Members of the Ansar Temple join in the celebration of Eastern's 76th Homecoming Saturday, with its parade entry in a "Salute to the Red, White and Blue."

Homecoming parade celebrated patriotically

By CASSIE SIMPSON
Activities editor

The two-hour Homecoming parade was celebrated in patriotic style Saturday in front of alumni, students and Charleston citizens.

"As a whole, the parade went great," said Meg Grimler, parade committee co-chair. "We had 120 entries. It was the most entries we've ever had."

The theme of this year's Homecoming was "America the Beautiful: EIU Salutes the Red, White and Blue."

Grimler said the parade did have some problems. "In my evaluation I'm going to suggest that next year they limit the number of entries to 100, Charleston is just not big enough," Grimler said.

"We had several gaps in the parade due to Lincoln Avenue," Grimler added. "It's a thing that's been a problem every year."

The problem with Lincoln Avenue, is that it can not be closed for the parade because it is a state highway, and so the parade has to be stopped to allow traffic through, causing gaps in the parade.

"We tried to change the parade route because of the problem of Lincoln," Grimler said. "But we (parade committee members) kept in touch through walkie talkies and we were able to keep in contact with the fire engine in the front and close up some of the gaps."

All parades have competitions in various categories, and Eastern's Homecoming parade is no different.

Alpha Gamma Delta and Delta Tau Delta won the flatbed category, while Sigma Pi and Sigma Kappa won flatbed with moveable parts competition.

The Carman Hall entry won the walking float category, with the Charleston Lions Club taking the highly decorated car prize.

Grimler said the committee started painting numbers on Seventh St. at 2:30 a.m. Saturday and ended around 4:30 a.m.

"The first entrants started coming around 5 a.m. and all the floats were there by 8:30 a.m.," Grimler said.

"We judged the fraternity's and sorority's floats Friday night," Grimler said. "We took the judges around to each float sight."

Grimler said the judges stand was set up on Seventh St. and the other entries were judged as they went by.

"You can't really judge that (the walking float and highly decorated car) before hand," Grimler added.

Negotiations continue for strike settlement

By CHRIS SEPER
Staff writer

Despite statements last week by University Professionals of Illinois President Mitch Vogel, UPI and Board of Governors representatives re-opened formal contract negotiations Monday.

The abrupt meeting could be classified as a sort of surprise, considering Vogel was quoted Thursday in a speech at Western Illinois University as saying, "A disaster is coming and is probably already here," referring to the strike.

Earlier in the week Vogel had also guaranteed there would be nothing but informal talks until the acquisition of a mediator.

"Mitch Vogel called late Friday afternoon and told me," said Jane Ozier, Eastern's chief negotiator. "I'm leaving for Springfield (Sunday) to meet with the BOG for negotiations."

Despite the resumption of the formal negotiations, there was no mention of a mediator being present at the talks, Ozier said.

"It's a positive reaction," Ozier said. "It means the BOG is willing to get serious with us and help us towards an agreement."

Vogel's speech was just part of the events that occurred Thursday as protestors representing the five BOG schools rallied around the UPI president at the BOG meeting held in Macomb.

Along with the main problem of equitable salary and the maintaining of that salary, stumbling blocks that still remain are the doubling of office hours, increased workload, reimbursement for increased health benefit costs, access to early retirement plans, job security and equal treatment with other state employees.

Representatives from Chicago State, Governor State, Northeastern and Western Illinois — the four other schools governed by the BOG — also will join Eastern in the talks.

By JILL BAUTER
Administration editor

The further continuation of President Stan Rives' annual performance evaluation has some members of Eastern's community asking for an end to the process.

"They need to reach closure because we're trying to get on with the university and I think the president is trying to get on with the university," said Glenn Williams, vice president for student affairs.

Charles Colbert, vice president for business affairs, also said the BOG needed to reach a conclusion. Out of five Board of Governors university presidents evaluated on Sept. 26, only Rives was asked to meet again for further discussion. Number of faculty in disagreement with UPI protest

By CHRIS SEPER
Staff writer

Despite the rallies, the protests and the speeches in favor of the University Professionals of Illinois stands and policies, some mumbling and grumbling is coming from those unhappy with some of UPI's policies.

Eastern math professor Lewis Coon, on behalf of other non-members of the UPI at Board of Governors' schools, has filed a complaint and continued to protest the extraction of "Fair Share" fees from their respective salaries.

"It's in accordance with the law, UPI initi-tants) are non-members. They are assessed unknown section fees. We don't want to pay those fees and we placed it in writing."

Fair Share fees are charges, extracted from the pay checks of all student-related faculty at all five BOG schools, that go to the UPI for dues and other section fees.

Eastern, Chicago State, Governors State, Northeastern and Western Illinois are the five universities that are governed by the BOG.

What Coon and the other objectors are demanding is a refund of this year's Fair Share fees with triple damages totalling $78,000, as well as punitive damages of $100,000. Along with the damages, Coon hopes to restrict the amount of Fair Share fees as well as the procedures to level and to collect the fees.

There are currently 523 non-UPI members on the five BOG campuses out of 2023 eligible faculty with 226 at Eastern, Coon said.

"Our agreement does include fair share and that is fair according to the law and that's why we have it in our agreement," said Jane Ozier, Eastern's UPI representative. "Anyone who does object to it such as Lewis Coon does have a right to file an objection."

According to Coon, the hearing he had was riddled with inconsistency. Instead of the administration coming out and showing where the fair share fees were spent and how they were collected, Coon had to prove that there was any wrongdoing in the process — a reverse of what is actually supposed to happen.

"We had to turn around and prove things," Coon said.

According to Ozier, the 27-article UPI-BOG agreement, including fair share, represents everyone at the five universities and applies to everyone at the BOG schools, and therefore the fees, rules as well as rights should apply to them.

"Obviously UPI is in favor of fair share, that's why we negotiated it," Ozier said. "That's why it's been our agreement. According to the law we have every right to have fair share coverage."

Coon said it is not the fault of the local UPI negotiator, Ozier, but the fault of the UPI administration such as President Mitch Vogel and BOG chairpersons.

Thursday.

"(A performance evaluation) is a cause for concern if it goes on and on," Williams said. "It seems to me whatever needed to be said should have been said."

Since the meetings involve personnel matters, the focus of discussion between the board and Rives has not been revealed to the public. Therefore, only the BOG and Rives know the implications of the on-going evaluation.

"I honestly do not know what is happening with (Rives' evaluation). I think it would be foolish for me to try to comment," said Robert Kindrick, provost and vice president of academic affairs.

Vice President for Development Stephen Falk also declined comment. "It is a matter between he and the board," he said.

"I'd like to see (the evaluation) completed," said Martha Price, student body president. Price and four other Student Senate executives attended last Thursday's BOG meeting to meet with the board and voice their support of Rives.

"We told the board our opinion on the controversies surrounding Rives and why we think it is important to retain his leadership," said Brett Gerber, Student Senate chief of staff.

"Of course we're disappointed (that the evaluation isn't completed)," Gerber added. "We don't think it's fair."

Gerber said Rives has done too many positive things for the university to deserve the scrutiny he has been subjected to.

"I think they owe it to Rives and the university to get it over with," said Faculty Senate Vice Chair Gary Wallace. "None of us really understand why they are dragging things out."

