Lawson nixes 7-day, 24-hour option

By Debbie Pearson

Falling just 14 votes short of the 334 needed to pass 24-hour, seven-day-a-week, open house, Lawson Hall Monday lost the option which now goes to another hall.

In another vote held Tuesday evening, Lawson elected to keep the existing open house rule.

In Monday's vote, 320 Lawson residents voted for round-the-clock visitation, 152 residents voted to keep present open house hours and 30 residents did not vote at all, Betty Clark, Lawson Hall vice-president, said Thursday.

To have passed the round-the-clock open house option, a two-thirds majority of Lawson residents (334 students) would have had to approve it. Lawson Hall has 502 residents.

The open house vote held Monday was the second held at Lawson because the first vote held Thursday failed to receive a two-thirds majority on any of the open house options.

However, in the first election only eight Lawson residents did not vote compared to 30 non voters in Monday's vote.

The results of Lawson's vote may improve the chances of another hall passing the round-the-clock visitation option, Clark said.

"When Thomas Hall voted they did not really have the security problem that Lawson residents feared," she said.

In a forum Sept. 17, Lawson residents voiced as their main complaint worries that restrooms and hallways would be overrun by males if round-the-clock visitation were implemented.

"In Stevenson there was not as much concern for it either," Clark added.

As a result of the vote Tuesday night Lawson Hall will maintain existing open house hours from noon until 11:50 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from noon Friday until 11:50 p.m. Sunday.

Totals for Tuesday's vote were 454 residents in favor of keeping existing open house hours and four residents in favor of no open house at all. Forty-four residents did not vote.

Clark said that the non-voters in Monday's election may have made the difference, but that the second vote was not as well publicized throughout the dorm as the first vote held last week.

She said that by the time the third and final vote was taken Tuesday "the kids were just tired of voting."

The option to have seven-day-a-week 24-hour open house will now go to another hall.

Clark, who is also a member of the Residence Hall Association (RHA), said she had no idea which hall will now be given the option.

However, the RHA is scheduled Thursday to designate a committee to recommend another hall to the Housing Office.

All residence halls must approve some open house and visitation policy before Oct. 1.

Harris enters innocent plea at arraignment

By Mark Wisser

Fontez Harris pleaded "not guilty" to charges of turning in a false fire alarm at Carman Hall when he was arraigned Tuesday in Coles County Circuit Court.

The charge stems from a false alarm pulled at Carman shortly after midnight Sept. 5. Alleged witnesses have said they saw Harris near the alarm before it went off and running from the scene afterwards.

Harris, however, claims he was outside the building when the alarm sounded.

An anonymous witness told the Eastern News Sept. 17 that he saw Harris outside the building at the time of the alarm.

At the arraignment, Circuit Judge Thomas Lund assigned public defender Steve Davis to Harris' case.

The arraignment was recessed for ten minutes Tuesday, at which time Harris left with Assistant States Attorney Jim Dedman to discuss possible plea bargaining.

Harris, who has maintained his innocence all along, said he refused to bargain and made the "not guilty" plea.

The prosecution has three witnesses, one of whom reportedly will testify that she saw Harris pull the alarm.

Of the other two witnesses, one will testify to seeing Harris near the alarm before and after it went off while the other will testify to chasing the suspect back to Thomas Hall.

A housing office employee said Tuesday that he overheard two of the witnesses talking after the incident and said they did not agree on certain details of the suspect's description.

