Radio-TV Center to begin broadcast

by Jan Genis

Following preliminary testing this week, Eastern's Radio-TV Center will be ready to begin televised broadcasting Monday, Director John Beabout said.

Construction for the center began in the south end of the Buzzard Building in the summer of 1981, Beabout said.

The center is intended to provide better facilities for courses which include television production, related speech-communications, journalism and instructional media. Monday will be the first step in actual broadcast, he said.

Beabout estimated the total cost of equipment purchases at about $80,000. Funds for the renovations were made possible through allocations in Eastern's budget.

The first program to be broadcast over channel 12 of the cable converter is The Cable Data News Service, Beabout said. The program will be broadcast three times daily at 9 a.m., 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Beabout said the station is affiliated with Liberty Cable Television and its programs can be picked up only by televisions equipped with cable converters.

Beabout said once the station "gets going" he hopes the amount of broadcasting will expand to about 18 hours per day. However, he said he does not expect the expansion "for another five years down the road."

In addition to televised broadcasting, Beabout said the center will provide a radio station, WEIU. "We have applied for a construction permit for 3,000 watts for an FM station," he said.

Beabout added however, that there are no definite plans or dates established for WEIU's first broadcast.

Three students currently are employed by the center to work on the data news broadcasting Monday, Beabout said. They are responsible for condensing news stories from the Charleston Times Courier and The Daily Eastern News.

In addition, the students will organize a calendar of events for Eastern and Charleston.

Beabout said renovations for the center still are not complete.

"There will be classroom space constructed for lectures. It will bring the classrooms that are currently upstairs (in Buzzard) closer to the facilities," Beabout said.

Beabout added that he soon will be notified about a bid for the center's main control room.

Beabout said he is unable to elaborate on any definite future broadcasting plans or the purchase of any additional equipment.

Label use violation of policy

by Julie Jackson and Sharon Bray

John Beusch, Secretary of State Jim Edgar's campaign finance director, was in violation of a university policy when he provided university mailing labels for political purposes, a university official said Wednesday.

Director of University Relations Ken Hesler said a general requirement in the policy states that once a list or set of labels has been printed, they are not to be made available to a third party for purposes other than were originally intended.

"Lists are made available only for specific purposes," Hesler said. He added that the lists are made available for university use only and are not to be given out to a third party.

"It's an institutional matter and a violation of university policy," he said.

University mailing labels were provided by Beusch to solicit votes for Edgar in a letter signed by four Eastern alumni.

The letter, dated Sept. 23, was sent out by Citizens for Jim Edgar. It asks Eastern alumni to support Edgar, the Republican incumbent in this year's election, in his bid for the office of Illinois secretary of state.

Beusch is on leave of absence from Eastern's Office of Public Service and Development to serve in Edgar's campaign.

Beusch signed an agreement on the request form for the labels which states, "I understand that I am responsible for the use of the personal alumni data herein requested; and I agree that it will not be made available in original or reproduced form to persons or organizations outside my jurisdiction and/or assigned authority."

Beusch requested the labels last year for an alumni conference that was to be held in Hawaii during the basketball tournament in which Eastern's team participated.

The conference was "scrapped" in January, Beusch said, so the labels were "just laying around my office."

He added that he kept the labels because his office usually tries to find another use for them.

Director of Alumni Services Charles Titus said, "Under the old request policy there was nothing stated to the effect that the labels must be destroyed, but it was a common practice to destroy unused labels."

He added that a new policy goes into effect Thursday which states, "All unused lists and/or labels are to be returned to the alumni office for proper disposition."

"We decided to do this sometime back when we were aware our labels were used," Titus said.

Hesler said he will be discussing the matter with Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin when he returns from Poland. Hesler added that he will make recommendations to Marvin concerning what should be done at that time, since Beusch is under Hesler's authority at Eastern.

Candidate for governor favors tax cuts

by Mike Pramshafer

Cutting back on the sales and state income taxes will be Bea Armstrong's first steps if she is elected governor of Illinois.

Armstrong, 38, is running for governor as a Libertarian Party candidate. She was in Charleston Wednesday as part of her campaign route through Central Illinois. Her next scheduled stops include Bloomington and Champaign.

Armstrong said if elected governor, she would abolish food and drug sales taxes and would cut state income taxes from 2.5 percent to 1.5 by fiscal year 1985.

She said her main ambition will be "to put the brakes on the way we're heading and turn it around into a positive direction."

"The purpose of the government is to protect the people, but instead, it takes away 45 percent of our income," Armstrong said.

In addition, she said education is "one of the most important issues" in her campaign.

"In this free society, we must have people who can out-think and question authorities. I would like to open up the education system and let parents choose the school for their children," Armstrong said.

"Freedom of choice is what the Libertarian Party is all about," she added.

The first development of the Libertarian Party came in 1971, Armstrong said. The party was never really recognized nationally until Ed Clark ran for president for the Libertarian Party in 1980.

Armstrong said the Libertarian Party stands for "individual liberty. You own your own body. As long as you're not hurting anybody, you should feel free to do what you want to do with your life," she added.

This year, the party has about 1,000 candidates throughout the state running for office in the November election.

News Round-up

Economy grows in third quarter

WASHINGTON—Still well short of recovery, the U.S. economy slowed to a meager 0.8 percent annual growth rate in the third quarter, the government reported Wednesday. Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige said little improvement is likely before next year.

The Commerce Department's report on inflation-adjusted gross national product—a measure of all goods and services produced during the summer—was the last major estimate of U.S. economic health before the Nov. 2 elections.

