Charleston may be site of car center

STUART TART

Pool's Bargain Center, 1400 Lincoln has been vacant for over a year, plans are underway to fill the property.

Mitchell Chevrolet-Oldsmobile of Chicago is currently in negotiations with Eli Sidwell and Associates of Charleston to purchase the property, said Bud Mitchell, owner of the used-business.

Although he has tentative plans to open a retail automotive center at the location, Mitchell said he wants to wait until March to release details.

"We have not completed that transaction, yet," Mitchell said.

Harry Bennett of Eli Sidwell and Associates confirmed negotiations are in process for the property's sale to Mitchell. The property was placed on the market a year and a half ago prior to Pool's closing.

Bennett declined further comment on the transaction is complete.

John Campbell, executive director of the Charleston Area Chamber of Commerce, also confirmed that Mitchell was negotiating for the property.

However, she said, "I don't know when he (Mitchell) is going to be negotiating here or anything, yet. I normally wasn't involved."

By AMY CARR
Administration editor

Interviews with candidates for the position of vice president of academic affairs will be conducted on campus beginning Thursday.

The four candidates were recommended to President Stanley Rives by a 13-member search committee to replace Edgar Schick, who plans to resign no later than April 15.

The candidates will meet with Rives; the Council of University Administrators; Verna Armstrong, vice president of administration and finance; and various department chairs.

In addition, a time has been reserved for each candidate to speak to any interested individual. Rives said this is an opportunity for students to be involved in the selection process for this important position.

•Robert Jefferson, dean of the college of business for Western Illinois University, will be interviewed for the position Thursday and Friday.

•Donna Arlton, dean of the college of health and human services for the University of Northern Colorado, will be interviewed for the position on Feb. 2-3.

•William Dunlap, dean of the college of education for the University of Texas at El Paso, will be interviewed for the position on Feb. 5-6.

•Robert Kindrick, vice president for academic affairs for Emporia State University, will be interviewed for the position on Feb. 9-10.

Pro-Iranian group threatens to kill American hostages

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—An anonymous caller Sunday claimed the weekend abduction of three American teachers and an Indian professor in the name of an underground group linked to Iran and threatened to kill them if the United States helps

An earlier caller, also claiming to speak for the Organization of the Oppressed on Earth, said the captors were grabbed on Saturday to prevent the extradition from West Germany to the United States of Mohammad Ali Hamadi, a Lebanese man sought in the 1985 TWA hijacking.

Twenty-three foreigners now are reported missing and believed kidnapped in Lebanon, including eight held since Anglican Church envoy Terry Waite was held in Beirut on Jan. 12 on a mission to seek the release of hostages.

The Christian Voice of Lebanon radio station said it received the two calls Sunday, but it was not clear if they were made by the same man.

The calls could not be authenticated. The extremist Moslem group usually delivers statements to newspapers or western news agencies when it wants to publicize a claim, and the Voice of Lebanon has been known to be inaccurate on Moslem-related issues.

The first caller said the group would kill a hostage Hamadi, 22, was extradited to the United States, where he is wanted on charges of air piracy and was involved in the June 1985 TWA hijacking to Beirut.

In the second call, a man said a hostage would be released if Hamadi was not released by midnight (5 p.m. EST). It was not clear if the caller referred to an American or to other hostages.

The second call also said the hostages would be released if the United States provided support for Iraq, which has been with Iran since September 1980.

“Our husbands are not involved in politics at all. In the name of God and in the name of humanity, we appeal to you to return our husbands to us and to their students.”

—Wives of Iran hostages

“We ask U.S. President Ronald Reagan not to intervene in the Gulf War and not to provide assistance to the Iraqi authorities,” the man said in Lebanese-accented Arabic. “The (American) hostages will be wasted if he fails to do so.”

The three Americans kidnapped from Beirut University College on Saturday night by gunmen disguised as police were Alann Steen, 48, a journalism professor who formerly taught at three northern California colleges; Jesse Turner, an Idaho native, assistant instructor of mathematics and computer sciences; and Robert Polhill, 53, assistant professor of business studies.

The Indian was identified as Mithileshwar Singh, chairman of the business studies division and a legal resident alien of the United States.

Waite, personal emissary of Archbishop of Canterbury Robert Runcie, remained out of sight for a sixth day Sunday. He was negotiating in secret with Islamic Jihad, captors of two Americans held in Lebanon since 1985—Terry Anderson, 39, chief Middle East correspondent for The Associated Press, and Thomas Sutherland, acting dean of agriculture at the American University of Beirut.

The Church of England said in London on Sunday that Waite was in “good hands” and pursuing his negotiations.

U.S. Ambassador John Kelly on Sunday held crisis talks Sunday with senior aides in Christian east Beirut. He also had met them late Saturday after the abductions.

The kidnapers claimed to be police assigned to protect the foreign staff at Beirut University College. They assembled the foreigners in a ground-floor office, picked the four men and forced them at gunpoint into a jeep that sped away.

The university, which has about 3,000 students, announced Sunday classes would be suspended until further notice and asked other Beirut schools to hold a one-day strike Monday.

The hostages' wives issued a statement appealing to the captors to “release our husbands as soon as possible.”

They said their husbands “had decided to stay in Lebanon despite strong advice from their families and friends against remaining in Lebanon.”

“Our husbands are not involved in politics at all. In the name of God and in the name of humanity, we appeal to you to return our husbands to us and to their students,” they said.

Steen's wife, Virginia Rose, is an American who heads the school's Fine Arts Department.

Anonymous callers claiming to speak for the Organization of the Oppressed on Earth claimed responsibility for kidnapping two people from west Beirut on Friday, saying they were West Germans.

But police said Sunday the two men abducted were Armenian Lebanese who have been mistaken for foreigners because of their blond hair and fair skin.

IHSA, Assembly go head-to-head

SPRINGFIELD—The Illinois General Assembly and the Illinois High School Association are squaring off again in a rematch to determine who's the winner when it comes to establishing athletic eligibility for students.

"What we've said all along is that those involved in the educational process know what's best for the kids," said Jim Flynn, assistant executive secretary of the Bloomington-based IHSA.

"They don't care about kids," countered Sen. William Markovitz, D-Chicago, who is sponsoring the latest version of "no-pass, no-play" legislation. "Nobody knows what they (IHSA) do, who they are or how they're selected."

The turf fight is over a bill Markovitz has introduced to toughen the academic requirements of high school students involved in extracurricular activities. A similar measure died in the Illinois House after passing the Senate last year.