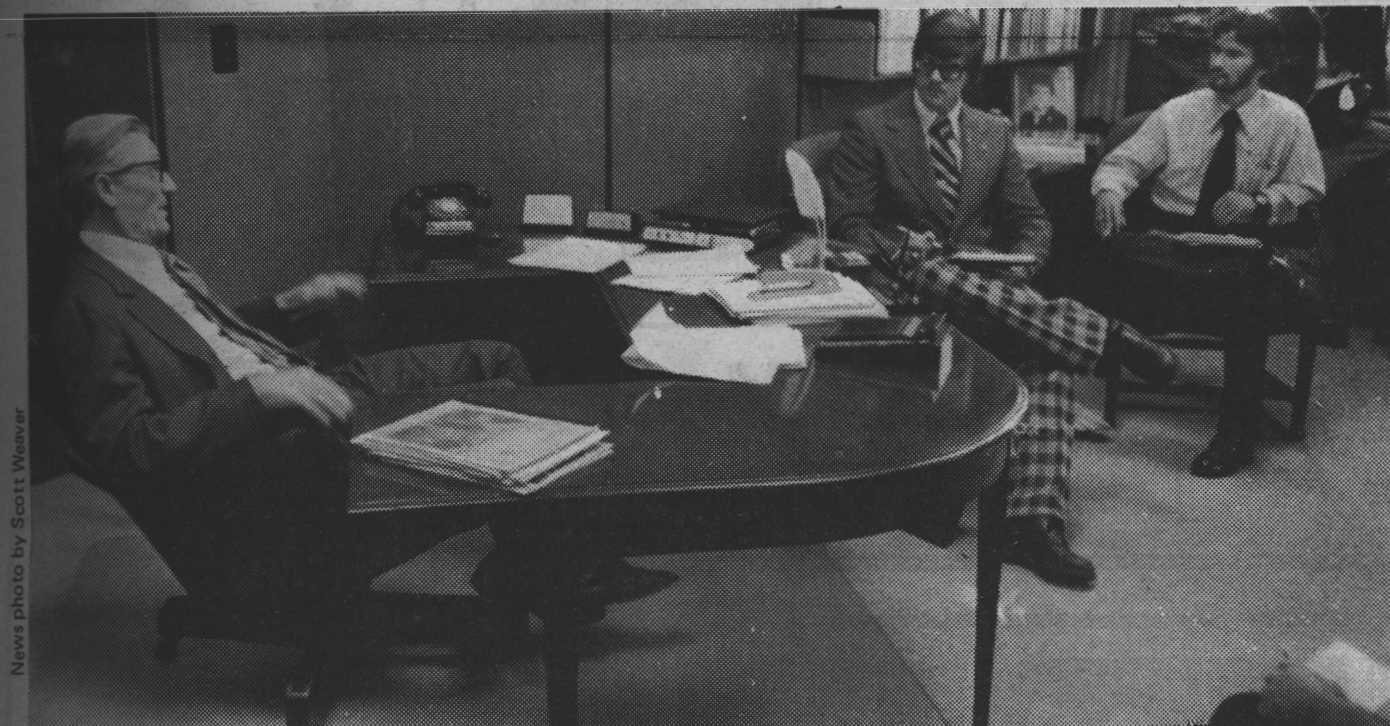

The employee said they could not decide if the suspect had a goatee or not and could not reach agreement on facial features.

The only thing they agreed on, he said, was that the suspect was wearing an orange shirt.

One of the witnesses, Ed Beyers, a Carman resident, disputed the source's claim, however, stating there was no disagreement then or now.

Harris, a freshman from E. St. Louis, was released on recognizance bond after the arraignment.

No date has been set for a preliminary hearing or trial.

Talking it over

business students crowded into Fite's office Tuesday afternoon to voice their dissatisfaction over changes in the School of Business. See story on page 3.

Parents to invade Eastern's campus this weekend

By Jim Dowling

Activities for the upcoming Parent's Weekend will include activities sponsored by the University Board (UB), dormitories and by various sororities and fraternities.

The UB will sponsor two concerts on the weekend featuring the Chicago Symphony Orchestra at 8 p.m. Friday in Lantz Gym and Bob Hope in concert at 8 p.m. Saturday also in Lantz. Bob Cabello, assistant director of student activities, said Monday.

Preceding the Chicago Symphony concert will be the Candlelight Buffet which will be held in the Union from 5-7 p.m. Friday, he added.

In addition to the concerts, the UB will be showing two movies, "My Fair Lady" on Friday at 8 p.m. in the Union addition Grand Ballroom and "That's Entertainment" to be shown at 8 p.m. Sunday, Cabello said.

Admission to "My Fair Lady" is 25 cents and admission for "That's Entertainment" is 50 cents.

There are also plenty of tickets left for the Panther versus Southwest Missouri game at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Jo Ann Gossett, a Union employee, said that approximately 1,603 tickets were sold of the 7,000 seats in the stadium.

Gossett added that the figure did not include season passes or the amount of tickets that had been sold at Lantz Gym.

The dormitories will also sponsor activities during the Parent's weekend featuring post-game teas and, in some cases, absolutely nothing.

