Shut down Panthers end season with loss to Hoosiers

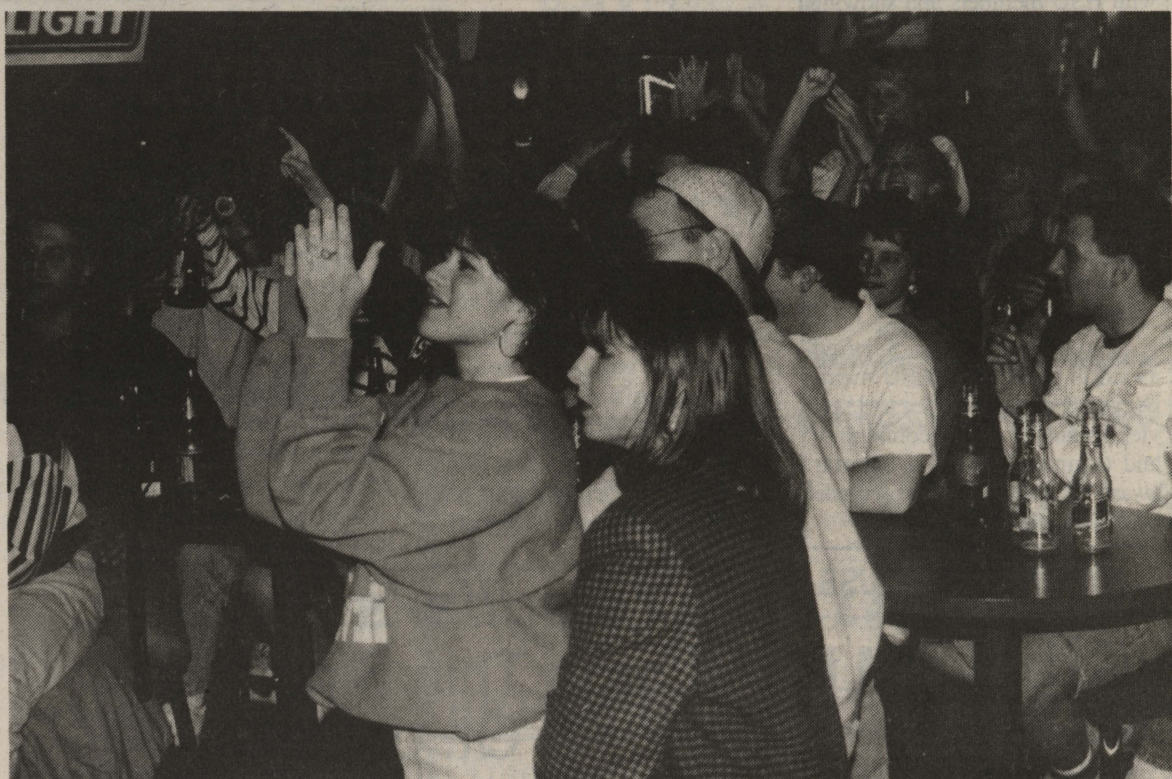

By R.J. GERBER
 Staff writer

As was the case throughout the season in the first round of the 1992 NCAA Tournament, the higher-seeded Indiana Hoosiers had no trouble in disposing of the Eastern Panthers Thursday night in Boise, Idaho. Indiana, which came into the contest as the No. 2 seed in the West Region, broke out to a 16-2 advantage and was never headed back. The 15th-seeded Panthers on its way to a 94-55 victory, which sets up a second-round Saturday matchup against Shaquille O'Neal and the seventh-seeded Louisiana State Tigers. Eastern, playing in its first NCAA Tournament in its 84-year basketball history, finished its season at 17-14. The Panthers cut the Indiana advantage to 10 with about 10 minutes remaining in the first half but could never get closer as the fifth-ranked Hoosiers went on a 14-0 run.

The Panthers, who earned their NCAA berth by winning the Mid-Continent Conference Postseason Tournament, seemed to come out tentative against Indiana and couldn't recover against the overpowering Hoosiers, who improved to 24-6 on the season.

The loss marked the final game for five Panther seniors: guards Steve Rowe and Kavien Martin, and forwards Dave Olson, Barry Johnson and Rod McKinnis.

Charleston Inn closes out customers, employees

By BOB McKEE
 Senior reporter

The closing of the Charleston Inn not only left customers out in the cold, but closed the doors on many distraught employees as well. The motel closed at noon Monday because the owners were delinquent on $30,000 in motel tourism taxes and failed to meet a Monday deadline to pay it. When the motel closed its doors, several customers were turned away and 33 employees were left without jobs, said Rich Oakley, the last desk clerk to work at the motel before it officially closed. "The customers (that had reservations) were disappointed," Oakley said, but he added he made arrangements for them at other area motels, something the management failed to do. "I did this myself out of courtesy for the customers," Oakley said.

The owners, CMI Hospitality of St. Louis, had been warned by Mayor Wayne Lanman during a Feb. 28 public hearing that the 120-room motel's water service would be discontinued, and the motel's liquor license would be revoked if CMI did not comply.

Police Chief Herb Steidinger revoked the motel's liquor license at 9:07 a.m. Monday and City Clerk Patsy Loew ordered a city crew to shut off the water service at 9 a.m. Tuesday - both acted on an order issued by Lanman.

The employees were told during a Friday meeting with CMI partner Bob Nolan and manager Frank Heil that the motel would shut down Monday.