The IHSA, a private association of principals that has regulated prep sports in Illinois since 1989, says the measure is unneeded and is just a legislative power grab.

"I don't run for election every four years, so maybe I'm not in tune," said Flynn.

Under the bill, any student failing a course required for graduation would be suspended from extracurricular activities for at least two weeks.

In addition, student athletes could not count physical education among the 20 credit hours per week they must be passing to remain.

Sin blames government failure

MANILA, Philippines—Cardinal Jaime L. Sin blamed government failures in land reform Sunday for the deaths of 12 demonstrators, and leftists readied a march by tens of thousands of protestors to express anger over the shootings.

Teodoro Benigno, spokesman for President Corazon Aquino, said it was her 54th birthday Sunday and she spent the day with her family. He said she was "very concerned, as any president should be," about the planned march on Monday.

Bayan, the nation's largest leftist organization, said students, peasants, professionals and others would march from several rallying points toward Malacanang presidential palace. Organizers threatened "more decisive action" if troops again opened fire.

The crisis comes right before a Feb. 2 plebiscite on a new constitution.

'State of Union' speech expected to focus on health insurance plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Reagan is expected to talk about catastrophic health insurance in his State of the Union speech for the second straight year but, once again, what he will say remains a mystery even to government health officials.

Health and Human Services Secretary Otis R. Bowen told a Senate panel Thursday that he did not know whether the president would embrace his proposal to provide catastrophic coverage for the elderly by increasing Medicare premiums about $5 a month.

A department official said Bowen still did not know late Friday whether his proposal—which has won widespread support in Congress—would be made part of the president's speech.

The official, who discussed the issue on condition of not being identified by name, said the situation was reminiscent of last year when high-ranking HHS officials did not know until Reagan delivered the speech whether he would follow department advice and discuss catastrophic health.

In that 1986 address, Reagan cited potentially devastating medical bills facing the elderly as a major national problem and instructed Bowen to seek solutions.

Bowen, a physician and former governor of Indiana, made his proposal public Nov. 20, 1986. Then, he has been working to overcome resistance from others in the administration who argue an expansion of Medicare to deal with catastrophic illness runs counter to the administration's philosophy of letting the private sector deal with any problem that does not absolutely require government intervention.

However, no potential alternatives to the Bowen plan have been put forth publicly, and a HHS official said that is one reason department leaders are optimistic Reagan will line up behind the health secretary's suggestion.

Another reason, the official said, is that a lack of support in Congress suggests that a proposal at least patterned in the Bowen plan is likely to pass with or without White House support.

Kohl wins despite drop in support

BONN, West Germany (AP)—West German voters returned Chancellor Helmut Kohl's conservative coalition to power Sunday, but reduced their support for his Christian Democratic Party. The anti-NATO Greens made impressive gains.

Computer projections, which have proved highly accurate in the past, showed a significant drop in support for Kohl's party compared with the last national election four years ago. But projected results showed his coalition with the small Free Democratic Party was in no danger.

The elections were overshadowed by the kidnapping of two West Germans in Beirut, Lebanon. But pollsters said the crisis was not expected to influence voters.

Johannes Rau, who ran for chancellor under the banner of the main opposition Social Democratic Party, conceded defeat on national TV an hour after polls closed at 6 p.m.

"We wanted a change in the government, but we didn't get it. We are the losers," Rau said. Rau, a popular governor of North Rhine-Westphalia state, smilingly told reporters at his headquarters in Bonn.

Despite pre-election polls predicting a narrow win for Kohl, his Christian Democrats and Bavarian sister party, the Christian Social Union, received 42.9 percent, according to projections reported by the ARD television network. The two parties received a combined 48.8 percent of the vote in 1983.

"We didn't reach our goal," Kohl said at his party headquarters, looking serious and weighing his words carefully despite another four-year term.

Frat hearing slated

By STEVE SMITH
Campus editor

Three members of the recently disbanded Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity facing charges of criminal damage to property will appear in court Monday for a preliminary hearing.

Eastern juniors John Emporer and Todd Dart and sophomore Chris Lesniak will appear at 9:30 a.m. in the Cole's County Jail to answer charges that they vandalized the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity house Dec. 19.

Charleston Police Chief Maurice Johnson said windows on the north, east and west sides of the house, 1509 S. Second St., were broken. A trophy case inside the house was also smashed, Johnson added. Damage has been estimated over $3,000.

This will be the second time the men have appeared in court for a preliminary hearing. The first meeting, Jan. 12, was postponed due to attorney scheduling difficulties.

After their national chapter pulled their charter, the residents of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity were told to move from the house at the end of fall semester.

The Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity lost its charter after a "Pimp and Whore" theme party in which a member of Sigma Kappa sorority was found handcuffed nude to a stairwell.

Criminal damage to property is a felony punishable with up to three years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

Academic adviser sought

By JEFF BRITT
Staff writer

A new academic adviser is being sought by Eastern's department of academic advisement to replace Robert Winkleblack, who plans to retire at the end of the semester.

Applications for the position are being taken until Feb. 16. About five applications have been received to date, Cal Campbell, director of academic advisement, said.

Campbell added that all of the applicants show promise. "They meet the essential qualifications."

Academic advisers "register all freshman," Campbell said. "We advise all transfer students that are undeclared and pre-business majors."

In addition, the position requires a master's degree in guidance and counseling or a related area.

Those responsible for selecting the new adviser are the director of the center (Campbell), the dean of academic development (Shirley Moore) and the other full-time academic advisers.

Interviews for the position will be conducted in the last two weeks of February or the beginning of March, Campbell said. A decision will probably be made in the early spring, he said.

Scism finds doing a little bit of everything interesting

This is the first in a series of five profiles featuring Charleston's city commissioners.

By JOHN PLETZ
Staff writer

If it were up to Bruce Scism, there would be 48 hours in the day and eight days in every week.

For the Charleston City Council Public Health and Safety Commissioner, there just doesn't seem to be enough time—at least not for himself. In addition to his commission post, Scism is a consumer advocate for Illinois Attorney General Neil Hartigan.

"It's pretty interesting, you get a smattering of everything— from complaints to investigations and handling citizens' inquiries," Scism said. "...We get involved and interact with people."

Doing a little bit of everything is not uncommon for the consumer advocate. Before he was elected to the city council in 1985, Scism played with country western and soft rock bands.

"I don't have very much spare time at all," he said. "Before I got elected to city council, and that takes up a big block of your time, I was in a country western and soft rock band and I had to give that up. We were devoting three to four nights a week to it."