Fox Broadcasting rating's improving in second season

NEW YORK (AP) - How would you feel if you were the lowest-rated television network and nearly 40 percent of your prime-time lineup suffered the lowest ratings on TV? You'd be cheerful, if you were the 3 1/2-year-old Fox Broadcasting Co. The upstart "weblet" is off to a booming start in the month-old 1991-92 season and a strong recovery from its disappointing performance last year.

Its hit shows are distinct alternatives to network fare, shows like "Married ... with Children," "The Simpsons," and "In Living Color." Its newest hit, "Beverly Hills 90210," the highest-rated show among teens, is watched by one of every five teen-agers.

"Fox has pushed the envelope in a lot of areas," said Richard Fentress of Petry Television, which represents TV stations (including Fox affiliates) in their advertising and programming decisions. "They're way out in front of everybody in developing stuff for the '90s - whatever that is." In comparison with its Big Three rivals, Fox's ratings soar across the board, especially in demographic groups coveted by advertisers.

Some numbers: - Just four weeks into the new season, Fox was the No. 1 network for kids and teens, ages 2 to 17; its viewership is up in all adult categories; among ages 16 to 34, it's up 42 percent; 18 to 49, up 38 percent; even among adults 25 to 54, it's up 32 percent.

• Fox's share of male viewers 18 to 49 is up 37 percent; women viewers 18 to 49 are up 38 percent, and women 25 to 54 are up 30 percent. And Fox's prime-time viewership is 48 percent male, a hard-to-reach audience. Big Three viewership has a significantly lower percentage of males.

• Fox's average household rating was 7.9, up 34 percent from last year at this time. Its audience share is up 3 points, while among the Big Three, only CBS' share is up, and only by a single point.

Share is the percentage of sets tuned in. A rating point is 921,000 homes with televisions, or 1 percent of Nielsen's 92.1 million-home TV "universe." In the smaller 20.1 million teen universe, "Beverly Hills 90210" got a 20.9 rating and a 52 share.

Fox's success flows from its design, industry observers say.

It's a lean machine, programmed with one function: to remove certain core audiences - hence advertising dollars - from its rivals.

Fox offers only 10 hours of regular, prime-time shows a week, on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

The Recognition service of the Young Women's Christian Association was held Friday evening at 6:45 in Pemberton Hall. Thirty applicants were received into membership with the candlelight service. The president explained the purpose of the service and desired the pleasure of the association with regard to the applications for membership. Mr. Lord gave a very interesting and helpful talk on "The Two Levels of Living."

Mr. Allen gave the seniors instructions to observe fire drill in the model schools. It is rumored that these instructions were necessary because a student teacher, not knowing the meaning of the fire alarm, tried to keep his class in the room by bodily force. He was found in an exhausted condition by a critic teacher and revived.

Last Saturday someone mentioned the fact that there was considerable material for a school band this year. A count was at once begun, and it was found there were six cornetists, two men who play baritones, one the flute, and two drummers. These men have practically all had band experience and with others should be able to furnish some real music for the school. Mr. Wilson has had experience as a teacher of wind instruments and is ready to help in instructing or leading. A meeting of those interested will probably be held Tuesday.

Eastern's 1941 Homecoming theme, "A Salute to Eastern Men in Service," recalls the fact that this is the second time the college has had cause to commemorate the contribution of her sons to their country. Only 23 years ago another great crisis confronted the nation, and Eastern felt the effects just as she is feeling them today. Miss Mary Jane Booth, head of the library, was the only member of the Normal school faculty at that time to become engaged in active war work overseas. Besides Miss Booth, there are 11 of our present faculty who were actively engaged in the war or who were in training services.

Eastern will pay rousing tribute to graduates and former students now in uniform with two days and nights chock full of Homecoming festivities, beginning today and lasting until late tomorrow evening. Actual Homecoming activities will begin with a flourish this afternoon at 4 p.m. when the annual freshman-sophomore tug-of-war takes place across the Lincoln field lake.

After that contest, the bonfire at 6:45 p.m., the homecoming play "What a Life" at 8 p.m. and the Pep dance at 10 p.m. follow in rapid succession. Concluding the first day of Homecoming is the mid-night show "Moonlight in Hawaii" at 11:30 p.m.

Eastern's THIN Clads, under the tutelage of Coach Winfield "Scotty" Angus, decisively defeated the harriers of Western Teachers at Macomb 20 to 35, chalking up their first victory of the year last Saturday, Oct. 11, in the initial home meet of the year.

Although the visitors managed to capture a first place when J. Toomey crossed the finish line in 18 minutes, 37 seconds, Eastern men seized the next six places.

Bruce Kelly, senator from Independent Student Association, presented a plan for reapportionment proposed by the committee headed by Jim Edgar, treasurer.

According to the plan, the senate would be fixed at 30 members elected at large from the student body. The terms would be staggered, with 10 senators being elected each quarter.

The International Center Foundation of Charleston, Illinois, Incorporated, held its organizational meeting at 7:30 p.m. last Wednesday in the Lecture Room of Booth Library.

The Foundation was begun as a steering committee this past summer for the purpose of promoting international understanding and cultural exchange among residents of the Charleston area and the students, faculty and administrators of Eastern.

Last Saturday, Eastern increased its overall season record to 4-2 and 3-1 in the Midwest Soccer Association as the Panthers defeated St. Maryknoll Seminary, 2-0. In gaining their fourth victory, Eastern also picked up its first shutout of the season.

"A place for students to come and de-pressurize" was the way Mrs. Jane Stackhouse, faculty assistant, described her responsibility, the Franklin L. Andrews Music Room.

The Music Listening Room, as it is popularly known, is located in the west end of the basement of Booth library. The 5,000 albums that comprise the record collection available to students are a cross-section of musical genres.

Ethics committee to discuss codes

The second of three meetings on the proposed university ethics code will be held Monday for those who wish to make suggestions and voice their opinions on the code.

The meeting will take place from 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. in room 127 of Lumpkin Hall and all students, faculty, staff and administrators are welcome to participate.

The current draft of the code was distributed to all university employees in September.

The meetings were intended to give "everybody in the university community ... the opportunity to respond to this code and make suggestions to it," said Robert Barger, chair of the ethics committee.

"The ethics code is a standard of expected behavior and is formulated to avoid problems by giving individuals a clear statement of what is anticipated," said President Stan Rives.

The ethics committee will meet between 10:30 a.m. and noon on Thursday in the Coleman Hall Auditorium.

Walk-A-Thon cancelled due to low Sunday turnout

By CASSIE SIMPSON
Activities editor

Eastern was supposed to kick off its celebration of Alcohol Awareness Week with "One For the Road," a Walk-A-Thon/Jog-A-Thon on Sunday afternoon, but lack of a turnout caused the event to be cancelled.

"It was kind of slow, and we didn't have many people turnout, so we may try to reschedule," said Debi Norske, assistant coordinator of the Alcohol and Drug Information Office.

Boost Alcohol Consciousness Concerning the Health of University Students and several other student organizations will be sponsoring several activities and workshops aimed at prevention of alcohol abuse and responsibility in connection with the consumption of alcohol.

Several of the events will be taking place in the Martin Luther King Jr. University Union walkway near the Sugar Shack, Norske said.

