Local AFT passes salary amendment . . .

by Cathy Crist

After two weeks of voting on the five Board of Governor's campuses, faculty members approved the proposed teachers' salary amendment by an overwhelming margin.

The voting on the salary amendment was held by the local 3500 American Federation of Teachers union. Out of the 568 teachers that voted on the five BOG campuses, 528 voted to approve the proposed amendment. Twenty-nine faculty members voted against the proposal, and eleven abstained. Due to an AFT policy which was agreed upon by all BOG schools prior to the vote, a breakdown of votes by campus was not available.

Carol Elder, Eastern's local 3500 AFT chapter president, said 131 of Eastern's teaching faculty voted on the salary amendment, which is approximately 30 percent of those who were eligible to vote.

Elder said this way of tallying the votes would be a more proper method.

"I think if people were dissatisfied with the proposed contract, more people would have then gone out to vote. In this case, no vote at all was almost like a yes vote," Elder said.

The next step for the proposed salary amendment, which is bargained each year by the BOG and the AFT, is approval on the part of the BOG. Elder said the BOG should be ratifying the agreement at their Thursday meeting at Western Illinois University in Macomb.

Elder said the AFT is hosting a "Get Acquainted Happy Hour" from 4 to 6 p.m. Friday at Reflections restaurant in Charleston.

"This is so new faculty members will have the opportunity to meet AFT officers and representatives, learn about the union, and have the opportunity to ask any questions," she added.

Elder said fifteen faculty members have joined the union as new members since the beginning of the fall semester.

. . . while BOG meets for final decision

by Melinda DeVries

The Board of Governors will vote Thursday on whether to ratify the new salary amendment to the American Federation of Teachers' contract settlement, John Eibl, BOG assistant deputy director for administration and fiscal affairs, said Tuesday.

The BOG will meet at 8:30 a.m. at Western Illinois University.

The proposed salary amendment includes a basic salary increase of 4.1 percent of the faculty's 1979-1980 salary plus $81 a month.

Under the current salary amendment, faculty members receive 4 percent of their 1978-1979 salary plus $80 a month.

In addition to the basic salary increase, the salary amendment includes an increase of $80 a month for each faculty member who has been promoted from one academic rank to another during the 1979-1980 academic year. Under the current salary amendment, the promotion salary increase is $75.

Faculty members who have completed a master's degree in 1979-1980 will receive an increase of $70 under the new amendment, a $5 increase from last year.

Specifics such as faculty promotion, retention, tenure and workloads are included in the entire contract settlement which was approved last year.

The entire contract will be in effect until August 1982, although the salary amendment must be approved each year.

If approved by the BOG, the salary amendment will immediately take effect and will be included in faculty members' October paycheck, Eibl said.

In addition to the salary amendment, the board will also vote on whether to approve the distribution of Eastern's fiscal year 1981 budget.

Eastern's budget of $30,090,750 is distributed as needed to 11 different areas.

The budget amount and the distribution to the 11 areas has already been approved by the BOG, Eastern Budget Officer John Morrissey said. The board will vote on the amounts to be allocated to each academic department from the 11 areas.

In other business, the board will discuss how the BOG plans to deal with the upcoming higher education enrollment decline, Pam Meyer, BOG executive assistant to the executive director, said.

The expected national higher education enrollment decline is due to the decrease in the number of students now attending grade and high schools.

Meyer said the board will attempt to answer questions of what it will do for BOG schools when enrollments decline, whether universities will have to make staff reductions and alternatives open to the board in dealing with those matters.

The BOG will also discuss its system-wide future planning efforts, Meyer said.

The board is in the process of compiling academic information from each of the five BOG schools—Chicago State, Northeastern Illinois, Governors State, Eastern Illinois and Western Illinois universities—in an effort to find out the academic future of the BOG system, she said.

The board will use the results to compare the five universities in its system with those in other systems in Illinois, Meyer said.

In addition to the system-wide future planning efforts of the board, the BOG will discuss its investigation of the BOG school's computer resources, Meyer said.

Glover pushes for Panther transit system

by Patty O'Neill

In his State of the Senate address Wednesday night, Student Body President Bob Glover appointed Tom Lamczyk to head a task force to design a new Panther Transit proposal to the student body and Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin.