At the White House, presidential press secretary Larry Speakes tried to make the best of the figures. "We're grateful the economy did turn upward in the third quarter and we expect our growth to continue," he said.

But the gain was so tiny that Baldrige made no claims of recovery from the recession that has stifled the economy for most of President Reagan's first two years in office.

Child kept a virtual prisoner

GENEVA, Ill.—A charge of abuse has been added to a complaint against the parents of a 14-year-old suburban Chicago boy who allegedly was kept a virtual prisoner in his home all his life, authorities say.

Bernard and Joann Freeman were named in an amended petition filed Tuesday by the Kane County state's attorney's office, which changed its original complaint to add the abuse charge, officials said.

Details of the amended petition were sealed until hearings are completed before Judge Neil E. Mahoney.

Judge approves railway sale

CHICAGO—A federal judge Wednesday approved a plan for the bankrupt Rock Island Line to sell more than 650 miles of trackage in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas for $55 million.

However, the plan hinges on approval of a $40 million loan from the Federal Railroad Administration, and an FRA spokesman said Wednesday that "key issues" concerning the loan have yet to be resolved.

U.S. District Judge Frank McGarr approved the plan, drawn up by bankruptcy trustee William Gibbons. It would sell 600 miles of track from Salina, Kan., to Dallas and grant an easement using about 34 miles of additional trackage from Dallas to Fort Worth, Texas.

Edgar holds lead over Cosentino

CHICAGO—Illinois Secretary of State Jim Edgar still holds a commanding 18 percent lead over Democratic challenger Jerome A. Cosentino in the Nov. 2 election race, according to a Chicago Sun-Times poll published Wednesday.

The 1,528 registered Illinois voters polled favored the Republican Edgar by 55 to 37 percent, with 8 percent undecided, the newspaper said.

Among all the voters polled by the Gallup Organization between Oct. 9 and Oct. 13, Edgar held a nearly identical lead, 54 to 37 percent, with 9 percent undecided, the newspaper said.

Reagan campaigns in Midwest

CHAPIN, Ill. (AP)—President Reagan, campaigning across economically distressed sections of the Midwest, implored voters Wednesday to have the "gumption" to stick with his programs through current hard times.

Making a special campaign pitch for House Minority Leader Bob Michel of Illinois, the president could hardly have chosen a tougher territory to defend his programs.

Unemployment has hit 15.1 percent in nearby Peoria, Michel's home town, and is 12.5 percent statewide. Farmers here, like those throughout the Midwest, are struggling to cope with rising operating costs and sharply falling prices.

"I know you face a real uphill battle here on the farm," Reagan said during a campaign appearance at a 2,000-acre spread owned by the Illinois agriculture secretary, Leland Werrie.

From the farm, Reagan was to travel to a Republican rally in Peoria for appearances with Michel and Illinois Republican Gov. Jim Thompson. He then was to push on to Omaha, Neb., where he was spending the night in advance of more Midwestern politicking Thursday.

Reagan acknowledged the "high unemployment and hardships here in the counties of rural Illinois" but insisted that "the best farm program is one that returns prosperity to all sectors of our economy."

Then Reagan repeated the Republican fall campaign theme: "It takes the gumption to stick with long-term solutions for long-term problems, the strength to resist temptation to indulge in the quick fixes of the past."

Authorities search for suspects

Authorities said Wednesday that James L. Lewis, wanted in connection with the Tylenol killings in Chicago, had lived with his wife in a cheap Manhattan hotel for six weeks, including the period when seven people died from cyanide-poisoned capsules.

A special squad of 100 FBI agents and New York police officers were searching the city in hopes the couple might still be there, FBI agent Kenneth Walton told reporters at a news conference. Walton said Mrs. Lewis may have a kidney ailment and agents were checking New York hospitals.

Walton said that Leann Lewis, 35, had signed the couple into the Rutledge Hotel on Sept. 6 and was last seen there Oct. 16. Lewis, 36, was last seen at the hotel on Oct. 14.

They stayed in Room 200, Walton said, registered under the name of Nancy Richardson, an alias Mrs. Lewis had previously used, and using the Lewises' Illinois address.

"We think they stayed here," said James T. Sullivan, chief of detectives. "We don't think there was traveling back and forth. The woman was working regularly during that time and her husband was seen with her."

He met her at lunch and met her after work and walked her home," Walton added.

All seven cyanide victims in Chicago swallowed the tainted capsules on Sept. 29.

Lewis has been charged with attempted extortion for writing a letter to McNeil Consumer Products Co., the manufacturer of Tylenol, demanding $1 million to prevent future poisonings. The letter was mailed from New York City. He is also wanted for questioning in the slayings themselves.

"We have no evidence that directly connects the Lewises to the Tylenol murders," Walton emphasized. "No evidence. No evidence."

Supporters bury Polish unionist

NOWA HUTA, Poland (AP)—Marching slowly to Chopin's funeral dirge under banners declaring "Solidarity Lives," thousands of angry and despairing Poles on Wednesday buried a young unionist killed by police in riots set off by a government ban on the independent union.

Hundreds of riot police backed by helmeted paratroopers kept a tight grip on Nowa Huta to prevent new unrest as an estimated 10,000 mourners and at least 21 Roman Catholic priests left the funeral of 20-year-old Bogdan Wlosik.

"My son, oh my son," cried Irena Wlosik as she threw herself twice onto her son's coffin. Her husband Jozef and their daughter Malgorzata wept as the coffin was lowered slowly into the ground by friends.