City Attorney Brian Bower said earlier this week that Nolan had a meeting with city officials also on Friday, and Nolan indicated then that the motel would go out of business because it was no longer "viable."

Brett Paige, also a desk clerk at the motel, was at the meeting with management Friday and added that it was the first time the employees were informed by management of the motel's financial condition and the threat of closing down.

Oakley said the employees were told that CMI was turning the deed over to the Magna Bank in St. Louis because the bank wanted to foreclose on the business. Nolan also mentioned he could not get a loan to remodel the motel, and the business wasn't profitable enough to survive.

The management did not give any indication to employees of what was in store for them and the inn prior to the Friday meeting, Paige said, adding that the only information they received was taken out of newspapers. "Heil kept saying he didn't know what was going on," Paige said.

Oakley said the management told employees they were doing everything possible to keep the motel open.

"The management knew what was going on," Paige said. "It's not like he (Nolan) woke up Friday morning and decided to close the place down."

Both Paige and Oakley are without jobs, and Oakley said he saw five of the laid-off employees at the Mattoon unemployment office.

"I was upset when they closed the motel down," Oakley said. "I'm without a job, and I left another job in January to work there."

Those with reservations probably will not receive notice of the closing, despite Heil's March 3 statement that people would receive notice by mail, according to Oakley. He said the motel registration cards do not have addresses on them. "I doubt if those people will be notified," Oakley said.

He said the motel was booked solid for graduation weekend, May 8-9, and that those reservations were made almost a year in

Illinois State will host Weaver bill hearing

By JAMIE RILEY
 Features editor

In order to continue the investigation into the efficacy of the Board of Governors and the Board of Regents, Rep. Gordon Ropp, R-Bloomington, is conducting a hearing on the campus of Illinois State University in Normal. The panel hearing, scheduled for 10 a.m. March 24 in the Activity Center of the Bowling and Billiards Center at Illinois State, is open to the public. Panel members are still to be determined. An aide to Ropp, who wished to remain anonymous, said the Higher Education Committee of the Illinois House of Representatives had Ropp to set up the meeting in the district to further gather public comments on a bill proposed by Rep. Gordon Ropp, R-Ashmore. The bill, if passed, would eliminate the Board of Governors and the Board of Regents.

The bill as it stands in committee would transfer most of the power of the two governing bodies to the Illinois Board of Higher Education, as well as giving each of the eight affected universities its own governing board.

Ropp is the spokesman for the Higher Education Committee of the Illinois House of Representatives.

Weaver said not all the comments from the past hearings have been against governing bodies. "We've had suggestions to shift the schools in each system," he said. Some people would like to see public universities that are more similar aligned under different governing systems, he added.

Weaver estimated that elimination of the Board of Governors and the Board of Regents would save the state about $3.9 million annually.

The Board of Governors is the governing body of Eastern, Chicago State, Governors State, Northeastern Illinois and Western Illinois universities. The Board of Regents governs Illinois State, Northern Illinois and Sangamon State universities.

Similar hearings were conducted by Weaver both at Eastern and at Northern Illinois University in February.

The hearing is to let local people become more informed and involved in the decision, Ropp's aide said.

Weaver said the continuation of the hearings is important to get more diverse opinions from those involved. "There may be a different perspective we haven't thought of yet," Weaver said.

Weaver said he is "wide open" to suggestions for amendments to his proposal.

Campus services shut down for break; Booth will be open

By CASSIE SIMPSON
 Campus editor

While students pack and prepare for their individual spring breaks, the campus will also prepare for a rest next week.

Residence halls close at 8 p.m. on Friday, and students have several things they must do before they can leave for home or Florida.

"They have to make sure the curtains are open," Kelli Collins, Carman Hall counselor said. "They don't have to unplug their refrigerators or aquariums. They have to make sure their lights are all off, and they need to dump their trash before they leave."

All residence halls will open at 1 p.m. on Sunday, March 29. Booth Library will be open during spring break for those students and faculty in need of its services.

"Tomorrow (Friday) we close at 5 p.m.," Dee McNutt, library administrative aide, said. "We're closed for the weekend, and we'll be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. We'll be closed Saturday, March 28 and open the 29th at 4 p.m. Then it's back to normal hours."

The Martin Luther King Jr. University Union will be closed during the week of spring break.

"The building will be close at 5 p.m. tomorrow (Friday)," Jim Rardin, assistant director of the union, said. "The lobby shop or Sugar Shack and the bowling alley will reopen at 4 p.m. on March 29. McDonald's and everything else will reopen Monday (March 30) morning."

HSU plans for heritage week in April

By COLETTE FLEMING
Staff writer

The Hispanic Student Union discussed plans for Hispanic Heritage Week, which will be April 6-10.

HSU vice president Karen Medina outlined tentative plans for the festivities.

"We're planning two events at Carman Hall - a panel discussion with HSU members and showing 'Stand and Deliver,' which is a Hispanic movie," Medina said.

Medina also invited Chicago anchorwoman Sylvia Perez (channel 7) to speak and is waiting for her reply, she said. If Perez came to Eastern, she would be chosen to announce HSU's Community Service award and the HSU Scholar award, Medina said.

"The Community Service award is given to an HSU member based on their grades and service within the group, community and campus. The HSU Scholar award is based primarily on grade point average," Medina said.

Paige said if those with reservations for graduation weekend made them in person and left their address with the motel, they will probably receive notification.