Taylor and Andrews Hall will have a combination after-game tea and open house, during which tours of the dorm will be conducted and refreshments will be served.

Lawson Hall will sponsor a tea

Sunday with residents providing entertainment.

Lawson and Taylor will also paint their dormitory windows for the weekend.

Pemberton Hall will sponsor an open house-coffeehouse Saturday featuring the "Pemite Greasers" in concert.

Weller, Ford and McKinney will have an open house on Saturday and Sunday with refreshments being served.

Thomas, Lincoln, Stevenson and Douglas have no activities planned because, Randy Johnson, Stevenson director, said, there was a general agreement among residents that they would rather spend the time with their parents and participating in UB sponsored activities.

Sororities and fraternities will be hosting parties in the various houses as well as more formal gatherings held at the Holiday Inn, Cabello said.

I was driven to insanity by SLA—Hearst

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst swore Tuesday that she was driven to insanity by Symbionese Liberation Army Kidnapers who tortured her mentally and physically.

Hearst, in a startling written affidavit, said she did not willingly join the SLA and had returned to the San Francisco area to discover whether her parents still loved her.

She said the radical band locked her in a closet for several weeks, then forced her to help rob a bank on threat of instant execution if she disobeyed.

The written testimony did not seek to explain Patty's apparent show of radical ardor since her arrest - clenched fist salutes, greetings to radical comrades, a self-description as urban-guerrilla on a prison form.

Instead, the document said she still may be insane.

"Her recollection of everything that transpired from shortly after the bank incident up to the time that she was arrested, has been as though she lived in a fog...in a perpetual state of terror," the affidavit said.

Her parents suggested she be hospitalized for mental treatment and be examined by a psychiatrist familiar with prisoner-of-war brainwashing.

Hearst, 21, captured by the FBI last Thursday, a year and a half after her kidnaping, appeared in court Monday to seek reduction in her bail.

A federal court judge on Friday revoked bail, but said he would consider arguments that she be allowed to go free on bond.

Business frat complains to Fite about changes

By Barry Smith

A group of business students met with President Gilbert C. Fite Tuesday to discuss what they said was a failure by School of Business Dean Tom Jones to disclose the reasons for reorganization of the school.

"We're not against the reorganization itself, but in the way things are being done," Don Nesci, senior vice president of Delta Sigma Pi, the professional business fraternity, said.

The school was restructured this year to decrease the number of departments from four to three.

Complaining the restructuring of the school had weakened the Accounting Department, put pressure on tenured faculty members by the hiring of 11 new instructors, placed teachers in classes for which they were not qualified and possibly put strains on the curriculum were more than 20 fraternity members.

Nesci said the students were also "upset about the way" Jones is working towards accreditation of the school by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB).

Fite said that one of the major tasks given Jones when he was hired was to get the school accredited. Jones has been dean since August 1974.

The students were against the number of Ph.D.s hired, nine, and claimed that they were teaching in areas other than those for which they are qualified.

The Ph.D.s were hired, Jones said at the forum, because accreditation required a high percentage of Ph.D.s.

"Accreditation with a high percentage of Ph.D.s scares many of us here," Delta Sigma Pi President Mike Ziebka told Fite. The Ph.D.s "are not helping the educational process" as far as their ability to teach," he added.

Fite disagreed, however, saying that, previous to hiring the new teachers, "We had part-time, half-time, quarter-time people (teaching) who really weren't qualified."

Nesci claimed that "tenured teachers against the changes" in the school were being pressured through "heavy work loads" to resign and leave room for more Ph.D.s.

Fite admitted he was unaware of such circumstances, but Jones has denied any pressure was being placed on uncooperative teachers through class loads.

Fromme competent for trial

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) - Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme was declared mentally competent Tuesday to stand trial on a charge of attempting to murder President Ford.

U.S. District Court Judge Thomas J. MacBride made the ruling on the basis of a weekend examination by a court-appointed psychiatrist, James R. Richmond.

MacBride also said Fromme could act as her own counsel.

Fromme had no reaction to the decision.

Richmond, sitting in the witness chair, was asked if he had reached an opinion about Fromme's competency.

"I have arrived at such an opinion," he said. "It is that she is competent to understand the proceedings against her and cooperate in her defense."