"My son, sleep calmly in our Polish earth on which you were not permitted to live in peace," said a banner on one of about 60 wreaths placed amid flowers piled over six feet high on Wlosik's grave.

Wlosik was killed by a plainclothes policeman during riots Oct. 15 sparked by the outlawing of Solidarity on Oct. 8. He was the 15th Pole killed in demonstrations since authorities imposed martial law Dec. 13 and suspended Solidarity, the first union in the Soviet bloc free of Communist Party control.

"We shall avenge you," was scrawled on one of several black-bordered funeral notices appearing around the city announcing the burial.

Committee to discuss addition of students' birthdates to IDs

by Linda Wagner

Student Body President Terry Teele said Monday Eastern's student government will form a committee to research stating birthdates on Eastern's student identification cards.

The committee will attempt to discern if adding the birthdate to IDs would be a service to students, Teele said.

Currently, Eastern's student IDs do not list a birthdate. Only the name, social security number and picture of the student are present on the current ID.

Teele said he got the idea for putting birthdates on student ID cards from a speech communication class discussion.

The class was discussing solutions to the underage drinking problem, Teele said.

However, Teele said "As of now, there is no institutional need for it (the birthdate) to be on the ID."

In past years, birthdates were printed on the ID but because nothing at the university requires proof of age, it was removed, Teele said.

Teele said he has discussed the idea with Dean of Student Academic Services Sam Taber.

He added Taber said he is neither for or against birthdates on student IDs.

Students' reactions to placing birthdates on IDs varied.

Freshman Jane Suchomski said, "I think the idea is stupid. We have our birthdates on our driver's license, so there is no need for it to be placed on the student ID."

Sophomore Susie Whitney agreed. "If bars are concerned about age, they should ask for a driver's license," she said.

However, junior Ed Wilson said he favors the idea of placing birthdates on IDs.

"With the birthdate on the student ID there would be no need to carry a driver's license," Wilson said.

Junior Tina Wolf said she "definitely" agrees with the proposal.

"Adding the birthdate would be a more valid form of ID than just a social security number," she said.

Teele said once the committee has researched the idea it will be brought before the Student Senate to be discussed.

If the senate approves having birthdates on student IDs, the proposal will go to Eastern's administration for approval, Teele said.

Application date cut-off not expected for fall '83

by Audrey B. Dumentat

A cut-off date for freshmen and transfer student fall semester 1983 applications is not anticipated, an Eastern official said recently.

Glenn Williams, vice president for student affairs, said a diminishing pool of students for university seats makes a cut-off date unwise next fall.

"The chances of us having a cut-off right now are rather remote," Williams said. "I don't feel that secure about the future."

Williams said a cut-off date is instituted when the university receives enough applications to fill the number of available seats.

However, the show rate, the percentage of people accepted who actually attend Eastern, is expected to drop to 38 percent in fall semester 1983, Williams said.

"As the show rate drops, you have to take more applications in order to get the number of people you want," he said.

Last year's cut-off date for students applying for fall semester 1982 was Feb. 1. The fall 1982 show rate was about 39.5 percent, Williams said.

Samuel Taber, dean of student academic services, said there is no single explanation for the declining show rate.

The recessed economy, multiple applications (students applying to more than one college) and the number of students attending community colleges are all contributing factors, Taber said.

However, Taber said, "There's a point beyond which it (the show rate) will never go. I don't see it dropping much more than it is now."

Taber said it is still possible that a cut-off date could be instituted, but the date would probably be much later than February.

Williams said it is not possible to state for certain that there will be no cut-off date. "If we were deluged with applications, we would have to institute a cut-off."

OCSHA gets positive response

by Crystal Schrof

After having its doors open for two days, the Off-Campus Student Housing Association has received an "encouraging" welcome from Eastern students, Student Body President Terry Teele said.

Teele said Tuesday between 25 and 30 students have sought help from OCSHA.

The response demonstrates that something like OCSHA has been needed at Eastern for some time, Teele continued.

Most students have been come to OCSHA to look for available off-campus housing, Teele said. However, OCSHA also has listings of students who need subleasees and roommates.

Teele said no students have come to OCSHA seeking legal advice yet.

He added several Charleston realtors and landlords have submitted lists of available off-campus student housing to OCSHA.

Currently, OCSHA has one informational bulletin board in the Student Activities Office with lists of available housing, subleasees and roommate requests, Teele said.

The association is an informational source for students seeking off-campus housing. OCSHA will also serve as a neutral mediator between students and their landlords when problems arise, Teele said.

Correction

It was incorrectly reported in Tuesday's edition of The Daily Eastern News that the Shopping Spree advertising agency in Mattoon was in charge of contacting area high schools with the offer of handling a fundraiser through the method of selling coupon books.

Merchants Marketing Concept of Springfield, Mo., sold, delivered and distributed the books, Marie Nielsen, Charleston music booster president, said Wednesday.

It also was incorrectly reported that the coupon books were reduced in price from $29 to $27. The books were reduced from $27.95 to $25.95 because of expired coupons and business closings.

AB should drop unfair funding plan

The Apportionment Board should vote "no" on Financial Vice President John Cole's proposal to give student fee funds to Eastern's Rugby and Women's Soccer clubs.

Cole is proposing the AB allocate between $650 and $900 in student fee funds to the clubs, which are not funded by student fee money. The clubs would split the amount allocated and use the money to purchase medical kits, coolers and balls.

The money would come from the AB's general revenue sharing account which is kept in reserve for recognized fee-funded organizations.

The money is kept in reserve, after initial allocations, in case a fee-funded organization would need emergency funding.