It is inherent of graduation weekends for hotels/motels in Charleston, Mattoon and Effingham to be filled to capacity.

Oakley said the motel did not notify those with reservations for banquets of the closing until Monday, even those that were set for Tuesday.

"I can't believe they waited until Monday to do that," he said.

Cheryl Pierce, a previous Charleston Inn sales director, said the company began to cut back employees prior to last November when she resigned from her position.

Paige said the staff was at about 50 prior to Christmas - the firm then began to cut hours and to give out more days off.

Pierce attributes many of the motel's financial problems to the Love Management of St. Louis, who was responsible for management of the motel prior to Heil taking over. She said the firm was "kicked-out" in the summer because it mismanaged the motel.

Heil was appointed manager of the motel recently.

Neither Heil or Nolan could be reached for comment Thursday.

The Charleston Inn owes other unpaid taxes besides those to the city. According to the Coles County Clerk's office the firm is delinquent in paying $94,746.75 in county property taxes.

The motel owes $53,484.58 for its 1990 tax bill and $41,262.17 for 1991.

The motel opened in 1973 as a Holiday Inn and it became the Charleston Inn in 1983. The motel was purchased in November 1985 by CMI from Triple T Corp. of Lawrenceville.

Questions & Answers
about
Alcohol & Drugs

Q. What is the most difficult thing to overcome when treating addiction?
A. The hardest part of treatment is to get drug abusers or addicts to recognize their problem.

Q. Is alcohol a stimulant or depressant?
A. Initially, alcohol suppresses inhibitions so it seems to act like a stimulant, but as the depressant effect takes over it slows reflexes; depresses respiration and heart rate; disrupts reasoning and judgement.

Q. What is ranked third as this country's biggest health problem?
A. Alcohol ranks third after heart disease and cancer.

Q. What types of death are alcohol related?
A. The causes of death vary from cirrhosis of the liver to heart attacks and strokes. Also there are over 25,000 who die in alcohol-related automobile accidents. Also murders (family violence) and suicides are involved.

Jail addition expected by spring

By EAN ESKRA and CHRIS SUNDHEIM
Staff writers

Coles County Sheriff Jim Kimball said he hopes an addition to the Coles County Safety and Detention Center will be started by next spring to accommodate potential increases in the jail population.

The addition would add 30 beds to the center and include individual cells plus a dormitory-style living area.

The proposed addition will not cost Coles County taxpayers any money. The county receives $35 per day per inmate for accepting overflow prisoners from Champaign and Cumberland counties. Because of this, the county makes a profit from the center, that profit will pay for the center's addition.

The facility now can hold 69 inmates but its average population is closer to 50 prisoners.

When it opened, the center could hold 40 inmates but usually only held about 13.

Kimball stressed the center is not intended to make money, but the funds it generates are vital to the proposed expansion. He explained when the center was built in 1976 it was paid for entirely by funds set aside by the state.

However, this funding no longer exists. Kimball said it is necessary to generate this money to operate the sheriff's offices.

The proposal has been suggested to the county board, but due to renovations being done to the Coles County Courthouse, the proposal has been set aside. It is likely board members will not vote on the measure until after the November general election when all 12 board seats will be decided.

The 69 beds now available at the center are sufficient, Kimball said. The expansion is under consideration to handle any increased demand to house Coles County inmates and those from other counties.

"If the incarceration trends continue at their present rate, Coles County, as well as other county facilities, are going to experience the same overcrowding conditions that state and federal institutions are experiencing," he said.

Cumberland County, which sends Coles County all of its inmates under a contract approved last week, is considering building its own $1.2 million facility. A series of hearings to get public input on the issue is set to begin March 25.

The contract approved by the Coles County Board reserves 10 of the facility's beds for Cumberland County prisoners.

The Cumberland County jail closed in January because it could no longer meet state standards.

Jazz ensemble to perform with vocalist

By TERESA JOHNSON
Staff writer

Eastern's Jazz Ensemble will perform with jazz vocalist Diane Schuur at 8:15 p.m. Friday at the Sangamon State University Auditorium in Springfield.

Schuur, a native of Seattle, has received two Grammy Awards for her artistry. Schuur began her career in the late 70s. To date, she has cranked out eight popular jazz albums and has launched a successful concert career.

"She is one of the up-and-coming jazz and folk singers and gives our students the opportunity to actually experience playing with a professional," said Dan Crews, director of mobility for Eastern.

The jazz ensemble's gig with Schuur in Springfield will be the band's third major performance with a well-known entertainer, Crews said. In recent years, the ensemble has performed with jazz greats Mel Torme and Dizzie Gillespie, he said.

A university press release stated Schuur, who was blinded in a hospital accident shortly after birth, sang at the early age of two and started playing piano at the age of three.

To help conquer her disability, Schuur was encouraged in her musical pursuits by her parents and other sightless performers such as Jose Feliciano and Ray Charles, the release stated.

Her first album release was Pilot of My Destiny in 1981, and her latest release, Pure Schuur, features songs such as "What A Difference A Day Makes" and Nat King Cole's "Unforgettable."

"We're (the College of Fine Arts) really excited about it," Crews said. "It will give us the opportunity to see how well we are teaching the students. They have received a lot of respect over the years."

According to the release, Allan Horney, director of jazz studies and the ensemble, said you don't have to be a jazz buff to appreciate Schuur.

"For those individuals who are not acquainted with the singer's career, I can guarantee that you'll never hear anybody better."

