Glover proposes $8 fee increase

by Carolyn Waller

Due to inflation and in order to bring Eastern in line financially with sister institutions in Division I," Student Body President Bob Glover said this year's proposed athletic operational fee increase is $2 more than last spring's proposed $6 increase. The proposed $8 increase also provides that freshmen this year will not have to pay another athletic fee increase during the four years they attend Eastern, Glover said.

Eastern Athletic Director R.C. Johnson agreed that another increase would not be necessary for awhile if this proposal is approved.

An additional $1 would be added to the fee to support the cheerleaders, pep band, marching band and Pink Panthers, bringing the total increase to $9.

The other $8 of the proposed increase would go toward the operating costs of Eastern's athletic programs—namely expenditures for travel, equipment, uniforms, lodging and food for both men's and women's sports.

Also if the proposal is passed, student admission costs would be reduced from $1.50 to $1 for football games and from $1 to 50 cents for basketball games.

Glover cited Illinois State, Northern Illinois University and Southern Illinois Universities in Carbondale and Edwardsville as "sister institutions" because Eastern will be playing these schools after gaining Division I status.

Those four institutions are now receiving athletic fees in the $50-$60 range per student a year while Eastern currently receives $43 for athletic operations and scholarships per year, Glover said.

Eastern students now pay $8.55 per semester for athletic operations and if the increase referendum is approved, students will be paying $16.55 per semester.

The proposal states that $1 out of the $9 will be distributed among the athletic support groups—pep and marching bands, the Pink Panthers and the cheerleaders.

Glover said the pep and marching bands and the Pink Panthers are now under the general music budget which receives money from the Apportionment Board. The support groups will be under the general music budget and the athletic department budget if the increase is approved.

Student Body Financial Vice President Todd Daniels and Executive

Vice President Dan Hunnicutt reviewed the music budget and decided what monies for the bands and Pink Panthers could be directly related to athletics. With referendum approval, that projected sum would go to the athletic department budget to be distributed to the bands and Pink Panthers.

Placing those groups under two budgets would "free more student activity fee money for other activities", Glover said.

Glover was unsure what budget the cheerleaders were under, but stressed that no group would be funded twice.

Although no student polls have been conducted to find out how students feel toward the proposed increase, Glover said he has spoken with student senators about the proposal. He added he has received mixed reactions from students he has talked to in his office and classes about the increase.

He said "students will become more aware" of what the increase is about when he begins going out among the students and discussing "just the facts".

Glover said he will "honor the students' wishes 100 percent" after the referendum vote.

PFM takes over Union food service

by Yvonne Beeler and Melinda DeVries

With the renovations being completed over the weekend in the University Union Panther Lair, Professional Food Management Corporation will officially take over the food service starting at 7 a.m. Monday, Union Area Head Bill Clark said.

During the past few days, PFM has been working with Eastern Physical Plant workers to rearrange the Lair. Last week, student workers were cleaning up the debris from the renovation to ready the food services for the Monday debut under new management.

"The PFM will be opening up the food service with new menus and concepts," Clark said.

One of the new concepts PFM is making room for is a "scatter system" serving line operation, Ivan Key, midwestern manager of the PFM corporation, said.

The "scatter system" idea will incorporate different food service "stations" in the service line. Key said there will be an old fashioned bakery case, a fresh fruit stand, a Mexican food section and a "fast food" option with popular items like hamburgers.

The cost of the remodeling project is $7,000, which Eastern is covering through revenue bonds.

"The university union staff and the Union Board is tremendously excited about the work PFM has already done in arranging the food service to better serve the campus community," Clark said.

"The old service was just not quick enough," Clark added.

Although PFM is still planning new things for the future, the Union food services will basically look the same for the next two years, Clark said.

Key said in December PFM will redecorate the Panther Lair with new lighting, floors and furniture.

Within the year, Key added, PFM will begin the third phase of the Union renovations in the Rathskeller. There will be an Italian food area, a steak house concept and a pizza house.

Clark said the whole operation should run smoother because there will be eight or nine management people compared to the three the university had. He said the managers are specialists and have a better knowledge of what to do when certain problems arise.

Dean to discuss relations of U.S., China

by Peggy Schneider

David Dean, an expert on mainland China and Taiwan, will discuss whether the next president should reassess U.S. relations with the People's Republic of China and with the Republic of China at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the University Union Old Ballroom.

Dean, who is chairman of the board of the American Institute in Taiwan, is the highest American official responsible for the execution of U.S. politics in Taiwan, Larry Thorsen, chairman of the political science department said.

Dean also served as the Deputy Chief of the U.S. Liaison Office in Peking from 1976 to 1978, Thorsen said.

Three receptions honoring Dean will be held Tuesday and Wednesday and a luncheon will be held at 11:45 p.m. Wednesday in the Old Ballroom at a cost of $4.75 per plate.

Luncheon reservations may be made by calling the political science department at 581-2523.

Conditions for hostage release conflict

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Iranian lawmakers gave conflicting assessments Sunday concerning when the Majlis, or Parliament, might decide conditions for the release of American hostages in Iran.

A hardline legislator said consideration of the fate of the 52 Americans will have to wait until the Iran-Iraq war is over. But the speaker of the 270-seat Majlis, Ayatollah Hashemi Rafsanjani, was quoted as saying the conditions would be decided upon "by the end of this week."

Assadollah Bayat, a member of Parliament from Zanjan, 200 miles northwest of Tehran, said, "as long as there is the question of war the issue of hostages is not important." Reached by telephone from Beirut, Lebanon, Bayat said the Majlis was to meet Tuesday, but that the hostage issue was still in the hands of a seven-member committee and there were no immediate plans for full debate on the subject.

Bayat said the conditions for the hostages' release would be determined after the committee completes a study of U.S.-Iran economic agreements under the late shah's regime. He said he could not predict how long that would take, and was asked if the subject would be put off until the end of the war.

"Definitely," he said.

But a Swedish radio correspondent, Agneta Ramberg, had an exclusive interview with Rafsanjani on Sunday. In a broadcast from Tehran, she quoted him as saying: "The Iranian parliament will make its decision on the hostage issue immediately after the special parliamentary commission that is working now has presented a plan, and that will happen by the end of this week at the latest."