So far this semester no groups have requested emergency funds, but there is always the possibility that these groups, which are entitled to the money, might need funding later in the semester.

On the surface, the proposal would seem to be a good one, but is it fair?

What about all the other non-funded organizations on campus? If Cole's proposal is passed other groups could rightfully claim the same privileged treatment the Rugby and Women's Soccer clubs received.

If the AB allocates funds to Eastern's Rugby and Women's Soccer clubs it would, in all fairness, have to give funds to other non-fee-funded groups.

Currently, the Rugby and Women's Soccer bylaws call for the clubs to be funded solely by their own members. Cole's proposal is in direct conflict with the bylaws of both the clubs and the AB.

The decision whether to fund a non-student activity fee-funded organization should not be made by the AB, it should be made by Eastern's students.

A referendum asking for the groups to be changed to fee-funded organizations should be placed on the student government ballot so Eastern students can decide how their money will be spent.

Because the proposal is unfair to other non-funded groups and does not have approval from Eastern's students, further action to spend fee money for non-funded groups should cease.

Jeering fans give Eastern bad reputation

"A reputation once broken may easily be repaired, but people will always keep their eye on the spot where the crack was."

Anonymous

A man falls to the ground, his face twisting in pain as he clutches his leg.

And the crowd cheers.

An odd situation, yet one which occurs often.

During a home soccer game Saturday a member of the visiting team was injured during a dramatic play. Eastern's fans responded with taunts and jeers.

"Come on. Get up—we know you're faking."

"Hey what acting school do you send your team to, coach?"

One member from each team had been running at high speeds side by side when a foot went somewhere it shouldn't have—it didn't matter whose it was—and both teams members rolled to the ground.

Eastern's soccer player immediately got back up but the other player remained on the ground until his coach helped him to the bench, where he stayed for the remainder of the game.

As the game progressed, I watched this player. "What is he thinking?" I wondered. Did he feel he let his team down? Was he wondering how soon he'd be able to play again? Did he even hear those shouts of ridicule, or did the pain in his leg block everything out?

Either way, I'm sure he heard about our fans' behavior from his teammates on the way back home. Now what does he think?

He had his moment. As if he were watching a filmstrip of himself, he saw that all eyes were on him as he ran down that field toward the goal in total control of the ball. His opponent was right there too, but he still had the ball. Suddenly the film was cut and the action came to a halt.

When the film was repaired he saw himself on the ground in pain. The next frame was of a crowd of Eastern fans laughing at him.

Those jeers may be the only thing he remembers about his trip to Eastern.

Eastern fans should keep in mind that respect is hard to earn but easy to lose.

The soccer game went into overtime with the score at 0-0, and it remained that way for the final score. Although the game was recorded as a tie, in actuality Eastern lost.

Reagan forgot promise

Editor:

Friday we learned that this country has an unemployment rate of over 10 percent and still climbing. President Reagan has been harping on the "failed policies" and a balanced budget amendment—everything except his own forgotten promises.

Candidate Reagan and his supply-side missionaries promised us that by this time in his term, the country would be flowing with milk and honey. All we would have to do would be to give him everything he asked for. Last year we saw the president thank the Congress for giving him just that.

What have we received for this support? The worst depression this country has seen since the "Great Depression." The Atlantic Alliance is in disorder due to Reagan's blind dogmatic preaching that not only hurts our friends abroad, but also our workers at home.

His plan to give tax cuts to big business so they could reinvest in this country has failed. It has resulted in billion dollar corporations scrambling to buy each other up, not reinvest as promised.

Reagan and his henchmen have set out to destroy all the laws that have been established to preserve the environment.

But the worst thing this man has done has been to say that we could win a nuclear war. This not only threatens you and me with possible death, but it also threatens the very existence of all life on the face of the earth.

And now that many people have started to organize out of fear of his nuclear policies, what does our president do? He takes a black page out of America's past, McCarthyism, and states that these groups are out to harm America. These tactics only show to what lengths he will stoop to focus attention on everything but his own failed policy.

We can't vote directly for a president next month, but we can send him a message. We must tell him that people are more important than big business. That guns are no good if people have no jobs or hope. Vote for those candidates that will give us hope again.

Movie problems listed

Editor:

My letter is in response to J. Alan Scherer's Oct. 20 letter to the editor concerning smoking at UB movies.

It seems that even the least observant would notice that the "atmosphere" of the UB "theater" is nowhere near that of a poor example of what Mr. Scherer terms a "real theater" (in reference to his enthusiastic statement, "The atmosphere is almost like that of a real theater").

Even I, being only slightly observant, have noticed at UB movies the truly disgraceful sound system, the consistently dark, fuzzy film copy, the hard, butt-punching chairs (or floor) and the distracting mass of students lounging with cushions, pillows and various other comfort-contraptions laughing at the most inappropriate times.

Perhaps they are distracted themselves.

I do agree with Mr. Scherer that the freedom to smoke at UB movies should not be allowed—it only adds another annoyance to the incomplete list I have already given.

Director sees new policy as a success

by Keith Clark

Despite numerous student complaints regarding the new registration procedures implemented last spring for this fall's registration, Director of Registration Mike Taylor termed the new policy a success.

The major change in registration was that students were limited to signing up for 16 credit hours in pre-enrollment, although they had previously been allowed to preregister for 18 credit hours.

According to an evaluation recently completed by an ad-hoc committee which studied the new registration policy, 411 more students received complete schedules for the fall semester of 1982 than for the previous fall.

Also, the number of students who received incomplete schedules dropped by 102 people.

