Green Bay coach calls fans (expletive deleted)

Dave Buss

by Dave Shanks

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—Eastern's basketball fans were called "horse-shit" Friday night by Wisconsin-Green Bay Head Basketball Coach Dave Buss following his team's 58-43 victory over Eastern in the semifinal game of the national tournament.

"The victory was a very, very, sweet victory for a number of reasons," the head coach said. "Being in the championship is one reason."

"Also, we play Eastern only one more time because our contract runs out after that, and that game is at Green Bay. I like Don Eddy and I think he is an excellent coach and he has a nice staff and a very, very good ballclub."

"But I just think his fans are horseshit," Buss said.

The coach continued, "They sounded fine tonight because they were so far away. Down there (at Eastern), they pack people right behind your bench and shout obscenities at you."

"When I think of Eastern, that's what I think of, the raunchiness that you have to put up with," he said.

Nearly 1,000 Eastern fans were seated in the upper deck balcony area at the tournament, far from the playing floor.

"They had lousy seats and I'm glad they did. They were up there where they belonged, up there hanging from the rafters," Buss said.

"Not only did we beat them, but we beat them with those rotten son-of-a-bitches," he said.

At the tournament, Panther Head Coach Don Eddy said, "There's no question about it, he's jealous—that's his problem. Our fans will do their best to beat Dave Buss (Saturday)."

Athletic Director Mike Mullally echoed Eddy's belief by saying, "Our fans are the best in the country. They're not obnoxious in any way, shape or form. Anyone who says anything else is simply jealous."

"They're loud and they are an asset to any team. We're not going to trade them for anybody," he said.

During the presentation of trophies, Mullally held up a sign for Eastern fans which said, "EIU fans are number one."

1,200 fans 'co-starred' with Panther cagers

by Glenna Neubert

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. - "We are. . .EIU. We are. . .EIU"

Cries like these were heard Friday and Saturday nights from the rafters of Hammons Student Center in Springfield, Mo. as over 1,200 Panther fans co-starred with the Panther cagers at the Division II NCAA championship games.

Dreaming up every cheer they could, from "Whoosh" and "Silent Cheer" to a revised rendition of Queen's "We Will Rock You" (just the clapping and stomping part), the Eastern fans were the driving force of tournament action.

"Our fans really helped this tournament," President Daniel E. Marvin said. "Without our fans at this tournament, there would not have been the excitement and enthusiasm that there was."

The number one cheerleader added, "I think our fans are great."

Panther-mania prevailed, even though Dave Buss, the John Denver look-alike head coach from University of Wisconsin-Green Bay made mud-slinging comments at a press conference, in which he referred to Eastern fans as "horseshit."

"Hanging from the rafters" of the gym became an honored position as the unified mass of Eastern fans, undaunted by Friday's loss, encouraged their cagers to capture the third place crown.

Eastern's win was only the first chapter of a success story at Saturday's championship game however.

Teaming up with the cheering section from Cheyney State, which Miners consider contract

by The Associated Press

The United Mine Workers rank and file, which has the final say on whether to end the 105-day coal strike, began meeting in union locals Monday for a first wary look at the contract that could halt the walkout by next week.

Reaction varied from disappointed opposition to resigned acceptance.

Monday's meetings were the first of hundreds of sessions to be held across the coalfields Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Pope ill, Easter plans cut

VATICAN CITY (AP) - Stricken with flu and battling a persistent fever, 80-year-old Pope Paul VI canceled most of his Easter Week activities Monday, raising concern for his health.

It is the first time in his 15-year reign the Pope has skipped most Holy Week activities.

The Vatican announced Monday the Pope was being treated with antibiotics and was making progress, but said his doctors advised a "prudent abstention from his heavy commitments for the next days."

Scott's aides subpoenaed

CHICAGO (AP) - Attorney General William Scott Monday said his top aides have been subpoenaed by the U.S. Attorney's office for "the sole purpose... of harassment and intimidation."

"Their subpoenas disrupt our normal operations, breaches security and confidentiality," Scott told an election-eve news conference.