"Tomorrow we will have the flower memorial, which will be two flower displays that have been donated by local florists, one display in the union walkway," Norske said. "The memorial will be for any and all of Eastern's students, faculty and staff who have had alcohol affect their lives in some way." Norske said the flower memorial will be going on all day everyday this week.

A popular activity in the past with students is the Pop tent, where students will be able to get free Pepsi products and free samples of O'Douls, a non-alcoholic beer made by Anheuser-Busch, Norske said.

It was kind of slow, and we didn't have many people turnout, so we may try to reschedule

Debi Norske, assistant coordinator of the Alcohol and Drug Information office

"The pop tent will from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Library Quad (Monday)," Norske said.

Also on the Library Quad, will be the wrecked car, which was donated by an area towing company, Norske said.

"There will be 157 balloons tied to the car that represents the number of college-aged students that died in the state of Illinois in 1990 in alcohol-related accidents," Norske said.

From 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. in the union, the Alpha Kappa Alpha will be distributing poems that deal with alcohol use and abuse.

There will be opportunities for students and faculty to win items throughout the day.

"People can sign up for giveaways at the Pop tent," Norske said.

"Responsibility in usage is the main message we're trying to get across," Norske said. "It's not that we're saying not to drink, we're saying to do it responsibly."

Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, Inc., perform their winning act in the annual National Panhellenic step show contest Saturday night in McAfee gym.

Greek Step Show entertains crowd

By CHRIS SEPER
AND ELLIOTT PEPPERS
Staff writers

The stage was set in McAfee Gym Friday evening as greek pride, dancing prowess and some saucy lyrics spiced up the annual National Panhellenic Council greek Step Show entitled "Ain't No Half Steppin'."

Three fraternities and three sororities each performed 15-minute performances. Alpha Phi Alpha, Iota Phi Theta, Kappa Alpha Psi fraternities, Inc., and Alpha Kappa Alpha, Delta Sigma Theta and Zeta Beta Phi sororities, Inc., were the fraternities and sororities that performed.

"I thought it was awesome," said Julea Warren, sophomore speech pathology major, member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority Inc. and judge of the evening's events. "I was impressed with the show. I think it helped further interfraternity relationships. It brought a lot of the greeks together, white and black."

Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, Inc., and sorority Delta Sigma Theta, Inc., took the respective step show titles, with Alpha Phi Alpha unseating Kappa Alpha Psi, step show champs for the past two years.

The step show was judged on creativity, sportsmanship and originality, with judges Johnetta Jones and William Coffee overseeing the event along with two student members. Although there are nine black greek organizations, Omega Psi Phi and Phi Beta Sigma fraternities,

Kirk: Homecoming successful

By JULIE SULLIVAN
Staff writer

Eastern's 76th Homecoming was a celebration of spirit rather than a blood bath of competition.

"I was very happy with the way everything turned out," said Brad Kirk, Homecoming coordinator.

"We tried to desensitize the competition and make Homecoming more of a celebration of spirit," Kirk said.

This year, unlike in the past years, participation or spirit points were not awarded to organizations for participating in all of the Homecoming activities.

However, there was still a high showing of students and groups in all the Homecoming activities.

Kirk believes that the high turnout of student organizations is due to the fact that, because the activities were not mandatory, people did the window painting, participated in the bonfire/pep rally and showed up for the parade and the football game just for the fun of it, not because they had to.

Groups such as sororities, fraternities, residence halls, the Black Student Union and Hispanic Student Union showed their support of Homecoming by celebrating it together rather than competing against each other for awards and prizes, Kirk added.

Amy Jobin, spirit co-chair, said Lambda Chi Alpha and Delta Zeta took the spirit award, while Sigma Sigma Sigma and Sigma Phi Epsilon won first prize for sportsmanship.

"In sportsmanship in non-greek competition it was BSU in first," Jobin added.

"For Spirit in non-greek competition it was the same, BSU was in first."

Inc., and Sigma Gamma Rho sorority, Inc., opted not to participate.

More than 400 Eastern students showed up to witness a different array of styles, performers and attitudes that accompanied this year's step show. Kappa Alpha Psi came with their traditional cane dancing, while Alpha Phi Alpha countered with the "Don't drop the brick."

Alpha Kappa Alpha went with five members of their sorority, and both Delta Sigma Theta and Zeta Phi Beta opted to go with double-digit members.

"I think it (the step show) was good," said Monica Martin, sophomore English major. "It brought the blacks closer together on campus as well as a lot of whites showed. That was nice. Hopefully more will show next year."

Lyricism ranged from pride in the respective greek organization, prowess in attracting to women, to downright insulting the other fraternities.

BOG to request extra $25 fee for graduate students

By STUART TART
Editor in chief

Applying to Eastern's graduate programs is no longer free.

The Board of Governors approved last Thursday a request by the university for permission to establish a $25 application fee for graduate programs.

Bill Nilsen, associate dean of the School of Graduate Studies and Research, said the fee, which will take effect for the fall 1992 semester, is designed to improve the percentage of applicants who actually attend the university. An increase of approximately 800 applications to the college, without a proportional increase in attendance, made the fee desirable, she said.

"We don't have the number of staff members to process (that many applications) effectively," she said.

The graduate college received 2,200 applications for this semester, as compared to 1,400 for fall semester 1990, yet graduate attendance only increased by 80 students from 949 to 1,029 students, she explained.

"The increase in the number of students today over a year ago doesn't reflect that large increase (in the number of applications)," Nilsen said.

Nilsen added that she doesn't expect the application fee to significantly affect graduate enrollment.

"Enrollments have been very consistent over the years," she said. "I don't think we'll see a decrease in enrollment; I do think we'll see a decrease in applications."

Nilsen added that a $25 undergraduate application fee, implemented in 1989, has not affected enrollment at that level. In fact, Eastern's undergraduate enrollment is the highest it's ever been; 10-day enrollment figures put Eastern's total enrollment this semester at 10,450.

"If that is a predictor, we can predict (the fee) will not harm enrollment," she said.

The BOG also gave its authorization Thursday to a proposal by Chancellor Thomas Layzell that the system's adult degree program, the Board of Governors Bachelor of Arts degree, be available for use by community college districts statewide.

The degree program is designed to provide adults, who are unable to complete their bachelor's degree in the traditional manner because of special circumstances, like full-time employment, with nontraditional options to earn a bachelor's degree from a BOG university, outgoing Vice President for Academic Affairs Robert Kindrick said.

The program serves "out-of-school adults who may still be placebound" by allowing them to obtain credits from community colleges and other four-year universities, he explained. The program is currently available only in 13 of Illinois' 40 community college districts, but the plan approved by the BOG would make it available to all 40 districts.

However, the plan must now receive Illinois Board of Higher Education approval before it can be implemented, Kindrick said.

Rives to attend SAT meeting

By JAMES CONNELLY
Staff writer

The Student Action Team Monday will discuss the beginning of Alcohol Awareness Week.

"Mature use of alcohol is something we believe in, and we feel it is very important to make students aware of this," SAT President Terry Tumbarello said.

The group's main objective is to bring a larger sense of alcohol and drug awareness to the Eastern campus, and to use this awareness to encourage responsible drinking, Tumbarello added.

The SAT will meet at 6 p.m. in the Kansas Room of the Martin Luther King Jr. University Union.

