

12-9-1976

'Christmas Carol' A Helping of Cheer (pics)

Walter Lazenby

Follow this and additional works at: http://thekeep.eiu.edu/lazenby_reviews

Recommended Citation

Lazenby, Walter, "'Christmas Carol' A Helping of Cheer (pics)" (1976). Walter Lazenby Reviews. 16.
http://thekeep.eiu.edu/lazenby_reviews/16

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Theatre Arts at The Keep. It has been accepted for inclusion in Walter Lazenby Reviews by an authorized administrator of The Keep. For more information, please contact tabruns@eiu.edu.

Photo by Bob Corn

'Christmas Carol'

In scenes from Eastern Illinois University's production of "A Christmas Carol," Scrooge and nephew hold a conference in the miser's counting house. They are played by John Hightower of Effingham in the lead role and Barry Johnson of Charleston as Fred. At center, members of the Cratchit family are Janet Fox of Mattoon (seated), Matthew McDivitt of Lerna as Tiny Tim, and Katie Sullivan of Charleston. At right, Scrooge gets a late night visit from his late partner, Jacob Marley (Wendell Sheeley). The play will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and at 2 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are available at the Fine Arts Box Office, 581-3110.

PHOTO BY BOB CORN