The grand jury is investigating the possibility that Scott illegally spent campaign contributions for personal expenses without reporting the money on his income taxes.

Security tight in Nazi trial

CHICAGO (AP) - The government set up extraordinary security Monday at the opening of the trial of Frank Walus, who prosecutors have identified as a former Gestapo agent responsible for killing Jews in the 1940s.

The government wants to revoke Walus' citizenship because he allegedly hid his Gestapo activities from immigration officials in 1970.

About 20 U.S. marshals were stationed in and around the courtroom of Judge Julius J. Hoffman of U.S. District Court.

The number of courtroom spectators and reporters were limited and they were required to pass through a special checkpoint.

Kent State suit upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) - Ohio authorities must face a $46 million damage suit for National Guard shootings of Kent State University students in 1970, the Supreme Court said Monday.

By denying the appeals of Gov. James Rhodes and members of the Ohio National Guard, the court cleared the way for a new federal trial in Cleveland.

Surviving relatives of the four slain students and the nine students wounded in the tragic incident sued state officials for alleged civil rights violations.

Threat stops 11 trains

CHICAGO (AP) - Eleven Amtrak passenger trains were stopped and searched for explosives Sunday night because of a telephoned threat, a railroad spokesman said Monday.

Nothing out of the ordinary was found and the trains continued to their destinations, said Robert Casey, a public relations officer for Amtrak.

The trains were stopped in Illinois, Michigan and Ohio.

"Some kook called in and said, 'One of your trains is going to blow up,'" Casey said. He said the call was made about 7 p.m. to the central reservation office in Chicago.

Senate to hear final plans

by Sue Leibforth and Rich Bauer

The Faculty Senate Tuesday will hear a revised proposal for changes in the current student-faculty board system.

The senate will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Union addition Martinsville Room.

Robert Shuff, senate chairperson, said Don Dotzauer, student executive vice president, will present the board proposal, which is based on recommendations made by the Faculty Senate last fall.

The Student Senate approved the revised board proposal Thursday.

Dotzauer said recently his proposals will "make the boards easier to coordinate" and also will change the present format so the student board members are accountable only to the student chairperson of their respective boards.

Major revisions in Dotzauer's proposals include moving the Eastern News from the Communications-Media Board to the Publications Board and eliminating the Model United Nations Board.

Student Body President Tom Holden said Monday the Model United Nations program itself is not being eliminated, but is being moved to the jurisdiction of the Communications-Media Board.

The proposal will reduce the number of faculty on the boards and change the appointment procedure for faculty board candidates.

Bylaw changes okayed

by Rich Bauer

The Student Senate Thursday passed the portions of student government bylaw revisions dealing with executive officer salaries.

Under the proposed bylaws, the student body president, executive vice president and the financial vice president will all receive tuition and fees.

The collective bargaining representative and the Board of Governors representative will receive tuition under these proposals.

Presently, the student body president, and the executive and financial vice presidents receive reimbursement for tuition and fees.

The bargaining and BOG representatives presently receive tuition reimbursement.

CGS to review report

A subcommittee report recommending criteria for judging graduate school applicants from unaccredited colleges will be heard by the Council on Graduate Studies (CGS) at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Union addition Paris Room.

CGS chairperson Jon Laible said Tuesday that although the committee might also consider certain course requests before them, the meeting will center on the committee report.

"The primary purpose is to settle this unaccredited issue. The committee will give us its recommendations on the criteria which ought to be used by the council in evaluating the preparation of students from unaccredited colleges," Laible said.

Halls give $550 to Enochs' fund

Several residence halls announced Thursday at the Residence Hall Association meeting that they will donate a total of $550 to the Richard Enochs' Memorial fund.

Enochs, former director of married housing, died March 6.

Thomas Hall and the Triad will each donate $200 to the Enochs fund, while Lawson and Taylor Halls will each donate $50. The Lincoln-Stevenson-Douglas complex will contribute $25 from each dorm.

Louis Hencken, housing director, said he has recommended to Vice President of Student Affairs Glen Williams that East Hall be renamed Enochs Hall.