"I (still) play the guitar, the bass and the six-string. We even contemplated taking my guitar to one of the council meetings," he said.

Scism admitted that he really gave up one interest to pursue another.

COMMISSIONERS CHARLESTON

Bruce Scism

"It all works pretty well, and that's where my interest lies. I really enjoy working on city council. That's about the most fun job I've ever had."

"It's a real good job, it's rewarding... you get to interact with people and you are involved with what happens around you," he said.

Scism said he has always been interested in what happens around him though.

"That (interest) probably comes from my father's (Tom) teaching political science at Eastern," he added. "He taught for seven or eight years, up through 1977 or 1978, and he recently came back (to teaching at Eastern)."

"I have a M.B.A. and B.A. in political science from Eastern, and I taught state and local government at Lakeland (Community College in Mattoon) for about a year," he said.

Scism may follow his father and try his hand at teaching again someday, he said, but for now he's content to keep busy at the attorney general's office and city council meetings.

Start looking for a place for next year right now

It may seem early, but as an old adage says: Never put off 'til tomorrow what you can do today.

This is especially true with attempting to find a place to call home next year. Whether you want to live in one of Eastern's 15 residence halls or in an apartment off campus, begin searching now.

Editorial

Choosing a place may seem simple, but it is no small task. It might be easy to change residency half way through the year, but it is simpler to do legwork now and find a suitable spot. Spending a few weeks looking at apartments, reading leases and considering options pays off in the long run.

One of the most important steps in selecting a home is reading and understanding the lease. If you are unfamiliar with the legal terms or stipulations, ask a friend to help you or seek the assistance of Student Legal Services located on the third floor of the University Union. Attorney Steve Davis is retained for student's legal use by a small portion of the fees paid each semester. It is important to understand lease conditions to be aware of the things you are allowed and required to do.

Another important consideration is the formation of a budget. Be aware of the cost of an apartment and know exactly what the rent money covers. Rent can cover any number of things including garbage pick-up, utilities cost or only use of the property.

After you are sure of what the rent pays, seek the cost of additional items you will need such as water, electric or phone service to find an approximate cost of services per month. It might be a good idea to talk to present tenants of the apartment you want to live in or a similar one to find how much they pay for utilities.

Finding a place to live might seem time consuming, but being sure of tenant requirements will make it easier to have a place you can truly call home.

Your turn

Quote in story was not very accurate

Editor:

On page 3 of the Jan. 20 of The Daily Eastern News you carried a "clarification" of a quote from Mr. Jim Roberts, EIU Foundation president, about a story of the Jan. 11 Foundation meeting.

Your clarification perhaps leaves the impression in your readers' minds that Roberts made the statement "The chair votes No!" during the regular Foundation meeting. Such is out of context.

The quote used by Amy Carr in her story was taken from informal conversation after the meeting. The quote was a punch line to a story being told by Roberts.

It is well known that Roberts was opposed to divestment. He seeks, however, as I am sure you do, accuracy in not only words but in interpretation of the news.

Article was insult to intelligent man

Editor:

Thank you for printing Sean O. Hogan's article praising Eastern's "physicians" of the media. It is both interesting and humorous to see how our "journalists" view themselves.

This letter, however, is a response to Diana Winson's article in the Jan. 9 Verge in which she takes an ugly dig at Professor Mullally, one of Eastern's finest and most intelligent instructors. Such displays serve only to embarrass the News and the university. Professor Mullally's case was presented with information that was based in history. Imagine that! He is, however, subjected to various slaps in the face from apparently uninformed opponents who freely publish their slanderous scribbblings.

We have paid our tuition to Winson, and have built and continue to maintain that sandbox in the Buzzard Bay for you. Please do not embarrass us by insulting intelligent faculty members or attempting to deal with significant issues without the background that is necessary to report responsibly.

Hencken gives smoking policy to RHA members

By JEFF BRITT
Staff writer

Housing director Lou Hencken introduced a proposal by President Stanely Rives to change Eastern's smoking policy to the Residence Hall Association Thursday.

In December, Rives appointed a committee to review the smoking policy on campus. Hencken said the Surgeon General released a report stating second-hand smoke is as dangerous as primary smoke.

"In food service, an area not to exceed one-third of available space is to be designated for smoking," Hencken said of Rives' first proposal.

In rooms and apartments, policy is to be set by the occupants. If one roommate smokes and the other doesn't, "He should refrain from smoking when that roommate is present," Hencken said reading from the proposal.

Hencken said it was suggested the wording in the proposed policy reading "should" be changed to "shall."

"This is a policy for everybody," he said. "This is not just for residence hall students. This (if passed) will be a campus/university policy, and it will be enforced."

If the policy is approved, Hencken said, "My assumption is that it will go into affect as soon as it is passed."

"I tried four years ago to have smoking permitted on certain floors," but when the proposal was introduced "the idea did not fly."

Members and guests pointed out that certain residence halls have some of smoking restrictions: "At Thomas we voted for no smoking in the bathrooms," said Vice President Marty Gorski. "Nobody paid any attention to it."

Both Carman and Stevenson food services reportedly have smoking sections in half the dining area. Although Hencken said, "I've never seen an ashtray in Pemberton."

RHA President Bob Gruszka asked members to discuss the issue with their hall councils and report their concerns. A vote is scheduled for next week.

The RHA announced the design for sunglasses it previously decided it would sell for $9 a pair and $16 for two pairs.

The design will be a paw on the left lens and a panther logo on the right with a blue frame and gray cord. Gruszka said the design could not be seen by the wearer.

The sunglasses are expected two or three weeks before spring break, Gruszka said. "The money will go to a fund we'll use for next year's RHA activities."

Frosty receives care, finds freedom

By DAN REIBLE
Staff writer

With blinding speed Frosty flew from a box and found freedom after about three weeks of rehabilitation in Richard Thorsen's Charleston warehouse.

Thorsen released Frosty Sunday at Whitley Creek in the Lake Shelbyville area.

"He came out of the box at about 90 miles an hour," said Thorsen. The Snowy Owl, dubbed Frosty by Thorsen's 13-year-old daughter, was recovering from pesticide poisoning he contracted after eating poisoned pigeons.

Frosty could hardly walk when he was captured in a net by the Coles County Animal Shelter about a week after Christmas. The shelter gave the bird to Thorsen because he is licensed by the Department of Conservation to rehabilitate birds of prey.

"When we went to get him he had broken out of his cage and was flying around the warehouse," Thorsen said. It took about 15 minutes to capture the bird.