Eastern President Stan Rives will be in attendance to discuss one of the main issues of the meeting, which is whether or not the group will sponsor the Gus Bus.

The Gus Bus program, which started last year, is a program where the bus makes rounds to the local bars in order to provide safe travel for students.

Presentation to show risks of driving drunk

RANA WOODSON

A driving under the influence presentation will be held at 7 p.m. Monday in Lawson Hall to give students insight of the risks they take when they drink and drive.

The presentation, "DUI: How You Can Beat Them" is a part of Alcohol Awareness week. The program is provided to students to demonstrate the procedures police officers use to test a drunk driver.

"I hope the student will learn the facts about driving under the influence, and that it's not something you should try to test," said Debi Norske, assistant coordinator of the Alcohol and Drug Information office.

Norske said she hopes the presentation will eliminate any myths that students have about tests that are administered to drunk drivers.

"Many students think if they put a penny under their tongue when taking the breathalyzer test it will throw it off," she said. "That's just not true."

The presentation will include officer Mike Ealy's demonstration of different tests administered to drunk drivers, the different drinking levels and the

Zwicky to perform organ recital in bicentennial observance of Mozart

By STEVE LYSAKER
Staff writer

An organ recital in observance of the bicentennial of the death of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart will be held Monday.

The concert will feature Gary Zwicky, a professor of music at Eastern, performing various pieces on the organ. According to Zwicky, violinists Cynthia Baker and Kathreen Ryan and cellist Donald Tracy will accompany him on two church sonatas.

Zwicky added that he will play one four-hand organ piece, which was written for a mechanical organ in a clock, with his wife, Elaine.

"The theme of the concert will relate to Mozart," Zwicky said.

"The concert will focus on improvisation, and call attention to the fact that he (Mozart) liked the organ very much, but there aren't many written organ pieces by Mozart because he generally improvised," Zwicky added.

Variations on America by Charles Ives, and an organ concerto by Handel also will be performed Zwicky said.

The performance will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Leo J. Dvorak Concert Hall. It is free of charge and open to the public.

Senate subcommittee reopening bank inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The BCCI scandal, overshadowed by the furor surrounding Clarence Thomas, is likely to take center stage again this week as a Senate panel questions Washington super lawyer Clark Clifford and former budget director Bert Lance.

"We're going to look at the impact on people's lives in America," said Sen. John Kerry, D-Mass., chairman of the Foreign Relations subcommittee on terrorism, narcotics and international operations.

The Bank of Credit and Commerce International has been at the center of a global controversy that reached fever pitch in Congress early last month.

Some lawmakers charged that U.S. officials ignored danger signals concerning the foreign-owned BCCI and missed a chance to stop illicit activities much earlier. Officials of the Federal Reserve and other agencies were called to account before several congressional committees.

Interest in the banking scandal flagged in recent weeks as the nation became transfixed by allegations of sexual harassment leveled against Thomas, a Supreme Court nominee.

Financial regulators around the world shut down BCCI's operations over the summer amid allegations of massive fraud, drug money laundering and support of terrorists. The high-flying bank, its Pakistani founder and its former chief executive officer were indicted by a New York grand jury for alleged fraud, falsifying records and stealing more than $30 million from depositors.

Last Friday, Miami lawyer James F. Dougherty II told the subcommittee that U.S. prosecutors ignored repeated warnings about illegal activities in the United States by BCCI and its customers.

Dougherty, who represents an insurance group that has sued the bank, said he appealed directly to then-Attorney General Dick Thornburgh in December when he found evidence the bank was likely to destroy or move records.

"We received no response to that," Dougherty said, adding that the only indication of interest from U.S. officials came from Internal Revenue Service criminal investigators.

Congress urged to drop exemptions on discrimination laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — The spotlight on sexual harassment has prompted Congress to take a look at itself and consider dropping the exemption that permits it to avoid laws against discrimination.

"That this Congress would pass a series of laws on civil rights, workers safety and yes, sexual harassment, and then exempt itself, is hypocrisy, pure and simple," said Sen. Dave Durenberger, R-Minn.

Sen. Charles Grassley, R-Iowa, is reviving the idea that Congress be covered by the laws it passes just as new civil rights bill is reaching the Senate floor.

Like the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the bill to be taken up this week also exempts Congress. Grassley plans to offer an amendment bringing Congress under its auspices.

"How in the world can members of Congress really know and understand the burden it puts on America when it doesn't even have to live under the law itself?" Grassley asked.

His idea hasn't been popular in Congress, which has exempted itself from a long list of other laws, including the Freedom of Information Act, the Equal Employment Opportunity Act, the Social Security Act and the government ethics act.

Barring a reversal of course, employees of members of Congress have little recourse if they are victims of the type of sexual harassment that Anita Hill alleged against Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas.

There are House and Senate rules against discrimination, which includes sexual harassment. But if not resolved by the member, a worker can turn only to the Senate Ethics Committee or House Office of Fair Employment Practices, said Jean Dugan, chairwoman of the Capitol Hill Women's Political Caucus.

"There is no outside recourse for anyone sexually harassed," she said.

Her organization has drafted a sexual harassment policy statement and urged each House and Senate member to adopt it. The policy defines sexual harassment, cites some examples, and pledges "swift and serious attention to any complaint of sexual harassment." The hope, Dugan said, is that adoption of the policy will prompt any member of Congress to deal forcefully with sex harassers — and that violations would be viewed more strongly by the appropriate House or Senate panel.

Thirty-four senators have adopted that policy or one similar — three since the Thomas allegations surfaced, she said. The latest to adopt the policy are Democrats Jeff Bingaman of New Mexico, Tom Daschle of South Dakota and John Kerry of Massachusetts.

Some 199 House members have signed as well.

Of the 14 members of the Senate Judiciary Committee that conducted the Thomas hearings, only three have signed the policy: Democrats Howell Heflin of Alabama, Patrick Leahy of Vermont and Paul Simon of Illinois. Chairman Joseph Biden, D-Del., has adopted it for the committee staff but not his own office staff, Dugan said.

The Senate Republican Leader, Bob Dole of Kansas, has adopted it, but the Democratic leader, George Mitchell of Maine, has not, though he has urged all Senate offices to adopt anti-harassment guidelines.

The House has seen several sexual harassment cases in recent years.

Donald E. "Buzz" Lukens, an Ohio Republican, was allowed to resign last year rather than face expulsion on two sex-related cases: a conviction of having sex with an underage girl and a later allegation of fondling a female elevator operator in the Capitol.

Two other House members were dealt with more lightly by the Ethics Committee.

In 1989, California Democrat Jim Bates received a letter of reproof, a mild punishment, after two women on his office staff filed sex harassment complaints. He lost a bid for re-election.

And the Ethics Committee concluded last year that Rep. Gus Savage, D-Ill., made improper sexual advances toward a female Peace Corps worker in Zaire, but it took no further action after Savage wrote a letter of apology. He was re-elected.

Sen. John Danforth, R-Mo., Thomas' chief sponsor, is also the chief GOP supporter of a proposed civil rights bill in the Senate.

In arguing for Thomas, Danforth said the civil rights bill would be an opportunity for senators to address the seriousness of sexual harassment.

Forest fires under control in Northwest

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Evacuees began returning to their burned-out homes as gusting wind eased Thursday, helping firefighters battle wildfires that have destroyed more than 100 homes and killed five people across four states.