The concert is being co-sponsored by the EIU College of Fine Arts and Consolidated Communications Inc.

Search for president needs more support

On March 12, students had the opportunity to elect two student positions to the presidential search advisory committee.

Sadly enough, not many students paid much attention to the selection of the candidates who will be choosing the next president for the this university.

In the past year, Eastern has had many controversies hover over its doorsteps that the president has been a part of. This is a very important seat to fill and the next president will have many challenges before him or her.

Editorial But despite these realities, only 543 students took part in last week's election. There are approximately 10,000 students who attend this university and the turnout was more than pitiful.

To think that students who attend Eastern do not take an interest in the condition of this university and what's ahead for the years to come.

There are various reasons why the student population does not vote, but this is not the issue. There is still time for students to give their input and support to the welfare of this university.

The two students elected to presidential search advisory committee, Chad Bandy and Blake Wood, were appointed to serve the student body. No matter what your concern, question or acknowledgement, you should make an effort to let them know.

The News took a part in letting the student body know what type of credentials the student candidates had by running daily features. Now is the time for the student body to make a stand and be heard.

It's the time for students to take the opportunity and get to know the candidates so that the students input will count.

It's the students job to make sure that Bandy and Wood serve the student body to the fullest extent possible. Inform the candidates now and they will work for you.

Don't miss out the second time around.

TODAY'S QUOTE

Guns don't kill people; People kill people.

Unknown

The 'Gun War' can hit any home

In this day and age, kids are killing kids and the life expectancy of a young black male steadily declines everyday because 1 out of every 3 young males has a gun.

This fact deeply grieves me!

I was reading the March issue of Time magazine when I ran across the headline, "Childhood's End" and a picture of a young black male lying dead in the hallway of his New York city school where he was shot and another picture of an officer holding a .38-cal. Smith and Wesson which took the young boy's life.

What is happening in the inner-city ghettos (as a matter of fact, the entire world)?

After reading the article I thought about Chicago, my hometown, and realized that at least 400 black Eastern students and myself made it off the very same horrifying streets with our will to achieve and our lives.

Everyday there are children dying over a pair of expensive gymshoes, earrings or a Starters coat that someone else wants.

Who's to blame? Could it be the schoolboard, who tries to keep all of the bad news behind closed doors? The teachers, who have no control of their classrooms? The media, who tries to solidify the myth of Blacks and Hispanics being "the problem?" The victims, who don't have the slightest idea of what's going on? Or could it be the whole world just doesn't give a damn anymore?

There is no definite blame because the problems are very wide-spread. For instance, on every corner in a black neighborhood, there is a gunshop on one side and a liquor store on the other.

Guns, guns, guns. There is a problem when young children have Tech 9 millimeter semi-automatic weapons with 32-rounds and the police officers only have a .38 caliber Smith and Wesson with six rounds. The kids have better guns than the cops.

Evette Pearson

The problem that some sociologist have found in the availability and seductiveness of guns. They have become the mere token of manhood and power in an unforgiving world. A world where people carry guns like people carry cigarettes.

The availability is astounding because these weapons can be purchased on the street by anyone with a valid driver's license and then sold and resold. A semi-automatic rifle can be purchased for the low retail price of $125.

You may ask, "how does it affect this community?"

It may not directly affect you because many of the Charleston residents and Eastern students have been on the other end of the television set as reports about another kid shot dead in the street. But, there are some students who have been in the crosshairs and survived.

These students may have made it out, but you never forget where they've come from, probably because their families still occupy those very same streets.