The proposal, which called for a bus system to transport students to Fox Ridge State Park, the Charleston Square and the train depot and Cross County Mall in Mattoon, was vetoed by Marvin two weeks ago.

Glover also said he thought the university grade appeal policy was totally inadequate and appointed Executive Vice President Dan Hunnicutt to the executive Academic Affairs Board to work with the task force.

In addition, Glover said the Health Service should implement some kind of appointment services and give students more privacy.

Besides Glover's State of the Senate address, the senate passed a proposal to implement a fall break for 1981.

The fall break would be scheduled in conjunction with Columbus Day weekend, by declaring Columbus Day a holiday.

The proposed break, which would give students a three-day weekend, must be approved by Marvin and the Board of Governors.

Also at the meeting, the senate approved members for various board positions.

Sophomore Kevin Curran, and juniors Paul Hart and Marc Bruninga were appointed to the Apportionment Board, sophomore Mel Pashea and junior Rob Anderson to the Communication—Media Board, sophomore Bob Schoeberly and Phil Fifield to the Health Service Board.

Senior Reed McCullough, sophomore Karen Woodworth and senior Bill Houlihan were selected as alternates to the Intercollegiate Athletic Board. Junior Ed Marsh was appointed as chairman to the Sports and Recreation Board.

Seniors Rick Gibson and Katie Broeren and sophomore Doug Jarman were appointed to the Judicial Board.

Freshmen Andy Carlson, Kim Harris, Matt Glover and junior Rodney Buhr were appointed to the Publications Board. Glover was appointed as chairman.

Union Board appointments were seniors Tom Lamczyk, Kevin Busch and freshman John Modder.

Exiled leader Somoza assassinated

ASUNCION, Paraguay—Exiled Nicaraguan leader Anastasio Somoza was assassinated Wednesday by a squad of killers who ambushed his automobile in a crossfire of bullets and bazooka fire on a quiet city street, authorities reported. Somoza's driver and an aide also died in the military-style assault.

Paraguayan police said all nine or so assassins escaped, but they believed more than half were wounded in a gunfight with Somoza's bodyguards.

News that the ex-president was dead set off wild celebrations in Nicaragua, where government officials claimed the "freedom forces" of Paraguay carried out the assassination, but Somoza associates here said they suspected Nicaraguan revolutionaries.

The 54-year-old Somoza was ousted from power in July 1979 in a revolution led by leftist guerrillas. His family had ruled Nicaragua, with U.S. support, for more than 40 years.

Five school district strikes continue

Teacher strikes continued Tuesday in five Illinois school districts with 1,880 teachers and 32,000 students out of the classroom.

The latest strike started in East St. Louis District 189 where 1,100 teachers took a strike vote Tuesday morning and vowed to man picket lines Wednesday. Classes were called off for 22,000 students when teachers failed to show up for classes.

Homecoming activities are "Surfin'" into full swing

by Peggy McMeen

Preparations for Eastern's Homecoming, "Surfin' EIU," are continuing in full swing, Julie Hellyer, University Board homecoming coordinator, said.

Entry forms for the Homecoming spirit contest can be picked up now in the Student Activities Center, Hellyer said. The forms must be submitted by 5 p.m. Monday to the Student Activities Center and must state which activities will be participated in.

Groups wishing to participate in either window painting or house decorations should contact the spirit coordinators, Connie Lyndstrom and Mary Waddock, by 5 p.m. Wednesday, to discuss theme and location, Hellyer said. Window painting will take place from 1 to 8 p.m. Sunday.

Decorations and windows will be judged Friday afternoon, Oct. 3. Windows must be cleaned off by Oct. 8.

All entries for the Homecoming parade are due in the Student Activities Center by 5 p.m. Monday, she said. Flatbed floats will be notified after Friday, Sept. 26, of the exact time of

Mainstage presents Perry Leopold today

Guitar and piano vocalist Perry Leopold will be the featured entertainer at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Rathskeller for Mainstage, Lori Johnson, University Board Mainstage coordinator, said.

Johnson said Leopold has had sell-out performances throughout the country and has played with such performers as Joe Cocker and Janis Ian.

Leopold has been described as, "contemporary and nostalgic, humorous and serious, mellow, tart and spicy all at once," Johnson said.

"There's a chance Leopold may be on campus early, and he might be playing in a few dorms before the performance," Johnson added.