The statements followed Iranian

Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajai's prediction at a news conference in New York on Saturday that the Majlis' decision on the hostages was not far away."

Rajai presented Iran's case in the Persian Gulf war before the United Nations Security Council Friday. He held a news conference the next day in which he contended that four American reconnaissance planes deployed in Saudi Arabia recently were gathering information on Iranian troop movements for relay to the Iraqis. He called the planes "obstacles to solving the hostage question."

Rajai indicated that the Parliament's decision on the hostages would be unilateral, not subject to negotiations.

Sec. of State Edmund Muskie responded to Rajai's statement that the Majlis or Parliament would set the

St. Helens is still kicking

VANCOUVER, Wash.—Mount St. Helens showed no signs of settling down Sunday, after five outbursts of steam and volcanic ash in 48 hours, even though a lava plug was forming rapidly in the throat of the volcano's crater, scientists said.

"We're still in an eruptive phase," said Susan Russell-Robinson, a geologist with the U.S. Geological Survey.

About 10 hours after the plug, or dome, of hot semi-molten rock began forming in the crater, a deep earthquake too weak to measure was recorded late Saturday night, said A.B. Adams at the University of Washington geophysics center in Seattle.

Seismologists say previous eruptions this year have ended with a pattern of deep quakes of greater intensity than the shallow, frequent and weak tremors which typically occur during eruptions.

There were no reports of injuries or damage in the latest eruptions.

Since the explosive May 18 eruption that killed 34 people and left 28 missing and presumed dead, Mount St. Helens has twice blown out domes that formed after earlier eruptions. By Sunday afternoon, the new dome was already bigger than either of the earlier two. The May 18 eruption blew away about 1,300 feet of the mountain's peak.

Absence common in house

CHICAGO—An average of 20 percent of the members of the Illinois House were absent and did not vote on each roll call during the 1980 legislative session, a citizens' watchdog group said Sunday.

The Coalition for Political Honesty released results of its month-long study, which showed that an average of 35 of the 177 members of the Illinois House were absent during each session ending in July.

Patrick Quinn, a coalition spokesman, said in a telephone interview that the House absentee rate is "disgraceful. It shows what poor work habits exist right now," he said. "No private business would tolerate that."

The study does not cite reasons for the absentee records.

Quinn said the study shows the need to reduce the size of the Legislature. The coalition is campaigning in support of the legislative cutback amendment - a binding referendum to be voted on Nov. 4, which proposes cutting the size of the House from 177 to 118 members. The referendum also recommends single-legislature districts, instead of the current three-member districts.

KKK rally brings out blacks

MOUNT VERNON, Ill.—Blacks outnumbered whites at a local motel where the Ku Klux Klan was having a rally.

"We weren't seeking a confrontation, we just wanted to see who was attending this rally," said black leader Eddie James as he and a group of 40 or 50 blacks milled about the parking lot Saturday night jotting down license numbers.

Inside the meeting hall, Imperial Wizard Bill Wilkinson told a group of 20 whites that the blacks were responsible for the small turnout because their presence "intimidated people who are supportive of our cause and would have been here." Wilkinson, himself dressed in a gray suit, said robed and hooded Klansmen had passed out literature earlier and found "about 85 percent of the people agreed with what we stand for."

The rally, said the Rev. William Lash, is a "backlash from what happened during the summer at the laborers' hall."

Undecided voters hold election key

Undecided voters hold the key to whether Jimmy Carter or Ronald Reagan wins Illinois. A victory in the Land of Lincoln is crucial for seizing the Nov. 4 jackpot.

Illinois is one of nine battleground states where the candidates are targeting their efforts because so much is at stake in the way of electoral votes. Illinois, with 26, is richest in the Midwest and tied with Texas as fourth highest in the nation.

It also has a tradition of voting with the winner. The 1976 election, when Carter lost the state by 112,974 votes, 2,271,295 to Gerald Ford's 2,384,269, marked the first time since 1932 that the presidential winner failed to carry Illinois.

Fueling interest is the fact two native sons are running. Reagan was born in Tampico and independent John B. Anderson in Rockford — 50 miles apart in the northwest corner of the state.

Significantly, the Democratic president has gained impressively in Illinois among suburban women, two major polls show, largely by nurturing fears about the war issue through his labeling of Reagan as reckless and liable to draw American into a conflict.

Reagan must assuage those fears, says his state campaign chairman, State Rep. Donald Totten of Schaumburg. "It's especially of concern to women voters, and there have to be assurances made..."

Candidates—plea bargaining is necessary

by Jerry Fallstrom

State's Attorney candidates Nancy Owen of Mattoon and Lonnie Lutz of Charleston "debated" issues Thursday but expressed agreement on many of them.

Both Owen and Lutz agreed on the need for plea bargaining at the debate sponsored by the pre-law fraternity.

"Plea bargaining is best characterized as a necessary evil," Lutz said. He said most cases in Coles County are "plea bargained away" before they go to a bench or jury trial.

"There are too few judges, too few jurors and too few lawyers," Lutz said. "It's a case of numbers."

Owen said that while she does not want to "give the courthouse away," plea bargaining is needed if the sentence agreed upon is appropriate.

The two candidates said they would seek the death penalty if a crime committed called for it.

"I would not hesitate to ask for the death penalty if I had a strong case and if the case fit the state's guidelines," Owen said.

Lutz agreed, but added, "I personally have my doubts as to whether the death penalty has been effective."

The major issue Owen and Lutz

disagreed on was experience necessary for the job.

Owen, 38, said her five years experience as Coles County public defender better qualify her for state's attorney.

"The main difference between myself and Lonnie is more experience," Owen said. "I've had several murder trials and I feel that this experience is helpful. I also feel I've had more life experience, just because I'm older."

The 31-year-old Lutz has worked with Owen as an assistant public defender since 1978. He said he has had ample experience to be a successful state's attorney.

"As far as background, I have had a wide range of life experiences," Lutz said. "I have had experience with people of all socio-economic levels."

Lutz, a graduate of Lake Land College and Eastern, cited a tour of Vietnam and work in a factory as proof of his varied experiences.

Owen said if she is elected, one of her main priorities will be to make the office accessible to complaints from citizens.

