the beer for the party following the events Saturday night.

Specific places for Super Sports have not been assigned but "we have gotten permission to use all the athletic facilities scheduled around the intercollegiate sports," Macfarlane said.

The events will start Friday night with the volleyball game, extend through Saturday, and end with a "Bud Party" Saturday night, Macfarlane said.

Faculty Senate to review appeal

The Faculty Senate will discuss the revision of its constitution at its meeting Tuesday, Senate Secretary June Johnson of the music department said Monday.

Constitutional revisions will concern defining who is a member of the faculty, Johnson said.

An appeal by members of the music department concerning summer rotation will also be discussed at the meeting to be held at 2 p.m. in the Union addition Martinsville Room.

Religious history Rowell's topic

Pastor Terry Rowell of the Bible Baptist Church will speak on "Religion: Past, Present and Future" at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the University Union Ballroom.

The lecture is sponsored by Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity's speaker-of-the-month program and is open to the public.

'Touch of Evil'

"Touch of Evil," a film directed by and starring Orson Welles, will be this week's Eastern Film Society movie at 5, 7 and 9 p.m. Tuesday in the Buzzard Education Building Auditorium.

The film, which also stars Charlton Heston, is the original version with 22 minutes of first-run cuts restored. Admission is $1.

Graduate studies council to discuss '79 work load

by Diane Cooper

Policies regarding distribution of graduate assistantship funds and work load requirements for next year will be discussed Tuesday by the Council on Graduate Studies.

The CGS will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Old Main Room 202.

Chairman Jon Laible said Monday the CGS will also discuss possible policy changes concerning balancing the time limits on which courses can be applied toward master's and specialist degree programs.

Currently a specialist degree candidate can credit courses taken several years previously to fulfill new degree requirements, he said.

The CGS will also consider revising requirements for seniors who wish to take graduate level courses, Laible said.

Present policy states that seniors must be in their last semester of classes and have a 2.75 grade point average to take graduate classes.

The reason for considering changing the policy, Laible said, is "sometimes the student doesn't know exactly when his last semester is and finds that a graduate class he has taken is no longer approved."

Olympics speech in Union

Marianna Trekell, co-president of the National Association for Physical Education and Higher Education, will present a lecture and slide show on the Olympics Tuesday.

The show will be held at 7 p.m. in the Union addition Charleston-Matton Room.

Her lecture, "Raison d'Etre for the Olympic Games--The Athletes," will support the Olympics in a controversy over the suggestion of instituting annual World Games to replace the Olympics.

Trekell is a professor of physical education at the University of Illinois and a member of the Physical Education Academy.

The lecture is sponsored by Phi Epsilon Kappa, the honorary health, physical education and recreation fraternity, chapter president Tim Sronkowski said.

The public is invited. Phi Epsilon Kappa members should attend and their $5 national dues and $2 local dues will be collected at the lecture.

Action needed on joining ISA

Student leaders should take advantage of the Illinois Student Association meeting Nov. 12 by becoming familiar with the lobbying group and moving quickly to join it.

Student Body President Tom Holden's efforts to join the group are good ones, but the move has been discussed in the past with no results.

Eastern's student government has supposedly been actively researching the benefits of joining ISA for some time, but no action has been taken to do so.

Granted, the ISA itself has had internal problems, but these have basically been solved, and a number of universities have already joined ahead of Eastern.

Holden has said that he and a committee must recommend joining the ISA to the senate, which must then vote on the recommendation. Before the Nov. 12th meeting the committee should be formed and well versed on the ISA and the two types of membership available.

We agree with Holden that Eastern should join the general membership at a cost of $200, give it a year, and then determine whether to join the executive council, which gives its members a major say in policy matters.

The ISA was set up to provide students a lobbying edge in legislatures and agencies.

In the face of rising tuitions and decreasing aid programs, students need this edge.

And, if joining the ISA can better enable Eastern students to fight the Board of Higher Education proposal to cut subsidies to auxiliary enterprises, they should do so as soon as possible, as this issue is probably the most important students will deal with this year.

Letters to the editor

Stacked Dec

Editor:

It has come to our attention that judging for Dec-A-Sig, which was one of the events of Derby Days, was confusing as to the criteria involved in the selection.