Students should vote Tuesday in primary

Since primary elections are traditionally viewed with little enthusiasm, most political observers are predicting a low voter turnout Tuesday. We'd like to prove them wrong.

Eastern students and faculty can once again prove to the Charleston community that we care about the quality of officials that serve us.

Polls will be open from 6 a.m. until 6 p.m., with most students voting in either Precinct 15, 16 or 17.

Lincoln-Stevenson-Douglas complex and Married Student Housing voters will cast their ballots at the United Campus Ministry on South Fourth Street.

Residents of Andrews, Ford, Lawson, McKinney, Pemberton, Taylor, Thomas and Weller Halls will vote in Precinct 16, while Carman and East Hall voters together with most apartment dwellers south of Carman Hall will vote in Precinct 17. Both precincts will vote in the University Union Grand Ballroom.

Although we have not made endorsements for the primary because of the number of candidates, interviews with many of the area candidates have appeared recently in the Eastern News.

We hope students will take advantage of this opportunity to elect their national, state and local officials, the politicians who can do the most for students.

In November 1976, more than 1,000 students in then Precinct 16 voted, showing the Charleston area that Eastern can be an effective voting power.

We'd like to see that kind of turnout again Tuesday.

Dance-a-thon

Editor, Easter Seals would like to acknowledge all those at the University who helped to make the disco dance-a-thon on February 25-26 a success.

The Society is grateful to the many groups and individuals who donated their time and energy and would like to see them recognized for their contribution.

Eastern can take pride in the contribution of these volunteers.

They include the Residence Hall Association which was a co-sponsor of the dance-a-thon, WELH and the Eastern News who did a super job in publicizing and promoting the event, the WELH jocks who volunteered their time and special skills to run the dance-a-thon itself, and especially the students from Eastern who participated and made the occasion a lot of fun.

In many ways, Eastern is No. 1

Standing up

Editor, In response to the letter written by Elmer Pullen, Jimmie Franklin, Johnetta Jones, James E. Johnson and Janice L. Rambo, I would like to say that these people may not have considered the reasons the "gutless writer" did not sign his name to his letter.

Letters to the Editor

A letter, such as the one he wrote, could stir up considerable controversy. People who write such letters to the editor many times become the object of personal harassment and abuse.

This abuse will sometimes not only come in the form of joking friends, who gain pleasure from embarrassing and teasing the letter writer, but also in the form of obscene and/or threatening phone calls and direct confrontation from the unhappy subjects of the letter. (In this case, those subjects would be the individuals of a certain minority group who do not stand up for the National Anthem.)

If someone on this campus wants to let his feelings on a certain issue be known, without the risk of harassment from anyone, I think he has the right to do so.

A letter to the editor is the perfect way to achieve this.

It not only lets the writer get his message across, but it also allows those people who disagree to make a rebuttal in a civilized manner.

I would like to make a rebuttal to both of the letters mentioned above.

First of all, I agree with the numerous letter writers of the second letter (which appeared on February 23), that Name withheld, the author of the first letter (which appeared on February 21), might have chosen a better example to support his views, than the black coach of the Tennessee State basketball team.

I agree that this coach acted a bit out of line, but most coaches (black or white) are usually known to do this, to some degree, at one time or another.

However, just because I think name withheld could have found a better example does not mean I disagree with his original point.

On the contrary, I too think something should be said about those members of a certain minority group who do not stand for the playing of our National Anthem, or insist on disturbing the rest of the crowd with their loud talking and laughing.

I think the fact that they greatly disturb the people standing around them, with their noise, is what bothers me the most.

This is my fourth year at Eastern, and I have been a witness to this conduct for all four years, but have not, until now had the "guts" to voice my opinion.

Many of those individuals are here at Eastern only because our government provides grants for them because they are "underprivileged" and deserve an equal opportunity.

I find nothing wrong with this and I am in favor of equal opportunity for all, but many equally needy non-minority students are deprived of a college education or have to take out loans to attend, because they are not eligible for these grants, because of the color of their skin. (That situation though, can be debated another time.)