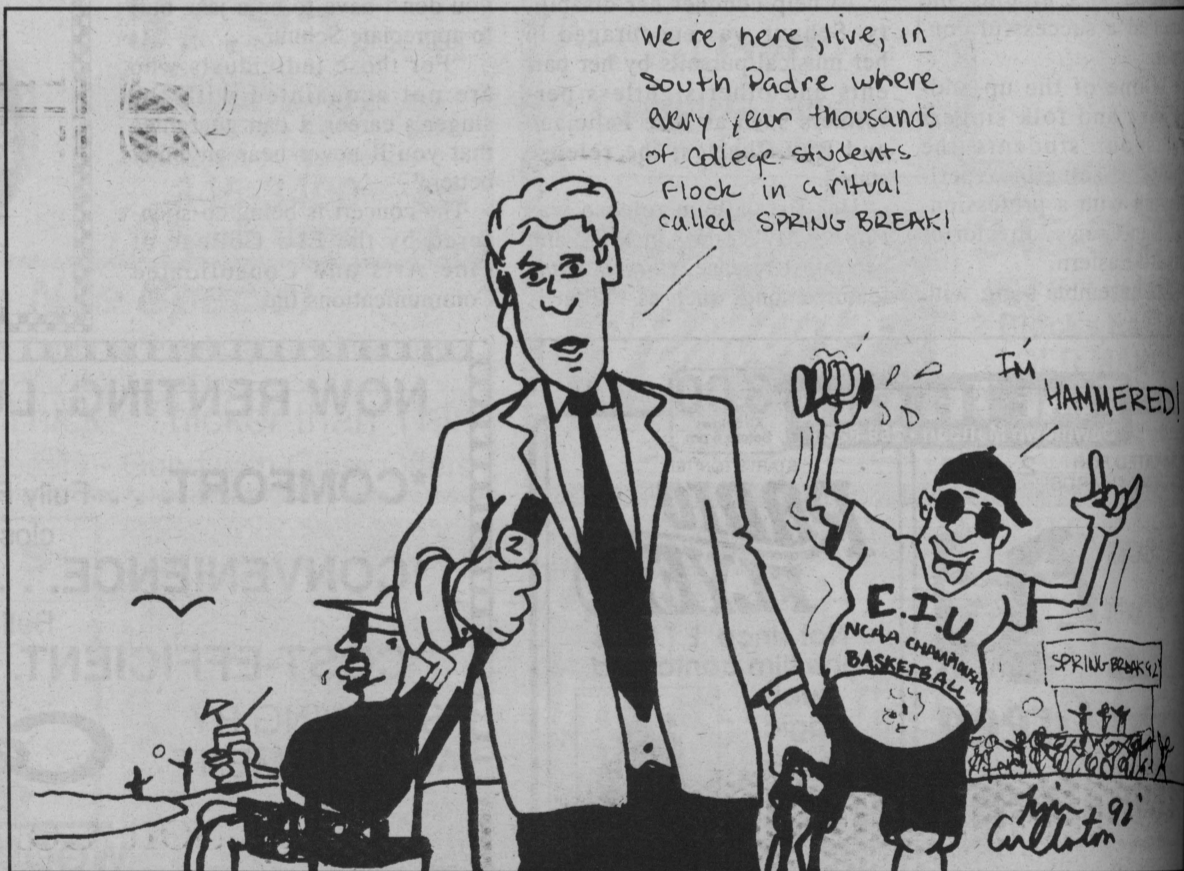

This problem is very grieving because there are little brothers and sisters who can be on the receiving end of someone's trigger at this very moment and it could be someone related to you!

I urge everyone to be concerned because there is a war going on and maybe, just maybe, if there was a little more concern and support, some of these crimes could be prevented and the life of someone's little child could be saved — maybe even your own.

I like to leave you with this scenario from the conclusion of the story in Time Magazine:

"The desacralization of life, a society of emotional disconnection: killing is a kind of dream-sequencing. Conscience is disconnected from trigger finger. Child is disconnected from future. Bullet is disconnected from gun muzzle and once fired, can never be recalled.

Evette Pearson is edit page editor and a regular columnist for The Daily Eastern News.

Your turn...

Carpenter issue should be six years behind us

Dear editor:

Much hullabaloo is being made over the funding source of Dr. Carpenter's book, "Rages of Excess." I feel the strong need to emphasize that this happened over six years ago!! Why are messengers Guernsey and Simpson still in an uproar now — six years later? Is this a departmental squabble that doesn't even deserve the public time and attention that these two gentlemen are trying to force upon it? Could it be that they're jealous that they lacked the chutzpa to seek help from the administration when they wanted to get published? Or, could they be trying to discredit Dr. Carpenter for their own petty-minded reasons? If so, it is to Dr. Carpenter's credit that these men had to go back six years to find this quasi-pseudo-unethical incident from Dr. Carpenter's past.

As to their indignation over the fact that Dr. Carpenter dared to "bite the hand that fed him," I for one do not believe that for a lousy $4,500, Dr. Carpenter should be expected to unquestionably support some rather questionable actions of the administration six years after he received his funding. To turn a blind eye to what has happened (and is happening) at this university simply because he received assistance in the publication of his book six years ago would be unethical!! In his role as elected chair of the Faculty Senate, Dr. Carpenter has a duty to voice the concerns of the faculty and to bring to light questionable practices of the administration.

It is to the benefit of the University population that Dr. Carpenter has to bow to the pressure and threats that he had to endure for the past six years and that he continues to pressure open, honest, above-board behavior from our administration.

Layzell will address committee Monday

By CHRIS SEPER
Administration editor

Board of Governors Chancellor Thomas Layzell will be addressing questions concerning the presidential search process at the Presidential Search Advisory Committee meeting Monday.

"I think it's necessary that the committee have a chance to talk to him face to face," said David Carpenter, committee chair. "We're laying the groundwork here, and as I said, (we'll be dealing with) how the search will progress in the months ahead."

Committee members will also begin dealing with the formulation of criteria for the selection of presidential candidates.

The meeting - which is closed to the public due to provisions within the Illinois Open Meetings Act - will take place at 4:30 p.m. in the BOG Room of Booth Library.

"It's a preliminary visit," said BOG spokeswoman Michelle Brazell. "Now that the presidential search committee selection is completed, this will be his initial visit."

"He'll (Layzell) be talking about the search process approved by the board January 16 and answer questions members have about the revision of that process," Carpenter said.

Earlier in the week, Carpenter said that the committee was looking to question Layzell on screening all presidential applications and extending the search deadline - currently set for August.

Now that the committee is established, Brazell said that Layzell will be involved in helping them "every step of the way" with things such as sharing information about candidates, various cuts from the initial pool of applicants and the number of candidates in the selection pool.

"From here on out until the new president is chosen," Brazell said, "(Layzell will) be working very closely with that committee."

Criteria for the president will be decided by all 20 members of the committee. Ideas for criteria will be suggested by various members, Carpenter said.

"Members will be bringing ideas to the meeting," he said. "We're going to hammer away at those ideas (until) we get something we can all agree on."

All applications for the position were turned into the BOG this week, but Brazell said the total number of candidates won't be picked until the middle of next week.

"There are people who have been nominated that have not been contacted and asked whether or not they want to continue (in the selection process)," Brazell said.