"Before the fire was letting us fight it on its terms, but now the tide has changed a little bit," U.S. Forest Service spokesman Kevin Kennedy said in Oregon. "This is a real big day for us." Fires across parts of Washington, Idaho, Montana and Oregon scorched hundreds of thousands of acres of grass, brush and timber.

Most were ignited Wednesday by power lines downed in a fierce wind storm that gusted to more than 60 mph and kicked up heavy dust.

Killed were an eastern Washington woman trying to flee her home, two people crushed by heavy equipment in Idaho and Montana and the pilot and copilot aboard a California-based air tanker that crashed en route to firefighting duty in Montana. The wreckage was found Thursday.

In addition, four people were missing after reporting fires in northern Spokane County.

National Guard units were activated in Washington, Idaho and Oregon. And authorities sought additional firefighters from as far away as Southern California and Arizona.

"There's a real, almost crisis situation with a shortage of crews and trying to get them out to the fires," said Dave Turner of the Montana Department of State Lands.

Earthquake kills 341 in India

DEHRA DUN, India (AP) — A mighty earthquake convulsed the Himalayan foothills on Sunday, killing at least 341 people, flattening tens of thousands of homes and triggering major landslides, police said.

The earthquake rippled through northern Uttar Pradesh state, causing massive destruction in at least two districts along the Indian-Tibetan border. At least 2,000 people were injured, the United News of India news agency reported.

At least 500 people were feared trapped in the rubble of buildings that collapsed when the quake struck, Dehra Dun District Magistrate Shishir Priya Darshi said.

India's Seismology Department measured the 45-second quake at 6.1 on the Richter scale. The U.S. Geological Survey put the magnitude at 7.1.

The state's top police official, Director General Prakash Singh said 262 bodies had been recovered in the Uttarkashi district, United News of India reported. Darshi, the district magistrate, said the count in Uttarkashi was likely to rise.

At least 59 people were killed in the Tehri district just south of Uttarkashi, the news agency said, quoting a local official.

Another 20 people were killed in the Chamoli district east of Uttarkashi, police said. The victims included 15 pilgrims at a Hindu temple in Kedarnath, they said.

A senior civil official in Dehra Dun, the nearest big town to Uttarkashi said tens of thousands of homes were reported destroyed. The official spoke on condition of anonymity. United News of India said 400 villages were affected.

Bentsen proposes tax cut for middle-income citizens

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee on Sunday proposed using defense savings to cut taxes for middle-income families by $72.5 billion over the next five years.

"This economy is dead in the water, and we do have to jump start it," said Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas.

In a written statement and on CBS' "Face the Nation," Bentsen said his plan would stimulate participation by middle-income Americans in the economy and increase long-term growth through savings.

But John Sununu, President Bush's chief of staff, was critical of the plan.

"I think what the Democrats ought to do is go back and pass the kind of incentive for investment and job creation the president has been asking for since 1989," Sununu said on ABC's "This Week With David Brinkley." The administration has said any change in the budget agreement would have to be an economic growth package that includes a capital gains tax cut and tax incentives for business research and development.

Other Senate leaders called for incentives to improve the economy, but said the inducements should be within the boundaries of last year's budget agreement, which limited use of any savings from reductions in military spending to cut the federal budget deficit.

The hallmarks of Bentsen's proposal include a $300 tax credit for each child 18 and younger in a family and a revival of a fully deductible $2,000 Individual Retirement Account for all Americans.

IRAs now are limited to those not covered by a pension plan with individual income under $25,000 or family income under $40,000.

Bentsen, saying he would present his bill in committee this week, said the proposed legislation would require renegotiating the budget agreement. The "reapportionment of assets ... is much needed and justified and will get the economy moving," he said.

The tax cut, Bentsen said, could be paid for by a 5 percent cut in defense spending over the next five years.

"I think the taxpayers of the country ought to have at least 5 percent of that (peace) dividend," he said.

Bentsen's proposal, which would take effect Jan. 1, 1992, came in the wake of last week's announcement by Bush and Republican congressional leaders that they plan to fashion a package of legislative measures to spur economic growth.

Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said there's little likelihood of enacting tax legislation by the end of the year. Such tax-reduction proposals are more likely to be part of the 1992 election-year debate.

"The administration has underestimated the adverse effects of the economic recession," Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell, D-Maine, said on NBC's "Meet the Press." Mitchell said a tax cut package should include "tax relief for middle income Americans and increased incentives for savings and investment." Senate Minority Bob Dole, R-Kan., said cuts for low- and middle-income taxpayers could be a part of legislative package that could revise, but not "bust," the budget agreement.

Ukraine will not sign treaty with Soviet republics

MOSCOW (AP) — The Ukraine said Thursday it will not sign an agreement to form an economic union with other Soviet republics, producing a major crack in the agreement on the eve of its signing.

After weeks of intense negotiations, 10 republics had been expected to sign the document in a ceremony at the Kremlin on Friday. The Ukraine, an industrial and agricultural powerhouse of 53 million people, was considered a key participant.

Since defeating a hard-line Communist coup attempt in August, President Mikhail S. Gorbachev has put most other government business on a back burner to concentrate on winning the agreement to preserve strong economic ties between the republics.

Without the economic union, the country is threatened with breakup into hostile units with high tariff barriers and export restrictions. Already, some republics have forbidden the shipment of scarce food and consumer products outside their territory.

The pact has not been published in advance, but its basic outline is known. It would create a "single economic zone" encompassing most of the former Soviet Union minus the three newly-independent Baltic states, Georgia, Moldavia and now, the Ukraine.

The zone was to have a single monetary and banking system, coordinated customs rules and tariffs, and cooperation in fields such as energy, transportation and communications.

However, the single monetary system was placed in serious doubt this week by Russian President Boris N. Yeltsin, who said his huge republic plans to introduce its own currency.

U.S. hostage release expected

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Shiite Muslim kidnappers are expected to release an American hostage by Monday and Israel is to free some Arab prisoners in response, the United Nations said Sunday.

The announcement from the U.N. information center in Beirut did not say which of the five American captives in Lebanon would be freed or where. U.N. officials refused to elaborate on the brief statement.

It was the first time the United Nations has ever announced a timetable for the release of a Western hostage. The leading U.N. envoy in the hostage negotiations was believed to be in Beirut.

If the report proves accurate, it would be the fourth Westerner to be released since August as the result of an intensive U.N. effort to free all of the Western hostages in Lebanon.

The U.N. announcement came after Israel said on Saturday that it had received solid information that one of its five missing servicemen in Lebanon was dead, and hinted it would free more Arab prisoners it holds.

The hostage-holders are demanding that Israel free all Arab prisoners in exchange for the release of the hostages, but Israel has said it first must know the status of its missing servicemen.

The longest-held of the nine remaining hostages is American Terry Anderson, chief Middle East correspondent of The Associated Press. He was kidnapped on March 16, 1985.

The other American hostages are Thomas Sutherland, acting dean of agriculture at American University of Beirut; Joseph James Cicippio, acting comptroller at the university; Alann Steen, a journalism instructor at Beirut University College; and Jesse Turner, a mathematics professor at the latter college.

Two Germans, a Briton and an Italian also are hostages.