MacBride, who has set a Nov. 4 trial date for Fromme, said he had read Richmond's report and agreed with him.

He said E. Richard Walker, Fromme's public defender, will act as her counsel.

Quinlan should be allowed death with dignity

The legal definition of death is being challenged in Morris County in New Jersey.

At issue is whether to let a 21-year-old girl, Karen Ann Quinlan, die "naturally" and with "dignity," or to force her parent's to keep her alive with a machine.

Quinlan has been in a coma since April when she either took an overdose of drugs or suffered a reaction to a mixture of drugs and alcohol before she was found unconscious in her apartment. She has not come out of the coma since then.

Attorneys for her parents will be in court arguing that the electric respirator which has been keeping her alive should be turned off.

They have pointed out that the machine will keep her alive for only another year at the most and it has cost between $100,000 and $200,000 for the machine and hospital care.

The Quinlan's suit before Morris County Superior Court Judge Robert Muir will ask him to declare Quinlan mentally incompetent and appoint himself as her legal guardian so her parents can authorize the "discontinuance of all extraordinary means to sustain her vital functions."

In this case, and all others like it, the judge should allow the guardian or parents of the person in question to decide if the person who is being kept alive only by a machine should go on "living."

This is because the person on the machine is not really living. A machine is keeping her heartbeat going and in Quinlan's case is producing only an occasional brain wave.

She has irreparable brain damage and the courts should not force her parents or her doctors to keep her alive. Besides, who is really living—the girl or the machine?

There is also the question of mental anguish on the part of the parents. They have to live with the fact that while their daughter is technically alive, she is actually dead to the world and everything in it.

She cannot respond in any way, shape or form to what is going on around her. To force people to keep her alive, and to label them as unfeeling murderers if they try to do what is best for their daughter, is ludicrous.

The Quinlans are not trying to please god, nor are they asking the courts to do so. They are simply trying to do what is best for their daughter.

It is likely this case will go all the way to the Supreme Court before it is through and will draw the fire of right-to-life groups around the nation who will lobby against the Quinlan's suit and call them all sorts of names.

However, the Quinlan's do have a valid argument. There is no reason to keep someone alive when, in reality, they are dead.

Settlement of players' strike could inflate scores of NFL games

Washington--As I write this I don't know if the NFL football strike will continue. My concern is not with the issues of such a strike but the ramifications once it is settled.

Football, as everyone knows, is a hard-hitting game; and when two Goliath teams face each other on grass or Astroturf, they're out to kill. That's what keeps all of us glued to our television sets and forces us to pay $8 to $18 to go to the stadium.

But now because of all the sympathy strikes the attitude of players may change.

This is what could happen if play resumes in the NFL.

Let us, for argument's sake, say that the New England Patriots are playing the Washington Redskins.

The Patriots kick off, and the running back of the Redskins catches the ball on his five-yard line. He starts running up the field when he is hit by four members of the suicide squad.

The back picks himself up and says bitterly, "That's no way to treat a brother."

"What are you talking about?" one of the tacklers says.

"Look, man, when you guys were locked up, we voted to go out in sympathy. Is this the kind of gratitude you show by knocking me down to the ground?"

"Gee, we're sorry. We forgot," one of the suicide squad men says. "You're not sore, are you?"

Art Buchwald

"Nobody likes to be tackled," the Redskin says. "After all, we're all in the same union."

The referee urges the men to line up and start playing.

The Patriot defensive line faces the Redskin offensive line.

A Patriot tackle says, "On behalf of the team I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all of you Redskins for what you did for us when we walked out. It's this kind of support that shows how united we are against the unfair labor practices of management. And I speak for all the Patriots when I say if there is anything we can do to reciprocate just ask us."

The Redskin center says, "Will you let Billy Kilmer complete a pass to Charley Taylor? It would really help the morale of our team at this time."

"Sure," the Patriot tackle replies. "It's the least we can do for you."

The ball is snapped and Billy Kilmer fades back to throw. No one on the Patriot line moves. Charley Taylor runs straight down the sideline and Kilmer throws a wobbly pass high in the air.

The Patriot defensive backs all fall down, and Taylor catches the ball and runs for a touchdown. Kilmer personally shakes the hand of every Patriot linesman who did not rush him. "This proves that the only way we can sock it to the owners is to stick together."