Thorsen originally planned to release Frosty in Wisconsin, but there is a federal law against transporting birds of prey over state lines. Thorsen could not get a waiver.

Department of Conservation officials told Thorsen Snowy Owls have been sited farther south than usual and to take Frosty north may be a disservice to him. Thorsen believes Frosty will stay in the area until the snow melts.

Frosty has been attacking and eating food on his own for about a week, said Thorsen, which is a sign he is ready to be released. He added he was sure he made the right decision about releasing him when he was found him flying around the warehouse.

The last Thorsen saw of Frosty was when he perched on a limb about 40 feet in the air after being returned to the wild.

Frosty has returned to his home, but Thorsen's rehabilitation work isn't done. Currently, Thorsen is caring for a Red Tailed Hawk hit by a car about two months ago. The hawk should be ready to leave in about two weeks.

Self-taught ventrilquist slated for Monday

A self-taught ventriloquist will entertain Eastern students another hour of comedy 8 p.m. Monday in the Subway at a cost of 50 cents.

Ventriloquist Jim Barber, sponsored by the University Special Events committee, performs skits with many characters instead of one puppet.

Barber's agent Terry Todish said Barber taught himself while he was growing up in Rapid City, S.D. "Most ventriloquists learn by watching Edgar Bergen and Willie Tyler," Todish said.

In 1984, Barber, who has been performing for 10 years, won first place in ventriloquist convention. Last fall he started touring colleges and had 73 dates. He has 83 dates set for this spring.

Groups of students crowded to listen to dance band Inn-O-Vation and comedian Tom Parks at the the Union sponsored Happy Hour "Trip the Light Fantastic" Friday night.

Displays were also set up to show students the many facilities the Union has to offer, and free gifts were given to some participants.

The Union staff had to set up extra chairs in order to provide seats for some students, while others had to stand.

The fun started with some songs from Inn-O-Vation. Some of the songs they sang through the night were: "Raspberry Beret," "Victory," "Twist and Shout," "Word Up" and "Party All The Time."

Students danced while the band was on stage, but band members did not just stay on the stage. Three times band members jumped into the audience and then brought students with them back on stage.

Daryl Johnson, who sang most of the group's vocals, would sometimes sit at the edge of the runway and at one point late in the evening sat on freshman Beverly Williams' lap.

Six audience participants were brought on stage by members of the dance band Inn-O-Vation to join them in a song. Inn-O-Vation performed along with comedian Tom Parks during the Union's "Trip the Light Fantastic" Friday.

with Parks, who did a monologue and chose the winners of prizes given away by the Union.

Parks talked about his college education, on which he spent $40,000. He told of his five years of Spanish but could only remember two sentences.

Professors and tests came under Parks' humor. At one point he borrowed a gift box from an audience member and emptied the contents on to the floor ending with the box.

After his monologue, Parks said the experience was "weird to feel the negative energy (from one audience member)," but he added he would love to visit the school again.

The last stunt of the night by the band was to form a party train and bring the remainder of the audience up on stage to dance.

The other band members were Brandon Jarrett, Bryan Harris, Michael Taylor, Bryont Leonard, Alton Thomas, Ves Garrett and Felton Burnett.

Spelling bee champ earns hero's welcome

Secondary education instructor John North (right) congratulates Jason Irby, 10, of Charleston's Jefferson Grade School.

By CHRISTAL PHILPOTT
City editor

Being a hero for a day may be a dream for most young boys, but for one boy, it was more than just a dream.

Jason Irby, 10, of Charleston's Jefferson Grade School, won the ninth annual spelling bee at the Greenwood School Museum Wednesday and is only now beginning to come down from all the excitement.

"They (his classmates) gave me a party on the day I came back. They had brownies," Irby said.

Irby said he was excited that he had won, but was glad it was over. He said both he and his parents had been very nervous.

"They (his parents) were glad it was over. They were nervous watching me," he said.

Irby is the son of Vicki and Larry Irby and the brother of 15-year-old Angie Irby.

Irby, who said he had started studying about a month before the contest, said he had enlisted the help of his parents and friends in studying.

"I got to go to the library and have another kid ask me (words)," he said.

He said he also would have someone ask him a half a page or a page of words each night.

Irby said he got to be in the Greenwood spelling bee because he won a class spelling bee.

"Everybody (in the class) had a list to study and then we had a class spelling bee. I won that so I went on," he said.

The Greenwood contest was given from the 1905 Coles County Manual for Fifth Year Spelling and was between eight fifth graders.

Irby won the spelling bee after correctly spelling veterinary and then clarinet.

His hardest word, he said, was reservoir.

As winner of the contest, Irby said he got a ribbon and a certificate.

Income tax filing materials available at Booth Library

CATHY VELASCO

The beginning of the new year does not mean a new semester of classes for Eastern students but also, for most, it means time to file tax returns.

According to the Illinois Department of Revenue, there are no special tax provisions for students, nor are students exempt from tax. However, some students' income from scholarships, stipends, and fellowships (for example) is not taxable for the federal income tax or the state income tax.

Booth Library technical assistant said copies of various tax forms will be available in the north lobby at an exhibit table.

"We are not allowed to give assistance because librarians are not qualified, and if we did, we would be doing nothing else but giving assistance," the assistant added. "The packets have full, detailed directions that should be of some help."

"We could make recommendations. There are businesses like H & R Block, who help with income tax forms, and there is the VITA program (Volunteer Income Tax Assistance) offered by Eastern's Accounting Department which is free," the library assistant added.

VITA will be available for Eastern students from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Feb. 2 through April 15 in Balir Hall room 100, Angell said.

Students should bring their W2 forms, and the volunteers will help them them out, Angell noted.

Copies of the following tax forms are available at the exhibit table: Federal Forms 1040, 1040A, 1040EZ, schedules A&B C, D, E, F, G, R, SE, W, Forms 1040X, 2106, 2210, 2441, 3903, 4562, 4684, 4797, 4868, 5695. Also Illinois Forms IL-1040, IL-1040x, schedule NR, and Form IL-2210.

Tax forms that are not available at the exhibit table can be reproduced from the Reproducible Federal Tax Forms for use in libraries.

Copies of IRS Publications 17 ("Your Federal Income Tax"), Publication 334 ("Tax Guide for Small Business") and publication 1194 ("A Selection of 1986 IRS Tax Information Publications") can be checked out for three days to a week at the Reserve/Documents Desk.

The Illinois return is due on or before April 15, 1987.