"I feel that as state's attorney I should be available to the people of Coles County," Owen said. "It comes down to plain old accessibility. I will be willing to sit down with the victims of crimes and listen to their complaints."

Lutz said he would make the office more accessible by possibly extending office hours during the week and having office hours on Saturdays. Lutz said he would also study the feasibility of changing the half-time assistant state's attorney position to full time.

Owen said the power of the state's attorney must be used carefully.

"I will try to remind the people who work for me of the power of the position," Owen said. "The power must be used with great discretion."

Because Owen and Lutz are co-workers and friends, both said they are trying to keep politics out of the public defender's office during the campaign.

"We agreed to keep politics out of the public defender's office," Owen said. "I feel we've accomplished this."

Anti-Nazi protest in Evanston attracts thousands

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Several thousand people, including independent presidential candidate John B. Anderson, turned out Sunday to oppose a cross-town neo-Nazi rally and what one rabbi called the "foul emanations of Nazi bigotry and hatred."

The Nazi gathering was planned a half-mile from the predominantly Jewish suburb of Skokie, where a highly publicized 1978 Nazi rally was planned and then canceled.

"Evanston said, 'they'll never come here.' Well, they're wrong. No city is safe," said Micheal Allen, Midwest coordinator for the National Socialist Party of America, a Chicago-based neo-Nazi group that planned the demonstration in Lovelace Park.

"We have to stand up. To ignore this thing would be a catastrophe," said Sol Goldstein, one of several Jewish leaders who organized the Jewish counter-demonstration at the Evanston campus of Northwestern University, about two miles from Lovelace Park.

A number of uniformed city police, state police and the Secret Service agents guarding Anderson were at the noon Jewish rally, which began two hours before the scheduled Nazi rally.

Jewish leaders billed the demonstration at Northwestern sponsored by the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation, as "massive informational, and inspirational," and scheduled music and speeches, including one by Anderson.

Some Jews said they also planned to attend the Nazi rally to "bear dignified witness to our profound distress at having the foul emanations of Nazi bigotry and hatred voiced in our community" said Rabbi Peter Knobol of Beth Bmet Synagogue in Evanston.

Members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the International Committee Against Racism also announced opposition to the Nazi rally.

The Evanston City Council granted permission for the Nazi rally after denying an earlier application for a demonstration Sept. 20, Yom Kippur, the holiest day of the Jewish calendar.

In 1978, the Nazis wanted to march in the neighboring suburb of Skokie, home of a large Jewish population including a number of survivors of the Nazi concentration camps of World War II.

The Skokie City council repeatedly denied the Nazis permits after passing three ordinances designed to bar them from marching. State and federal courts overturned the ordinances after they were challenged by the Nazis and the American Civil Liberties Union.

On June 12, 1978, the U.S. Supreme Court said the National Socialist Party of America could demonstrate in Skokie. However, then-party leader Frank Collin decided to hold the rally in Chicago instead.

Goldstein, chairman of the public affairs committee of the Committee on Individual Liberty and Jewish Security, charged last week that Sundays Nazi rally was part of a worldwide recurrence of anti-Semitic activity.

"What happened in Paris, what happened in Bologna, what happened in Antwerp — they're all links in one chain," he said, referring to a string of terrorist activities against Jews in Europe. "It is a revival of this thing."

O'Brien fence needs protection

We believe at least one police officer should be posted outside the north end of O'Brien Stadium during football games to prevent further vandalism of the stadium's fence.

Aluminum strippings installed in the fence to prevent fans from watching the games for free have been vandalized by people wanting to see each of the Panthers' three home football games.

This has negated the athletic department's reason for installing the strippings, as well as creating the embarrassment of flagrant vandalism occurring in front of 5,000 to 10,000 football fans every Saturday afternoon.

Consequently, we believe the presence of an officer is the only way to prevent more waste and destruction.

Officers are already present at the games to control traffic and for security reasons, so it should not be too difficult for the athletic department to assign one officer to protect the fence.

Earlier in the semester, The Daily Eastern News said the intent of the aluminum stripping was good, but the implementation of the plan was less than well thought out.

We still feel this way, and believe the vandalism to the fence so far this year illustrates our earlier point. The fence stripping has been woven into the fence and has not been locked into place, allowing vandals to pull it from place in the fence. The stripping is not very durable and can be cut or ripped apart by anyone who wishes to destroy it.

It may be true that only a stone wall would be immune from vandalism, but some measures could be taken in the future to protect the present stripping from petty vandalism.

Destruction of university property cannot be justified, especially when student fees have helped to pay for such property. Hence, it is our belief that the fence must be protected to make the aluminum strippings a worthwhile purchase.

Your Turn

It's 1980, Phyllis

Editor:

I could not believe the backward opinions expressed by anti-equal rights activist Phyllis Schlafly in her recent lecture.

Consider the statement she made: "I feel the responsibility of men is to defend their country and the responsibility of women is to take care of the babies they bear." The responsibility of women is to take care of the babies they bear? This is the 1980s—what decade is she coming from?

Furthermore, it is extremely hypocritical of her to say it is the responsibility of women to take care of the babies they bear while she pursues a career! Do as I say not as I do! Schlafly, an employee of WBBM, would be out of a job if her employers felt the same way she did.

If all women thought as she did, we would probably not be in college, but at home changing diapers. What an exciting future.

I feel we need a modern thinker with an opposing viewpoint. How about it University Board?

Robin Trevison

What about ERA?

Editor:

In response to Jo Fout's letter to the editor (Oct. 14), if she is quite concerned about women and the draft then Phyllis Schlafly is NOT the one to look to for answers.

I am in agreement with Ms. Perryman (letter section Oct. 14) in that our activity fee is supporting something we don't believe in. Obviously, the University Board should give more consideration before scheduling such speakers.

I find it in poor taste for the University Board to schedule a speaker on a current and significant political issue without doing justice in giving equal time to the opposition for presentation of their viewpoint.

If the UB wants the student body to be informed of the facts or get involved in such political policies, they should provide students with all sides of the issue. It appears as though the UB and its members are "impressing personal preferences."