When the Patriots get possession of the ball, they tell the Redskins they're going to send their running back through right guard on a keeper play.

"We'd like to score early," the Patriot tight end tells the Redskin linebacker, "just to show the owners that in spite of the strike we haven't lost our zip."

"It makes sense," the Redskin linebacker says. "But tell your running back not to cut too hard after he plows through the line as the grass there is very slippery."

"Thanks a million. We'll be careful. Is it okay if I throw a block at you on this play?"

"Sure," the Redskin linebacker says, "but be careful of my knee. If I get injured they may put me on waivers and then you know what management will do to me under the Rozelle rule."

"I'll be careful," the tight end assures him.

Well, the final score is 237 to 234 (in spite of no rush on the Patriot place kicker; he failed to get the ball through the goal posts), and both teams march off the field arm in arm. "Brothers, we're sorry we beat you," Kilmer tells the Patriots in their locker room.

"Heck," says the Patriots' Randy Vataha. "We're sorry we didn't give you a better game."

Increase in marijuana smokers ups sales of extra-wide papers

The marijuana smoking boom that the nation has experienced in the past decades has been quite profitable for the manufacturers of extra-wide cigarette papers.

Since more people have been turned on to the pleasures of indulging in Cannibas sativa, more commonly known as marijuana, there has been a greater need for something to hold it in.

It is extremely difficult to hold a joint in your hand, light it and smoke it if you don't have the grass wrapped in anything, especially on a windy day.

In fact, the U.S. Tobacco Co., manufacturer of Zig Zag papers reported a growth in sales of about 25 per cent over the past ten years without spending a penny for advertising.

Even though marijuana smoking is still against the law and the norms of society, some manufacturers are aiming their advertising directly at those who do the weed.

This summer, the E-Z Wider papers, one of the big brands along with Zig Zag, flew a plane over Long Island beaches, urging the swimmers and sun worshippers below to "Fly with E-Z Wider double width rolling paper." The double entendre was obvious.

Does this acceptance of advertising for papers that will obviously be used by those who have in mind smoking funny cigarettes rather than rolling their own traditional kind signal the acceptance of marijuana smoking.

Probably not. While American society can turn its back on the amount of papers being sold and say that they are still being bought by people who are using regular tobacco, it cannot very well ignore the use of something it considers evil to society.

However, those who sell the papers will hardly be deterred by this fact. As a spokesman for the J.S. Tobacco Co. pointed out, "It's a profitable little sideline." Profitable is right. $50 million worth of papers were sold in 1974.

Working with a rolling kind of paper is a lot better than working for a newspaper. It's on a different level of consciousness, and profitability.

Question-answer forum on sports to be Thursday

On Thursday at 1 p.m., the Student Senate is sponsoring an open forum with Mike Mullaly, director of athletics, John Konstantinos, football coach, and Helen Riley, director of women's athletics.

If you are unhappy with the dropping of three "minor" sports last spring, come and tell Mullaly.

If you wonder if the Panthers will win a game this season, come and ask Konstantinos.

If you don't think the women's athletic program is adequately funded, let Riley know it.

The sports forum will be held in the Charleston-Mattoon rooms, third floor of the Union addition. There will be plenty of room for everyone.

Susan Black

Race was irrelevant in Harris matter

In reading your article about the fire alarm that got pulled on September 5, in Carman Hall I see that the issue of race had to creep into the picture: "Harris and the anonymous source are both black, but no information was available to whether they belong to the Black Student Union."

What does the fact that Harris and your anonymous source is black have to do with the case?

When I read the first article about the false alarm you mentioned no statement as to whether Harris was black, I thought something was wrong when I read it I just knew that the racist that ran your staff last year was still there, (Jim Lynch).

I am a resident of Carman Hall and I don't like false fire alarms, but I think that for the Eastern News to blow a false alarm all out of proportion because of the color of the accused skin (black) is wrong.

You have convicted Fontez Harris without him ever getting a trial, but that's justice. I only have one question to ask... If Fontez was white would you have put a statement at the bottom of his story? I would have to say no.

Rory Lucas

Policy should be changed

In the basic journalism lesson which you presented on September 17th, you did not explain why letters to the editor should be printed when writers are too fainthearted to sign their names.

The author of a letter carried in that same issue tossed my name about very freely but had not the courage to furnish a signature. When I'm being blasted at least I would like to know who in hell is doing it.