Admission for the performance is 75 cents.

Stanley G. Rives, associate provost and dean of instruction at Illinois State University, will share his views about the position with interested campus individuals at an open meeting at 2 p.m. Thursday, in the Union addition Charleston-Mattoon Room.

Rives attended Northwestern and Illinois State universities where he received both his bachelor's and master's degrees.

He received his doctorate in public address and group communication from Northwestern University in 1963.

Weidner said Rives was nominated for the vice president of academic affairs position at Eastern by ISU President Lloyd Wadkins.

Rives' vita shows he has a long list of teaching and administrative credentials ranging from instructor to director of forensics at West Virginia University from 1955-1956.

His career at ISU spans from 1958 to date.

Rives' positions include assistant, associate and professor of the speech communications department; director of forensics; assistant dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; associate dean of faculties; dean of undergraduate instruction; associate provost and dean of undergraduate instruction and his current position of associate provost and dean of instruction.

Rives was involved in an ISU program dealing with faculty development.

judging, Hellyer said.

The 65th Homecoming Parade will be held Saturday, Oct. 4, at 10 a.m. The parade route will begin at Morton Park on Lincoln Boulevard to run east on Lincoln, north on Sixth Street to the square, around the square and then south on Seventh Street, breaking up near Buzzard Field, Hellyer said.

All awards will be announced at the Homecoming game, she said.

A bonfire and pep rally will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 1, at the Lawson-Taylor tennis courts, Hellyer said.

Panther Transit needs repairs

Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin has vetoed student government's mass transit proposal because it "does not seem to be economically feasible" and we agree with his decision.

The Panther Transit was introduced last spring to provide bus transportation for Eastern students to points in Charleston and Mattoon. The transit plan was to be financed through a $15 to $20 fee increase for students.

Marvin blocked the plan even though it was approved in a student referendum last April. Student government officials are considering appealing the measure, because they say the majority opinion of students should not be ignored.

An appeal of the veto to the Board of Governors is being considered, but we feel student government should give up these appeal plans and first work to improve the mass transit system plan.

We believe more planning should be put into the mass transit system because previous research has certain faults in it.

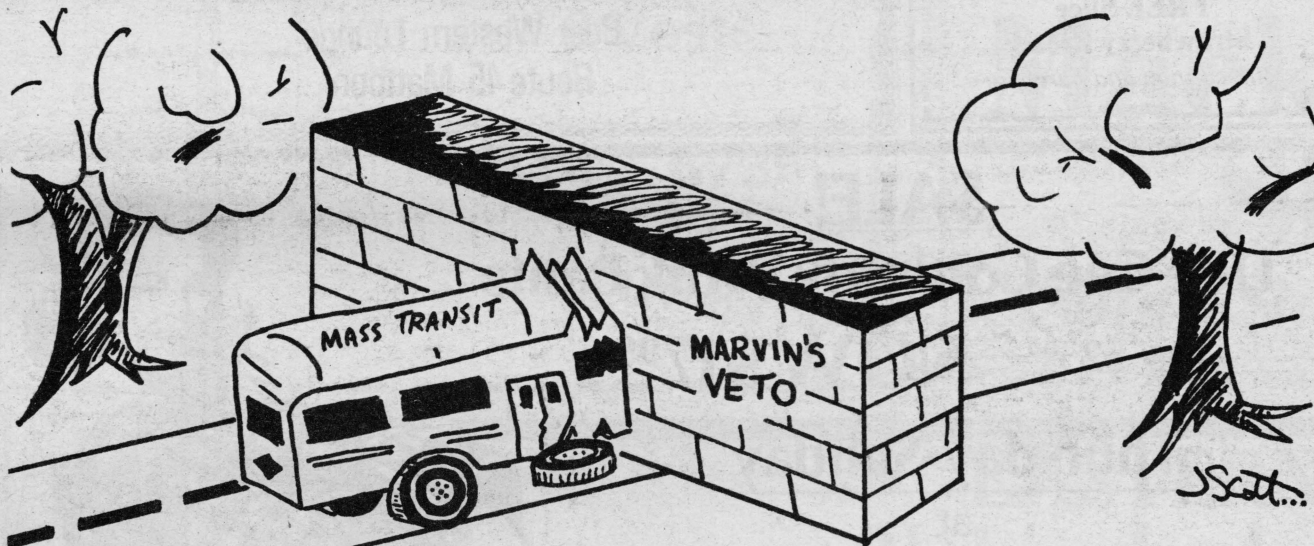

The student government based most of their research on a campus bus system at Northern Illinois University in DeKalb. Eastern has different problems than Northern. Research based on college communities running mass transit systems with similarities to Charleston, comparable student population and campus size should be conducted.