The reason for the success of registration this year as opposed to past years is the new 16-hour limit on pre-enrollment, the evaluation states.

Also, there were 40 percent fewer classes added and dropped by students in fall 1982 as opposed to fall 1981.

Taylor said there were several reasons for the reductions in adds and drops.

Students received better scheduling at pre-enrollment, there were fewer seats available to add and there were fewer days to add classes, Taylor said.

The evaluation also listed problems students faced when going through the add-drop process.

The first problem was that of students who wanted to add a closed course and were standing in line unnecessarily.

Taylor said students facing this problem should have been directed to see the chairman of the department to plead their case.

A priority list for placement in closed classes should have been posted at the departmental office and students should have been instructed to check back at the departmental office to determine whether their add was allowed, the evaluation said.

In addition, students who were allowed to add should have been told to finish their add transaction at the University Union and students who could not be accommodated should have been advised to either select another class or be moved up on the waiting list.

These students then should have been directed to check later to find out if they got the class they wanted, the evaluation said.

Taylor said students must consider the problems the registration office faces in trying to develop a perfect registration process.

"Students must realize the only way to develop a perfect registration system would be either to greatly increase the amount of faculty at Eastern or have a great decrease in enrollment so there would be more open sections," Taylor said.

New proposed policy change 'good'—Rives

by Michael Kuo and Linda Wagner

Vice President for Academic Affairs Stanley Rives told the Student Senate Wednesday that a recent proposal which would change Eastern's academic probation policy is "a good proposal."

The Council on Academic Affairs recently passed a proposal which would change criteria for academic dismissal to a graduated scale based on a student's cumulative grade point average.

The proposal, which now needs administrative approval, would eliminate the necessity for students who have been dismissed to go before a readmissions committee for reinstatement.

"(The elimination of) the readmissions board might in itself be viewed as a lowering of standards, but I think that is a debatable question," Rives said.

Rives said the proposal, which he said has a "tougher" GPA standard, "will not have any major effect on enrollment."

Rives added the proposal "is probably better than what we (Eastern) have. But is it ideal? We need to have some experience with it to determine that."

Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin asked Rives to review the proposal with him before administrative action is taken. Rives said he will meet with Marvin Thursday or Friday to discuss the proposal.

Cold to be replaced by Indian Summer

by Maureen Foertsch

Although Wednesday's temperatures were cold enough to bring frost and the end of the growing season, Indian Summer should be back by the weekend, a Charleston area weather expert said Wednesday.

Dalias Price said Charleston's 39-degree temperature on Wednesday was below average for mid-October.

"We should see frost Thursday morning, since we'll probably have about below freezing temperatures Wednesday night according to predictions," he said.

"If the sundown temperatures are 50 degrees or lower, and it's clear, calm and dry, frost can be expected," he said.

If Wednesday's low temperatures and dry air did bring frost, Price said the growing season for central Illinois will have ended.

And not only did this year's frost-conditions come slightly earlier than usual, he said, but cold temperatures in October have been more intense than average.

"People who have flowers and plants outdoors should keep them protected from the possibility of frost for now," Price said.

However, before winter sets in, temperatures should be warmer again.

"Warm, Indian Summer weather will be back by the weekend," he said.

Price said weather about this time of year generally becomes colder because of the total darkness at the North Pole and the lower angle of the sun, which mean fewer hours of sunlight.

Those factors create colder air over Canada and Alaska which "spills out" into the Midwest, he added.

Price also said that according to the National Weather Bureau, we can expect the next two and a half months to be colder than average.

"With lower temperatures, the precipitation outlook says that we'll get more snow," he said.

Price said he is predicting an above-average amount of snow in December.

"The average December snowfall is 3.8 inches, and my scientific guess would be we'll get five inches this December," he said.

Last December Charleston had about a seven-inch snowfall, he added.

Although the first half of winter is expected to be harsher than average, Price said "when early winter is cold, the second half tends to be more moderate."

CAA to plan committee

by Audrey B. Dumentat

The formation of the Committee on Reinstatement will be discussed at Thursday's meeting of the Council on Academic Affairs.

The committee, a revised version of the Committee on Admissions, was called for in the probation policy recently approved by the CAA.

The readmission portion of the proposal states a student who has been dismissed from the university twice may not be reinstated a second time except by approval of the Committee on Reinstatement."

The CAA will discuss committee guidelines including total number of members, the breakdown of the number of student and faculty members, and the procedures for appointment, CAA chairman David Buchanan said.

The policy, including recommendations for the formation of the reinstatement committee, must go to Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin and Vice President for Academic Affairs Stanley Rives for final approval.

In other business, the CAA will review a proposed psychology honors program.

The departmental honors program will require an undergraduate to complete psychology seminars, an undergraduate thesis and one graduate course, Buchanan said.

The CAA will also discuss a proposed art course, Art 4901 "Graphic Design III," and proposed honors courses, Geology 1400 "Physical Geology" and Psychology 2320 "Introduction to Psychology II."

In addition, the CAA will review curriculum changes in the the geography major and minor and in the industrial technology minor.

Three pup tents taken from frat

by Maureen Foertsch

Three university tents valued at $120 were stolen Saturday from the yard of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity house, 1509 Second St.

Junior David Harkness, a Phi Sigma Epsilon member, said the fraternity had rented the tents from the University Board special events camping equipment renting operations Friday afternoon.

The three two-man pup tents were valued at $40 each, he added.

The fraternity left the tents outside to "air them out" before a planned pig roast/camping trip on Saturday, Harkness said.