Council finishes interview of final VPAA candidate

By TERESA JOHNSON
Staff writer

Vice president for academic affairs candidate Barbara Hill addressed the Council on Academic Affairs concerning curriculum and campus programs, saying, if chosen, she would move towards an open dialogue with the CAA.

The CAA interviewed Hill, the last of the four candidates for the vice president for academic affairs position, at its Thursday afternoon meeting.

Hill said she felt the vice president for academic affairs can count on the CAA for leadership along with quality and productivity, adding the position requires being helpful when working with students to provide them better service.

Jon Laible, William Dunlap and Rachel Fordyce, the three other candidates, have already been interviewed by the council.

Dunlap is the dean of education at the University of Wisconsin at Eau-Claire, Laible is Eastern's dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and Fordyce is currently serving as dean of the College of Humanities and Social Sciences at Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

The council also began a review of the provisional admissions policy Thursday.

Seton Hall, Tarheels slide by in 1st round

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dean Smith became the winningest coach in NCAA tournament history Thursday when North Carolina survived a barrage of 3-pointers and beat Miami of Ohio 68-63 behind 22 points from Eric Montross.

The outcome was in doubt until Miami's Eric Mercurio missed a desperate attempt to hit on a 30-footer with four seconds left.

North Carolina's Hubert Davis, fouled immediately, made both free throws to clinch

Smith has won 48 tournament games, one more than UCLA's John Wooden, since becoming the Tar Heels' coach in 1961. North Carolina is making its record 18th consecutive appearance in the NCAA tournament.

No. 18 North Carolina (22-9) will play Seton Hall in Saturday's second round. Miami, winner of the Mid-American Conference, finished at 23-8 in its first NCAA appearance since 1986.

Seton Hall 78, La Salle 76

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Terry Dehere made a 17-foot jumper with 1.8 seconds left as Seton Hall rallied for a 78-76 victory over La Salle in the first round of the NCAA West Regional.

Seton Hall (22-8) will play Missouri in the second round on Saturday.

La Salle (20-11) led for most of the game but was ahead 70-62 after Randy Woods' 3-point shot with 4:13 left.

But Seton Hall rallied, closing to 74-71 when John Leahy made the last of his four 3-pointers with 2:38 to go. Seton Hall made six 3-pointers during a five-minute stretch to stay in the game.

Terry Walker added consecutive layups and Dehere got the front end of a two-shot foul with 1:12 left, giving Seton Hall a 76-74 advantage.

Arkansas 80, Murray St. 69

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Oliver Miller scored

21 points and Isaiah Morris sparked a second-half run as ninth-ranked Arkansas overcame foul problems to beat Murray State 80-69 today in the opening round of the NCAA Midwest Regional.

Morris scored eight of his 16 points in a 17-5 spurt as the Razorbacks finally pulled away from the Racers, coached by former Arkansas assistant Scott Edgar. Arkansas (26-7) will play Memphis State in the second round Saturday.

Murray State (17-13) got 25 points from Frank Allen and 17 points and 15 rebounds from center Popeye Jones.

Allen scored Murray State's first 15 points of the second half, hitting three 3-pointers, and his basket with 12:25 left put the Racers up 54-53. It would be their final lead.

Georgetown 75, South Florida 60

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Alonzo Mourning scored 21 points, grabbed 11 rebounds and blocked six shots as 22nd-ranked Georgetown held off South Florida 75-60 Thursday in the opening round of the NCAA West Regional.

The Hoyas (22-9) outscored South Florida 14-2 over the final 3 minutes, 40 seconds, making 12 of 14 free throws down the stretch.

Georgetown exploited a collapsing South Florida man-to-man defense that double- and triple-teamed Mourning, opening a 40-27 lead by sinking six of their first eight 3-point shots. Averaging four 3-pointers per game this year, the Hoyas made four in the opening 6:07.

Despite being held to two points in the first 14 minutes, Mourning dominated inside at both ends of the court and was a key reason that South Florida (19-10) equaled its second-lowest point total of the season.

Memphis State 80, Pepperdine 70

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Anfernee Hardaway scored 21 points and took control down the stretch for Memphis State, which blew a 13-point halftime lead before regrouping.

Billy Smith added 19 points for the Tigers

(21-10), making their first NCAA tournament appearance in four years. Doug Christie had 23 points for Pepperdine (24-7), which had a 12-game winning streak broken.

Florida St. 78, Montana 68

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Sam Cassell scored 23 points, eight in the final three minutes, as 20th-ranked Florida State held on to beat Montana 78-68 Thursday in the first round of the NCAA West Regional.

The quicker Seminoles (21-9) used a harassing defense to take control midway through the first half and build a 23-point lead with 13:47 left in the game.

Montana (27-4) came back behind the scoring of Delvon Anderson and Roger Fasting and cut the lead to 72-66 on Fasting's leaning 3-pointer with a minute to play.

Doug Edwards sank four free throws and Cassell made a layup after a turnover to get Florida State out of trouble.

Five players scored in double figures for the Seminoles, who play No. 22 Georgetown in the second round Saturday.

Bob Sura, named the Atlantic Coast Conference freshman of the year earlier in the day, scored 12 of his 14 points in the second half for Florida State. Rodney Dobard scored 14, Chuck Graham 13 and Edwards 12 for the Seminoles.

Missouri 89, W. Virginia 78

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Missouri got a helping hand from an unlikely source in turning out the lights on West Virginia's season.