No true user survey has been conducted. Student government is basing user figures on the referendum totals, but students voting for Panther Transit last April may not plan to actually use it. Will this transportation system end up being used by a small percentage of students, thus causing further fee increases for those who do not need it anyway?

Recently Charleston officials said they are considering conducting a feasibility study for a mass transit system later this year. If funds are available from sources inside Coles County, an effort should be made to see if they can be obtained.

Also, other questions concerning maintenance, liability, routing of buses and student employment should be dealt with through further research before actual funding is routed toward a mass transit system for Eastern.

We could slice up the mid-fall break

Lake Shelbyville in October may not be as fashionable as Daytona Beach in March, but I still think that providing an opportunity to visit there with a five-day fall break is a good idea.

But instead of having five days off in a row, why not split them up? Included in those five days is a Monday off and a Friday off, which would mean two extra three-day weekends on your calendar if the days were used separately.

Three days off wouldn't merit a Daytona trip, but for campers it could mean a worthwhile trip to Fox Ridge or Lake Shelbyville.

A three-day weekend could also be used for educational purposes such as downstaters showing their Chicagoland roommates the hot party spots of Southern Illinois or Southerners taking a trip upstate.

A lot can be also be done with the three vacation days remaining after Monday and Friday have been used up. They could be used all at once for a mini-vacation; two of them could be put together for a middle-of-the-week weekend; or they could be used separately throughout the semester.

One day off in the middle of the week like that might be useless for some, but for others it could mean a guilt-free night of blowing off homework and staying at the bars until closing time.

And if these people still feel a twinge of guilt the next day, they could use their day off to do homework—after they wake up around noon.

Andy Robeznieks

Any of these suggestions would be better than using all five days at once for a break, because a consecutive five-day vacation would do more harm than good. True, I think students and faculty need a break some time during fall semester, but it wouldn't do any good to send people home just when they're getting used to the daily regimen of classes.

Of course we do have a consecutive week off in the spring, but the reasoning behind a week off in the spring is totally different than that behind having a few vacation days spread throughout the fall semester.

Fall semester comes after four months of fun in the sun, and people need time to adjust to campus life again. But spring semester comes after weeks of shoveling snow and computing wind chill factors.

Scholastically, a week off during fall semester may prove disastrous for some students. It's conceivable that a student might forget everything he has learned since the beginning of the semester.

But taking those vacation days separately is a different story. One day off in the middle of the week gives a student who's a little behind in his schoolwork time to catch up.

Besides, a deep tan in late October will never be as chic as one in March.

Anti-Nuker Browne pushes his beliefs on unwilling fans

An open letter to Jackson Browne, fallen star:

During your concert in Champaign, Ill. on Sept. 13, you struck a chord which nearly destroyed the harmony which had existed between you, the performer, and we, the audience.

We came to see The Man.

We came to hear The Music.

We came to get lost in the prophetic patter of an artist in the truest sense.

We got what we wanted—and too much more. When your band struck up with "After The Deluge" while you announced the dedication to the Prairie Alliance and the three-piece video screen descended, so did the audience's opinion of the concert at that point.

Around me, through the haze, I could see many pull back and watch rather irritably as the biased slides of anti-nuke demonstrators being forcefully repelled played across the screens above your head.

Perhaps we were amused slightly by the lighthearted banter which you had after the song with front-row alliance members over the presence of a nuclear power station close enough to "kill all of us at once, not just one at a time."

But the attitude of displeasure hung over the audience until intermission, when we rushed to the outer perimeter only to discover more anti-nukes selling their wares—T-shirts, diagrams and alliance memberships.

After the intermission you almost won us back with "On the Boulevard" and "You Love the Thunder," but the distasteful impression remained.

As the concert progressed and the audience was again won over by your powers, you told us (admitting that what was hard enough to say to one person was made more difficult by our numbers) that you loved us.