Lebanese state television, notoriously inaccurate on hostage stories along with most of Lebanon's local news media, quoted unidentified sources as saying the hostage to be freed would be either Cicippio or Turner.

Nuclear weapons threat developing

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Iraq's success in secretly building a nuclear weapons program makes experts fear that other countries could vault into the nuclear club.

Baghdad had the advantage of oil money to finance its $10 billion nuclear program and a closed society under Saddam Hussein to keep the program secret. U.N. experts say Iraq might have perfected an atomic bomb in about 15 months had it not been for the Gulf War.

Iraq's defeat forced it to open its laboratories and military bases to U.N. inspectors, resulting in the discovery of a weapons program that astonished scientists with its breadth, complexity and advanced stage of development.

Meanwhile, a network of nations have been secret-trading nuclear technology, expertise and materials. Experts worry most about countries in flashpoint regions where tensions are chronically high.

"There are plenty," said Diana Edensword, research analyst for the Wisconsin Project on Nuclear Arms Control in Washington.

"The obvious suspects are North Korea, South Africa, Argentina, Brazil, Pakistan, India, Libya, Taiwan, the Soviet republics, South Korea, Algeria, Israel and Iran," she said.

All of these countries are researching bomb design, she said, and have been importing technology applicable to nuclear weapons.

Some may already have the weapons. India has exploded an atomic warhead in an underground test. Israel is believed to have dozens of nuclear weapons—hundreds, according to a book published on Sunday.

"One thing that's going to come out is the cooperation among these countries," Edensword said. "One country develops the trigger mechanism, they trade that with another country that has uranium, someone else provides other parts." She contended Brazil and Iraq had a secret nuclear agreement under which the Brazilians supplied the Iraqis with tons of uranium concentrate. She said that South Africa and Israel have been linked and that China also aided Iraq.

Saints remain undefeated

By the Associated Press

The New Orleans Saints made the playoffs without Bobby Hebert last year. So what's the big deal when they win with Steve Walsh? Walsh got off to a slow start Sunday as a substitute for the injured Hebert. Then he caught fire, and the Saints (7-0) continued to burn a path through the rest of the NFL with a 23-7 victory over the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

"I don't look at myself as a backup," Walsh said after going 19-for-31 for 205 yards and a touchdown. "I started 11 ball games last year, and I regard myself as a starter." Walsh started off with two interceptions. But he recovered, and the Saints' top-ranked defense never faltered.

"Steve had a couple of interceptions early when the receivers and the quarterback weren't on the same page, but that's something you can correct, and we will get it corrected," said Eric Martin, who caught four passes for 75 yards, including an 8-yard touchdown.

Both Saints touchdowns came after interceptions of Chris Chandler. Brett Maxie picked off a pass in the first quarter, and the Saints went 43 yards to a 1-yard touchdown run by Gill Fenerty.

Toi Cook picked off Chandler's pass in the fourth quarter and returned it 18 yards to the Tampa Bay 11, leading to Martin's score.

Frank Warren and Pat Swilling had two sacks apiece as the Saints had six traps of Chandler.

"They can only hit you so hard, and then you don't feel it anymore," Chandler said after the visiting Bucs fell to 1-6.

Patriots 26, Vikings 23

Jason Staurovsky, who missed an extra point in the fourth quarter and a 36-yard field goal in overtime, hit a 42-yarder with no time left. It was set up by David Pool's fumble recovery at the end of an 18-yard pass play from Rich Gannon to Steve Jordan.

The host Patriots (3-4) used Hugh Millen's 27-yard completion to Greg McMurtry and 5-yard completion to Marv Cook to put it at the 24 with 5 seconds remaining to set up Staurovsky's kick.

Minnesota trailed 23-20 with 1:37 left in regulation when Brent Novoselsky fell on an onside kick. The replay official ruled he touched it after it traveled just 9 yards. So the next onside kick went the required 10 yards, and Solomon Wilcotts recovered at the New England 43.

Oilers 17, Dolphins 13

At Miami, the Dolphins' fifth turnover turned the game over to Houston.

Sammie Smith fumbled on a first-and-goal dive play at the 1-yard line, and Cris Dishman recovered in the end zone with 3:10 left.

The Oilers, who committed four turnovers in the sloppy game, then ran out the clock.

Smith, whose fumble was returned 100 yards for a TD last week at Kansas City, appeared about to score when linebacker Lamar Lathon grazed his arm and the ball came out.

Oilers rookie Darryll Lewis returned Dan Marino's pass 33 yards untouched for the game's first touchdown. Houston (6-1) couldn't get its run-and-shoot moving much against a defense often featuring eight backs. But Warren Moon did connect with Curtis Duncan for a 1-yard score for the winning points with 9:30 to go.

Seahawks 27, Steelers 7

At Pittsburgh, Dave Krieg's return sparked Seattle's offense, while Pittsburgh's remained dormant.

Krieg, back from a six-week injury layoff, directed two second-period scoring drives set up by a blocked punt and a fumble.

The Seahawks, leading the AFC in takeaways, were ahead 17-0 at halftime - the third straight game in which the Steelers were blanked at the half.

Krieg, sidelined since Seattle's opener with a fractured thumb, hit his first nine passes while going 26 of 31 for 266 yards and two touchdowns.

Neil O'Donnell, making his first NFL start after sparking a 20-point second-half comeback last Monday, was 14 of 22 for 184 yards. But Pittsburgh was plagued by blown assignments, penalties and dropped passes.

Jets 17, Colts 6

At Indianapolis, the Colts' prevent offense continued to stumble. Winless in eight starts, the Colts the NFL's lowest-scoring team with 55 points for the season, haven't scored a touchdown since the fourth quarter of the fourth game. Their points Sunday came on a pair of second-period field goals by Dean Biasucci, who has accounted for all 18 points the past four games.

Ken O'Brien passed for one touchdown and Brad Baxter ran for another for New York. O'Brien hit nine of 10 passes in the first half, including a 47-yard TD to Rob Moore on a flea-flicker, and finished with 14 of 19 for 205 yards for the Jets (4-4).

Browns 30, Chargers 24

At San Diego, David Brandon, a linebacker for San Diego from 1987-90, ruined the Chargers' day. Brandon beat receiver Nate Lewis to John Friesz's pass and ran it in from 30 yards for the winning TD as the Browns (3-4) broke a three-game losing streak.

Friesz and Bernie Kosar had big games through the air. Friesz completed 33 of 54 passes for 321 yards, all career bests, with one touchdown and two interceptions. Kosar rallied Cleveland from a 17-3 deficit, completing 26 of 42 passes for 297 yards and two touchdowns, both to Leroy Hoard.

Cardinals 16, Falcons 10

In 100-degree temperatures, and before 24,124 - the smallest crowd the Cardinals have drawn since moving to Phoenix - Tom Tupa threw a 31-yard touchdown to rookie Randal Hill to tie the game.

Then former Falcon Greg Davis kicked two of his three field goals.

Lorenzo Lynch and Jay Taylor intercepted a pass and recovered a fumble, respectively, in the third quarter to set up the last two field goals, and Tim McDonald sealed the win with two interceptions in the last 3:37.

Illinois State's Toby Davis is hauled down by Kent McIntyre during the Panthers 37-28 Homecoming victory over the Redbirds. Davis rushed for 197 yards in a losing effort.