The fact is that the United States of America is our country. That includes everyone.

All of us, as citizens of this great country reap countless benefits and opportunities that we might very well be deprived of somewhere else.

Contrary to the opinion of the numerous writers of the second letter, I believe any American who stands respectfully for our National Anthem could not possibly be disgracing our country.

I also believe this was a cheap stab at Whites, made by the authors of the second letter.

Again, America is our country and as citizens we have a right to disagree with some of her policies or laws, but I don't believe we have a right to show disrespect for her or our fellow Americans in the way exhibited by a few individuals of a certain minority group.

As can be seen by the signature on this letter, I feel I have the right to express my views without fear of harassment.

Name withheld by request

IM obstacles

Editor, We wish to compliment the I.M. office for their complete botching up of the Residence Hall basketball tournament this weekend.

Not only were the participants uninformed about procedures, but it seemed as if the I.M. supervisor could really care less.

We are not wanting to take anything away from the other teams, as they were subject to the same obstacles as we.

What we would like to see is a more effective running of I.M. activities in the future.

Internships available

Internships in the Washington D.C. area are being offered to Eastern students in conjunction with the Co-operative Education office and the Washington Center for Learning Alternatives.

The internships, which will be available for fall semester Jane Ziegler, co-ordinator for Co-operative Education, said the internships, which will be available for fall semester, will be in congressional offices and executive agencies.

Internships in other areas of interest, such as the environment, consumer affairs, journalism, communications, the arts, business and public relations can be arranged.

Placement is available in a wide range of interests for majors of any discipline, Ziegler said.

Ziegler added that most interns are juniors, seniors or graduate students, but that some sophomores had participated in the program.

April 12 is the application deadline for fall semester. Those interested should contact either Ziegler in Room 11 of the Student Services Building, or Leonard Wood, director of Co-operative Education, Room 213, Student Services Building.

Health training available

Majors in health related fields can gain work experience or on the job training with the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Md., during summer and fall semesters.

Jane Ziegler co-ordinator of Co-operative Education, said Monday students in the program would act as a control group for studies on the effect of sleep, diet, exercise and chemicals on the human metabolism. There will also be research on biofeedback.

Participants will receive travel expenses to and from Bethesda, room and board and a $10.50 a day living allowance for the semester they work with the program.

Deadline for applications for the programs is March 24. Interviews will be held March 28 and 29 for summer and fall semesters. Interested persons should contact Ziegler, in Room 11 of the Student Services Building.

Education film scheduled

Eastern's School of Education will sponsor the third in a series of film seminars on major issues in education at 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Buzzard Education Building Room 202.

The film, entitled "Productivity and the Self-fulfilling Prophecy: The Pygmalion Effect," depicts how both positive and negative results of the self-fulfilling prophecy were obtained in an elementary school, Janet Koch of the elementary Education Department said Tuesday.

The film will also examine the teacher expectation of student performance, Koch said.

There will also be a discussion period after the film, she said.

Glen Walter of the Educational Psychology and Guidance Department will serve as faculty moderator at the discussion, she added.

'Seascape' to be given

The Five O'Clock Theatre production of "Seascape" will be presented at 5 p.m. Tuesday in the Doudna Center Playroom.

"Seascape," by Edward Albee, is the story "of a middle-aged couple vacationing at the beach who confront two lizards who come up from the ocean," junior Katie Sullivan, play director, said Monday.

Appearing in the roles of the middle age couple are freshman Kathy Lampen and graduate student Jim Osborne.

The lizard couple will be portrayed by freshmen Dana Grigoroff and Lew Hages, Sullivan said.

There is no admission for "Seascape."

Recital to feature faculty members

Music Department faculty members George and Karen Sanders will present a recital at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Dvorak Concert Hall.

The program will open with George Sanders' performance of Liszt's Funerailles, to be followed by Hayden's Penultimate Sonata in D major.

Karen Sanders will then present

Bartok's Improvisations on Hungarian Peasant Songs, George Sanders said recently.