New scholarship available to future teachers

Lottie Leach Leeds

By MIKE HELENTHAL
Staff writer

The new Lottie Leach Leeds scholarship is designed to help teachers who "teach for the love of teaching."

The $2,500 scholarship contract insists on it—and so does 89-year-old contributor Lottie Leach Leeds.

Leeds said she enjoyed teaching fourth grade the most "because (that's when) they begin to like science."

Because of her preference, the contract says the scholarship recipient must be devoted to educating students in the fourth grade or below.

Leeds, who graduated from Eastern Teacher's College in 1919, has taught all grades of secondary school and instructed at Eastern's laboratory school.

Additional requirements Leeds believes are important in choosing a recipient are good health, honesty and patience.

Although Leeds said she "was always going to leave a scholarship," the deciding factor was when she and other retired teachers received money in a law suit against the state.

"Since everyone always takes, and so many of us at Eastern have been wonderful to me, I want to give something back," Leeds said.

In fact, Leeds said she presented the scholarship at Thanksgiving "because I'm thankful for Eastern."

Leeds said she loved school as a student and teacher and believes it was her "psychology" through the years.

Leeds, who retired in 1966, still sends cards to students she taught in grade school when she was about them in the paper.

The scholarship was approved at the Foundation's last meeting. Foundation Executive Officer Dan Thornburgh said the scholarship will go into effect until at least next year.

However the Foundation plans to invest the money this year and put its earnings towards the scholarship, Thornburgh said.

Artist remembers early years in Charleston

CRYSTAL PHILPOTT

Perhaps the last of a long generation of artists who lunch, Chenault Kelly sits in her studio, posture perfect, with smiling face as she reminisces of her beginning as a painter, her parents and growing

... a member of one of Charleston's oldest families, has her work on display this month at city Hall, 220 Jackson Ave.

Although she enjoyed drawing in school, Kelly said she really got started as an artist by taking painting lessons in 1930 from Paul Sargent, an art instructor at the time.

He did not teach me in any classroom. He took me out to the fields along the Embarras River," she said.

One of the things which stood out in her mind about Sargent, Kelly said, was that he never signed his work.

She said Sargent's not signing his work had a definite effect on her work. "I don't know I was supposed to sign until I got out into the real

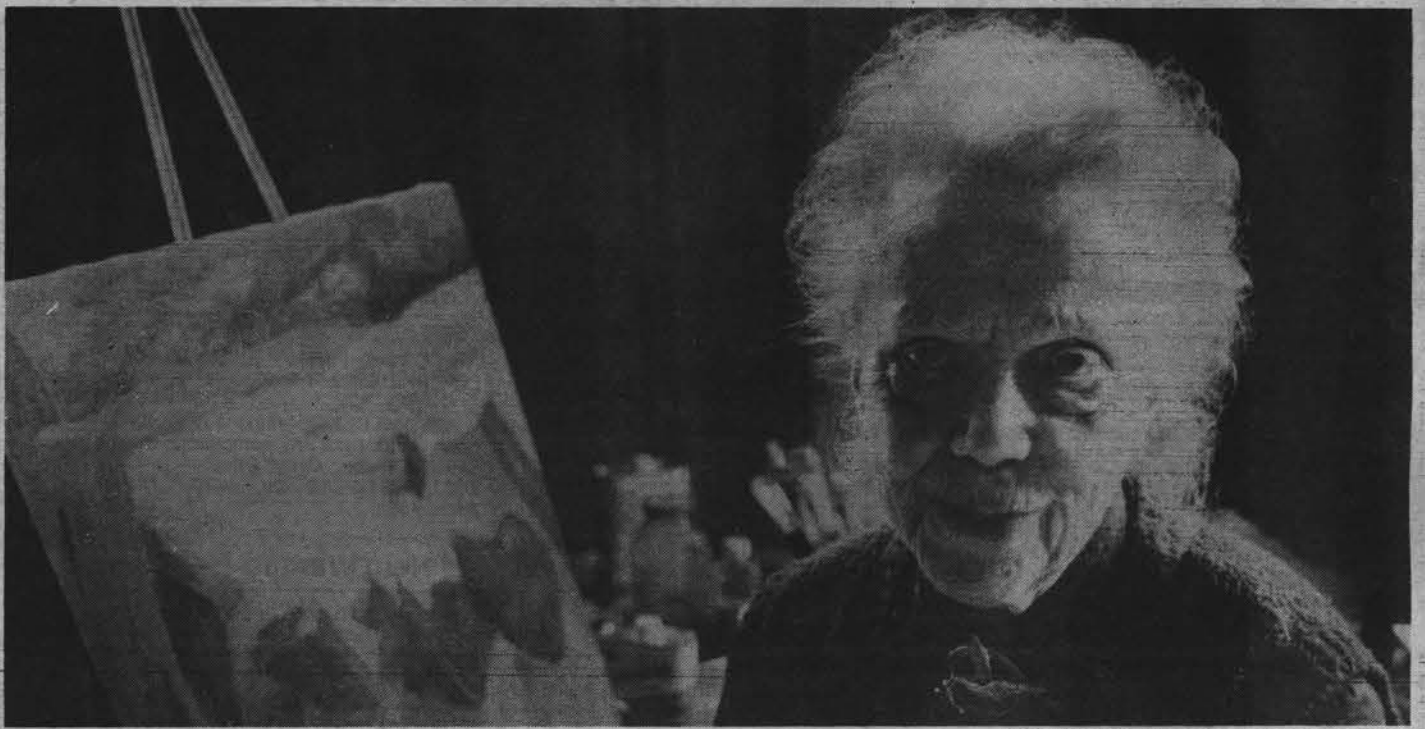

... in 1954, Kelly's studio is a fully equipped house which sets aside of the big house she lives in. The main house, located in the 800 block of Sixth Street, was built around 1850, she said.

The studio was actually built for her to live in, so that she could live downtown and yet still live near her parents, who lived in the main house.

After her parents' deaths, Kelly said she turned the small house into a studio and moved into the big house.

Although the only remaining land, is the house sits on, Kelly said the original estate contained 460 acres.

She said, her arm making a motion as she pointed to the houses which are now packed in on all sides.

Kelly said her parents originally did not buy the house to live in.

"They bought the house to tear down, so they were going to just live in it until they could tear it down and get the new house built.

"But mother could not tear down the staircase (because of its beauty). That's what saved the house," she said.

Kelly said her parents did a lot of remodeling on the house to make it into the home it is today. "When I think of how father used to carry coal up to the house and all I have to do is turn that little thing on—you know

I've come a long way baby."