Your encore performance, the moving and emotional "The Loadout-Stay," was the expected Browne piece de resistance. In it you said you'd like to stay and play a little longer. Well we wouldn't have minded at all, that is what we have come to expect of you. We don't come to hear you admonish nuclear power. It is not us who are members of MUSE (Musicians United for Solar Energy), it's you.

We accept the love which you offer us, but may I remind you of your own words, from "Runnin' on Empty."

"Got to do what you can just to keep your love alive"

Tryin' not to confuse it with what you do to survive"

Jackson, we love you as a pianist, guitarist and vocalist, but we cannot accept the props of political activist...not at $10.50 a ticket.

Engineering firm selected by CDB to design kiln shed

by Sue Ann Rentfrow

The Illinois Capital Development Board has selected Brown, Davis, Mullins & Associates, Inc. of Micro computer club to elect new officers

The first meeting of the Micro Computer Club will be at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Union addition Eflingham Room.

Eastern instructor Tony Schaeffer, organizer of the club, said the club offers students who are interested in micro computers a chance to share information with others.

"The meeting will basically be an organizational one. We plan to elect officers for the fall semester," Schaeffer said.

Champaign as the architectural and engineering firm to design the $97,100 kiln shed at Eastern.

David Curry, of the CDB, said the announcement was made Sept. 4 by CDB Executive director Donald Glickman. Gov. James Thompson signed a bill Sept. 3 allocating funds to the kiln shed.

Requests for funding of the kiln shed came after a gas kiln blew up April 29. The shed will house two electric, two gas and two propane kilns and will be constructed in the courtyard on the east side of the art wing of the Fine Arts Building.

Curry said the design is expected to be completed in January, with construction contracts being bid in February.

History, music, candidates to be included in trade fair

by Juli Wahlund

The second annual Coles County Sesquicentennial Industrial Trade Fair and Home Show will color Eastern's campus this weekend.

The fair will run from noon to 8 p.m. Saturday and from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday in the University Union.

The fair will have a combination of indoor and outdoor exhibits displaying the products and services of 46 Charleston and Mattoon businesses, Julie Harper of the Public Affairs

Trade fair will cause parking lot closings, security chief says

Three parking lots on campus will be closed Friday due to the Coles County Trade Fair and Home Show scheduled for the weekend, Security Chief John Pauley said.

The three lots are "U" next to the University Union, "U" east of Seventh Street and lot "D" east of the Buzzard Educational Building, adjacent to Ninth Street.

Persons usually parking in those lots may park in other restricted lots on a space available basis on Friday, Pauley said.

Department of Illinois Consolidated Telephone Co. said.

The show will open at noon Saturday with a ceremony featuring Secretary of State Alan Dixon; Sen. Max Coffey, R-Charleston; Rep. Larry Stuffle, D-Charleston; Rep. Harry "Babe" Woodyard, R-Christman; Eastern President Daniel Marvin; Mattoon Mayor Roger Dettro and Charleston Mayor Bob Hickman.

The Charleston Area Chamber of Commerce and the Mattoon Association of Commerce will sponsor the fair, which should draw approximately 20,000 visitors, Harper said.

Many kinds of exhibits will be displayed at the fair.

In commemoration of Coles County's 150th anniversary there will be an antique agricultural equipment display.

A collection of historic memorabilia and photographs from Coles County's past will highlight the show.

Musical entertainment will be provided by such groups as the Steel Drum Band, Percussion Limited, the Eastern Jazz Combo and the Barbershoppers.

Christensen will start at quarterback vs. ISU

Jeff Christensen
will start Saturday

by Paul Black

Jeff Christensen will make his debut as Eastern's starting quarterback when the Panthers travel to Terre Haute for a Saturday night clash with the Indiana State Sycamores.

The announcement came from Panther head coach Darrell Mudra and Offensive Coordinator Dennis Shaw Wednesday. The role is a new one for Christensen, who came in as a back up for senior Chuck Wright in the past two contests.

Christensen, a 6-foot-1 180-pound transfer from Gibson City, came off the bench to complete 14 of 33 passes for 247 yards in Eastern's 37-35 loss at Southern Illinois last Saturday. He has been named Eastern's Offensive Back of the Week by the coaching staff.

But Wright's job in the backfield is far from finished. The two-year lettermen will see quite a bit of action in Saturday night's game, Shaw said.