First of all, who's being judged, the male participant or the sorority?

Also who is supposed to write the material, the male participant or the sorority?

And in regard to the theme, wasn't it supposed to involve stars of the 50's opposed to the 70's? Stick to the theme or don't bother with one.

Since most of the skits relate to individuals within the fraternity and their life style, shouldn't the judges be affiliated with the house to understand the humor being conveyed?

Furthermore, we were thoroughly disgusted with the selection of comedy material.

We find this extremely tackless!

It's humiliating that the only house to use such a poor choice of entertainment should win the competition.

Should this continue, forcing others to do the same, why bother?

We won't stoop that low!!

Name withheld by request

Quiet, please

Editor,

We would appreciate the use of your column to express our extreme dissatisfaction with the so-called "quiet place" to study, commonly known to Eastern students as Booth Library.

It is our concern along with others over the nightly vacuum cleaning that evidently has to go on during library hours.

This is not a recent problem, as this was done nightly during finals last spring.

It is sad that students must leave noisy dorm rooms only to go to the library (which is supposed to provide students with a "quiet" place to study) and have to leave because of this unnecessary distraction.

We would appreciate an explanation from whom this concerns as to why this must on during regular library hours.

Lost ground

Editor:

Shortly I expect student government candidates to be beaming in the glory of their achievements.

There have been bright spots in the senate this semester and student government as a whole has been very innovative. But, for the vast amount of promise owned by this senate their progress has seemed spotty. The senate does not seem to have moved concerning sports since the uproar over golf subsided.

It is obvious that the students' desire for budget control returned to the Appropriations Board in the case of sports.

The senate has also not moved in regard to recommendations of the Judicial Commission, despite the ease with which these recommendations could be acted upon.

The senate (as well as other university groups) has failed to inform the students in regard to the "Subsidiary Services Report" of the Board of Higher Education.

Indeed where student government has acted on the report, in the case of Mr. Dersch's report, the report (Dersch's) has failed to be related to the BHE report.

This senate has also sent the question of informing the students of their "Student Bill of Rights" to a quiet committee death.

At least, however, this is more than past senates have done!

The senate's one well publicized bright spot, the reformation of the elections committee, has apparently been largely tied up and what progress has been made has been negated, to a great extent, by choosing Mr. Houlihan (who recently resigned senate) to represent non-senators.

As I've stated, the senate has had bright spots of promise this semester; yet I feel disappointed in regards to the senate's progress in the areas I've mentioned.

With eight weeks remaining I hope the senate can recover this lost ground.

Hitchhiking tragedy could happen to you

Many things happen in this world that seem grossly unfair or sometimes very hideous.

An event that happened out west last week deserves at least a mention to all students anywhere because of its horror, if nothing else.

A 15-year-old girl was hitchhiking along Interstate 80 when she received a ride from a male passerby. Eventually, the same man picked up two other male passengers as they tolled down the interstate.

The four of them drove to a spot where they pulled off the road. The driver offered the girl $60 to have sex with the three men. Along the trip, the men had consumed a fair amount of alcohol and were pretty drunk.

According to an (AP) story, the driver said he passed out and when he came to, one of the men was driving. The girl was gone.

The gist of the story is grotesque and sad, but true. The girl was found wandering dazedly along the interstate with both of her forearms amputated. She was rushed to a nearby hospital where she is recovering.

Just hearing the story is enough to make the most stable stomach uneasy. But what's worse is that it can happen again.

How many times do you see a person hitchhiking along a highway? It is a very common thing for college students to do. But how many actually give a thought to possible consequences?

This is not to say that all hitchhikers will have something terrible happen to them, nor that all people offering rides are mentally deranged.

But incidents like the one involving the girl should warrant some caution with anyone attempting to hitch a ride.

Before you hitchhike home or to your friend's school, check the rider board in the University Union. Check the Eastern News classifieds. Check with your friends. Or if you can afford it, buy a train or bus ticket.

Whatever the monetary cost is, you can bet it would be cheaper in the long run. Especially if you happen to become the "lucky" hitchhiker that is offered a ride from somebody with ulterior motives.