What's done is done. I now feel it is the responsibility of the UB to provide the students with a lecture presenting the real facts of the Equal Rights Amendment, which Schlafly did not provide.

Letter Policy

All letters must contain the name, phone number and home address of their authors. Those submitted without this information will not be published. Names will be withheld upon request, but no letter will be accepted unless signed by its author.

Letters should be typewritten and no longer than 250 words. Letters may be handwritten but will not be published if illegible.

Refund runaround should be avoided

If you're banking on receiving your security deposit refund on time, don't. I've been trying to get mine since mid-June.

You know what a security deposit is, don't you? You pay the university $25 to hold your name on the housing waiting list. The security deposit is a show of your good faith. It shows the university that they can have "faith" in your money.

After nearly a year of living off-campus, it was time for me to get my security deposit refunded. It was mid-June; my summer school expenses and unemployed status had caused me to live on near-starvation rations.

I went to the Housing Office and filled out the proper forms. The woman behind the counter told me the check would arrive in the mail in approximately four to six weeks.

After the sixth week passed, I revisited the Housing Office. My original refund application had been lost. Another application was filled out; another assurance of a four- to six-week check delivery was given; and I sold my pop bottles for grocery money.

Another visit in September resulted in one more lost application explanation and one more re-application.

A couple of weeks later my mother called me from home and said a letter had arrived from Eastern's Housing Office. Great, I thought, it's my check.

It wasn't a check, just a letter asking me to apply for my housing deposit refund as soon as possible. Who ever said the third time is a charm?

I visited the Housing Office—again—and learned some progress had been made. They had found all my applications and were processing it—or them—through the

Personal file:

Herb Meeker

Cashier's Office.

I went to the Cashier's Office and learned the check wasn't ready. "Check back in a week," the cashier said. For some reason I took this statement with a grain of salt.

I'm still waiting for my refund. I could have avoided this mess if I had refused to pay the security deposit in the first place. But then I would have been rocking the boat.

The security deposit is needed at Eastern. Students should show they intend to take university housing if the opportunity is there. However, the university should warn students who apply late that they may not get housing. Students who apply in April or later shouldn't be required to pay the security deposit since they probably will be forced to live off-campus due to the waiting list.

The Housing Office should keep better records on students who never live in a residence hall while attending Eastern. I learned that these students have their files misplaced in Housing just because they are denied on-campus housing.

Anyway, if you haven't applied for your security deposit refund yet, just beware when they lose your application for the first time.

Or better yet, get to know a secretary in Housing. Then they won't ask your name every time you come in to fill out another application for a refund.

Request for additional pumps pending state approval

by Peggy Schneider

A more efficient water service may be in store for the campus if the physical plant's request for two new pumps is approved by the Illinois Board of Higher Education and the governor, Assistant Physical Plant Director Marty Ignazito said Tuesday. The request for the $184,300 pumps was sent by the office of institutional planning and budget analysis Oct. 1 for consideration by the Illinois Board of Higher Education, Barbara Platt, assistant director of the office of planning said. Platt said she did not know when the board would make its final decision on the request for the pumps.

The pumps would be hooked up to supplement the current system to "boost the pressure" when needed, Ignazito said.

The heavier the flow of water through the pipes, the lower the pressure, Ignazito said.

The heavy flow of water during peak use, from 7:30 a.m. to 8 p.m., causes the water pressure to drop, though "not noticeably," Physical Plant Director Everett Alms said.

The new pumps will also help Eastern maintain standards set by the Environmental Protection Agency for safe water pressure, Ignazito said.

Eastern is governed by the EPA's rules for municipalities, which require that water pressure be maintained at 20 pounds per square inch, he said.

The pressure occasionally drops a little below the preferred 20 p.s.i. during peak use, he said.

The problem of maintaining the pressure "isn't real bad, because the pressure doesn't drop real low and doesn't stay low," he said.

When the outside pressure exceeds the pressure in the pipes, there is a greater possibility that untreated water from the soil will seep through the pipe joints and contaminate the treated water in the pipes, Ignazito said.

Contamination has not been a problem in the past, he added.

Samples of Eastern's water are taken twice daily and sent to the State Water Survey, Alms said.

"If we had even a questionable analysis, we would shut the system down," Alms said.

Eastern's 500,000-gallon water tower would supply the campus for about a day if the system needed to be shut off, Ignazito said.

If the request for the pumps is approved, they could be installed in within a month or two after the equipment was purchased, Ignazito said.

The pumps would probably be attached to the campus water system on the west side of campus in or near Lantz Gym, Ignazito said.

Issue-oriented survival course offered during spring semester

by Sue Ann Rentfrow

A course involving physical science, sociology, political science and economics, and their effects on the future will be offered this spring, Scott Smith of the physics department said Friday.

Smith said the course "Survial of Humanity," has been offered in the spring for the past three years but does not count toward any particular major.

"The course is not subject-oriented, it's issue-oriented," he said. "It's an upper-level course open to any major."

Smith will be teaching the course along with Richard Hummel of the sociology department, John Faust of the political science department and Larry Bates of the economics department.

Smith said the course will be broken down into four parts with each instructor taking one part. He said this will allow each topic to be discussed from a political, sociological, economical and scientific point of view.

"The first part begins with an analysis on energy shortages and future possibilities for new power sources," he said. "An examination of the inevitable impact that seeking new energy resources will have on the environment both chemically and through nuclear wastes will also be looked at."

Smith said the second part of the course will deal with problems that are occurring through overpopulation, particularly in underdeveloped parts of the earth." This section will also look at the effects that could occur from famine and land shortages, he said.

The effect of world politics on topics such as food and oil will be discussed in the third part of the course, he said. The course will conclude with an economical view of dealing with money shortages and critical issues in world-wide inflation.

"All four segments are questions concerning ethical decisions and value judgements," Smith said. "It's designed to help 'have not' nations and to maintain a healthy environment for the earth."

He said there is a strong possibility that a telecommunication line will be linked up between the classroom and various offices in Washington, D.C. He said the connection will allow students to talk directly to government agencies concerned with the courses' topics.

Awareness forum set

A Student Awareness Forum will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the University Union Old Ballroom by the Student Awareness Committee of the Student Senate, Bob Glover, student body president, said.