Kelly's formal education mostly came from Eastern, where she attended grade school, high school and later college.

"I was there (Eastern) when (Livingston) Lord was president. I attended Eastern for a good many years. I never got a better education than at Eastern," she said.

Kelly got her bachelor's degree from the University of Kentucky, her master's from Kentucky and her doctorate from New York University.

When she wasn't living in Charleston or going to school, Kelly was traveling around doing a variety of jobs.

For a while Kelly taught eighth graders, though she soon quit. "I decided eighth grade teaching wasn't for me. I didn't feel I was in the right place. Then I decided I was no longer going to be a teacher, so I resigned."

Several jobs later, Kelly wound up teaching again. "I got a job teaching GIs at Eastern—the very thing I had said I wasn't ever going to do again (teaching).

"When I got to Eastern I just felt everything was right. The students made Eastern special," she said.

Kelly retired from Eastern in 1967. She now spends a good deal of her time with an old love—painting.

Late start doesn't halt wrestlers

By MIKE NELSON
Staff writer

Arriving at Southwest Missouri only an hour before the tournament started brought on a new challenge for Eastern's wrestlers. But the Panthers rose to the occasion placing fourth out of 12 teams.

Eastern was scheduled to leave Charleston on Thursday night for the Friday tournament. But because of the weather, it couldn't leave until Friday morning.

"Considering the circumstances of us not getting there until right before the tourney started, I felt we wrestled well," Eastern coach Ralph McCausland said. "I thought the long ride would have an effect on our performance, but we did well."

The Panthers had six wrestlers place out of the nine that competed. Craig Sterr (118-pound) went 3-0 taking the tournament championship.

"Sterr had a tremendous tour-namment," said McCausland. "He beat the No. 1 and No. 2 seeded kids in the tournament. One of those guys had beaten him last year."

Dean Souder (134) placed fourth with a 3-2 record. In the 142-pound class, Eastern's Terry Boes went 4-1 taking third. Chris Bonds (158) had a 3-3 tournament record placing sixth.

"Chris lost in overtime by one point in his final match, otherwise he would have placed fifth," McCausland said.

Eastern's other two placers took championships in their weight classes. Marty Molina went 3-0, and Demetrius Harper had a 4-0 record. For Molina it was his first tournament championship of the season. Harper notched his third tournament crown.

"Marty, Terry and Souder are really starting to come on," said McCausland. "Everyone is wrestling better, and I really like to see that."

The University of Missouri took the tournament's team championship, while Central State Oklahoma was second. Finishing ahead of Eastern was Southern Illinois-Edwardsville.

"We wrestled quite well," McCausland said. "I was pleased overall with everyone's performances."

Eastern will have a week of preparation before the Hoosier Invitational next weekend. "We'll use this week to work on our mistakes, so we can have a good showing at Indiana," said McCausland.

Kentucky to Midshipme

LEXINGTON, (AP)—Freshman sensation Chapman scored 22 points in Kentucky's 80-60 non-conference game despite a 45-point performance by Midshipmen's David Robinson. The 45 points were Robinson's career high at the Rupp Arena scoring mark set by the 37 points by Freeman in 1977.

Robinson, a 7-foot-10-inch center, recently received word that his post-graduate work has been reduced from the usual five to just two.

Tankers find weekend waters treacherous

By JOE LEWNARD
Staff writer

Eastern's swim teams finished the weekend with few surprises as the men lost two meets and the women lost one.

The men traveled to Bradley and lost 105-96 Friday, and lost again Saturday 109-101 to Missouri-Rolla at Lantz Pool. The women lost 122-102 Saturday at Illinois State.

Neither of the men's meets were blowouts, but both Bradley and Missouri-Rolla dictated the score, Eastern coach Ray Padovan said.

Padovan said although Bradley has a small team, the few people it has are quality swimmers.

"Everybody on their team is there on scholarship and they don't have any walk-ons," Padovan said. "They won all of the first places."

Freshman John Ryan won the 200-yard breast stroke at Bradley in 2:16.4, and Tad Toler won three-meter diving with a score of 169.8.

Mark Brandt, who was previously undefeated in the 200-yard individual medley this season, lost the event Friday but won Saturday. Brandt won in 2:03.98, which is his best time in the event this season.

Though he lost Friday, Brandt said he was happy with his win Saturday.

He swam four seconds faster in the 200-yard individual medley Saturday than he did Friday.

"I am disappointed with how I swam last night (Friday)," Brandt said. "But it's better to go from defeat to victory rather than the other way around."

Gary Urban won the 200-yard backstroke Saturday in 2:05.9, which is his personal best.