The tents were last seen in the yard at 7:30 a.m. Saturday, but about 9:30 a.m. Harkness noticed that three of the rented tents were missing, he said.

Charleston police officer Ken Belle said Tuesday that the police department had no leads on the case.

"We're looking—what else can I say," he said.

Booker Suggs, assistant student activities director, said the fraternity will be responsible for the cost of replacing the tents if they are not found.

Individuals checking out equipment sign a rental form which states that they will be responsible for the loss or damage of equipment rented from the UB, he added.

Suggs said he was informed of the theft Monday.

History workshop slated

by Diane Nowak

"The Third Annual Workshop of the Teaching of History," sponsored by the history department, will be hosted by Eastern Friday.

Although all students are welcome to attend, Dan Hockman, committee chairman, said, "The workshop is for public school teachers within a 100-mile radius of Charleston."

The workshop's purpose is to stimulate interest in public school history teachers as well as social studies teachers, Hockman said. It also allows teachers the opportunity to get together with other history teachers.

The workshop will begin with greetings and announcements from history department Chairman Robert Hennings. The opening address will be followed by three sessions and one program.

The first session, "Hands-On," will be presented by Harold L. Platt, a history professor at Loyola University in Chicago. Platt will discuss video equipment and its applications to education.

Eastern alumni Ruth Houck Baldock and Don Starwalt will participate in a panel discussion during the second session, "Teaching History to Gifted Students."

The third session, "How Do We Keep History Teaching Professional in the Public Schools?" will include a panel discussion by Eastern alumnus Dennis Downey and political science instructor Don Tingley.

Following the sessions, a program titled "The Use and Abuse of History" will be presented by William Burton of the history department at Western Illinois University during a luncheon in the Union Ballroom.

Any student who plans to attend the workshop should notify either Hennings or Hockman by 3 p.m. Thursday.

The workshop sessions are scheduled for 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday in the Union's third floor rooms. The cost of the workshop, which mainly covers the luncheon in the Ballroom, is $6 for teachers and $5 for students.

Eastern hosts foreign group

by Kathy Roesler

Eighteen Taiwanese college students on a "Youth Goodwill Mission" to the United States will present "An Adventure in Chinese Songs and Dances" Thursday.

Marilyn Thomas of the Foreign Student Services Office said the program is scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday in Dvorak Concert Hall in the Fine Arts Building.

Eastern is one of two Illinois colleges on the troupe's scheduled tour.

The students are being sponsored during their stay by Eastern's International Student Services and the music department.

Members of the group, who were chosen from 106 Taiwanese universities to be ambassadors of the youth of Taiwan, are sponsored by the Taiwan Television Co., foreign student adviser Ping Chen said.

Thursday's program will be divided into three categories including "On The Ancient Silk Road," "Folk Celebrations" and "From Tradition To Modern."

Admission for the performance will be $1 for both students and the public. Tickets may be obtained from the Union Box Office from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

A reception for the performers is scheduled for 9:30 p.m. in the Tarble Arts Center following the concert.

RHA still working on haunted house

Plans to continue work on this year's Residence Hall Association-sponsored haunted house will be the main business discussed at the RHA meeting Thursday, President Lynn Vokac said.

The haunted house will be open from 7 to 10 p.m. Oct. 29 and 30 in Pemberton Hall, Vokac said.

Construction on the haunted house began Tuesday night and proved to be very successful, she added.

"We had a lot of help from Pemberton and Holiday Hall residents who aren't even in RHA," Vokac said.

Any students interested in helping construct the house may donate their time and services from 6 to 8 p.m. Thursday night.

The RHA meeting is scheduled to begin at 4:50 p.m. in Stevenson Tower.

System will simplify dialing procedure

A recently installed traffic operator system will simplify the procedure for international direct distance "station-to-station" dialing at Eastern.

A change in the international "station to station" access code from 7-011-country code-national number to 011-country code-national number will take effect at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Paul Keiser, assistant public relations director for Illinois Consolidated Telephone Co., said.

The new system, the DMS 100/200 Traffic Operator Position System (TOPS), was installed in the ICTC

Mattoon central office during the first week of October, Keiser said.

"With the TOPS, customers will be able to make most types of operator-assisted long distance calls by direct dialing '0,' plus area code, if needed, and the telephone number," Keiser said.

Calls simplified by the system include collect, bill-to third-number, person-to-person and credit card, he added.

The system will not increase the cost of long-distance phone calls, Keiser added.

Panthers follow Bears in top MCC grid ranks

by John Humenik

Despite its 16-12 non-conference win over Indiana State Saturday, Eastern's football team remained behind Southwest Missouri in the Mid-Continent Conference's statistical rankings released Wednesday.

Eastern, 6-0-1 and ranked 12th in the nation for I-AA teams, notched only two top MCC team ranks, but continued to dominate on the individual level with fifth top spots.

However, Southwest Missouri (5-2), which registered its first MCC victory in defeating Western Illinois 35-16 Saturday, continues to stand in Eastern's way of regaining most of the top team rankings.

The Bears lead all MCC schools with five top team rankings and two individual marks. With Saturday's victory, Southwest Missouri will at least finish third in the conference.

"Right now we're where we want to be record-wise, but we have to be concerned with our remaining conference games with Western and Southwest Missouri," Eastern head coach Darrell Mudra said.

"We can't take any teams lightly now," Mudra added. "We just have to be careful that we don't stub our toe against a team like Western."

In addition to Eastern's jump from 20th to 12th in the nation this week, the Panthers are showing well again in the NCAA's I-AA statistical rankings also released Wednesday.