The purpose of the forum is to educate students on the mass transit bus system issue, Illinois Student Association, University Union renovations, Student Senate and the possibility of a tuition increase, Glover added.

The forum will also give students a chance to ask questions about these and other areas of student government, Glover said.

Candidates to speak at local forum

by Sandy Young

A political forum featuring candidates from the 22nd Congressional District and the 53rd Legislative District will be held at 7 p.m. Monday at the Charleston Holiday Inn, 920 W. Lincoln.

The forum is sponsored by the Mideastern Illinois Labor Council and the Eastern chapter of the American Federation of Teachers, Local 3500.

Richard Dulka, president of the Labor Council, said all congressional and representative candidates have been invited to the forum. He added all candidates but Congressman Dan Crane, R-Danville, have agreed to attend.

However, Dulka said Crane will send a representative.

Attending will be congressional candidate Pete Voelz and legislative candidates Larry Stuffle, D-Charleston, Steve Miller, R-Catlin, Eugene Thorapson, D-Danville and Harry "Babe" Woodyard, R-Chrisman.

Each candidate will make a brief introductory statement then the public will pose questions to them, Dulka said.

A reception will be held after the forum, giving the public a chance to meet the candidates, he added. Free refreshments will be served.

Dulka said the forum is being sponsored as a public service "to afford the public an opportunity to find out what the candidates' positions are on the various issues and to meet the candidates personally."

7,000 people attend band contest

by Laura Ziebell

More than 7,000 people along with members of 42 high school bands attended the Marching Band Contest held Saturday at O'Brien Field, Harold L. Hillyer, contest director said.

The bands competed for trophies in areas such as outstanding band, drum major, percussion, flag and rifle units.

Winner of the grand champion trophy for outstanding band in the competition for the second year in a row was Newton High School.

Monticello High School was awarded the first Presidential Trophy.

"This is the first year that the President's Trophy was given," Hillyer said. "It will be awarded annually to the band with the most musical presentation in all classes."

The classification table used to determine each band's class was the enrollment figure from the fall of 1979, Hillyer said. Class AA bands represented high schools with more than 1,600 students, class A bands from high schools with 801-1,600 students, class B bands from high schools with 351-800 students, class C bands from schools with 191-350 students and class D bands represented high schools with an enrollment up to 191 students.

The outstanding drum major award and outstanding flag unit award from all classifications were presented to Newton, Hillyer said. Monticello claimed the outstanding percussion award and outstanding rifle unit award, Hillyer said.

Outstanding bands in each class were Deland-Weldon (Class D), Minonk-Dana-Rutland (Class C), Monticello (Class B) and Danville (Class A), Hillyer said.

Class D runners-up for outstanding band were Homer High School and Bethany High School. Class C runners-up were Mt. Olive High School and Le Roy High School. Class B runners-up were Hoopeston-East Lynn High School and Watseka High School. Crete-Monee High School and O'Fallon High School were the runners-up for the outstanding band in Class AAA.

Members of Eastern's band acted as hosts for the visiting bands throughout the day.

The 152 members of the band that worked throughout the day at the competition did a whale of a job," Hillyer said. "We had 100 percent cooperation from the competing bands, the directors, and members of the E.I.U. Marching Blue that worked all day. Even the weather was perfect."

Group counseling sessions to be held

by Dave Kidwell

Eastern's Counseling and Testing Center is offering group counseling sessions for interested students, David Weir, a counselor at the center, said.

The groups will be directed by Weir and Michael Reed, a graduate student in clinical psychology.

There will be six group sessions lasting 1 1/2 hours once a week. Reed said once a group is started, no new students will be allowed to attend. He said the groups will be about 10 to 12 students in size and regular attendance will be required.

Students who are interested in joining a counseling group will be interviewed by a counselor to determine whether the student is ready for group counseling, Weir said. Also, students with individual problems will be in groups with students who have problems different than their own, he said.

Weir said he hopes the sessions will rid students of what he termed the "boogie man" myth they have labeled on group sessions in describing them. He said people are scared of group sessions for no reason.

"Groups are not just a bunch of people put together—they're like a recipe to a cake, each student being an ingredient headed toward the final end—a warm, understanding and caring group," Weir said.

The counselors stressed that the groups are a "safe place." Many people stay away from groups because they do not want their problem to become public knowledge, Weir said. He said within the groups, strict confidentiality will be enforced.

Students interested in group counseling sessions should contact Weir or Reed through the Counseling and Testing Center.

Eastern hosts high school 'battle of bands' contest

During Saturday afternoon's High School Marching Band Contest, held at O'Brien field, 42 bands from surrounding areas vied for trophies in outstanding band, flag, rifle units, percussion and drum major competitions.

Scenes during the contest were ones such as the picture at upper left, where a Pontiac student stood in concentration until he was given the cue to blow his flugel horn.

At upper right, Mattoon drum majorettes saluted the judges before beginning their routine.

The middle picture features the Hoopeston Marching Cornjerkers, who lined up to do some kicks during their routine. Hoopeston's band won the Class B runners-up award for outstanding band.

After the show, Georgetown High School student Ron Woodle, pictured at the right, concentrated on packing up his drums to leave.

The event drew a crowd of 7,000 spectators.

DAWN OF THE DEAD

In this sequel to "Night of the Living Dead", George Romero once again unleashes his zombies in an incredibly tense and suspenseful horror film laced with a generous sense of humor. A mysterious plague sweeps the nation causing the dead to rise from their graves, driven by their insatiable hunger for living flesh. Fomer's story begins with the National Guard storming an apartment complex where zombies have been reported. Four survivors of this unrelenting attack barricade themselves inside a suburban shopping center in a desperate attempt to fight off both the zombies' hunger and a roving gang of maniacal bikers.

"Dawn of the Dead", like Romero's earlier "Night of the Living Dead" is destined to become a cult classic. We offer it in its entirety with scenes never before seen in theatres.

This thriller will be shown on Halloween night, October 31, at 6:30 and 9:00 in the Grand Ballroom. Admission is $1.25.

Iran, Iraq ignore holy feast by refusing cease-fire plea

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Iran and Iraq battled along the Shatt-al-Arab waterway and launched air attacks against each other's cities Sunday, their armies claimed, violating Islam's holiest feast. Fierce fighting was reported in Iran after the two nations rejected Moslem appeals for a holiday cease-fire.