Runners place seventh at Illinois

BRIAN HARRIS

Staff writer

Despite fast finishing times, the men's cross country team finished seventh out of nine teams Saturday at the Illinois Invitational.

The Illinois race was run over 10,000 meters, which is two kilometers farther than all of the races the Panthers have competed in this season. Despite the longer distance, most of the runners shaved personal best times for the distance and they ran their best times for 8,000 meters on the Loyola won the overall team title with 31 points while Illinois was second at 43. Western Illinois finished fifth, which poses a threat to the Panthers with the Mid-Continent Championships two weeks away.

Scott Touchette was first in for the Panthers in the race at 31:51, which was close to his track record of 31:49.25. Eric Baron was close behind in the race at 31:52, which is his personal best.

Both runners came close to their season bests for 8,000 meters as well. Touchette recorded a 31:53 at Kenosha earlier in the season while Baron's best stands at 25:24, which he ran at the Illinois Invitational. At Illinois, Touchette passed 8,000 meters in 25:31 and Baron in 25:35, still needing two kilometers to go.

Assistant coach John McInerney was happy with most of the individual performances, but said the team still needs to close the time gap from its first to seventh runner.

"The times were fast, but they should be on that course," said McInerney. "Illinois' course is really fast. The extra distance gave us some fine tuning for the district meet which will also be a 10,000. We still need to close some gaps but overall I pleased with how we ran. Western looked tough, they'll definitely be the favorites going into the conference meet. If they run like they did at Illinois they'll be real tough to beat."

John Eggenberger was third for the Panthers in 38th at 32:54, equaling his best cross country 10K from last year's district meet. Kenric Bond laid down an example of his versatility by finishing 54th at 33:37. Bond is also Eastern's top returning 800-meter runner in track with a best of 1:53.3, which he ran at the Mid-Con championships last spring.

Chadd Morrissy ran 34:15 in finishing 58th. Brad Belcher beat his best 8,000 by 23 seconds on the way to a 34:33 clocking for 10,000, he finished 65th overall.

Geoff Masanet was 66th at 34:37 and Eric Graham finished 67th at 34:42 to round out Eastern's eight entrants.

The Panthers have two weeks to prepare before hosting the Mid-Continent championships on Nov. 2.

Lakers win McDonald's Open

PARIS (AP) — The NBA fought a lot to Paris for the McDonald's Open over the weekend.

Fans saw the Los Angeles Lakers, along with the Laker stars, the slam-dunking, tram-pole-jumping Daredavils and the basketball-juggling Doctor J — Julius Erving.

Meanwhile, the Lakers continued the tradition of an NBA team winning the tournament, beating Joventut Badalona of Spain 116-114.

The Lakers led by as many as 20 points, but Badalona drew within 114-112 with 2:10 left.

However, the Lakers held on to become the fifth consecutive NBA team to win the four-team tournament.

"It feels bad to lose so close, especially since I think we could have won," Badalona coach Lolo Sainz said. "We could have made history. I never felt we were going to lose," the Lakers' Magic Johnson said. "We've been through this so many times that we're used to it. The only thing that counts is to win."

"I was surprised when Magic was talking at me," guard Jordi Villacampa of Badalona said. "We're not used to that with the European teams." The McDonald's Open won't be held next year. Still, European teams and U.S. players will meet again at Barcelona, in the Olympics.

"Everybody thinks it's going to be a piece of cake, but that's not true," Johnson said. "It's going to be tough, very tough.

But I hope we'll have lots of fun also." However, the national teams will not be strengthened by American imports, like Badalona was with three Americans — Corny Thompson, Harold Pressley and Mike Smith.

"The American players do a lot on European teams, so without them in the Olympic Games it's going to be interesting to see what happens in Barcelona," Johnson said.

Badalona showed why it is one of Europe's top clubs.

"They're proved that they could play in the NBA," Lakers coach Mike Dunleavy said. "I haven't seen many teams so mentally strong. They shot well from outside and inside."

Trio of running backs take the spotlight

By DON O'BRIEN

Associate sports editor

Saturday's Gateway Conference football matchup between Eastern's Panthers and the Illinois State Redbirds turned into a track meet as both teams' running backs took centerstage in the Panthers 37-28 victory.

Eastern, which rolled up 291 yards on 51 attempts, had a pair of running backs, Jamie Jones and Edson Castillo, rush for over 100 yards and Illinois State's Toby Davis ran the ball 38 times for 197 of the Redbirds' 240 rushing yards.

Jones, a senior captain, gained 154 yards on 20 carries and a touchdown, while Castillo, his backup, picked up 116 yards on 23 attempts and scored two touchdowns.

Saturday marked the second time this season that the Panthers have had two running backs over 100 yards. In the Panthers' 62-16 season opening win over Lock Haven University, Jones along with freshman Bill Korosec scampered for over 100 yards.

After lurking in Jones' shadow through much of the year, Castillo broke out and had the best game of his career Saturday.

"That (gaining over 100 yards) was a personal goal," Castillo said. "First and foremost I want us to win and if I contribute to the win I feel good. I have been waiting to do this."

"Jamie is an All-American candidate and a good ball player. If he runs well I get excited for him."

The offensive lines of both Eastern and Illinois State controlled the line of scrimmage and made the holes for the rushers.

"They did a good job of staying on people," Jones said of the offensive line.

"They have been doing that all year long," said Davis, who rushed for a Gateway and

Edson Castillo

Illinois State record 255 yards earlier in the year against Southeast Missouri State University.

While Jones, who picked up 99 yards in the first quarter, was gaining all of his yardage with the first team offensive line, Castillo gained the majority of his with the second team in front of him.

"They are just as capable of doing as good of a job as the first team," said Castillo, who leads the team in scoring with eight touchdowns after scoring runs of one and five yards. "We did a good job of executing."

"We were just rotating everyone, the ones were rotating with the ones and the twos with the twos," said Jones, who scored his first rushing touchdown of the year in the first quarter, on why the second team was with Castillo. "As long as either (the first team or second team) is doing well we feel confident. That is a big positive and it helps us out as a team."

Jones, Castillo and the rest of the Panther squad are off next weekend and return to action Nov. 2 when they travel to Southern Illinois for another Gateway matchup.

Panthers down ISU to end losing streak

After three successive weeks of coming up short, Eastern's football squad made the big plays and kept its Gateway Conference championship hopes alive Saturday at O'Brien Stadium.

The Panthers, 3-4 overall and 1-2 in league play, snapped a three-game slide after posting a 37-28 Homecoming victory against Illinois State in front of 8,421 fans. The Redbirds dropped to 4-3 and 1-3.

The Panthers took the opening kickoff and on the second play from scrimmage tailback Jamie Jones raced 51 yards to the ISU 35-yard line. He finished the day with 154 yards on 20 carries, including his first rushing TD of the season. Eastern's Edson Castillo bowled his way into the end zone from a yard out, his first of two TDs on the day, and Jason Caldwell's point after gave the Panthers the lead 7-0. Castillo finished with 116 yards on 23 attempts.

Jones' touchdown came on a nifty 36-yard run down the left sideline and Caldwell was good again, giving the Panthers a 14-0 advantage. The Redbirds cut the lead in half courtesy of a 66-yard strike from quarterback Adrian Wilson to Clarence Miller. Senior safety Tony Farrell, who was beaten on the play, came back to redeem himself in the fourth quarter by acrobatically picking off a Wilson pass, however. He also recovered a fumble.