In team offense, Eastern is ranked 28th in the nation with a 334.7 average per game, but the Panthers lost their top MCC ranking to Southwest Missouri, which is averaging 363.6 yards per game.

The Bears continue to lead the MCC in team defense allowing 215.3 yards per game, while the Panthers are second with a 270.1 yard average per game this season.

Eastern, which has relied on its defense heavily during this campaign, ranks seventh in the nation in team scoring defense allowing 10.8 points per game. The Panthers also remained atop the MCC this week in that category.

The Panthers continue to trail Southwest Missouri in team scoring offense with a 20.3 average per game to the Bears' 23.4 average.

For Eastern, its defense against the run this season has been one of the Panthers' bright spots and this week Eastern heads the MCC and ranks 10th in the NCAA with a 92.8 yard average per game.

"We're really happy with the defense," Mudra said. "I think our defense has been a pleasant surprise this season."

With running back Kevin Staple's injured hand and Wes Nixon's injured knee, Eastern has not been as strong rushing in the last two weeks. Con-

Eastern running back Kevin Staple runs through the Indiana State defense, during the Panthers 16-12 victory over the Sycamores Saturday. Staple is ranked 15th in the nation among NCAA Division I-AA running backs and continues to lead the MCC. (News photo by Brian Ormiston) sequently, the Panthers (168.6 yards per game) are second in the MCC to Southwest Missouri.

Eastern dropped this week in team passing as Northern Iowa (2-3-1) notched the top MCC ranking averaging 172.8 yards per game to the Panthers' 166.1 average per game.

The Bears, who are ranked last throwing the ball, ranked the best against the pass in averaging 107.9 yards per game. Western follows in second spot with a 152.5 average per game and Eastern is third averaging 177.3 yards per game.

In other categories, Eastern has registered 117 first downs to its opponents 113, have been penalized 535 yards and have a turnover margin of three.

Staple, who ranks as the top statistical running back in Illinois, remains the MCC leader despite sitting out a half game this season with a split left hand.

Staple is averaging 97.6 yards per game with a 4.7 average per carry. In addition, Staple ranks 15th in the NCAA's I-AA rankings.

Panther Notes... Eastern has held its opposition without a touchdown for two straight games...In seven games, Panther foes have just eight touchdowns...The Panthers have 41 sacks for an average of six per game...The MCC is now 11-7 against non-conference foes. This record includes 5-4 against I-AA teams.

Cards

players mobbed the ace reliever at pitcher's mound and fans poured onto the field despite the attempts of security men to hold them back.

When the lights were turned on at Busch Stadium Wednesday night, they shone on a new era of baseball in St. Louis, which had been in 12 previous World Series.

And the lights shone brightly on Hernandez, whose sleeping bat awoke in Game 5 after going 0-for-16, and who finished with a Series-high eight RBI.

The lights also shone on Hendrick, who had nine hits in the Series and drove in the winning run Wednesday night, capping the Cardinals' rally in the sixth.

They shone brightly on Dane Iorg, whose nine hits as a designated hitter tied two other players for the World Series record. And they shone brightly on Herzog.

These Cardinals inevitably will be compared with Cas House Gang, St. Louis' 1934 World Series champions featuring Dizzy Dean, Ducky Medwick and Pepper Martin.

This was not a mean, spikes-high team like that outfit of 38 years ago—Herzog had called this a "lady's game" with no brush backs and no beanballs—but the Cardinals nevertheless were world champions for the first time since 1967, when they beat

the Boston Red Sox in seven games.

For the Brewers, who led the major leagues this season with 216 homers, it may have been a case of teasing fate once too often.

They needed to win in the final day of the regular season in Baltimore to clinch their first AL East title. They had to stage a history-making comeback from an 0-2 deficit in the AL playoffs against California to get to the Series. And they did.

But even under the gentle hand of Manager Harvey Kuenn and with the power of men like Robin Yount, Ben Oglivie and Cecil Cooper, the Brewers could not beat fate a third time.

Panthers notch 12th ranking in NCAA's I-AA football poll

by John Humenik

Eastern's football team set one major goal this season—to qualify for the National Collegiate Athletic Association's Division I-AA grid championships next month.

Last week, the Panthers took a big step in grabbing the final spot in the NCAA's weekly top 20 poll. But Wednesday, Eastern took an even larger step in the rankings by gaining a 12th place spot.

"We're really happy with the rank, but I thought we could have moved up a bit more," Eastern head coach Darrell Mudra said. "Right now, we're where we want to be and I feel we match up with any team in the poll."

Eastern (6-0-1), turned in what Mudra deemed his squad's finest effort this season in upsetting Indiana State 16-12 Saturday in Terre Haute.

The Panthers, with four contests remaining on their schedule, now turn their attention to Saturday's Mid-Continent Conference game with Western Illinois in Macomb.

"It's hard to say where we stand. We thought one of the teams that would beat us would be Indiana State," Mudra said. "So now we're past that hurdle."

However, if the NCAA handed out post-season bids this week, the Panthers would fall one hurdle short as Eastern has to at least crack into the NCAA's top 10 I-AA teams.

Under the NCAA bidding procedures for football, seven teams would be granted automatic bids for winning their respective conferences, two independent schools would get bids and three schools would be chosen from an at-large category.

In this week's poll, five of the top 10 teams are leading their respective conferences, while four others have been ruled ineligible by the NCAA or for other reasons will not be competing for the national title.