"Strike hard because you are truly God's sword on earth," Iraqi President Saddam Hussein exhorted his soldiers in a broadcast from Baghdad. He referred to Iranian leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini as a "lunatic."

"You must be prepared for a continuation of this war," Iran's President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr said in a radio speech to his troops.

The pronouncement came despite peace efforts from Moslem quarters and indicated neither side in the four-week-old war is ready to quit.

Iranian Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajai, meanwhile, was on his way back from New York to Tehran, with a stopover in Algeria. Rajai, who made his nation's case in the war before the U.N. Security Council, had accused the United States of supporting Iraq in the conflict.

Responding to Rajai's expressed concern about Washington's deployment of four AWAC reconnaissance planes in the Persian Gulf, Secretary of State Edmund S. Muskie said Sunday that the aircraft are purely defensive and not directed against Iraq. Muskie spoke on ABC television's "Issues and Answers" program. The planes were sent to Saudi Arabia about a week after the war broke out to detect any planes approaching the west side of the gulf.

conditions for releasing the 52 Americans soon.

He said there are some indications that the Majlis may act soon but that it would be a mistake to make predictions because hopes for a breakthrough which have been raised over the past 11 months invariably have led to disappointment.

Addressing Rajai's concerns about U.S. relations with Jordan, Muskie noted he has informed Jordanian authorities that the United States is strongly opposed to any widening of the Iran-Iraq conflict.

While re-affirming American impartiality in the conflict, Muskie said the U.S. position "may have to be adjusted as circumstances develop." He did not elaborate.

He said the series of measures the United States has taken against Iran, including the imposition of a trade embargo and the freezing of American assets, would be reviewed once progress is made toward the release of the hostages.

But, he said, any predictions about U.S. actions in such circumstance would be "highly speculative."

Because of the U.S. embargo against Iran, some $370 million in military spare parts paid for by Iran have not been delivered.

BSU to hold tutoring program

A Big Brother-Big Sister Tutor Program will be held at 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Afro-American Culture Center at 1525 Seventh St.

The tutoring program is being sponsored by the Black Student Union and the National Panhellenic Council. Torrance Campbell, BSU president, said the tutoring program is being held to help students ready for midterms.

Hours for the specific subject tutoring are 7-8 p.m. in accounting—financial and managerial; 8 to 9 p.m. in math—algebra, finite and calculus and from 9 to 10 p.m. in English and life science. Tutoring in other classes will be offered as well throughout each of the evenings, Campbell said.

Campbell said anyone still wishing to volunteer his help in tutoring should contact the center on Monday or call Booker Suggs, BSU adviser, at 581-3920. Students may also contact Kelvin Blanks at 581-2082 for more information.

The tutoring service is open to any student needing help in the various subject matters, Campbell said.

The regular BSU meeting will be held as usual at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Campbell said.

Paper drive is successful

by Tina O'Keefe

The fall paper drive conducted Wednesday through Friday last week, was a better success than last year's drive, R.W. Monroe, student government auditing committee chairman and co-coordinator of the event, said.

"We won't know exactly how much paper and aluminum cans were collected until the middle of the week but I would estimate that we collected about 7 tons of paper," Monroe said.

"As for the aluminum cans, very little was collected," he added.

The campus' second paper drive was sponsored by the Student Government, The Daily Eastern News, Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic Council, Residence Hall Association and the University Board.

The Twin City Recycling company of Urbana supplied the drive with a trailer to collect the paper and aluminum which was collected.

"We will receive between $20 and $25 per ton of paper. If enough money is raised, we would like to set up a permanent recycling program," Monroe said.

The program would consist of having small drop boxes set up at various locations on campus so students could continually drop off old papers instead of only once a semester, Monroe added.

"Even if we do get the permanent waste program established, we will have another paper drive in the spring so we can raise more money to start or expand the program," Monroe said.

Monroe added last year about three and a half tons of paper amounting to $78 was collected. This money was used for an ice-cream social in the South Quad on Earth Day.

Volleyballers down Central Mo. for third place in EIU invitational

Eastern's volleyball team defeated Central Missouri 15-7, 15-6 Saturday to place third in the EIU Invitational.

"We won it fairly easily," Eastern coach Lynette Nevins said. "We started to get our offense going."

Lewis College downed Chicago of Loyola 15-7, 16-14 and 15-6 for the title.

The Panthers lost to Loyola 11-15, 14-16 Friday and were downed 13-15 and 11-15 by Lewis.

In the loss to Loyola, Nevins said "the scores were not indicative of how we played."

Nevins also said Eastern led 13-4 in its loss to Lewis, but fell apart after an injury.

"Kathy Schoene went out with a twisted ankle. We fell apart with her leaving," Nevins said.

Earlier Friday, the Panthers crushed the College of St. Francis 15-2, 15-0.

Saturday, Eastern eased past Bradley University 15-6, 15-2.

"That game was very easy," Nevins said.

Panthers take disappointing fifth in state cross-country meet

by Dan Brannan

Eastern's men's cross-country team ended up with a disappointing fifth-place finish in the team standings Saturday at the State of Illinois Championships meet at Northern Illinois University.

Southern Illinois University won the meet with 46 points followed by the University of Illinois with 48.

Illinois State was third with 84 points followed by Northern Illinois University with 138 points.

Eastern totaled 146 points to finish fifth.

North Central College was sixth with 176 points followed by Principia with 229, Bradley with 290, Augustana with 293 and Chicago Circle with 330.

Greg Domantay of Northern Illinois was the top individual finisher in the five-mile race.

Larry Schuldt was Eastern's top finisher in 18th place followed by Perry Edinger in 24th place, Terry Donahue in 29th place, Chuck Elliott in 34th place and Mike Beresford in 41st place.

Eastern's next two finishers were Jim Scruton in 43rd place and Dave Huston in 45th place.

Eastern coach Tom Woodall said he did not have any times for the runners.

"I was very disappointed with our performance in the meet," Woodall said. "We didn't get out and establish ourselves early in the race."

Woodall said the four teams which beat Eastern in the meet were very tough teams.