The Sanders will then perform together five selections by Chopin.

Karen Sanders will conclude the program with F major Impromptu, the D-flat Nocturne and Fantasie-Impromptu, George Sanders said.

Fans back Panthers to third place crown

Eastern out-numbered 30 to 1, Panther fans lead the Wolves to triumph over Green Bay.

Once Cheyney State took the court, Eastern shared their "Go Big Blue" buttons with the Wolves, who are also blue and white.

Eastern cheers became Cheyney's cheers and the rafters rang with the same "Whoosh" and stomp that accompanied every Panther tournament game.

Perhaps the magical force which sparked the "EIU--Cheyney State" cries was revenge on Green Bay's coach, who later choked on his own words after a 47-40 loss.

But another reason for the intercollegiate thirst to root may well be described as a real and genuine display of school pride.

"I don't know any place where the fans are as faithful and fired up as they are here," Panther cager coach Don Eddy said.

"They are not to be denied and you cannot ignore them," he added.

After a thrilling victory for Cheyney State and about 400 rounds of "EIU-Cheyney State," the fans returned to tournament headquarters at the Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge yelling "Party, party" and feeling good inside about sharing the spirit born in a sleepy, midwestern college.

The cheering was not over yet. Assembled around the motel pool, fans gathered to welcome home their cagers and pay homage once again.

The "stars" joined their admirers at the pool and for awhile it appeared that all that would come out of the evening would be hoarse voices, a post-season dip in the pool for Charlie

Thomas and Lance Jones and chapped lips for Craig DeWitt who was flanked by female fans.

But then the Cheyney State champs joined the party and the atmosphere changed.

Cheyney cagers voiced their appreciation for the Panther support with "We are number one and you are number two" cheers.

College basketball fans will never be the same after the precedent Eastern set last weekend. No school can ever match the spirit Eastern created all with a clap, stomp and yell.

Grapplers lose early at Division I

by Rudy Ruettiger

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - What a difference a week makes.

Two weeks ago grapplers Ralph McCausland and Robin Ayres came back from Division II nationals on top of the world, when they grabbed a national championship and a second place, respectively.

This past weekend McCausland made the trip back from NCAA I nationals disappointed and maybe a little bit hungry for a return trip next season.

Ayres a senior will not get another chance to wrestle in the most prestigious tournament in college wrestling, completing his second year at Eastern after transferring from Bismark Junior College in 1975.

McCausland's mat time was limited to one match, in the rattails where he lost a close 5-4 decision to Virginia's Bob Harwick.

McCausland was down 4-2 going into the final period. He managed a reversal in the final eight seconds to tie the score but Harwick had built up riding time to gain the deciding point.

Ayres was a bit more successful than his teammate, pinning his first opponent but dropping a 12-9 decision to Pittsburgh's Bill Bailey in round two.

Ayres' fall came over Gregg Larson of Delaware in a time of 3:13 seconds.

Both Ayres and McCausland were not able to get into the wrestlebacks because the wrestlers that defeated them did not make it to the semifinal competition.

Head coach Ron Clinton was disappointed in the performances because he said Ayres and McCausland did not wrestle to their capacities.

"There weren't any, what you would call bad kids in the tournament. Everyone who qualified was a quality wrestler," Clinton said. "They (McCausland and Ayres) were a little tight going into their first round matches.

McCausland drew first round rattail match, a match that is wrestled before the preliminaries because 30 or more wrestlers qualified in his weight class.

"Ralph did not get a chance to get unwound in his early match," Clinton said. "It was in the early morning (10 a.m.) and we weren't prepared for the match. Maybe it was my fault he was not ready."

"I wasn't prepared to wrestle in the rattails," McCausland said. "It (his first match) came up so quickly I wasn't able to mentally prepare myself for it. Physically though, I was ready, but came into the meet on a low key after wrestling at Division II."

Clinton and McCausland both agreed that it was good experience in getting a taste of Division I wrestling and just being able to watch the matches.

"It will benefit Ralph for next year, Clinton said. "He now knows what it will take to win it at a higher level of wrestling. He will know it takes more intensity and desire to win next season.