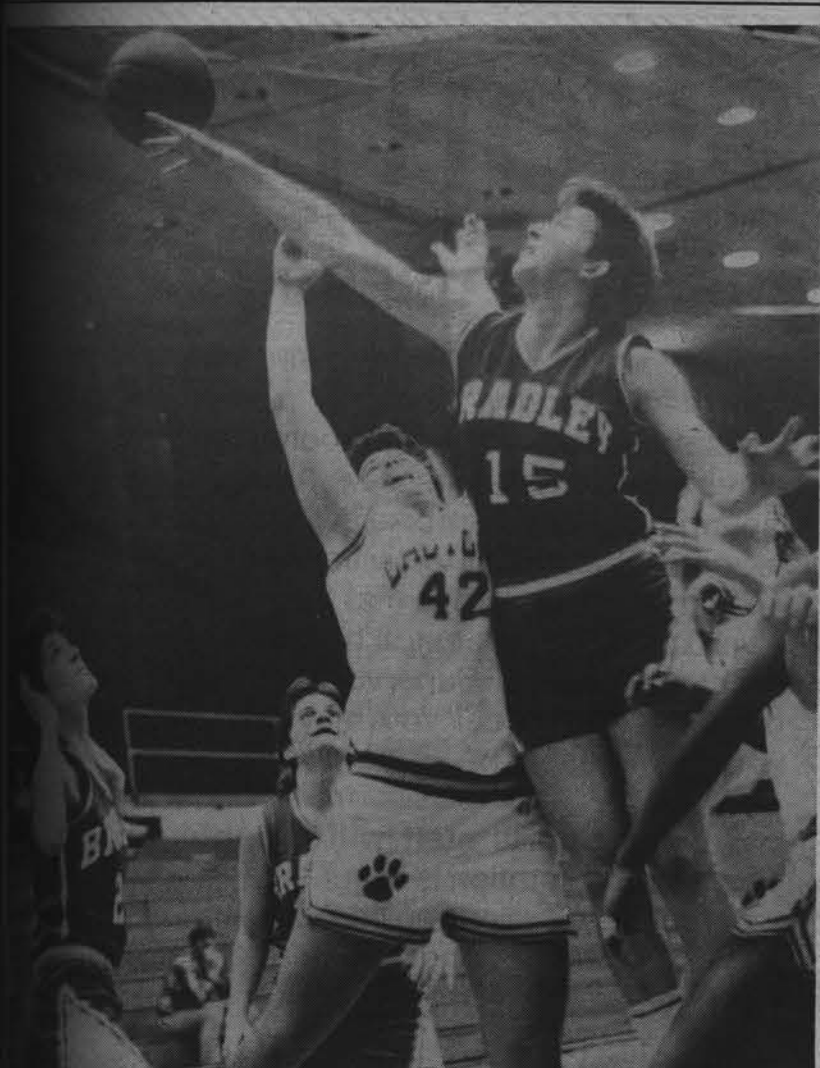

Urban had personal bests in the 50-yard freestyle and 200-yard backstroke Friday, and beat both times Saturday.

Ryan won the 200-yard breast stroke again Saturday in 2:17.84, and the 400-medley relay team of Urban, Tim Schnittker, Ryan and Dave Young won in 3:43.84.

The women were dominated in their meet with the competitive Illinois State Redbirds.

They won only two events, with Connie Wieck winning the 500-yard freestyle in 5:35.2 and Ann Body winning the 200-yard breast stroke in 2:44.5.

Padovan said Illinois State is one of the best teams Eastern swims against all season, and added that it is hard for the swimmers to go into a meet against the Redbirds with confidence.

Tracksters earn creditability

By BARRY BOTTINO
Staff writer

After one visit to the Champaign Armory, Eastern track coach Neil Moore can't wait to go back.

"We are now gaining more credibility as a Division-I program," Moore said.

But Moore can relate most of that new-found credibility to junior middle distance man Jim Maton, who had an "outstanding day" Saturday at the Illinois Invitational.

First of all, Maton won the 1,000 yard run with a time of 2:08.6—one tenth of a second under the NCAA qualifying time of 2:08.7.

Therefore, he will compete in the indoor championships in Oklahoma City on March 13-14.

Maton also broke the varsity record, which he held, by a full two seconds.

"I've never seen anyone perform better for Eastern Illinois," Moore said.

Maton also ran the anchor leg of the two-mile relay, which placed first in the time of 7:36.26, breaking the old varsity mark of 7:39.7 set in 1974.

Freshman Steve Conlon broke out of the pack at the start and Eastern never relinquished the lead with Al Oaks and Phil Maton running the second and third legs respectively.

The NCAA qualifying time is 7:27.

Moore also added that Eastern's two-mile team can only get better.

"We've got some guys who are licking their chops to get on that team...and that will push the guys who are already on it," Moore said.

The Panthers also had a solid performance from Jim's older brother, Phil Maton, who ran the 1,000-yard run in a time of 2:11.16, which managed fifth place Saturday and is third on the Eastern all-time list for the distance.

Other Eastern finishers included: Darnell Thompson, second in the 300-yard dash (31.84); Jeff Gennarelli, third in the shot put (58-8½); Don Glover, Scott Adamson, Don Johnson and Fred Neal, third in the mile relay (3:20.46); Dan Matas, fourth in the shot put (53-3½); and redshirt Mark Hamilton, fifth in the pole vault (15-0).

In two weeks, the Panthers will return to Champaign to face Notre Dame, Ohio State, Wisconsin and Illinois and are hoping to bring sophomore sprinter Ian Isaacs with them.

ady tracksters capture 2nd place

IAN VERDUN
Sports editor

Eastern's women's track team turned in an impressive performance in its second-place finish at Saturday's Illinois State Invitational in Normal.

The Panthers compiled 84 points to finish well behind host Illinois State which captured the title with 154 points. The meet had seven teams.

Midway Conference members Indiana State and Eastern Iowa finished third and fifth, respectively.

"They just did a super, super job," Eastern coach Craft said of his Panthers. "Everybody came out, and it was a total team effort."

Eastern winners were sophomore Lorry Plutz in the 100-yard dash at 41.06 and the 400 at 57.96, senior Lauren Lynch in the 800 at 2:12.54 and senior Valeta Strickland in the shot put at 46-4.

Second-place individual finishers for the Panthers were senior Janine Jarris in the 1,500-meter run at 4:35.97, junior Tracy Olawumi in the 500 at 1:15.4 and senior Debbie Zubik in the shot put at 43-3¼.

The 800-meter relay team of Olawumi, freshman Pam Kinkelaar and Plutz was runner-up with a time of 1:46.87, while the 3,200-relay squad of Olawumi, junior Marcia Riverd, Jarris and Lynch captured second at 9:14.28.

Kinkelaar placed fifth in the 60-meter hurdles at 9.87. Sophomore Marcy Novak was sixth in the 800 with a time of 2:25.63 and junior Leslie Weyland finished sixth in the triple jump with a leap of 31-1.

formation, and Jeff Rutledge, the second-string quarterback, came up behind the center.

The ball was snapped, and Rutledge snuck for 1 yard and a first down.

Six plays later, Simms hit tight end Mark Bavaro for 13 yards, the Giants led 16-10 and the rout was on.

Denver, which went the entire third quarter without calling a running play, went 1-2-3-punt, and the punt was returned 25 yards by Phil McConkey to the Denver 36. Eight plays later, Raul Allegre's 21-yard field goal made it 19-10.

Again Denver was held on downs, and again New York scored, going 60 yards in four plays with Joe Morris running over from 1 yard out following a 44-yard flea-flicker pass from Simms to McConkey.

Elvis Patterson intercepted an Elway pass the next time, setting up a 6-yard scoring pass from Simms to McConkey. The ball bounced off Bavaro's hands and helmet, right into the hands of McConkey, who did a victory dance and ran off the field with the ball.

This was the fifth time in six years that an NFC team has won the Super Bowl. The last AFC team was the Los Angeles Raiders in 1984.

The Giants won their three post-season games by a total score of 105-23.

half.

"We were as alert as we've been for a while and really got after it," Samuels said. "We played good defensively for the most part of the ballgame. But, as hard as Green Bay runs their motion offense, you're going to break down at times."

Giants crowned NFL champions with 39-20 win

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Phil Simms and the New York defense overcame a one-man show by John Elway as the Giants won their first Super Bowl by scoring 30 points in the second half Sunday to beat the Denver Broncos 39-20.