"That was the worst half of football I've played in college," said Farrell of the first two quarters. "I came in at halftime and things turned out well. Everyone on this team still believes and with a little luck our destiny is in our own hands."

Farrell said he was just guarding against getting beat again when he pulled down his league-leading fourth interception.

"I got beat earlier and I saw the ball and I was lucky it hit my hand," he said. "It was a fake reverse, but I knew it was a pass. I looked up and it was there. I just didn't want him to catch the ball. We've had some tough weeks, but this was great. The offense was tremendous."

The potent Panther attack was led by sophomore QB Jeff Thorne, who after a meeting with offensive coordinator Roy Wittke earlier in the week, was given the opportunity to call some of his own plays.

"We knew what we had to do," said Thorne, who connected on 16 of 25 passes including two TDs to split end Martin Ellens. "Last week we didn't play with intensity. We opened up the offense and it feels good to be in a position to make big plays. Our offense is potent and there's nobody that can stop us."

"Coach gave me a chance and it gives me a big advantage (to call the plays). It helps me a lot because I kept my head in the game and stayed focused."

Eastern racked up 521 yards of offense and its 37 points were the most since a season-opening 62-16 victory against Lock Haven.

Illinois State did manage to take the lead in the third quarter on running back Toby Davis' 15-yard TD run. The 6-foot-1, 220-pounder from Galesburg carried the ball 38 times for 197 yards and three touchdowns. At one point in the second half Davis was involved in 13 of 14 plays in the Redbirds' scoring drive that pulled them within two at 30-28. But Eastern closed out the scoring on Thorne's second TD pass with 10:12 remaining.

"There's hope again," said Eastern head coach Bob Spoo. "We bolstered our self-esteem. We got some big plays and we haven't had that. I thought Tony Farrell's interception was a big-time play. It's a whole different world when you beat a good team like that. The name of the game is adjusting and we made the plays."

Spoo said it was a relief to finally get back on the winning side.

"I'm just happy for the kids," he said. "I'm thankful we came back and put another one on the board. There were some big plays. The touchdown pass to Martin was a big play - Jeff audibled on it. It was obviously a good (decision)."

Spikers come up empty on trip

Eastern's volleyball team lost three matches on its "disappointing" road trip to drop to 8-15 on the season including the opening two matches on the Gateway Conference schedule.

In its final match of the weekend on Saturday against the Wichita State Shockers, the Lady Panthers lost in straight games, 15-12, 15-7, 15-5.

The Shockers lost its opening Gateway Conference match to SIU-C the night before they were slated to host Eastern. Eastern coach Betty Ralston said Wichita State needed to win the match because the Shockers were picked to finish in the top four in conference.

"They were in a definite must win situation," said Ralston.

She added her team played very good the first two games of the match. Eastern's top performers in the match were sophomore Susie Green, who had 11 kills and 12 digs, sophomore Amy Van Eekeren, who had 28 assists and 11 digs.

Ralston said the middle hitters did a great job especially Beth Foster and Kim Traub. Foster had five total blocks and Traub had eight total blocks.

"(Juniors) Kim and Beth played super. They shut down their (Wichita State) hitters," Ralston said. "We had nine blocks for points in the first game. That's excellent."

Eastern used an offense that they used in the Eastern Michigan Tournament which let the middle hitters see more action. Ralston was pleased with the results from the trip.

"It's doing well, but we need to get a little more aggressive and the hitters need to get stronger," said Ralston.

Southwest Missouri State University hosted the Lady Panthers, Friday, in the Gateway Conference opener. Ralston said although her team lost to the Bears, 15-12, 15-8, 15-12, she was pleased with the way the Lady Panthers played.

"This was the best we played against them (SMSU) in the last four years," Ralston said. "Last year when we played them, we scored a total of eight points."

Ralston said one big problem for her team is playing the game all the way through. She said too often her team falls apart once Eastern's score gets to ten.

"We have a big problem from ten through 15. It's not that we consciously give up, it's that when we tend to hold other teams, we can't put the ball away."

"We had our chances. We out hit (SMSU). We didn't put the ball down when we had to," said Ralston. "This week during practice we'll be trying to get the ball down more."

"When we have a chance to win, we have to win. We have to start winning those close games," Ralston said.

In the SMSU match, Green had nine kills and 12 digs while Van Eekeren had 30 assists, 12 digs and two blocks.

The Lady Panthers opened the road trip with a loss to the Billikens of St. Louis University, 1-15, 6-15, 15-5, 15-10, 15-13.

"We started out extremely well after winning the first two games. In the third game, I changed the line up," Ralston said. "After we lost the third game, I put the starters back in."

Eastern had a 10-5 lead in the fourth game, but did not score a point thereafter.

"There's no reason why we couldn't have beaten them," Ralston said. "It was a bad start for the weekend. A lot of it comes down to wanting to get the job done and getting the job done. There's a big difference."

Green posted 19 kills and 18 digs in the losing cause while Foster had 11 kills and six blocks. Van Eekeren missed a triple-double performance as she put together nine kills, 34 assists and 15 digs.

"It was a long trip. For such a young team to open up against two of the top four teams (in the Gateway Conference) on the road, we played well," Ralston said.

Twins down Braves 3-2; take 2-0 lead

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Scott Leius, a rookie who hit just five home runs during the season, homered to break an eighth-inning tie Sunday night as Minnesota beat Atlanta 3-2 and took a 2-0 lead in the World Series.

Tom Glavine (20-11) took a two-hitter into the eighth, but the Braves were done in once again by the long ball. Chili Davis put the Twins on top 2-0 with a first-inning homer, but Atlanta came back to tie on sacrifice flies by Brian Hunter and Rafael Belliard.

Then, in the eighth, Leius took Glavine deep to left on the left-hander's first pitch. It was the fourth home run in two games for the Twins, who have swept six straight World Series games at their boisterous Metrodome, baseball's noisiest ballpark.

Meanwhile, Kevin Tapani (16-9) won by allowing seven hits in eight innings. Rick Aguilera finished for his second save of the Series, allowing a one-out bloop single by Hunter.

Aguilera struck out the side. Sid Bream was the first victim. He went swinging, but Greg Olson and pinch-hitter Tommy Gregg were called out on strikes by umpire Harry Wendelstedt.

Aguilera led the American League this season with 31 saves.

The teams now switch to Atlanta, where Steve Avery hopes to turn it around for the Braves on Tuesday night, when he pitches against Scott Erickson in Game 3.

Minnesota quickly got in front as the dome-dwelling fans made things miserable for the Braves.

On the very first pitch of the bottom of the first, Dan Gladden lofted a high pop to right. The crowd of 55,145 started screaming and right fielder David Justice cut in front of second baseman Mark Lemke and knocked the ball out of his glove for an error.

Gladden wound up on second. Glavine walked Chone Snider and Kirby Puckett bounced into a double play. Davis, signed by Minnesota as a new-look free agent last Jan. 2, then lined an 0-1 pitch 383 feet into the left-field seats.

Davis was the only starter in the Twins lineup who had faced Glavine before. That was in 1987, when Davis was with the San Francisco Giants and Glavine first came up to the majors with the Braves.
