Course Description:

College Composition II focuses on argumentation and the critical inquiry and use of sources and arguments. Course work entails analyzing others' arguments and writing a variety of well-researched and ethically responsible arguments. Students gain further practice finding relevant information from a variety of sources and evaluating, synthesizing, and presenting that information (3-0-3, WC)

Course Objectives:

After the successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Apply the principles of argument—claims, reasons, evidence, assumptions, counterarguments, and counter-argumentation—in written documents.
2. Produce cogent written arguments that consider ideas, issues, problems, and evidence from multiple perspectives.
3. Evaluate primary and secondary source evidence, including quantitative data, to determine its credibility, appropriateness, and relevance.
4. Integrate sources ethically, appropriately, and consistently in written documents.
5. Use data and create graphical elements in their writing.
6. Recognize how to transfer their writing processes, understanding of rhetorical principles, genre awareness, understanding of argumentative principles, and the research process to other writing situations.
7. Craft arguments in different modalities (e.g. through visuals and oral presentation).
8. Craft purposeful adequately developed paragraphs and sentences that are direct, economical, free of ambiguity, and structurally appropriate for the content and audience.
9. Revise documents by participating in peer review workshops and writing conferences in order to create possible products for inclusion in their electronic writing portfolio.
10. Understand the role that argumentation and digital/media literacy has in civic engagement.

Classroom Environment:

The guiding principle of this course is group work, class discussion, and peer editing. You will be spending much of your time working in groups with your classmates to revise each other's work and to get down into the mechanics of solid writing—the organization of ideas, the structure of sentences, the methods of argumentation, and much more. By exchanging peer criticism with each other, you will learn the importance of revision in the writing process and, through your evaluation of others' writing, you will learn how to look at your own writing with a more critical eye. You will ideally discover more about yourself as a writer, and you will learn to become a confident participant in the professional community you choose to enter later in your university career.

Class Behavior:

In the interests of keeping everyone in class focused and to produce the best learning environment possible, all students will observe the following rules:

- Silence your phone and put it away before class begins
- Do not check or write text messages during class
- Do not work on other class work or read outside materials during class
- Do not eat food or chew gum in class (snacks or drinking beverages is okay)
- Do not use a computer or tablet or Smartphone to access social media or Internet unless directed to do so

Note: If you happen to be expecting an important or emergency call or text, stepping out to answer it is okay, but be sure to let me know before class begins. Finally, as in all of your classes, do not “pack up” during the last few minutes of class.

Smartphone/Social Media Policy:

To protect the safety of the classroom and the privacy of the students, usage of cell phones or smartphones during class to videotape or access texting, social media sites or apps (e.g., Twitter, Facebook, Tumblr, YouTube, etc.) is strictly forbidden. Smartphone or cell phone use during class will only be permitted with the prior approval of the instructor and for in-class activities.

How to Improve Your Writing:

This is primarily a writing class, but you will do most of your writing outside of class. We will devote many of our class periods to various aspects of writing, and I will respond to your essays with written commentary and suggestions for improvement. Be sure to save your graded essays. One of your most important tools for improvement will be the comments and corrections I make in your writing; if you wish to see your writing improve and your grade go up the semester progresses, you must carefully refer back to these written comments as you write subsequent essays. You will also need your graded essays to complete revision assignments for each essay.

Office Hours & Turning in Assignments:

I am dedicated to helping you succeed in this course and at EIU. I will hold weekly office hours and will be available by appointment, should office hours not meet your needs during a given time. Please be aware that I do not conduct office hours over e-mail, unless I have made a special arrangement with you.

Please do not wait until the last minute before an assignment is due to schedule a hasty meeting, do not e-mail me and ask me to "look over your essay and make sure it is okay," and do not e-mail me your work. All assignments should be turned in via D2L Dropbox.

Attendance:

Attendance is mandatory. Group work is a key feature of English 1001G, and your success in the class (as well as your classmates' success) depends upon active participation and attendance. Regardless of any absences, you will be held responsible for all work assigned.

Absence penalties:

Starting with your fourth (4th) absences from class, I will lower your final grade by a "+" or "-" and your grade will continue to suffer this deduction for each absence you accumulated thereafter. (For example, your fourth absence would make a B+ go to a B; your fifth absence would automatically drop your B to a B-, and a sixth absence would quickly move you to a C+.) Ten (10) or more absences will most likely result in a failing grade. Please do NOT interpret this rule to mean that you have any "free" classes to skip.

Arriving late to class or being unprepared will also affect your grade negatively. If you arrive more than 10 minutes late to class, I will consider you absent. If you come to class without a draft of your assignment or without assigned homework, you may be considered absent. Be on time and be prepared—this is a lesson that will serve you well in whatever profession or field you choose to pursue in life.

Plagiarism is the intentional or unintentional use of someone else's ideas, words, or work as your own. If you use or refer to ideas or work other than your own, you must acknowledge the source and author of those ideas/that work and document it properly using MLA format (Purdue MLA guide: <https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/>). Plagiarism is an Honor Code violation at EIU, and offenders will be referred to the EIU Office for Student Standards. Failure to cite any outside sources or critics will constitute plagiarism.

E-mail Guidelines:

When you communicate with your instructors, whether by e-mail, by phone, or in person, you are engaging in a professional exchange. Please be sure to reflect this professionalism in your communication. All e-mails must have an appropriate salutation ("Dear Professor," "Hello, Dr. Martínez," etc.) and be signed with your name. Your e-mails should be written with complete words and in complete sentences ("Can I schedule an appointment with you?" not "Can I C U?"). Also, please note that I only check my e-mail two or three times each school day. It often takes me one full school day (24 hours, M - F) to answer any e-mail message—I typically do not check my campus e-mail on weekends.

Students are expected to maintain principles of academic integrity and conduct as defined in EIU's Code of Conduct (<http://www.eiu.edu/judicial/studentconductcode.php>). Violations will be reported to the Office of Student Standards.