"I see no problem. Both (Christensen and Wright) are excellent quarterbacks, both can pass well, and both will see a lot of action. Chuck had a good first game and Jeff had a good second game. It just so happens that only one guy can suit up to start, and this week Jeff will," Shaw added.

Wright completed 13 of 30 passes for 210 yards and two touchdowns against South Dakota before falling to only one of seven for 12 yards against the Salukis.

Christensen completed four of five in the opening game for 35 yards and a touchdown before earning the starting quarterback spot in the SIU contest.

Mudra said the decision as to who will start will be made on a week-to-week basis.

Field hockey team expects aggressive battle with ISU

by Steve Binder

If Coach Betty Temple's prediction holds true, Panther fans will be treated to a "very aggressive" contest when Eastern's women's field hockey team hosts Illinois State at 3:30 p.m. Thursday south of Lantz.

The proposed fast action will be stimulated because of the fierce rivalry between the two schools, Temple said.

"There's a good rivalry between us, mainly because of the basketball, volleyball and softball coaches leaving here to coach at Illinois State two years ago. The girls are really up for the game," Temple said.

"They are an aggressive team. We tied them last year 1-1 and my guess is that they are very comparable this year," the coach of the 2-0 Panthers said.

However, Coach Temple is hoping that the aggressive play she expects will not be a disadvantage for the Panthers.

"Our team tends to hold back against an aggressive team. Most of the girls grew up in the old hockey tradition where there's no pushing or shoving. We've worked on being more aggressive this week," she said.

Commenting on Illinois State's ability, Temple said, "I saw them play earlier this season and they had some passing problems and weren't too sure of their assignments, but I would imagine they have worked on this," Temple said.

The most important factor in Temple's mind concerning Thursday's game and every game is whether her team communicates.

"Communication on the field will be the most important aspect of any game we play," she said.

Noting how her team's communication has not quite reached her level of satisfaction, Temple said, "They're getting better with it. They're getting better every day."

This need for improvement has been given attention on the practice field this week in preparation for Thursday's game.

"We have been working on talking to each other and being aware of where your teammates and your opponents are on the field," Temple said.

Injuries and the initial adjustment to who can play where have prevented Temple from establishing a set line up this season, which she feels will get the team talking.

"If I can get a set line up, it should solve the problem," she said.

The third-year coach also said she feels that leadership will help her squad's communication.