COTE changes secondary ed majors' teaching standards

By Debbie Goodman

Secondary education majors must now be formally admitted to teacher education before enrolling in professional education courses.

The change was approved Tuesday by the Council on Teacher Education (COTE). Marian Shuff of secondary education said, "early identification (of the intent to teach) can only benefit our students and our faculty."

Before students will be formally accepted into the school of education, they must attend a program of orientations so that the student will know in his junior year if teaching is what he really wants.

In addition to weeding out students by early identification, students will also be made more aware of the two possibilities for attaining certification.

They may either follow the traditional method of student teaching, in which students take a series of methods courses in their particular area prior to student teaching, or they may follow the ESEP, Experimental Secondary Education Program by getting practical classroom experience as early as the sophomore year.

The ESEP program is not recruiting as many students as was anticipated by ESEP faculty coordinators.

Now that ESEP faculty member

Shuff's proposal has been passed, she expects the ESEP enrollment to enlarge through orientation meetings.

The two student representatives, Barb Kelly and David Harrison, were opposed to the change.

Both student members said that the problem of advisement could be solved if advisers would do their jobs a little more effectively.

The change was proposed because some faculty advisers were not doing their job as well as they could in advising students in the traditional teacher preparation programs, Shuff said.

Fred Bouknight of music said "Advisement does not take place because students do not seek advisement, and when they do, oftentimes the advisement is not good."

The change will go into effect in the fall of 1976.

Communication gap blamed in board dispute Feminist lecturer to talk Wednesday

Lori Miller
Faculty Senate Chairperson Terry Weidner said Tuesday a "communication gap" between the faculty and student senates caused adverse reaction from the Student Senate concerning the Faculty Senate's reorganization of the Performing and Visual Arts Board.
At its meeting Thursday, the Student Senate had commissioned Speaker Bill Scaggs, to ask President Gilbert C. Fite not to approve the Faculty Senate's proposed change in the board because it did not go through the proper channels.

Fite said in a memo to Weidner he would not take action on the matter until the Faculty and Student Senates had settled the matter between themselves.
"I think the problem here is a communications gap between the two senates," Weidner said.
Weidner said he sent a memo asking for Student Senate support the day after the Faculty Senate approved the plan.
Scaggs said at the Faculty Senate meeting that the main complaint of the Student Senate on the matter was that the Faculty Senate had gone over the Student Senate's head.

Scaggs added that the Student Senate was given a copy of Weidner's memo from Chizmar just before the meeting began and he said "The communication problem seems to be between the student senate and Chizmar."
Scaggs also questioned the reason for an additional faculty member to serve on the board.
Dave Buchanan, who formed the plan, explained that each of the three departments in fine arts wanted representation on the board, along with one faculty member from the university at large.

The University Board (UB) sponsor a lecture by Kate Millet, author and feminist leader, at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Union addition Grand Ballroom. Bob Cabello assistant director of student activities said, Monday.
Millet, who has written the book "Sexual Politics: A Surprising Examination of Society's Most Archaic Folly" and directed the movie "Fanny Lives," is an activist or supporter of various women's liberation movements from National Organization for Women (NOW) to Radical Lesbians.

FLASH GORDON CONQUERS THE UNIVERSE

Earth Waits Relief From Purple Scourge

The civilization of Earth is in grave danger of being made extinct due to the ravages of an unidentified virus for which there is no known cure. Thousands have already fallen in the struggle to survive the alien disease and medical teams are working day and night to effect an antidote to the foul scourge which is being called the Purple Death. Authorities suspect another diabolical plot on the part of Ming the Merciless in his never-ending pursuit to control the known universe, but Flash Gordon left today on a mission to seek out the evil Emperor and force from him the secret of the terrible plague. Accompanied by Dale Gribble he is expected to touch down on Mars sometime tomorrow and reliable sources have declared that the dauntless crusader for justice will leave no stone unturned to defeat the villainous Ming.

Freshmen perform important roles in sports

(The following is the first of a three-part series regarding the contribution of freshman athletes to Eastern varsity sports.)

By Chauncey Blaisdell

Walking around the Eastern's campus this fall, you can find a large number of freshmen performing their various skills on the gridiron, the hardwood, the courts and other fields of competition that are available to the athlete.