Final action on the expansion of bicycle lanes in Charleston will be taken Tuesday night by the Charleston
City Council.
The plan, which calls for approximately two additional miles of bicycle lanes, was held on file for the past two weeks by the council.
The proposal, if passed, would extend the current lanes on Seventh Street 500 feet north of the Harrison Street intersection.
The plan, developed by City Planner
Larry Stoeber, also calls for extending Harrison Street bike lanes from Division to 14th Streets, and the 10th and 11th Street lanes from Monroe Street to Lincoln Avenue.

At its Oct. 3 meeting the council amended the original plan which would have eliminated parking on the north side of Harrison to provide the right of way for a bike lane.
The council decided to retain some of the parking on Harrison in response to the input of concerned property owners along the street.
The council meeting begins at 7:30 located at 520 Jackson Ave.

Field hockey team battles to tie with Purdue

by Janet Haberkorn

Starting slow has been a bad habit of the Panther field hockey team recently. And in Saturday's 2-2 tie with Purdue, the Panthers started slower than usual, Eastern coach Betty Temple said.

"We didn't work well together as a team. We were put on the defensive right away," Temple said. "Once we get behind we fire up completely. I can't figure out what it takes to get my team to move out there," she added.

But a slow start wasn't the Panther's only problem. Temple said Purdue was a very physical team. "There was a lot of pushing and shoving out there. The officials were bad and very inconsistent with their calls; they should have controlled all of the roughness," Temple said.

In fact, the poor officiating might have cost the Panthers the game. With the score tied 2-2 Eastern scored what would have been the winning goal. But the official called back the goal, penalizing the Panthers for dangerous hitting.

At the half Eastern was trailing 2-0. But a goal on a penalty stroke by senior Nancy Theis closed the gap to 2-1.

Junior Paula Werths scored her first goal of the season unassisted to tie the score after the half.

Temple praised the defensive work of sophomore goalie Becky Legrande, but said none of the offensive players stood out.

"Everyone was playing less than what they could," Temple said.

In the next game Eastern will host Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville Wednesday at 4 p.m.

Temple said SIU-E is supposed to be a good, improved team.

"I think we'll beat them if we put everything all together," she said. "We'll be out to prove that we can play our best game Saturday and be psyched up."

A win against SIU-E would bring the Panther's record to 4-1-3 and boost their chances for a bid for regional play. Temple said she has no idea how much the Panther's tie with Purdue will affect their regional bid.

Ruggers rebound to win

by Christopher Squire

Coming off a third place finish in the Illinois Inter-collegiate Tournament, Eastern's rugby team bounced back to defeat a very experienced Springfield team by a score of 10-4.

After a mistake filled first half, Eastern outthrustled and outclassed the Springfield team in the second half.

With Springfield threatening much of the first half, Eastern's exceptional defensive play kept Springfield from getting on the scoreboard.

With the score tied 0-0 at halftime, Eastern's Eric Bobo Davisson opened up the scoring as he muscled his way in for a score. Tim Carston also scored for the ruggers, to pace the win.

In the Illinois Inter-collegiate Tournament, Eastern received a bye in the first round. Their second round opponent was Illinois State University, who whipped the ruggers 13-0.

In that game, club president Jay Macklin was hurt in the first half leaving the team one man short for the remainder of the contest. Eastern defeated Western Illinois University in the consolation round by a score of 20-0.

Eastern returns to action Saturday, as it travels to Bloomington.

Soccer squad wipes out Wright State 10-0

John Jozsa controls the ball from the midfield and helps to keep Wright State running in Sunday's 10-0 shutout game. Jozsa assisted striker Ross Ongaro in the third goal of the match and helped Gordon Prempeh on the forward line with the number nine shot. (News photo by Rich Bauer)

by Kathy Klisares

Eastern's booters held their ground and Wright State's too as they overpowered the Ohio squad 10-0 Sunday with four first time travelers.

Taking an 18 man crew on the road, the Panthers "used some subs that have never played before but still kept them (Wright State) from scoring," head soccer coach Schellas Hyndman said.

"When you play a weaker competitor, it's easy to go down to their level, but we didn't. We controlled the game and moved the ball the best we've ever moved it," Hyndman added.

Moving the ball right to the net, striker Ross Ongaro scored his first of three goals in the 23rd minute without an assist.