"Southern Illinois will probably win the Missouri Valley Conference this year," Woodall said. "The University of Illinois also could win the Big Ten."

Field hockey team edges past SIU-E...

by Brian Nielsen

Reserve Dorothy Well's rebound goal with 22:20 remaining gave Eastern's field hockey team a 1-0 win over Southern Illinois-Edwardsville Friday and its second straight AIAW Division II state championship.

The Panthers defeated SIU-E, the state's only other Division II field hockey team, twice last week to sweep the season series between the two squads and earn a berth in the Midwest regional scheduled for Nov. 6-8 at Sauk Valley, Mich.

In rather anti-climatic action on Saturday, Eastern lost to Dayton 2-1, but then came back to edge Franklin College of Indiana 2-1.

Friday's victory, however, was the one that assured Eastern a post-season spot.

And it did not come as easily as its 2-0 triumph over the same SIU-E team last Tuesday.

Although coming close several times, the Panthers could not get the ball in the net until Well's tapped in a shot off the goalie's pads 22:40 into the second half.

Wells had come in to give starting right-inner Nancy Scappa a rest just three minutes before she scored the goal.

Until then Eastern was frustrated by an improved SIU-E squad.

"They (SIU-E's Cougars) played better than they did on Tuesday," Eastern coach Betty Temple said. "Their improvement made us frustrated. We were still playing well, but their improvement made it look like we weren't.

"Our players weren't pleased with their play, but from the sidelines I could tell we were still playing well," Temple said.

The Panthers outshot the visitors 25-10, and goalie Becky LeGrande stopped any scoring chances SIU-E did have.

Temple was not as happy with her team's performance the next day in the 2-1 loss to Dayton.

"We outshot them 24-18, but our aggressiveness in front of the goal was lacking," Temple said.

All the scoring in the game came in the first half.

Dayton scored first, and then Deb Seybert tied the score for Eastern. Dayton got the winning goal with about five minutes to go in the first half.

...and women netters do the same

by Betsey Guzior

Eastern's women's tennis team struggled through its final matches but won the IIAW state tournament last weekend in Edwardsville.

Eastern amassed 42-team points in the tourney to Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville's 40.

The SIU-E squad was the main opponent for Eastern in the final matches, although Sangamon State was represented in No. 5 singles and No. 3 doubles.

Sangamon State finished with a distant 22 points.

"It came down to the last match in the finals," Eastern coach Karen Earley said. "We were 10 points up into the finals. SIU lost the last consolation game, and Patty (Groth) and Josie's (Riberto) match was the deciding factor."

The No. 2 doubles match was won by Eastern in three sets, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Lillian Almeida of SIU-E once again defeated Eastern's No. 1 singles player Jill Anderson in three sets, 6-2, 5-7, 3-6.

"Jill's match was a heartbreaker," Earley said. "She played very well, but she couldn't get the points when she needed them."

Evans cures Bears' ills in 24-7 victory

CHICAGO (AP)—Quarterback Vince Evans, celebrating his first start of the season, hurled a 34-yard touchdown pass to James Scott and scored a touchdown Sunday to lead the last-place Chicago Bears to 24-7 victory over the first-place Detroit Lions.

Evans also set up Chicago's other touchdown with a 59-yard pass to Scott as the Bear defense all but blanked the Lions, who came into the game leading the National Football League in offense.

The Lions didn't score until the fourth quarter when Gary Danielson hit Leonard Thompson with a 34-yard touchdown pass to cut the Bear lead to 17-7.

The Bears took the ensuing kickoff and, after Evans passed to Brian Baschnagel for 16 yards and a first down, Evans threw his bomb to Scott, who ran past James Hunter and took the ball on the 11-yard line to go into the end zone untouched.

Detroit rookie sensation Billy Sims came into the game leading the league in rushing with 651 yards, but was held to 53 yards in 14 carries while Chicago's Walter Payton, No. 2 in rushing with 582, carried 27 times for 101 yards.

The Lions remained in first place in the Central Division with a 5-2 record, while the Bears climbed to 3-4.

yard field goal by second-string place kicker Ray DeLong to make the score 30-0 at halftime.

Leading the Panthers in their capitalization of Western errors was the fine play of their aerial attack under quarterback Chuck Wright.

The senior quarterback threw for an impressive 238 yards and two touchdowns while completing 15 of 19 passes.

But even more impressive were Wright's halftime statistics.

While guiding the Panthers to their 30-0 halftime lead, Wright completed 10 of 13 passes for 197 yards.

"They were using a cover-four on us trying to stop Scott (McGhee) and Otis (Grant) on the sidelines," Wright said in explaining the success of the Eastern passing game. "That left the middle wide open for (Rob) Mehalic and the completions I threw to Scott."

In all, McGhee hauled in five passes for 76 yards and two touchdowns and tight end Mehalic caught four tosses for 77 yards.

Avila's early scoring sinks Panther booters

by Holly Headland

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Eastern's soccer Panthers suffered a disappointing 2-0 loss at the hands of Avila College Saturday afternoon.

The loss drops the booters' record to 7-3.

"They scored in the first 10 minutes of the game off a cross pass. We hesitated and they scored," Eastern coach Schellas Hyndman said. "We should've won. We had the better team."

The loss occurred on a field that was very bumpy and slick from the previous night's rain, Hyndman said.

Hyndman said that while Eastern's passing was better than average, the condition of the field made concentration even more important in controlling passes.

Avila's team kept no statistics during the game, but Hyndman said he thought the Panthers had many more shots on goal than Avila.

"They had maybe four and we had about 25," Hyndman said.

After Avila scored its first goal, much of the game was played on Avila's side of the field.

"They played straight defense and we couldn't get any good shots out after theirs," Hyndman said.

In the second half, Eastern moved up George Hough as a fourth forward and consequently played stronger offensively, Hyndman said.

"After we moved George up we had more chances to score. There were more head balls going towards the goal and there were more shots towards the goal, but the ground was really bumpy," Hyndman said.

With ten minutes left in the game,

Avila moved the ball back to the Panthers' side of the field as a counter-attack and that is how it scored its second goal, Hyndman said.

The strong defensive posture Avila took after its first goal is a common action many teams take after scoring its first goal against Eastern, Hyndman said.