Eastern Kentucky (5-0), again ranked as the top I-AA school this week, also leads the Ohio Valley Conference with a 4-0 slate.

Colgate (5-0) moved into the second position this week and the Red Raiders stand as the second best independent team in the nation. If Colgate remains second, one independent spot is left.

The main reason for Colgate's jump from third to second position resulted when last week's 2nd ranked Miami of Ohio lost to 18th Western Michigan 10-0 Saturday.

Delaware (5-1) also moves up as the Blue Hens notch the third spot this week. Delaware is one of two teams among the top 10 schools that could qualify for an at-large bid if it remained in the top 10 after the regular season.

Louisiana Tech checks in at the fourth spot this week after raising its record to 5-1 following a 40-13 win Saturday over Lamar. The Bulldogs currently lead the Southland Conference with a 3-0 record and if the bids came out this week, Louisiana Tech would grab the second automatic bid.

Tennessee State, one of four undefeated teams this week, follows in fifth place after beating 19th ranked Tennessee-Chattanooga 27-21 Saturday. Tennessee State also would grab an independent bid.

However, after the Tigers, the NCAA poll benefits Eastern because four of the remaining five teams in the top 10 are ineligible or will not go to the playoffs.

Grambling (5-1) ranks sixth, but because of a scheduling problem the Tigers will not receive a bid this season.

Consequently, the Tigers, who presently lead the Southwest Athletic Conference at 3-0, would not accept an automatic bid if they go on to win their conference crown.

Western Michigan (4-1-1 and 7th ranked) along with 8th ranked Miami of Ohio (5-1) chose not to participate in post-season play for Mid-American Conference reasons.

Holy Cross (5-1) remained ninth in the poll this week, but is the third school vying for either an independent bid or an at-large bid. Bowling Green (4-1), also ineligible, rounds out the nation's top 10 teams this week.

Northeast Louisiana (5-2) is the team at this point which would stand in Eastern's way because it could grab the third at-large bid.

However, 13th ranked Montana State, 15th ranked Jackson State, 19th ranked Tennessee-Chattanooga and Connecticut, not ranked, could receive automatic bids if they go on to win their league crowns.

Cards beat Brewers for world title

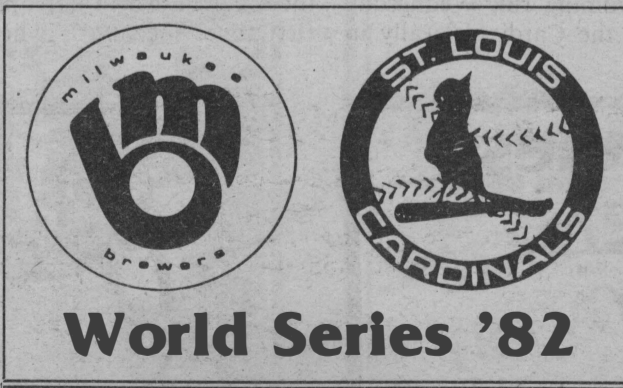

St. Louis (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, molded by Manager Whitey Herzog in his own feisty image and driven by the persistent bats of Keith Hernandez and George Hendrick, ended 15 years of frustration Wednesday night by beating the Milwaukee Brewers 6-3 to win baseball's 79th World Series.

The Cardinals won their ninth Series and the fourth straight by a National League team with three runs in the sixth inning of the decisive seventh game, on RBI hits by Hernandez and Hendrick and the seven-hit pitching of Joaquin Andujar and Bruce Sutter. The Cards pounded 15 hits.

They were the speed-oriented Cardinals—a replica of Herzog's three American League West Division champions in Kansas City, with perhaps a little less power.

They were the Mississippi riverboat gamblers, unafraid to risk the present for the future either in the front office or on the field. Eight of the 25 players on the World Series roster were not on the team when Herzog became manager before the 1981 season.

Perhaps the most daring of them all was Andujar, who came back from a painful leg injury to pitch seven innings for his second victory of the Series.

He was not perfect, but he had help, and he made the big pitches when it was necessary. Sutter pitched the last two innings for his second save.

Sutter retired Gorman Thomas for the last out on a strikeout with the crowd shouting "Bruce, Bruce." As fireworks exploded over the stadium, Cardinal

Bench strength spurs spikers to rally for win

EAST PEORIA—Eastern's spikers trailed Illinois Central two games to none Wednesday, but the Lady Panthers rallied again, taking a 12-15, 13-15, 15-7, 15-10, 15-11 victory.

Wednesday's come-from-behind triumph marked the eighth time in 29 victories this season that the spikers have lost a match's first game and rallied to win.

Eastern coach Carol Gruber attributed part of her squad's slow start to not being able to warm up sufficiently.

"It's always tough at ICC because they don't have training facilities," Gruber said. "Half the people on the team need heat to warm up."

After dropping the first two contests, the Eastern coach said she turned to her bench, and the result—three straight victories—was encouraging.

"It was proven to me tonight as a coach that I have strength on the bench," Gruber said.

Gretchen Braker substituted for Donna Uhler in the third game and turned in a "wonderful game both setting and hitting. She really fired up the team," Gruber said.

"Donna was just having an off night, and she knew it," Gruber added.

After Braker's entrance spurred the Lady Panthers to a decisive 15-7 triumph, freshman Misty Buckhold replaced Mary Ann Seiwert in game 4 and turned in a good defensive performance.

Judy Planos, another freshman, took Bonnie Fisk's spot in the final game and also played well, Gruber said.

"We were able to use the strengths of a variety of different players tonight," she said. "The people that really want to be out there are the ones that are going to play."