"I could have wrestled much better than I did," Ayres said. "I felt I should have placed.

"In my second match I gave up six points right away and you can't hope to come back giving away that many points early. I was not as mentally prepared for this tournament as I was for Division II."

Tankers place disappointing 18th at nationals

by Ron Cohen

SPRINGFIELD, Mass.—The Panther swimmers completed their season this weekend with a disappointing 18th (33 points) place finish at the NCAA II Championship finals.

Eastern brought a 13 member team, one of the largest to Springfield but could only score in five individual events.

Head coach Ray Padovan who had expected a much better showing out of his tankers expressed disappointment and regret with the Panthers poor finish.

"We can't be happy with our finish," he said. "It's the worst we've placed in ten years."

"We also didn't have a good team meet," Padovan said. "They looked so good coming in that I really thought we'd have a better meet."

Junior Joe Nitch placed among the top twelve in two individual events and one relay to repeat as an All-American for the third straight year.

Nitch finished fourth in the 1650 freestyle with a time of 16:13.6 and then was clocked at 4:41.4 in the 500

Joe Nitch

free to place sixth.

The 800 yard freestyle relay team of Scott Bolin, Mike Foley, Dave Watson and Nitch placed eighth with a time of 7:04.1.

The only other Panther to score was senior backstroke Charlie Dunn who also repeated as an All-American for the first time since his freshman year. Dunn placed eleventh in the 100 (55.4) and twelfth in the 200 (2:00.83).

"I don't know whether it was the long trip or the pool we were swimming in or what but we just didn't hit the times we were hoping for," the head mentor said.

"That pool (Springfield) is a lot slower than the Clarion St. pool (the original site for the meet)," he said. "But everybody had to swim in it."

Other Panthers who finished reasonably high but did not score any points were John Oller (15th 200 fly), Steve Boone (16th 100 and 200 breast) and Joel Edwards (17th 200 I.M.).

Defending NCAA National champion Cal-Northridge easily defended their crown with 308 points while Cal-Chico was second with 269 points.

Cross state rival Western Illinois University was a disappointing eleventh with only 51 points. They had previously been ranked sixth nationally by Swimming World Magazine.

Eastern loses swimmers via graduation this year, All-American seniors Dunn and Bolin.

"It has been a disappointing year," Padovan said. "We don't really lose that much so if we can get out and have a good recruiting year there is a lot of potential for next year."

Kommer lost to Marcello Puiggari 7-6, 6-1 at first singles, Siler defeated

Scott Loos at second singles 7-6, 1-6, 6-3 and Rick Haden beat Brian Mathews 4-6, 6-1, 6-1 in the third spot.

Manuel crushed Brad Lake 6-4, 6-7, 6-0 at fourth singles and Hatfield won over Ed Tappul 6-3-6-1 in the fifth singles spot. Pence closed the singles routing with an easy win himself, winning 6-0, 6-3 over Tim Riefsnyder.

In doubles action Kommer-Siler won 7-6, 6-7, 6-4 but Patterson-Manuel dropped a tough 7-6, 7-6 decision to Loos-Lake in the second spot.

Closing out the doubles was Hatfield-McDonald—they defeated Tappul, Riefsnyder 6-2, 6-1.

Closing out the weekend in the quadrangular meet, Eastern was defeated by St. Louis University 8-1 Saturday afternoon.

Siler, in the No. 1 spot, lost 6-2, 6-2 to Steve Prince as did Kommer 6-3, 6-1 to Lee Blount in the second spot.

Haden was defeated by Mario Baretto 6-2, 6-3 and Hatfield fell to Peter Wong in three sets 3-6, 6-4, 6-2 at fourth singles.

In fifth singles, Patterson was edged by Mike Schafly 3-6, 6-2, 6-3 and Pence dropped a 7-5, 6-3 match to Bill Bruin at sixth singles.

In doubles action Hatfield-McDonald downed Wong-Baretto 7-6, 6-3 in the No. 1 spot for Eastern's only win.