In football, Coach John Konstantinos said he's excited by the way his freshmen are performing with enthusiasm and intensity.

"I'm enthused because these kids are enthused," he said, adding, "The fans will like these kids, too."

Konstantinos remarked that he likes the rule that permits freshmen to play on varsity squads but added that he also would like to have a freshmen team.

"When you have athletes like Kim Wells, Mark Francis, Martez Smith and Roy Parker that are capable of playing on the varsity squad then a coach is happy to have them play," Konstantinos offered. "But it would be great to have a team of freshmen that don't get the opportunity to play on the varsity squad."

Konstantinos said his freshmen have already played a vital role after only two games.

Indeed they have with Wells leading the team in interceptions and interception return yardage and Francis and Smith being second and third respectively in pass receiving.

Andy Vogl, Mike Ross, Rod Sink, Robby Dobo, Brian Leonard, Larry Pruitt and Dennis Walker were also pointed out by Konstantinos as being current help.

"The only thing these kids lack is experience," Konstantinos commented. "They're not used to the intensity of college ball and doing the little things that they took for granted in high school that we now demand," he added.

Konstantinos cites better facilities and better training in high school as being an advantage to the modern athlete.

"These kids are getting good high school coaching but the modern facilities schools now have are really great."

Freshmen are in almost every space on the roster of volleyball Coach Joan Schmidt, as the first year head mentor has 15 first year students on her squad.

Julie Gieseke, Kim Liefer, Diann Schrader, Beth Riser and Theresa Levandoski all are freshmen who occupy position on the starting team for Schmidt.

Peggy Haney, Cornelia Paetan, Vicky Lentz, Tina Purnell, Nancy Jurenson, Joni Comstock, Nancy Brighan and Linda Statler are freshmen who are on Eastern's second team.

Sarah McCollum from Downers Grove and Betty Rider from Lombard are two more freshmen on the team.

Schmidt said she really didn't have to recruit any of the girls.

"We inquire about the girls and tell them about our program," she commented.

Schmidt cited the fact that all the girls are from different towns as being the main problem.

"All these girls are used to different offensive and defensive patterns so what I have to do is get them to execute the same way."

Schmidt went on to say that the freshmen she has are more skilled in some respects than her older players.

"All these girls played in high school and got valuable experience while some of the older girls didn't get a chance to," she explained.

Eastern will be playing experienced volleyball teams this year but Schmidt said as long as everybody stays healthy and competitive her teams will keep on getting better and better.

Gates to be added for football games

Two additional gates will be used to better accommodate Eastern students at the Panther home football games.

A gate will be opened at the far north end of the back side of the stadium as well as at the far south end of the stadium on the same side.

Paap said the gates are for students with 50 cents and their ID and those with all-sport passes. He added that both gates will be clearly marked.

"We urge the student to go through these gates. It will alleviate the problem of long lines," Paap said.

He also said that students that are attending with their parents can go through the other gates.

Remarking on the prospects of football game attendance, Paap said, "It looks like we're going to have a huge crowd for the first two contests."

As of Tuesday, there had been 1,039 special reserve section tickets sold, as well as 71 regular reserve and 43 general admission tickets for the home opener.

IAB approves athletic budget for 1975-76

By Dave Shanks

A total working budget of $127,000 for the Athletic Department was approved by the Intercollegiate Athletic Board (IAB) at its meeting Tuesday.

The $127,000 figure was submitted by Athletic Director Mike Mullally to cover costs in four categories: commodities, contractual services, stationery and travel.

A total of $29,000 was allotted for contractual services which involves areas in which a contract is required, such as for game officials.

Commodities were allotted $8,500 with a $2,500 allotment for stationery.

The biggest amount out of the total allocation went for travel which totaled $87,000.

The department's anticipated income was set at $42,400 and it was given the remaining $84,600 by the Apportionment Board (AP).

Of the $127,000 figure, men's athletics were allocated $101,400 with women's athletics being budgeted $25,600.

Football received a total operating budget of $27,300 while basketball will operate on $19,650.

Baseball was allotted $10,100 with track receiving $8,275, wrestling getting $5,750 and swimming $6,250.

Soccer will receive $4,750 and cross country will receive $2,650.

The remainder of the money is slated for additional expenses such as awards, telephone expense and similar areas.