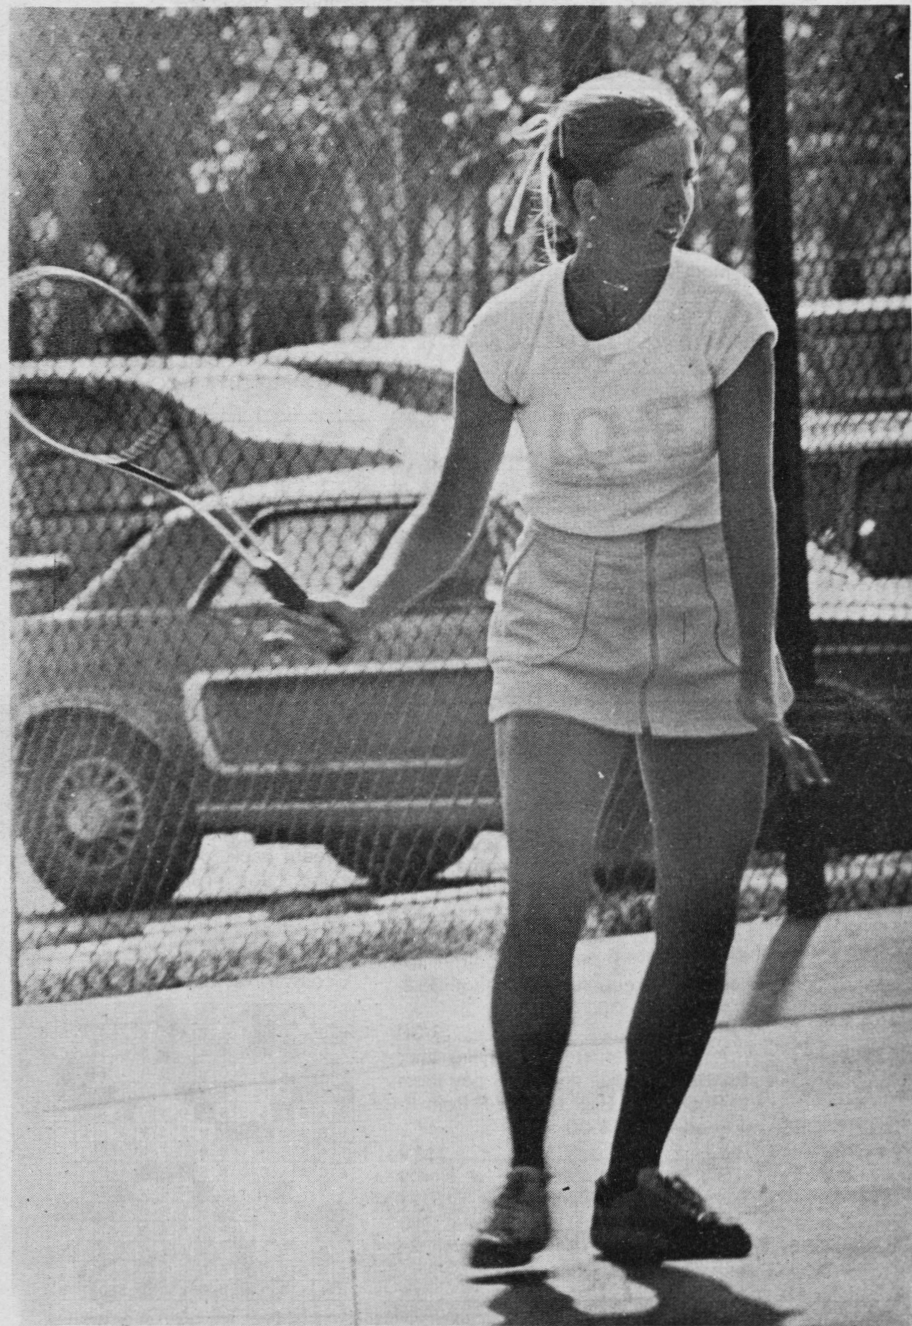

"Leaders are emerging everyday, and as that happens, so does communication," Temple said.

Some of her players who are emerging as leaders are Sue Spinner, Donna Macios, Gigi McIntosh, and Sue Carr, Temple said.

"We're looking for leadership from Sue (Carr) and we're starting to get it. She is in a critical spot (center thrust) on the field to be a leader on defense," she said.

Concerning her line up, Temple sees no changes from the one used in the Panthers' last contest, a 2-1 victory over Ball State.

"Depending on the weather, I'd like to keep our starters in there the whole game. If it's hot and humid we'll use our subs," she said.

Netters lose opener

Betsey Guzior

A combination of factors led to Eastern's women's tennis team's home-opening 6-3 loss to a powerful Illinois State team Tuesday.

"There were a few matches that we choked in," Earley said. "And Illinois State is always a tough team to play."

Jill Anderson, Patty Groth and Deb Belton all lost their matches in straight sets, 1-6, 6-7, 1-6, 1-6 and 0-6, 0-6 respectively.

"I expected the three matches to be closer," Earley said.

However, Josie Roberto came back to win her singles match in three sets, 4-6, 7-6 and 6-4 while Janet Haberkorn won her singles match 6-2, 6-2.

Kristen Peterson also lost 5-7, 3-6.

In doubles action, the team of Haberkorn and Peterson lost a three-hour match 7-6, 5-7 and 4-6.

Groth and Roberto provided the only doubles win for the Panthers with a 6-2, 6-4 victory.

"Patty and Josie played as a team. They had control of the whole match," Earley said.

A second Eastern doubles team of Anderson and Belton lost their match 2-6, 0-6.

The Panthers next matches will be Friday and Saturday at a quadrangular meet at Sangamon State in Springfield.

Reserved tickets $3

Reserved student tickets for the Eastern-Indiana State football game in Terre Haute Saturday night may be purchased for $3 at the Lantz Ticket Office, assistant athletic director Ron Paap said.

All reserved seats were previously thought to cost $6, but Paap said he learned of the correct student reserved ticket prices Wednesday.

Tickets may be purchased at Lantz from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday and from 9 a.m. till noon Friday, Paap said.