Refreshed and inspired after a blackout, the Tigers rolled to an 89-78 victory. Missouri (2-8) will next face Seton Hall on Saturday.

"The delays gave us some time to rest, listen to coach (Norm) Stewart and think about what we needed to do," said Anthony Peeler.

Torrid-shooting Indiana cruises past Panthers 94-55

Dream season ended by No. 2 seed Hoosiers

By KEN RYAN
Sports editor

BOISE, Idaho – Eastern Illinois' dream came crashing to a halt Thursday night in the first round of the 1992 NCAA Tournament's West Regional at the Boise State University Pavilion as the No. 2 seeded Indiana Hoosiers scored the first 10 points of the game and cruised to a 94-55 victory in front of 12,208 fans.

The 15th-seeded Panthers, making their first ever appearance in the NCAA Tournament, came out timid and could not shake off their nervousness. The result was Eastern missing its first seven shots from the field before sophomore center Curtis Leib took a feed from senior forward Barry Johnson and layed in a basket at the 15:23 mark.

"My worst fear was realized Thursday when Indiana took us out of our offense," said Eastern head coach Rick Samuels. "I thought our first two or three possessions when we didn't score were critical, I thought we had to stay with them early, but unfortunately Indiana came out ready to play."

Sophomore Damon Bailey and freshman Alan Henderson scored 14 points apiece and helped the Hoosiers open up a 56-27 halftime advantage.

With Indiana leading 30-14, Eastern reeled off an 8-0 run to close the gap to 30-22, but that was as close as the Panthers would get.

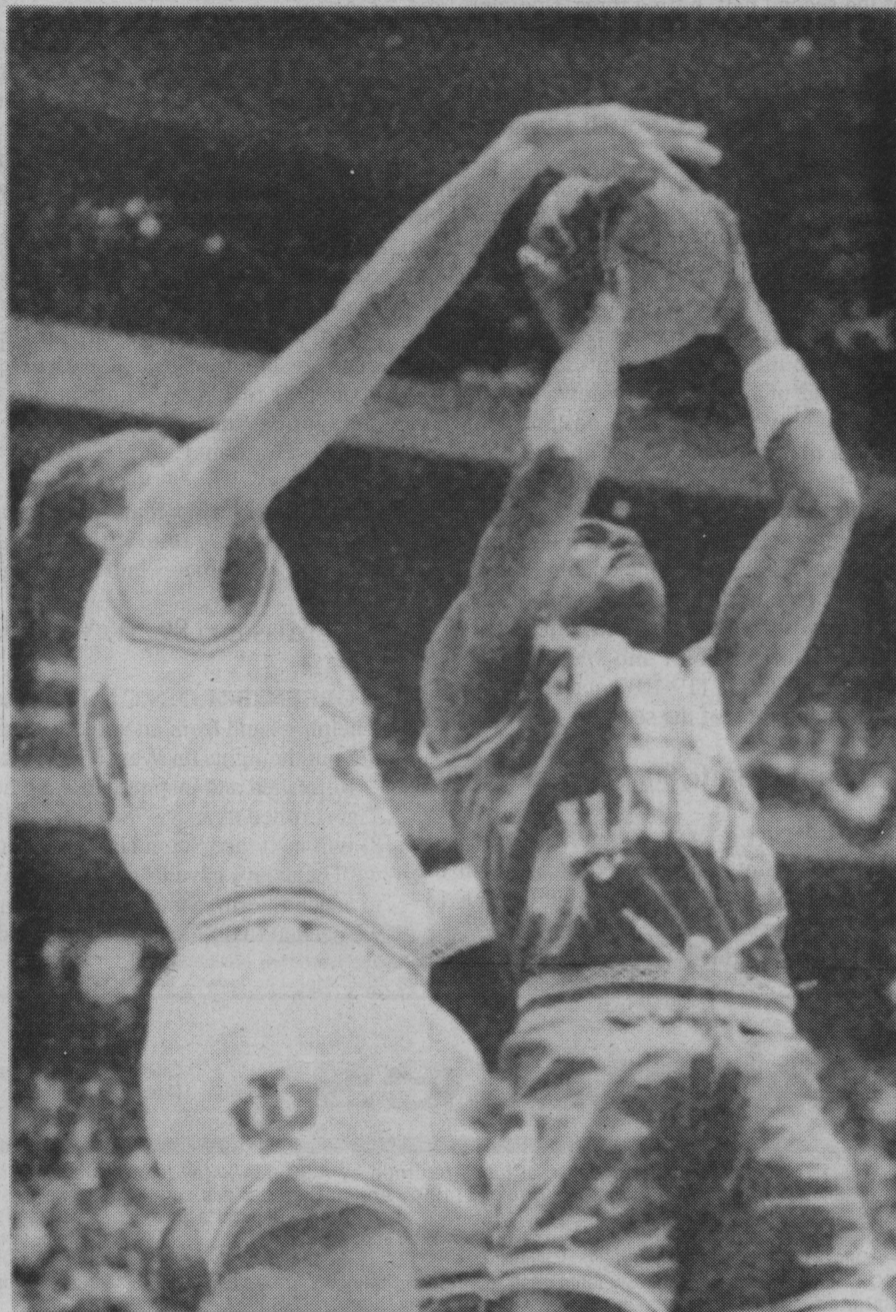

Eastern appeared to have stopped the Hoosiers on their next possession when Indiana junior guard Greg Graham missed a jump shot from the baseline and the ball went out of bounds, but after one referee ruled that it was Eastern's ball, the call was reversed.