Simms, considered the lesser of two quarterbacks in this game, completed 22 of 25 for 268 yards, including three touchdown passes, and was unanimously voted the Most Valuable Player.

He also set a Super Bowl record with 10 straight completions during New York's second-half tear. His 88 percent completion rate was an NFL playoff record.

Most of this came after a first half in which Denver outplayed the heavily favored Giants, going off with a 10-9 lead that easily could have been 20-7 or 20-9.

Early in the second quarter, New York held Denver without a point after the Broncos had a first-and-goal situation from their 1-yard line and Karlis missed field goals from 24 and 34 yards. Denver, one after that goal-line stand.

So dominant was Elway in that period that he accounted for 200 yards on his own—187 passing and 13 rushing. That was 13 yards more than the total offense when sacks are figured in.

Then came the third quarter, in which the Broncos outgained the Broncos by 163 yards to 2, scoring 27 points. From the time the Broncos led 10-9 and the Giants led 33-10, Denver was held without a point, going out 1-2-3-punt on two occasions. Elway threw an interception on the other.

New York's second-half surge started immediately. Three plays netted nine yards, and the Giants' punting team ran onto the field to punt its own 46. Suddenly, the Giants shifted out of the backfield. (See GIANTS, page 15)

Lady Panthers grab fourth place in Gateway

Eastern center Laura Mull (35) leaps for a rebound during Saturday's 72-67 Gateway Conference victory over Bradley at Lantz Gym. Forward Lisa Tyler (42) looks on. The Panthers took over sole possession of fourth place in the Gateway with the win.

Losing close ballgames was becoming a trademark of Eastern's women's basketball team as of late. After losing 78-77 to Illinois State and 80-73 to Indiana State, the Panthers needed to win a close one to regain some confidence.

The Panthers won one as the team defeated Bradley 72-67 in a Gateway Conference battle for fourth place.

"It was nice to pull this one out. I think we showed some mental toughness late in the game and I think we also grew some as a team," Eastern coach Bobbie Hilke said.

Eastern and Bradley fought back and forth for much of the game with the Braves taking a 66-65 lead with 3:36 left in the game.

A free-throw by Braves' guard Michelle Braud made the score 67-65 with 2:42 left in the game.

Eastern center Laura Mull tied the score at 67-67 with a rebound basket. Forward Ann Brown then put the Panthers up for good with another rebound basket to make it 69-67 in Eastern's favor.

Brown had been on the bench for most of the second half as Hilke went with three guards for defensive purposes, but came back, not only to score the go-ahead basket, but also to grab a rebound to seal the victory.

"We went with three guards so that we could get some speed on the wings defensively in order to shut them off, but Ann came back in and was a factor in winning the game with her basket," Hilke said.

The Panthers raised their record 8-9 overall and 5-4 in the Gateway. Eastern is now in sole possession of fourth place.

The Braves fell to 8-9 overall in the conference.

Eastern's bench played a key role, allowing Hilke to rest starters and Mull from fouling out.

"I'm thrilled with the play of the bench. They gave us a big defensive and we put them in at a key time in the game and they delivered," Hilke said.

Guard Pat Hamilton continued to spark the Panthers as she scored 15 points to lead Eastern, but it was the play of guard Barb Perkes which led the Panthers go.

"Perkes made a lot of on-ball passes to Hamilton that don't show up in the stats and she hit some three-point plays that gave us momentum when we needed it," Hilke said.

Bradley forward Karin Nicholls was an all-around scorer with 20 points and a key thorn in Eastern's side for most of the game before she picked up her fourth foul with 15:50 remaining. Nicholls did not return until 5:50 was left.

"Nicholls is a fine player and we weren't containing her very well. Her picking up that fourth foul was a major factor for Eastern," Hilke said.

The Panthers will play the Gateway game on Thursday at Bradley.

Defensive-minded Phoenix gun down Panthers 64-

By JOHN STROUD

Wisconsin-Green Bay, behind the shooting performances of Richard Sims, 23, and Frank Nardi, 18, thwarted an Eastern comeback in the final minutes of Saturday's AMCU-8 Conference game at Green Bay to take a 64-57 win.

The Panthers drop to 5-8 overall and 0-2 in the conference while Green Bay goes to 7-8 and 2-2 in the AMCU.

The Phoenix, ranked No. 1 in NCAA Division I scoring defense, proved its defensive force in wearing the Panthers down throughout the game.

Eastern fought to within two points in the last three minutes on Jay Taylor's three-pointer followed by a Tony Hemphill steal and driving dunk to make it 53-51 with 2:10 remaining in the game.

But Green Bay came on to outscore the Panthers 11-4 in the last two minutes when Norm Evans was given a technical foul for "making contact with the official." That, along with a foul and another pair of Phoenix buckets made it 64-55 with 15 seconds left.

Eastern hit a pair of free throws after time had expired.

The loss puts Eastern at an early disadvantage in the conference race, but coach Rick Samuels was pleased to see the Panthers play better heads-up ball in the contest. He knows that kind of play will have to continue to improve starting Monday when Eastern travels to Southwest Missouri for a key conference battle.

The Bears, also rated among the nation's top defensive teams allowing less than 57 points per game, are in a heated battle with Cleveland State for the AMCU-8 lead. Cleveland State beat Southwest Missouri 68-63 Saturday at Cleveland.

But Samuels doesn't think the Southwest Missouri game will be any tougher than the one a persistent Green Bay team gave the Panthers.

"I don't know if it's going to be any tougher than this one," Samuels said in a post-game radio interview. "They're not going to play any harder than Green Bay."

And if a few things fall in place, Samuels thinks the Panthers can give Southwest a scare, especially with the Bears coming off a tough loss.

"We played pretty good," Samuels said after the Green Bay game. "We broke down at times but we're going to win, we're going to have to win some of those things.

Bad passes and missed layups and short shots didn't help the Panther cause when the game was on the line, although Eastern did shoot above the line, although Eastern did shoot above the line from the field hitting 50 percent.

"When the game was on the line, Green Bay got after it," Samuels said. "The crowd was out there, and at that time we needed a basket and we couldn't get one."

The Panthers did have balanced scoring. Tony Hemphill led with 13 points. Taylor had 11, and Evans had nine. Mike West pulled down six rebounds to lead the Panthers in that area.

Eastern hung close with the Phoenix in the second half, tying it at 19 inside four minutes on Hemphill's 3-pointer. Green Bay held a 26-22 lead with 1:15 left.