Gordon Prempeh, returning from a three game absence due to injury, also utilized his forward line position, scoring on a cross from co-captain George Gorleku in the 25th minute.

Ongaro struck again in the 32nd minute with a pass from midfielder John Jozsa before striker Miguel Blair made three in a row.

Taking a cross from Ongaro, Blair popped one in at the 37 minute mark and turned around 20 seconds later to head the first goal of his entire collegiate career, with an assist by Prempeh.

Scoring again just before the half,

Blair took advantage of an excellent cross by Fernando Beer which Eastern with a 6-0 lead at half time.

Just as deadly when they returned the Panthers inserted Glen Tourville, Gerry Tinley and Andrew Brown in defense and James Molzahn in the goal during the second half.

"The subs stepped in and did just what they were supposed to, so we had some nice goals, got some experience and still had a shut out game," Hyndman commented.

Prempeh wasted no time in getting back into the swing of the game, pumping in three straight shots to total four goals for the game.

The Prempeh surge started in the 51st minute with a cross from Ongaro, followed by an assist from Vicente DiBella which led to a goal in the 78th minute and a ball from Jozsa that was booted in the 85th minute.

Ongaro wrapped up the game with three minutes to go as he scored on an assist from Gerry Tinley.

Looking ahead to a considerably tougher match at 3 p.m. Wednesday, the Panthers will travel to Indiana University to meet the number one team in the nation. Confident of Eastern's ability, Hyndman predicted, "With Gordon back and the team going 100 percent, we have a good chance of upsetting Indiana."

Spikers impressive in winning three of four

by Jane Meyer

It was a successful weekend for the Eastern volleyball team, as the spikers won three of four contests at home.

The Panthers opened the round-robin tournament with a tough five game set against Florissant Valley College.

"We could have traded games all night," coach Margie Wright said. "We led at the beginning at every game but when we relaxed they took advantage of us."

Eastern won the second and fourth games of the set 15-8, 15-8 while taking losses of 14-16, 11-15 and 11-15 in the other games of the match.

Eastern then beat what Wright termed was the toughest competitor of the tournament, the University of Missouri-Columbia.

"I thought they executed their moves a lot better than Florissant Valley," said Wright. "They were better than the other teams we played."

The Panthers took that match 15-3, 15-11, 15-11.

Saturday proved to be a bit rough on the Panthers, although they took victories from Bradley and St. Louis University.

"We kind of underestimated our opponent on Saturday," said Wright. "We should have won without having to put forth as much effort as we did."

In the Bradley game, the Panthers dropped the first game 15-7 before they came back to snare 15-7, 15-5, and 15-3 victories.

St. Louis proved to be a more formidable foe as it pressed the Panthers to five games before bowing out.

St. Louis surprisingly took the second and third games of the match 15-12, 15-13 after Eastern took an easy 15-3 opening win.

The Panthers regained momentum however, as they went on to grab 15-1, 15-6 final games.

Panther volleyball action continues on Wednesday when Eastern hosts Indiana State at 6:30 p.m. in McAfee Gym.

Wright said she is optimistic of a win although the Sycamores may give them a bit of a fight.

"We have beaten them already twice this year," said Wright, "but Indiana is really intent on beating us this time."

Avellini not up for grabs ; WLS victims of Bear trade hoax

CHICAGO (AP) - ABC news commentator Paul Harvey and the network's Chicago affiliate, WLS, were victims of a hoax Monday--a report that the Chicago Bears had traded quarterback Bob Avellini and fullback Robin Earl to the Dallas Cowboys for quarterback-punter Danny White.

"We just got stung," said WLS News Director Bud Miller. Miller said someone identifying himself as Ed McCaskey, executive vice president of the Bears, phoned WLS with the story.

Miller said the station had the call taped and was calling Bears' office to verify the report when someone on his staff mistakenly put it on the air.

Miller said as soon as the station gets "hot news, it is directed to ABC network offices in the same building. The hoax was relayed to Harvey, who was going on the air and who used it immediately.

The Bears' switchboard was swamped with calls, as were radio stations and newspapers throughout the state of Illinois.

The Bears, their coaches and most of team executives were in Denver for Monday night's nationally televised game with the Broncos.