"We dominated the game, all of it. The few shots they took on us were the only ones on our side of the field. We still had a little sadness over the Indiana game. Indiana took a lot out of us. We'll have to win the rest of our games in order to continue in post-season play," Hyndman said.

Hyndman was referring to Eastern's contest with Indiana University Wednesday in Bloomington which was forfeited to the Hoosiers.

Eastern registered a protest with the NCAA soccer committee over the forfeit Thursday and is still awaiting a decision.

Indiana's coach did not want to accept the game as a forfeit, Hyndman said. However the Indiana coach was advised by his athletic director to accept it, so he did, Hyndman added.

The committee will probably let the game stand as a forfeit, but the Indiana coach has gone out of his way to apologize for what happened and he feels really bad about it, Hyndman said.

The booter's next contest will be Friday at the Wheaton Invitational, Hyndman said.

The Panthers will play Seattle Pacific at noon Friday.

The championship and consolation games will be played Saturday.

Turnovers key 37-7 Panther romp

by Dave Claypool

MACOMB—An opportunistic Eastern football team took advantage of nine Western turnovers en route to a 37-7 trouncing of the Leathernecks Saturday at Hanson Stadium.

Eastern, which turned five of the blunders into scores, held command from the start in attaining its fourth-straight victory while winning its first of four straight league games.

"It was a big win for us," Eastern head coach Darrell Mudra said. "We needed to get a win on the road and get things going into next week's game."

However, the Panther mentor still saw room for improvement.

"We still have a ways to go," Mudra said. "What we have to do now is keep from getting satisfied with ourselves."

In the first half alone Western turned over the ball six times as Eastern built an insurmountable 30-0 intermission lead.

But while the Leathernecks may have given the Panthers more than enough opportunities to score, Eastern Defensive Coordinator Chuck Dickerson said that fine defensive play was the cause.

"We had some tremendous hitting today, our best of the year," Dickerson said. "They (Western) knew we were coming after them today and we were not to be denied."

Eastern linebacker Tom Murray, playing a second role on the Panther special teams, got things started for the offense.

Murray recovered the first of the bombardment of turnovers and set the offense up for its first score with 12:03 left in the opening period.

Eastern-6:37, second quarter-Laurent Baker, 2-yard run. DeLong kick good, Eastern 27-0. Four plays, 11 yards.

Eastern-6:31, second quarter-Ray DeLong, 38-yard field goal. Eastern 30-0. Four plays, 21 yards.

Eastern-10:33, third quarter-Kevin Gray, 56-yard interception run. DeLong kick good, Eastern 37-0. Four plays, 21 yards.

Western-:28, fourth quarter-Mike Maher, 25-yard pass from Paul Marszalek. Schachner kick good, Eastern 37-7. Eight plays, 80 yards.

Murray recovered the fumble at the Western 5-yard line and three plays later Laurent Baker scored the touchdown from one yard out.

The Panthers then took advantage of Western's second mistake of the day—a fumble by running back Jeff White at Eastern's 2-yard line.

From there quarterback Chuck Wright guided his troops 98 yards for their second score of the day—a 21-yard completion to Scott McGhee after just 49 seconds had elapsed in the second quarter.

The touchdown proved to be McGhee's first of two for the day, raising his season total to 11 and tying him for the Eastern career scoring mark.

His second touchdown catch was a 14-yarder at 9:57 of the second quarter which increased Eastern's lead to 20-0.

McGhee caught two passes in that 6-play, 55-yard drive for 32 yards.

Less than two minutes later, the Eastern defense set up another Panther score.

The touchdown came after Panther cornerback Rich Brown picked off a John Molloy pass at the Western 33-yard line and returned it to the Leatherneck 11.

That set up a 2-yard plunge by Baker which made the score 27-0 with 6:37 left in the half.

But Eastern's scoring and Western's fumbles were not over for the opening 30 minutes.

On the ensuing kick-off, Mike Hembrough lost grip of the ball and Steve Watson fell on it at the Western 21, giving the Panther offense an opportunity to score its fifth touchdown of the half.

But Eastern had to settle for a 38-

Phils come back again to take 3-2 series lead

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Mike Schmidt powered a two-run homer, then triggered a ninth-inning Philadelphia rally with a single as the Phillies, true to their post-season form, came from behind for a 4-3 victory over the Kansas City Royals in Sunday's pivotal fifth World Series game.

The victory, after two straight losses, sent the Phillies home for Tuesday night's sixth game with a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven game series.

They will bid for their first World Championship with ace Steve Carlton facing Kansas City's Rich Gale.

It was another case of a late-inning effort for the Phillies, a comeback gang throughout the National League playoffs and first two contests in the 1980 Series. But the Phillies had to survive a serious ninth-inning scoring threat by the Royals.

The Phillies went into the ninth inning trailing 3-2, but refused to quit.

Schmidt, who had smashed a towering two-run homer in the fourth, opened the ninth with a shot that glanced off third baseman George Brett's glove for a single.

Pinch-hitting specialist and former Eastern student Del Unser, batting for Lonnie Smith, rolled a double into the right-field corner and, as the ball bounced around, Schmidt was waved home.

He slid in with the tying run as his teammates spilled out of the dugout to greet him.

After getting the tie that wiped out the hitting heroics of the Royals' Amos Otis, the Phils went for the win.

Keith Moreland sacrificed Unser to third. With the Royals' infield drawn in, Garry Maddox bounced to Brett, who gunned him down. That made it two out. Now, it was up to Manny Trillo.

The slap-hitting second baseman fell behind two strikes against Royals relief ace Dan Quisenberry. But he hung in against the submarine-throwing right-hander and bounced a shot off Quisenberry's body. The ball bounced tree for a single and Unser raced home with the winning run.

The Royals, though, were determined in the bottom of the ninth. Frank White opened by drawing a walk from Phillies bullpen star Tug McGraw. That brought up Brett, a virtual hitting machine, who batted .390 this season. But McGraw struck out the K.C. slugger.

Then, it was Willie Aikens' turn. Aikens, looking for one more home run to tie Reggie Jackson's single Series record of five, drew another walk and the Royals had the tying run in scoring position.