Indiana then capitalized on it and went on a 24-1 run that covered a span of 4:38 and increased the lead to 54-23.

Eastern senior guard Steve Rowe said he felt the Panthers were just starting to get into the game before that run.

"We had decided that we were ready to play," said Rowe, who led the Panthers in scoring in 1992. "But then we had one of our usual lapses and that cost us the game."

Indiana lit up the nets in the first half, connecting on 21-31 shots from the field, good for 68 percent, while the tenacious Hoosier defense limited the Panthers to just 35 percent before the break.

The second half was no better for Eastern as Indiana outscored the Panthers 38-28. Eastern managed to shoot just 33 percent for the half.

Johnson led the Panthers with 11 points and Rowe and freshman Derrick Landrus chipped in 10 and 9 points, respectively.

"I'm proud of these young men,"

Samuels said. "They accomplished something that has never been done at Eastern Illinois. When we started our season our goal was to get to the NCAA Tournament and we did that."

Henderson led all scorers with 19 points and 11 rebounds for Indiana. Bailey added 18 and junior forward Eric Anderson chipped in 13.

Indiana now meets No. 7 seed Louisiana State, which beat BYU 94-83, Saturday in Boise.

Eastern gets a taste of big time in loss

By CHRIS BOGHOSSIAN
Staff writer

BOISE, Idaho – Forget that Eastern lost almost 40 points to national powerhouse Indiana in the first round of the 1992 NCAA Tournament.

Forget that the Hoosiers' halfcourt defense limited Eastern to just 34 percent shooting from the floor in the Panthers' 94-55 loss at the Boise State University Pavilion.

Instead, remember that Eastern Illinois, which two weeks ago entered its own conference tournament just one game over 500, made its first ever appearance in the tournament's West Regional Thursday on national television.

Instead, remember Eastern's three freshmen, who because of the blowout, played a total of 46 minutes.

"Obviously, we got a lot of media attention," said Eastern head coach, Rick Samuels, whose team bowed out at 17-14. "I think the school is excited about the experience. I know our basketball team is excited about the experience."

The experience included arriving in Boise Tuesday afternoon and facing a strict schedule which included taking on media interviews around the nation.

The experience included preparing to meet Bobby Knight's Hoosiers – including team All-American Calbert Cheaney and returning Big Ten Freshman of the Year Damon Bailey – who came into the game ranked fifth in the nation as the region's No. 2 seed.

"For the five seniors, we've never accomplished something like this," said Eastern senior forward Barry Johnson, who scored a team-high 11 points on 4-11 shooting. "This is a big deal. We've gotten this far, and no Eastern team has accomplished this."

And although Eastern didn't beat Indiana, even play with Indiana for more than 15 minutes – the Panthers accomplished what was set out to do before their 1991-92 campaign began.

"Our goal was to get to the NCAA Tournament," Samuels said. "We didn't think Indiana's goal was to win the NCAA Tournament. They've got a way to get to that."

Facing a team of Indiana's caliber was a tough enough task, but the time on the court against one of the nation's elite may pay off in the long run.

"It was a good experience playing against a team of club," said freshman Derrick Landrus, who played 10 minutes and scored nine points after hitting all three of his 3-point shots. "I don't know if there was any way we could have stayed with them the way they played."

Besides putting itself on the national map, Eastern learned from its first NCAA Tournament appearance. As Samuels said when – they earn another trip, Samuels said his Panthers will be better prepared.

"I'm proud of these young men," Samuels said. "They accomplished something that has never been done at Eastern Illinois."

"The next time we come, we'll have a better chance because we'll have some experience on how to handle the atmosphere present."

"It was a great atmosphere," said Eric West. "It's something we're not used to in Charleston – it's March Madness."

Softball team heads south to begin year

By RYAN GIUSTI
Staff writer

A trip south is just what the Eastern softball team needed.

After having four games canceled to do inclement weather in the last two weeks, the Panthers will head to Louisiana and Texas during spring break to finally get the season officially started.

A pair of exhibition games against Illinois Central College on March 16 is all Eastern has played this season. The Panthers won both games of the doubleheader, 6-4 and 8-2. On March 11 Eastern was scheduled to play St. Louis University but snow forced the game to be canceled. The Panthers then got their hopes up again on March 18 when they were scheduled to play Butler, but the game was rained out.

The cancellations have forced head coach Beth Perine to wait to put her first official game at Eastern in the books. Perine is in her first year as coach of the Panthers after serving as an assistant at Penn State.

"It seems like I've been doing this unofficial coach for a while," Perine said. "I'm looking forward to finally having a real record."

Eastern is scheduled to start playing Friday in the Patterson Invite in Shreveport, La. The Patterson Invite will start on Friday and end on Saturday, and according to Perine will bring in some Top 20 teams.

Perine is looking to use the Patterson Invite to gain some experience for her young squad.

"The Patterson Invite will do two things for us," Perine said earlier in the year. "One, it will show us where we stand and show us the type of things we need to work on, and two, really prepare us for the Gateway Conference. That's what you always want a spring trip to do."

After the Patterson Invite, the Panthers will embark on a trip through Texas, playing six games before returning home. Eastern will play doubleheaders against Stephan F. Austin University on March 23, Sam Houston State University March 25, and Texas University at Arlington on March 26.