In other action, the board voted unanimously to authorize Mullally to send a letter to Gil Canale, athletic director at Northern Michigan University, seeking to terminate the football contract between Eastern and Northern Michigan after the 1976 game.

In the letter to Canale, Mullally pointed out that it will be economically unfeasible to continue to have a contract between the two schools due to tight budgetary situations.

The trip to Northern Michigan Sept. 13 cost a total of $8,799 for all expenses.

Mullally explained to the IAB that the present contract expires after the 1976 year when Northern Michigan comes to Eastern.

A long-term contract exists through the 1980 season, Mullally said, but he hoped Northern Michigan personnel would realize the situation and necessity of terminating the contract and agree to do so.

In other business, Mullally answered questions regarding the NCAA Convention in August and said that the changes "will make us a lot more competitive."

The board also decided to set monthly meetings on the first Tuesday of each month at 3 p.m.

Trophy to be given by cheerleaders

Eastern's cheerleaders will present a traveling Spirit Trophy this year to any campus group who demonstrates the most school spirit during the upcoming athletic season, Kim Webster, varsity cheerleader, said Tuesday.

The trophy, Webster said, will be awarded during the football season and again during the basketball season.

Points will be awarded for banners brought to the games, vocal participation in cheers, creating cheers, having a card section that spells out E.I.U., learning cheers or suggesting new cheers for the cheerleaders. The organizations participating so far are Stevenson, Lincoln, Pemberton, Lawson, Ford, McKinney, Weller and Andrews halls.

Sororities and fraternities participating are Kappa Delta, Sigma Kappa, Sigma Chi, Alpha Sigma Alpha, and Lambda Chi Alpha.

Any organizations interested in participating in the competition should contact Kim Webster at 581-5185.

Gorleku selected as Panther of the Week

By Dave Shanks

Despite the soccer team's 1-0 loss to the University of Missouri-St. Louis (UMSL) Saturday, George Gorleku has been named Panther of the Week by the Eastern News sports staff.

Gorleku, a freshman playing the sweeper position for the 1975 soccer Panthers, has made impressive showings in both Saturday's game against UMSL and the opening game against Aurora College.

Gorleku's job, as coach Fritz Teller explained, is to "just push the ball out and prevent the ball from getting into the penalty area."

Teller said Gorleku does not mark a certain man, but has to cover all the backfield territory should an offensive man get through into the Panther zone.

In Saturday's game against UMSL, Gorleku carried out his assignment extremely well and warranted much praise from Teller.

"I don't think he missed a ball all afternoon. He did a great job," Teller said.

In both of the team's regular season games, Gorleku has broken up numerous scoring threats when opponents broke into the Panther zone.

Gorleku has played a vital role in the Panthers' defensive strength, Teller said, adding, "We put a lot of responsibility on him but he has the skills to play the role."

Teller said Gorleku is able to do his job so effectively because he "reads plays exceptionally well and plays virtually effortless soccer."

"George anticipates very well and has good ball control. He hits passes on volleys exceptionally well."

Gorleku attributed much of the Panthers' successful defensive efforts thus far to the "solid effort" turned in by the other members of the Panther squad.

Gorleku said that this year, the Panthers "have a good team" and that there are no problems with any aspect of the 1975 edition of the soccer team.

A point Gorleku mentioned that he felt was essential to a successful team was discipline.

"We have very good discipline. Soccer can do no good without discipline," the freshman from Ghana said.

He noted that he thinks the Panthers need "two or three" more games before they will have all minor flaws ironed out.

Gorleku said the Panthers, who finished fourth in Division II of the NCAA in 1974, "will win nationals" this year.

"Our aim is to win nationals. We'll win—there's no doubt about it," Gorleku concluded.

George Gorleku, the Eastern News Panther of the Week, warms up before Tuesday's practice.

Hockey club to hold practice

Eastern's Hockey Club will hold a mandatory practice at 6 p.m. Wednesday at the north end of the Lantz fieldhouse, club president Pat Fairbanks said Tuesday.

All participants are asked to bring their hockey sticks.

Women swimmers, divers to meet

All women interested in participating on the intercollegiate swimming and diving team should attend a meeting at 4 p.m. Thursday in room 234 Lantz.

If you have any questions call Coach Joyce David at 581-2411.
